Setting the stage for the final round, the Carson County team had to play flawless baseball to defeat the Pampa American team 1 to 0 in the bottom of the eighth inning. Actually, it was a walk, two pitches passed a relief catcher, and an infield hit, a dribbler, which gave Carson County the winning run. Little League games normally end in six innings.

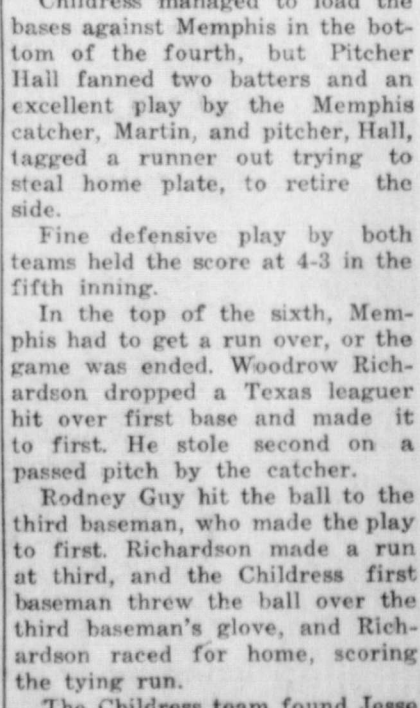

Memphis 6—Childress 4

The Memphis All-Stars scored two runs in the top of an extra inning to break a tie, and retired the first three Childress batters defending this two run lead to win the game 6 to 4 in a come-from-behind victory that set local fans to buzzing.

We Assume Too Much

There was a time in this country when even a whole day of life was not taken for granted, much less water, food, shelter and a safe night's sleep.

Now, by reason of a uniquely bountiful heritage we take too much for granted. We assume, expect, insist as no other people in the entire world. We not only accept without thinking about it at all the great urgencies of food, clothing and shelter, but a whole lot of other things that make up a way of life.

We assume that some kind of transportation will take us to work. We take for granted that our locked front door will keep out intruders and that our police will protect our person and property.

We expect our children to receive proper health care and take for granted the fact that there are doctors and nurses and hospital beds for us if we really need them.

We take for granted such things as a hot bath, plenty of soap, the evening newspaper, pencil, an abundance of food at the grocery store.

We assume that young husbands with their bare efforts will make a successful future for themselves, that there are jobs for everyone, that older husbands will retire on what, over the long years, they have laid aside for their golden years.

We expect our daughters to have an evening dress and our sons to be able to drive a car and the family to take trips.

We assume that some decent men will get voted into public office and we assume that once they are in office, they do their job without further checking up from us.

We take it for granted that we will never be shot, imprisoned, or have our worldly goods confiscated. We assume that our government will always be responsive to the demands of the voters and that if the American people want to change all they have to do is express themselves to the people that hold office.

We assume that our benevolent federal government is so rich and powerful that it can wipe out poverty and hunger and uncomfortable places to live. We assume that this country is so rich that it can do anything it wants to do to provide a decent standard of living for all people whether they work or not.

In assuming these things, we forget that this way of life doesn't just happen, nor did it come easily. Men stayed on at Valley Forge in the cold and snow at 22 cents a day; Americans have died on battlefields around the world and in prison camps to guarantee this freedom.

It was not to guarantee us our ice cream and radios that innocent, bewildered women were burned at the stake, bore children during Indian attacks, worked hard, long and painful hours to dig out homes in the new West. It was not to guarantee a soft living without work that our pioneers suffered and scrimped and saved and made sacrifices.

We have a marvelous heritage of freedom, self reliance, faith in God, and willingness to work. To take this heritage for granted, without thinking about it all, is the first step toward losing it.

What Other Editors Say

Open Meetings Law

Some of the response to the editorial in this newspaper last week urging that secret sessions of local government be confined to matters specified by law as appropriate for such sessions indicates that some readers misunderstood that editorial.

Some appear to think we are calling for special privilege for newspapermen. We were not.

We were simply urging that the right of the people to see and hear what their government is doing be honored.

We live under a system of government that operates under the consent of the governed. That is possible only with informed consent.

This means that the people must have the right to witness their public servants as they do the business of government.

We do not elect our public servants to give them the privilege of telling us what they want us to know. We elect them to do our public business as we witness if we choose. This is a right of all citizens.

There is no reason why newspapermen should have any exclusive rights. The freedom of the press and the right to know laws were not enacted for newspapers. They were enacted for all the people.

There can be no justification for a law permitting only newspapermen to witness the proceedings of any government body.

Their only purpose in doing so would be so they could report those proceedings to the public. It follows logically then that any citizen ought to have the right to witness those proceedings, and under New Hampshire law he does, with a few specified exceptions in which government bodies are permitted to have secret meetings from which the public, including newspapermen, is — and should be — excluded.

The right of the people to know what their government is doing has been written into law to guarantee it for all citizens. While that should — and does — include newspapermen, they need it less than most other citizens because they are trained to investigate and to obtain information that others might want but not know how to get.

Let there be no doubt in the mind of any reader. This newspaper does not claim for itself, or ask for any other newsmen, any right that does not belong equally to all citizens.

Let there be no doubt either that this newspaper believes that the right of all the people to know what their government is doing at every level is essential to the survival of self-government because the General Court believes that, it has been written into the law of the State of New Hampshire. —The Newport (N. H.) Argus-Champion

Welfare Fight

A floor fight in the U. S. Senate is due before the summer is over on welfare. Whatever the outcome of the fight, the eventual result is simply more welfare.

The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively approved a "workfare" bill which in some ways limits an applicant's eligibility for welfare, though not to any great benefit of working citizens. And the opposition believes it should be more generous.

Typically, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff thinks: "It is one of the most regressive bills I've seen. It goes back to the Elizabethan poor laws."

Praise for workfare comes from one of its chief sponsors, Louisiana Democrat Russell B. Long. Finance Committee chairman: In a radio address to his constituents, Long said it is a fine bill. . . the biggest undertaking in the social welfare field in the history of the country."

Under workfare, families headed by able-bodied fathers and families headed by mothers with no children under age six would be ineligible for welfare. The heads of those families would be offered federally guaranteed employment at a wage of $1.20 an hour.

The Family Assistance Plan, passed by the House last year, would provide an annual federal payment of $2,400 to a family of four with no outside income. Only families headed by a woman with young children or by an incapacitated adult would be eligible. Families headed by employable adults would be assisted under a program requiring the family heads to register for work or training.

Although the welfare provisions are the most controversial, the House-passed bill and Senate committee bill also contain provisions increasing Social Security benefits, making changes in the Medicare and Medicaid programs and providing assistance for the needy aged, blind and disabled.

Long is aware of the possibility of a floor fight and is prepared to do his best to sell workfare to the Senate. "I think and I hope that the President is going to sort of remain aloof from this fight. . . Those of us who have analyzed it feel that a great number of people would prefer just not to work at all and live on welfare."

one-room school houses along the highway. Near Hot Springs in South Dakota, we watched the Crazy Horse Pageant. Here you see the re-enactment of the battle at the Little Big Horn on June 25, 1876, from the viewpoint of the Sioux. The actors are descendants of Crazy Horse's tribe. Next we went to Custer, S. Dakota. Here we visited "How the West Was Won" Memorial Museum, located in the Community Building, largest all-log building in the United States and dedicated by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in 1927. On display in the Museum is a large collection of hand guns and other things belonging to a great many of our notorious outlaws and other well known persons, Dalton Boys, James and Ford families, John Wesley Hardin, Pancho Villa, Billy the Kid, Juan Espinosa, Belle Starr, Black Jack Ketchum, Daniel Boone, William S. Hart, Cole Younger and brothers, William Clark Quantrell and many others.

"While in Custer, we saw the recreation of the 'Hanging of Fly-Speck Billy'. We spent the night at the Flintstones' Bedrock City, a very interesting camping place. Next, we drove on to the Crazy Horse Memorial. Korczak Ziolkowski, sculptor, has been carving a mighty monument on Thunderhead Mountain in memory of Crazy Horse. We visited his home and studio. Next we saw Mt. Rushmore National Memorial. The huge sculptured faces of Presidents Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt are very inspiring. You feel as though you are looking back in history. Next, at Sylvan Lake, we saw beautiful rock formations called the 'Needles'. One formation has a long hole in it and is called the eye of the needle.

"In Keystone, S. Dakota, we viewed the 'Shrine to Democracy' Wax Museum. Among the exhibits are every president of the U. S. A., the memorable First Ladies, General Custer and Sitting Bull, Gutzon Borglum, the man who carved Mount Rushmore, Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas Edison, and Jean Lafitte. In Custer Park we visited a Doll Museum which was of special interest to Karen as she is a doll collector. Also, there we saw deer, antelope, buffalo, prairie dogs and donkeys who came up on the highway and put their heads in your car wanting food.

"In Deadwood, S. Dakota, we saw the site of the old saloon where Wild Bill Hickock was killed, we went through a very good museum and then up to Mt. Moriah (Boot Hill) cemetery to see the graves of Hickock, Calamity Jane, Potato Creek Johnny and Preacher Smith. We looked down over Deadwood from the hill by a flag that is never lowered. Congress passed a bill stating that particular flag could be flown without being lowered in memory of all who were killed in war.

"Back in Wyoming, we passed Devils Tower. What looks like a huge tree stump of rock was made the first national monument by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1906. Indians believed that the 865-foot monolith was the home of spirits. Geologists say that it was formed of molten rock.

"In Montana, we visited the Custer Battlefield at Little Big Horn. Back into Wyoming, we traveled through Ranchester and up into mountains. All of a sudden we were in winter. Everywhere you looked was snow. The pine trees were covered as was the ground. It was very beautiful. We learned it had snowed four inches the night before. In Cody, Wyo., we visited the Buffalo Bill Historical Center. You see it in three parts: The Buffalo Bill Museum where thousands of personal and historic memorabilia of Col. William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody... Pony Express rider, Buffalo hunter, Frontiersman, Army Chief of Scouts... his Wild West Show, guns, saddles, clothing, trophies, gifts from royalty, home furnishings, etc. Next you see the Plains Indian Museum, one of the most outstanding displays of Plains Indian materials, Sioux, Crow, Blackfoot... costumes, tribal medicines, ceremonials, weapons, scalp, war shirts, hundreds of items; then the Whitney Gallery of Western Art where you view original paintings and sculptures by the foremost artists of the Old West.

"On the way into Yellowstone, it snowed on us. We had not really expected Yellowstone to be all mountains and forest. We saw several herds of elk, bears, some buffalo and deer. Old Faithful was very impressive. The wind was blowing toward us so we got a shower bath. We saw the terraces created by seepage from snow and rain falling higher up and then heated by searing gases streaming upward from drying magma that once fueled Yellowstone's violent volcanism.

These are very pretty and unusual. Also noted were the many beautiful waterfalls.

"Next we went through the Grand Teton Mountains and on down to the Jackson Hole County. At a station in Jackson, the attendant told us that once a man came in and said he had heard of Jackson Hole for years and he wanted to see it. So the attendant showed him a hole behind the station and the man was satisfied. In Thayne, we visited the Star Valley Swiss Cheese factory. We sampled cheese but were unable to tour the factory because of new health laws.

"Across the edge of Idaho and on into Utah to Logan, we saw the large Mormon temple and went inside the 1878 limestone temple. The building cost $90,000. and the organ inside cost $43,000. In Brigham City, we saw the Box Elder Tabernacle; and between there and Ogden, we passed many fruit orchards.

"In Salt Lake City, we viewed the Capitol Building and then visited Temple Square containing the Temple, the tabernacle, visitor center, museum containing relics of Brigham Young and other Mormon leaders. We went out and saw the Salt Lake, where they say you float like a cork. We also passed the Morton Salt Factory. In Vernal, Utah, we bought some honey gathered in the vicinity. Utah is the beehive state. We were told that the country surrounding Vernal is where many dinosaurs were dug up. Jensen, just a few miles from Vernal, has a Dinosaur National Mounment Quarry where they still excavate.

"Back in Colorado Springs, we had an enjoyable visit with Mrs. Crisman's cousins, the Herb Adams family, the Bill Durham family and Jodie Elam family. There we also went to visit the North Pole, saw the shops, a puppet show, (Karen petted the deer), and rode the train and the merry-go-round. In Canon City we also visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ward and family.

"Traveling from Colorado into Kansas, we passed the Holly Sugar plant and saw Kansas pheasant. We continued our trip down through Oklahoma into Texas. In Perryton we ate lunch and had a very nice three-hour visit with the Bob Queener family (former residents of Memphis) and then back home.

"We saw so many places and did so many things we do not have room for everything. We covered 3,513 miles and would like to go again sometime when we have more time to spend in each place," Mrs. Jones said.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy extended to us during the illness and death of our loved one. We appreciate your prayers, food, beautiful flowers, cards, telephone calls and memorials. We especially want to thank Dr. Stevenson, the wonderful nurses and staff of Hall County Hospital.

Specialist Says Handle Ammonia Safely In Home

COLLEGE STATION—Household ammonia can spell trouble if used incorrectly.

Ammonia, the basic ingredient of many common household products, is a very effective cleaning aid. But it's caustic to the eyes and skin. Since it's poisonous, care must be exercised when using it, according to Texas Agricultural Extension home management specialist, Mrs. Doris Myers.

"Ammonia is caustic to the eyes and skin," she said. "If some should splash into your eyes when doing your household cleaning, wash your eyes with clean water and seek medical attention immediately to prevent serious eye injury or blindness."

She warned that if ammonia accidentally spills on the skin, the area should be flooded with water, then washed with vinegar or lemon juice.

"The cleaning product should be stored along with other household products out of reach of children in its original, tightly closed container," Mrs. Myers said.

Ammonia is an alkaline gas dissolved in water. As sold for household use, ammonia varies from 5 to 10 per cent in strength. Mrs. Myers said that chemically pure 10 per cent ammonia from a drug store works best for stain removal.

"Since ammonia concentrates of five per cent or more are highly toxic, extreme care should be taken to avoid spilling or splashing," she said. "Just one tiny splash in the eye could cause damage."

To make windows, mirrors and glassware really sparkle, the specialist suggested washing them with four tablespoons of household ammonia mixed with one quart warm water.

"To make over cleaning easier, pour one-fourth cup of ammonia in a small bowl in a cool over, shut the door and leave four hours or overnight. As the ammonia evaporates, fumes from it will loosen oven grease and simplify cleaning. Add what's left of the bowl of ammonia to your wash water to clean your over."

Two tablespoons of household ammonia added to one quart of water with two tablespoons of liquid detergent will make general household cleaning easier.

"Ammonia cuts grease," Mrs. Myers said, "so it's effective to use in cleaning."

She reminded consumers to follow directions carefully when using ammonia.

It should not be mixed with other cleaning agents that contain chlorine because the combination of these two ingredients forms a very toxic gas.

Also, if too much ammonia is used in cleaning woodwork, it tends to soften paint."

Mrs. L. G. Rasco Is Hostess To Baptist WMU Tues.

RHONDA WELDON

Rhonda Weldon Is Raising Baby Red Fox Puppy

Rhonda Weldon and her father, Gail Weldon, of Jacksboro have managed to raise a baby fox to be seven weeks old, feeding it milk first with an eye dropper, and now with a baby bottle.

Rhonda is the granddaughter of Emma Lee Nabers and great-granddaughter of Rhodie Davis, both of Memphis.

The new-born fox and its four brothers and sisters were found under a storage tank on property east of Jacksboro when Weldon and his crew were carrying out orders given by their employer to move the tank.

Jack County Game Warden J. C. Romines came to the scene later.

The mother fox ran off and did not return, so the men loaded the five babies, their eyes not yet open, and brought them home, three to the Weldon home and two to the Romines home. But only one, now named Lucky, survived.

Lucky is now learning to eat meat and has all the privileges as one of the Weldon family. Her personal headquarters is a box in Rhonda's room which she is now able to jump out of when she desires. Rhonda says Lucky loves to play with family members and snoops around the house and when she gets tired, she crawls right back into her box.

Recently Lucky was privileged to accompany the Weldons on a trip to visit relatives in Mineral Wells. Part of the way she was allowed to ride on the dashboard on which she paced up and down wondering how she was going to be able to climb off the thing. To ease Lucky's frustration, Mrs. Weldon formed a bridge with her hand and arm on which the tiny cunning one quickly landed, and found her way back to the car seat.

The age old question comes to mind concerning domestication of wild animals—will Lucky always be happy in people's habitat, or

Agriculture Has Action Role In Curbing Pollution

Agriculture has a "doer role" in reducing air pollution.

This is the opinion of Dr. L. S. (Bill) Pope, associate dean for administrative affairs in Texas A&M University's College of Agriculture.

People in agriculture are often the recipient of pollution problems—and sometimes the source of other types of pollution, Dr. Pope said.

"For example, 1,700 trucks a day hit the highways in the High Plains to serve the feedlot industry of Texas. The feedlots, in turn provide top sirloin steaks for today's consumers. Yet the exhaust fumes from the truck fleet add to air pollution problems already present in the area," Pope explained.

Science responds to public concern, Pope, who addressed a recent workshop on air pollution effects on vegetation, said. He emphasized that while the feedlot industry responds to consumer requests for more beef, the problem of waste disposal increases.

"Citizens face tough choices ahead in the interest of pollution abatement. We may need to re-evaluate some of our investment priorities as we consider solutions to pollution," Pope told the 70 workshop participants.

"Research is the key to unlocking the riddle and finding efficient solutions to this rapidly mushrooming problem," he asserted.

A Cornell University plant pathologist told workshop members that plants can serve as indicators of air pollution.

Dr. Arden Sherf of Ithaca, N. Y., emphasized that "plants are especially useful as pollution indicators as society becomes more conscious of environmental problems and wonders about local pollution situations."

"Our biggest problem presently is to accurately localize important air pollution problems and attempt to trace their possible sources. Citizens want to know if their plants are being damaged by pollutants rather than by disease or insects, fertility imbalance or weather," Sherf said.

Furthermore, unless one has had considerable knowledge of plants and how they grow, the diagnosis of air pollution injury may be unreliable and even hazardous, the New Yorker added.

A Texas A&M University research engineer who is using two environmental wind tunnels to determine effective measures to reduce serious air pollution at the U. S. Customs Station in Laredo described the research project to workshop participants.

Said Dr. M. P. Royce, mechanical engineering professor and director of the gas turbine laboratory at Texas A&M: "The wind tunnels are effective in the study of smog, and in testing and evaluating traffic exhaust pollution at the Laredo Station."

Other federal and state studies have emphasized the threat to Laredo Station employees' health with the findings of high carbon monoxide concentrations and other monitored pollutants such as hydrocarbons, ozone, sulfur dioxide, hydrogen sulphide and particulates, Royce added.

New developments in automotive engines are being made to curb pollution, yet these developments will substantially increase the cost of the product, he emphasized.

"We are seeking to find different systems that can be put with existing power plants and also investigating new sources of power."

will she one day become desperate to join the foxes' habitat?

News About Insurance And ...

Mr. Farmer: Are you familiar with the Wms.-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970? If you have one or more employees you are now covered by this law. Perhaps some farm organization will come up with a lay-language description of the law's provisions. If you do not have farm employee liability insurance, I recommend that you discuss this with your agent.

What form of Homeowner's insurance do you have? A or B Form? What deductible? Is depreciation waived or not? The answer lies in the form you carry. This is important, and your agent can give you the answer relative to your own coverage.

Junior Welch's nine-year-old son recently attended his eighth consecutive Clarendon rodeo—it figures he would miss the first one, as that was the day he was born.

The law of supply and demand has not changed. With more people (consumers) eating beef and no appreciable increase in the number of beef animals, prices are back where they were in the 1950's. Our farmer-stockmen are getting a break they deserve in these highly inflationary times.

Congratulations, Susan and Mike Davidson. It's a boy!

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Parks and Wildlife Commissioners presented Texans twin surprises with the announcement of the purchase of beachfront property in Jefferson County for development as the state's second largest park and a decision to buy the controversial, long-debated Mustang Island property in Nueces County for another beach park.

The Jefferson County purchase of 14,360 acres includes a five and a half mile waterway to the beachfront with a vast saltwater marsh inland. The $2,154,000 purchase lies due south of Port Arthur and stretches from the intracoastal waterway to the gulf of Mexico.

Palo Duro State Park, in the Panhandle near Canyon and Amarillo still holds its ranking as the biggest of the state parks with 15,103 acres.

The Mustang Island purchase, delayed by court wrangle for nearly two and a half years, if no new stumbling blocks suddenly appear, will cost about $600,000 less than the original $4.2 million asking price of the island property owner, Mrs. Sam F. Wilson Jr. of Corpus Christi.

The amount of property involved is less than the original 3,965 acres the state was looking at. Seems a survey of the property revealed the state already owned some of the property. Per acre price, however, remains the same.

Announcement of the Mustang purchase came after Parks Commissioners asked Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin if he was sure he was right when he ruled earlier the state has a legal binding contract with Mrs. Wilson to purchase the property.

Martin agreed to review his own opinion, did, and told Parks Commissioners he was right the first time.

State Hunts "Choo Choo" Train Gov. Preston Smith has asked the U. S. Navy to make available to the State of Texas surplus authentic steam locomotives for use in developing the 33.7 state-owned railroad between Rusk and Palestine in East Texas as a tourist attraction. The Legislature last year said the Parks Department could operate the full gauge railroad as a public recreational facility.

The Parks Department is currently rehabilitating 26 miles of the railroad and hopes to operate public excursion trains using historically authentic steam locomotives.

Smith wrote to Navy officials saying he had been informed several military steam engines have been declared surplus and asked for assistance in acquiring one or two of the "iron horses."

Drug Funds Granted State Texas is one of three states selected by the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to take part in a pilot program designed to stop the flow of legal drugs into illegal channels.

Texas Criminal Justice Council will be funded $333,011 to be sub-granted to the Texas Department of Public Safety to operate a diversion investigation unit. Primary goal is to curtail diversion of controlled substances at the retail level. It is estimated by federal officials that half the legitimately produced amphetamines and barbiturates are diverted to the illicit market.

Headquarters will be in Austin, with target cities to be chosen over the state to assure widespread coverage, officials say. Michigan and Mississippi are the other two pilot program states.

and tractor accidents continue to be the main sources of accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches, the Texas Safety Association says.

The Association hopes to focus public attention on the continuing upward trend of deaths in nearly every category during Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 25-31.

TSA spokesmen say 35 deaths were recorded last year from fires, explosions or burns on farms and ranches in the state. Other leading causes of accidental death last year included 29 drownings, 28 accidental shootings, 26 machinery accidents, 22 tractor accidents, 22 falls and 17 accidents involving animals.

Vegetable Inspection Studied Importation and exportation of vegetables to other states is becoming scrutinized by a special House Interim Committee on Vegetable Marketing.

Another problem reviewed by the Committee was the claim by witnesses that the reputation of Texas-produced vegetables is suffering in out-of-state markets because Texas growers persist in shipping large volumes of low-grade products. The result, witnesses said, is loss by the Texas growers of the out-of-state markets because the produce of certain other states is consistently of higher quality and desirability.

Most practical solution, suggested witnesses, would be establishment of market orders to establish and enforce standard quality grades for Texas-grown vegetables and inspection of imported vegetables from Mexico.

Alcohol Abuse Study Texas is the first state in the nation to be awarded federal funds for prevention, treatment, education and rehabilitation programs to deal with alcohol abuse and alcoholism.

The $1.6 million grant will go to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism which in accordance with new federal law developed and submitted the first state plan for such a program.

The TCA estimates there are 425,000 alcoholic persons in Texas, equivalent to about 3.8 per cent of the state's population.

No Election Money Officials in the office of Secretary of State Bob Bullock say the Legislature in its special session made no provision for funds needed to wind up the cost to the state of financing elections in Texas counties.

Bullock aides say the Legislature's budget writers were asked for an additional $400,000 to wind up the bill paying for the primary and runoff elections. No money was provided.

Bullock will make another effort to get the additional funds when the Legislature comes back to Austin for its 63rd Session in January, 1973. In the meantime, enough money is believed by Secretary of State staffers to be available to at least enable county officials to pay Texans who worked in precinct voting boxes. The printing companies apparently will have to wait for final payment after the first of the year, aides say.

Short Snorts Requirements and standards for installation of heating, plumbing and electrical systems in mobile homes, as adopted by the state Performance Certification Board, went into effect on Dec. 15, 1971, Attorney General Martin says.

U. S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe has released $24 million in federal highway funds to Texas. The funds had been withheld pending adoption by the Texas Legislature of regulations complying with the Highway Beautification (Billboard) Act.

Parks and Wildlife Commission has adopted a regulation banning use of firearms and crossbows while hunting deer or turkey during the special archery season.

Swine Specialist Urges Precaution Against Cholera

LUBBOCK—With the confirmed cases of hog cholera in Dawson and Terry counties, swine producers are urged to use all precautions to curb the disease. "This costly disease is easily transmitted and if producers notice any sign of sickness among hogs, they should suspect hog cholera first," says Dr. Gene, area veterinarian and Dr. Gilbert Hollis, area swine specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The animals should be checked immediately by a local veterinarian or state of federal animal health official.

If a swine owner has the disease confirmed in his herd, federal and state law require that the entire herd be destroyed and buried under governmental supervision, the specialists report. Indemnities can be collected on any hog that dies or is destroyed after the herd has been inspected.

To protect pigs from cholera, the specialists list the following precautions:

1. eBuy pigs from reputable sources. Bargain pigs may not be bargains after all.
2. Isolate newly purchased pigs for 30 days.
3. Don't mix pigs with those of your neighbor.
4. Keep visitors out of the hog lots. Cholera can be spread by either direct contact from animal to animal; or indirectly on boots, shoes, clothing, vehicles or contaminated feed, water or handling equipment.

5. Haul hogs only in trucks trailers that have been pre-cleaned and disinfected.

6. Do not feed garbage or scraps to swine unless it is properly cooked (30 minutes at 160 degrees F.). To be absolutely safe, avoid feeding garbage.

7. Turn in any hog cholera vaccine that you may still have your farm to a local, state or federal animal health official.

8. Eradicate all rodents on your farm to prevent the spread of the cholera virus.

9. Fivefold of EA SHR CM

attend the National Deaf Convention for 3 nights and 4 days until about 2 a. m. My observation was that every walk of life, age, sex and color was represented from every part of the United States. It was not that the group was not satisfied with what they were doing, but that they were not satisfied with what they were not doing. When they are born, he starts kicking and screaming for a "husher" and that is a habit we do not want to pass on to our children. I personally thought that Will Rogers could have been a great comedian at this convention, as he knew the truth in a few words and he told it. I did take two of the notes down that he gave out. "We will never get along with our finances, till we have a law saying that every appropriate something, we should pass another bill along stating where the money comes from." And another, "It's a great country, but it's not living in it for nothing."

and Mrs. Gene Paschall, Jimmy, of Kermit were in Heritage Hall, also, sister, Marie (Paschall) and son, Edward, of Amarillo. Jeff is the son of Paschall girl that we called "Pat" who liked horses and her daughter, Pat, re- competed in the Rolling 4-H riding club, where she is now. Marie Paschall graduated of Lakeview High in 1935. She first attended at Eli. Some of the teachers remembered were Tops, Inez Mason and Prof. She married in 1943 and moving from Hall County in she has lived in Amarillo, Texas, Ft. Worth, Dal- Houston where her home in the past six years. Paschall graduated from in 1953. He married the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott who lived at the edge of Memphis. The children now living are Lydia, Ernest of Amarillo and of Sun City, Mo. Mr. and Gene Paschall have three ages 9, 14 and 18. They lived in Kermit the past 14 years. There were five boys and girls in the Mack Paschall family and the only ones living in Hall County are the mother and one daughter, Becky Bruce. We appreciate Gene's interest in Heritage Hall as he started out when we first opened up being a regular contributor. He and his wife and sons were on their way to Creede, Colo., to try their luck at fishing.

Several weeks ago we had as a visitor in Heritage Hall, Mrs. C. C. Franks of Gatesville, sister of Mrs. Munger of Memphis. She gave me some facts on one of the industries in their town that I did not know existed in Texas. The medical plastics was begun in 1949 and incorporated in 1951. It is the world's pioneer in plastic anatomical reproductions. Its products are marketed internationally and they have 4 people working full time. They make full skeletons and also any part of the body showing nerves and arteries exactly as in the human body. Thanks to Mrs. Franks for the information as I didn't know we had this kind of operation in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Langford had as their guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Tow and daughters, Kathy, Karen and Debbie of Dalhart. Also, in this group of visitors was Mrs. Ruth Raish of San Diego, Calif. Calvin Tow, a former resident of the O'Neal Community, graduated from Quail High School in 1949, married Cliffla Langford of Wellington, at that time, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Langford. Calvin has been with the Parks and Wildlife Department of Texas for the past 15 years and has lived in Dalhart the past 14 years. Mrs. Tow and Mrs. Jerry Montgomery are sisters.

Others visiting in Heritage Hall were Fern and Donna Self of Roosevelt, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gordon of Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. Gordon will be remembered as Margarite McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn McCoy who were former residents here. Margarite graduated from Estelline High School in 1942 and John L. is a graduate of Slaton High School. They left here 24 years ago. She taught in the Alamogordo Schools for 15 years. John is with the civilian Air Forces. They have one son, John, now age 20, and one daughter, Martha, age 17. Mrs.

Lynn McCoy and son, Max, are now living in Ruidosa, N. M., and Lynn McCoy is in Senior Village at Perryton. They were very much surprised that we had this collection of items in Heritage Hall.

Jim Smith had as his guest in Heritage Hall his brother, Chas. (Lindenberg) Smith of Amarillo and his son, Eddie also of Amarillo. Chas. was in the 1947 graduating class. He joined the Army in 1946 and married Irene Umbach of Penn. They moved to Amarillo in 1951 where Chas. has been with the Texaco Co. the past 20 years. They have two children, Eddie, 14, and a daughter, age 15. Jim and Chas. are sons of the late C. F. Smith and Bessie, who now lives in Memphis. This family came to Hall County in 1929 and first lived in the Eli area. There were 11 children in this family. Jim is the only one of the 10 children now living in Hall County. Tony is now in Germany and will retire next January from the Army after 20 years of service. Ben, Coy, R. B. and Chas. are in Amarillo, Grady of Azle, Louise at Vega, Velma at San Antonio and Melba Joy of Amarillo.

Others visiting in Heritage Hall were Bob Boyd and Merle Zimmerman of Wichita, Kans. They are both with the Texas Farmers' Stockman. Mr. Zimmerman said he was a distant relative of the early day Zimmermans who were land owners in Hall County. Lisa Ferris had as her guest in Heritage Hall, her grandmother, Mrs. Nina Ferris of Rawlins, Wyo. She is the mother of George.

Jane Lilly of Houston was visiting in Heritage Hall the past week. She is the daughter of Hugh and Laura Mai and granddaughter of Mrs. Walter High-tower.

Mrs. W. D. Young had as her guest in Heritage Hall, her grandson, Robert Brownfield Young of Midland. Mrs. Young reported that the Young family had a family reunion July 9th at Hamblin. There were 79 who registered for the occasion.

"Why Depressions?", as copied from "Leaves of Gold": "Everything in the world can be endured, except continued prosperity."

Bill Whitten, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, gave us some brochures of Memphis and Hall County, which are a courtesy of the Lone Star Gas Co. This brochure is very descriptive of our area, specializing on "The Friendliest People on Earth" with the slogan, "Room to Boom". It also shows our location in the center with the following towns surrounding us—Amarillo, Lubbock, Abilene, Oklahoma City, Fort Worth and Dallas. It also gives a part of our assets, such as schools, churches, industry, medical center, cattle, farming, golfing and fishing and with all of the other things not mentioned, which make this an ideal place to live. The Gas Co. is to be congratulated on such a descriptive brochure for our area.

After the beauty contest last Saturday night sponsored by the B&BW Club, I think there is another asset we can claim here and that is "the prettiest girls in the world". It all goes back to this statement I have heard from Winfred Moore of Amarillo a number of times, "The Golden Spread is the best part of the world."

Other visitors in Heritage Hall were Todd Pope of Abernathy and G. C. Benson of Hedley. He remembered when he, Zeb Moore, and Martin Bell unloaded lumber from the wagons and hauled it to the lumber yards and was all hand and mule work.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Vallance with their son, David, and daughter, Pauline, all of Pink Bluff, Ark., were visitors. Alvin attended school at Plaska and graduated from MHS. For the past several years, he has lived in Wellington, Pampa and Pine Bluff, Ark.

We must be going into a new era on missionary work as we note that in our larger cities the churches are sending out groups over the United States and foreign countries in missionary work. I did note on television Sunday morning that a group of 83 choir members and sponsors were leaving Sunday afternoon for a mission trip from the First Baptist Church going to New York City and Brooklyn with other towns en route. They have made trips before to Japan and Korea as well as other countries.

I did hear and witness program under the direction of Geary Brogren of the First Baptist Church here. This was in song and testimony from 30 of the young people from our area. This was presented on the theme of "Love". To hear this program gave you a feeling of the truth of that old time religious song, "Old Time Religion" . . . "That makes me love everybody". This group of 30 young people with their sponsors will leave next Sunday morning at 6 a. m. for a mission tour and will hold a Mission Bible

Country Club Plans Second Scotch Tourney

The Memphis Country Club is having another Scotch tournament, scheduled for next week, but this one will have certain rule and play changes, it was announced.

Entry deadline for club members only is 5 p. m. Saturday, July 22, and couples are asked to enter and pay a $3 per team entry fee.

"After entries are in, the men and women will be divided and drawings will be made to determine playing partners," a spokesman said.

Drawing of names from a hat will determine teams, and these teams will then play an 18-hole medal round Sunday or Monday.

Two Farm Bureau Agents Attend Dallas Meeting

Dan Thurman, Hall County Farm Bureau agency manager, and Ted Wheeler, special agent, were in Dallas last week where they took part in the Farm Bureau Statewide Agents Contest.

The Hall-Donley Agency won third in the state, producing $842,500 in life volume for the month of June. Only Victoria and San Angelo were able to exceed this. Thurman was third in the state in personal production with $565,000 for the month.

R. B. Phillips, county president, said, "We are extremely proud of Dan and Ted for the job they are doing in serving the needs of our members."

The county also was number one and Thurman the top producer in District 2 for the month of June.

into shallow left field, and Randy Shahan had to make a running catch on it. Then, a pop up between second and first saw Toby Gibson make a good play on it. Hernandez struck out the third batter.

The seventh inning settled the contest in Memphis' favor, as Shahan got up and hit a second bagger. Hernandez hit the ball over second base, and Shahan scored from second. Hernandez made it to second while the play attempt was being made at home plate. Gibson hit the ball to the Childress third baseman, who made the throw to first but Hernandez beat the throw back to third. With two outs, as Mark Guffey struck out, Slaughter then came to bat. He hit the ball and beat the throw to first, Hernandez scored from third, but Slaughter turned the wrong way after passing first base and the Childress first baseman tagged him out, retiring the sides. Memphis led 6 to 4.

The bottom of the 7th was a tense inning for both teams. The top of the batting order was up for Childress, Hardison, Egerton and Morey. Hardison went down swinging, as the lights had been turned on and a light shower was threatening to hit at any minute. Egerton hit a bouncer to second, and Gibson made his throw good to first base. Money came to the plate and took an inside pitch for ball one. He tipped a pitch to even the count. Hernandez threw the next pitch over the outside corner for called strike two. On the next throw, Morey swung at a pitch which was a little high, and missed it, ending the game.
