More On Farm Safety!

This week, July 25-31, is National Farm Safety Week; and for residents of this area, there can be no greater concern than farm safety, for so much depends on the farming operation of our citizens.

There is little doubt that the need for a safer environment in a farming or ranching operation is needed, necessary and in many instances most welcomed. However, habit, disinterest and a blind faith in luck tend to bring about a situation where little is done to improve the operations as far as making them safer.

Whenever a choice presents itself between more productivity or safer operations at a lesser productivity, the choice is almost always for greater risk and more productivity.

This year, during National Farm Safety Week, farmers and ranchers are being asked to equip themselves and their employees and working family members with personal protective equipment.

The theme for this year's Farm Safety Week is "Protective Equipment—Your Defense Against Injury." Considering that farming is the third most dangerous occupation in America with 2,300 deaths and 190,000 disabling injuries in 1971, something must be done to make farming a safer vocation. Farmers should seriously consider personal protective equipment in their own operations.

According to farm safety experts, agricultural workers may have a need for more types of protective equipment than the average construction worker. Some of the various kinds of personal protective equipment useful on the farm or ranch include: safety glasses or goggles, hard hats and bump caps, ear muffs and plugs for lengthy exposure to excessive noise, filter and cartridge respirators for work in heavy dust and chemicals, and protective clothing and safety shoes with metal toe caps and puncture resistant soles.

According to the Texas Safety Association, fires, drownings and machinery and tractor accidents are the major sources of accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches. In our area, primarily machinery and tractor accidents are responsible. However, serious or even fatal accidents caused by animals are not uncommon.

But in all causes, over the state, the trend continues in an upward spiral as more and more deaths occur in nearly every category.

In Texas, last year, fire caused 35 deaths, followed by 29 drownings 28 accident shootings, 26 machinery accidents, 22 tractor accidents, 22 falls, and 17 accidents involving animals.

Concerning the ages of the persons who are being killed in accidents on Texas farms and ranches, figures reveal that four age groups have the highest number of accidental deaths. The largest number, occurred to persons between 10 to 19 years of age, as 34 in this group were killed. Another high risk age group are those 60 to 69, as 30 persons in this group were killed. Twenty-eight persons between 50 and 59 years of age and 25 persons between 60 and 70 years of age lost their lives in accidents in 1971, according to records of the Texas Safety Association.

A T.S.A. spokesman stated the tragedy of these 203 persons who died accidentally on Texas farms and ranches last year is that they could have been alive today had they taken proper precautions, used personal protective equipment or been prepared for emergencies. Even 22 deaths of persons on tractors could have been prevented. Most of these died when tractors overturned, and in which neither roll-over protection devices nor seat belts were in use.

When a person operates a piece of machinery and is not familiar with the equipment's dangers, or is one who has operated the equipment so long he becomes careless, he falls into the category of becoming a victim of an accident.

It has long been noted that no one can prevent an accident from occurring except the accident victim himself. No one knows in a day-in day-out operation how many accidents are avoided by proper, safe methods of operation.

Occasionally, freakish accidents occur, but for the most part, many of the accidents could have been easily avoided. Whether or not these accidents ever occur lies with those engaged in farming and ranching operations.

This newspaper has written farm safety editorials, year in and year out. Editors and editorials do not prevent one accident. What prevents accidents is a safety consciousness, a desire on the part of those potential accident victims to not be an accident victim. We have been on the scene of tragic accidents so many times we dread the thought of another one. Don't you?

'Best Advertisement'

THE HATE-American fashion seems to be on the wane among our allies abroad, even if it is waxing fat among our elitists here at home.

For instance, the other day the London Sunday Express denounced Miss Jane Fonda for going to Hanoi to broadcast appeals to American airmen not to bomb the North.

"Plainly," opined the Express, "her action is treason. Of course, Miss Fonda will go unpunished. This is only partly because she is totally unimportant. She comes from a land of tolerance and freedom."

As the London Newspaper sees it, "Ironically, she has made herself the best advertisement for a system which she affects to despise."

If so, it must have been completely unintentional on her part.

What Other Editors Say

Origin Of Earth

Scientists agree that the earth is at least 4.5 billion years old. However, there are varying theories as to its origin. Some have suggested that it was created from a great cloud of dust. Others would have you believe that it was created from a piece of the sun. Frankly speaking, we still prefer the one that begins... "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

Pears And Pledges

Our pear tree is overloaded with pears. Viola thinks we should knock or pull a bunch of them off. I don't know, I sort of lean toward leaving them on.

Getting back to politics. The Democrats had a rather harmonious state convention at Ole San Antonio. I was there and as far as I could tell all the different types of Texans were pretty well represented. Many of the Democratic nominees to state office made speeches. Not having anything else to do I listened and received some enlightenment. I remember well how they all said they were good democrats and that they would support and work for the ticket from the courthouse to the presidency. Delegates to the state convention agreed to support the ticket, according to a pledge that was required of all delegates.

I think I will just pull off the pears that appear to be a haven for a worm.

Rural Legislators

Having just read a comprehensive report from State Rep. Renal B. Rosson of Snyder on the third special session of the 62nd Legislature, which ended July 7, following three weeks of intensive work on budget matters, we are impressed by two things: (1) Budget matters were the only legislation considered during the session, with the exception of a few resolutions, and (2) in debate involving the urban versus rural point of view, the rural representation gave a good account of itself.

Point No. 2 seems especially important to us because, although the urban-rural line has been finely balanced in the House of Representatives, that balance is already swinging toward the urban areas, with a much stronger swing of weight to the larger cities due in the next session as a result of redistricting.

According to Rep. Rosson's report, a typical example of the rural-city conflict came late one night when debate was being heard on the appropriations for the Texas A&M University extension service programs and a member proposed an amendment to take one-half of the funds from the predator animal control funds and transfer it to the rodent control funds in which cities are the primary beneficiary.

Mr. Rosson says the Appropriations chairman was about to accept the amendment on voice vote, not knowing the full extent of the rural areas' predator problem, when the (Rosson) along with the representative from Fort Stockton and other rural legislators rose to oppose any move to divert predator funds.

"We had so little time," Rosson continued, "that our effort fell short by four votes; however, after the situation had been explained to members of the conference committee, we were able to get the funds restored to the predator control program."

"The urban people," Rosson added, "were also able to secure some additional funds for fighting rats."
What it all amounted to, of course, was a battle over funds for the control of coyotes and other predators in the rural areas and for the control of rats in the urban areas. Much to the credit of the legislators from the rural areas, it can be said that they did not lose the fight.

Farm Accident Death Rate In Texas Still Climbing For 1971

AUSTIN—Fires, drownings and machinery and tractor accidents continue to be the major sources of accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches, according to the Texas Safety Association.

Joe L. Smetana, vice president for Farm and Ranch Activities for the statewide safety group, discussing Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, said this week that accidental deaths took the lives of 203 persons in 1971 in rural areas of the state.

"One of the most surprising factors in last year's accidental deaths is the large number of persons who were killed by fires, explosions and burns," he said.

The TSA vice president stated that 35 deaths were recorded which were a result of fires, explosions or burns. The safety group spokesman said the figures point up the need for farm and ranch families to provide adequate protection against the dangers of fire.

Other leading causes of accidental death last year on Texas farms and ranches included 29 drownings, 28 accidental shootings, 26 machinery accidents, 22 tractor accidents, 22 falls, and 17 accidents involving animals.

"These figures on accidental deaths in rural areas of the state during 1971 show a continuing upward trend of deaths in nearly every category," said Smetana.

The safety spokesman also said that four age groups have the highest number of accidental deaths. The largest number of accidental deaths occurred to persons between 10 and 19 years of age. Thirty-four persons were killed last year in that age group.

"Another of the apparent high-risk groups are persons between the ages of 60 and 69. Thirty persons in this age group lost their lives in farm and ranch accidents last year," said Smetana.

Twenty-eight persons between 50 and 59 years of age and 25 persons between 70 and 79 years of age lost their lives in accidents in 1971.

"The great tragedy of all these deaths is that none of them have to occur," he said. "Every single one of the 203 persons who died accidentally last year could have been alive today if they had taken proper precautions, used personal protective equipment or been prepared for emergencies."

Twenty-two persons were killed in accidents involving tractors. Most of these accidents were incidents in which the tractor overturned and in which neither roll-over protection devices nor seat belts were in use. The use of these items could have prevented most, if not all, of these deaths, according to Smetana.

Twenty-six persons lost their lives in accidents involving machinery. These too are classed as needless lost lives. In most cases the individual violated some basic safety rule regarding the machine and its operation. Persons responsible for the operation of farm machinery need to make sure that they are familiar with all the details of safe operation. Those who have employees on the farm who run machinery should insure that every person who operates the machine knows its dangers and how to operate it safely, Smetana said.

"Perhaps the greatest of the tragedies are the drownings. Every farmer and rancher in this state should consider it a solemn duty to teach every member of his family how to swim as a first precaution against such an accident. In addition, flotation devices and other life saving equipment should be kept near stock ponds, creeks, swimming holes and other places of water recreation on the farm or ranch. Dangerous water areas should be declared out of bounds and should be fenced off for adequate protection," said the TSA spokesman.

Smetana also had the following suggestions for safer farm and ranch operations.

Safety Precautions

- * Keep all guards and shields in place when operating machinery or power tools of any kind.
- * Equip your tractor with a protective frame or crush resistant cab.
- * Always fasten safety belts when driving or riding. Insist that others do the same.

- * Be prepared for emergencies such as fire, flood, blizzard, windstorm, sudden illness and injury.
- * Install fire extinguishers in buildings, on motor vehicles, tractors, and self-propelled equipment.

- * Applying pesticides and other agricultural chemicals, wear protective clothing, chemical respirators, and gloves.
- * Keep pesticides in a suitable storage area, inaccessible to small children and animals.
- * Protect small children and all others by covering tank openings, and fencing dangerous areas such as manure lagoons and farm ponds.

- * Check electrical wiring, use proper size fuses.
- * Wear safety shoes, especially for repair and construction jobs, machinery operations and materials handling.

- * Protect your eyes with glasses or goggles with safety lenses.
- * Protect your head with an industrial type "hard" hat or "bump" cap.
- * Spare your hands on rough jobs with heavy-duty gloves. Wear rubber gloves when handling chemicals, petroleum products and solvents. Use good hand lotions to prevent chapping.

Memphis All-Stars Win 8 to 6 Over Carson Co.

The Memphis Little League All-Stars team put eight big runs on the scoreboard Thursday night and held off a last inning move by Carson County All-Stars to win the area play-offs 8 to 6 before a packed crowd at the Memphis Little League ballpark.

The game was highlighted by two home runs in the top of the 4th inning for Memphis, which put the local team ahead to stay.

The local team had used three pitchers against Childress Tuesday night in the extra inning clash to reach the finals. All were concerned about the depth of the Memphis pitching talents, should left hander Rickey Guy run into difficulty and have to leave the mound. None of the three pitchers used Tuesday could pitch again Thursday.

H. W. Spears Enjoy New Mex. Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Spear of Lakeview and their daughter, Mrs. Muriel Ridgon of Amarillo, spent last week in New Mexico.

They visited with Bro. and Mrs. C. A. Butler in Las Vegas. Bro. Butler was pastor of Lakeview Baptist Church in 1969.

Also, they went to Glorieta Baptist Encampment one day which was a part of "Music Week". Mrs. Spear stated that it was a beautiful place with flower gardens and waterfalls and so cool a wrap was needed.

Upon leaving for home, they went to Santa Rosa and then to Tucumcari to visit with Mrs. Rigdon's sister-in-law. Tucumcari received five inches of rain while they were there. Returning, they stopped in Vega to see Jack Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Koeninger who used to live in Lakeview.

"But of all the nice places we went, it was good to get home", Mrs. Spear said.

The game opened and this concern was brought quickly to the front as Guy gave up four hits and three runs in the first inning. Brian Thompson got a one base hit; was scored by Nathan Weiberg's two base hit, and Weiberg scored when Randy Nutall got a hit, a single bagger, and then another one a base hit scored Nutall.

Memphis got a score in the first inning also, as Toby Gibson got on base on a walk, and managed to get in home. Memphis narrowed the gap in the third inning as Randy Shahan got a base hit, and managed to get across home plate, by tagging up and coming home on a deep fly ball.

But it was the fourth inning when Memphis batters came to life. Joe Foster was put on base by four balls; then, Kenny Martin got a base hit. Randy Shahan was hit on the ankle by a pitch and the base was loaded.

Mark Guffey came to the plate with bases loaded. Mark had not been hitting well in the play-offs, after a successful season at the plate.

A wild pitch scored Foster from third, leaving two men on base. Guffey found a pitch to his liking and rapped the ball over the field fence for a home run. But Memphis wasn't through scoring in that inning. The second batter up after Guffey was Rodney Hall, who lashed an inside pitch over the fence in deep left field for the second home run of the inning. The score was 7 to 3.

Pitcher Rickey Guy, after a shakey first inning, came on to pitch a fine defensive game through the second, third, fourth, and fifth innings of play. He gave up only 4 more hits while he was on the mound and is the game's winning pitcher.

son got a three base hit off Guy and managed to score before the inning was over, making the score 7 to 4.

Memphis came back in the top of the sixth inning, and managed to score Toby Gibson, and went into the bottom of the sixth inning with an 8 to 4 lead.

The last inning started with Guy on the mound for Memphis but he was replaced early in the inning by Mark Guffey.

Carson County opened the inning on an aggressive note as Wynn Wright got a walk and Bob Ensor rapped out a double. Both these lads managed to get home to make the score 8 to 7.

With Mark Guffey on the mound for Memphis, Guffey managed to strike out one batter, after being behind three balls and no strikes, the second batter grounded out and the last batter was called out on strikes to end the game.

The Memphis All Stars, winning the area tournament here, qualified for the District tournament at Dimmitt on Monday.

Mrs. H. B. Gilmore and Mr. Jerry Gilmore and children of Dallas came Monday for a visit here with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Gene Lindsey, and family. Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore and children were en route to Glorieta, N. M., and Mrs. H. B. Gilmore will visit here with the Lindsey.

Miller-Helm Nuptials Read In Pretty Church Ceremony Sat.

MRS. JAMES MICHAEL HELM

Jackie Swindell of Pampa, cousin of the groom, and Steve Par-due of Estelline.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over bridal taf-feta designed with a fitted em-pire bodice and Victorian neck-line designed with a lace overlay. Her long, sheer sleeves were caught at the wrists by deep lace cuffs and the full skirt swept in-to a chapel train. The entire hem-line of the gown was floured and enhanced by Venice lace en-twined in pink ribbon which also accented the bodice.

Her chapel length veil was held by a Juliet Coif of Venice lace entwined with pink ribbons. Streamers fell from each side bow and cascaded to the shoul-ders. She carried a triangular cascade of Sweetheart roses with a white Cattleya orchid.

She carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "some-thing old, something new, something borrowed and something blue with a sixpence in her shoe."

Mrs. Miller chose for her daughter's wedding an aqua pleated chiffon dress trimmed in matching lace and accented with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Helm, wore a pink silk shantung dress with pink and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white cymbidium or-chids. Grandmothers wore cor-sages of white feathered carna-tions.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall.

The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth over an under-skirt of white taffeta and centered with a memory candle con-taining the engraved wedding in- vitation flanked by the brides-maid's bouquets.

Mrs. Steve Miller of Port Ar-thur, sister-in-law of the bride, served the tiered wedding cake while Miss Cindy Phillips served punch.

At the groom's table, which was laid with a tan linen cloth trim-med in lace, Miss Marsha Helm, cousin of the groom, served chocolate cake while Miss Debra Combs of Carbondale, Ill., poured coffee from the silver service.

For a wedding trip to Galves-ton, the bride chose for travel a white knit dress with navy coat complimented with white acces-sories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm will be at home at Odum Apartments in Memphis.

Mrs. Helm is a 1972 graduate of Memphis High School and will attend Clarendon College in the fall. The bridegroom is a gradu-ate of Estelline High School and a student at Clarendon College. He is employed here with the First National Bank.

SCS Technician Advises Early Terrace Planning

"It is not too early to make plans to do terrace work this fall and winter," Royce Frisbie of the Soil Conservation Service said.

"Recent rains have caused some damage to cropland in the Hall-Childress Soil and Water Conservation District," Frisbie said.

"Now would be a good time to start planning to replace old standard terraces with parallel terraces," he indicated.

Cost-share assistance on building new parallel terraces can be obtained through the Great Plains Conservation Program, and the REAP Program. A special REAP project has been approved for portions of the Lakeview Watershed immediately above flood water retarding structures. Cost-sharing up to 80 per cent is available for conservation measures in the special project area.

Persons interested in doing parallel terraces should contact the Soil Conservation Service so that plans can be developed in time to get the work done this fall and winter.

Frisbie stated that a great deal of engineering survey work has to be done and the system designed before construction work can begin, therefore, he urges farmers to start making plans now for work to be done this fall and winter.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This week I have been reading some material that shows why the famine that is predicted in the Holy Bible is going to happen. This material comes from Ambassador College who have an agricultural experiment station of their own and they also stay in touch with other experiment stations throughout the world and in this booklet they give reference to them. The booklet is "World Crisis in Agriculture." It is free of charge to anyone who wants it, the address is Ambassador College, P. O. Box 111, Pasadena, Calif. 91109. In case anyone wonders about the religious aspects of this college it is non-denominational and is the college of the Worldwide Church of God. This college and all that it does is entirely supported by tithes by people who study their material and prove it themselves or a good part of it by going into history and appreciate what they are doing. It is the proven truth they dispense, none other.

They say that insects have been proven as not harmful, that they actually eat the poorly nourished plants. This was proven in their experiment stations and in one operated by the British in India. Here they had used commercial chemical fertilizers exclusively in one spot and right beside it they had used bulk compost fertilizers from natural sources of all kinds and a little commercial fertilizer as an aid to quicker decomposition into plant food. Where the bulk compost fertilizer was used there were earthworms, which are vital to plant life, and where the commercial fertilizer alone was used there were no earthworms. They planted the same crops on both plots and the insects devoured that where only commercial fertilizers had been used. They checked the reason why. The commercially fertilized plants were not properly nourished. Also the weeds grew in abundance in the commercially fertilized ground but not the properly fertilized ground. The weeds, they have proven themselves allies, not enemies. They are part of God's building up and holding up their tap roots break trace minerals from the top soil. These minerals are also necessary for healthy life. They seen that what kind of alfalfa, pretty well adjust themselves to what the land needs and the quality of the top soil. The insect is vital in process.

I would recommend farmers should get and information.

Sincerely,
Billie W. Fox

Spry had as his guest in Johnson of Estelline. Mrs. George Payne has as her guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week, Mrs. Hall Nelson of Waka and the granddaughter, Melyndia Payne of Alamogordo, N. M. Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Nelson claimed joint ownership of this granddaughter. Her mother is Roberta (Nelson) Payne who graduated from MHS in 1953. Her father was Donald Payne who passed away in 1967. He was a graduate of MHS in 1951. Mr. and Mrs. Hall Nelson were residents of Memphis for 10 years. Mr. Nelson worked for one of the local lumber yards with E. E. Roberts.

Johnson of Estelline.

I did find out from Mrs. Payne that in 1922, she was Miss Valmon Moore from Tupelo, Miss., and arrived in Hall County to take her school teaching job at Lesley. She taught school in Hall County for 24 years. She did comment on June 3 that I mentioned some time ago as having so many happenings. She gave me a few more things that occurred on this date and that was the birth of her great-granddaughter in Japan and the date that she and George married. The trustees in the early days were strict on the discipline of the teachers as they could only have a date on weekends. After their courtship, she and George decided to get married and not let the trustees know about it, so George came by the school to get her dressed in his overalls. They took off with Martha Temple as their attendant and drove to the top of the Cap Rock where George got his blue serge suit in a box, stepped off in the canyon and re-dressed, going on to Silverton to be married. The trustees soon found out about their wedding anyway.

I did see Roy Gresham with a worried look on his face a few days ago and after checking up on him, I found out that he is president of the Hall County Picnic that is slated for the third Sunday in September. Roy should not have too much worry on this line as the president always has a good group to help him bear the burden with the cooperative spirit we have in Hall County.

Mrs. Vince Reynolds has as her guests in Heritage Hall her twin daughters, Doris and Dorothy. Doris is now Mrs. Tom Mahon of Marshalltown, Iowa, and Dorothy is Mrs. Clyde Grayson of Grinnell, Iowa. They have supplied Vic and Ruby with six grandchildren. These two families formerly lived in Dodge City, Kans., in the same town with Wyatt Earp. I did not ask them if Wyatt was after them when they moved to Iowa two years ago. Doris did report on making the trip to Expo '72 in Dallas with a group from her church in Marshalltown, which she enjoyed very much. They also gave a report of making a mission trip to Old Mexico three years ago.

Mrs. Jack Ward with her children, Thad and Stacy, of Pampa were visitors in Heritage Hall the past week. Mrs. Ward was very complimentary of the set-up we had and was surprised that we had so many artifacts on display after having seen so many other museums.

The Dennis family had their family reunion the past Saturday. The first one of the family in to visit Heritage Hall was Estelle Dennis Guthrie of Lubbock last Friday afternoon. The next members of the family were Jess of Lewisville and his son, O. L., of Denton. Jess is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dennis. This family moved to Hall County in 1906. Jess farmed in Hall County for over 50 years. He left here in 1969, moving to Graham, Stamford and on to Lewisville. He has two sons, Bill of Stamford, who attended school at Carey, and O. L. of Denton, who graduated from Quail High School. Jess could remember when his dad let him drive the freight wagon from Lodge to Memphis. They lived in the Lodge Community for a number of years where Jess attended school. All of the Tom Dennis children are now living—Ollie Knox of Hereford, Margaret Wilkes of Floyd, Bessie Mae Peterson of Devine, Dutch Davis of Amarillo, Ara Faye Burnett of Carlsbad, N. M., and Jess. With that many sisters, he should have kept out of the dish washing and cooking chores!

Jim West of Andrews was visiting in Heritage Hall a few days ago. He will be remembered as the son of Howard and Willie Bell who operated a cafe here several years. They moved to Dimmitt about 10 years ago where Howard is still living. Jim graduated in the class of 1954 from MHS and then was a graduate of West Texas State. He is now teaching in high school at Andrews. His brother, Billy, is now teaching in Conroe and his older brother, Bobby, is living in Dimmitt.

Another school teacher visiting in Heritage Hall was Barbara Waybourn of Childress. She was a graduate of Matador High School in 1957, taught school at Dickens and has been teaching in the Childress schools for the past five years. I did find out that she was an old schoolmate of C. H. and Nita Murphy at Matador and was maid of honor at their wedding. They must have been real good friends as I could not get her to tell anything out of school.

Mrs. Lee Thornton had as her guests in Heritage Hall, Mrs. Chas. A. Pannell of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. W. W. Fincher of Chatsworth, Ga. They are daughters of the late James P. Laughridge who was the twin brother of Mrs. Thornton. I did not get much comment on politics from these people as one of their husbands is a state senator and the other a judge on the Court of Appeals. They did report that Georgia had gone all out on industry, especially in the field of rugs, bedspreads, bath mats and carpets. They make their yarn for the carpets; and Dalton, Ga., is now known as the carpet capital of the world. Mrs. Fincher did tell me what a fast age we were living in as it took almost as much time to drive of Atlanta, 90 miles from home, as it did for them to fly from Atlanta to Fort Worth.

We have been missing Mrs. O. M. Gunstream for several weeks and have just been reminded that she is in a convalescent home at Hollis, Okla. Some new citizens I met a few days ago are John and Barbara Wallace who are now operating the Western Motel. They moved here from St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Clyde (Janet) McMurray had as her guest in Heritage Hall, her mother, Mrs. M. E. Gough of Hyattsville, Md. Mrs. Gough has been working in the U. S. Treasury Dept. for the past 10 years in Washington, D. C. I did ask Mrs. Gough if she could have the treasurer make a little more money for Hall County, but she said that was not in her department. In conversation with Janet telling me of their vacation trip to so many places, I asked her to give a write-up just like she told me it was very interesting and informative as follows:

Janet, Glyde, Susan and Tom McMurray with Mrs. Tom McMurray of Decatur and Mrs. M. E. Gough of Hyattsville, Md., (Clyde and Janet's mothers) have just returned from a two-week camping trip touring Missouri, including Branson, Lake of the Ozarks, St. Louis, Hannibal, Jefferson City and Kansas City. A highlight in their trip was a visit to the Daniel Boone home at Defiance, Mo. At the age of 65, Daniel and his youngest son, Nathan, built a four-story Georgian-style. The home was begun in 1803 and completed in 1810. Daniel supervised construction of the house and hand-crafted many parts of the structure himself. The blue limestone of the 2½-foot thick walls was quarried in the area and brought to the site of the house by oxen where Daniel directed the laying of the walls. The walls were built that thick with gun ports because of danger of Indian attack. All beams and other woodwork in the house are of black walnut from the adjacent woods and were hewn and finished by hand. Five walnut fireplaces in the house were carved by Daniel himself. The only nails in the house are in the walnut floors and were hand made.

The house rests in beautiful Femme Osage Valley near Defiance, not too far from St. Louis. This is the land Daniel came to in 1799 before the Louisiana Purchase as "syndic" of Spanish ruled Missouri territory. With 550 other families from Kentucky, he and his wife, Rebecca, came to settle the peaceful valley & made it flourish. They left Kentucky in a rage, because Daniel felt the state had "cheated" him and his friends out of their land there. Daniel vowed he would never return to Kentucky and did only once to bring back some furniture he had left behind.

The valley and its stream received their names from Daniel. As legend has it, when he arrived, he was greeted by a small band of Osage Indians, at that time, the only inhabitants of the region. Daniel and Rebecca lived in this house with Nathan, his wife, and their 11 children until they died. Daniel died in his bed after a short illness, when he was 86 years of age on Sept. 26, 1820.
