Be Courteous To Game Officials

As we enter into this school year's sports activities, we are reminded again of the responsibility of every fan to recognize that the decision of game officials is final. This specifically means football and basketball games as these are the main attraction in our district. Our 2A District has a good record. There are no scars on any school recently which resulted from misconduct of the fans. This is not true everywhere as we all know.

In any athletic contest, certain individuals must make decisions, and their decisions must be final, otherwise the game could not be continued, and the outcome determined.

The code which is accepted by all schools in the University Interscholastic League simply means that all decisions are accepted without protest. It also means that officials are extended protection and courtesy, by players, school personnel and fans. "Treat your opponents as your guests. Put clean play and sportsmanship above victory." is wise advice.

Should a conflict between fans and officials occur, U. I. L. takes stern action against the school district involved. Records show that more schools are given penalties for misconduct involving game officials than for any other rule violation. Also, legal action is strongly advised in this situation. Let's not penalize our schools by acts of misconduct.

FUTURE FOR CATTLE AND HOGS

By 1980, as much as eight percent of the red meat we eat may not be red meat at all.

The above is a quote from the last issue of "Nation's Business" magazine which is published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the national federation of organizations representing over five million businesses, professional people and companies.

At first reading, the impact of the statement points directly to the future prices of cattle and hogs in Hall County and this area. As is well known, there are more cattle in this area than ever before, and the swine population is growing every month.

The magazine says that the prediction was made by the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service, which concludes that use of soybean proteins in processed meats has a healthy future. Should it rise to the high side of estimates for 1980, the Department says, this would be the annual equivalent of 4.1 million cattle and calves, 8.4 million hogs and 757,000 head of sheep and lambs.

But the Department adds that even if this level of substitution becomes fact, U. S. producers will still have to provide 10 percent more red meat than is now being processed, in order to satisfy the demands in 1980.

This prediction is on the optimistic side, and the trend will continue in Hall County to increase the production and sale of more cattle and hogs. The market is the determining factor. As long as the housewife has the money, she will continue to buy high protein foods, and "red meat" is at the top of the list.

Connally For President?

How would John Connally, as the Democratic Nominee fare against Spiro Agnew, as the Republican nominee, in the 1976 presidential race? There's a subject for political prognostication. It's an interesting subject because it involves probably the second and third best known men in the nation—maybe No. 2 and No. 4. And it is a safe subject, first because the odds are pretty good that the race will not occur, and second because the odds are even better that today's predictions won't be remembered four years later.

The total of the odds would seem to favor Connally. For example, where the two men are similar—and they are probably not truly alike at any point—the odds would favor Connally just because there are more Democrats than Republicans in the country. This, of course, is ignoring the shouters of doom who are convinced the McGovern nomination has destroyed the Democratic Party.

Further, if Nixon is re-elected, Agnew is doomed to four more years of playing second fiddle to the President. Actually, his long silences seem to indicate that the President's advisors don't think much of Agnew's second-fiddling and may not let him do much fiddling at all.

By contrast, John Connally never plays second fiddle, as was demonstrated when Nixon announced Connally's wage-price freeze, and then sent the press to Connally for explanation of how the program would work.

The real question is whether Connally wants to be President.

Stay Within The System

There is growing concern over the fact that Americans are dividing themselves. Splinter parties and political blocs may succeed in making the views of minorities known but they contribute little toward keeping the nation strong. Our two-party system has succeeded through the years, even to the point of making the American system a model to many parts of the world. To determine what the effects of a splinter party or multi-party system would be, one only has to look at Italy and other nations that rely on coalitions to achieve any semblance of stable government. They face one government collapse after another.

It is, then, unfortunate that Spanish-speaking people meeting in a national convention decide to ignore the dominant Democratic and Republican parties and seek their destiny in the splinter Raza Unida party. Raza Unida delegates meeting at El Paso this week vowed to fight for what national chairman Jose Angel Gutierrez called "our right to self-determination as individuals." To maintain political independence, they pledge to refuse to endorse either Sen. McGovern or President Nixon.

Whether we like the candidates or not, the best way to attack our problems is through our time-tested two party system. We must decide our differences first at party levels and then take the issues to the people.

In Remembrance

... of all those hardy and religious men and women who pioneered this area. This thought is occurring as we have our annual Hall County Picnic. They were the settlers who came with faith, that with the help of providence they could establish a new life. These are the ones who made their homes upon the fertile land and in the town of our county. They built the churches, the schools, and laid the foundations which we are enjoying today.

It is our prayer that time and circumstances may not erase the memory of the challenge of their faith.

Other visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall, they did a little reminiscing. Frances remembered when her family lived east of the golf course, she would find golf balls in the street or bar ditch and Mr. Quigley would give her 10c each for them. She saw the marcelle irons on display. She remembered working in the beauty parlor on Saturday and she set hair for 10c a person. She did pay our High School a compliment as quote, "I believe I did receive a better education in my four years of high school here than some of the students get now in high school and four years college." This family was very much interested in the many pictures they were looking over, one of which was the "Glee Club" of MHS in 1929 and some of the members of this besides V. L. were Ivan Thornton, Harry Womack, Gayle Greene, Bill McKelvey and B. F. Shepherd, also their director, Kate (Arnold) Shelly. Another picture they remembered quite well was "The Follies of 1930s". V. L. and Vernadine Jones were the leading singers. Frances said she was one of the high-kickers in the follies.

Others visiting in Hall County Heritage Hall as part of the Ogden birthday party were Mrs. Carl Hill of Estelline, sister of V. L., Mr. and Mrs. J. Ben Carsey, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Ben Carsey, Jr., Mrs. Walter Summer and sons, Walter and Edward, all of Houston. One of the Ogden girls gave me this remark that her dad made the morning that they arrived for his birthday, "If I had known I was going to live so long, I would have tried to take care of myself a little better." Thanks to

V. L. and Frances for their nice contribution to Heritage Hall. I did get a report on the J. D. Worthington family who lived here about 1925 and worked for our local water works. Mr. and Mrs. Worthington are now deceased; Jack and Judy are now in Houston, Mickey in Livingston and Peggy in New Orleans.

Other visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall were J. I. Clayton of McKinney and his son, Herbert, of Dallas. Mr. Clayton is a brother of Mrs. Robert Duncan and uncle of Mrs. Ed Foxhall. We asked what he thought of Heritage Hall and his reply was, "This is one of the best deals we have found anywhere."

Exie Sweat and Mrs. R. G. Patrick had as their guests in Heritage Hall the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Childress of Auburn, Ky., and their daughter-in-law, Sue Taylor of Russellville, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Childress were residents here for a short time about 12 years ago. All of this group were born in Kentucky. Mrs. Childress is a sister of Mrs. R. G. (Mattie) Patrick and Eunice (now deceased), wife of Exie Sweat. In 1904, the father, W. T. Sweat, and the older boys flipped a coin for heads and tails as to whether they would move from Kentucky or not. The coin fell for them to move and this family moved to Floyd, N. M., where Exie recently attended a school reunion that they have every five years, serving barbecue to all ex-students. This town consists of 1 store, three churches and a post office. He represented the 1905 class which was the oldest class represented. He remembered his school teacher who was Ada May, an aunt of Rex and Roy Rea. The W. T. Sweat family moved to Hall County in 1910. Exie said they had very little money, but had good neighbors. There were 6 boys in his family and they all had a sister. The only ones of this family now living are Exie and the six boys' sister, Ellen Alewine. In this group of visitors I did find out that Sue Taylor was a tobacco farmer in Kentucky. After talking to this lady, I came to the conclusion that we needed a tobacco allotment as she reported they made about two thousand pounds per acre and she sold her last crop for 80c a pound, but was expecting to get $1 a pound for the next crop. I asked Exie how come he married a Kentucky girl when he had been away from there so long, and he said he read a letter telling about Eunice and from the way the description in this letter sounded that was the girl he wanted and he traveled to Kentucky for her. I asked Mattie how a Kentucky girl like her came to marry a Texan and her reply was that she came to Hall County on a visit and she decided to prolong this visit.

I have not heard any more about the "cow chip throwing", so I guess it will be a surprise if we have it.

We have a lot of good friends the past year that enjoyed the Hall County picnic so much.

Mrs. J. C. Ledford and Mrs. Alden Edwards had as their guests in Heritage Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ledford of Dallas. J. B. was in the 1936 MHS Class. He left here in 1941 and served two years in the Army, moved to Wichita Falls and married Gwen Love. They have one son of Wichita Falls, J. C. worked for White in Wichita Falls with two other Hall County boys, Charles McCree and Raymond Adeock, before moving to Dallas. Before leaving Memphis, he worked for A. Womack and John Vallance. The J. C. Ledford family moved from Lubbock to Hall County in 1921. J. C. passed away two years ago. The members of this family now living are Mrs. J. C. Ledford and Mrs. Ollie (Alden) Edwards of Memphis, Mary (Smith) Trulove of Lubbock, who was a beauty parlor operator here for a number of years and is now Mrs. Ted Trulove of Lubbock, Hershall of Wichita Falls and J. B. of Dallas. These two boys have worked for "Whites" for 26 years. J. B. was on vacation here but think it turned into a work vacation after his mother gave him a paint brush to use!

Had a sidewalk visit with Benton Moreman a few days ago. Benton is the oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moreman, who were early-day residents of Hall County. He was a wheat farmer in the Groom area for a number of years; and after his wife passed away, he moved with his son to the Galveston area and has his land leased since retiring. I told him he had it easy watching the waves come in and the girls go by on the beach. He said he liked the scenery of Mesquite and grass better in this part of the world. He did say he had a handmade chain that his great-grandfather made and is going to put it in Heritage Hall. Thanks, Benton!

Mary Hudgins has charge of the decorations for the Hall County Picnic this year. She may have some surprises in store for us so check all the store windows for art and other displays she might have.

Lillie Neely Bingham Davis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Neely who moved to Hall County in 1905 from Oklahoma to Newlin to Hulver and to Memphis, was in visiting. Her teachers in Hulver were Mr. Mosley and Mary Swift. Mr. Neely died in 1947 and Mrs. Neely in 1936. She nursed for Dr. Goodall, Dr. Odom and Cousins Home, now living in Canyon for the past seven years. She has been an L. V. N. for 40 years, first working in Clarendon for Dr. Wilder in the 1920's. One son passed away in Canyon in 1971 and she has three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Clifton Neely passed away here last June. Members of the Neely family now living are John, Vernon, Nattie Bruce and Mrs. Davis.

Beverly a few days ago, I found he was here from Cisco to look after his dad, Albert, who is now in Cousins Home. He had been in Hall County Hospital very sick and when he returned to the Cousins Home, the first thing he asked for was his French harp, which they gave him and he started blowing away playing the "Tennessee Waltz". Albert must be feeling a lot better blowing up a storm on his harp.

I did have a visit with the Rev. W. A. Cockrell and wife of Slaton the past week. W. A. is now supply pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Slaton. Mrs. Cockrell will be remembered here as Mozelle Wright. She and W. A. married in 1967, moved to Arkansas and after four years, returned to Texas. I did ask them if they were tired of going barefooted when they moved back to Texas. Mozelle worked for J. C. Penny in Memphis for 12 years in Lubbock where she is now working. In checking up on her family, Priscilla, now Mrs. Robert Sims, is living in Lubbock where she is in the personnel department of the First National Bank; Frances, now Mrs. Dave Corley, (son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Corley), is now living in Canyon where Dave is principal of Junior High. Frances and Dave have two sons and one daughter, Priscilla has one son and one daughter. Perry Wright is now married to a Dallas girl who works with

Parnell Club Continues Meeting After Summer

After two months dismissal through July and August, the Parnell Club met in regular session with 15 members and one visitor present.

The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. Clara Cowan, with the members repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The devotional was taken from Psalms and was given by Celeste Ward.

Roll call was answered with "Where I would like to spend my next vacation." There were eight sick visits. After a short business session and the dismissal prayer by Lena Hill, members enjoyed visiting with each other while refreshments of Cokes and sandwiches were served by Lena Hill and Cordye Hood to the following members: Hazel Lambert, Leona Burk, Clara Cowan, Dorothy Dameron, Bessie Lathram, Lucille Robinson, Roxie Orcutt, Lena Freeze, Nell Burk, Celeste Ward, Nelda Ferrel, Anna Belle Boney, Lucille Cope and one visitor, Mrs. Coy Orcutt of Amarillo.

Culture Club Has Opening Meeting Of Year

The Woman's Culture Club opened the club year 1972-73 with a meeting held recently in the home of the president, Mrs. Alvin Pyeatt.

Mrs. Pyeatt welcomed the club members and Miss Sybil Gurley, yearbook chairman, presented the yearbooks to members. Miss Alma Bruce, program chairman, gave a preview of the year's programs, the theme being "The Challenge in a Changing World." She introduced the program for the day by quoting Gower, "Who that will his work beginneth, The rather a good end he winneth." Mrs. Pat Lewis gave the invocation.

Mrs. Pyeatt's address to the club was entitled "Let's Meet the Challenge." She told the club members that as they approached the new year, they must salute the past and challenge the future. She said that never has there been a greater need for personal involvement in helping shape the future of the world. The challenge before club women is greater than ever before. Further, she stated, "The modern club woman has no time to fret, languish and gossip about her neighbor's affairs, but is keenly alive to every interest that touches her home, town and nation." She also stated that the only thing that is constant is change, change in and of itself is not necessarily good, does not always mean progress and that at time, not to change may be more important. "So as concerned club members, we must examine carefully and thoughtfully all aspects of change and make our own decisions." She emphasized that a good leader is never afraid of change. She closed by saying, "We know the challenging future is ahead, and my prayer is that we will continue to serve together in tribute to the past 75 years of growth."

During the social hour, the hostess presented each club member with a floral compact notebook and served refreshments to the following members: Misses Alma Bruce, Esta McElrath, Sybil Gurley; and Mmes. L. A. Stillwell, Ward Gurley, Jeanette Irons, Nat Bradley, Pat Lewis, R. E. Clark, Robert Moss, Theo Swift, L. G. Rasco, Frank Ellis, David May and the hostess, Mrs. Alvin Pyeatt.

Accent on Health

J. E. FEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

"flu" may be of little consequence to most people, but there are some with one or more chronic conditions which make it a mighty part of their health problem, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

At the end of a long, hot summer and the approach of fall and winter and their threats to the health of the individual. Influenza is a distinct possibility during the fall, blustery, wet months. What to do about it?

If you fall into one of the special high risk categories, the State Department recommends individual vaccination against influenza.

Persons who are in the high risk group are one of these chronic conditions:

Congenital and rheumatic diseases, especially with the opening of a heart valve, and hardening and thickening of the arteries.

Chronic bronchopulmonary diseases such as asthma, chronic bronchitis, cystic fibrosis, emphysema and adenoid tuberculosis; and diabetes mellitus and other metabolic disorders.

Through the value of routine immunizing all older age groups is less clear, the State Health Department says patients with influenza or potentially chronic diseases should also be considered for annual immunization. Of particular consideration should be given to those with diseases affecting the cardiovascular and bronchopulmonary systems.

Persons who provide essential community services may also be considered for immunization if their duties require it.

Influenza occurs in the United States every year, but the incidence and geographic extent vary. Periodically, it appears in epidemic form, such as the onslaughts in the past few years of the A-2 Hong Kong variety.

The U. S. Public Health Service says the effectiveness of inactivated influenza vaccines has been variable, and protection has been relatively brief. Partly for this reason, vaccines are recommended only for selective use in persons at high risk.

Primary series of vaccine consists of two doses preferably six to eight weeks apart—with completion around mid-November.

Because of the time lapse between the first and second shots for those getting shots the first time, persons falling into the recommended categories may want to contact their private physicians now about getting vaccinations.

Persons who have had one or more doses of vaccine containing the Hong Kong strain antigen (all influenza vaccines since 1968 and 1969) need only a single booster dose of valgent vaccine. All others should receive the full primary series, according to the Public Health Service recommendations.

Persons who are hypersensitive to egg protein, ingested or injected, should not be vaccinated. Influenza vaccine is prepared from viruses grown in embryonated eggs and ordinarily should not be administered to those who have an egg allergy.

Research is going on constantly toward developing other types of vaccine, but it must be tested and approved before release for general use. The influenza injection-type vaccine is the only one in use at present.

The State Health Department doesn't recommend flu shots for everyone. However, those with chronic problems are more apt to suffer from the serious effects of flu and take longer to recuperate.

More Forages Are Expected In Future Cattle Feed

Cattlemen may be forced to switch to more forages and crop residues in their feeding program. That's because of increasing competition for cereal grains to feed an expanding world population, according to W. B. Hooser, Hall County extension agent.

Earl L. Butz, Secretary of Agriculture, reports the total U. S. cow herd probably will be up 15 per cent by 1980 over its present level of 50 million head. All of the increase will be in the beef population.

Beef breeding herds will increase in those areas that can expand forage supplies most rapidly. Also, developing new plant breeding programs to increase digestibility, along with better harvesting practices, will be necessary to improve quality of the forages.

In California's Imperial Valley, tests show high quality roughage alone can put on net daily gains of 2.21 pounds on steers during the first 99 days of a 176-day growing-finishing period. And 10 per cent roughage plus a concentrate-by-product ration the remaining 77 days can give them an overall feed conversion rate seven pounds feed to one pound gain. According to an El Centro animal scientist, the tests show net energy of high quality alfalfa appears to have been underestimated by about 15 per cent.

Developments in Canadian forage research show productive cattle and sheep can be fed on mainly forage diets. A United Kingdom scientist tells Canadian farmers the trouble with most grass-fed animals is not that they are being fed on grass, but that they are being underfed on grass.

"Your aim must be to get a high intake of highly digestible feed that also contains adequate levels of protein, minerals, etc.," the scientist said.

Scientist Advises Control Of Weight For Health's Sake

Despite advances in medical research and in the practice of medicine, life expectancy in the U. S. is not improved much, says Philip Abelson, director of the Carnegie Geophysical Laboratory, in a recent issue of "Science" magazine. Effects of deleterious living patterns are counterbalancing medicine's gains. Abelson plugs for physical fitness coupled with a realistic weight control program as conditions for the cardiovascular system.

Jogging, running, cycling, and swimming are recommended for fitness. Cautionary bits of advice include having a physical check-up before taking up expanded activities. Building up from easy tasks, such as walking a mile, to more demanding activities, like jogging, should proceed, following the "train, not strain" precept.

One result of conditioning is improvement in the efficiency of the heart—meaning that the conditioned heart can do the same or more work with fewer beats than can the unconditioned heart.

An additional potential benefit from physical fitness, says Dr. Abelson, is an improvement in mental attitude. The typically middleaged individual is in effect crawling submissively to his grave. By investing an hour or two a week in a conditioning program, he may add years to his life. Buoyed by pride and a sense of well-being, he can compete more confidently in intellectual circles.

Keith McWhorter, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy at San Diego, Calif., spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs. John McWhorter, and in Childress with his family. His wife and mother took him to Amarillo Sunday to the airport and while there visited with Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamner and family and with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newton and family.

Mrs. Harrison's Niece Dies In Pennsylvania

Mrs. Tommy Harrison received word early Saturday morning of the death of her niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Granberry McKean, who died Friday night in a Sayre, Pa., hospital of cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. McKean was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gene Granberry, who lived in Amarillo. She was born Nov. 17, 1905.

Mrs. McKean was a graduate of Amarillo High School and the University of Texas. In the 30's she left Amarillo to become one of the outstanding advertising specialists in New York, serving with several national firms in the city.

Among the memorable advertising campaigns which she devised was the Eveready Battery series which showed the true stories of lives saved by light provided by the batteries. It won several national awards. Mrs. McKean's Joy detergent theme of dishes so clean they can be used as a mirror is still being used in mass media, Mrs. Harrison said.

She is survived by her husband, Robert McKean, a furniture designer; a son, William Hill of Atlanta, Ga., and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday in Troy, Pa.

DAVIS SCORES—Sophomore HB Don Davis is shown above (No. 22) on one of two of his carries last Friday night. This carry was only for about two yards but it was for the Cyclones third TD and on a fourth down. Davis spun out of White Deer's No. 11 arms and dived backwards into the endzone. Split End James Beck is shown in the extreme right.

SPORTS CORNER

By BILL COMBS

It has been so long a time since Memphis has been able to defeat White Deer on the gridiron that local fans sat out in the rain—some even without rain coats—and watched the game last Friday night.

This brings up a point about going to football games. I, because of necessity, have to come completely prepared for almost any kind of weather. Due to my electronic strobe light of my camera being so sensitive to moisture, I almost always carry a raincoat to football games. Also, several years ago, I got caught at a football game taking notes with a ballpoint pen. It might have written over butter, but it sure quit when the paper got wet. If it had not been for my finding a stubby pencil in my camera bag, I would have been in trouble. I gave up several years ago trying to cover football games from press boxes. With public address system announcers, radio men, camera men, scouts, spotters and others cluttering up the small area, the thing is now mis-named. Also the most obvious disadvantage of all, is the poor visibility toward both ends of the field. So, I just don't use the press box anymore.

Another thing has drawn me to the sideline. First, I can take pictures at will and still keep up with statistics (and when my wife consents to being play-by-play keeper, it is real nice). Secondly, information is available from the coaches and players if needed, on both sides of the field. Often, when Memphis teams are playing out of town, area news media have reported wrong information on who scored for Memphis, possibly because reporters in press boxes could not see who carried the ball, caught the pass, made a tackle; and possibly, because jersey numbers get changed from time to time. I've occasionally asked visiting teams (or coaches) when I discovered a new number or suspected that a player was wearing a different jersey. I have even called in games, and discovered to my disappointment that the visitors' numbers are all different from the printed program. When this occurs, I refer back to our coaches' scouting report, a valuable source of information.

Friday night, the one thing in my opinion which stood out above most, was the mid-season form of play of the teams, especially the Memphis team. Coach McMurray referred to this speaking to Rotarians Tuesday by saying that Memphis had several lads playing in their first varsity game and they played well. This is possibly due to the fact these same boys have already played in 17 high school games, freshmen and B team, during their careers. Add this to full seasons of 7th and 8th grade football and you have a lot of playing experience.

Tomorrow night, Memphis plays

Area CowBelle Chapter Is Formed Today

At a meeting held today at Pampa, a chapter of the CowBelles has been scheduled to be organized and officers elected for the area encompassing Memphis, Hedley, Clarendon, McLean, and other towns in the vicinity, it has been announced.

On Sept. 6, a group of interested women met in Amarillo and pursued the formation of a Texas CowBelles organization, as an affiliate of the National CowBelles.

The CowBelles is an organization for women of the cattle industry to help promote a product around which their lives evolve. Women within the cattle industry feel they live within the industry, but have not had a chance to individually contribute to it, members stated. This organization offers a fine opportunity for women of the industry to join forces and promote their livelihood, beef.

Any woman interested in becoming a member may receive information by contacting either Mrs. Charles H. Payne at 856-2331, Hedley, or Mrs. Billy Clubb at Hedley.

Childress, a team which got off to a slow start against Clarendon last week but is expected to come roaring (Bobcats you know) into town and give local boys a crucial test. Top ranked in Class AA, the Bobcats have size, experience, talent, and depth. The Cyclone is the underdog in this one and our team will need all the encouragement and support they can receive. A victory over Childress would skyrocket the local team's ratings.

Got my copy of the Texas Hunting and Fishing Guide for 1972-73 season, and see where Hall County again is in the Dec. 1-Feb. 15 quail hunting season category. Quail seem to be more plentiful this year. Dove are just all over the place.

Speaking of dove hunting, we were told that fastening the breasts of two dove together with a slice of bacon around them, and cooking them over a barbecue flame, using barbecue sauce, makes a delicious dinner.

Dove hunters found their birds scarce around water holes, with so much rain early in September, but plenty of shooting was available around grain fields. My wife and I have hunted grain fields and shelter belts and found plenty of activity.

The Memphis Country Club has begun using their newly installed watering system. It is a beautiful sight to local golfers to see water running on some of those bare hillside fairways on the course. Also, now the greens are getting their fall top dressing; so it will be about a week or two before play will be resumed by many of our golfers.

Memphis Wins 19-6 Over White Deer

The 1972 football season got off to an optimistic note Friday when Memphis won a 19-6 victory over White Deer in the Cyclone's first game. The Cyclone won the game on a wet, rainy night in a 12-1/2 hour game. Memphis won the game on a wet, rainy night in a 12-1/2 hour game. Memphis won the game on a wet, rainy night in a 12-1/2 hour game.

QB Mike Browning got things rolling with a handoff to FB Paul Fowler who made three yards. He then connected with Flanker Larry Johnson in the flat for a 12-1/2 yard gain. In the next series, Fowler battled his way for two yards, and Browning, on a pass play was dumped for a 7-1/2 yard loss. Facing third and long yardage, Browning passed the ball deep to Johnson who managed to get two steps on his defender. Johnson caught the pass, set sail for the goal line, but lost his footing on the wet field and went down on the Bucks' 25. Johnson's reaction of displeasure was certainly understandable.

The slip only delayed the inevitable, as the Cyclone offense was not to be denied. HB Ronald Canada blasted through a hole for five yards, then Browning passed to Split End James Beck for a first down on the Bucks' 11. Canada made one yard, Fowler picked up four more, followed by a four-yard gain by Browning on a keeper. It was fourth and less than one, from the Bucks' two, a yard for a first and two yards for a TD. Browning brought the Cyclone to the scrimmage line, took a long count, caught the over-anxious Bucks offside and Memphis had a first and goal from the one. Browning tried a quarterback sneak, but was met hard and gained one and a half yard. On the next play, Browning went over Guard Bradshaw, as he and Center Matt Thompson opened a hole to the left, and Tackle Lenis Simpson drew Bucks' big tackle, Don Thurman to block. Despite the 50-lb. weight disadvantage, he kept the big tackle out while Browning scored the touchdown untouched. Larry Johnson booted the point after, with 2:30 left in the first quarter. The Cyclones' second possession moved the football 42 yards before the drive was halted. Canada and Fowler each had big gainers in this drive. Memphis' third possession resulted in an 80-yard touchdown drive in eight plays, with the ball staying on the ground all the way. Fowler got the drive going on a nine-yard carry from the Memphis 20. Then Canada skirted end and raced 26 yards. A Buck defender was called for hitting after the whistle and another 15 yds. were tacked on, giving the Cyclone a first down on the Buck 30. Fowler made five and Canada added seven for a first to the 18. Canada carried the ball three consecutive times in the next series, making three, six and four, and picking up a first to the five. On the next play, QB Browning rolled to his left, slipped a tackler and dived over the goalline. The point after kick attempt was foiled when the snap was fumbled and the score was 13-0 with 2:10 left in the first half.

SEASON'S FIRST TD—Cyclone QB Mike Browning is shown scoring through a good hole in White Deer's goalline defense in the first quarter, on Memphis' first ball possession of the 1972 season. Memphis Linemen shown blocking include Tackle Lenis Simpson, Guard Mark Bradshaw and Center Matt Thompson. Memphis won the opener 19 to 6 in a steady rainfall.

Second Half Action
Bucks' fullback, Slagle, was successful in returning the opening kickoff of the second half. He was also called upon to carry on the two-point conversion, but was met and stopped short. Larry Johnson returned the Bucks' kickoff following the TD to the Memphis 37. From there, Fowler made four yards, and Jim Dixon made sufficient yardage for a first, but the play was called back as Memphis was charged with holding, one of two penalties assessed the team all night. Fowler made eight yards on the next play and QB Browning made five more, but these were not enough, so Browning punted the football 35 yards.

The Bucks' offense managed to make a first down to the 42, then Larry Johnson alertedly grabbed a White Deer pass and returned across mid-field, setting up the Cyclone's third scoring drive. The rain was really pelting the ground as Canada was hit hard two yards behind the scrimmage line. Then, Fowler tore through a hole and went 10 yards. Canada picked up four more on a dive, giving Memphis a first down and 10 from the Buck 33. From this point the Cyclone converted three fourth-down plays while marching for a touchdown. In the next series, Canada was stopped for a loss on the first down, but two carries by Fowler for six and five yards set up a fourth and one, which Browning converted with two yards to spare on the sneak. From the Bucks' 21, Canada made one, Fowler three, and Browning three, giving Memphis a fourth down and three. Canada fought his way for the necessary yardage and picked up two extras giving Memphis a first and goal from the nine. On the first down, Canada made three. Then, a White Deer lineman broke through and nailed Fowler for a three-yard loss. On a third down from the nine, QB Browning found Tight End Bobby Hall with a strike at the goalline, and Hall made an outstanding catch in a pack of defenders and was dropped immediately at the one. The fourth down call went to Sophomore HB Don Davis, playing in his first varsity game for the Cyclone, and he carried well on the power sweep which developed into a man-on-man, head-to-head match between ball carrier Davis and Buck Defender Buddy Cummins one yard shy of the goal line. Cummins hit Davis just as he made his cut, but Davis spun out of the tackle and dived over the goal line for the touchdown. The try for point-after, a pass, went off the fingers of the Cyclone receiver. As the remainder of the game progressed, the steady rainfall made the wet field even slicker. The Cyclone was unable to put on a consistent ground attack to take advantage of field position, one on the Bucks' 36 following a Ronnie Browning interception, and another on the Bucks' 16 following a recovered fumble by Canada. The Bucks were unable to show any kind of offensive during the late stages of the contest.

HALL COUNTY PICNIC

and 82nd Birthday Celebration in Memphis Saturday and Sunday

As events of years gone by are discussed, many "old timers" will remember when Memphis Compress Company was established here in 1921. From that date the "Press" has served as headquarters for our friends in the ginning and cotton buying business, not only in Hall County but over the state and nation.

We are proud of the record we have established in helping to promote the progress of this county. We shall continue to cooperate in all worthwhile efforts which will mean more to our friends in the cotton industry—from the farm to the final buyer.

Join with us in the celebration and the big barbecue which will be served at the City Park Sunday, Sept. 17th.

Also on hand at the park to furnish special music will be a group of talented musicians who play country and western music. They will play preceding the fiddlers contest.

comparing offensive lines, while the Childress backfield is about 5-lbs. per man lighter than Memphis.

Childress, however, has a definite speed advantage.

QB Turk Nelson runs the Childress winged-T with split end attack. The Bobcats also utilize other offensive sets, including the Wishbone-T.

QB Nelson hands the ball off to a trio of talented ball carriers, power running fullback Floyd Key, 190, swift, evasive halfback Larry Johnson, 167, who gained over 1,000 yards per season in past years as a starter; and Wingback Jerry Neal, possibly the fastest man. Nelson also passes the football well and has a receiver in Nea and Ends Danny Lancaster and Curtis Smith.

Childress Week
Actually, for Memphis and Childress, this week is full of football games between teams from the two schools.

Revival Services—

Weekday services will be in the evening only, with prayer services at 7 p. m., and singing and preaching services beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Ralph White has put in most of his ministerial service in East Texas until he came to the First Baptist Church in Turkey less than a year ago.

"He has been well accepted at Turkey and among the pastors of our Association," Rev. J. I. Herndon, pastor of the Brice Baptist Church, stated. "He said he was just a corn-fed preacher, with a B. A. degree (not Bachelor of Arts but Born Again). He takes his texts from the Bible and preaches in the power of the Holy Spirit."

"He believes the Lord wants to give His people revival; and invites the public to come and share it with us."

Everyone interested in worshipping the Lord is cordially invited to attend the revival services by Rev. Herndon.

Cyclone Mothers Club To Sell Cyclone Stickers

The Cyclone Mothers Club met Monday night and enjoyed watching the White Deer game film with interesting comments by Coach McMurray.

"Knowing that all the people of Memphis are great supporters of the Cyclone team, bumper and window stickers will soon go on sale," Mrs. Dick Fowler, reporter, stated. "We urge everyone to 'be part in this campaign and show the Cyclones that the people of Memphis are behind them,'" she concluded.

Junior Varsity teams play Childress. The freshmen take the field at 6 p. m.

Last Thursday, the J-Vs defeated Clarendon 12 to 6, while the freshmen lost Saturday morning to Groom B 28-0.

The week climaxed with the varsity game Friday night. Even though Memphis and Childress varsity teams have not competed in several years, athletes from the two schools have played each other each year in B team and junior game.

The game Friday is a key game for Memphis if the Cyclone hopes to establish a reputation as the team to beat in District 2-A.

"Childress has been in the state play-offs the past two years," Coach McMurray told local boosters, "and if we can play them aggressively, make a contest out of the game, our players will get valuable experience and confidence."

Janet Sanders Campaigns Here For Father Wed.

Janet Sanders, 19-year-old daughter of Barefoot Sanders, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, came to Memphis Wednesday campaigning. Armed with a smile and cookies in the shape of a foot, Janet talked to people about her father.

"I wouldn't be out here working if I didn't really believe that Barefoot Sanders was the best man for the job," she said. "He cares about people and is willing to listen to what they have to say."

She also remarked on his integrity and dedication. "My father is honest at a time when honesty seems to be lacking in government," she said. "He pledges

Janet aided in the campaign this spring, traveling to over towns and cities in Texas, listening and talking to people across the state, she believes. Texans are looking for new independent leadership. Barefoot Sanders, former White House aide and U. S. Attorney, can provide that leadership.

Barefoot and his wife, were in other parts of Texas day campaigning, also. cover this huge state, we have all split up," Janet remarked with a smile.

She was making a four West Texas trip, stopping in the area towns. She planned to in Amarillo Wednesday night.
