Mrs. Craghead Wins Top Award At Local Art Show

The art show, sponsored by the Memphis Artists Studio, Friday and Saturday at the Community Center auditorium, was proclaimed a success both from the number of paintings displayed by the artists and attendance at the show, Mrs. David Hudgins, president, announced.

Artist from Pampa, Borger, Esquite and Happy entered paintings in addition to local artists. Radio members who represent the area are Lesley, Lakeview, Plaska, as well as Memphis.

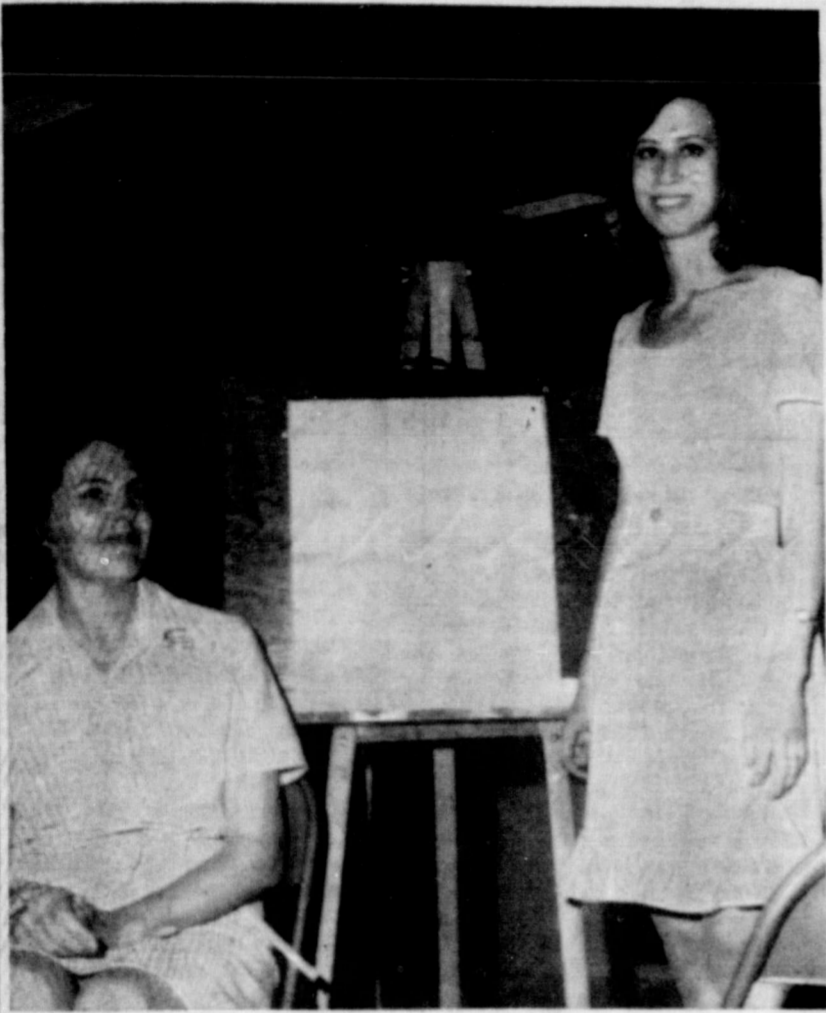

Entries in the show were judged with first, second and third place ribbons awarded in each of the eleven categories and a gold ribbon was awarded to the "Best of Show." Judge for the show was Raymond Stefanelli, head art instructor at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls.

Highlighting the show were a Sunday afternoon tea, a drawing of a portrait and a demonstration of painting a pastel portrait by Jan Hudlow Bell. The winner of the drawing sat for a portrait which was demonstrated to the audience. The winner of the portrait was Mrs. Joy Cox of Happy. Upon completion of the demonstration she was presented with the pastel portrait.

Presiding at the tea table were members of the Artist Studio social committee including Nat Scott, Wilma Leslie and Edna Cook. Various members of the club presided at the registration table and visitors were greeted by Mary Hudgins, club president and Pearl Wecker, exhibit chairman, among others.

The paintings chosen as most outstanding and given "Best of Show" award was "High on a Sandy Hill" by Ada Ruth Craghead.

Paintings winning ribbons in various categories judged included: Still Life: first, "Fruit Bowl" by Zettie Baker; second, "Dextrose" by Mary Hudgins; third, "The Master's Hand" by (Continued on Page 12)

PORTRAIT DEMONSTRATION—A feature of the Art Show on the weekend was the portrait demonstration given by Jan Hudlow Bell of Post, noted young artist and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hudlow of Estelline. Sitting for the artist is Mrs. Joy Cox of Happy, who was presented the portrait at the conclusion of the demonstration.

Super Save Grand Opening Is Fri.-Sat.

Super Save Market is having its Grand Opening under new management Friday and Saturday, with a special promotion sale these two days. The new owner, James McDanel of Wellington, extended an invitation to the general public to come in.

The change in ownership of Super Save Market was announced last week, with Mr. McDanel purchasing the store from Robert Galloway. At that time, there was no announced change of personnel.

Managing the grocery store for Mr. McDanel is Eddie Braidfoot, a two-year employ. Other employees are: Robert Galloway, Ray Woodard, Ottie Jones, Mrs. Joyce Crooks, and Claude DeBerry.

The new owner has been a resident of Wellington since 1940 and is in partnership with J. C. Hartman in City Grocery on the northeast corner of the square in Wellington.

The McDanels have four children, all of them married. These are: Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ammons and children, Diane and Jeffrey of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray McDanel and Cindy of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Denny McDaniel and Karen and Kevin of Wellington; and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rames and Paty of McKinney.

James McDanel said in his announcement that he would live in Wellington and continue to manage the City Grocery.

Country Club To Have Fourth Of July Tourney

The Memphis Country Club will have an 18-hole best ball tournament and a covered dish luncheon on Tuesday, July 4, the tournament committee announced this week.

The committee asked that all entries be in by 9 a. m. that morning, so teams can be drawn up, and play can begin before 10 a. m. Entry fee is $1 per person.

Golfers and non golfers alike are invited to enjoy the covered dish luncheon at 12 noon. The club will provide the plates and drinks, and those attending are asked to bring covered dish foods.

The schedule calls for nine holes of golf that morning, the luncheon, and nine holes of golf Tuesday afternoon.

The best ball tournaments at the club attract the largest participation of local golfers. This year there have been as many as 65 entries in a best ball tournament.

Services Held Monday For H. C. Mueller

Funeral services for Herman C. Mueller, 76, resident of Memphis for 37 years, were held at 2 p. m. Monday, June 26, in the First Christian Church.

Minister Tom Posey officiated. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Graveside services were conducted by the American Legion Simmons-Noel Post.

Mr. Mueller passed away Saturday in Abilene.

Born Feb. 28, 1896, in Goforth, Mr. Mueller was united in marriage to Adele Josephine Arlitt Aug. 18, 1921, at Meridian. He came to Hall County in 1935. She preceded him in death in 1953.

Mr. Mueller was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Lutheran Church. He resided at 215 S. 5th St., Memphis, and was a retired employee of the Cotton Oil Mill.

Survivors include: three daughters, Mrs. T. C. Poe of Nashville, Mrs. Henry Gibson of Willapa, and Mrs. Coy Don Taylor of Abilene; five brothers, Richard of Luling, Julius of Hobart, Okla., John, Morgan and Edgar, all of Austin; four sisters, Mrs. Henry Woerndel, Mrs. Raymond Pollan, Mrs. Arthur Peterson and Miss Leona Mueller, all of Austin; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Pall bearers were Capt. David Vore, T. C. Poe, III, FFC Dan Gibson, Maury Taylor, Jeffrey Poe and Chris Gibson.

July 4th Is Holiday Here

July 4th falls on Tuesday this year, next Tuesday to be exact, and it is not one of those Federally recognized Monday holidays that have citizens somewhat confused.

July 4th is Independence Day in the United States, and as such, is the biggest national holiday for Americans.

Banks and all business firms will be closed on July 4th. Banks and many of the local firms will be open on Monday, July 3rd.

The Memphis Little League will not play games on Monday or Tuesday, July 3, and 4. Farm team games were cancelled for Monday night. This was the last night for these teams. The Farm team Indians won the league with a perfect record, with the Tigers placing second, losing only to the Indians, the Giants placed third and the Yankees finished fourth. The Yankees lost six of their games by only one run each.

D. C. Messick, President of the Little League, announced that play will resume Thursday for the Little Leaguers.

All Stars will be announced the following Monday, July 10, he said. Memphis will host the 5-team area playoff the nights of July 17-18 and 20.

The Memphis Country Club will have an all day best ball golf tournament Tuesday, July 4th.

B&PW Sponsored

Beauty Pageant To Include Little Miss

The Memphis B&PW Club announced this week the addition of a "Little Miss Hall County" portion to the "Miss Hall County" beauty pageant planned for Saturday, July 15.

City Pool To Have Special Event Saturday

The City Swimming Pool will have its first of summer special activities from 8 to 10 p. m. Saturday, July 1. This is being called Jack Pot Saturday, Pool Manager Phillip Lillard said.

Entry fee is $1, and the diving for treasure event is scheduled for 9:30 p. m., or just at dark, Manager Lillard said. The exact amount of the treasure won't be known until that night.

Swimmers will not be allowed to wear masks or goggles during the event.

"If you like swimming in clean water and diving for treasure, plan to be at the City Pool in the City Park Saturday evening," Lillard said.

Young girls ages four through seven are eligible to enter the "Little Miss Hall County" contest. Wear will be Sunday dresses for the little girls, and each will have a sponsor, the same as entries in the Miss Hall County contest.

The pageant will begin at 8 p. m. Saturday, July 15. The contestants for Miss Hall County must be 16 through 21 years old. These contestants will compete in two divisions, swim suit and evening dress.

Girls interested in entering either of the contests are asked to contact Mrs. Van Gayle Howard, Mrs. Jack Moreman or Mrs. Leon Helm.

The theme of the pageant this year will be "American Heritage."

Several Golfers Enter Tournaments In Area Towns

Several Memphis golfers entered tournaments at Childress and Clarendon last weekend, and two others are attending the Texas-Oklahoma Junior Golf Tournament in Wichita Falls this week.

Attending the T-O are Matt Monzingo and Phillip Bray. According to information received here, Phillip is competing in the first flight and Matt is in the fourth flight.

Of the Memphis golfers competing in Clarendon, Dr. R. G. Bice took second place with rounds of 80-77 in the fourth flight. Dana Gibson had a two under par round of 70-70 to win the second flight.

Other local golfers playing at Clarendon include Danny Scarborough, George Ferris, Alan McNally, Dink Miller, B. B. Gibson, H. R. Crawford, Melroy Cofer and sons, David and Don.

At Childress, of the five local golfers competing, Ronnie Morris is the only one capturing a flight prize. Morris took third place in the fourth flight.

Other golfers playing in the Childress tournament were Jack B. Boone, Joe Bob Browning, Clint Voyles and Mike Linder.

The championship flight at Clarendon attracted much attention, as Dick Weston, the Plainview golfer who won the Memphis Invitational recently, won the Clarendon tournament with a 54-

Rev. Robt. Pepper Dies Monday; Rites Held Tues.

Funeral services for the Rev. Robert F. Pepper, 83, were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Travis Baptist Church here.

Officiating were the Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rochester, the Rev. H. J. Townley of Bowie and the Rev. Lloyd Riddles, pastor of Travis Baptist Church.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Robert F. Pepper was born Feb. 8, 1889, at Denison. He was a retired school teacher and was ordained April 30, 1922, in the Parview Baptist Church of Clovis, N. M., afterward holding pastorates in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. He was united in marriage to Miss Ethel Mae Anderson Jan. 26, 1913, at Duke, Okla., and was a resident of Turkey before moving to Memphis a year ago, where he resided at 1417 Walden.

He died Monday morning in Hall County Hospital.

Survivors include: his wife, Ethel, of the home; two sons, Reno F. of Estelline and Robert Lemuel of Westminster, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Roberta Cox of Borax, N. M.; and Mrs. Madeline Mildred Hawk of Denver; one sister, Mrs. Mary Etta Creek of House, N. M.; nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Pall bearers were H. H. Parker, Buster Hanna, Will Cargill, Earl Newcomer, Tom Collins and Junior Welch.

Country Club Lady Golfers Play On Wednesday

Women golfers of the Memphis Country Club are meeting weekly on Wednesday at 9 a. m. to play golf, according to Mrs. Bill Whitten.

The second Wednesday of each month a salad luncheon is held with each one bringing a salad. The date for the luncheon will be Wednesday, July 12.

The ladies vie for golf balls with the prize being given for a different method of play each week. Tina Foxhall and Mrs. Lee Brown won balls last week for the fewest number of putts during the nine-hole round. This week the ladies will be awarded balls for having the fewest balls (Continued on Page 12)

EDITORIAL

The Use Of DDT Is Banned!

We understand that the use of DDT after Dec. 31, 1972 has been banned, according to a release by Environmental Protection Agency Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus. This ban also includes the use of DDT on cotton.

Charles F. Youngker of Buckeye, Ariz., American Cotton Council president, says the action is a critical blow to growers who are already hard pressed to lower production costs.

DDT is the most effective insecticide known for the two most destructive pests of cotton—the boll weevil and bollworm.

National Cotton Council President Youngker is quoted as saying, "This (the ban) means that in order to control pests in the large part of the cotton belt, cotton growers will have to turn to more expensive insecticides, to those that are hazardous to man, animals, bees and other beneficial insects, and that will have to be used about twice as often. We are already encountering some of these difficulties in Arizona as a result of an earlier ban on DDT by the state."

He also pointed out that alternative insecticides delay crop maturity, an important factor in the long growing season required for cotton.

He pointed out that cotton producers are as concerned as anyone about protecting the environment, and are spending nearly $2.5 million a year on research to find ways to control insects biologically or with greatly reduced quantities of insecticides.

DDT has been inextensive use since World War II and is used, alone or in combination with other insecticides on more than 35 per cent of the cotton acreage from Texas to the Atlantic coast.

Hearings have been held on DDT, and persons close to the DDT controversy had predicted rulings of lesser impact due to these hearings. A hearing officer reportedly recommended the chemical not be widely banned. The agriculture industry is now bracing itself in anticipation of additional bans on pesticides, herbicides and rodenticides. Should these develop, the agriculture industry could be severely crippled.

This nation has a generation living today who do not remember the many problems their parents and grandparents lived with due to the heavy insect population. Many do not remember the swarms of flies, mosquitoes, chiggers and all the various insects which could destroy a growing field of food or fiber.

Every year, when this area is blessed with rainfall, it doesn't take long for the mosquitoes to appear. Now the Agriculture Department scientists think they have found an ingenious way of controlling mosquitoes without using DDT or other chemical pesticides.

They are field testing the use of tiny parasitic worms that bore holes in mosquito larvae and have "particular promise" for getting rid of the insects.

As this editor sits writing this editorial (and scratching two mosquito bites) this is certainly welcomed news, but we can't help but be a little skeptical, for we see the difficulty of placing "tiny parasitic worms" in a spray can for use when needed.

On the other hand, one might feel that this is a dirty trick to pull on mosquitoes, but on reflection it turns out to be fair play. For years they have been boring holes in us.

It's The Kids' Game!

Adults frequently forget that youth baseball—boys and girls—is for the kids!

A couple of minor "incidents" already have occurred during the young season. They have been more aggressive than serious, officials note.

Such things as harassing umpires, making snide remarks to or about coaches, razzing an opposing team by adult fans are completely out of place in youth baseball. In the first place, most umpires and coaches are strictly volunteers giving countless hours to working with young people with no compensation other than the satisfaction of helping a little one. Anybody can have such a job for the asking.

One town not too far from here was not invited to participate in league play with its neighboring communities simply due to the rudeness and harassment aimed at visitors the previous year by a few thoughtless adults. The players were not a party to the wrong doing, but must suffer "isolation" created by overzealous oldsters.

The same thing could happen to us.
An individual is abnormal, we believe, who can sit through any sporting event without the adrenalin flowing free. But, at the same time, we should have enough self control to let our brains run a step ahead of our mouths.

No serious incident has developed in youth baseball here in years. But are the subtle insults and verbal blasts necessary?

What Other Editors Say

Mrs. or Ms.?

Na, The Dispatch is not behind the times. We were asked some time ago by a women's libber why we didn't "get with it" and use Ms. in place of Mrs. or Miss in front of a woman's name. The women's libbers want us to use Ms. to conceal whether or not a woman is married. Can you beat that?

One reason The Dispatch hasn't started using Ms. is because we just haven't been able to "get with" the women's liberation movement yet. Another reason we haven't used it is because we haven't been sure just how one would pronounce Ms., which up until the women's libbers started their thing going was the abbreviation for "manuscript."

Actually, however, we can no longer fall back on the excuse that we don't use Ms. because we don't know how to pronounce it. No less an authority than Editor 7/6 Publisher magazine informs us that the proper pronunciation of Ms. is Miz. But that pronunciation, although there seems to be no satisfactory alternative, has its unfortunate aspects.

For one thing, Miz is well established as a dialectal pronunciation of Mrs., as often used in the comic strips Pogo and Barney Google and Snuffy Smith. How can women's lib be satisfied with a designation that not only might be confused with Mrs., but also has a hillbilly sound?

Weekly Newspapers such as The Dispatch find themselves especially hard-pressed as to the use of Ms., because they get lists of married women's names turned in so many different ways. Sometimes it seems that each club, chapter or sewing circle has a different way of turning in the names of the women who attended their meeting.

Some organizations list their member's names as Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Jim Jones, etc. Others list them as Mrs. Hattie Smith, Mrs. Maybelle Jones, etc., while still others merely list them as Hattie Smith, Maybelle Jones, etc., without any indication as to whether or not they are married.

The Dispatch has always preferred, and we think most newspapers do, that when a list of married women's names are given they be listed by their husband's first name, such as Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Jim Jones, etc. There are exceptions, of course, such as where a widow prefers to use her given name after the Mrs. instead of the given name of her deceased husband.

Actually, though, we're not hidebound about it. We're glad to get news of the meetings of women's organizations and will run the names most any way the club prefers—up to a certain point, of course. And one of those certain points is that we haven't started using Ms. instead of Mrs. yet and, perhaps, will have to be completely sold on women's lib before we do so.

Beef Is Steady

The market indicates that beef cattle prices are high and steady, with indications that they will remain that way for a while.

Feeder steers this week are selling around $38.50 to $41.50 per cwt. with feeder heifers slightly lower. This is a good steady price and stimulates interest in the cattle market.

—The Perryton Herald

But already there are complaints that beef in the market is too high and some politicians want the government to import beef and run these prices down.

This is unfair to the cattlemen and the other segments of the cattle industry who ask nothing from the government in the way of a guaranteed price or profit. These people dealing in beef are willing to take a chance on free enterprise and are betting that the American people will eat more beef and pay what beef is worth.

Americans do eat more beef. It is good and it is healthy. It is also a solid base for our local economy and we don't want the government to start fooling around trying to control its market.

Commissioner Warns That Highways Are In Danger From Govt. Proposals

CORPUS CHRISTI—Members of the Texas Press Association were told last week that the state's entire highway program is in jeopardy.

Charles Simons, a member of the Texas Highway Commission, discussed problems confronting the State Highway Department in a responsibility to construct and maintain a highway system to serve all the people of Texas.

Simons warned that the highway program is threatened by proposed environmental controls, Federal Highway Department reorganization, Federal revenue sharing and bureaucratic red tape.

Simons spoke at the annual meeting of the TPA in Corpus Christi.

"We propose that the Federal government finish the Interstate system as pledged, then release the states responsibility for the construction of the special highway taxes invoked in 1956 to establish the Highway Trust Fund."

Prior to 1956 the states collected most of the highway user tax revenues. Since then the federal government has collected specifically imposed taxes on gasoline and other motor-related products to match state funds for Interstate and Primary system highway construction.

"Congress established the Highway Trust Fund with a solemn pledge that it would be used exclusively for the construction of Interstate system and other primary highways," Simons said.

Now schemes to divert Trust Fund revenues to build rail mass transit systems in Eastern seaboard and Midwest cities have been bounding around Washington like a basketball.

Simons explained that the Texas Highway Commission fully supports mass transit systems and pointed out that Texas has built one of the best networks of rubber-tired mass transit in the United States, which he described as most economical, most flexible and most practicable for all but about 10 cities in the U. S.

"Texans have paid for their own mass transit system with their own highway use taxes," Simons said. "We on the Commission believe riders on other mass transit systems in other states should pay for their own systems from the fare box or self-imposed general tax revenues. It is as simple as that."

Another cause for concern to the Highway Commission outlined by Simons is the Administration proposal for governmental reorganization. In this proposal is a plan to merge elements of the Department of Transportation (DOT) with the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), elements of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) in a Department of Community Affairs.

"Highways are not a community affair. They are a state concern," Simons said. "This is a ridiculous grouping of non-related government organizations. It should be recognized for exactly what it is: a move to dominate the highway program and to divert highway user tax revenues to wild-eyed welfare and other socialistic schemes."

Simons blamed withholding of distribution from the Highway Trust Fund for hampering highway construction.

"More than $5 billion a year flows to the fund," Simons said. "This is a prime attraction to bureaucrats and political opportunists who see it as the greatest potential slush fund for financing pork barrel projects in the entire history of the country."

Manipulated balances of the Highway Trust Fund have resulted in the delayed completion of the Interstate System. Originally planned for completion in 1972, the system is now only about three-fourths complete. Simons expressed doubt that the system will be completed until the 1980's.

"We are enmeshed in a bureaucratic stranglehold of red tape and directives that have stretched the time necessary to get a highway project ready for contract from 34 months to 78 months," Simons said. "Congress is at long last looking at this very threatening problem. Rep. Jim Wright (Dem.-Tex.) is chairman of a House subcommittee whose members recently were appalled to learn of bureaucratic interpretation and red tape imposed on congressionally approved legislation."

Simons pointed out that Congress now is considering legislation known as the "Transportation Revenue Sharing Plan." It provides that special taxes invoked on motor vehicle users would be returned to local governments.

Under the proposed legislation Texas would receive a much smaller share of federal highway user taxes, and far less than Texas vehicle owners pay into the Highway Trust Fund. In effect the Highway Department would be reduced to an agency dealing only with rural roads on drastically reduced finances while the cities' portion of the "shared" funds would be "sliced so thin that you could read a newspaper through it," Simons said.

He proposed instead that the "Federal government get out of the whole highway program and let the states resume financing, construction and maintenance of the highway system. That would be the greatest and truest possible effort at revenue sharing. And we wouldn't have to send $2 to Washington to get $1 back."

Former Coach, Blake Bolton, Sr. Dies, Rites Fri.

Funeral services for Blake Victor Bolton, Sr., of Plainview 77, former Memphis High School coach, were held Friday, June 23, in Parklawn Memorial Gardens Cemetery in Plainview.

Mr. Bolton died Thursday morning in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock of injuries suffered in a three-car crash near Lockney.

The accident occurred three-fourths of a mile west of Lockney and involved a west-bound pickup which made a left turn from U. S. 70 onto Farm Road 97 and was in collision with an eastbound pickup driven by Bolton. The west-bound pickup then veered into a mail truck stopped at a stop sign on the farm road.

Bolton had been in critical condition in the intensive care unit in the hospital since the accident.

Other than Memphis, he had coached at high schools in Wichita Falls and Dalhart and served as superintendent of Dalhart schools. He moved to Plainview in 1945.

He taught at Ash Elementary School and was principal at Central Elementary School and also taught at Kress and Petersburg before he retired in 1962.

Survivors include: his wife, a daughter, a son, three brothers, one sister and one grandchild.

President Nixon Writes American Legion Post Here

President Richard Nixon has written letters to Post Commanders of American Legion Posts throughout the nation concerning the conflict in Vietnam.

In the letter to the Simmons-Noel Post commander, Jay Stone, the President said, "No conflict in this century has created such division among our people as the war in Vietnam."

"As the weight of national opinion often turned heavily against our commitment there, the tough decisions that were necessary to bring our involvement to an end, and to do so in responsible way, became increasingly more difficult," the President said.

"That is why I would like to take this opportunity to let you know how important your firm and unfailing support has been.

You have not only bolstered the morale of our troops but, as I can assure you from my recent trips abroad, you have also helped to make the foreign policy of the United States much more credible in the eyes of other nations," he said.

The President went on to explain that many Americans have urged that we abandon our commitment and simply give up and get out. "Veterans organizations have never done so. To the contrary, the American Legion has been in the forefront of support for whatever action was required to protect our remaining troops as we withdraw from Vietnam, to secure the release of our prisoners-of-war, and to bar the North Vietnamese from taking by force what they cannot win in any other way," the letter states.

"Just as there have been pressures which made my own decisions more difficult, I know that there also have been pressures which made your support of those decisions much harder. In spite of this, you have always been ready to stand up for what had to be done. As President, I am grateful because of what your support has meant to the country; as Commander-in-Chief, I am grateful because of what it has meant to our fighting men themselves," President Nixon said inclosing.

Jimmy Fowler Is Honor Student At Texas Tech

Among the list of honor students in the College of Business Administration at Texas Technological University is Jimmy Fowler of Lakeview, according to information received here Friday. He is on the dean's honor list.

According to Dean Jack D. Steele, to qualify for the list a student must be enrolled in 12 semester hours of courses, and have at least a 3.0 grade point average.

Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Fowler.

James Darrell Elkins of Wichita Falls, former Memphis resident, has recently visited with his mother, Mrs. Robert E. Meek and her husband in Libby, Mont. The Meeks live on the Kenely Ranch in Montana. James reported a most enjoyable visit and while there fished and went horse back riding. He visited relatives in Amarillo en route home.

Mrs. T. L. Rouse returned Tuesday night after spending several days in Tyler and Dallas with brothers and sister.

County Taxpayers Pay High Price For Federal Aid

NEW YORK—According to a recent study, taxpayers in Hall County are paying a high price for the benefits their area receives in the form of Federal aid.

The figures show that for every dollar in grants that comes to them from Washington—for welfare, education, health, housing, highways, urban renewal and other purposes—the cost to them is $1.03.

That is the estimate of the amount they have been contributing, via their income taxes and excise taxes, for allocation to the aid programs. It is exclusive of what had to be provided locally in the form of matching funds.

The study was made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that keeps tabs on Federal spending. It represents a state by state breakdown of Treasury Department figures covering the past fiscal year.

The findings are that, in 21 of the states, more money was collected in taxes that were earmarked for the aid programs than came back to them in grants.

In the other 29 states, the benefits exceeded the cost.

Of the taxes collected in the State of Texas as a whole, $1,431,000,000 went into the aid program and $1,387,000,000 came back in grants.

Hall County's contribution amounted to approximately $733,000 of the total and its share of the grants, to nearly $712,000.

As for the unequal distribution of grants-in-aid it as explained that there is no attempt to return dollar for dollar. The purpose is to provide aid in accordance with need.

The report shows that a total of $29 billion in such aid was distributed among the 50 states during the past year. This compares with $23.5 billion in 1970.

Much more than this is available to states and localities, it is noted. Various funds that are obtainable go begging because no application is made for them.

The reason is, according to Senator William V. Roth of Delaware, who made a study of the situation, that there are no less than 1,350 aid programs on the books, administered by 57 departments and agencies of government. No comprehensive listing of them has ever been made.

President, Texas Governor Writes Letters To Wiley

Wiley Davis, 1972 MHS graduate who completed 12 years of perfect attendance in the Memphis Schools, has received two letters congratulating him for his accomplishment.

Wiley has received letters of congratulations from President Richard Nixon and Texas Governor Preston Smith.

President Nixon said, "A news item recently came to my attention describing some of your outstanding achievements, that you hold a unique distinction of having completed twelve years of school with a perfect attendance record. This is a most welcome opportunity to commend you on this fine accomplishment, as well as to congratulate you for attaining Eagle Scout rank, and to send to you my very best wishes for every continued success in the years ahead."

Governor Smith's letter contains four paragraphs, the second of which reads, "I know that you are proud of your achievement. Your punctuality and perseverance are traits that will serve you in good stead throughout your entire career."

The Governor also congratulated

Wiley for earning the Eagle Scout rank and the Eagle Palms to you on your fine accomplishments and my sincerest best wishes in all your future endeavors," Gov. Smith said inclosing.

The allied invasion of Sicily began, July 10, 1943. On this same date, the temperature in Death Valley, California, reached 130 degrees F.

County Agent Urges Early Control Of Boll Weevils In Cotton Fields

Much of the cotton in Hall County is nearing the 1-3 grown square stage. This is the stage when boll weevils begin to lay eggs that will produce a new generation of weevils. Prior to this time boll weevils are unable to agricultural agent, said this week.

When heavy boll weevil numbers are present, it is advisable to apply an insecticidal application just prior to the time that 1-3 grown squares will be present and a second application 5 to 7 days later. This will prevent overwintered boll weevil population and greatly reduce the level of damage caused by the first generation boll weevils, he pointed out.

Overwintered boll weevil control is needed where an average of 131 boll weevils per acre (one boll weevil per 100 ft. of 40-inch row) is found prior to the 1-3 grown square stage. When, by close inspection, boll weevils are found to be only in a part of the field, control measures applied in that area will effectively reduce later damage from the boll weevil. When this is the case, boll weevils are found near overwintering habitats (shinnery, shelterbelts or others). The results obtained from spot treatment depend very heavily on the producer's ability to determine exactly where the boll weevil infestation is and to control them in that area before they spread to other parts of the field, Hooser explained.

The decision to spray for control of overwintered boll weevils presents a real problem to the producer because of the possibility of a bollworm outbreak after boll weevils have been controlled. When boll weevils are controlled, beneficial insects are also killed and the cotton field is left open to damage from the bollworm until beneficial insect populations increase. Generally beneficial insect populations can again be located in the field by the time cotton begins blooming. However, bollworms cause their heaviest amount of damage in the cotton as bolls are set to 25 per cent set, 15 per cent to 25 per cent square damage by bollworms can be tolerated without causing an excessive amount of loss.

Debra Nunnelley Becomes Bride Of Randy Johnson In Pretty Church Rite

Miss Debra Nunnelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Nunnelley, became the bride of Randy Johnson, Saturday evening, June 17, in the Travis Baptist Church.

The Rev. Lloyd Riddles, pastor, read the single ring ceremony at 7:30 p. m. before a nuptial setting decorated with baskets of white gladioli and purple daisies. Music for the wedding was provided by Don Moore, vocalist.

Karen Beavers, the bride's sister, served as her only attendant. She wore a beige street-length dress styled with long sleeves.

Jimmy Boliver, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-white street-length dress fashioned in princess style with long sleeves. She carried a bridal bouquet of purple carnations tied with purple and white streamers.

She carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue with a six pence in her shoe."

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall.

Wedding cake, punch, nuts and mints were served from an attractively laid ten table.

The newlyweds are at home in Clarendon where the groom is employed at Cliffords Grocery Store.

Working for Good

"We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him, who are called according to his purpose." - Romans 8:28

If you really love God, there is a purpose to your life. God's purpose, for all mankind, is a life of goodness. If you believe in God, you must also believe in brotherhood and peace among men. If you believe that Christ lived and died for mankind, you must find it in your heart to be helpful to someone in need, sympathetic with someone in trouble, forgiving toward someone who has injured you in some small way.

God's purpose is a life of joy in which there is an ultimate reward.

dozens of uses appreciated by the outdoorsman, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The dark red polish can be used to touch up chipped fishing lures, or to add color or patterns to dull-colored lures.

If the silk or nylon winding on a rod begins to unwind, a few drops of either colored or clear polish will stop the damage. Even braided line can be protected by dipping it in polish.

Nail polish also is an excellent sealer for bolts and screws in reels, guns or scopes. Just coat the threads and tighten them down.

It will also waterproof the heads of matches and will burn readily when the match is struck.

Public Notice

A & M Seed Delinting Company, Route 1, Memphis, Texas 79245, has applied to the Texas Water Quality Board for an initial waste control order for an existing discharge not to exceed an average flow of 35,000 gallons per day of industrial wastewater 100% process water from their cotton seed delinting plant which is located two (2) miles west of Memphis on Highway 256, and in the H & GN Ry. Co. Survey (Sections 1 and 2 Block 20), Hall County, Texas. The wastewater effluent is retained in a pit on company property and there is no discharge to the surface water of the State. A public hearing on this application will be held in the

Extra Pesticides And Containers Present Hazards

Left over pesticides, pesticide containers and application equipment present hazards unless handled properly, warns county W. B. Hooser.

Final clean-up of pesticides, containers, and equipment should be done as soon as possible after the final use of the chemicals.

Sufficient quantities of pesticides may remain in "empty" containers to cause illness or death to those uninformed or unaware of the dangers. Hooser recommends that the user carefully calculate the amount of pesticide that is needed so there will be no worry with leftover pesticides. If leftover pesticides can't be returned to the manufacturer, then certain precautions should be observed.

For those who handle a large volume of pesticides, disposal in the ground can be made with some reservations. Water below the ground must be protected from contamination. Pesticide persistence and movement through the soil must be carefully tested. Pesticide disposal in sanitary landfill areas is currently recommended for small volume users.

When storing unopened containers, proper storage precautions should be observed. They include storage away from food, feed, fertilizer and under lock and key with proper labels on every container. Extremes of temperature, high humidity and exposure to moisture are to be avoided, advises Hooser. Since most solvents used in pesticide formulations are flammable, consideration should be given to fire hazards.

Partially filled containers may be stored, but airtight sealing is difficult and storage may not be advisable if the product isn't stable. Hooser suggests a check with the manufacturer or his representative for determining their stability.

All containers which are to be held over should be checked closely for leaks. A small hole is a paper container can become the source of contamination for feed and water.

Equipment should be cleaned thoroughly, but some consideration should be given to the fact that surfaces are coated with pesticides and some material may remain in the tank or delivery lanes. Residues from the clean-up should not be permitted to drain onto surfaces from which they may be washed into water supplies which are frequented used by livestock or pets.

The user of pesticides assumes the full responsibility for their safe use, handling, storage and disposal, reminds Hooser.

Highway Research May Save Millions

AUSTIN—Highway research being conducted at The University of Texas may save the tax payers millions of dollars each year.

Concrete is a porous material. Water seeping into the pores of concrete bridges freezes, expands and breaks off chips of concrete taking its toll in tax money for resurfacing projects.

UT engineers are studying the feasibility of filling the pores in concrete with plastic. Polymer concrete, as it is then called, has no air spaces so there is no place for water to seep in. In addition, it is four to five times stronger than ordinary concrete and more resistant to abrasive wear.

MRS. DONALD LEVOY FREE

Houdashell-Free Nuptials Solemnized Saturday, June 10, In Amarillo Rites

The North Seminole Church of Christ was the setting as 7:00 p. m. on Saturday, June 10, for the candlelight nuptials uniting in marriage, Miss Karen Marie Houdashell and Donald Levoy Free, both of Amarillo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Houdashell of 600 North Mirror, Amarillo, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Driver of Lakeview. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Free of 2603 Robinson, Newport, Arkansas.

Minister Arthur W. Francis, Jr., gospel preacher of York, Nebraska, officiated the double-ring ceremony before an arch of pink gladioli and greenery. Forming the background were spiral candelabra: holding white cathedral candles flanked on either side by arrangements of pink gladioli.

The North Seminole Church of Christ Choir sang "Oh, Promise Me," "Faithful and True," as the bridal chorus and "Oh, Perfect Love" as the recessional. Randy, Billy, and Ginger Talley sang "A Time for Us," theme from Romeo and Juliet, and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of silk organza, designed with a high-rise of re-embroidered Venise lace with a scoop neckline, bordered in lace. The dress was designed with camelot sleeves with a lace upper arm and lace forming a bishop cuff. The matching mantilla was bordered in matching lace attached to a queens crown of re-embroidered lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a white bible topped with a cascade of cypripedium orchids, white carnations and baby pink roses. She carried out the traditional bridal customs "something old," great great grandmother's friendship ring, "something new" bride's bible given to her by her sister Melinda, "something borrowed," a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother Houdashell, "something blue" was a blue garter, and a six-pence in her shoe.

Attendants

Maid of honor was Melinda Beth Houdashell of Amarillo, sister of the bride. She wore a formal length dress of pink satin with an overskirt of pink silk organza with the lace trim. The camelot sleeves were pink silk organza with lace trim and an organza bishop cuff. Her headpiece was a pink organza bow. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with a votive cup in the center.

Billy Mack Park of Blytheville, Ark., brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Davis, Mrs. Paul Cunningham, Mrs. Floyd N. Houdashell, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride of Amarillo. They wore formal length dresses of pink satin with an overskirt of hot pink organza with lace trim. The camelot sleeves were hot pink silk organza with lace trim and hot pink organza bishop cuff. The headpieces were of hot pink organza bows. They carried nosegays of white carnations with a votive cup in the center.

The groomsmen were Tony Bull, brother-in-law of the groom of McCrory, Ark., Paul Cunningham, Amarillo, and Floyd N.

Houdashell, Jr., brother of the bride of Amarillo.

The ring bearer was Alan Bull, nephew of the groom, of McCrory, Arkansas.

The flower girls were Leslie Graham, of Abernathy, and Lacy Driver of Hereford, both cousins of the bride. They wore formal length dresses of pink satin with an overskirt of pink organza, and long sleeves of pink organza. The headpieces were bows of pink organza. They carried lace baskets with white rose petals. They wore corsages of white carnations.

The train carriers were Teri and Tammy Driver, of Levelland cousins of the bride. They wore formal length dresses of pink satin with an overskirt of pink organza, and long sleeves of pink organza. The headpieces were bows of pink organza. They wore wrist corsages of white carnations.

The candlelighters were Tracy, Candace and Kent Hudgins, cousins of the bride of Ulysses, Kansas and Donald Wayne Park, nephew of the groom, of Blytheville, Ark. Tracy and Candace Hudgins wore formal length dresses of pink satin with an overskirt of pink organza and long sleeves of pink organza. They wore wrist corsages of white carnations.

The ushers were Larry Carl Driver, of Hereford cousin of the bride, Jimmy Dale Free, nephew of the groom, of Newport, Ark., Terry Carver and Eddie Kerr, friends of the bride and groom of Amarillo.

Miss Pam Steckline registered the guests.

Mrs. Houdashell chose a candy pink chiffon dress with a scalloped coat of lace with white accessories. She wore a pink cypripedium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Free chose a blue knit dress with white accessories. She wore a pink cypripedium orchid corsage.

A reception in the church annex was held immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with white lace with an under-cover of pink satin with a white satin and net ruffle around the table. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. The four heart shaped cakes were on the bottom with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom in a garden gazebo. It had candlelight staircases with the miniature attendants on the staircases. Joyce Loer of Canyon, Pam Steckline, Regina Littlefield, and Mary Hubbard of Amarillo served. Little pink rice bags were passed out to guest.

For a wedding trip to Houston, Galveston, and Arkansas, the bride chose a white shirtwaist chiffon dress trimmed in pink with white accessories and the pink cypripedium orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 747-A North Wilson, Amarillo.

MR. AND MRS. ROGER KEHR

Carla Coleman Becomes Bride Of Roger Kehr In Church Ceremony

Nuptial vows uniting in marriage Miss Carla Coleman and Roger Kehr were solemnized at 7:30 p. m. Friday, June 2, in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church with the Rev. Laislaus Wolko officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Coleman of Fort Supply, Okla., and Glen Coleman of Memphis, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kehr of Memphis.

The couple's only attendants were Mrs. Wanda Maddox, sister of the bride, who served as matron of honor and Dale Coleman, brother of the bride, who was best man.

Mrs. Maddox wore a formal floor-length gown of red velvet accented with a white corsage. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of net over bridal taffeta styled with lace overlay on the bodice. The same lace appliques were featured on the full-length skirt.

Her bridal veil, edged in lace, fell from a crown studded with seed pearls and sequins and she carried a cascade bridal bouquet.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at DeVillie Restaurant.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The newlyweds are at home in Memphis. Mr. Kehr is employed with the Mobil Home plant in Childress.

Women were impaneled for service on a grand jury in Laramie, Wyoming, July 7, 1870.

Oliver Circle Meets Mon. A Methodist Church

The Oliver Circle of the United Methodist Church met at 8 p. m.

Wanda Messick, chairperson, opened the meeting. As the no business, she turned the program over to the program chairman, Yevette Miller, who reported that the group's study of the Gospel of Matthew was continued at the next meeting when Gloria Nelson, leader, returned from vacation.

The program for the week was led by Sue Fowler with the work and problem center in St. Joseph, Mo. The center gives priority to family and youth work, development, housing and living, she said. The latter eas led to a discussion of federal housing project in Memphis. The program was with a meditation given by Yevette Miller. She read 12 from Today's English of the Bible and led the Prayer of St. Francis.

In the absence of Hutcherson, Yevette Miller as hostess during the social. She served delicious refreshments to Wanda Messick, Benita, Dora McQueen, Doris, Peggy Becker, Beverly, Emma Lou Sprull and Sue Fowler.

The cooler the home, the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

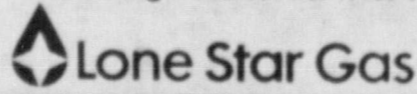

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And gas air conditioning owners get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.

of San Antonio also visited.

Other visitors the past Saturday included Mr. and Mrs. Pete Parker and daughter of Orange, traveling Highway 287 to Denver. Mrs. Parker is a collector of antiques. She commented that we had a valuable collection in Heritage Hall.

We were very much surprised a few days ago when we received through the mail a surprise in a manila envelope, and award called "Participation Award" from the "Alta Mira Club" of San Leandro, Calif., signed by the president of the club, Mrs. Frank B. Toner, and secretary, Elleta Gray Smart, dated the 30th day of May, 1972. Mrs. Toner will be remembered by her friends as Katherine Frances Milam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Milam and sister of Mrs. J. F. Neel. I did not think of ever getting an award for anything I said in B. B. Shots, but that is what it states on this certificate and was in regard to the publicity given the club and the centennial celebration. We do appreciate the award certificate very much.

We hope the world is getting better. I read the article in the Dallas News about the Expo 72 that had an attendance of 180 thousand at Fair Park with 150 policemen patrolling the area. There were only three arrests made. That must have been a good bunch of young people.

In checking up on Lt. Col. Sim W. Goodall's report card, I would call it, we find this very interesting as in the spaces checked on this card as follows: "1. Has a far reaching grasp of his entire broad job area. Authority in his field. 2. Capable of top-level planning. A high caliber thinker and planner. 3. Highly skilled in balancing cost against results to obtain effectiveness. 4. Leadership qualities reflect potential for highest level. 5. Has a knack for arriving at the right decisions, even on highly complex matters. 6. Outstanding skills in human relations increases his effectiveness. 7. Outstanding ability to communicate ideas to others. 8. Quality and quantity of his work are clearly superior. 9. Bearing and behavior are outstanding. He exemplifies top military standards." The following is a comment from his commanding officer "There is no matter too insignificant to meet his attention and no problem so big as to frighten him. He should be promoted to Colonel at the earliest opportunity. Lt. Col. Goodall supports the equal opportunity program."

We do want to congratulate Sim on this good report from Australia where he has been stationed for several months.

For the past several years my cousin, Connally Baldwin of Dallas, has asked me to stop by his place of retreat from the city life on weekends. I finally made this stop a few days ago. This place is located a few miles north of Canton off of Highway 20. I did expect him to have a little chicken house on this farm, but I did not expect to find a college campus for chickens with ample dormitory space for each of these 37 thousand college-graduate pupils. This college graduate course is educating all of these pupils in the art of perfection in laying eggs. Before getting their diploma from this college, they have to have a perfect attendance record for at least 20 weeks and reach the weight of about 3 pounds, and I think they are on a weight-watcher's diet. I did notice that they have to have regular hours in their dormitories, with automatic switches for the lights that make night and day and also sunrise and down. I would call this a hen-fooling operation. The dormitory is well air conditioned and deodorized and the floor is kept clean as a room in the home. There 7 thousand pounds of feed a day go in this huge building to keep the students satisfied with their college. I don't think they would "squak" too much over conditions in their schools as they can see that the bad chickens fit in an incenerator at the back of the dormitory. With all of the feed going to these chicks, they are very grateful and they have a co-op that returns 10 tons of fertilizer per week to the operators who in turn, put this on the pastures which makes long green grass for the cows. The hen and the cow make a good corporation for a pay-off. There is another operation in the chicken college which is the art of promoting peace and good will toward each other, as they all belong to the same sorority. This operation was "beaking" each one of these young hens, which they were in the process of doing while we were there. It did take 13 people 4 days to get the college kids de-beaked so they can receive their diplomas. It may be that in the world of today that some of us need to be "de-beaked" and would have more love for our fellow man.

Draft Call For August Listed By State Director

AUSTIN—The August Draft Call was announced this week Col. Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas. Men in the First Priority Selection Group with numbers of 75 or lower will be subject to induction in August. This priority group is made up of men born in 1952 or older men who have lost a draft deferment during Calendar Year 1972 and who are classified in Class 1-A, 1-A-O, or 1-O. Glantz noted that this is an increase of 25 in the lottery number for induction from the July draft call.

There is also an increase in lottery numbers for pre-induction Armed Forces Examinations from 90 in July to 100 in August. Men in the First Priority Group are those who are subject to examination orders. The August Induction Orders will be issued between July 3rd and July 28th, with 30 days notice from the date of mailing.

Keep home earned dollars home owned dollars

When you spend money out of town it is gone. It keeps traveling with little chance of returning. Money spent at home stays at home. It returns in many ways. In more successful businesses, improvements, expansions and new construction. Dollars increase in value and provide more taxes that improve parks, playgrounds, streets and schools. If all purchases that could be made at home were made at home think of all the improvements that would be possible. Keep home earned dollars home owned dollars.

peal for special relief funds is necessary to alleviate the distress of these disaster-stricken victims, the release stated.

This is the first time it has been necessary for National to set a quota on chapters since Hurricane Camille.

Jerry Burleson, local Red Cross chairman, has announced that the fund drive is for five million dollars and the Hall County Chapter quota has been set at $67.00.

Burleson asked that county citizens make their contributions as soon as possible and leave them at the First State Bank or mail them to American Red Cross, Hall County Chapter, 1122 W. Main, Memphis, Texas.

All contributions will be forwarded directly for the relief of victims of the South Dakota flood.

Red Cross disaster funds have been drained by recent Southwest Texas floods, West Virginia and Kentucky floods.
