Memphis Cagers Win Two Games From Paducah Teams Here Tuesday

Memphis basketball teams got the 1972 season off on a good note with back-to-back victories over Paducah teams here Tuesday night. The girls won 39 to 32, and the boys won 45 to 43.

The Cyclonettes of Coach Joe Bain drew praise from their coach for the team's "hustle" against the Dragonettes, and the local girls defensive guards must have been doing a lot of things right during the game. The score was 31 to 19 as the final stanza opened. Memphis led 14 to 5 and 23 to 17 in the first two periods.

Cyclonette forwards, Mary Beck with 17 points, Kay Murdock with 12 and Kathy Carmen with 7 accounted for most of the local team's scoring.

Teresa Condon of Paducah was the Dragonettes' leading scorer with 18 points.

Coach Bain said the Cyclonettes will need a good hustling effort all season to make up for what the team must give up in the height department. "I was certainly well pleased since this was our first competition against another ball club this year," the coach said.

Coach Jimmy Pope's Cyclone overcame a first quarter deficit to take the lead at the end of the third period and successfully held off the Dragons in the final minutes to capture a 2-point victory.

Coach Pope, after the game, cited the team's pressure defense as working well as long as his lads' stamina held out.

Paducah jumped out to an 8 to 3 lead at the end of the first quarter, then saw it melt to only a 1-point edge at halftime, 24-23. However, it was possibly the third period of play where the contest was decided, because the Thanksgiving—1972!

Thanksgiving is an American holiday, not celebrated by other countries of the world. And in the minds of Americans Thanksgiving has become a day when chief observance is sitting around a bountiful table and enjoying a meal fit for a king.

Few nations have ever been able to serve up meals of this quality and this abundance to their citizens, regardless of how wealthy the nation was, in the entire history of mankind. The early day Pilgrims realized the abundance of this country in the earliest days, and their descendants have been enjoying the abundance of the land ever since.

The month of November has been designated "Texas Food and Fiber" month. Purpose of the month-long observance is to promote appreciation for the abundance of food and fiber that is provided for our population by the farmers and ranchers and others in the agri-business industry.

Can Americans truly observe Thanksgiving without food and clothing for which to be thankful. The Holy Scriptures teach the Christians that if a man is hungry, do not bless him and send him on his way, but first provide him with food and drink. One of the truly beautiful things about America is that so many people can afford to spread a bountiful thanksgiving dinner for themselves and their friends.

These type meals in many other nations would be completely out of reach of the financial standing of most of their citizens.

It is a tribute to America that the fantastic productivity of our agricultural plant has given us a plentiful supply of a wide variety of wholesome, quality foods at a reasonable price.

Because of agriculture's efficiency, all of us live better for less. One farm worker today produces enough food and other farm products for himself and 48 others. Only about 16 percent of our disposable income is spent for food. This compares with about 30 percent in Western Europe and more than 50 percent in Russia.

Texas agriculture is a huge consumer as well as producer. Production of items used in growing crops and livestock creates a lot of off-farm jobs. Over $21 billion is invested in improvements related to agricultural production.

It is well that we pause during the Thanksgiving season to reflect on the importance of agriculture to our daily lives.

And while enjoying our abundance, let us also reflect upon our spiritual and material blessings, and the blessings of good health, family and friends. We are indeed, a most fortunate people.

Loyalty!

The corrosion of loyalty is a tragedy that could leave its damage on life in this nation for generations.

Loyalty is disappearing at many levels, loyalty of one person to another, loyalty to family, to school, to community, loyalty to one's religion, loyalty to our responsibility for the protection of the world of nature, loyalty to the great ideals of the United States of America.

To some extent its decline may be the result of mobility. Families move from one part of the nation to another, staying in no community long enough to establish deep roots or lasting friendships.

Even mobility within families, with the home deteriorating to little more than a motel and occasional lunch counter while parents dash about from job to job or club to club and children wander from place to place, defeats loyalty within the family.

Casual transfer from one college to another has eroded college loyalty and has already begun to affect alumni financial contributions on which much of higher education has depended.

These may all be contributing to the decline of loyalty to our great national ideals. Even more influential, however, has been the abuse and exploitation of that loyalty, while our national government has abandoned those ideals, proclaiming adherence to law and order while violating the constitution and subverting the intent of laws, lying to the people while trying to invoke the spirit of George Washington, and in the end appealing to the loyalty of young people to persuade them to engage in acts many of them believe violate the ideals on which the nation was established.

The tragedy is compounded by the man who wears two American flag pins to cloak himself with loyalty while he tries to cheat on his income tax and impose racial sanctions on his neighborhood, while he abandons the principle of equal justice under law and clamors for gagging those whose opinions differ from his.

A man who lives alone on a desert island can enjoy the luxury of a single loyalty, loyalty to himself.

But desert islands are in short supply today, and some of the few that do exist are used as targets for Navy gunnery practice.

For the rest of us, living in a society where each depends on the other, loyalty is no luxury. It is essential if we are to continue to exist, if we are to bring back government by the consent of the governed, if we are to nourish the ideals exalted, but are necessary for continuation of a meaningful life.

Perhaps the restoration of loyalty can begin if each of us examines his own conscience. Loyalty does not just happen. It must be earned, taught and practiced.

A Day To Count Our Blessings

This Nov. 23 is Thanksgiving Day—one of the most thoroughly American of all our holidays. It celebrates the very beginnings of the United States, and the mere mention of this holiday conjures up memories of the traditional turkey dinner.

In our seemingly dissentious nation, we tend to lose the real reverence of Thanksgiving—we have the feast without remembering the reason. The importance

James Beck Home Destroyed By Fire Friday

Mr. and Mrs. James Beck and family, who reside on the D. C. Messick farm in the Newlin community, lost all their household items and most of their clothing late Friday afternoon when the farm home was completely destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Beck was at the laundry when the fire siren was sounded and did save the clothing she had with her.

Friends and neighbors immediately started a fund to help replace some of the items lost in the fire. Mrs. Beck said Tuesday that she was overwhelmed with the generosity of the people and wants to thank everyone for their wonderful response in time of need.

Mrs. Beck said the family now has all the clothing and bed linen needed as well as many other items. They are in the process of moving into another house, also located on the Messick farm.

Mr. Beck is employed by Messick Equipment Co. and Mrs. Beck is relief cook at Cousins Home and also works in several private homes. They have a daughter, Mary, who is a junior; a son, James, Jr., a sophomore, and another daughter, Faye, in the seventh grade.

Local churches were notified and a fund has been started at each bank as "The James Beck Fund." Persons interested may contribute if they desire.

Season Stats On Memphis Cyclone

The Memphis Cyclone finished the 1972 season, 8-2, one of the best win-loss records for the local high school in the gridiron sport. Statistical honors were spread over several players attesting to this year's team's balance.

Senior Larry Johnson, flanker, halfback, split end and place kicker was the leading scorer for the Cyclone this season putting 77 points on the scoreboard. He also was the leading receiver, catching 17 passes for 322 yards.

Senior fullback Paul Fowler, despite an injury which kept him out of action for almost two games, was the leading rusher for the Cyclone, with 673 yards on 114 carries for an average of 5.9 yards per carry. Fowler was also the second leading scorer with a total of 48 points.

The Cyclone team finished the season averaging 31.1 points per game against each opponent while opponents averaged scoring 8.3 points per game against the Cyclone defense.

The Cyclone's defensive power has been unequalled by possibly any team and defensive players for the Cyclone can be proud of the record.

One of the reasons for the Cyclone's offense success was Q-B Mike Browning who, not only maintained a rushing record of 2.9 yards per carry on 37 rushes for 105 yards (including several big minus yards when he was trapped attempting to pass), but he completed 44 passes, while throwing 77 incomplete and having seven intercepted. Of his completed passes, six went for touchdowns & one was for a two-point conversion. As a ball carrier, Browning scored five TDS and one two-point conversion totaling 32 points to be the third scorer for the Cyclone.

Receivers

As far as receivers are concerned, the Cyclone will have a talented bunch back next year, because, with the exception of Larry Johnson, and the two passes snagged by Ronald Canida and the one caught by Paul Fowler, everyone else catching passes for the Cyclone were juniors or sophomores.

The second leading receiver was tight end Bobby Hall who caught 13 passes for 166 yards, three of which were touchdown strikes giving him 18 points for the season.

Split End James Beck was the third receiver with seven passes for 131 yards. Beck scored three TDs, one as a receiver and two on defense intercepting a screen pass and a pitch out and taking the ball in for scores.

Ronnie Browning caught three passes for 39 yards, one for a touchdown, but Ronnie's defensive record was even more impressive as he intercepted four opponent's passes and returned a punt for a touchdown during the season.

Others catching passes were Jim Melton with two, Don Davis with one, and Wayne Davis with one. Wayne Davis, pass reception went for a touchdown, however Davis went on to score three additional times as a ball carrier as backup quarterback.

Rushing Stats

Paul Fowler's leading mark was reduced somewhat this season due to his torn muscle injury sustained in the Clarendon game, and due to the fact that he had to sit out several quarters in games when the team was way ahead. Coach McMurray cited Fowler as being one of the best backs for carrying the football on up the middle trap plays, and basically, most of Fowler's 673 yards was made up the middle of the field, considered the toughest yardage to make.

Second leading rusher is HB Ronald Canida who played in five of the team's 10 games. Canida, senior halfback, gained 351 yards on 80 plays, averaging 4.4 yards per carry. He scored one time during the season. Canida's loss to the team was felt not only because of his ball carrying ability, but also for his stiff defensive play at the defensive end position.

Larry Johnson was the third leading rusher, maintaining a 4.1 per carry average on 70 rushes for 270 yards. Johnson only carried the football when the Cyclone was in the Wishbone-T set.

Other running backs showing their promise to future Cyclone squads certainly brighten future hopes for great seasons in the future.

Sophomore Jim Melton, who was used as an end early in the season, came on to be the Cyclone's leading breakaway running back, picking up 270 yards on 35 carries averaging 7.7 yards, and in the process scoring 26 points (4 TDs and a 2-pt. conversion).

Second unit Junior quarterback Wayne Davis had the leading, per carry average on the squad, with 175 yards on 17 carries averaging 10.4 yards per carry. He scored 24 points, three TDs on the ground and one as a receiver.

HB Don Davis is another sophomore who showed continued success as a ball carrier as the season progressed as he picked up 252 yards on 51 carries averaging 5 yards per carry. Don scored five times for 30 points, and the statistics show that as the season wore on his per carry average climbed.

FB Jim Dixon, a junior, started at fullback when Fowler was sidelined and he proved he could pick up tough yardage averaging 4 yards per carry on 48 carries for 189 yards. Dixon scored 8 points, but he is one of the team's leading defensive linebackers.

Gary McKay, Charlie Slaughter and James Chappell each got their hands on the football. Slaughter and Chappell each scored a TD, and Sophomore McKay ripped off 39 yards on five carries for a 7.9 average. Chappell averaged 4.25 on 8 carries for 26 yards.

Defensive Stats

A look at the opponents' statistics for the season shows how really tough the Cyclone defense was this season. Opponents averaged 8.2 first downs, 111.4 yards rushing, 27.3 yards passing, and gave up 1.7 interceptions and 2.3 fumbles, and had to punt the football 6.1 times per game.

One of the surprising stats for the year is in the passing department as Cyclone defenders, led by Ronnie Browning with 4 interceptions, caught just about as many of the opponents' passes as did opponent receivers. Memphis intercepted 17 passes while opponents completed 18 passes against Memphis.

This must be a truly remarkable feat, and beside that, Cyclone defenders forced 23 fumbles from opponents accounting for 40 turnovers compared to Memphis' 24 turnovers to opponents.

Sophomore Gary McKay recovered four fumbles and Robert Snider recovered three. A total of 14 defensive players recovered opponents' fumbles this year, which is better than one-half the roster for the Cyclone.

Team Stats

The Cyclone averaged 19.5 first downs, 242.1 yards rushing, 78.9 yards passing, 4.7 completed passes, 9.5 incomplete passes, threw 7 interceptions, gave up 1.7 fumbles per game and punted 2.8 times.

Cyclone punters Mike Browning and Jim Melton maintained a season punting average of 36 yards per kick on 28 punts.

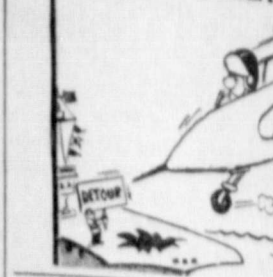

Radio Telethon To Raise Funds For Cancer Society

Following the tradition set last year, KBGH Radio Station, under the management of Jim Markgraf, will allocate three hours of prime time to education against cancer, according to Mrs. Floyd McIntush, Hall County Campaign Chairman.

All contributions should be mailed or delivered personally to Mrs. Floyd McIntush, 317 North Eight Street, Memphis; or to Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, 103 North Ninth St., Memphis.

The money raised will be used for the American Cancer Society Research, $1,533,000 of which has been distributed this year among Texas centers. drawn wagon for three patients and room for 2 or 3 attendants. During the Civil War, some boats were converted to ambulances. In St. Louis at one time, they had street-car ambulances that made connection with all of their hospitals and the first self-propelled ambulance was an electric motor ambulance in Chicago.

A few weeks ago at Rotary Club, Jerry Bursleson gave a report on our new City-County Ambulance Service now in operation. The new ambulance which was recently purchased was on display at the community building. This ambulance is really modern with the latest equipment and in conversation with Bob Spicer, I asked him the value of the new ambulance, and he said it was a 10 thousand dollar value, "but with help of workmen and donors to this project, it had a cost of about 5 thousand dollars". That cooperative spirit did the job and we are very thankful to live where that kind of spirit exists. This new ambulance is quite a jump from the first one horse litter.

I noticed an article in the Dallas News a few days ago with this heading: "Queen's Kin In Trouble". The Queen of England's uncle was fined for watering down the milk on his farm. The Queen's cousin had his drivers licenses suspended for using his Rolls Royce after his over drinking. The Queen's daughter, Princess Ann, who is fourth in line for the throne, had been charged two different times of breaking the speed law of 70 miles per hour. It seems that the relatives of the Queen who were in trouble had to pay fines assessed against them. I guess there is a little of family worries regardless of what country you may live in.

I had a short visit with Raymond Brumley the past week. He was on his way to Colorado Springs to visit his brother Met. They are son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brumley who were early-day residents of Hall County. There were 9 children in this family and of this number only four survive, Met of Colo. Springs, Duvall of California, Thelma of Childress and Raymond of Austin, where he has lived the past 40 years. He retired from Southland Life Ins. Co September 1 after working with and for them 38 years. His wife is Florence (Jones), the daughter of Mrs. A. B. Jones of Memphis, who has been blessed with several son-in-laws. Raymond said Florence is married to a grandpa as they now have three children and 9 grandchildren.

Our latest news from Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Harrison now of Holland. The first church they attended was "all Dutch" to them!

In the history of ambulances shown on television a few days by a medical historian, a lot of advances have taken place, as it showed the first ambulance was a one-horse litter, which was made of two poles for the outside sled runners with one mule or horse pulling it. Then came the camel ambulance with a basket balanced on each side of the camel and it would carry two patients. Next was the horse

A quote from "Today's Best Laugh": "A fellow complained about his wife's bargain hunting. 'She is buying this year's clothes with my next year's salary.'"

From "Earl's Pearls": "The zooming cost of living may finally prove that Columbus was wrong—the world will be flat."

I read an article in the daily paper which was circumstantial evidence and shows how wrong we can be sometimes on that kind of evidence: A lady in England riding the subway thought that some culprit in the crowded car had pinched her, but she could not see anyone that looked guilty; after getting off the subway and sitting down, she found the guilty one as the mouse ran out of her pant leg after biting her three times.

While watching the SC and UC- LA football game last Saturday night with the 93,000 fans attending the game, I came to the conclusion that the popcorn and drink concession should have a volume of business gross sales of 75 to 100 thousand dollars. This would be a pretty good retail business.

A remembered quote: "Toorow is always the busiest day of the week."

Our different countries of the world seem to be getting more intergraed as time marches on. Russia now has Pepsiola for a soft drink from the U. S. A. and the U. S. A. has Panda bears from China, also Japan now has the Panda bear and is in mass production of stuffed Pandas. The new disease now in Japan is "Panda-Mania".

We wonder if Mr. Kissinger has his naturalization paper complete as a citizen of Paris, France.

"May your days be abundant as the golden sheaves of corn; May your days all be as pleasant as the bright November morn. May your blessings be as many as the golden leaves of fall. And may Thanksgiving this year be your happiest of all."

We Are Grateful to Our Members

Rural and urban Americans once considered electricity a luxury. Now it is simply a vital necessity of day-to-day living

While we are pleased by this attitude, we do not forget for a moment the responsibility it entails. Our rural electric system assures a dependable, efficient supply of electricity to our consumer-owners at the lowest possible cost consistent with reliable service. And we are at work constantly to assure that this trust develops no broken link.

Our constant vigilance is even greater because of our direct responsibility to our consumers who are our member-owners, and elect from among themselves a Board of Directors to see that their electric system is properly guided. This is the cooperative way—one of the tried and proven ways of conducting private business under our diversified economic system.

One result of our direct responsibility to our members is an active attentiveness to the needs, electric and otherwise, of our consumers. We strive to help in the development of our service area in as many ways as possible.

We are gratified by this opportunity to be of service. We realize that a strong rural America benefits all America.

Memphis Downs Silverton 58 to 0

Memphis Cyclone wound up the 1972 gridiron season with a 58-0 victory over the Silverton Owls on a sleet covered Friday night before a sparse crowd of cold but game fans.

The game was a climax for the Cyclone as the Cyclone scored at will throughout the game rolling up 30 first downs and 400 yards total offense. Fowler had the best night career with 179 yards on 11 carries averaging 8.5 yards per carry.

The Cyclone scored on a 62-yard drive on six plays, and even gave a major penalty from the line of foul. FB Paul Fowler swept the Owls ends and carried into the end zone for 11 yards out for the Larry Don Johnson at the point after kick but missed the uprights. This was the Cyclone's first win in the first quarter.

The Owls took possession following the kickoff, aided by two carries against Memphis moved first down, but a major penalty against the Owls about a punting situation.

Melton fielded the Owls at the Memphis 32-yd. line and no return. FB Fowler consecutive carries, picking 33 yards to the Owls 35-yd. line. The Cyclone line was moving during the first quarter.

On the 35, FB Fowler got inside, and cutting back inside, he picked up 15 yards to the Silverton 20. Davis made five more, then added five for a first down on the 10. On the next play, he rammed his way over for the score. QB Browning and Larry Johnson teamed up for a two-point conversion and the score was 14-0.

That was the score at the end of the first quarter.

In the early minutes of the second quarter, the Cyclone struck again, scoring on a 53-yard drive in five plays. HB Don Davis scored from 24-yards out and Johnson added the point after making the score 21 to 0.

The Cyclone came into possession again on the Cyclone 37-yd. line following a Silverton punt, and the Cyclone offense ground out another TD. Highlighting this drive was an 11-yd. run by Jim Melton, a 14-yd. pass from Browning to Johnson, and the scoring carry, 18 yards by FB Fowler, with QB Browning bootlegging the ball over for the two-point conversion.

With the final minutes running out on the second period, the Cyclone offense really cranked up, even though the team had put 29 points on the board already.

The defense remained on its toes as Ronnie Browning grabbed a Silverton pass and was downed on the Memphis 45-yd. line. Six plays later Memphis scored.

QB Browning completed a look-in pass to James Beck, and the sophomore collided with an Owl defender, and the defender had to be escorted from the field. QB Browning four plays later, facing a third down and six situation from the Silverton 39, carried the football for 29 yards to the Silverton 10. On the next play, Browning bootlegged the football and raced into the endzone. Jim Melton added a two point conversion.

On the kickoff following the TD, Larry Johnson recovered a loose fumble on the Silverton 17 yard line. Four plays later, Memphis scored again. Fowler carried for four, then four more up the middle. Then, HB Davis swept left end and was knocked out of bounds at the four. On the next play, Davis scored on a dive play.

Johnson's PAT kick was wide and the halftime score was 43 to 0.

The Cyclone's halftime statistics read like regular game stats, 20 first downs, 295 yards rushing and 3 for 26 in the passing dept. Paul Fowler had 142 yards on 15 carries.

The entire third period of play was a defensive tussle, Memphis put two first downs together on one drive while Silverton put two first downs together.

Actually, the Cyclone got going in the fourth period when pass interference was called against Silverton giving Memphis the football on the Owls 35. Going to the Wishbone-T set, HB Larry Johnson carried three consecutive times for 20 yards, then Fowler carried on the trap play for four more. From the 11-yd. line, QB Browning passed into the fog at the flag across the field and those on the Memphis sideline couldn't see what happened, but the officials raised their arms signaling a TD. Moments later End Ronnie Browning re-appeared following a successful catch. FB Jim Dixon blasted over for the two-point conversion.

The final score of the night was made by Don Davis on a 20-yard scoring run on an end sweep. This climaxed a 63-yard drive in six plays. Fowler carried for 19 and 5 yards, Browning carried for 1, and Jim Melton carried for 7 during this drive.

From The World Of Science—

Energy From Sun May Heat And Cool Future Homes And Buildings In U. S.

Heating and cooling for homes and small commercial buildings will be the first important use of solar energy in the United States.

Solar energy, the most abundant form of energy available to man, was examined in a recent article by Allen Hammond, staff writer for Science magazine, the weekly journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The energy from the sun—light-hitting less than one percent of the land in the United States is more than enough to meet the total needs of the country until the year 2000. Sunlight is diffuse and intermittent, however, and large areas are required to collect and store enough energy for heating, cooling, or producing electricity.

Heating systems' solar collectors are usually black metal surfaces that easily absorb sunlight, and are covered with several panes of glass to reduce heat loss. A greenhouse effect is created by the glass which is transparent to incoming sunlight, but absorbs the longer wavelength radiation emitted by the hot metal. Hammond explained that the heat is collected in water or air that is circulated throughout the collector during the day. Some of this energy is stored for use at night or in bad weather. Already solar heaters are in commercial use in Florida and in several foreign countries.

The most difficult challenge is not heating or cooling (air conditioning systems are still in the preliminary development states), explained Hammond, but electricity. Some engineers favor small generating units located where the electricity will be consumed. They prefer the use of power turbines that operate at temperatures lower than those common in nuclear or fossil power plants. Others propose large solar-thermal facilities modeled after today's power stations.

Solar energy has the fewest environmental problems of any major energy source, said Hammond, but it is not faultless. Collecting surfaces absorb more sunlight than the earth. In household or other small-scale use this is not likely to alter local thermal balance. The large collecting surface of a central power plant might change the balance; the effects while expected to be minimal, will depend on local weather conditions.

The key elements of the necessary technology have not been perfected, but Hammond concludes that "we have been successful enough in the practical testing of solar energy to warrant both increased implementation and research efforts."

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin Attorney General of Texas

"I'm a consumer with a complaint. Who will help me?" Because there are so many things to complain about, and because there are so many state agencies to deal with, it's difficult for the consumer to know exactly who he should contact.

Many complaints come to my Consumer Protection Division which should go to another state agency. For example, my office receives complaints regarding insurance matters. The Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act, however, does not in any way apply to the insurance industry.

While such complaints are forwarded to the Texas Insurance Commission, the regulatory body in this area, an unnecessary time loss has resulted. By sending your complaint directly to the state agency having primary jurisdiction in the matter, you accomplish two things. You know that the proper agency is made aware of the problem, and, if necessary, can take precautions to prevent such practices in the future. Also, you are assured of having your complaint reviewed by a specialist in the appropriate agency who deals with similar problems every day.

County Agricultural Agent B. Hooser says the new has been used almost exclusively in commercial production, especially suited for areas where the soil is not adequate for growth.

Like so many other hydroponics has its good points. "The chief advantage that a large volume of plants always in contact with soil providing an adequate water nutrient supply," explains county agent. "The disadvantages, on the other hand, supporting the plant to providing oxygen for the...

Whether grown in soil or hydroponic culture, the requirements for plant growth the same, notes Hooser. The difference is in the way the nutrients are obtained from the soil source.

How expensive is this? The answer varies, depending on size and how elaborate the is. "The cost may be quite low if you are willing to use materials that can be adapted to this hobby," Hooser adds.

For a unique and fascinating activity, try hydroponics.

USDA Announces Major Provisions Of 1973 Upland Cotton Program

Major provisions of the 1973 Upland Cotton Program—aimed at improving the commodity's position in the market place—have been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz, according to Larry B. Rogers, executive director of the Hall County ASCS.

The program designed for 1973, Secretary Butz said, "takes into account today's cotton situation, and aims at providing a stable supply and maintaining adequate carryover stocks. The program should provide farmers with broader opportunities to diversify their operations by raising other crops, such as soybeans or grain sorghums, on formerly set-aside land in cotton. Thus they can capitalize on their individual farming skills and special resources."

The announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture includes the following major provisions: A national base acreage allotment of 10,000,000 acres; no cropland set-aside requirement as a condition of program eligibility; a national production goal of 12,075,000 standard bales of 480 pounds, net weight; a preliminary payment rate of 15 cents per pound.

USDA also announced that the sales price policy applicable to upland cotton owned by Commodity Credit Corporation and offered for sale reflects the same markups as those currently in effect, except that no quality will be sold at less than the loan rate for that quality plus 120 points (1.2c per pound).

The 1973 national average loan 19.5 cents per pound, basis middling 1-inch upland cotton (micronaire 3.5 through 4.9) net weight, at average location. This is the same as for the 1972 crop. "Adjustment of the national base acreage allotment to 10 million acres will improve cotton's position in the market place," Secretary Butz said. "At the same time, individual producers can increase their overall income by putting lands formerly in set-aside or in cotton into other crops that are currently in short supply."

Larger supplies highlight the current upland cotton situation. The Department has reported that sharply higher production this year will boost the 1972-73 supply 2 1/2 million bales, despite the nearly 1-million-bale decline in the beginning carryover from 1971-72. Thus, carryover stocks by Aug. 1, 1973, will likely total well over 2,000,000 bales above last August's 3.3 million bales. The 1972 crop is forecast at about 3.5 million bales larger than the 1971 crop, Rogers said.

This large increase reflects 15 per cent higher yields from 16 per cent more harvested acres. Growers responded to last spring's attractive cotton prices by planting additional acreage, and yields reflect favorable growing conditions across much of the cotton belt.

"This supply-price situation and the market outlook call for adjustment of provisions of our cotton program for 1973," Secretary Butz said. "Provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1970 require that the allotment be set at a level that the Secretary determines necessary to maintain adequate supplies. Elimination of the set-aside requirement will free about 2,000,000 additional acres of cropland on cotton farms for any crops that producers choose."

"This step is important for our cotton producers," the secretary said. He pointed out that a larger acreage of soybeans is needed in 1973, and this important crop is considered a good alternative in many areas of the cotton belt. Further, selective increases in the acreage of some grain crops are also needed.

"Cotton farmers have been shifting toward greater reliance on markets as a source of their income for the past two years by transferring allotments through the leasing process to areas where cotton can best be produced," the secretary said. "This enables producers in areas where the crop is not profitable to diversify, obtaining additional income from alternate land uses. The 1973 program will continue to allow such transfers."

"As in the past, any cotton farmer may participate in the 1973 Cotton Program by signing up and complying with his conserving base requirements. He may participate on any farm or all farms in which he has an interest."

Also as in the past, a producer's cotton allotment will be used to determine his program payment, but he will be free to plant the acreage that he decides upon after studying the outlook for supply, demand, price, and other factors, including profitability of other crops.

"Each producer should look at his alternatives and make a careful determination before planting extra cotton acres. Production costs are a factor as well as yield and price, and many farmers may find that they can more profitably produce other crops, the secretary added.

Secretary Butz also pointed out that the practice of forward contracting is important to cotton growers. In 1972 about 32 per cent of the upland cotton acreage was contracted ahead at very favorable prices—much of it in advance of planting time.

"Use of this approach provides producers with assurance of a locked-in price before the seed goes into the ground," Butz said. "It also contributes to stability of supplies and markets. This can mean benefits to both buyer and seller."

"The national production goal of 12,075,000 bales (standard bales of 480 pounds, net weight) is equal to the sum of the estimated domestic consumption and 474 marketing year which begins

Aug. 1, 1973, plus an allowance of five per cent of the total for market expansion," the secretary explained.

He said preliminary program payment of 15 cents per pound will be made to participants as soon after July 1, 1973, as is practicable.

Rogers pointed out that the final payment, together with the national average market price for middling 1-inch upland cotton, micronaire 3.5 through 4.9, in the designated spot-markets during the August-December 1973 period must equal the higher of (1) 35 cents, or (2) 65 per cent of parity as of the beginning of the marketing year, Aug. 1, 1973. However, the payment will not be reduced if the rate is finally determined to be less than the 15-cent preliminary rate. The payment is made on a quantity of cotton determined by multiplying the acreage planted within the farm base acreage allotment by the payment yield established for the farm.

The Agricultural Act of 1970 limits cotton payments to any producer to $55,000. This limitation (Continued next week)
