Rotary District Gov. Visits Here Tuesday

Ferris Oden, Rotary District Governor of 578, paid his 21st visit to a club in this district Tuesday with the Memphis Rotary Club. He took over the duties of his office July 1.

Governor Oden, chairman of the Board of Western National Insurance Co., a part of Southern Investment Corp., has been a Rotarian in his district since 1932.

Oden is past president of the Memphis Rotary Club and also served as the mayor of the City of Memphis. Governor Oden has been in Amarillo civic affairs, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, past chairman of the United Way, and past president of the Llanito Estacado Council of Scouts of America.

Governor Oden spoke to the club members and their wives at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting. Prior to the luncheon, Bill Wood was inducted as a new member of the club.

The district governor spoke on the four avenues of service—club, community, and international—and encouraged the members to do more in all four avenues of service.

Oden brought the club up to date on recently established international service projects, under the World Community Service Committee. Rotary Club in the more prosperous countries are selecting projects to accomplish from Rotary Clubs in lesser developed countries, he said.

Rotary International has clubs throughout the free world.

The district governor also pointed out that participation in Rotary develops leadership, characteristics, within club activities.

Lakeview To Enroll Students On Friday

Students of Lakeview Schools will be enrolling from 9 to 11 a. m. Friday, Aug. 25, 1972, according to Supt. J. H. Jackson, at the first day of school Monday, Aug. 28.

Students in grades 7 through 12 will enroll in the High School Building, and students in grades through six will register in the Elementary Building.

Students will not run on the day of registration, Supt. Jackson said.

Health certificates are required for first graders only, while all other students must have their health records.

Monday, Aug. 28, buses will pick up students and a full school year will begin with the first bell at 8:25 a. m. School is dismissed at 3:36.

The school cafeteria will be open and students are urged to purchase monthly meal tickets (40 cents per day). It is certainly better when students purchase tickets in advance, the superintendent said.

Lunch Policy
 Lakeview I.S.D. announces reduced price lunch policy for school children of the district unable to pay the full price.

Lakeview school officials have adopted a policy to assist them in determining eligibility based on family size and income scale.

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced lunches for their children.

Under the provisions of the policy, Supt. Jackson will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official, he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision to School Board President B. H. Barbee.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification of or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch.

The complete copy of the policy is on file with the Lakeview superintendent where it may be reviewed by any interested patron.

Services To Be Held Saturday For Mrs. Coy Dunbar

Funeral services for Mrs. Coy Dunbar, pioneer Memphis resident, will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday from the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Tommy Nelson, pastor, officiating.

Whether or not the improvements in the physical facilities had anything to do with it, the Estelline School's enrollment is up 20 per cent this year than it was at the start of the 1971-72 school year.

Supt. Chester Cunningham announced the total enrollment figures as 135, early this week, and indicated that it might reach the 145 mark very soon. "We often have a few students who enroll late each year," he said.

Arriving Tuesday in preparation for installation as soon as possible were air conditioning units to cool all the school rooms. This is a major project being sponsored by the Estelline P-TA.

Mrs. Irma Lee Pepper is the president of the P-TA, with Mrs. Linda Davidson as finance chairman and Mrs. Doris Eddins as treasurer. These women have provided the leadership in the project to provide air conditioning for the school rooms.

The Estelline School Board and volunteers provided the equipment, manpower and supplies necessary to plant grass over much of the school grounds. Also, the F. F. A. chapter and Advisor Tom Seay conducted experiments in flower raising which adds to Cyclone-Rattlers To Meet In Scrimmage Here Fri.

The 1972 edition of the Memphis Cyclone football team will take to the field Friday afternoon at 6 p. m. against the Stinnett Rattlers in the first of two pre-season scrimmage sessions planned for the local team. The scrimmage will be in Cyclone Stadium.

The Cyclone will be opening the scrimmage with all members physically ready, Coach Clyde McMurray said in announcing that the team does not have any injuries at this point.

But the scrimmage session with Stinnett is the first time this season the Cyclone will face a full scale scrimmage, as the team has not yet undergone an intra-squad scrimmage. Actually, last Friday was the first day teams could work out in pads.

Coach McMurray, in explaining the workout sessions, said that the coaches have been scheduling the use of the training devices and blocking dummies to develop proper techniques.

Considering the few short days of workouts before the Stinnett scrimmage, the local team has been working hard preparing for their first, full-scale test.

Coach McMurray and the other coaches agree that the local team has displayed a good attitude, with a lot of enthusiasm about the upcoming scrimmage.

"I feel we are all looking forward to the scrimmage Friday evening," the coach said.

Stinnett has dropped from Class AA ranks to Class A this year, and the team has been selected in pre-season polls to win District 1-A. Sports writers have selected the Rattlers to win the Class A state championship.

Since the Cyclone is a pre-season pick to win the District 2-A crown, and the sportswriters predicted a victory for Stinnett in a bi-district clash between the two teams, the scrimmage Friday has a lot resting on the outcome.

Scrimmages, however, are designed to give the teams work in areas the coaches feel need beefing up. Also, players are often shuffled around to give additional pre-season experience.

A scrimmage between teams is usually the first time the squads get to put it all together, offense and defense, so often teams appear ragged in spots.

Fans, however, can get a good idea of season prospects by attending scrimmage sessions and a large crowd is expected to be on hand at 6 p. m. Friday.

Next weekend the Cyclone will scrimmage the Quannah Indians.

The Memphis team will open the 1972 season against White Deer at White Deer, Friday night, Sept. 8. Memphis faces a testing non-conference schedule this season.

A petition signed by residents in the northwestern portion of Hall County and presented to the County School Board, requesting that several sections of land be detached from the Lakeview Independent School District so that this land could be annexed by the Clarendon Independent School District, is being forwarded to Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, for his approval or disapproval.

Dr. Edgar, in conversation with County Superintendent Tops Gilreath Wednesday, said that regulations require a ruling from himself that any annexation or detachment does not violate contents outlined in the Modified Court Order Civil Action, 5281, U. S. District Court, Tyler Division.

Dr. Edgar explained that before a county board can rule on an annexation and detachment petition, approval must be received from Texas Education Agency and that he must be notified 15 days before such rulings can be made.

The Hall County School Board received the petition Monday, tabled action upon the petition, and set a re-hearing date for this morning (Thursday).

The meeting this morning was held in the County Courtroom to accommodate those present for the hearing upon the petition.

Those present were informed that the petition requesting the annexation and detachment would be forwarded to Dr. Edgar, along with other documents, including reasons why the request is being made.

The petition was filed following the denial of 21 transfer requests from the Lakeview Independent School District to the Clarendon Independent School District by Dr. Edgar. Dr. Edgar said the transfers, which have been authorized in past years, were in violation of recent federal court guidelines.

Dr. Edgar said T. E. A. has received the following court directive: "Defendants (Texas Education Agency) shall not permit, make arrangements for or give support of any kind to student transfers, between school districts, when the cumulative effect in either the sending or receiving school or school districts will be to reduce or impede desegregation, or to reinforce, renew or encourage the continuation of acts and practices resulting in discriminatory treatment of students on the grounds of race, color or national origin."

In the meeting this morning, Lakeview School Superintendent J. H. Jackson, Jr., addressed the County School Board and asked that the petition on annexation and detachment be denied. Also, petitions containing 296 signatures from residents all over Hall County requesting that a status quo be maintained were also presented.

Supt. Jackson was the spokesman for the Lakeview School District.

As the matter now stands, Dr. Edgar will either rule for or against the petition requesting the annexation and detachment. Until this ruling is received, no further action can be made by the County School Board or the district involved.

Supt. Cunningham also reports that $1137.00 in new library books have been added to the library.

"We have also purchased a new school bus, added a new engine to one bus and had another completely overhauled," he said.

Also the district has purchased new basketball uniforms for both high school and junior high girls and boys teams.

New classes added to the curriculum include: chemistry, home and family living, and girls' vocational agriculture.

Supt. Cunningham added that the Estelline District has been able to make these improvements as a community joint effort and without having to raise taxes. The enrollment increase was accredited to new families in the district and the increase in first grade students and senior students.

Life In Rural America!

Life in rural America may prove to be more appealing now than in past decades and factors may be at work which will make this idea known throughout this nation. Life in our country is always changing, evolving into different patterns.

But those of us most familiar with life in rural America must recognize that life today is different than it was in the 1950's or even the 1960's. Yes, we are all living in a much more modern environment than at anytime in our history.

Even life patterns are being changed, day by day, week by week. Our citizens, as a whole, know more about state and national, and international events than ever before. Many factors are responsible for these changes.

Why is life more appealing in rural America today than in past years? For one thing, a family doesn't have to go without modern conveniences today by living in small towns or even rural areas. Public utility services are generally available, which also include T. V. signals, etc. Home washers, dryers, air conditioners, and even dish washers are common household items in the majority of homes.

Whether or not it is an election year fantasy, or a fact which has been saved to promise rural America a brighter future, news releases coming from Washington, D. C., from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, are now indicating for the first time in two decades, that the rural migration to metropolitan areas is over, and that rural America can expect to see an ever increasing population in future years.

USDA says that its surveys show that more jobs will open up in rural areas, more new homes will be built in rural areas, more government money will be spent in rural areas, than has been done since the Korean War.

Congress has acted upon a Rural Development Conference report which passed the House by a 339-36 vote. The Secretary of Agriculture is given overall coordinating authority in the Executive Branch for rural development programs. He is authorized to set goals concerning employment, income, population, housing, and quality of community services and facilities in rural areas. A new Assistant Secretary for Rural Development will be appointed.

Possibly the major factor which is bringing about national interest in rural America, is the decay of this nation's major cities. The Queen of the United States, New York, is no longer thought of as the Queen City; she just doesn't resemble a queen today. No other city in this nation can claim the title either, for that matter. No one saves their pennies any more to visit New York.

Where in rural America will new growth begin? Basically, it will be where opportunities are available, where the citizens already there are ready to provide opportunities. It has already begun in some areas.

Agriculture will still remain the foundation for rural America, regardless of what changes come about. In the next few years, it is probable that major changes in agriculture will take place in this area.

One thing is certain, whatever does come, will be different. Gone are the Saturday night shopping crowds to never return. But on the other hand, the way of life in a small town is pretty much the same. The faces of the school children are different, but the school bell means the same to them as it did to their mothers and dads, or grandmothers and granddads. People still care for and about one another during sickness and bereavements.

Some things never change in rural communities. Whenever the time comes that a good rain in August is not appreciated, then maybe the time has come for it to be even too modern for us. We hope not.

Don't Shoot Doves On Telephone Lines

General Telephone Company is reminding hunters with the dove season beginning Saturday, Sept. 1, not to shoot doves on telephone lines or poles. The warning and reasons given are timely and should be considered by every hunter.

A shot may disrupt telephone service and endanger many people who depend on their telephones during an emergency. Damaged communication lines often do more than disrupt weekend plans, it was pointed out. In some instances, a heart attack victim could lose his or her life. From the broader standpoint the lines may be carrying emergency messages which guide planes, serve radar tracking stations, or connect several missile sites.

Just remember: each minute a telephone is out of order the safety of many people may be threatened, which is reason enough not to shoot birds on telephone lines or poles.

All hunters are urged to maintain and exercise caution.

What Other Editors Say

This Hair Thing!

It is amazing to me how pre-occupied the country has become with hair.

I was down at Olton Saturday night attending the wedding of a son of some close friends. Usually the people at Olton think seriously about the price of cotton, getting bees to spread pollen among the cucumbers, the latest figures on the underground water table and sometimes about the grain sorghum crop.

Not Saturday night.

Folks I ran into were worried sick about hair.

Males in the wedding all had long hair and the older, balding folks shook their sometimes onion-like heads in disapproval.

It's not anything new.

I remember back in Hall County in 1928 hair was discussed in reverse. Girls who bobbed their hair and wore knee length dresses were known as flappers.

The Holy Writ was quoted frequently on the subject and one leading car manufacturer was so chagrined at what was happening to American women that he offered new cars to women with natural hair a certain length.

There were even some Jezebels who painted their lips and I remember one charming girl who came to our cotton field to work 12 hours a day dressed in men's trousers.

Her reputation was considered that of a woman of the street and there was some talk among the women folks about asking her to leave. My dad being the boss and more interested in getting the cotton crop out than in styles of the day wouldn't hear to it so she kept her job.

I was a little shaver then and don't even remember her name but I've wondered whatever happened to her. She may even be somewhere today measuring the length of her grandson's hair to make sure they are respectable.

Shirt Pocket

You've heard the expression, "As handy as a pocket on a shirt," but have you ever given any thought to what could be as unhandy as a shirt with no pockets?

My wife bought me one of those pocketless shirts the other day, but neither of us knew it didn't have a pocket until I put it on and started looking for a pocket in which to put my pen, pencil, cigars, matches, etc.

I know, of course, that golf shirts and other types of shirts, including those form-fitting knit ones, do not have pockets, but this shirt my wife bought me is one of those run-of-the-mill kind that is supposed to have a pocket.

After I had fussed and fumed awhile about the shirt not having a pocket, my wife told me to pull it off and she would take it back. I thought it over for a minute or two, though, and told her, no, that on second thought I would keep it. I happened to think that it would be the first time I ever wore a shirt that something did not fall out of the pocket when I leaned over.

Shriver Is Good Choice

The Democrats made a good choice when they selected Sargent Shriver as the running mate of George McGovern in the coming presidential election. Shriver has personal and political charm. He is an effective and forceful speaker and he comes on strong on TV and in personal appearances.

This is the first time he has ever sought an elective office; but that does not mean that he is new to politics. He is a seasoned campaigner and a sagacious politician in helping others secure a public office and, fundamentally, that is what he will be doing this fall—helping George McGovern. To say his selection was a good choice is not exactly correct—it was the best possible choice.

Absentmindedness

The incident has happened at intervals when men reach a certain degree of absentmindedness and are given to the habit of tucking a napkin into their belts at the table. To wear one through a crowded lobby and perhaps to the street, produces a degree of embarrassment that is uncomfortable.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER 6 ON THE BALLOT (SJR 7)

General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 1-b. (a) Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes.

"(b) From and after January 1, 1973, the governing body of any county, city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the State may exempt by its own action not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older from all ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. As an alternative, upon receipt of a petition signed by twenty percent (20%) of the voters who voted in the last preceding election held by the political subdivision, the governing body of the subdivision shall call an election to determine by majority vote whether an amount not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) as provided in the petition, of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or over shall be exempt from ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. Where any ad valorem tax has theretofore been pledged for the payment of any debt, the taxing officers of the political subdivision shall have authority to continue to levy and collect the tax against the homestead property at the same rate as the tax so pledged until the debt is discharged, if the cessation of the levy would impair the obligation of the contract by which the debt was created."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment providing that the various political subdivisions of the State may exempt not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the value of residence homesteads of all persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older from ad valorem taxes under certain conditions."

SPORTS CORNER

By BILL COMBS
Sporting seasons come and they go in never ending cycles it seems, and we have now arrived on the threshold of the gridiron season.

But before the summer sports are forgotten altogether, I need to wrap up a few items which have been of interest. Several Memphis and area golfers participated in the Clarendon partnership tournament last weekend, and for two the entire affair was most rewarding. Alan McNally and Doug Fowler were partners and competed in the first flight. Both did well in the final round, shooting a low-ball score of 62 for a finish of 13 under par 129, the second best score in the tournament. Naturally Alan and Doug won the first flight, and would have placed second in the championship flight if they had been so bracketed.

Then, Danny Scarbrough and Gayle Monzingo played as partners and were in the championship flight. They finished with rounds of 70-70 for 140, two under. Danny reports both he and Gayle were playing well individually, but as a team they kept birdieing the same holes and bogieing the same holes.

An interesting comparison is seen here, Danny, Doug, Alan and Gayle all had final individual rounds of 70. Danny and Gayle's team total was a 70, while Doug and Alan's team total was a 62.

Others competing included, in the second flight, Barry Ward and John Lemons, Dink Miller and Dennis Ward, Jack Boone and Roddy Bice; third flight, Joe Bob Browning and Hiram Crawford.

Also playing in the tournament were Bill Lockhart and Bill Whitten, Mutt Wansley and Carroll Fowler. B. B. Gibson teamed up with Walt Knorpp in the first flight. All the golfers reported they had a good time in the partnership.

Danny Scarbrough is both the Memphis and Clarendon Club champion, having won the Clarendon title earlier in the summer. Danny says he'll play one more tourney, the Vernon Partnership, before calling it a season.

Before leaving the subject of golf, I'd like to report that all club golfers here are anxious to see what improvements in golfing conditions will result from the irrigation system being installed on the local course. Ditches have been dug all over the course, and work is progressing at a rapid pace. It wouldn't be surprising if the new system wasn't put into operation real soon.

Football fever is growing in Memphis, now that the sound of pads are heard slapping against other pads, in the afternoon hours. Fans who want to get a first hand look at the 1972 Cyclone team had better plan now to arrive at Cyclone Stadium at 6 p. m. Friday afternoon for the Cyclone-Stinnett Rattlers scrimmage. One thing fans will be seeing for the first time will be the local team in live scrimmage. This statement may be a little confusing, although accurate, as the Memphis team will have its first live scrimmage when the two teams square off. Even the local coaches will not have seen this year's team in scrimmage until that time.

Football training sessions have been undergoing many changes over the past two decades. There were times when players were denied a drink of water during workouts, soft drinks were taboo, and breaking the rule by drinking a soft drink was grounds for dismissal. The list could go on and on. One thing was also a regular part of all workouts, intrasquad scrimmaging, which usually came at the end of each practice session. Here was where the coaches of the past found out who were the men and who were still the boys. One bad thing came from these sessions—injuries. Usually it was to key players just before crucial contests. How many times did injuries occur during practice sessions compared to the game injuries? Apparently, coaches of today have been doing their homework on, this subject, because there has been a marked difference in workout patterns and also a smaller number of injuries.

Today, training devices are used more and more to teach proper techniques for blocking and tackling, reaction, and teaching the fundamentals and basics of the contact sport. Also, equipment today is probably the best that has ever been devised to protect the players. Also, rules have been changed prohibiting certain dangerous blocking maneuvers, used only a few years ago.

Considering all these things, one might get the idea that football isn't the rough and tumble game it used to be. That, however, would be a wrong conclusion. Football is probably even more competitive today than it has ever been.

Memphis opens Friday with a scrimmage against a team some have picked as the best Class A team in the state of Texas. Stinnett will arrive here ready and anxious to prove these predictions are justified. The Cyclone team, according to Coach McMurray and other coaches is ready, sound, and anxious to take the field against Stinnett. Memphis and Stinnett have been scrimmaging against each other for several years.

Memphis, on the other hand, has a challenging slate before the team. Stinnett, in scrimmage, Quannah, a strong AA ball club in scrimmage, then open with the Class A state runner-up last year, White Deer, followed by a game with Childress, a team selected as the best Class AA team in the state. After this, comes Crowell, another state contender in Class A, which makes a tasty beginning to the 1972 season.

Although Memphis lost some talented athletes to graduation, the players who have returned this year have the size, experience, talent, and speed to provide the makings of a successful team. Add to these a good cadre from last year's B team, and you have a lot of depth also. This is the making of another championship team, if all goes well. How far Memphis will go depends on so many factors that these should keep fans on the edge of the seats or standing up all season long. I predict the 1972 season will not be one for those fans who come to the games to watch the crowd. It's likely to get a bit emotional in the stands.

Like all Memphis fans, it has been a dream that some day a team from Memphis High will battle its way all the way to the top. Few teams ever get the opportunity to try for such a high goal. We pull for them all, may one be successful.

Jeffers Expresses 'Thank You' To Legionnaires

The American Legion Post of Memphis has awarded a one year scholarship to Larry Jeffers to attend Clarendon College Jeffers, in appreciation, answered with a meaningful letter.

Legionnaire Hubert Dennis brought a copy of the letter by The Democrat office, Jeffers states:

"Thank you very much for the scholarship. I was truly surprised. I have been lucky enough to have been honored by you (Legion Post) once before, when you sent me to Boys State. It's really great having an organization like the American Legion around to help today's youth grow up in the correct manner.

"Below is a poem I have given once before when reporting on my trip to Boys State. Then and once again I would like for you to substitute the American Legion for the old man and place me, or any other youth, in the place of the youth.

An old man, going a lone highway, Came at evening, could and gray, To a chasm, vast and deep and wide, Thru which was flowing a sullen tide. The old man crossed in the twilight dim. The sullen stream had no fears to him But he turned, when safe on the other side. And built a bridge to span the tide. "Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near, "eYou are wasting your time with building here "You never again must pass this way. "You have crossed the chasm, deep and wide "Why build you a bridge at the even tide?" The builder lifted his old gray head. "Good friend, in the path I have come," he said. "There followeth after me today "A youth, whose feet must pass this way. "This chasm, that has been naught to me "To the fair-haired youth may a pitfall be. "He, too, must cross in the twilight dim; "Good friend, I am building the bridge for him."

Jeffers concluded his letter: "You have provided the bridge to span the tide of education, and for this I am, may I say once again, very grateful."

due to automobiles.

The figures refer to all types of accidents, whether they took place in the home or at work or while driving, swimming, boating or hunting.

Covered are all accidents in which local people were involved, wherever they took place. Not included, however, are accidents in the local area affecting non-residents.

From the standpoint of population, Hall County's toll was above average. It was equivalent to a rate of 155 fatal accidents per 100,000 population.

By way of comparison, the rate throughout, the rest of the United States averaged 56 per 200,000. It amounted to 68 per 100,000 in the West South Central States.

The magnitude of the accident problem is brought out in figures compiled by the National Safety Council. They show that more than 114,000 American lost their lives in the past year and that 55,000 of them involved motor accidents. In second place were home accidents, which claimed 26,500 lives.

This tells only part of the story, however. Another 10,800,000 suffered disabling, but not fatal injuries in the course of the year.

Thus, for every one who was killed there were another 95 who were injured.

According to the council's estimate, the economic loss in the year caused by accidents reached $27.7 billion. Counted in this figure are loss of wages, medical expenses, property damage and the like.

Hall County's share of this bill, applying the average cost per accident to the local area, comes to approximately $1,899,000.

When hatched, the worms are less than one-half inch long and are white with black heads. As maturity armyworms are about one and one-half inches in length and may range from pale green to almost black in color with several light stripes along the body. One identifying marking is an inverted "Y" on the front of the head.

Where control is necessary, Hooser recommends an application of 1.5 to 1.9 pounds of 80 per cent wettable powder (one quart of malathion (5 per cent emulsifiable concentrate) per acre. He emphasizes following directions on the insecticide label.

"Unless controlled, armyworms are capable of destroying entire lawns, fields of forage or other crops. Therefore, early detection and action are crucial for successful control," adds Hooser.

On DDT May Not Remove Problem Immediately, Research Report Shows

DDT may not remove environmental problems immediately, according to a report in the "Journal of Agricultural Chemistry", bimonthly publication of the American Chemical Society.

Many years material will be required to escape into the air from DDT applications, and the material has a different chemical makeup than the DDT applied to the soil, Dr. M. Claitor of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service, said. Water Conservation Research, at the University of Tennessee, Riverside.

Resistances related to DDT are significantly more volatile than the main constituent of DDT. The significance of concentrations of these substances in air is not known, although the vaporization and sublimation of DDT from past applications (or residues) implies that concentrations of the biosphere will be high, said Dr. Spence in an article. There is some evidence that rain removes such residues from the air. However, the biological impact of DDT at the point of application slowly erode after its use.

DDT is nonbiodegradable, and its breakdown product, DDE—vaporizes from soil as readily as DDT, the report said. "Increasingly thin eggshells" in eggshells, increased population of birds, and a lethal-toxicity rating less than that of DDT, slowly formed from DDT. One-third of the DDT in a California soil was converted to DDE in seven years, Dr. Spencer com-

Crude DDT which is applied to soil contains primarily p,p-DDT. A related minor constituent that appears to be ecologically more significant is called o,p-DDT. This "impurity," which mimics the action of female hormone (estrogen) to a greater degree than p,p-DDT does, volatilizes seven and one-half times as readily as that main constituent, the authors noted.

Recent evidence indicates that escape of degradation products into the air is a major pathway for the loss of some "persistent" organochlorine pesticides from soils. This process disperses the more volatile components in the environment away from the point of application and allows the accumulation of the less volatile components in the soil. While this may aid the environment in the application area, it also can spread the DDT-related compounds into areas of low contamination.

Superpest

An important pest, the tobacco budworm, already resistant to carbamate and DDT-like pesticides, has now become resistant to still another class—organophosphorus (OP) insecticides, such as the widely used parathion. Parathion has been used to control budworms in Texas, Mexico, and Central America. But the appearance of OP-resistance has forced curtailment of cotton production in some places and threatens others, since economic control can no longer be achieved with present chemicals. Scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, College Station, Texas report that the development of OP-resistance in tobacco budworms coincides with a substantial increase in their capacity to detoxify a variety of substances, including other classes of pesticides. The key initial reaction which detoxifies parathion in insects is more active in the resistant tobacco budworm, in which several important enzyme systems were significantly enhanced (enzymes catalyze reactions in the body).

Local Residents Spend $3,462,000 In Grocery Stores

NEW YORK—Retail business in Hall County was at a higher level than expected in the past year, the final tabulations show. Many stores chalked up substantial gains over the prior years.

Their sales totals reflected the fact that most local families had bigger incomes than before and were in a position to spend more. They also reflected the higher price tags on merchandise.

Just how much was spent in the local area for food, cars, clothing, furniture and other goods and services is detailed in a new report on consumer buying, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It covers all sections of the country.

In Hall County, much of the outlay was for food. Approximately 23 cents out of every dollar spent in local retail stores went to supermarkets, Meat processors, food lockers, grocery stores and the like.

As a consequence, the overall sales volume in the year, in stores selling food for home consumption, came to $3,462,000. It compares with the previous year's $3,104,000.

This was exclusive of the expenditures made in restaurants, lunch rooms and in other eating and drinking places.

If the tab for take-home food were divided equally throughout the local area, it would average out to $1,664 per family.

Elsewhere in the United States, it was $1,370 and, in the State of Texas, $1,324.

The SRDS report shows that other kinds of retail business also ended the year on a stronger Generation Gap U.S.A.

"Father is beginning to like you — notice how he talked a bit before asking you to leave..."

note than had been expected.

Those selling cars, motorcycles and other automotive equipment and supplies produced a sales volume of $2,465,000, as compared with the prior year's $1,988,000.

Department stores and other stores carrying general merchandise accounted for $494,000. Their prior figure was $444,000.

Sales in apparel and specialty shops, including those handling shoes, hats, dresses and other articles of clothing, totaled $675,000, as against their former $652,000.

Furniture, household appliance and home furnishings stores grossed $434,000, compared with the previous $357,000.

Thus far this year, the reports indicate, business is on the upswing, with consumers spending more freely than in 1971.

Quack Medicine

Have a cold, the flu, indigestion, arthritis, or maybe you just don't have the pep and energy you used to have. If so, then you are probably familiar with the infinite number of home remedies which are available on the market today.

You may also be aware of the fact that a great number of these cure-alls and pseudo-medicines do not work.

Billions of dollars are spent each year in the United States on quack medicines and secret potions by today's modern consumer.

The elderly are particularly victimized because with old age come many minor aches and pains and a few major ones. Many older folks hesitate to consult a competent physician and choose to prescribe for themselves, instead, through mail-order cures or door-to-door health consultants. The result is that they are bilked out of their money and disappointed when their problems are not solved by the "wonder" medicines they purchase.

Whether quackery is intended or not is beside the point—incorrect medical advice and cure-alls that don't cure are deceptive to the public and often dangerous as well.

Assuming that the cure or therapeutic device is harmless, it can still destroy one's faith in legitimate treatment by a doctor. Frauds in the health field are almost too numerous to mention, but the Food and Drug Administration has compiled a list of items which should be noted. Fertile grounds for health hucksters include vitamins and pep pills, impotency cures, alcoholism treatments, air purifiers, mail-order eye glasses, hair restorers, and tired-blood tonics, to name only a few. Most of these items simply do not provide any relief or satisfaction to the hopeful individual seeking a cure.

The best advice to remember is that a physician should be consulted before being tempted to try any of these "sure-cure" remedies.

Three points which should prove helpful in recognizing health frauds and false cures are:

1. Does the medical profession disapprove them?
 2. Do they claim to have a secret remedy?
 3. Is a fast sure cure guaranteed where medical science fails?
- If the answer to these questions is "yes" then keep a firm grip on your pocketbook and walk away.
- Be an intelligent consumer, seek the advice of a licensed physician and buy drugs and medicines only from a reputable pharmacist.

Davis Family Members Gather Here Over Weekend For Annual Reunion

For the 16th consecutive year, members of the late W. W. Davis family gathered in Memphis at the Community Center over the weekend for the two-day reunion. Present for the occasion were 83 members of the family and seven visitors.

The only surviving member of the immediate family is L. I. Davis of Memphis who was present.

Nineteen families came from other towns and cities; and traveling the longest distance this year were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis of Tempe, Ariz.

The group enjoyed a picnic supper Saturday night while the big meal Sunday topped the occasion. Games, singing and reminiscing went on throughout the weekend.

The oldest attending the reunion was Sudie Davis of Memphis, who is 78 years old; and the youngest was a three-month-old Lonnie Darrell Colson, Jr., of Quail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Colson.

One couple, Mr. and Mrs. Audie McElyea of Snyder, cousins of the family, were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary; also, another unusual occurrence was noted—two members of one family had (one on each side of the family) five generations present. They were of the Trilton Davis family.

Attending the reunion from the late W. W. Davis, Sr., family were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rothwell of Claypool, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rothwell, Robin and Rodney of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Lyrel Davis of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Davis, Jerry Dan and Danny Lyrel of Wellington; Mrs. Nell Davis of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, Kenny and Janet of Vega; Mr. and Mrs. Monte Rogers, Bill and Don of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis of Tempe, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davis, Jr., and Wiley of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. James Merrell and Dave of Clarendon; Mrs. Doyle Nester; Mr. and Mrs. Dar Ridgeley, Darla and D. J.; Mr. and Mrs. David Koury and Shane, all of Holbrook, Ariz.

28th Annual Boys Ranch Rodeo Planned

The biggest Labor Day attraction of the Golden Spread is the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch where 375 boys will be putting on the 28th presentation of the nationally-known event.

Preparations for the rodeo have been going on throughout the summer with most of the boys trying to become contestants with tryouts on calves, steers, brahma bulls and bareback broncs. The rodeo's two-hour time limit restricts the number of entries to about 150 boys, but those who are not contestants will have some part in the rodeo production. Older boys will be riding bulls and broncs for the title of Senior All-Around Cowboy while younger riders will be hoping for the Junior All-Around Cowboy trophy. Trophies will also be awarded riders with the best time in the individual events.

Added features of the rodeo will be the traditional reunion of Ranch graduates and their families who are expected to travel long distances for the homecoming. Barbecue sandwiches will be prepared and sold by the boys for $1.00.

Rodeo performances are scheduled for 2:30 p. m., Sept. 3 and 4. Reserve box seat tickets are available at the Boys Ranch Administrative Office, 600 W. 11th St., in Amarillo. Reserve box seat tickets are $2.50, and general admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children and service-men in uniform.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express to my dear friends my sincere thanks and appreciation for the cards and flowers I received while I was a patient in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. Each remembrance made my stay so much more pleasant.

May God bless you.

What Does the Bible Say?

Question: "Does God have a purpose for me?"

By ART SMITH

Perhaps the Best way to answer this Question is seek the answers to 3 other Questions that have been asked from time immemorial.

1. What is my origin?
2. What is my purpose in Life?
3. What is my destiny?

We will use the next two weeks to answer Questions 2 and 3 after we cover No. 1 today.

1. Origin? Some teach that we are the product of an evolutionary process. In this our origin?

Evolution does not simply mean a "Change," but a certain kind of change. To the evolutionist evolution is a one way process of life development that becomes more complex. Beginning on a small scale, life continues through the years to increase in degrees of greatness, the evolutionist believes. It this can be disproven, then it shouldn't be difficult for reasonable men to see the fallacy of this thought.

According to the scriptures, creation is no longer taking place, so life is not increasing in degrees of Greatness. (The evolutionary process).

Read Gen. 2:1-3 Ex. 20:11 Ex. 31:17 Ps. 33:6,9; Neh. 9:6; 2 Pet. 3:5 Heb. 4:3,10 If creation was Terminated at the end of 6 days now God is preserving every thing, (Neh. 9:6) then the evolutionary process is seen to be false.

In Gen. 1:27 and Gen. 2:7 we see that God Created man from the "dust of the ground", in his own image I. E. in His Nature-Character.

Man's origin? — From God —
May we each Glorify God for his magnificent creation, and strive to learn more about our Creator.

sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Frank Finch had as her guest in Heritage Hall the past week, Mrs. Jackie Cooper of Skelkytown. She married L. L. Cooper who worked for an oil company and also the telephone company for a number of years. He passed away in 1961. Mrs. Cooper said they had a happy 36 years together. Mrs. Cooper worked for the telephone company for 14 years as switchboard operator, working in Memphis, Estelline and Midland. She has one daughter, Mrs. Paul W. Hill of Pampa, and one grandson.

I did hear a few days ago that Geary Brogden had gone to Africa on vacation. Well, I guess that was where he was going to see the Lions. I noticed a few days ago that Lion, Tiger and Elephant meat was being canned and was retailing for about $6.00 per pound. It might make you wild, not from the meat, but the price.

Others visiting in Heritage Hall were Oneta Sanders of Clarendon, Mrs. Kenneth Sanders and three daughters of Perryton, Merile Musich and sons, Eddie and Vance, of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hussey and son, David, of White Deer.

I did try to quiz Sylvia Moore, Pat Goodnight and Franke Howland about their trip to Hawaii and I did not get too much information. But they did say they enjoyed the trip even though it cost to eat. They said they paid $2.50 for a hamburger, 50 cents for a cup of coffee and they found a steak on the menu, but they did not partake of this, as they knew where they could get steak cheaper. It seems that Hawaii is capitalizing on pineapple, as you had pineapple on the plate at every meal including breakfast, and when you ordered Coke, you had a small slice of pineapple on your glass. I keep my eyes open waiting for them to wear their grass skirts.

Chas. Williams will give your scissors a good sharpening if you bring them in.

Visiting in Heritage Hall were Paul and Andy Bell of Wellington and Guy Bell of Samnorwood. Paul reports that Mrs. Clyde Drake and others are working on a collection of items for a Collingsworth Museum and will be ready to put them on display as soon as they get their building.

Mrs. Johnny Harrell, Chania and Rick had as their guests, Monta June's grandmother, Mrs. Grace Sewell, and Mrs. Sewell's sister, Mrs. Gertrude Brightwell

she well remembered that how hard merchandise was to get and you had to substitute. When she and Carl were waiting on this man and he asked for a thunder-nug and Carl told him how hard they were to get and using his power of suggestion, said they had some good lard cans. The customer went away happy with a lard can.

Mrs. Roy Patton had as her guest in Heritage Hall her daughter, Roddy (Patton) Smith of Irving the past week. In the report on the three daughters, Roddy reports that Sarah is now enrolled in Tyler Junior College and she is a member of the "Apache Bells" who will appear on the program Aug. 26 at the Cowboy and Jet football game at Dallas. I would make a strong guess that the Grandma Patton and Grandma Smith will be in front of their televisions at that time. Another daughter, Janet, has just returned with the "International Choir," consisting of 45 members and were on a three-week trip. Time and travel have really changed living for teens. I can remember when you had a trip to grandma's at Clarendon for a week and you felt like you were a world traveler.

Melissa, the younger daughter, did not let the rest of the family out-do her, so she spent five weeks in a camp for girls.

In last Sunday's edition of the Dallas News was the picture of Dallas Oak Cliff Chamber of Commerce directors. Two of the directors in this picture were Jerry Gilmore and Jerry Burnett. Two of our home grown boys. Congratulations to them in their work.

Four generations came in one group the past week when Mrs. Louis Goffinett had as her guests in Heritage Hall, her daughter, Mrs. Harlie Gordon of Dallas and granddaughter, Mrs. Jim (Linda Gordon) McClure and great-grandson, Matt, of Atlanta. Mrs. Harlie Gordon will be remembered by many of her friends as Athlee Goffinett who graduated from MHS in 1938, left here and attended business school in Houston and later attended West Texas State where she met Harlie Gordon and they married in 1942. Harlie was reared in Shamrock. Athlee and Harlie have one other daughter, Kay, who is a junior at North Texas State. They also have a son, Doug, age 16, who is now a junior at Bryan Adams High School in Dallas. The mother of Athlee was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Thompson who moved to the Panhandle in 1910.

There were seven children in this family, and only two are now living, Ruth (Thompson) Goffinett of Memphis and Walter Thompson of Medina. This made the 5th generation of this family that I have known.

Mrs. Johnny Brewer had as her guest in Hall County Heritage Hall, her grandson, Jay, of Lubbock. He is the son of Tommy, who is a Hall County product. Tommy and his wife have two of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Nay Hale of Lubbock were other visitors the past week. Mrs. Hale will be remembered as Versa Odom, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Odom. Karen Crisman of Lubbock was another visitor we had. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Jones.

We are very grateful to Mr. Kermit Voelkel of Austin for mailing Heritage Hall a copy of "Texas Cotton Review" of 1971-72. Many of you will remember Mr. Voelkel when he had charge of the cotton classing office here. He is now at the University of Texas, working with the Natural Fibers Economic Research. This information is very interesting and will use some of the facts and figures later. Thanks, Mr. Voelkel!

Maudie DeShazo of Childress and Mary Marcum of Sayre, Okla., were visitors in Heritage Hall the past week. Maudie will be remembered as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Marcum. Mr. Marcum passed away the past June. This family moved to Hall County in 1909 from Alabama and first lived in the Newlin area.

There were 10 children in this family and all are now living except one son, Joe. All of the 10 children got their education in Hall County. This family had a reunion at Cloudercroft, N. M., the week of July 10th. There are 20 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. The other members of this family now living are Clarence of Harlingen; Lena and Rena of Vernon; Lois of Hobbs, N. M.; Oneta of Amarillo; Mary of Fort Worth; L. E. and Esta of Childress and J. L., Jr. of Littlefield.
