Revenue - Sharing Checks Are Arriving At County, City Offices

County and city officials reported receiving first checks under the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 from the federal government early this week.

County Judge E. (Gip) McMurry reported Hall County received $29,300.00 for the period of Jan. 1, 1972 through June 30, 1972, and that Edward A. Fox, director of the Office of Revenue Sharing, said that the check for the second half of 1972 should arrive later next month.

City Secretary A. L. Galley reported the City of Memphis received $19,142.00.

It was also reported that both the county and city governing bodies, the Commissioners Court and the City Council, have not earmarked expenditure of these funds at this time.

Among the regulations governing the use of the funds by state and local governing bodies, is one which requires the reporting of how the funds are used and the publication of this information.

"Revenue sharing is a new and exciting experiment, returning funds to local communities to be spent for local priority purposes and under local control. Its success will depend upon how wisely and effectively the recipient governments administer the programs," Director Fox said in his letter.

Also accompanying the checks was a letter from President Richard M. Nixon concerning the establishment of the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972.

Forthcoming will be the government forms which will have to be filled out.

According to the information received, during 1973 to 1976, payments will be made on a quarterly basis.

The selection of how the funds will be spent is up to the respective unit government, but most cities and counties throughout the nation are looking upon the federal windfall money with a "handle with care" attitude. It could certainly be unwise to rely upon such money for regular operating expenditures.

Many governmental bodies are making plans along strictly capital expenditures for the funds on a per project basis.

The City of Memphis last summer did one-third of the needed street repair work (south part of the city) even though members of the City Council wanted to re-

District 2-A Cager Play Begins, Memphis Plays Valley High Tues.

District play opened for the Cyclonettes Tuesday night as the local girls played host to the Bronchoettes of Clarendon in the MHS gym.

Stingy defensive play and consistent offense led the Cyclonette to a 59 to 31 victory over Clarendon getting the local girls off to a winning start in the tough district loop.

Next Thursday night, Dec. 21 (note a date change from the posted schedule cards) the Memphis Cyclone and Cyclonettes will host Wheeler teams in the third round of district action.

The Cyclone was open in district play Tuesday due to Clarendon's football commitment and this game will be re-scheduled at a later date.

The Memphis B team girls defeated Clarendon 40 to 7.

In a last minute arrangement, Memphis boys met Paducah boys for the third time this year Tuesday night, and the local team was not as fortunate the third time around.

No third time charm seemed to be working for the Cyclone in the first half, as Paducah held a 22 to 8 edge and went on to win the game 48 to 32.

Actually the Cyclone was able to pull within 8 points during the final stanza after trailing by 12 at the end of the third period of play.

Whitener and McGruder each had 13, while Larry Johnson had 20 points for Memphis.

The Cyclonettes jumped out to a 12 to 1 first quarter lead over Clarendon. Mark Beck scored 25 points, Kathy Carmen 13, Kay Murdock 11 and Mickie Henderson 8.

Coach Bain substituted freely throughout the contest.

District Opponents

In discussing the upcoming district races with local coaches and others, several teams appear at this point to be in hot contention and some pre-Christmas holiday contests may prove crucial.

Memphis girls will face their first stern test when they travel to Turkey next Tuesday night, Dec. 19, to meet the Valley High girls. This team is a combined group of Turkey and Quitaque girls, both strong Class B girls teams last year and combined, the team is highly respected in the Class A district. Their pre-district record is in enviable as Valley High's two girls teams, varsity and junior varsity, captured first and second places in the Salt Fork Classic at Clarendon.

McLean girls and Claude girls (the defending state champions of last year) are highly talented this year.

The Cyclone will open district play against Valley High Tuesday.

In the boys bracket in district, Memphis, Wellington, Claude and possibly Clarendon, and a small, quick Wheeler team make this race one difficult to predict. Fans will also remember that last year, Silverton was another team which must be reckoned with. Valley High and McLean appear to be the lesser teams.

Clarendon was originally scheduled to play but their teams have withdrawn; so Wellington will probably use their B teams. Also, it was announced this week that the Memphis B team tournament will not be held this weekend. B team boys and girls games will be played Thursday night in the Cyclone gymnasium between Memphis and Clarendon.

Memphis Teams Are Competing In Wellington

Memphis teams competed early today in the Wellington tournament with the Memphis girls playing Quail at 9 a. m. and the Cyclone meeting the Shamrock Irishmen at 10:30 a. m.

Teams competing in the tournament besides Memphis, Quail and Shamrock, are Paducah, Sannorwood, Wellington, Quanah boys and the Hedley girls.

Clarendon was originally scheduled to play but their teams have withdrawn; so Wellington will probably use their B teams.

Also, it was announced this week that the Memphis B team tournament will not be held this weekend. B team boys and girls games will be played Thursday night in the Cyclone gymnasium between Memphis and Clarendon.

WALK WHEN ICEY—When you are in Junior High, as these pictured above, and the tennis courts are covered with one-half inch of ice, as they were Tuesday morning before the school bell rang, then it is only natural to see how far you can slide. Memphis got .20 of an inch of moisture from Monday night's sleet.

Harvesting Continues Despite Bad Weather

Unbelievable as it might seem, considering the weather conditions the past seven days, County farmers gathered 17,647 bales of cotton during that period. This brings the season's total to 17,647 bales according to a telephone survey of ginning plants this morning.

When ice particles, fog, sleet, snow flakes and very cold rain in general has been the rule, but even with these conditions, precipitation was measured only .20.

Although Memphis received between a quarter and a half inch of sleet Monday night, some of it has not melted off, the temperature was only one-fifth of an inch.

The remarkable thing is that farmers were able to get about half as much cotton as would have if conditions had been favorable.

Another cold front pushed its way through this area today, and now, only a few snow flakes fallen. Weathermen indicate weekend weather should be favorable for harvesting.

Classing Report
Cotton harvest in the Memphis area continued to gain momentum despite low temperatures which discouraged outdoor work, according to W. E. Cain, in charge of the USDA, Agriculture Marketing Service, Cotton Classification Office.

The Memphis office classed 16,000 samples to bring the season total to 35,100. This compares to 35,000 on the same date a year ago.

The predominant grade classed this week was Strict Low Middling (41) with 41 per cent, followed by Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) with 22.9 per cent, Low Middling (51) with 13 per cent and Middling Light Spotted (32) with 10 per cent.

The predominant staple classed last week was 32 with 48 per cent followed by staple 31 with 42 per cent.

Micronaire, fineness and maturity, readings showed 83 per cent miked in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9 and 14 per cent miked 3.4 and below.

Pressley, strength, tests showed 86 per cent of the samples tested 75,000 psi or higher.

The cotton market was active and prices steady until late in the week when prices advanced about 50 points on the most active qualities traded. Some average prices on cotton sold were: Strict Low Middling (41), staple 31, 24.00 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling (41) 32, 24.50 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42), staple 31, 22.50 cents per pound. This was for cotton miking 3.5 to 4.9.

The average price paid farmers for cottonseed at the gin was $50.00 per ton.

Grand Opening Of The Country Store Set For Friday

Grand Opening of The Country Store will be held Friday, Dec. 15, according to the owners, Barron and Debbie Smith, who have moved here from Dallas. The firm is located at 566 Noel Street, on the south side of the square.

"We decided to leave the city and return to a small town, and what better town to come back to than your own hometown—Memphis," Smith said in announcing the opening of the new store. "Friday is the big day, and we would like to invite all of you to our Grand Opening."

With the invitation, he stated gift certificates worth $50.00, $25.00 and $15.00 would be given away. "Just come in and register. The store will be open every night until 8 p. m.," Smith said.

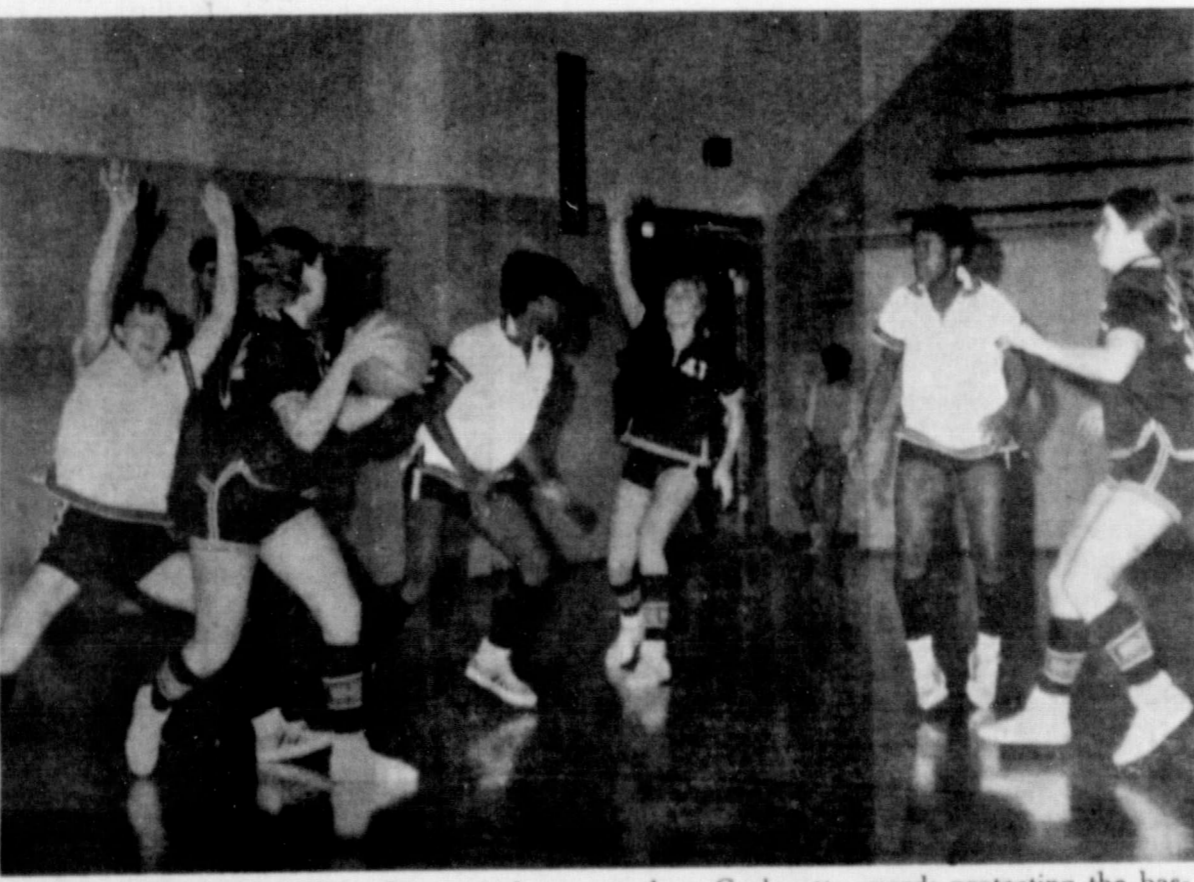

Before moving here, Smith was vice president of Jean's In, a clothing store in Dallas. Mrs. Smith is a native of Terrell. She recently served as area manager of a Jeans shop in Dallas.

Barron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe, and moved to Dallas several years ago.

The owners stated that they were stocking the largest selection of "his" and "her" fashion wear in this area. Jeans will be featured, but hundreds of other items are available.

Taxes Will Never Be The Same!

This week, municipalities and a county governments received their first checks from the Federal Government under the Revenue Sharing Bill passed by Congress and approved by President Nixon last year.

Hall County's share for the first six months was $29,300.00, and the City of Memphis and other Cities of this area also received their checks.

It now appears to us that this revenue will possibly mean a lessening of the property tax burden in cities and counties throughout the nation, even though funds are not meant to allow local governments to reduce taxation by any means. What will probably be the case is that no new taxes will be asked for by these smaller governmental units in providing needed facilities and services.

But one major property tax requirement, public schools, is not, nor will be, part of the Federal Revenue Sharing bill as it stands on the books.

Texas faces one real problem in what to do about raising tax dollars to finance public education in this state since a Federal Court has ruled the old system is unconstitutional.

The Fort Worth Star Telegram in a recent editorial quoted John A. Gronouski, dean of the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs in Austin as pinpointing the problem by saying that until this state finds a way to tax local property uniformly and equally throughout the state, then troubled waters are going to get more turbulent.

The Texas Research League in a November bulletin spotlights the situation farther:

"Under the Texas Constitution, all tangible and intangible property is taxable at its actual market value, but no school district tax assessor follows that standard."

Treatment of tangible personal property such as automobiles, household furniture and appliances, farm machinery, boats, and an endless variety of other items is irregular, to say the least. Intangible property, such as stocks, bonds and bank deposits almost never taxed, although some estimates suggest that such intangibles constitute more than half of the actual property wealth.

"Under such conditions," the Texas Research League concludes "the property tax has become virtually a local option tax under which school district officials are free to decide what shall be included on the tax roll and at what percentage of true value."

The broad disparities in local property tax resources and taxing effort combine with the state's Minimum Foundation Program to produce a total system characterized by substantially unequal funds available to local school districts of similar size.

Out of all of this came the federal court decision which holds that the wide variations in local taxing produce unreasonable and intolerable inequities in combined state-local funds among school districts. If the court ruling is upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court, which seems likely, then any new plan of finance which allows local taxing agencies freedom to assess and tax at their discretion will no doubt be turned down.

All that remains would be a state-wide assessment and collection according to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram editorial. Should this occur, things will never be the same again, for there would be no rich school districts nor poor ones.

Weather Makes 1972 History!

Talk about the Roaring 20s, the Depression 30s, the Warring 40s, Drouhty 50s, Souring 60s, but so far the 1970s have been dominated by the weather, from one extreme to the other.

In 1970, the Southwestern U. S. suffered a terrible drought, broken late in 1971 in time for this area, anyway, to get out a respectable 1971 crop, after the disastrous 1970 yield.

Then came 1972, a good, wet year with good crops, but again Mother Nature plays a cruel trick.

Reports are coming in from all over the Southwest that bumper crops of corn, maize and cotton are ruining in the fields which have become soggy with unseasonal rain and snowfall.

Here in Hall County, even the old timers can not remember when there has been so much snow this early in the winter. Many winters pass with this area catching only three or four snowfalls all winter long. November saw five snowfalls; and December, so far, has been just as bad, if not worse.

Temperatures have gone day after day without the mercury climbing above the freezing mark. Farmers have had to climb on their strippers and face bitter cold winds. Actually, there have been only three days since the frost when harvest conditions were mildly favorable.

The cold temperatures have also taken their toll as far as sickness is concerned. As long as icy conditions exist on the streets and highways, it behooves us all to drive with care and restrict our travelling to a minimum.

Politics Continues

Although the election is over we still have politics and politicians. This week we received an interesting news release. It tells the makeup of the next Legislature. According to the article, there was more than a 50 percent turnover in the House of Representatives, but five "old timers" were re-elected with a total of 104 years of service to the people of Texas.

The five old timers and their tenure of service are: Menton J. Murray of Harlingen with 24 years; Ben Atwell, Dallas with 22 years; L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi with 20 years; Richard C. Slack of Pecos with 20 years; and W. S. Bill Healy of Paducah with 18 years service.

Republicans are becoming more numerous in the Texas Legislature. There will be three Republican Senators and 17 House members in the next Legislature. Seven of the Republicans are from Dallas and seven are from Houston.

In the last Legislature there were only three blacks. In the next session there will be eight blacks.

In another category the feminine representation in the Legislature will rise from two to six. They are Betty Andujar, in the Senate, and Kay Bailey and Senfronia Thompson of Houston, in the House; and House members Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas, Chris Miller of Fort Worth, and Sarah Weddington of Austin.

An interesting aspect of the next Legislature was revealed in the news article. According to the story the Senate will have 18 conservatives, 4 moderates and 9 liberals. The House will have 76 conservatives, 47 liberals and 27 uncertain. The article pointed out that conservative-liberal labels of the past no longer apply. It said "conservative members now tend to be more liberal than in the past."

And although the last election was a rough year on the incumbent members of the Legislature, ten House members succeeded in being promoted to the Senate. They were Don Adams, Jasper; Bob Gammage, Houston; Walter Mangden, Houston; Jack Ogg; Houston; Bill Braecklein, Dallas; John Traeger, Seguin; Grant Jones, Abilene; Nelson Wolf, San Antonio; Raul Longoria, Edinburg; and Tati Santiesteban of El Paso.

Texas is still Democratic; as far as the Legislature is concerned. With three Republican Senators out of 31; and 17 House members out of 150, it seems the Republicans have a long way to go. But who knows what will happen, they came close to electing a Republican Governor in the last election.

Scientist Reports Renewed Hope For Cancer Vaccine

A possible step toward a chemical vaccine against cancer is being worked on at The Salk Institute, in San Diego. Unlike most vaccines, it is a synthetic chemical, constructed to resemble a chemical on the surfaces of cancer cells. In the initial experiments, this chemical stimulated enough immunity to delay the development of tumors in mice that were given cancer.

It had generally been thought that vaccination against cancer would not be practical, since there are so many kinds of tumors. A different vaccine would be necessary to protect against each type. However, it was reported in the last few years that virtually all tumor cells have on their surfaces a chemical structure that reacts in laboratory tests with a certain plant protein. Normal cells also have this structure, but only during a certain stage of cell division.

Dr. W. Thomas Shier decided that a vaccine based on that structure might be able to stimulate the immune system to respond against all tumor cells without doing much harm to normal cells. Dr. Shier first had to analyze the key parts of the chemical and then synthesize a replica. He injected mice with this substance and then, later, injected them with cancer cells or a cancer-causing chemical. The results were that the development of tumors was considerably delayed, in most cases, by comparison with the appearance of tumors in control mice not given the vaccine. Three different tests revealed no marked adverse effect on normal cells. These results are only preliminary, and they promise only partial protection against cancer. But Dr. Shier has opened up an approach to cancer once thought hopeless, and he is still pursuing it in his work at The Salk Institute.

Mrs. M. C. Allen is visiting in Amarillo this week with her daughter, Mrs. Jim Harding and family.

Farm And Ranch Surveys Supply Important Data

Crop and livestock surveys are intended to provide an accurate picture of agriculture for each county for Texas. In turn, producers can use the information to make more intelligent production and marketing decisions. That's why it's so important that the surveys be completed accurately and rapidly and returned early, emphasizes County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser.

A number of farmers and ranchers in Hall County are among the 60,000 across the state to receive a questionnaire regarding their crop and livestock operations for 1972. The survey is conducted each year at this time by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, a joint agency of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Department of Agriculture Statistical Reporting Service.

Hooser points out that producers are selected on a sample basis from each size classification. The smaller producer sampled may represent many other of comparable size while larger producers may represent only themselves. Therefore, it's important that all farmers and ranchers receiving a questionnaire complete it as accurately as possible and return it promptly.

According to Hooser, all individual reports will be kept confidential.

Sound management decisions are based on accurate information, contends the agent. Thus, each producer receiving a survey has an important responsibility to himself and his neighbor to supply the needed information.

Container Plants Are Appreciated As Christmas Gifts

Real plants are "in" and people have enough space for at least a few specimens, container plants are becoming popular. Furthermore, they are excellent Christmas gifts because they give pleasure and interest throughout the year.

Container plants have several advantages for most households, says B. Hooser, county agent. They and their small space requirements are two major factors.

When grown in containers, the plants can be moved from place to another. Thus when the weather is at its peak, it can be placed in full view where it is most attractive. Then, when the weather changes, it can be moved to another location. An advantage for mobile home apartment dwellers is that they can move the plants along with them and provide a "landscape" at the new location.

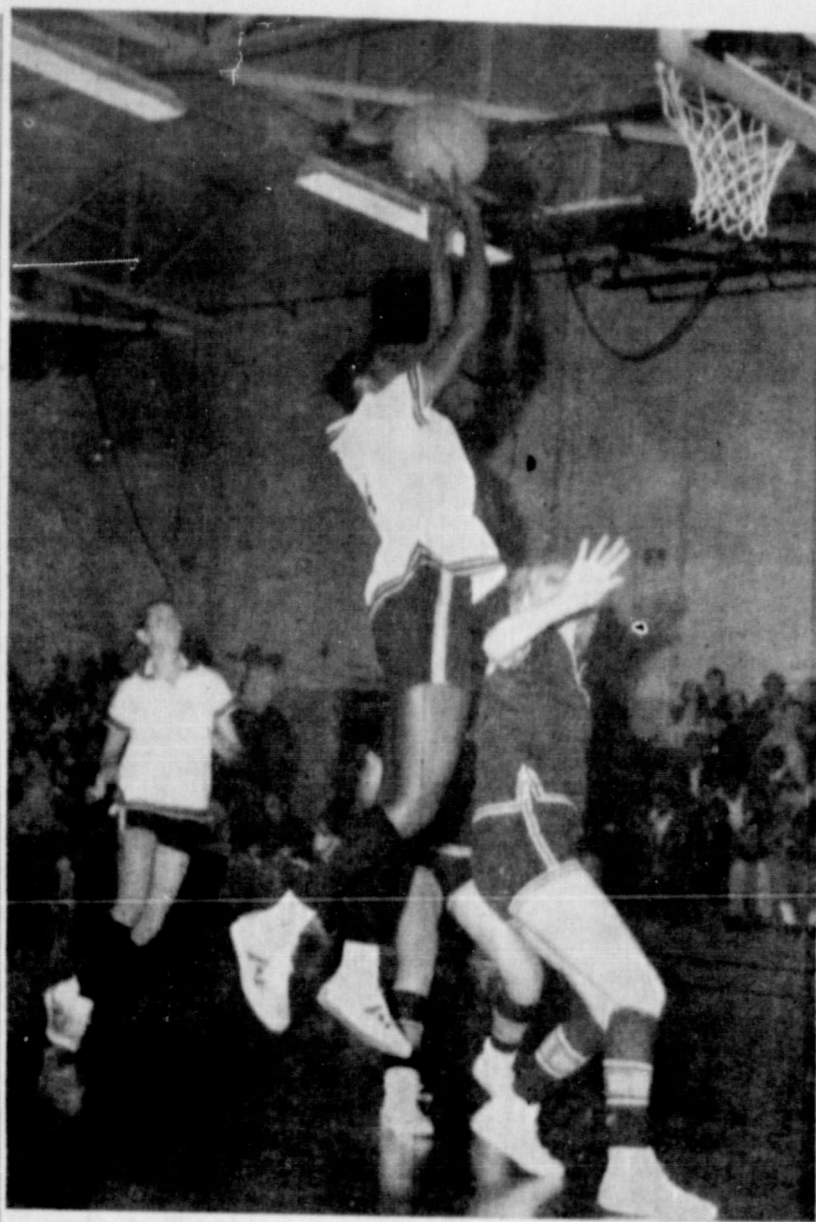

Another nice thing about container plants is that they do not require much space. Once again, a big "plus" for apartment dwellers and mobile home residents.

Container plants as well as vegetable plants and fruiting plants may be used. Each container can have different soil conditions, greater variety of species can be grown in a garden that is limited by area's existing soil. Plants have different requirements as far as water, light and other factors are concerned, may be

As the plant's cultural requirements are met, almost any container can be used for a container garden, points out Hooser. In selecting a plant, the container gardener determines where the plant will be used and the amounts of sunlight, moisture and soil present.

Among the well known annuals are the annual flowers, deciduous green trees, shrubs and perennials. Annuals usually last at least a half day's life, but most tropical evergreens will last longer.

In selecting plants, consider the climate, advises Hooser. In so mecaes clusters of similar plants and containers would be better than a single plant. However, a large open-growing plant may look best with a ground cover of gravel, English ivy or other such plants.

As far as containers are concerned, they come in a wide variety of sizes, types and colors. Simply designed containers that feature but do not compete with the plant are usually preferred by landscape architects and other professional designers. Plain terra cotta clay pots and plants are commonly seen on beautiful ter-aces, patios and entrances. Homeowners considering container plants should bear in mind that they require more care than garden plants. Frequent watering, especially during hot weather, is a major problem. A good potting soil is also required. Use about five parts of garden loam soil, four parts of organic matter and one part of coarse builder's sand, recommends Hooser.

Since container plants require a large amount of organic matter, most have to be repotted every three years to replace decomposed organic matter. Peat and compost are two good sources of organic matter. Once a plant becomes established in a container, add a complete fertilizer periodically.

During cold weather, container plants need extra protection since all parts of the plant are above the ground.

Container plants can offer several hours of enjoyment and are convenient for many households. With them, you can bring a touch of the outdoors into the home, adds Hooser.

Number Of Autos In Hall County Getting Larger

NEW YORK—Residents of Hall County are getting more motorized, year by year.

They have been buying new cars at an increased rate during the past two years, adding to the county's already high auto population.

As a result of the steady increase in ownership, the number of families sporting two or more cars in their driveways has gone up considerably. By the same token, the number of families without cars is smaller than ever.

Because of the buying surge, the roads and streets in the local area have taken on a new look. Instead of the many vintage cars that were in evidence a few years ago, there are now a large number of shiny, late models to be seen.

The facts and figures are contained in a consumer market report, covering all parts of the country, issued by the Standard Rate and Data Service, and in data compiled by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

They show that car ownership in Hall County, as of the beginning of this year, reached the point of 131 cars for every 100 families. The total was 2,720.

This was a larger ratio than was found in many sections of the country.

Taken into account in assessing the gain was the change in the number of families as well as in the number of cars in use and the number that were discarded.

The sturdy market for new cars, locally and elsewhere, is attributed to rising incomes, to the growth population in suburban areas, where cars are more necessary than in cities, and to the many car hungry teen-agers.

Nationally, four out of five families now have cars and 30 per cent of them have two or more.

The automobile continues to play a major role in the local economy. The amount of money that Hall County car owners spent in the past year, in local service stations alone, for gas, oil and repairs came to $1,700,000, as compared with the total, five years ago, of $1,303,000.

MHS Class OF 1963 To Have 10-Year Reunion

The Memphis High School Class of '63 will hold its 10-year reunion on Saturday, Dec. 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Bronze Room of the First National Bank.

All former members are cordially invited to attend.

"All members that we had addresses for should have received a letter by now. If for some reason members of the '63 class have not been contacted, those who have been notified should contact them," a spokesman for the class said.

"We are hoping for a big turnout. The reunion is for class members and their mates, but children are requested to be left at home," the spokesman added.

Too Much Magnesium Or Manganese May Cause Dogs Nervous Condition

Nervous dogs have been found to have abnormally high amounts of the metals magnesium and manganese in their nervous systems, the American Chemical Society was told recently at its 4th Middle Atlantic Regional Meeting.

Whether this means that the dogs' nervousness is caused by this maladjustment or that human nervous diseases might be treated by chemically correcting the levels of these metals is not known, said Dr. James O. Wear, physical chemist at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Little Rock, Arkansas, who presented the report.

Working with a psychologist, Dr. Oddist Murphree, and biochemist, Berwin Monroe, Dr. Wear analyzed the fluid from the backbones and brains of eight nervous pointer dogs. It was discovered that these dogs had significantly higher levels of the two metals than normal dogs of the same breed.

The nervous dogs are so sensitive that a noise causes them to "freeze" for several minutes, sometimes for an hour, the chemist commented. Nervous dogs are also not friendly, and will stay away from people as much as possible.

Small amounts of the nervous system fluid were exchanged between the nervous and the normal groups of dogs in experiments described by the speaker. Fluid from the nervous dogs caused temporary nervous characteristics in the normal animals. The effects wore off in less than 24 hours. The normal fluid had no measurable effect on the nervous dogs.

Past research has indicated that physiological and behavioral differences in animals can be associated with differences in these so-called "trace metals" in the diet, Dr. Wear said. But any behavioral differences in the dogs would not be caused by diet, since all of the experimental dogs had been kept in the same environment.

Taking advantage of the Veterans Administration Hospital atomic reactor, the scientists used a powerful modern technique called "neutron activation analysis" to study the cerebrospinal fluid. They found calcium, zinc, copper, cadmium, and silver, in addition to the magnesium and manganese. All of these metals were present in each strain, which is new information in itself, they indicated.

"The difference in magnesium and manganese levels must be caused by a difference in metabolism of the two strains, since their intake of trace metals should be the same," said the speaker.

"Magnesium is an important metal in certain enzyme systems, so this could mean that there is an extra amount of some enzyme present in the nervous dogs. It is possible that a compound may exist in excess in the nervous dogs that holds on to the magnesium, therefore, causing more magnesium to be retained.

"At the present time, the specific reasons for these differences are just speculation.

"We plan to have more analysis performed using larger samples and far more elements. After the differences are measured, we will try to stimulate effects in the normal dogs by injecting them with trace metals that occur in excess in the nervous dogs. We also plan to make exploratory studies on human cerebrospinal fluid to see if any trace metal differences can be related to neuropsychiatric diseases," concluded Dr. Wear.

Safety Engineer Gives Holiday Precaution Ideas

COLLEGE STATION—Accidents never take a holiday—not even at Christmas.

"Fire safety deserves special attention during the holidays when additional fire hazards may be created with combustible trees and decorations or faulty lighting sets. Careful attention to a few simple safety suggestions will help keep your holiday safe and happy," reminds Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

First of all, select a fresh-looking and firm-needled tree, suggests Keese. Saw off the base of the tree at least one inch above the original cut, stand the tree in water, and keep it in water until it is taken down. Check the water level daily. Be sure to place the tree away from all sources of heat—fireplaces, radiators or other heaters.

Don't rely on "do-it-yourself" flameproofing treatments, cautions the engineer. Tests indicate that some of the coatings available in aerosol cans are partly effective if the coating is thick enough. "In short, there is no satisfactory home treatment which will retard fire in Christmas trees."

"Check lighting strings for loose connections, broken sockets and frayed insulation. Replace lighting sets with UL-labeled equipment. Bulbs made in the United States are usually safest as some imported bulbs may have dangerous hot spots. Outdoor lighting should be UL-approved for outdoor use. Always turn off all decorative indoor lighting when you leave the house or retire for the night," emphasizes Keese.

Use noncombustible materials—metal, glass and asbestos—for decorations wherever possible. Cotton batting, flock and decorating paper should be flameproofed. Keep natural evergreen decorations away from candles, the fireplace and other heat sources. Don't use polystyrene foam candle holders or polystyrene decorations near lighted candles.

Remove combustible gift wrappings as soon as possible and place them in a covered metal trash can.

"Never leave children alone or without proper supervision. Be especially careful to keep matches and cigarette lighters out of their reach during the holiday period when your home contains more 'fire hazards' than usual."

THE INTELLIGENT INVESTOR

By J. Y. MONK, III

It often been said that the only one sure thing in the stock market is that it will go up, and it will go down. Obviously, it is not easy to invest one's hard earned money and see it shrink sharply in value in a few weeks or months. Unfortunately, however, this often happens, and the impatient investor sells his stock which has dropped in value, thus losing a large percentage of the money which he has invested.

The successful investor must learn to exercise patience, always remembering the unpredictable nature of the stock market. If he invests in a growing company which has good prospects for the future, he should not allow the near term price movement of his stock to distract him. Often a stock will drop in value when the general stock market is weak, only to recover later and double or even triple in price.

Throughout the years, I have read about and personally witnessed many complicated theories on how to make money in the stock market. In my opinion, few, if any, of these theories have merit. I believe the average investor will realize eventual success in the stock market if he will buy stocks with good growth prospects and hold them patiently through the years. If a particular stock has growth potential, it will eventually appreciate in price, and the investor will be amply rewarded.

God will not look you over for your medals, but for your scars. —Elbert Hubbard GOVERNOR HONORED—Calling on the next administration to place priority on traffic safety equal to what he placed on it, Gov. Smith accepts one of three volumes of clippings from Texas newspapers which record his traffic safety efforts during the past four years. The Governor also said he would recommend stronger traffic laws to the next session of the Legislature which convenes in January.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Of all diseases, tuberculosis is probably man's oldest and most puzzling enemy. It remains a major public health problem in many states today, including Texas.

"Texas is recorded as having the third largest total of new, active tuberculosis cases in the nation last year," says Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health.

Today, with careful diagnosis and conscientious drug treatment, the chances of curing tuberculosis are very good, no matter what the stage of the disease. Great advances in treatment have brought TB under medical control. But don't get the idea that TB is now a rare disease. It isn't.

Tuberculosis affects 37,000 new patients each year and kills over 5,000 people. In 1970, Texas recorded 2,889 new cases of the disease, placing behind only New York and California in the number of new cases reported. At the beginning of 1971, there were nearly 20,000 cases on the TB register in Texas being kept under surveillance.

Today, over 300,000 people in the United States are under medical care or supervision for TB. More than 100,000 of these have active cases of the disease.

"That's why medical and health authorities view the situation with concern," Dr. Peavy said.

Actually, the high rate of new TB cases in Texas is due to the Health Department's intensive new program of searching out and diagnosing cases of tuberculosis. Progress is being made in reducing the rate of occurrence. The number of cases recorded in 1970 actually fell almost 100 cases from the number reported in 19-69 and was over 300 cases down from the number reported in 19-68.

The highest incidence of new cases in Texas occurred in the very large cities and in areas near the southern border.

TB can be cured, but it is a long, tedious process. Recovery from tuberculosis, unlike many other diseases, takes months or sometimes years. Although other drugs have been useful in the past, the Texas Health Department is optimistic that a new oral anti-tuberculosis drug promises to be a significant development in tuberculosis therapy. Known as "rifampin," the drug was developed by a team of Italian scientists, and has been available in this country since last May.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin—Proposals for major "reform" statutes and changes in the House and Senate rules have been drawn by Texas legislative leaders.

Rep. Price Daniel, Jr., Liberty, slated to be the next Speaker of the House of Representatives, has announced a nine-point "reform" program.

Several Senate members and Lt. Gov-elect Bill Hobby, Houston, have discussed proposals to change some of the "reform" rules adopted by the fourth called session of the 62nd Legislature.

Speaking to a seminar sponsored by the Texas Society of Association Executives, Daniel listed these proposed changes in state statutes, which he feels are necessary because of a "mandate" of Texas voters this year:

1. A one term limit for the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

2. Elimination of the pledge card system for election of the House Speaker—where pledges are exchanged for support of legislation.

3. Disclosure by the Speaker of contributions to support his campaign for that office.

4. A limit on the number of conferees on tax bills.

5. A new "open records" law which would provide more access to public documents—with certain guidelines and safeguards.

6. Improvement of campaign contribution laws.

7. Tightening of the laws governing lobbyist registration.

8. An ethics code for legislators.

9. Changes in the state's "Open Meetings" law to provide the public with more information about actions of governmental bodies.

Daniel said these proposed "reform" measures should not be tagged with "liberal" or "conservative" labels.

"Liberal and conservative labels are unfair to the 77 new members of the Legislature. They have not yet cast a vote. The new members will be more independent and reform minded, because that's what the voters demanded in the primary, run-off and general elections this year," he added.

"I don't believe we should over-react to the problems of the past," he said when he discussed major changes in House rules which will be introduced.

Citizens' Constitution Commission Will Be Selected

Elected leaders of the three branches of state government—executive, legislative and judicial—will be appointing 36 Texans to a citizens' commission to study needed constitutional changes and report its recommendations next November.

A resolution to create this citizen's commission will be introduced in the 63rd Legislature, and the 36 appointees will be selected by a committee of the elected leaders of state government.

This committee will probably include the Governor, Lt. Governor, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Presiding Judge of the Criminal Appeals Court.

At a recent meeting of leaders in the drive for constitutional reform, the addition of the Attorney General to that committee was supported.

Lawmakers Look At Budget

Key lawmakers who make up the Legislative Budget Board met here this week to take a look at multi-billion-dollar state spending plans the legislature must pass on soon.

Other signs of preparation for a vital and stormy 63rd legislative session are apparent.

Lt. Gov-elect Hobby has moved into temporary offices and has assembled a staff.

Speaker-elect Daniel also is putting together a staff.

Both the incoming Lieutenant Governor and Speaker are working on their assignments to key standing committees which process legislation, although they prefer not to talk too much publicly about this important chore.

The Legislature, under new leadership and with a near-record crop of freshmen members, faces a staggering array of tasks.

In addition to the usual problems of making spending fit income, lawmakers have assigned themselves a monumental task of furthering legislative reform.

A hangover from the 1971 session is House of Representatives redistricting which must be redone or left to a federal court for boundary realignment.

Big decisions will also be necessary in the education field if the U. S. Supreme Court upholds a Dec., 1971, decision invalidating the present Texas system of financing public school education.

"Shield Law" Backed

Speaker-to-be Daniel has informed newspapers, radio and television stations he will back a bill in the Legislature next year to protect confidentiality of news sources.

Daniel's letter to publishers and station heads noted the U. S. Supreme Court has held newsmen do not have constitutional rights to protect their news sources.

"It is my firm belief that, in the face of the recent ruling, and without statutory protection, the inevitable result will be the loss of confidential sources of information," said Daniel. "News sources will dry up, thus depriving the public of the fullest news coverage possible. For the press to be an effective watchdog over public affairs and government, officials, newsmen should not be required to disclose confidential news sources."

Daniel's bill provides that no newsmen may be required to disclose information or sources of information obtained in confidence in the course of news gathering and distribution. The privilege conferred would not extend to actions for libel, slander or invasion of privacy.

Import Curb Plea Restated

The Interstate Oil Compact Commission again urged strengthening of the federal mandatory oil import control program.

However, U. S. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington told the 54-state group at a meeting in

CANDY

BY TOM DORR

Houston a special Senate committee already has determined domestic oil and gas reserves are inadequate. IOCC further called for a comprehensive national energy policy to assure dependable domestic supplies and lessen the need for foreign oil and gas imports.

Appointments

Gov. Preston Smith named Guy H. Barnett of Freeport and R. L. (Jimmie) Bounds of Mexia to the Texas Vending Commission.

He designated John H. McCoy of New Boston Texas Water Development Board chairman.

Atty. Gen-elect John L. Hill picked James Bushala Jr. of Corpus Christi as his staff legal assistant; Colin Carl of Austin as assistant for constitutional and legislative matters; David Kendall of Dallas head of the opinions division; Lawrence E. Merriman of Austin head of the tort claims section; Joe K. Longley of Austin consumer protection division chief and John Michael Willatt head of the environmental protection division.

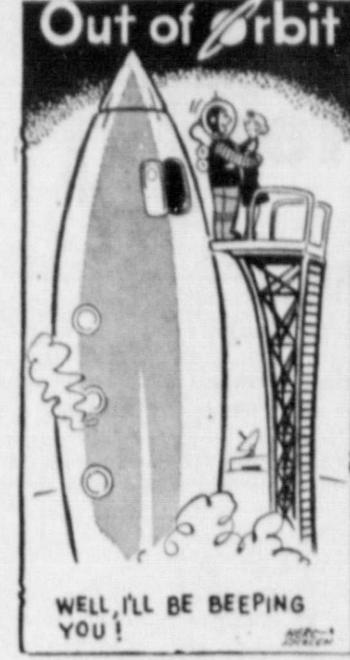

Lt. Gov.-elect Bill Hobby appointed Steve Oaks of Houston his executive assistant and Dr. June Hyer of Houston executive assistant for research and legislation. Tom Hagan of Houston and Bill Jenkins of Amarillo will serve as administrative assistants and Bob Cargill as press secretary.

Mrs. Bonnie Criebel of Austin is new executive director of the Texas Cosmetology Commission.

Courts Speak

While upholding a 1,001-year sentence for rape, the Court of Criminal Appeals pointed out such sentences serve no purpose, since those under them are eligible for release on parole in 20 years.

The Court of Criminal Appeals approved Governor Smith's comto provide alcoholic beverages inmates of the Texas Prison system does not apply to jails, Atty. Gen. Crawford tin held.

In other recent opinions tin concluded:

The State Department of Public Safety may contract with State Building Commission Board of Control for removal of the John H. Reagan State Office Building fifth floor stall computers and improve defective elevator system.

The Welfare Department refund money advanced to public or private agencies providing the non-federal of estimated costs of social services programs when actual are less than anticipated.

A Water Quality Board may sell transcripts of official board meetings as long as the work doesn't interfere with a state employee's duties as a state employee.

Where income from agricultural use is exceeded by income from other sources, an owner can still obtain agricultural designation for tax purposes if the use is a "business" with the primary occupation and of owner income.

The State Supreme Court upheld a 1961 decision of the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers revoking the license of an engineer charged with offering Kermit city officials money in an effort to get a contract.

While visiting one of our local stores a few days ago with Mrs. Mutt Wansley, she told me that Mutt had told her to cut plenty of wood and put it in to dry as we were going to have rough, cold winter. I asked how come that she knew how to predict the weather, and she said he was reading the signs of the beans on the mesquite trees. He may be right about unusual weather as we noticed roses blooming up to December, and also trees with their green leaves. When the trees decided to undress for winter they really did it almost overnight which was unusual as we usually have fall leaves and winter leaves but this year they skipped from summer green to fallen winter leaves!

There are three kinds of people: those who make things happen, those who watch things happen and those who never even realize something has happened. —copied from Today "Get all you can, can all you can get and sit on your can."

In watching the cotton trailers come in with loads of cotton going to the gins, I noticed that we have very attractive truck drivers with their make-up and hair-de's. They seem to be making a pleasure trip and of course it is a pleasure trip when you have that kind of crop to haul into the gins. I did not recognize all of the truck drivers hauling the cotton for their husbands who were running the strippers. I did recognize the Phillips boys wives, Mrs. Bobbie Barbee, Mrs. T. W. Tippet, Mrs. Coy Yarbrough and Mrs. Rayford Hutcherson. These ladies all looked younger than their husbands, but were really getting along. Mrs. Troy Phillips and Mrs. Yarbrough were making 10 trips a day. I guess these boys married the girls young and they read that scripture on bringing them up when they are young and they will not depart. Anyway in whatever you do it takes cooperation and it is good to see that spirit in work, play and religion.

We received a card from the Tony Craigs a few days ago and stated that they had 8 snows this year. Must be getting closer to Alaska, even though they are still in Guyton, Okla.

Mrs. Walter Hightower has always been very particular about having everything match up to perfection. While in the nursery and floral business every flower had to match. If she had a red dress she would want a red hat to match. I think that she has gone too far out now in this matching, she fell about two years ago and broke her hip from which she recovered fine, but a few days ago while visiting her daughter, Laura Mae, she fell and broke her other hip and this will make her hips match better. Mrs. High-tower's address is Houston in care of Hugh Lilly, 4811 Omeara, Houston 77035. Hope she does not make any more matches like that and soon be up and about again.

Nita Murphy, wife of C. H., had hard luck a few days ago in some way pulled the ligament loose in her shoulder and has been going around with that right arm and shoulder in a sling. C. H. says she has good use of that left wing. I followed down the aisle shopping and she could make speed traveling with that sling.

I overheard G. W. Selmon telling about a wolf hunt that he and J. J. Hunter were on for 6 1/2 hours and finally caught the old wolf, that had given the dogs a hard time in the thickets . . . not much pay, but they had a lot of fun.

I can remember many years ago when a woman became a grandma, they sat in the corner with their tooth brush, but not so now-a-days. While shopping around a few days ago I noticed Grandma Cora Belle Alexander running down the sidewalk to catch up with a friend. Great-Grandma Inez Patrick drove through from Beazumt to Memphis in one day. The speed of grandmas has changed a lot in the past 60 or 70 years.

A quote: The Sunday School teacher was describing how Lott's wife looked back and turned into a pillar of salt, when a pupil interrupted: My mother looked back once when she was driving and turned into a telephone post.

In conversation with Hubert Dennis and Glen Thompson I got the report that there were three more besides them that attended Grand Lodge of Texas Dec. 5 in Waco, Texas at the Grand Lodge Memorial Temple. The others attending this meeting from Hall County were Irvin Johnsey, J. O. Cobb and Carl Hill and Joe Bob Browning. Our own Senator Jack Hightower has served as grand master for the state of Texas the past year. He was honored this year by having "The Legion of Honor" conferred of him. It is the highest degree and honor conferred by the International Supreme Council of the Order of DeMolay. There are less than 500 in the world that have received this degree. Congratulations to Senator Jack.

The inspiration was great in talking to the ones who attended and they were very much impressed with the programs put on by

Researchers Say Hay Fever Problem May Be Controlled

Pollen allergy commonly referred to as hay fever, may be controlled to a degree by a new technique developed by crop researchers at the New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, according to a recent report.

Studies have shown when the peak period of ragweed's emergence from the ground take place so that it can be killed with herbicides or by cultivation.

Controls applied early in the season, it has been found, are more effective than when applied later. Plants that escape early control can be prevented from flowering and producing pollen by treating them between early June and early August.

Applications of herbicides or cultivation by June will eliminate much of the crop. And stragglers that are not killed can be prevented from flowering and producing pollen by treatment with herbicides before Aug. 10, Chester T. Dickerson, Jr., graduate student at Cornell, declared.

Ragweed has existed on the North American continent for over 1200 years. It is reported to have originated in the Sonora Desert along the Mexican border. About 10 to 20 per cent of the North American population annually suffer from hay fever produced from the pollen of ragweed, according to the report.

Tired of not catching fish?

That's a common complaint at certain "slack" seasons of the year—especially days when the temperatures are high.

Naturally the easy answer to the problem is to fish at night. Then the water is cooler by several degrees. As a consequence of the temperature changes the big bass move up from the depths and into shallow water where again it's comfortable and there's new food to be found.

Anglers who like to hear the explosion of a lunker bass in the still of the night as it smacks a top water lure with all of its dynamic power—use a chuggar, or a popper or a stick with spinners fore and aft.

Let this happen alongside the boat, as it sometimes does and you'll not only get a thrill but the sensation of a cold chill running up and down your spine . . . despite the warm night.

One who seeks the bass in the hot daytime weather, needs a different approach. He has to fish deep—real deep. Big bass seek not only the shade to escape the hot rays of the sun, but also the cooler water (around 68) which may be 30 to 60 feet deep if the weather has been very warm for some time.

First of all one needs a worm rod and a bait casting reel for this job, with 20 pound-test line or stronger. That is, if he wants to land a lunker.

pair all the streets but funds were in short supply.

County Judge McMurry said from what he has read on the funds, the county could use them to repair existing facilities, such as the roof and doors on the courthouse, or some other facility, or use the funds for other measures.

"The commissioners will decide how the funds will be spent. They have discussed it but until we received the check Monday we had no idea how much money we were talking about," Judge McMurry said.

Due to the nature of funds, local units of government can not use the money to serve as their share in local government-federal government matching funds programs, it was explained. The funds can not be used for education.

Locally, however, neither the city nor the county is eligible for projects, for needs are continually surpassing funds available from regular sources.

Cyclone Takes Third At Panhandle; Cyclonettes Capture Consolation

The Memphis Cyclone lost its first game of the season to Panhandle last Friday in the Panhandle tournament, but went on to defeat the Claude boys in the third place play-off 50 to 39 to show that the team will be a serious contender for the District 2-A crown this season.

Claude has been considered the favorite in the district since they have almost all their players back from last year's district championship squad.

Coach Joe Bain's Cyclonettes won the consolation of the Panhandle tournament by beating Adrian 43 to 34 last Saturday. The Cyclonettes lost in the opening round to White Deer girls 46 to 43 and then came on to defeat Wheeler girls, a district rival, 55 to 33.

Two All-Tournaments

Two Memphis players were named on the All-Tournament squads at the Panhandle meet. Thelma Wright, the Cyclonettes senior guard, was selected as a guard and Forward Lenis Simpson was named on the five-man boys All-Tournament team.

"Thelma certainly deserved to be selected All-Tournament for I thought she played real well. Actually, some I talked to indicated that Thelma was the best guard in the entire tournament and, considering the fine caliber girls teams competing, I thought this was a good compliment to her," Coach Bain said.

Coach Jimmy Pope cited Lenis Simpson for his selection to the All-Tournament squad. Lenis hit 12 points against Claude, and tied with Larry Don Johnson against Panhandle with 14 to be leading scorer.

The Cyclone eager coach cited his team for playing "the best half of basketball he has seen his team play in the last half against Claude Saturday.

"We were trailing Claude three points in the second quarter and went into our press for the first time in the game. We got some quick turnovers and converted them into points and came out of the half leading by four, 25 to 21.

"When the third quarter got underway, our boys were playing real well on both ends. Ronnie and Mike were bringing the ball down in fine shape against the Claude press, and Ronnie, Larry Don and Lenis were shooting real well. In the final stanza we chose to stall the ball and take a 50 to 39 victory," Coach Pope said.

Johnson scored 11 points, Simpson 12 and Ronnie Browning 14 against Claude while Larry Bell had 11 for the Mustangs.

The Cyclone opened against White Deer and defeated the Bucks 43 to 36. Johnson scored 20 points for the Cyclone, which led in the game all the way.

"White Deer has a real physical basketball team, especially under the goal posts," Coach Pope said.

The Cyclone's 55 to 50 loss to Panhandle in the semi-finals was "disappointing" according to the coach.

"We led at halftime and could have possibly won the game had we played differently in the crucial period. Offensively, we did well, but our defense against Panhandle let us down," Coach

Pope said.

Larry Don and Lenis each had 14 points against Panhandle while Randy Levitt had 18.

Coach Pope said the Panhandle tournament was a good one as his team played good basketball and opponents were challenging during every game. "It was a tournament we felt proud to be able to take third place," he said.

Cyclonettes

The Cyclonettes were playing in respectable competition in the Panhandle tournament and their trophy for consolation was well earned.

White Deer, who managed a three-point victory over the Memphis girls, lost out to Claude in the finals.

The Memphis girls fell behind by 6, 13 to 7, in the first quarter against White Deer but were able to draw within 2 points as Memphis was only able to put 9 points on the board while White Deer was scoring 18. Trailing by 11, the Cyclonettes just could not make up the deficit.

Kathy Carmen scored 19 points while Mary Beck scored 11, Kay Murdock 8 and Mickie Henderson 5.

The Memphis girls have had their troubles with Wheeler girls in the past, but Friday this was not the case. Good defense on the part of Cyclonette guards gave Memphis a 38 to 19 third period edge and the girls coasted to a 55 to 33 victory. Beck scored 22, while Murdock hit 14 points, Henderson had 9 and Carmen 8.

Against Adrian Saturday, Mary Beck scored 28 points while Kay Murdock scored 10 and Ruthie Butler had 7 as the Cyclonettes led throughout the contest, and won a 43 to 34 decision.

A short business meeting was held and the band luncheon was discussed. It was decided to postpone the luncheon until later in the year and to give people more time with their families. The band concert will be held as scheduled, Dec. 17, starting at 3 p. m.

The next Band Booster meeting will be held Jan. 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the Cyclone Band Hall.

Lakeview Goes To Matador For Games Tuesday

The Lakeview basketball teams will travel to Motley County (Matador) Tuesday, Dec. 19, for three games, A and B girls and A boys games.

Then on Friday, Dec. 22, the teams will travel to Groom for varsity games. These will be the last games before Christmas for the Lakeview teams.

Tuesday night, Lakeview teams split games at Patton Springs. The Eaglettes, without the services of both leading forwards, Carolyn Hughes who is sick and Maria Gregory who is out with an ankle injury, played real well on both ends of the court in defeating Patton Springs girls 44 to 26.

"I was especially proud of our guards, Mary Ann Gilbreth, Carol Gomez and Janet Stevens for their play at Patton Springs," and Mrs. Harvey Wines, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Jones, Mrs. Odessa Crisman, Earl Spry, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Smith and Mrs. Arvin Orr and Cloyce Ray Orr.

Coach Cagle Davis said Wednesday.

In the boys game, the Eagles were leading in the contest by 10 points in the final stanza, but ran into foul trouble and lost two starters, and Patton Springs won the game 61 to 51.

The Lakeview girls won third place in the Samnorwood Tournament last weekend. The Lakeview boys lost to Samnorwood and Briscoe.

The Eaglettes won the opening round play by defeating Shamrock girls 57 to 54, as Marla Gregory hit 23 points to lead her team. An ankle injury forced her off the court.

The McLean Eagettes defeated the Lakeview girls in the second round 59 to 36, as Carolyn Hughes had 19 for Lakeview.

Playing for third place, Lakeview defeated Quail girls 56 to 45 as Hughes scored 30 points.

The Lakeview boys played Samnorwood a nip-and-tuck game up to the last with Samnorwood winning the contest 68 to 60. Terry Watson had 19 points for Lakeview.

Briscoe defeated Lakeview 74 to 64 in the consolation. Bill Richburg scored 19 to lead his team.

"The Samnorwood tournament was a good one with several good teams competing," Coach Davis said.

All-tournament selections were not made at the tournament.
