City Of Turkey Receives Grant From Gov't To Build 'Turkey City Park'

The City of Turkey has been awarded a grant, entitled "Turkey City Park" in the amount of $33,000.00, Cong. Bob Price reported Tuesday after he was notified by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Department of Interior.

The purpose of this grant is to acquire 10 acres of land and development of land and additional five acres of existing City Park including group shelter with rest rooms, camp site, picnic site, ball field, tot lot, tennis courts, multipurpose courts, bicycle trail, croquet courts, nature trail, landscaping and utilities. This park is to be located in Turkey, off Highway 86 in Hall County.

The City of Turkey has been assisted with the planning of the project by the North Rolling Plains, RC&D Project, which covers seven counties. Bill Brooks is the coordinator for this RC&D Project.

Doing the planning and engineering work on the Turkey Park project has been the Soil Conservation Service, with the Hall County Work Unit and area specialists from Pampa involved.

Henry Gregory, SCS conservationist, said, "The Soil Conservation Service has helped the City of Turkey plan this project working through the Soil Conservation District."

In order for the funds to be used, the City of Turkey must match the government grant making the total project worth $66,000.00.

Since harvesting has begun, some are reporting yields greater than expectations and estimations of the crop appear now to be over the 70,000-bale mark. It could be possible that this crop will be the second largest in the county's history.

In order to harvest a crop of this magnitude, farmers need to have about two months of dry, favorable weather, it is being estimated. With the crop about one-sixth out, it appears now that harvesting will go into February, with ideal weather conditions.

A survey of Hall County ginning points today revealed that the 1972 cotton crop is about one sixth complete, at the 12,525-bale mark.

Yields of from one-half bale to about two bales per acre are being reported as the harvest continues to be delayed. However, if Hall County can miss getting any more moisture, strippers could get rolling in almost all the fields.

The problem the past several days has been the extreme cold, with high temperatures recently in the low 20s. Farmers who have braved the cold temperatures to climb onto their tractors to strip, have tried to find clothing suitable for the conditions, but few things are as cold as an open tractor with temperatures well below freezing.

With weathermen predictions of more cold weather and possible snow the next few days, farmers have taken every available opportunity to get their crops out, whether it be cotton, hay or grain sorghum.

Much More Involved!

Diplomatic leaders see more than grain involved in the huge U. S. wheat sale to the Soviet Union; they expect the deal to have considerable impact on the overall economics of both countries, with even more trade being generated. The more optimistic are saying the experience of trade between the two countries will open the way for lasting economic ties and provide a permanent foundation for peaceful competition.

Soviet wheat purchases from the U. S. may continue two to five more years. Unfavorable weather in the Soviet is the immediate cause of shortages in the Kremlin grain bins, but the problem was compounded by built-in inefficiencies in the Russian agricultural system. For that reason, the Soviet buyers will likely return.

Russian grain production this year totaled about 160 million metric tons, some 30 million less than the official goal. To fill the gap, the Kremlin sent buying teams on two trips to the U. S. They purchased from American grain dealers what appears to be some 11 million tons of wheat, valued at $600 million; one million tons of soybeans, worth about $130 million; and six million tons of corn, valued at around $300 million. All this was done with such dispatch in the various grain markets of the U. S. that before the true size of the Russian purchases really became apparent, the deals were completed at prices considerably lower than would have prevailed if the magnitude of the purchasing had generally been known.

U. S. News & World Report recently compared the U. S. and Soviet agricultural systems. Some 40 million Russians are engaged in farming, 3.5 million in the U. S. In spite of the difference, American farmers produce 21 per cent more grain and twice as much meat as their Russian counterparts. Twice as many tractors and 80 per cent more fertilizer are used by U. S. farmers.

Secrets of the U. S. success and Soviet failure seem to lie in the free enterprise profit motive. Only about three per cent of Soviet agricultural land is in private hands, but U. S. News & World Report says that small segment last year produced 63 per cent of Soviet potatoes, 38 per cent of marketed vegetables, half the eggs and one-third of the meat and milk supply. Soviet leaders already are aware of this and as they continue to see tremendous capabilities of American agriculture, there is likelihood of changes in their system somewhere down the line. This could be the beginning of meaningful changes in the Soviet, changes that could soften the hard Kremlin line.

Working For POWs

Terry Anne Meeuwse, 23, is the first Wisconsin belle to win the Miss America title. A native of DePere, she attended St. Norbert College, where she majored in music and drama. For two years she sang with the New Cristy Minstrels and has made recordings in four languages. Her favorite non-musical activities are reading, swimming and snowmobiling. She supports a little boy in Thailand and is active in several charitable organizations.

Terry has long been a member of VIVA (Voices in Vital America). VIVA is an organization that concerns itself with prisoners of war and those missing in action (POW-MIA). After the Korean war, she pointed out, nearly 400 prisoners were left in Korea and to this day have not been accounted for. "I would certainly hate to see that mistake repeated," she said. "I feel it is our responsibility as human beings to show our concern and sorrow for the families of these men by doing more than sympathizing and offering our condolences. "If you are interested," she asked me to tell our Twin Circle readers, "the address of the VIVA is 1211 Westwood Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif."

Interviewing her shortly before the Presidential election, we asked her about her views on the situation in Vietnam. Replied Terry: "I feel it would be a serious mistake for us to pull out tomorrow and leave millions of dollars worth of military equipment in South Vietnam for the North Vietnamese to take over. Because if we leave, they will take over!" she insisted.

"I feel very strongly about Vietnam," she said. "I am against the war over there, or any war, as I think all human beings are. I am sure President Nixon dislikes it as much as I do. However, I am not so rash as to believe we can or should, pull out in ninety days."

sult that the mass transit people did not get their hands on it, but it was tied up to the point where the states cannot receive their allocations of federal highway money either.

In our case, it means that construction of the remaining north-east segment of our loop road around Perryton will be delayed because of lack of funds.

Ours is but a minute speck on the highway situation, but we do resent non-highway outfits grasping for highway money just because it is there and they figure they have the political muscle to grab it.

The big city people are trying to grab the highway money in order to build a rail system in cities. Cost of such projects is sky high and can't even be estimated.

We think highway money ought to be left for highways.
—Perryton Herald

At It Again

When Congress goes back to work on January 3, an unresolved issue will come up again between highways and railroads.

The rail transit people, backed by big city mayors who want mass transit money, are trying to bust the Highway Trust Fund and divert this money from highways to other forms of transportation.

They overlook the fact that the Highway Trust Fund contains money paid entirely by drivers who pay a special federal tax on every gallon of fuel they buy in order that this country can build and maintain first class highways.

The big city mayors also overlook the fact that a great many million dollars are spent in building expressways and interstates through expensive city property, serving to ease traffic congestion for metropolitan areas. This money comes from highway users.

In the session just concluded, Congress stalled out on the highway trust fund fight, with the re-

Memphis Public Schools have set the starting time for classes back one hour, from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m., with the noon hour coming from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m. The change was made, Supt. W. C. Davis said, because during short winter days, the early opening hour caused by wartime works a hardship on pupils from rural areas, forcing them to get up long before daylight to catch the bus. War time, during this period of the year, also has caused the Memphis Lions Club to hold its meeting from 1 to 2 p. m., the club voted last week.

automobiles, mobile homes, hunt-

Every time a person burns gasoline, kerosene, wood, natural or manufactured gas, coal, coke
or oil in a heater, car appliance, bonfire or grill, he has started a potential carbon monoxide factory. Hibachi grills, used with charcoal, are dangerous in closed-up areas. A car engine, running in an average-sized garage approximately five minutes, can produce a lethal concentration of carbon monoxide. Leaky mufflers or tailpipes can allow the gas to accumulate in a car-particularly one that is stopped.
The poison slowly gets into a person's bloodstream, rendering him weak and groggy and finally resulting in death unless the exposed person is moved to fresh air before it is too late. Hospitalization often is necessary for victims lucky enough to live-but lack of oxygen. Early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning include yawning, headache, nausea, dizziness, ringing in the ears and even abdominal pains.

A little bit of carbon monoxide can go a long way. It's an insidious killer. Its physical properties—no odor, taste or smell—
make it almost impossible to recognize unless you understand the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning. Then, once it is inhaled the gas invades the blood stream through the lungs and unites with the hemoglobin in the red blood corpuscles so they cannot carry oxygen to the cells of the body. Asphyxiation results.
It is so poisonous that it combines with red cells of blood 200 times more easily than oxygen.
So when oxygen and sizable amounts of carbon monoxide are breathed in together, carbon monoxide muscles the oxygen aside, causing illness. If oxygen is depleted sufficiently, death follows. Many deaths occur from faulty appliances, even though a window may be slightly opened.
At least 1,400 deaths are attributed in the United States each year to carbon monoxide poisoning. Some 10,000 persons suffer carbon monoxide poisoning. In Texas last year, at least 49 persons died from carbon monoxide poisoning, according to State Health Department statistics.
How do these deaths occur?
You think of the home as the most logical place—and it is—with some 70 percent of reported fatalties. Many people go to bed at night and never wake up, victims of a faulty flue or unvented heating device, water heater or even an old, unvented gas refrigerator.

But this summer in Texas carbon monoxide in a Lake Texoma pleasure cruiser claimed several victims... the fumes apparently brought into sleeping quarters by the air conditioner.
A young couple parked in a garage of a vacant house with the automobile motor running and heater on to ward off the cold were found dead—victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.
A newly-married couple—the husband a war veteran—checked into a motel on their married night. A faulty furnace, improperly vented, killed the young Marine veteran while he slept and sent his wife to a hospital.
Five persons driving in a car in Dallas—with air conditioning on and the windows rolled up—became so sick they were taken to a hospital.
At least sixteen persons died in one year from defective heaters in mobile campers. Deaths occurred in several states.
Yes, carbon monoxide is sinister. But it doesn't have to be fatal. With Texas in the midst of its fall and winter hunting season, hunters should check ventilation in their stoves and examine smokestacks and chimneys to be certain they aren't clogged with leaves or the nests of birds or squirrels.
In the home, make certain the damper is open before lighting
the fireplace. Have your gas refrigerator service-checked annually, even though newer models have improved control systems.
All furnaces, regardless of fuel type, should be checked and properly vented to the outside. Combustion chamber leakage is a serious hazard, particularly if old. Individual room type gas heating equipment should be vented. And, don't use the gas cooking range for heat.
Automobiles and trucks, as well as other gasoline engines, should not be run indoors for long periods—even with a garage door open. A charcoal grill or hibachi should be used only outdoors.
These are but a few life-saving tips. A person should always remember that anything which burns can give off death-dealing carbon monoxide and needs to be properly vented—or not used.

Physicists Say Noise Speeds Up Seed Germination

So often are the ill effects of noise on the environment mentioned that one may be surprised to know that properly directed noise may have some beneficial effect. In a series of experiments on turnip seeds, a team of two University of North Carolina (Greensboro) physicists exposed dormant seeds to broadband noise (20 to 20,000 cycles per second—the range of sound audible to people) to test the effect on seed germination rates.
One member of the team, Dr.
Gaylord T. Hageseth, at the Spring
Meeting of The American
Physical Society in Washington, D. C., reported: "We found that the seeds when exposed to broadband noise in the wet environment germinated at a much faster rate than in the quiet environment." Seeds in the dry state are not affected, added Dr. Hage-seth's associate, Dr. Gerald W.

Meisner. While working with a botanist and a chemist, the team was not able to confirm, however, the mechanism by which the speed-up process works.
The U. S. Department of Agriculture is interested in applying the acoustical technique towards growing two lettuce crops per year in hotter parts of the country. Time for a second crop planting usually comes when the soil is very hot, which prolongs lettuce germination to the point where growing the second lettuce crop would extend past the normal growing season. However, acoustically stimulating the seeds
could promote rapid germination which might work to permit harvesting a second crop before the growing season ends, thereby increasing the yield of lettuce fields.
Dr. Meisner also sees the prospect of ridding wheat fields of weeds by speeding up the sprouting of weed seeds. After the seeds start growing, they can be killed off simply by plowing the field. Wheat plantings can then be made and the field should be free of the pesty plants.

Psychologists Urge Measures For Dealing With Adolescent Drug Abuse

Adolescents are less likely to experiment with drugs if they receive accurate information about dangers connected with their use, a team of drug researchers has confirmed.

While drug education plays a major role in helping some teens and pre-teens decide about whether to turn on, other more suggestible youngsters are influenced merely by the availability of amphetamines, alcohol, glue, and other drugs.

The Rhode Island College Psychologists, who conducted a survey of 1,000 students in grades 8-12, presented findings on the cause and effect of drug abuse in the Rhode Island school system.

Speaking before a group of drug abuse specialists gathered in Honolulu during the 80th Annual Convention of the American Psychological Association, psychologists Joan H. Rollins and Raymond H. Holden urged a double-barreled approach to deal with widespread drug use.

Only through early education on the dangers of drugs and the identification of hard-core drug users in the school so they may be separated and given special help can the schools make headway against the problems created by drugs, Dr. Holden said.

In the confidential survey, students were asked what drugs they considered "dangerous," and how frequently, if ever, they used specific drugs.

Alcohol was reportedly the most available and most used drug, the psychologists found. Slightly more than 26 per cent of the students queried used alcohol more than twice a week. On the danger-rating scale, only 28 per cent of the students considered intoxicating liquor to be slightly dangerous. Marijuana was used regularly by 20 per cent of the sample, while only 3 out of 10 students considered it dangerous.

Drugs that were labeled dangerous by a majority of the students were heroin, LSD, and glue. Forty of the students admitted using heroin regularly, and 70 said they sniffed glue.

The survey gave credence to the speculation among behaviorists that the make-up of home life is a major factor in adolescent drug abuse. Students whose fathers are unemployed or absent from home had the highest frequency of drug usage. Young people who indicated poverty in the home had the greatest frequency of heroin and glue usage. For the children of professional men, marijuana was the most widely used.

"The implications of this report are that any programs aimed at prevention must begin in the elementary grades with particular thrust directed toward junior high school students," Dr. Holden told the meeting.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Cutting Meat Costs
Some homemakers are spending "more than ever" for meat, they complain. Part of the problem begins when the family starts eating more meat, according to W. B. Hooser, County Extension Agent.

A recent U. S. Department of Agriculture study on food consumption reported an increase from 3.37 pounds to 3.60 pounds in meat consumed per person each week over a 10-year period. That totals about eight or nine ounces per day for many people.

"In most cases, we only need four or five ounces each day, so it's obvious many of us are getting more than we need," the agent said. Cutting meat costs start with cutting amounts.

Also, buying more of the less expensive foods from the meat group can cut costs while providing nutrition. Examples are ground beef, poultry and fish. Another cost-cutting technique happens in the kitchen.

Try buying and cooking large cuts of meat such as ham or roast, which yield left over, and turn them into delicious casseroles, stews and homemade soups.

Looking at meat as a protein source and searching for some substitutes, homemakers also can turn to cereal and milk occasionally.

Four servings of enriched or whole grain cereals and two servings of milk daily will meet about half the body's protein needs, the agent concluded.

"Who Are You Helping?" "They need you help just to survive."

"A dollar means so little to you but it means so much to them."

Have you heard similar appeals lately? Of course you have, nearly everyone has.

But are such appeals legitimate? Often it is difficult to tell. Sometimes the request is virtually a swindle.

The Postal Inspectors were involved in the investigation of one of the biggest charity rackets of which I have heard. This involved a professional fund-raising organization which solicited from millions of persons throughout the United States on an annual basis for several years. Ostensibly they were seeking funds to help find a cure for crippling disease.

The investigation by the Postal Authorities disclosed that of approximately $22 million contributed by the public, nearly $11 million was earmarked for salaries and expenses. In addition, illegal kickbacks were given to the charity's officers.

While the dollars involved here are larger than most, the percentages are not unusual. We have received information where only 25 per cent of funds raised go the charity and the other 75 per cent goes to the fund raiser.

But this is not to discourage your support of charitable groups. Many are making important contributions in medical research, helping the handicapped, giving assistance to the elderly or to children unable to help themselves. Their work is worthwhile and it deserves your support.

However, you can and should be sure your contributions are effectively used. Before you donate, you should know the charity, its purpose and its past record. If you don't, check with your Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce. You can also ask for a financial statement from the organization.

Remember, the pictures on the literature may be appealing, but if you are not careful your money may wind up in the pockets of some rich promoter.

Cyclone, Skyrockettes Win Memphis Cager Tournament Sat.

The Memphis Cyclone scored a point basket in the closing seconds of the final game of the Memphis Inv. basketball tournament to defeat the Arnett team. Memphis had trailed the Cyclone in the first half, but in the last instance of the final buzzer and added more points giving Memphis a 40 victory for the tournament.

The Cyclone had been a tough opponent for all the teams, handing the Quail and Wellington teams the final against Memphis. Arnett's zone defense and rebounding almost made a sweep of the tournament, but the Cyclone, after a cold start, came on in the final quarter to claim the victory.

In the final stanza saw the Cyclone take the slack as Arnett came out of the quarter short end of the scoring points while Memphis put points on the board. Also, the team committed more in the final stanza after a clean first half of play.

The final stanza saw Memphis apply pressure to the team, as Browning was from the outside and Larry opened up with several baskets working inside. Johnson leading scorer with 24 while Arnett's Kenny Melton had 14 for Memphis. In the girls game for third place, Quail defeated Guthrie 68 to 48 as D. Pattie had 36 for Guthrie while Quail's L. Oatman had 31.

Most Residents Of Hall County Are Native Born

NEW YORK—What proportion of Hall County's population consists of native-born Americans and what part of people who have come here from foreign lands to make their homes in the local area?

To what degree has the new immigration law affected the makeup of the local population?

Because of changes in the law, eliminating the old quota system that had governed entry into this country for some 50 years, there has been a vast increase in the flow of immigrants.

According to the latest government figures, immigrants now account for about 17% if the annual growth in the United States population. In other words, immigrants make up 1 out of every 6 additions to the population.

By way of comparison, in the 1950's they represented only 9 per cent of the growth, or 1 out of every 11.

In Hall County, on the basis of data compiled by the Census Bureau, the proportion of native-born Americans is relatively high.

No less than 96.1% of the local population consists of families who have been in this country for three generations or more.

Elsewhere in the United States the comparable figure is 83.5% and, in the State of Texas 89.3%.

As for those of "foreign stock," they constitute only 3.9 per cent of the Hall County population.

This designation includes persons who were born in other countries and persons who were born in the United States to parents of foreign origin.

Since the new law was passed, in 1965, there has been a dramatic change in the number of people entering this country and the parts of the world from which they have been emigrating.

Whereas the bulk of them had been coming from Ireland, Canada, England, Germany and Scandinavia prior to that time, the new flow is mainly from Asia, Southern and Eastern Europe and the Caribbean.

In the 10 years ending with 1970, the number of legal entries was 3,322,000, which was nearly a third more than in the previous 10-year period.

The largest influx now is from Mexico, followed by the Philippines and by Italy.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Soil Test Problem Areas

Those poor stands in some field crops may be due to some thing other than fertility.

Most farmers have experienced or at least viewed areas in crop stands where growth is not up to that of the rest of the field. A soil test will determine if this is due to fertility or not.

W. B. Hooser, county agricultural agent, says this condition often shows up in crop, grain sorghum and soybeans. These spots are caused by a high pH or alkalinity of the soil. At levels above a pH of 7.5 iron is less available, so a deficiency may develop.

Iron chlorosis, as an iron deficiency is called, may occur in fields having spots of caliche outcroppings or with high alkalinity.

Thus, poor growth is not always due to fertility, notes Hooser. Instead it may be from the incorrect pH of the soil which may tie up the needed elements and minerals.

To a producer having these spots in his field, Hooser recommends sending a soil sample to determine the exact nature of the problem. The test sample should be of several composite samples from the good areas as well as the bad ones. With such a sample, a comparison can be made.

Send the soil sample to the Soil Testing Laboratory, College Stat-

 Most homeowners expect a big break on insurance next year. Exceptions are those who live in the 27-county coastal area.
 The industry-oriented Texas Insurance Association received the State Board of Insurance by 17.7 per cent in extended coverage (hail, wind, vandalism, etc.) rates and 12.1 per cent for homeowners' policy.
 The North-Northwest includes most of the Dallas and South Plains.
 The Association recommends the big Central Inland (Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Austin) included a 12.1 per cent in extended coverage and an 8.3 per cent in homeowners' policy.
 The Seacoast territory (Beaumont, Houston, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Brownsville) would get a 17.5 per cent in extended coverage and an 8.3 per cent in homeowners' policy.
 The Association proposal to free insurance rates statewide 7.7 per cent.
 Association spokesman estimated savings of $6 million for homeowners' insurance in Central Inland territory. Estimated increases of $8 million in extended coverage and $1 million for homeowners' insurance for the Seacoast territory.
 The 500 insurance agents who testified at the Board hearing on proposals expressed approval of the Association's recommendations. Board staff is awaiting decisions on its own formula or recommendations.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court agreed a re-trial is in order for a lawsuit against Union Carbide Company as a result of an explosion which killed two and injured two.

The Court of Criminal Appeals held a San Antonio man cannot complain about the exclusion of blacks from his murder trial jury since he agreed to the exclusion himself.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals held property owners in Wylie County School District should have the right to join the Abilene School District.

The Supreme Court threw out a district court injunction preventing a State Bar grievance committee investigation of complaints against a former Hill County district attorney.

A Houston Court of Civil Appeals held that heirs of a man who died in a Waller County hospital after an auto accident should get a full trial of a malpractice suit against a doctor who treated the wreck victim was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Attorney General Opinions

Deputy constables are authorized to carry guns only after they have completed a minimum amount of training, Atty. Gen. Crawford S. Martin held.

Martin's opinion, requested by Brazos County Attorney W. T. McDonald Jr., also stated that reserve deputy constables serve without pay at pleasure of the constable within the period of time authorized by the county commissioners court.

Martin reached these conclusions in other new opinions:

Harris County can operate a mental health center for the state but cannot change it into a county department by commissioners court resolution.

Gas Problems Told

Natural gas supplies are declining and producers are not meeting agreements, the Railroad Commission was told in a hearing last week.

The Commission is studying the possibility of setting priorities for gas distribution when there is a short supply.

One pipeline company claimed a chief supplier delivered little more than half the gas it agreed to provide. A company spokesman suggested homes and schools get first priority on the gas supply available, with second priority allocated to generation of electricity for domestic consumers.

Horse Racing Revival?

A Senate committee is conducting a survey, results of which admittedly may be used to bolster a new drive for pari-mutuel horse race betting.

The Senate Horse Racing Study Committee sent out 5,000 questionnaires to assess the horse industry and its economic impact on Texas.

Among questions asked of the horse owners and riding equipment suppliers is whether pari-mutuel wagering would expand their operations and how local lawmakers would vote on the issue.

The committee vice chairman said results of the survey "could be used to build an economic case" for wagering on horse races. A meeting of the panel is slated here Dec. 14 to hear opponents of racing and pari-mutuel gambling and to receive a report on potential state revenue from legalized wagering. Committee heads said a constitutional amendment would be necessary to revive pari-mutuel betting on the races.

Says
COUNTY AGENT

Your

Insulation Can Cut Fuel Costs

If you are building a new home, pay particular attention to the amount & type of insulation the builder is using, advises County Extension Agent W. E. Hooser.

Proper insulation can cut fuel costs this winter. And that's important, both from the monetary standpoint and the need to conserve energy, which is in low supply in many parts of the country.

The average 1200 square foot home being built in the United States today usually has two inches of batt type insulation in the sidewalls and three or four inches of insulation in the ceiling points out Hooser.

Proper insulation can reduce fuel bills by 30 to 40 percent compared to an uninsulated home. An extra amount of insulation can do an even better job of keeping costs down.

For instance, Hooser notes that installing a full six inches of insulation in the ceiling and three-and-a-half inches in the sidewalls of a home will save $20 to $40 per year in heating costs, depending on the type of fuel used.

Good insulation also saves on air conditioning costs in the summer and thus makes your home a more comfortable place in which to live, adds the agent.

How much extra costs is involved in adding this extra insulation? It amounts to about $100 in materials for a 1200 square foot home, says Hooser. Thus you can expect to get your money back in four or five years. So, in the long run, extra insulation is a good investment, contends the agent.

Texas has 100,857 miles of gas pipelines.

Texas Legislature Passes Law—

New Lighting And Brake Requirements For Cotton Trailers Issued By DPS

According to a recent analysis by the Department of Public Safety following enactment by the special session of the Texas Legislature, the new lighting and brake requirements for cotton trailers have been explained in detail.

The new law replaces one passed in August, 1971, which caused much concern among farmers, especially as they used cotton trailers to haul last year's crop to gins.

The specific provisions for cotton trailers are listed below:

Trailers under 15,000 pounds gross weight when operated during the daytime with visibility more than 1,000 feet:

1. Trailers less than 80 inches in width and under 30 feet in length: two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear.

2. Trailers less than 80 inches in width and more than 30 feet in length: one amber reflector on each side centrally located on trailer body; two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear.

3. Trailers more than 80 inches in width and under 30 feet in length: two amber reflectors, one on each side near the front; two red reflectors, one on each side near the rear; two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear.

4. Trailers more than 80 inches in width and more than 30 feet in length: two amber reflectors, one on each side near the front; one amber reflector on each side centrally located on the trailer body; two red reflectors, one on each side near the rear; two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear.

New Brake and Lighting Requirements for Cotton Trailers—222222.

Trailers that are operated at night and when visibility is less than 1,000 feet are required to have the following electric lights and reflectors:

1. Trailers more than 80 inches in width and under 30 feet in length: two amber clearance lamps on front, one on each side near corner; two amber side marker lamps, one on each side near front; two amber reflectors, one on each side near front; two red side marker lamps, one on each side near the rear; two red reflectors, one on each side near the rear; two red stop lamps, one on each side on the rear; two red tail lamps, one on each side on the rear; two red reflectors, one on each side on the rear; one white lamp on rear to illuminate license plate; electric turn signal lamps on rear; two red or amber flashing hazard warning lamps, one on each side on rear.

2. Trailers more than 80 inches in width and more than 30 feet in length: all lamps described for shorter trailer plus: one amber reflector on each side centrally located on trailer body; one amber side marker lamp on each side centrally located on trailer body.

(A combination lamp will fulfill several lighting requirements. For example, one lighting unit is available to fit on the corners of the trailer body which furnishes front and side clearance and marker lamps.)

The requirement for the three identification lamps was eliminated from the law.

Brakes are not required on trailers up to 15,000 pounds gross weight when operated under 30 miles per hour. The combination of trailers and towing vehicle must be capable of stopping within 50 feet when traveling 20 miles per hour. Slow Moving Vehicle emblems are required only on trailers towed by vehicles which by design go slower than 25 miles per hour (trailers towed by pickup trucks would not require the SMV emblem; those towed by tractors would have to have the SMV sign.)

Trailers weighing over 15,000 pounds gross weight require brakes on all wheels. Trailer owners are urged to check their vehicles, installing new equipment if necessary in order to conform to the 1972 law. For information about the new enactment, trailer owners can contact the nearest Department of Public Safety office.

"WHAT MAKES YOU THINK THEY'RE SEGREGATED?"

Emergency Loan Benefits Are Listed By FHA

Texas farmers and ranchers who have suffered crop, livestock or property losses for a disaster since June 30, 1971, are eligible for benefits from Public Law 92-385, J. Lynn B. Administration—Texas, announced early this week.

Provisions of this law, signed by President Nixon Aug. 16, are now fully operative, said.

Benefits are divided into time frames:

1. Farmers and ranchers received loans from the Home Administration as the result of losses due to a natural disaster that occurred between June 30, 1971, and Dec. 31, 1971, may be eligible for a cancellation of up to $5,000 of the principal of the loan. Interest on the remaining loan would be 3 per cent.

2. Those who received loans as the result of losses from a disaster that occurred after June 30, 1971, are eligible for a cancellation of up to $5,000. Interest on the outstanding balance will be charged at 1 per cent.

Futch emphasized that it is necessary for those who are entitled to benefits to contact local FHA office. These blanket provisions apply to all who have received loans, each will be contacted and of the action he should take.

Futch also advises that any farmer or rancher who received an emergency loan from the Home Administration between June 30, 1971, and June 30, 1973, may be eligible for a cancellation of the cancelled, with the balance 1 per cent interest rate. Amount of cancellation is limited to the loss or damage not compensated by insurance or otherwise.

Reddy Bargain Time

Every minute of every day, your electric clock indicates with visible proof, the precision and dependability of electric service.

It's dependable, because electricity operates the clock faithfully — 24 hours a day. It's precise, because our electric system operates in time with a master clock at the U.S. Naval Observatory, keeping your clock in step, down to the second.

Your clock operates a whole year on about 43 cents worth of electricity...one of the bargains you get with your electric service.

Today, the average residential customer uses nearly twice as much electricity as he did in 1962. But the average cost of a kilowatt hour is 15% less now than it was ten years ago.

Thoughts from a hospital bed—having observed the performance of our local hospital and one of the best in Houston during recent weeks, I have concluded that our Hall County Hospital Board, Administrator Don Curl, and the entire hospital staff can be proud of the service they render. And the people of Memphis are still warm-hearted and kind. And I couldn't say enough for Benzy Estes, brother of my neighbor, Mrs. Jo Ann Crawford, for all the help and attention received while in Houston.

Cyclone note—football has given way to "patty" ball, and Coach Jimmy Pope has a fine group to work with. They have reasonable height, a lot of native ability, and are willing to work hard. If they can gel as a team by eliminating some of the desire for individual recognition that was observed last year, they will be definite contenders for the district crown. Morris Davis has had complimentary schedules printed. Pick one up and attend the games. This is the best way you can support the coaches and the players.

It isn't being busy that counts—it's what you get done.

When the legislature convenes in January for the 63rd session, half of the lawmakers will be freshmen. A great many of the old ones are sincere, dedicated men, but it is our opinion that they have been in a minority. Let's hope that enough of the old reliables like Senator Jack Hightower can lead so that hasty, ill-conceived, chaos-producing laws such as the recent tort liability act will be avoided.

Johnson I think was his Christmas decorating home which is always very like a professional decorator or landscaper. He is also very professional in trimming shrubs and also in stacking cord wood for the fire. Another early bird on decorations that will please the was Donnie Spicer with Last Saturday was an ideal doing the outdoor decorations. I noticed Thomas Clayton his rooftop decorating lights and figures.

others I noticed in the were Hal and Ruby stringing lights and the tree top on that tree. One of them was the ladder for the one was doing the decorating. hard to distinguish which.

walking to Abe and Ida Anis a few days ago, Ida said they home after several to fix the roof on their and I did caution Ida to Abe hold the ladder when mounted the roof!

new mornings ago I took to listen to a part of Dinah show when she had as a Sen. Proxmire of Wisconsin the doctor who gave him a complaint of hair on his head. I figured it up and each of the transplanted hairs was at $150. Some of us do have a very valuable inside the head, but if we count the rooted hairs, we will find the number of good that we have a very valuable.

was telling this story to Inez and Mrs. Bud Richardson for coffee table and looking over. Inez wanted to know many hairs she had on her for value. I gave her a guess for her and Mrs. Richardson of 10,000 and at $150 they would have very valuable. We could add more value by adding shampoos hair sets they have had for years.

sometimes we evaluate our too cheaply when we do get a complete inventory of lives.

the head of an 80-year-old besides the value of each in that length of time, he turned out four barbers, also cut about 350 shears and after all of this

Liz and their daughter Beth were there for 13 months. Beth is now almost 2 years old and spent over half of her life in a foreign country.

Some of you might not know Rodney now when you meet him as he has grown a good mustache. So, I guess he is off his buttermilk.

D. R. Kelly was by Heritage Hall last Saturday and asked me if I wanted to help buy a young lady a pair of shoes. Said it was for a teenager doing down the street barefooted. I asked him if it was the girl that had on shorts that pretty day and he said, "That's the one". So I told him that girl did not need any shoes as she had 7 or 8 pair at home, but just wanted to enjoy the fresh air and sunshine and the good earth.

While visiting in our local retail stores last Saturday, I found that stocks are full and ready for a lot of shopping for gifts for baby up to 100 years old. I believe we have ample stocks to select from that would be comparable to a town of 15,000 people. After 10 weeks with his leg in a cast, Billy Thompson was in a wheel chair watching his wife and sons do the selling and watching and listening to the cash register ring. That ring is sweet music to a merchant.

Another observation I made was that Mildred Brewer still has the knack of wrapping pretty gift packages. Also noticed that Mollie Carlos was very careful when tearing a piece of that pretty foil paper for gift wrap as she did not want to go over the size sheet for that box as she knew the cost of that roll of foil paper.

I will try to shop around some more in the stores the next few days and see how the "Jingle Bells" of the cash registers are doing.

Visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bell of Wellington; and along with them was Mrs. Bell's brother, Coy Jones from Anchorage, Alaska, where he has been with a computer service for the past six years. Coy was born in Memphis in 1925. He and Mrs. Bell, who was known in school as Gladys Jones—Their parents (now deceased) were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones. This family moved from here in 1938. There were nine children in this family. Now living are Neta Bell of Sunnyvale, Calif., Leonard of San Mateo, Calif., Arthur of Tucson, Ariz., Donnie of El Centro, Calif., Saleta of San Jose, Calif., Lois of Milpitas, Calif., Gladys of Wellington and Coy of Anchorage, Alaska. He has one son who also lived in Alaska. Since leaving Hall County, Coy has lived in Maderia, Calif., Portland, Oregon, San Francisco, two years in the Armed Service and on to Alaska. He says 20 degrees below is not so bad in Alaska.

The last report I hear on "Peace Talk" was that Mr. Kissinger was going back to Paris this week and there was a possibility of the peace treaty being signed between Dec. 12 and Dec. 15, but they did not say what year.

Our thanks to the Delphian Club the past week for their contribution to Hall County Heritage Hall.

A quote: "December is 24 days of buying, one day of giving and receiving, and six days of exchanging."

Christmas season is a time for surprise packages and Hall County Heritage Hall had a surprise gift this week. On the gift card with this beautiful rubber plant was "In memory of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jones" who were early day residents of Hall County. This gift was from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turrentine and family of 934 Burchwood Lane, Schenectady, N. Y., zip 12309. Mrs. Turrentine will be remembered by many of you as Elwanda Jones, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jones, and a graduate of MHS. Our thanks to this family for this memorial at this season of the year when we all have found memories of our childhood days when we hung up our stockings for Santa Claus to fill with nuts, candy, apples and oranges to put a bulge in the stocking.

A quote: "We're heading toward the Christmas season when kids wear a halos and money has wings."

That old look on Shirey Patrick's face this week was caused by being married to a great-grandma.

The past week has been ideal for stripping this good cotton crop that was in the field. I visited one man in the hospital who had a little hard luck; as he was stripping, he stripped his two middle fingers of his hand and gave a blood stain to a bale of cotton.

I was talking to Jim Morrison of Estelline on one of the pretty days for getting his crop out and he made the remark that he did not have a bale of cotton pulled this year and was not in any hurry because it was so close to Christmas. I think he was afraid his wife might go shopping and spend the crop. This is the man I found shopping for his wife's Christmas present last year and he was buying a pair of slacks that would fit him.

In talking to C. L. Benson a few days ago, I came to the conclusion that when you get up at night to go to the bathroom, you had better be sure and go in at the right door as Mr. Benson went in the basement door instead of the bath; and after rolling down the stairs (there was no elevator) he found it was hard to get back up the steps. He was lucky not to be in the hospital with broken bones.

RECEIVES PLAQUE—J. H. Davis Division Manager of GTC, is shown above as he receives his 35-Year service plaque from Frank Morris (right), GTC's Area Operations Manager. Morris made the presentation in behalf of W. A. Leigon, Area Manager, who could not be here Wednesday for the banquet.

over the Esteline team. Earl Wright scored 18 and Charles Bryley had 16 for Memphis while Esteline's Vernon Abram scored 14 for the Bears.

Quannah Game

Tuesday night the Cyclone extended its season winning streak to seven games with a 59 to 53 victory over the Quannah Indians. Quannah had shown a lot of improvement over their season opening effort against Memphis earlier in the year.

Coach Jimmy Pope said that the officiating in the game was a little different than normally encountered since two young men from Midwestern University were officiating and they called the game extremely close in open court but liberal under the baskets. Fans who have watched college basketball will recognize this as standard.

"We had to adjust to this or lose our front men via the foul route," Coach Pope said. "Fortunately both guards for Memphis were able to finish the game with four fouls apiece."

"Quannah had two lads we had to guard real close or they would drive for lay-ups."

Larry Johnson scored 24 for Memphis, while Mike Browning scored 13, Ronnie Browning 11, Lenis Simpson 6, James Beck 2 and Donny Scott 3.

Claude Fowler, T. B. Rogers, Colin Craghead, Roy Rea, Brigham Young and Johnny Hancock.

Mrs. Carl Harrison, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. John Alderman and daughter of Dallas, arrived in Memphis Monday. Mrs. Harrison has been gone for the past two weeks, enjoying a week's vacation in Arapulco, Mexico. She was accompanied on the trip by a cousin, Mrs. Laura Finch of Dalhart. After returning to Dallas, Mrs. Harrison helped her daughter and family move into their new home.

a. m. Thursday, Nov. 30, in Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

Walter K. Wynn was born Sept. 27, 1932, at Parnell and was a graduate of Hedley High School. He worked as a gas pump repairman and was a veteran of Air Force service in the Korean War. Mr. Wynn had been a resident of Iowa Park for five years and was a member of the Faith Baptist Church there.

Survivors include: his wife, Lila Belle; two daughters, Pamela and Brenda Wynn, and one son, Bradley, all of the home; two stepsons, Roger Neifert of Norwalk, Iowa, and Gregory Neifert of Iowa Park; a stepdaughter, Sandra Neifert of Iowa Park; his mother, Mrs. Vera Mae Saunders of Hedley; his stepfather, A. M. Saunders, also of Hedley; one brother, Jay Warren Wynn of Deming, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. Wiley White and Mrs. Don Younce, both of Amarillo; two stepbrothers, Hubert Saunders of Amarillo and J. C. Saunders of Follette; two stepsisters, Mrs. Troy Marsh of Dallas and Mrs. Mickie Breedlove of Wellington; and three grandchildren.

Pall bearers were F. L. Hill, Homer Hill, Bill Collins, W. E. Hill, John Hill, Jr. and Jay Arnold.

GTC Employees—

four others received 20-year certificates of service.

From Memphis, Mrs. Faye Darnell, an operator here, received a 25-year plaque, while M. L. Van Arsdal, division service office manager, Bob Douthett, division service facilities manager, and F. J. (Bud) Richardson, plant foreman, all received 20-year certificates.

The other six recognized were from the Memphis and Guyton, Okla., Divisions of General Telephone.

Employees, their wives, and guests all enjoyed a delicious dinner of baked Cornish game hens, dressing, sweet potatoes, dressing gravy, hot rolls and dessert.

chase certain equipment and facilities for the school's athletic program. Projects must be approved by the school board, as is the case with the Cyclone Boosters Club (predominately a man's organization).

The Cyclone Mothers Club and the Cyclone Boosters Club both meet together to view football films, financed by the Boosters to aid the program, then have separate business sessions following these meetings.

Since mothers of the girls were acting independently in sponsoring the banquet for sons and husbands this morning was in error in referring to Cyclone Mothers Club as sponsor.

Memphis Cagers—
