Bob Wills Day Celebration In Turkey Draws Large Crowd Sat.

By Virginia Browder
Folks gathered in from all directions to enjoy the "Bob Wills Day" celebration in Turkey, April 29th. By time for the big parade at nine o'clock both sides of the main street were lined with eager spectators. The parade had to start early as all the gala festivities had to be sandwiched into one day because the ambitious little community had not accommodations for an overnight crowd.

BOB WILLS' MONUMENT

The parade needed some band music which it didn't have but more than fifty horseback riders, six or eight floats that would have been a credit to a city (all the work of Turkey citizens) and the absence of tractors and farm trucks made up a nice assemblage. The prize for the best float went to the "San Antonio Rose" with "Turkey or Bust" being the best individual unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill King from Samnorwood managed the Fiddlers' Contest in the High School gymnasium which was the next event on the docket. Eighteen fiddlers tried for the money prize. One professional fiddler, Son Duffy with Mel Tillis' Publishing Co. in Nashville, Tennessee brought the house down by playing Bob Wills own composition of Maiden's Prayer. When

Boy Scouts, Leader Attend Training Camp

Scoutmaster William McQueen, and Scouts Ricky Douthit, Randell Shaban, Kenneth Bachman, Miles Farnsworth and Joe Hillhouse, attended a Troop Leaders Council Training session Saturday and Sunday, April 28-29, at Camp M. K. Brown.

The purpose of the session was to form a patrol and perform the functions of a patrol camping out. The objective is to familiarize leaders with the patrol method used in scouting.

For Scoutmaster McQueen, the session was the last portion of his personal training in scout leadership.

Sr. Patrol Leader Douthit was elected to lead the patrol at camp. All the scouts from Memphis attending are Patrol leaders, with the exception of Joe Hillhouse who serves as the troop quartermaster.

"We learned a lot. Now if we can be as successful teaching these principles to our younger scouts we will be ahead. Actually, the major lesson was in planning each step carefully and being properly prepared," Scoutmaster McQueen said.

the contest was concluded in the afternoon session, Vernon Riddle from Shephard Air Base in Wichita Falls won the money. With the thousand pounds of barbecued beef, 2,500 were fed at noon and 500 at supper time. Following the noon meal, the crowd moved to an improvised platform at the west edge of the business district with bleachers to accommodate some of the spectators.

Bob Wills had spent the previous night in Childress and came on to Turkey Sat. Only three or four of his original Texas Playboys were present this year. Leon McCauley's little boy was critically ill which prevented his coming and, for various reasons, the others could not be there. However, Hoyle Nix and his musicians who were there to play for the western dance that night

Van Gayle Howard Undergoes Second Surgery On Back

Van Gayle Howard, who received serious back injuries in a vehicle accident recently, underwent surgery again earlier this week after he lost the feeling in a foot and lower leg.

Van Gayle's father, Worth Howard, said his son had developed several blood clots, and these complications made the second surgery necessary.

"He is feeling better now since the second surgery but Doctors tell us it will be two years before we will know about Van's chances of being able to use the leg."

Worth said his son had already been fitted for a back brace. Van Gayle is a patient in Northwest Hospital in Amarillo.

The Howards have been in Amarillo most of the time since their son was hospitalized, and report his spirits are good and he is resting well.

On Saturday, May 5, the Mantoux Skin tests for tuberculosis will be available to all Hall County Adults and pre-school children at no charge, according to Mrs. Herschel Combs, co-ordinator for the testing program.

A group of nurses from the Tuberculosis Control Division State Department of Health, Lubbock, will be in Hall County Saturday afternoon to administer the tests on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 2:00 and 6 o'clock.

Memphis persons are to come to the American Legion Hall between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m. Saturday afternoon. The testing in Turkey will be held at the Cafeteria at the school, during the same hours as in Memphis.

Persons taking the tests on Saturday will return to the same locations on Monday between the hours of 4 to 7 p. m. for the readings.

"We hope every person in Hall County will take advantage of this opportunity to have the test made for T. B.," Mrs. Combs said.

"The test is very simple and one of the most effective in use" Charles McIntosh of Amarillo Area Executive for the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, stated.

In recent months some cases of tuberculosis have been found in Hall County, Mr. McIntosh said. By taking the tests now, persons can avoid having a breakdown with the disease.

All school children in Hall County have recently had the Mantoux skin test administered by the county school nurse. All students who were absent on the day the tests were made in school are urged to come with their parents for the tests Saturday.

Mr. McIntosh pointed out that tuberculosis struck a majority of the counties in Texas last year including Hall County. A majority of the cases were not diagnosed until they had reached either moderately or advanced states, when spread of infection is most likely to occur.

Continuing Mr. McIntosh said, "A lot of people think TB is whipped... but the truth is that if we had as much diphtheria or polio, there would be public hysteria. But there is a tendency to quietly ignore TB, to pretend that it doesn't exist, and this makes it even more dangerous."

A positive tuberculin test does not indicate some vague "allergy" or that the individual's reaction is due to having a cold, or having received some immunization injection, he stressed. A positive tuberculin skin test means one thing: the individual has been infected and has TB germs in his body. It does not mean that he is ill, but should be on guard against any lowering of physical resistance that would enable the bacilli to overcome the body's defenses and result in active disease." This is the reason persons should take advantage of having the skin tests, he concluded.

Little League Baseball Program Begins Tuesday

The 1973 Memphis Little League Program got underway Tuesday evening with the first games being played in cool and windy weather.

In the first game, the Tigers defeated the Indians 17 to 2. The second game between the Giants and the Yankees was unofficial and will have to be played again since the teams did not complete three and a half innings during the time period. The Giants had a heavy lead when the game was stopped.

President D. C. Messick announced Tuesday evening that the farm teams, originally scheduled to begin games Monday, May 7, will not begin their season until May 14, to allow more time for organization of the teams.

The farm league Tigers, Yankees and Giants have adult leaders working with the teams, but the Indians at this time are lacking adult leadership. Any fathers of these players or unassigned boys' fathers who would like to manage or coach the farm team Indians are urged to contact President Messick.

"We have several of the younger boys who have signed up and want to play in the farm league," Messick said.

The Little League teams play Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the farm league plays Monday evenings.

Tonight the Giants of Manager PeeWee Barnett play the Yankees working with the teams, in the first game, and Manager D. D. Morgan's Indians play the Tigers of Manager Pablo Reyes. President Messick said that Little League officials recommend that a boy needs to be completing his first grade in school to join the farm league. Boys who play farm league baseball and catch the eye of little league managers are moved up the next season.

EDITORIAL It Took Almost A Year!

Last June 17, several men were caught breaking and entering a suite of rooms being used as a campaign headquarters of a major political party with the objective of "bugging" the rooms to acquire information. This developed into what is known as the Watergate scandal.

Americans have their own opinions concerning this situation with those thinking it doesn't amount to a hill of beans and others thinking it is most serious. Apparently, President Richard Nixon considered the situation serious during the past few weeks and his address to the nation Monday evening bespoke of solemn determination as he vowed that he would not place the blame on subordinates to whom he delegated responsibility for the 1972 campaign but he accepts final responsibility for the Watergate scandal. He accepted resignations of H. K. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and fired White House Counsel John W. Dean III.

Citizens in our nation should view the entire situation in the light of "conduct integrity" and be thankful that the nation's news media, most of which is pro-administration in its editorial leanings, dug deeply enough to force the issue.

What is the issue? Wire tapping and bugging to acquire political advantages, the using of spy-type tactics to hurt or destroy political machinery and candidates, the expenditure of campaign funds to hire unethical men to do unethical things, many of which are also illegal.
President Nixon said "America in its political campaigns must never again fall into the trap of letting the end, no matter how great that end is justifies the means." He said the case represented a series of illegal acts, bad judgments, over zealotness by a number of individuals.

Add to this, efforts to sweep the whole thing under the rug by top government aids and top officials, and a lapse of time of almost 11 months before the White House took definite steps and recognitions of the affair, it is little wonder that the American Press and the U. S. Senate, and many citizens were asking blunt questions and demanding answers.

Opinion Polls taken recently by Gallup and several other firms indicated that President Nixon's popularity had suffered greatly in recent months due to the Watergate scandal and the rapid rise in inflation.

The President, in his Monday night speech, said he wanted to spend the remainder of his time in office concentrating on the pressing problems facing the nation in both the domestic and international fields.

For the sake of the United States and its people we hope Watergate has been a lesson. The American People do not need "dirty trick" politics in helping them decide who to vote for at the polls nor do they need opinion persuaders and cloke and dagger agents battling behind the scenes to try and disrupt honest efforts on the part of political parties.

We can see little difference in these tactics than those used by dictators with secret police, or many of the other things contrary to the beliefs of a free country.

Facts on meat supply
Many years ago, there were those who could see the handwriting on the wall as fewer and fewer farmers produced the food supplies for every greater number of nonfarm people who knew little or nothing about the economics of agriculture. The day would come when lack of farming knowledge would lead to a failure to appreciate certain natural laws of nature.
A spokesman for the livestock industry, David H. Stroud, president of the National Livestock and Meat Board, expressed it well when he said lots of people think the supply of beef is automatic and no further away than their favorite food store and that the farmer, packer or retailer "sets" the price. "But that's not so," he observes. "Despite tremendous farm efficiencies, there's no short cut to a choice T-bone steak or a pound of hamburger."
It still takes two years to grow the steak or roast you have for dinner, plus 2,500 pounds of grain, 450 pounds of protein supplement and 12,300 pounds of hay, silage and pasture and tremendous substantial investments in labor and capital before a steer is feedlot-finished and ready for the market at 1,000 pounds. Further, supply and demand set the price for beef regardless of farmer-rancher cost of production. When homemakers buy more beef, supplies are reduced and prices tend to rise because consumers are bidding against each other for available meat. Over the long pull, however, ranchers have steadily increased beef production — increased it 25 times in the last 20 years. Today, beef consumption in the U. S. has more than doubled — up from 56 to 115 pounds per person compared to 20 years ago.

There is only one way the Americans can have the meat supply they will need in the future and that is by adhering strictly to a market-oriented agricultural industry capable of producing abundance in accordance with the laws of supply and demand. This is one of the hard facts of nature there is no dodging. It is a fact with which farmers live everyday of their lives. It is also a fact that many nonfarm consumers have forgotten.

Economics in reverse . . .
Trouble with our economic system is that we have gotten the cart before the horse.
The place to start the pricing cycle is with the creators of wealth—the farmer, the oil driller, the tree cutter. These creators of wealth MUST receive a fair income, a fair share of the economic dollar.

After the wealth is created, then the handlers or middlemen may with justification add on a reasonable charge for their contribution. Then the final price of the item should be based on the total cost.
But as it is, price is not based on what is a fair price to the creator of wealth, at least so far as agriculture is concerned. Price is some arbitrary figure arrived at by some of the middlemen or handlers including labor and business. After arrivals at their price, they then tell the farmer what they will pay him!

And the price they offer the farmer is almost completely unrelated to the farmer's cost of production!
We were amused to hear a network television newsmen say Thursday night following Nixon's price ciling announcement, "Since the price of meat in the store cannot be raised, the farmer will not be able to raise the price of his beef cattle!"
Even though the newsmen had not the slightest idea of how markets are determined, he was right after all since Nixon, in effect, did set a ceiling—BUT NO FLOOR—on the price of cattle to the farmer!

Thos. E. Noel Gives History Of Area Banks As Address

Thos. E. Noel, past president of the First National Bank, now in Denton where he is still involved in banking, took opportunity as speaker at the 75th Anniversary of the First National Bank of Memphis, to complete a history of banking in Hall County.

This information was given during the FNB's Open House and many are interested in having the information. Mr. Noel consented to having his speech published, in an edited form.

1890's Early Banks
There were four banks organized in Memphis during the early part of the 1890's. All failed for various reasons.

Bank number five, The Exchange Bank of Memphis was organized March 1, 1898, by S. Montgomery and associates, with a capital of $8,000.00. Officers and directors were: J. P. Drake, Pres., W. M. Fore, Vice-Pres., Montgomery, Cash., J. C. Montgomery, John Pope, Rev. C. McCarver, John Gist, H. A. Cane and C. S. Boykin.

The bank was located in the rear of the Beckum Bldg. with deposits at $15,302.07 in the early days.

Bank No. 6, The First National Bank, was formed by nationalization of the Exchange Bank, and was given Charter No. 6107 Jan. 27, 1901 with a capital of $25,000. Officers and directors were: D. Browder, Pres., J. C. Montgomery, V-Pres., S. S. Montgomery, cashier, Rev. C. S. Carver and J. A. Bradford.

Bank No. 7 was the J. P. Drake Private Bank, established in 1901 with J. P. Drake, President, and Charles Drake, Cashier.

The Hall County National Bank was organized by the nationalization of the Drake Private Bank, Jan. 1, 1905, with the following officers and directors: J. P. Drake, Pres., J. A. Grundy, Vice-Pres., Chas. Drake, cashier, H. Deaver, J. W. Wells, W. M. Ham and J. H. Brumley.

This bank merged with the First National Bank in 1933.

Bank No. 8 was The Citizens State Bank, organized in 1907, with a capital of $30,000.00. Officers and Directors were: J. A. Bradford, Pres., J. C. Montgomery, V-Pres., W. B. Quigley, Cashier, B. F. Denny and J. C. Wilson.

The First State Bank, Memphis, was formed thru the re-organization of the Citizens State, in 1933, with a capital of $50,000.00. Officers and directors were: F. E. Leary, Pres., T. J. Leary, V-Pres., W. B. Quigley, Vice-Pres., R. L. Madden, Cashier, W. Hamilton, Frank Finch, H. W. Stringer and Horace Tarver.

The Estelline State Bank, organized in 1906, was purchased in the 1930's by the First National Bank of Memphis.

The Farmers State Bank, New-Ten, was organized in 1910, and was also purchased in the 1930's by the First National Bank of Memphis.

The First State Bank of Lakeview was organized in 1911, by D. H. Davenport, with himself as president, Joe Merrick, V-Pres., and E. W. Alley, Cashier.

This bank was later nationalized into the First National Bank of Lakeview with a capital of $25,000.00, with D. H. Davenport, Pres., B. E. Davenport, Cashier, J. O. Adams, Eli Dannis and J. P. Montgomery as directors.

Later on this bank was purchased by First National Bank of Memphis.

Mr. Noel recalled some of the early events in his banking days by saying:

"My first duties were sweeping out, filling checks and feeling my way gradually into bookkeeping. Our work was helped along with the aid of one adding machine, one typewriter and the Old Boston Ledger, into which were written, in longhand, the names of customers and their balances."

"In those days the word Service Charge had not been invented hence everyone wrote lots of $1.00 checks. At the close of a day's work, if the customer had more than one check in the work for the day, all his checks were added up on our one adding machine and the tape showing total of all checks was pinned (we did not have a stapling machine) together and the total was posted one figure against his account; balances were calculated and extended to next day's business."

"All balances had to be extended, whether active or not. At the end of the month, statements of accounts were made up in longhand and held for customer to call for them."

"We got our first bookkeeping machine in 1917, and at this time the wooden floors were full of splinters, so we moved, temporarily into the Ben Bradford Grocery Store next door, so wood floors would be replaced with tile."

Mr. Noel recalled working three years at FNB in Lakeview as the bank's cashier.

"In 1920 the FNB in Memphis moved to new quarters, costing $119,000.00, located on the N. W. corner of the square. Deposits at this time were $987,000.00. I returned that year as cashier at a salary of $175.00 per month."

He explained how he was excited about being the one to sign the first batch of National Bank currency received at the bank following his move there. These were the large blanket-sized bills.

"The years, 1921 thru 1932, were hectic. In 1922 through 1925, John Deaver and I were President and Secretary, respectively, of the Memphis Ind. School District. Due to drought and low prices, people could not pay their taxes. Bills and teachers had to

ELIZABETH KENNEDY

Mrs. Kennedy,
Former County
Teacher, Retires

Elizabeth Kennedy, a gradu- ate of Memphis High School fifty years ago, and a former resident and teacher of Estelline, is to complete her teaching career of forty-three years when the high school in Broomfield, Colorado, closes in June. She now resides in Broomfield with her husband, Edward F. Kennedy, a former Estelline business man.

After graduating from Memphis High School in 1923, Eliza- beth went to Clarendon College and then to Mary Hardin Baylor. She began her teaching in the two-teacher school at Weatherly, near Parnell, in Hall County in 1925. She subsequently taught in Estelline and in McLean for twenty-nine years. She has been teaching English in Broomfield High School, where she is English Chairman, for fourteen years.

Elizabeth Kennedy graduated from Baylor College for Women in 1929 and received the Master of Education Degree at West Texas State University in Canyon in 1959. She has done extensive graduate study in Texas Tech University and in the University of Colorado.

During the forty-three years, Mrs. Kennedy has taught more than 4,000 boys and girls, sponsored many senior classes, many pep clubs, National Honor Soci- ety, many school annuals, and many school newspapers. She has directed plays and forensic activi- ties. And she has loved it!

After going to Colorado, Mrs. Kennedy was selected as one of forty outstanding English teach- ers to participate in a program to improve the teaching of Eng- lish Composition, under the aus- pices of the University of Colora- do, and later worked with the expanded committee of eighty teachers. She served two years on the Colorado State English Education Committee. She partici- pated on a panel at the National Collegiate Composition Con- vention at the University of Colorado and was asked to participate on a panel at the National Council of English Teachers Convention in Minneapolis in 1969.

Her greatest thrills have come from student-bestowed honors. In the three high schools in which she has taught students have de- dicated the yearbooks to her. The Broomfield-B Club lettered her for faithful support of athletic teams and presented her with a letter jacket. Students elected her honorary Homecoming Queen for two years, 1971 and 1972. One of her greatest honors has been being asked to be the graduation speaker for the 1973 Commencement Exercises on June 2.

Elizabeth Kennedy married Ed- ward F. Kennedy in 1936. They have two children. Duane Ken- nedy and his family live in Okla- homa City, Gerry Gifford and her family live in Broomfield. The Kennedys have six grand- children.

Mrs. Kennedy is to be honored at a Retirement Reception in the new library in Broomfield High School on the afternoon of June 2. All of her former students, their parents, and other friends have been invited.

County Agent Gets Special Recognition

A special recognition award has been made to County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser of Hall County by trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation in cooperation with the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program.

"Without the intense interest and educational leadership shown by you and your associates in the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, we could not have had a relatively screwworm-free period dating from 1962 until the present time.

"We are aware that weather conditions and other factors created problems last year; nevertheless, the screwworm program has saved livestock producers of the Southwest an estimated $1 billion in damages since the program was inaugurated in 1962," C. G. Scruggs, vice president for SWAHRF emphasized.

County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser received a tie tac (or lapel pin) bearing the unique "Sterile Steve" design or sterile fly emblem of the eradication program. Scruggs and Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., director of the Screwworm Eradication Program, jointly issued the special word of appreciation to the County Extension Agent.

"We say thank you for past and for future educational programs for the livestock industry, with special emphasis on the screwworm eradication program, they emphasized.

Meadows is in charge of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service program based at Mission. Scruggs is executive editor of the Progressive Farmer at Birmingham, Alabama, and was formerly located in Dallas.

Crop Reports From County Farmers Needed

During the last half of May, some 24,000 Texas farmers will receive a crop acreage questionnaire from Charles E. Caudill, Agricultural Statistician in Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, Texas.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for the State of Texas and for each county. There are 254 counties in Texas and reports are needed from many farmers so that each county will be well represented. Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketings and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture.

The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that State totals alone do not provide adequate information on Texas' most basic industry—agriculture. This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Culture Club Enjoys Easter Program Recently

The Woman's Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. Theo. Swift for an Easter program.

Mrs. R. E. Clark opened the program with a prayer and Miss Alma Bruce told the story, "Easter Will Come" in which she told how each one awaits the coming of Easter. She also told how Easter is the story of discovery, Jesus lives and the story of the discovery of triumph.

The program was the "Immortal Story", written by McKnight and presented by Mrs. Jeanette Irons. Mrs. L. G. Rasco played musical interludes during the story. She played "How Great Thou Art" as the story began on Palm Sunday, describing the happenings immediately before and during the time, especially the triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem. As the rest of the story unfolded, on Monday Jesus saw sin demonstrated in the Temple and drove the money changers out. Later he healed the sick. Mrs. Rasco played "Rock of Ages".

"Tuesday was a day of controversy, the people had heard what happened; and as Jesus went back toward the Temple, the sick and lame came to be healed. His enemies were there also. On this day Jesus gave a command to love your neighbor," Mrs. Irons continued. Mrs. Rasco then played "Jesus, Lover of My Soul".

"Wednesday was a quite day, as there is no record of what Jesus did, however, the leaders met to counsel together how they could take the life of Jesus. The traitor, Judas, solved their problem," she said. Mrs. Rasco then played "Sweet Hour of Prayer". "Thursday was a day of prayer and fellowship with His disciples. They ate the Passover Supper and Jesus instituted the Lord's Supper; then with His disciples went to the garden to pray. Later he was betrayed, led to trial and Judas hanged himself," Mrs. Irons continued. Mrs. Rasco's piano selection was "Blessed Redeemer".

"Friday was a day of long suffering. Jesus had an illegal trial, was found guilty and died on the cross. Darkness came, the veil in the Temple was rent in two; and the guard said, 'Truly this must have been the Son of God.'" Mrs. Rasco played "The Old Rugged Cross". "Saturday was a day of everlasting sorrow. Joseph had buried the body of Jesus and the guards secured the tomb with the Roman Seal. Sunday was a day of triumph as the women found the stone rolled away at the tomb and the angel announced Jesus had risen from the dead. He appeared later to the women and the disciples with the statement, 'Peace be unto you.'" The story concluded as the club members sang "Christ Arose", "Amazing Grace" and "The Doxology". Refreshments were served to Mmes. Nat Bradley, R. E. Clark, Frank Ellis, Ward Gurley, A. W. Howard, Jeanette Irons, Jim Lange, Pat Lewis, David May, Robert Moss, Alvin Pyeat, L. G. Rasco, L. A. Stilwell, Misses Alma Bruce, Sybil Gurley, Esta McElrath and the hostess, Mrs. Theo. Swift.

By Earldine Hudlow

How many of us have treasured family heirlooms or small mementos stored in a drawer or closet? Now you can take them from their hiding and display them in a memory capsule—more specifically a shadow box divided by irregular spaced shelves enclosed by a glass front. They come in a variety of sizes and shapes and may be finished to compliment any decor. It's just the conversation piece to hang on that bare wall space or to complete a wall grouping. You may prefer to use items from your son's or daughter's childhood—a baby shoe, toy, spoon etc. The teenager will have their own special brand of pot pourri to fill one. The glass can be removed to change the items. To me, this is one of the most interesting wall appointments that's made the scene—aside from a beautiful painting, of course.

I know many of you have new family photographs. The proper frame is their final compliment. It need not be an expensive frame but rather an appropriate one. We, at Hudlow Gallery, stock a wide selection in mouldings and ready-made frames and will be happy to counsel you in making a frame selection. (Adv.)

Charles McIntosh Gives Personal Account of Fight Against Tuberculosis

Editor's Note: The following article was written for special release in the Memphis Democrat by Charles McIntosh, who is area executive of the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association with offices in Amarillo. The article follows:

Once the symptoms begin—and usually there aren't any symptoms until the person is pretty sick—it is difficult to ignore TB. In the beginning, I felt a little fatigued. Gradually the fatigue grew until it seemed impossible to accomplish even the smallest task. Finally the coughing spells at night started, the discharge from my chest, the irritable, dulled personality. Toward the last, there was the occasional spitting of small amounts of blood, which I called sinus drainage.

My grades at West Texas State dropped from the honor roll to mediocre and below. I thought I was losing my mind, and so did my friends. They had a hard time putting up with me. They couldn't understand the changes that had come about in me, and neither could I. When you feel like you are dying, you don't feel like making polite conversation, and you withdraw into yourself.

I did try to find out what was wrong. I didn't look sick, and I didn't hurt anywhere. At the time I was making the rounds of the doctors, I hadn't yet spit up any blood. I was told that I had asthma. I was told that some mental upset was behind my symptoms, and that I needed to go to a psychiatrist. And it was true that I didn't make good sense any longer, but I couldn't afford a psychiatrist. There was no tuberculosis skin test given, and no chest x-ray. Nobody suspected tuberculosis.

I didn't care anything about alcohol, and really didn't like it. But there had to be some way to keep going, to mask those symptoms. Many TB patients become alcoholics following that route, but I was fortunate, and never became addicted. There but for the grace of God, go I. Nowadays I will hardly touch alcohol, and I hate it and fear it. In those days, though, the bottle was my way of getting through every day. Every day I drank.

This wasn't anything new I had these months of poor health for years, recurrently, since high school in Dumas. A bottle of whiskey a day when I was trying to work wasn't anything exceptional, even when I was eighteen. When the fatigue became so overwhelming, I stopped work, college, everything, and stayed home with my parents until strength came back. They didn't understand my behavior, and they didn't know about my drinking.

I couldn't stop in the last term of college. Graduation was not far away. I increased the drinking, and fought it out until the end of the term, when I received an undeserved degree. Fortunately, I hemorrhaged one day after graduation, and the diagnosis was obvious.

Even now it isn't easy to write about it. The past comes back, and I'd like to forget it. That's a very human way to feel. And it is all too easy to feel sorry for oneself, to think of lost years and things that might have been, of things that almost were. The sanatorium was like a prison. Mentally, I don't think I'll ever be out of it completely. The prison term often ended in death. There were no magic pills as there are now, except PAS, and it wasn't much good. Friends died and you grieved and you had to go on. It was self-protection not to make friends, but people aren't made to act like that.

We've got the pills to prevent it now, and pills to cure it. But the pills won't do any good if people don't know they are infected, and it is still possible to wait too long. It is still happening, just the way it happened to me. It shouldn't, but it does. I flinch to think how stupid I was, going along on pretense, drinking, coughing and spitting and spreading my infection to others. Still, I did try to find out, and if I had been successful, things would have been different. I have no way of knowing how many people I infected.

When the tuberculin skin testing program comes to Hall County on May 5, I hope everyone from age three months up takes the Mantoux test. Especially the mature and older people, who are most likely to be infected and actually tuberculous. Grandparents can spread TB to children just as babysitters can. People who work in shops and cafes and public offices can get it and give it, just as postal workers can. Policemen who deal with high-incidence population can do the same.

People who know me say that I am devoted to the Christmas Seal work. They are right. I know what TB is. I hope none of you ever have to know. Now it's up to you.

Classrooms Move Outdoors For Environment Ed.

If you see students planting trees on a school campus or catching frogs from a miniature pond, don't panic.

They are probably studying nature in an outdoor classroom—a new concept in environmental education.

"At last count, we had helped plan and install some 343 outdoor learning areas in Texas," said Edward Thomas of Temple, State Conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. "And the number grows every week, especially in the larger cities."

Thomas said SCS assistance includes soil and plant adaptation guidelines, planning erosion control measures, laying out nature trails, identifying plant, designing small water holding areas for aquatic studies, and other technical help.

A recent survey revealed that nearly 900 individual schools plus 48 school districts are using the 343 outdoor classrooms. Some 1,700 other groups, from Boy Scouts to adult organizations to convalescent hospital patients, also use the areas.

Learning features used in outdoor classrooms include soil and water conservation examples, plant and animal identification, historical studies, and aquatic life. Some areas also double as outdoor laboratories.

A total of 728 groups and organizations are helping schools install and maintain learning areas in Texas. These range from the American Association of University Women to parent-teacher organizations to a radio station.

Thomas said SCS first became involved in outdoor learning areas by helping schools cure campus erosion problems. Then someone suggested that letting students help install some of the conservation measures would be an excellent learning experience. From that came the idea that trees, grass, and shrubbery could be added to beautify the conservation measures or to attract wildlife. Eventually, the idea of installing a complete outdoor environmental learning area evolved.

Students enjoy planning and installing the classrooms themselves over a period of months or years, Thomas said. This also enhances the learning experience, helping students gain a deep appreciation of the inter-relationship between man, plants, soil, water, animals and sunshine.

Uses of outdoor classrooms vary, depending upon the ingenuity of the teacher. Some biology classes study microscopic growth in tiny ponds built on school campus; Chemistry classes conduct soil and water related experiments; math classes compute slope and elevation or estimate tree heights; and language art classes write articles or poems based on outdoor sounds and observations.

For help in getting started on an outdoor learning area, SCS has a new publication entitled "Outdoor Classrooms on School Sites." To get a free copy, call the nearest SCS office, or write Soil Conservation Service, P. O. Box 648, Temple, Texas 76501.

be paid, so we issued script, in denominations of $20 each, to satisfy, as best we could, our creditors. Everyone cooperated in accepting this medium of exchange—it was used to pay board bills, house rent, grocery accounts, etc. Stores, such as Neel Grocery, Bradford Grocery, Hogland Mercantile, Greene Dry Goods, Baldwin Dry Goods and others. This script was outstanding for many years before all could be paid off.

"The Panic of 1932 frightened people to such an extent that deposits in Banks all over the country decreased to such low figures that a Bank Holiday was declared in March 1933, by President F. D. Roosevelt, to give time to clear debris, and put the banking business back into some kind of working order. I recall that all of us in banking sat with our ears glued to the radio for news from Washington. During the three-day period that banks were closed the Comptroller and the Federal Reserve Bank advised us that Memphis did not need two National Banks, hence the Hall County and First National merged, with the following officer and directors:

"S. S. Montgomery pres., W. C. Dickey, V-Pres., Thos. E. Noel, V-Pres., T. H. Deaver, V-Pres & Cashier, O. L. Helm, Asst. Cashier, F. N. Foxhall, S. T. Harrison, D. L. C. Kinard and J. E. King."

In 1948 the First National Bank celebrated its 50th Anniversary with Mr. Noel as President, S. S. Montgomery as chairman of the board, T. H. Deaver, V-Pres., O. L. Helm, Cashier, D. L. C. Kinard, F. N. Foxhall, John Deaver, O. V. Alexander and J. E. King, directors.

At that time, Mrs. L. F. (Louise) Jones, was a member of the bank's staff, and is still a member, in charge of the Note Department.

The remainder of the address by Mr. Noel was devoted to naming many of the former employees of the bank, and to urging the bank not to turn the bank over to a Bank Holding Company. He also encouraged directors of the bank to attend Bank Director's Assemblies. "You learn that you, as a director, have a very important part to play in the operation of your bank, what your duties are, what you can do to help in the operation, and what

memorial services at the Harris Cemetery April 24, for the late Mrs. Harris of Stephenville. The Harris family made a visit to Hall County Heritage Hall. The Harris family were residents of Hall County several years ago. In fact, they were four children in this family. Estelle Harris, the wife of Wright Betts (now deceased), Mrs. Claude Harris passing away in 1968. Mollie Harris was living in Stephenville for the past four years. She was from MHS in 1926, and she had music in Amarillo and in Coleman until four years ago when she moved to Stephenville. Rayford Harris graduated from MHS in 1938, joined the military in 1940, took his basic training in Brownwood with the field medical. Along with him was J. P. Drake headed for the Philippines when war was over. He and J. P. were taken to Java. J. P. passed away in a prison camp at Burma. He was released after 42 months, then sent to Thailand and on to India and flow to Reed Hospital where he stayed for 30 days before coming home. He was then rehoused at Hot Springs, on to Boise, Idaho. He has since 1951, he has been living at Boise, Idaho. He is a member of Joan Vanorhese of Billings, Montana. They have one son, Ginn, age 21, and one daughter, Mark, age 3.

members of the Harris family in Heritage Hall were Col. H. L. Phillips of Stephenville. Mrs. Phillips will be remembered as Jane Harris who was born near Salisbury, N.C. Dr. Winfred Wilson brought her into this world. She was H. L. Phillips in 1946. She served in the Air Corps for several years, being stationed in Africa, England, Russia, Green, and the United States. He died in 1965 and since that time they have been living in Stephenville where they are now running an office supply store. They have three children, Cheryl, Phil, 24, (who are both married). Then they have a daughter, Linda, age 16, in high school. This family was very much interested in finding the collection of artifacts in Heritage Hall.

Clyde Grimsley of Hedley was her guest in Heritage Hall her sister, Mrs. Leonard

Curry of Cedaredge, Colo., on the western slope of the Rockies where they had a short apple crop last year, but prospects are better this year.

In checking up with Mrs. Grimsley on Homer Grimsley and his wife, Bobbie, she stated Homer has been shop foreman for Ford Motors in Hawthorne, Calif., for the past 20 years. We remembered Homer and Bobbie here in Memphis when Homer was employed by Foxhall Motor Co.

Other visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall were Frances and Lucy DeLeon of Sinton.

A quote from Earl's Pearls: "TV has certainly changed things. Now boys you get to see what is happening thousands of miles away, but don't get to meet the people next door."

As copied from "The University of Hard Knocks": "The citizens do not make their own steam. The little minority from the farms controls the majority. The red blood of redemption flows from the country year by year into the national arteries. Else these cities would drop off the map."

The farmers and small towns make the backbone of our nation. There are two kinds of "bumps" - Bumps that bump into and bumps that bump into us.

Another visitor we had in Heritage Hall was Richard Stotts of Tell. Richard was reared in the Giles and Hedley area. Richard graduated from Hedley High School in the 1956 class. We never know what field of business our young high school graduates will follow. In conversation with Richard we found out he has a love for cattle and especially Angus as he furnishes board and room for five show cattle and also operates a beauty parlor and manure service and gets them all ready for the beauty contests at different stock shows. He furnishes transportation for the could be kings or queens in each show. In this style show he has to train them just how to walk and twist to the time of the music as in style shows. It was interesting to note that Richard had groomed Angus from Texas, South Dakota, Kansas, Oregon, Iowa, Oklahoma, New Mexico and New York. Richard makes on the average of 18 shows per year.

We never know what is going on in our own back yard as this was the first I knew of this special grooming service.

In reading Sen. John Tower's news to Texas veterans, it was very interesting to note that for the fourth time in history, the name "Texas" will grace one of the top first line ships of the United States Navy. The newest addition to the fleet will be the fourth naval ship to be named after Texas. The first was an Ironclad. The third "Texas" was the famous battleship that demonstrated the fighting spirit to her namesake state during both world wars. She is now in permanent dock near the San Jacinto Monument on the Houston Ship Channel.

The next two or three days last week after the fire siren gave the storm warning, I heard a lot of conversation over coffee cups of the experiences they had in seeking protection. Some were taking a bath and just stayed in the tub! Others made a run for the bathroom and some crawled under their beds. I heard of one man who drove his pickup six blocks for his wife to get in the cellar and he stayed in the pickup to see the storm. Maudie Whitley said she was in a group attending a party and the door was not large enough for them to all fall in at one time and she just fell down in the door. I heard Mrs. John Fowler say she was so wet and excited after returning from the cellar that she just stayed up all night.

Last Monday the beef Cowbells along with the KGNC sound truck were in our town advertising the beef industry. Mrs. Benny Godfrey was the lucky one in drawing an 8-pound roast.

I read in the daily papers about Breckenridge having a free barbecue in the promotion of beef.

EASY SUIT—Cotton twill in a machine-washable and durable press blend shapes a jeans blazer and "baggies." The pants are styled with a two-inch cuff and a flapped watch pocket. By Landlubber in Stevens' fabric.

They served 6,000 pounds of barbecue to 5,000 people. Another beef promotion Saturday in Amarillo will be held and will serve 20,000 pounds of beef. The ranchers in their respective areas are furnishing the beef. I don't think any of these barbecues will be boycotted.

While watching highway traffic on 287 a few days ago, filled with trucks, cars and other vehicles, it made me wonder what the count on this traffic was per day. After consulting Jim Beeson, who keeps up with the traffic on account of business reasons, he tells me that we average 5,000 motor vehicles per day. If I figure right, that would be 150,000 per month, making over a million per year. If a small part of this traffic would give us a stop, would amount to a good cotton crop. I can remember when not over 50 cars a day came through Memphis.

Congratulations to Mrs. Elmont Branigan on spending 20 years with the Girl Scouts. She will see dividends paying off in this work as she lives on and realizes that she had a part in molding the lives of these young ladies as they grow up and take their places in carrying on the better ideals of life in our communities.

This is a part of what makes the "Golden Spread" the best part of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott have completely destroyed their lawn by digging out all of their Bermuda grass. I guess they will fill in with green concrete, rocks, gravel or maybe a community turnip patch. We will wait and see.

We may complain about sandstorms in this area, but after seeing some of the views of water damage in other states with homeless people and farms covered with water where they won't be able to plant their crops this year, we should be happy over just having a sandstorm.

We sweep our sand, and the people near the rivers sack their sand to keep dry by stopping up the leaks. Sand is very valuable in its place.

Visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall were Paul Cirtans, Joy Cirtans and Evelyn Styles of Houston, G. W. and Gertie Selmon of Dallas, Helen and Karen Crisman of Lubbock, Ellen Scarborough of Oklahoma City, Fremant Vivian of Flomot, Paul Stewart of Lubbock, Mrs. J. O. Haynes of Tylor.

Ruth and Sheritan McKay had as their guest in Heritage Hall, Mrs. E. S. Bowerman of Covina, Calif. She will be remembered as Willie Mae, daughter of Mrs. Mae Potter and sister of Ruth McKay. She remembered her first school here and Miss Ezell was her first teacher. This family lived in East Texas and moved back to Memphis, moved from Memphis to California in 1938. Mrs. Bowerman visited here about 6 years ago. She and her husband now have six children and 16 grandchildren.

In the passing away of my friend, Mrs. T. R. Garrott, I had known for over 60 years and who led a very active, full life, I think the scripture that would be fitting for her would be "Well done thou good and faithful servant."
