Ensign William D. Chappell Begins Career With Coast Guard June 6

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 6—Ensign William D. Chappell of Memphis began his career as a Coast Guard officer today when he received his commission during graduation ceremonies at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

He was also awarded a bachelor of science degree during the commencement at which Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar was the featured speaker.

The new ensign is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Chappell who live at 1012 N. 18th St. He is a graduate of Memphis High School. After a short leave he will be reporting to his first duty assignment aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Storis which is homeported in Kodiak, Alaska.

Thirty-eight states were represented in this year's graduating class of 194, the largest in the Academy's 97 year history.

The Coast Guard Academy was founded in 1876. It is the smallest of the nation's service academies, and the only one which tenders appointments solely on the basis of a nationwide competition. There are no Congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

While at the Academy, the young ensign studied the physical and ocean sciences as well as several liberal arts subjects. During the summers, he was engaged in practical training programs which included flight training in Mobile, Ala., cruises on modern Coast Guard cutters and short voyages on the Academy's 295-foot square-rigged sailing ship "Eagle."

When he reports to his new unit he will become one of the 20,008 Coast Guardsmen who carry out a world-wide humanitarian mission.

Besides maintaining a high state of military readiness, the Coast Guard saves several thousand lives annually.

Jay Campbell And Ronald Browning Return After Week At Boys State

Jay Campbell and Ronald Joe Browning returned Tuesday night after attending the thirty-third annual American Legion Boys State which is sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the Campus of The University of Texas. The two boys were sponsored by the Simmons-Noel Post 175 of Memphis.

Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Campbell while Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bo's Browning.

The local boys said their week at Boys State was certainly a great experience and very educational.

At Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program were the young citizens has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boys learn to do by doing.

Jay was elected as a house representative by one of the political parties while Ronald was named to serve on the Judicial

Department of the Narcotics Division.

In addition to performing their duties in the governments office, the youth also enjoyed sports. Ronald was a member of the basketball team which won their first two games at state. Jay played Volley ball and his team went to the semi-finals at state.

Highlight of Boys State was the trip to the Capitol where each elected Boy State official was given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day.

They were privileged to hear some outstanding speakers during the week including one of the returned war prisoners.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 17,479 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Kiwanis Club Invites Public To Drug Alert Program On June 18

The Memphis Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a "Drug Alert" program Monday, June 18, at 7:30 at the High School Auditorium.

"Operation Drug Alert" is a Major Emphasis Program recommended by Kiwanis International to be carried out throughout the United States and Canada, and is designed to expose the dangers of drug abuse in our own community, the president said. Too many people are unaware of a drug problem in Memphis, and we are thankful that it has not reached greater proportions than it has. But, any drug abuse is too much, and it is here now and more so than a few months ago and we can expect it to grow in the future unless more concerned and aware citizens do something to stop it. No effort is too great to spare our young people the grief and ruin which can come from Drug Abuse, the president concluded.

Heading up the program on the 18th will be Mr. Bob Muns, Record sales for the months of March, April, and May were recently announced by Earl Fisher, General Manager, at De Rose Industries Memphis plant. De Rose, manufacturer of mobile homes and related products, has operated the facility since October 1971 with the past three months being the best three consecutive months in the plant's history. Average sales during the period were in excess of $300,000 monthly.

Fisher, who became General Manager last November, attributed the record setting sales to a combination of factors. "We have undergone a reorganization of key personnel during recent months," he stated, "in both our sales and production departments." General Sales Manager Ken Kenyon joined the firm in mid-February, and since then Sales Representative Bob Henry, Sales Secretary Debra Moore, and Transport Supervisor Dennis King have also been added to the Sales force. Current sales are running three to 3½ weeks ahead of production with production at 15 to 20 houses weekly.

Increased sales volume and enlargement of the sales force have necessitated the addition of more office space for the Sales Department. A mobile office unit, one of the standard items produced by the plant, has been located adjacent to existing office facilities, to be utilized as a Sales Office. A fourth telephone line is being added to handle increased telephone traffic.

The Memphis plant is one of eight mobile home manufacturing facilities operated nationwide by De Rose Industries, Inc., a publicly held corporation whose stock trades on the American Stock Exchange. Robert A. De Rose, company president, is also serving as president of the National Mobile Home Manufacturer's Association. He has been active in the mobile home manufacturing industry since 1946.

The plant here manufactures 1, 2, 3 and 4, bedroom homes ranging in size from 40' x 12' to 60' x 24'. Mobile offices, classrooms, washatories, and other custom built units have also been produced here. Standard production homes are designed to sell between $4,000 and $14,000 on the retail market. Most of the homes produced here are shipped to the Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona markets although Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas, and Louisiana are also within the plant's sales territory.

Payrolls in excess of $500,000 are paid to plant employees annually, and thousands more are brought into the Memphis economy.

Tourism, More For The United States!

The United States of America, which used to be the promised land for immigrants of many nationalities, is no longer looked upon as such by citizens of the rest of the world, but due to the changing monetary system, the old U. S. of A. has suddenly become the world's ideal vacation spot.

The U. S. News and World Report Magazine this week proclaims: "From Europe, the Orient, Latin America, all corners of the world, foreigners suddenly are deciding that this country is an ideal vacation spot."

At a time when the U. S. dollar needs all the help it can get, foreign tourist currency could certainly become a big blessing to this country.

What has happened to reverse the trend? 1. Double evaluation of the dollar in the past 18 months—thus lowering the price of American products in terms of foreign currencies—has made dollar costs a "bargain" for visitors. Moreover, the rate of inflation here has been slower than in many other countries. 2. Higher wages and salaries have given many Europeans and others a larger disposable income—available now for the pleasures of travel. 3. Most Europeans already have "done" their neighboring countries and are looking for new horizons. America always has had a strong appeal, especially for those with relatives here. 4. Word has spread around by travelwriters that U. S. cities have a surprising number of free attractions, and relatively low costs compared to Paris, London, Rome, Tokyo and other population centers.

"Suddenly," says a London travel agent, "it is feasible for a secretary or a schoolteacher to contemplate a holiday in America."

Travel from Britain to the U. S. is up 40 percent over last year. A half million are expected before the year is out. About 180,000 French vacationers are making plans to come. Bookings for U. S. travel are up 20 percent, meaning about 60,000 or more, in Switzerland.

The big attraction for a record number of West Germans who plan to visit the U. S. this year is, "it's so cheap." The German mark that barely three years ago bought 25 American cents now buys 36 cents. And, when in the U. S., a German discovers that prices are quite low compared with what he is used to. Rooms and meals often are about half the price of the equivalent at home. America is expected to host 285,000 Germans this year.

About 128,000 Italians are expected to tour the U. S., up 15 percent over last year.

Japan is now sending more tourists to the U. S. than any country in the world—417,000 in 1972, with about 580,000 expected this year.

Latin Americans are also coming, and taking home all kinds of appliances with them. Some are even furnishing a whole house while here.

Naturally, the U. S. has never really tried to attract tourism. "We are like an underdeveloped nation when it comes to attracting tourism," says C. Langhorne Washburn, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism.

"Every person who come over here is the equivalent of a $400 export," he says. "Their spending helps the balance of payments by that amount. We have a potential market of 85 million 'customers'—that many foreigners affluent enough to visit this country."

That totals $34 billion in potential business, and the U. S. can expect $1.4 billion of this during 1973.

Memphis, Texas, is in its "Let's Talk Memphis" program, first stage, dealing with tourism. This would give all of us the big picture, and encourage us all. Two summers ago, a fellow from India stopped here on his bicycle he was riding around the world. If he found Memphis, couldn't we expect to host others?

What Other Editors Say

Why this is worse . . . If The Watergate case is the most serious scandal ever to hit the American White House, and a lot of people think it is, it is important to know why. Teapot Dome was pretty good as scandals go. Shady fellows close to Ulysses S. Grant got away with a lot that never got to court, and there have obviously been many people through the years who played fast and loose with the dangerous power that attaches to the American presidency and its staff. So what makes Watergate worse?

I suggest that this is the first documented time when the felonies and the lies were perpetrated for reasons of ideology rather than greed. So far as we know so far, no individual was stealing money; these men, up to a high level, were breaking and entering and perjury to achieve what they believed to be something good for the country—the destruction of the Democratic Party, maybe, or the establishment of some general kind of thought control. You can sort of understand President Harding's Interior Secretary, Albert Fall—be wanted money, and human greed, if not acceptable in high office, is at least, not a novelty. But what apparently has motivated the men in this administration was a deep desire to eliminate the untidiness of the American system—the slovenly tolerance of a loud opposition and a free press, the permission that the Founding Fathers carelessly gave people to hold wrong opinions.

That is what is dangerous. E. Howard Hunt, pleading guilty to felony, said "Anything I have done I believe was in the best interest of my country." This is scary.
—Harry Reasoner on ABC News

A Nation Of Laws!
Recently a number of persons have said to us: "I'll look forward to what you have to say about Watergate."

Such confidence is flattering, but a bit awkward, because it suggests that weekly editors have some special pipeline of information, or a wisdom that permits them to see clearly through the haze of real and imagined wrongdoing being referred to loosely as the Watergate affair. We and our readers share the same sources of information: no more, no less. The "lessons of Watergate" will take shape over the next few months. Right now the most important lessons would seem to be that a person who does something illegal because he believes that the end justifies the means is asking for deep trouble. The philosophy that the end justifies the means was, of course, the rationale of Hitler. Frequently it has been used to suppress minority groups or political dissent. The scandals of previous administrations have involved money or the hope of personal gain. The persons involved in Watergate appear to have been motivated by the belief that there were over-riding issues to justify what they did: national defense, or the strength of the Republican Party.

Should an individual, even be excused for breaking the law because his conscience told him that the law stood in the way of some important goal? Here the irony of Watergate becomes apparent. Daniel Ellsberg thought it in the interest of national security that Congress should know the content of the Pentagon Papers. Egil Krogh thought that national security justified any steps necessary to check on Mr. Ellsberg's psychiatric record. If one was wrong the other was wrong; you can't have it both ways.

We cannot applaud a law-breaker when we sympathize with his motives, and excuse him of heinous crime when we resent what he is doing. Perhaps this will become the lasting lesson of Watergate: that we are dedicated to a government of laws, not of men, and when men ignore the law offering as their excuse that their end justifies their means, the result can be nothing less than chaos.

of the sexes, the following bit makes you wonder. They say it's a man's world, but . . . If a woman is short, she's "petite". If a man is short, he's a runt. Lacking bravery, a woman is "timid"—a man is a "coward". A woman who is inept at earning a living is "the domestic type". But a man who is inept at earning a living is a "ne'er-do-well".

The woman with a job in a masculine field, such as engineering, is a "pioneer". A male fashion designer is a "sissy". Girl stays single because she "prefers a career". A man stays single because he is "egotistical" and selfish.

A woman who jilts a man is merely exercising "a feminine prerogative." But a man who jilts a woman is "cruel" and "heartless".

Feeding Operations Clean Air Act

The Texas Air Control Board has in effect a permit program for confined livestock and poultry feeding operations, says an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The program, set up under an amendment to the Texas Clean Air Act of 1967, considers the proper handling of manure and runoff to minimize odors and dust. Permits are required for both the construction and operation of a feedlot and for the construction and operation of a feedmill in conjunction with feeding facilities.

Dim View Of Constitution Change
County officials are getting together to fight any constitutional change which would drastically alter county government, according to Judge Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission.
Following hearings in Corpus Christi, Calvert said he sees "an incipient opposition to any suggested changes in county government."
He cited three letters from county officials expressing a dim view toward tampering with their jobs. Calvert said the Commission is committed to no course on the subject.
The 37-member body is concluding its hearings over the state and will make recommendations to the legislature next November. Lawmakers will sit at a hearing in eight cities this month. Committees will begin drafts on conclusion of the public discussions.
The remainder of the constitutional hearings are set as follows: Friday, June 15, Beaumont, Orange and Port Arthur; Thursday, June 21, Abilene; Friday, June 22, Wichita Falls;

Thursday, June 28, Waco; and Friday, June 29, Austin.

Unsafe conditions in public housing units are grounds for suits where tenants are injured, the State Supreme Court held in a case growing out of a death due to a defective heater.
In another case, the High Court upheld lower court judgments of $197,500 in damages against Mobil Pipeline Company on behalf of the family of a Mobil Oil Company employee who died in a Beaumont explosion.

The U. S. Supreme Court in Washington, meanwhile, upheld a Texas law requiring immunization of school children against several diseases. The top court ruled 7-2 that states cannot indirectly tax liquor sales on U. S. military bases.

Ringling Bros. And Barnum And Bailey To Show In Amarillo June 26-27

daily a handsome young Paul Valdez climbs Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus trapeze and goes through the air, catching members of The Flying Troupe with sure hands and grace.

It's difficult to believe that barely four years ago Valdez was drifting on a raft in the Gulf of Mexico, eating raw seagulls and trying to stay alive in a daring escape from his native Cuba.

Valdez will be with Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum on Tuesday, June 26, for a limited engagement Wednesday, June 27.

The first time that Valdez attempted to escape from Cuba in 1954, he and two companions were captured because their raft was spotted by Cuban patrol boats. As they landed, the three were apprehended by Cuban soldiers and sentenced to 12 years of hard labor.

When Valdez was 19 then, sent to a prison camp in Mantanzas, he was engaged in cutting cane, digging and cleaning stables. But Valdez was a man of eventual escape—his escape from Cuba was planned very much on his mind.

After months of planning, one day Valdez and a fellow prisoner decided to escape. They dressed their bodies with soap and slipped through a narrow opening. Once away from the prison compound, they made their way to Havana.

Valdez' second and successful escape from Cuba must have been something of a secret, to Valdez and others. But, after five months he managed to reach the United States bringing with him a raft made from a small bed and innertubes. A friend named Valdez and the pair sailed along enough food and water for five days, and an all-weather compass.

On the day on the ocean, Valdez was for Florida, storms and waves tossed the tiny craft. Both escapees became seasick and, even worse, the compass was lost. Valdez drifted for days without water and no land in sight. Valdez was convinced that his escape was imminent when, suddenly, a seagull landed on his head. He tore it to pieces and ate it all," Raul remembers. The seagull landed, then before long, the man had four raw seagulls.

Valdez tried to catch rain in a tin can for drinking water but the rain was so salty that the water was undrinkable. One day Valdez drifted by the raft. He grabbed it and the two escaped on the milk and eleventh night, Valdez was captured. He peddled to the beach and, at daybreak, he was on a beach. A passing boat spotted him, radioed the Coast Guard and within an hour Valdez and his friend were in a hospital in Key West but in Jacksonville hundreds of miles up the Atlantic Coast.

"We got to Jacksonville, Florida, and we know!" Valdez says. He was questioned by the FBI and his companion were taken to Miami. Valdez later moved to Chicago where two of his friends were living. He got a job at a television station but a newspaper advertisement for Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus caught his eye. "I didn't read English," he says, "but everybody can see the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus." Valdez had worked in a trapeze act in Cuba and he got back in to circus

The Greatest Show on Earth arrived in Chicago. Valdez was selling souvenirs at the time when he introduced himself to the Flying Gaonas, internationally famous as "The First Family of the Air." The friendly Mexican family immediately "adopted" Valdez. Within three weeks he was "catching" for the Gaonas, replacing Victor, the Gaona patriarch and coach who had been on the lookout for a young man to replace him in the air.

Reaul has been with The Greatest Show on Earth for 3 1/2 years now. His parents, a brother, and three sisters are still in Cuba.

"Every month I call them," Valdez says. "I say, 'Hello, I am doing fine.'"

FRIENDLY NUZZLE—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus' world-famous tiger trainer, Charly Baumann, enjoys a bit of fun with his huge pet, Kismet, in the 102nd Edition of The Greatest Show On Earth. Four performances are scheduled at the Amarillo Civic Center on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 26 and 27. There will be two performances each day, at 2:30 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

M. G. Tarvers Celebrate 50th Anniversary Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Tarver were honored by their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tarver and grandsons Mark, David and Dale, on the occasion of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary, June 10, with a family gathering for the day. Estelline relatives joined the family for Sunday morning worship services at the First United Methodist Church, after which other relatives met the party at the DeVille Restaurant for a buffet luncheon, with places arranged for twenty-one in the dining room.

The family spent the afternoon in the M. G. Tarver home, reminiscing and visiting as they recalled the past and present years. A beautifully decorated three tiered wedding cake and a 'His' chocolate cake were served with refreshing gold colored punch during the afternoon. A number of friends (learning of the occasion) stopped by with congratulations and visiting.

Family members other than those mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Susan and Gay, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. 'Laddie' Sloan of Greenville, Texas, who were visiting their grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Nivens, their sons, Brent and Steve Pardue, and the Nivens' daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Don Proffitt and little son Bradley Sloan; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Tarver and daughter Donna of Quail. Mrs. R. S. Greene, a close family friend whose wedding anniversary was also June 10, was a special guest for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Quail, and daughter, Mrs. Fred Barnes of Altus Air Force Base, Altus, Oklahoma; long time friends, were among those calling in the afternoon.

If you have a friend or relative suffering from an unrelieved hearing loss, he also may be a victim of serious psychological side effects as a result of his hearing impairment, officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation point out. Such an individual constantly needs special understanding and treatment.

Sandra Toner, Michael Cooney Wedded in Californian Rites

Wedding in the Historic Peralta garden in San Jose, Calif., united in matrimony Sandra Katherine Toner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Toner of San Jose, Calif., and Michael Cooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Milam of San Jose, Calif. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. J. W. Stokes and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Minneapolis, Minn.

Bells in the tower of the Peralta garden were rung for the procession of the wedding party, playing Westminister, striking the hour of the wedding. They then played "All Hail the Lord's Angelus" and "Our Father."

Marie Toner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were identical in their white and pink shawls, rose in their hair and garden match the bride's bouquet.

The groom's best man was Gary Cooney, of San Jose, Calif., brother of the bride's groom. The groom's best man was John Los Angeles, Calif.

The bride wore a white full length gown with a train and a white tulle veil. She wore a necklace including a diamond and necklace and a pair of white roses and a pair of white shoes.

Something old she wore the white and her greater brother Norris cameo ring; something new was her wedding ring; something blue her father that helped in the wedding ceremony.

beneath the 3 pine trees and the 8 tree roses. The congregation entered into the ceremony from the chairs arranged near the 3 pine trees known as "Three Graces".

So far in the history research of Casa Peralta, the city of San Leandro believes this is the first wedding and reception held in the Peralta grounds—and of the California United Methodist Church—with both ministers being uncle and grandfather of the groom. It is a first marriage of each first child (adult) in the Toner and Cooney family.

Mrs. Toner chose for her daughter's wedding a long blue dress with Spanish shawl while Mrs. Cooney, the groom's mother, wore a long pink styled afternoon dress.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held. Carlos Sandoval Spanish troubadours strolled among the wedding party and guests. Wedding cake with base of a miniature flowing fountain supported the four-tiered decorated with clusters of red and pink roses and white satin wedding bells was served.

MEMPHIS UPHOLSTERY

7th And Brice

B. B. Shots

By BYRON BALDWIN

Virginia Browder has as her guest in Hall County Heritage Hall last Saturday, Rev. William T. Swain, Jr. of Harrisburg, Pa. The Rev. Swain will be remembered by many of you as the son of Rev. William T. Swain, who served as pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Memphis from 1912 to 1921. Bro. Caldwell was the first pastor in the present building and Bro. Swain was the second pastor. William remembered attending grade school here and two of his teachers he remembered were Mrs. Carruthers and Miss Ira Hammond. Some of the schoolmates he remembered were Budge Harle, Rabb Harrison, Shug Lemons, Hubert Dennis, Lucile (McCann) Dennis and H. D. Stringer. William retired from pastoring churches in 1970. He says he is now a promoter and fund raiser, getting big money from the wealthy and small money from poor people. The money that he is raising is for Presbyterian apartment houses for senior citizens who can live comfortably in their later years. He left me a picture of one of these high rise apartments where he now lives. William married Alice McKenzie, who was born and raised in Scotland. She has published more than 5,000 poems and has been in the Who's Who column more than a dozen times. I asked William if she played bag pipes, but he said she did not but really liked that kind of music. William and Alice have two daughters, Elizabeth, head of Special Collection University Arch at Wesley in Middletown, Conn. Their other daughter, Kathleen, is associate professor of English at the University of Mass. at Amherst, Mass. I overheard Hubert Dennis, Floyd McIntush and Wendell Harrison trying to make William remember some of the devilment they got into while in Memphis. He said they could tell anything but he would deny it. He did admit that one Halloween night he and some of the other boys were about to get a porch swing and the man of the house came out and let his shotgun shoot into the air, and it scared him so badly that his mother found him in bed the next morning fully dressed as he fell in the bed the night before. He also remembered learning to ride a bicycle on the one Fred Finch owned. On this trip William had visited the L. B. J. Library at Austin and on his way home, he will make the Eisenhower Library and Truman Library at Lincoln, Ill., where he will teach a short time, visit 2 days in Christian homes, on to Mansfield, Ohio, to see his sister, Sarah, who was 6 months old when they left Memphis. The next stop will be the Presbyterian home that he built in Kittanning, Pa., and on to his in Harrisburg, Pa. 17101, Apt. 1606-322 N. 2nd. Other members of the Swain family are Sarah, who is now Mrs. Robt. Kinton of Mansfield, Ohio, Rev. J. Carter Swain, who is now retired and living in New York City. He has two sons, Rev. Robert L. Swain is now Dean of Beaver College at Glenside, Pa.

The parents are now deceased; their father passed away in 1940 and their mother in 1941. William remembered their post office box in Memphis was 45. He was very complimentary of Hall county Heritage Hall.

A. E. Sanders and Julie of Arlington were visitors in Heritage Hall last Saturday. They had attended a family reunion in Clarendon where his dad and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sanders, celebrated their 61st anniversary. This family first moved to Hall County in the Brice area in 1920, then to Antelope Flat and Memphis and on to Clarendon. A. E. says that his dad is still driving a tractor.

Bernie Davis of Paducah was another visitor in Heritage Hall. Bernie has been with the West Texas Utilities for the past 40 years. He married Mary Gardner (daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gardner). Bernie and Mary moved to Paducah in 1941.

Visiting in Heritage Hall was Linda Robinette of Irving. She was a guest in the home of Mrs. Roy Patton with the Granddaughters, Sarah and Melissa, also of Irving. The other granddaughter, Janet, is on a bus trip from the First Baptist Church of Irving, traveling as far as Washington, D. C., having services on the way up and back. Their mother, Roddy, is one of the chaperones on this bus trip. Sarah Smith is one of the "Apache Belles" of Tyler Junior College. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Carl Smith and Mrs. Roy Patton. They will have a part on the program in Dallas for the "Cowboys" in August. Linda Robinette was very interesting to talk with as she recently had a new experience and that was being one of the 27 candidates in Irving for the City Commission. She had the honor of being the first woman to be in

BEAR ON A BALL—Jackie Althoff's world-famous Wonder Bears add almost "unbearable" excitement to the 102nd Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. the runoff. She says she is not through with politics as she is going to law school this fall. Linda said she was born in Toledo, Ohio. Her father was in the U. S. service for 17 years. She had lived in several states and in Europe. I asked her how many schools she attended. She did not know, but that she attended 5 different kindergarten schools. This was her first small town and said she liked it because people seemed so friendly and spoke and waved and they did not know her. Her quote: "I am going to go through school and live in a small town like this one."

Mary Davis, now Mrs. Bernie Davis, and Mrs. (Edna May) Roy Richardson, each drive 30 miles per day to see each other, making a total of 60 miles each day. Mary living in Paducah and Edna living in Memphis. They have both worked for the Production Credit Assn. for several years.

Mrs. E. G. Moore had as her guests in Heritage Hall, her sister, Mrs. Jeff Stuart of Melrose, N. M., and Mrs. Kerry Moore of Muleshoe. Mrs. Kerry (Pat) Moore is serving as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Muleshoe. Her husband, Kerry, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Moore and is now in the speech and drama department in the Muleshoe High School.

of Wichita Falls. Bety Jean graduated from MHS in 1956. She married in 1959 to a young man of Kirkland. Mrs. Moore's other daughter, Patricia, is now in Puerto Rico but is expected to be back to the mainland of the U. S. soon. Dorothy is now living in Amarillo, moving there after her husband, Mark Stuart, was killed in a motorcycle accident March 4, in Tennessee. The two sons are Don of Sun Prairie, Wis., and David of San Angelo. Both of them are employed by General Telephone Co. This was Betty Jean's first visit to Heritage Hall. She seemed to enjoy seeing the school room with all of the pictures of her family in the graduating class pictures.

The art show at the Community Building was really outstanding in this field. With the entries of 245 pictures and china, this show would be a credit to any size town. By the smiles of the promoters and artists, you could tell that the show was a success.

John Alex Rowell of Childress had as his guests in Heritage Hall, Mrs. Moody McCulloch (Verna Kellison) of Plainview and Betty (Kellison) Elmore of Long Beach, Calif., Betty graduated from MHS in 1940, married Ernest Elmore in 1943. They have one son, Mrs. (Hanna Kellison) Vardy of Long Beach, Calif., married L. E. Vardy. There were five girls and one boy, Taylor, in the W. L. Kellison family. Four of the children were born at Newlin and all attended school there. Mr. Kellison passed away in 1940 and Mrs. Kellison in 1968.

The Moody McCulloch family lived in Memphis several years before moving to Plainview in 1933. They had two daughters and one son. Moody worked for A. Womack and J. D. Guinn in Memphis. Moody passed away in 1971. I did not get the complete story of the Kellisons as they all did not get to Heritage Hall after visiting the Newlin Cemetery where they had loved ones buried.

A bus from the First Baptist Church of DeRidder, La., was stranded here a few days ago as they lost the left front wheel off of their bus. This was a good town for them to get stranded in

If Mack and Loraine had a party last Sunday, of June, I lost my invitation was not invited. It was a 50th wedding anniversary without wings gave me more years together.

While waiting for a flat to be fixed last Saturday, a colored bus drove up to the station for a fill-up. The sign outside of the bus was "Methodist Church" of Manche, Okla. There were 5 adults and 30 young people who ranged in age from 20. I would call it an unusual bus as there were 27 young only 3 boys. This group was on a mission trip to Red River, Taos, N. M. I asked them "The Eyes of Texas" they replied that they had an Oklahoma song. They not travel on to Holywell some of these good looking would never get back to home. One of the adults told me that these young made the expense money on trip by washing cars, lawns, serving bean and suppers and many people make this trip. A happy of young people!

They are Bob Cosby and Wynn in Texas Tech; Scott, Sam Houston State; die Foxhall, University of Claude Corley, West Texas State; and Elaine Phillips, western State.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

New Pesticide Law To Affect Farmers

Persons engaged in farm operations will need to comply with certain emergency regulations in the use of organophosphorous pesticides beginning June 18. The regulations come under the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) of 1970, according to County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser.

This federal act establishes regulations where employers are obligated to follow certain standards in assuring a safe and healthful workplace for their employees.

The temporary regulations are effective through the 1973 crop year and concern only those pesticides with a phosphorous base that are considered highly toxic at the time of application. Among these are diazinon, malathion, methyl parathion, parathion and disulfoton (Di-Syston).

Under the new guidelines, employers are required to do the following:

1. During pesticide application, remove all employees from the field who are not engaged in the application.
2. Prohibit employees from re-entering a pesticide treated field until a predetermined safety period has passed.
3. Post written warning signs as indicated by the regulations and give oral notice if necessary.
4. Maintain records of all warnings, both written and oral.
5. Supply protective clothing and equipment to all applicators, and provide safe methods of cleaning such clothing and equipment after use.
6. Maintain certain sanitary equipment and clothing change areas and storage areas away from food and water.
7. Maintain first aid supplies and a supply of portable water for emergencies in reasonable vicinity to any field being treated with pesticides.

According to Hooser, the emergency regulations are published in the May 1, issue of the Federal Register. Information is also available from the U. S. Department of Labor or from individual congressmen.

Public hearings will be conducted on the regulations before they are retained past 1973.

swing and that means more tractors and other farm equipment on public roads. It's a time when road safety is especially critical, both on the part of the tractor operator as well as the motorist, points out County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser.

Tractor operators should make sure the slow-moving vehicle (SMV) emblem is properly displayed, clean and clearly visible before traveling a public road with farm equipment. This emblem is required by law.

Extreme care is essential when entering or crossing a road with a tractor or other farm equipment. Make allowances for the additional time needed to turn with a trailer or other long implements.

When traveling on a public road with farm equipment, pull over when possible to let traffic pass. Be sure to signal turns and check for passing vehicles before turning.

A tractor can turn over easily at high speeds so steer it with caution and avoid sharp turns.

Hooser cautions motorists to learn to recognize the SMV emblem. It's a fluorescent yellow-orange triangle with a dark red reflective border and identifies all vehicles designed to travel at speeds less than 25 miles per hour.

Since tractors and other farm implements travel at such low speeds motorists should take immediate action when sighting them or the SMV emblem. A motorist should decrease speed immediately as he will approach the tractor rapidly due to the great differences in speed of the two vehicles. With a tractor moving 15 to 20 miles per hour and a car travelling 60 to 70 miles per hour, there isn't much time—only a few seconds—to react once a motorist sights a tractor in the lane ahead.

Safety on public roads is the responsibility of everyone, points out Hooser. And there's always room for plenty of courtesy along the way.

Randy Phillips Receives Honor At Naval Center

Recently, Personnelman Randy Phillips was selected as the "Enlisted Man of the Quarter" at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Millington, Tenn. In presenting this award for the first quarter 1973, Commanding Officer, Captain Edmund O'Callaghan commended PNSN Phillips for his outstanding performance.

Phillips was nominated by his superiors, and was chosen for this award by a selection board of four Navy Commanders and two Master Chief Petty Officers after attending a personal interview. Particular consideration is given to nominating personnel whose military bearing, performance, achievement, and example deserve special recognition. The extraordinary attainment which is recognized is that which is above normally expected military, civic, or public service activity.

The field of candidates for this honor consisted of many other highly motivated and qualified personnel in the Naval Air Technical Training Center. As a result of long-termed, outstanding performance, PNSN Phillips was selected as the most deserving of all nominees to receive this special recognition.

During the first quarter of this year, Phillips was directly responsible for the assignment of 1750 students at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Millington, 600 of these were assigned to messmen duties and 1150 were assigned to regular berthing spaces.

PNSN Randy Phillips, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Phillips, joined the Navy in September of 1971 and has been stationed at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Millington for over a year.

short visit with W. W. Hedley a few days ago. He is a former Hall County farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins, moved to Hall in 1900. W. W. attended the "greasy neck" which was his report.

FAMOUS FLIERS—The Flying Gaonas, the world's greatest flying-trapeze troupe, present fantastic aerial feats in the spangle-splashed 102nd Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. The Greatest Show On Earth opens at the Amarillo Civic Center for a special limited engagement, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 26 and 27. There will be two performances each day.

first things W. W. asked me about was our rains. I gave the heavy rains a pretty good build-up and he started in to tear my story down as when he was living in the Deep Lake area in 1921, they had such a big rain that water stood in the fields 20 days. They looked out of their window and saw people in the field picking up fish that washed in from the lakes. I finally asked him if he belonged to the "Liars Club". He denied this and said he was telling the truth, but not to get everything he said verified by his wife.

Senator Jack Hightower was in our town for a short time the past week. He said it felt good to have the last session over in Austin. Most of his time spent here was checking with our county officials on the much talked of fuel shortage for farmers. We are glad he is on our side to keep the tractors going. The other part of his time here was with his mother who is back home and doing fine was his report.

"Let's Talk Memphis"

By LESTER H. CAMPBELL

During the past few months, I have noted with a great deal of interest that the city of Amarillo has made tremendous strides in attracting new industry . . . some large in scope and some small. I firmly believe that these industries will be of benefit to the Hall County area, for I do not feel that Amarillo can progress without our area progressing along with Amarillo.

But of more interest to me is the fact that, almost without exception, the executives of these incoming industries announce that one of the most important reasons for their decisions is the attitude of the people in Amarillo.

Having made our home in Amarillo for a number of years, I will agree with these executives that Amarillo is a city of fine people, generally speaking. In my work there, I had the privilege of meeting and dealing with some of the city civic leaders . . . and I felt that all of these leaders deserved to be leaders, for they were fine, friendly people, generous with their time, gentle in their dealings with those of us who were not among the civic leaders.

However, if you are one who believes, or thinks, that Amarillo has all the fine people . . . you are, in my opinion, badly mistaken. I have heard Byron Baldwin, the late J. C. Claude Wells, and many, many others of the real Hall County pioneers state that Memphis is the home of the "finest, the best people on the face of the earth."

So Amarillo certainly has no monopoly on good citizens. Amarillo has no monopoly on good civic workers. Amarillo has no monopoly on good church workers. Frankly said, Amarillo simply has no monopoly on good people.

Memphis doesn't have such a monopoly either. But I sincerely believe we have fewer "old sore heads" than any community in which I have ever lived, or any community with which I have had communication and association over the years. And I have lived in several different communities, and have traveled in my work in the past in many more.

To prove my point, I call attention to the fact that the local invitational golf tournament held here annually attracts more entries and more people interested in gold than does the tournament of any other town in this area. And the reason given is simple: the people who run and help with the tournament are so friendly, so congenial that the golfers like to come here.

So I feel that we can certainly "talk Memphis" in a very positive way by using the greatest asset any area can have . . . good people, friendly people, progressive people, interested people, God-fearing people, family people . . . and above all, "people people." Let's talk Memphis . . . and when those looking for a home come sight-seeing . . . whether it's a home for an industry, for a business, for retirement, or for just plain living in peace, harmony, and comfort . . . they will

From The Chamber Corner

Jim Edd Wines, Chamber manager, is out of the office this week due to unplanned medical reasons. Jim's absence will be noticed by several of the town's people as he usually makes the rounds checking on bumper sticker sales and whatnot.

While we are on the subject of our Chamber manager, let's give appreciation where appreciation is due. Last Wednesday Wines gave the Lions' Club program; naturally, the subject was the Chamber of Commerce. Jim's main speech was developed on the application presented to the State Park Board for revision and improvement of our local park. May other towns have written and called our Chamber to review this application as the word has spread of its refined preparation.

The park is not Jim's only baby; he has restructured the budget and has the Chamber's finances in the best shape ever; we all enjoyed the Circus brought here courtesy of the Chamber; "Let's Talk Memphis" tags can be seen in any of our "287" business places; and of course, we are now aware that Memphis is the Cotton Capital of the Panhandle. These are just a few of the old Buffalo's projects . . . I know you can think of some more. Let's give Jim Edd our support—He's certainly giving you his support.

Joe Hillhouse, son of Mrs. Emily Hillhouse and Matthew Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith were in the Chamber office seeking a community project toward one of the Eagle rank requirements of the Boy Scouts. Matthew received several hours of work doing various jobs for the city in the maintenance department under the supervision of Chamber members Johnny Hancock. Both Joe and Matthew helped the Artist Studio Club women in preparation of the area art show in the Community Center. The chamber office is happy to assist in helping our Boy Scouts to find worthwhile

The club had a best ball tournament last Sunday with 10 teams competing.

The team captained by Gayle Monzingo including Danny Davidson, Bill Lockhart, Mary Lockhart and Scotty Lockhart won first place six under par.

Second place was won by Larry Parks team after nine holes of extra sudden death play-off was held. Other members of this team included Carol Gardenhire, Don Curl and Betty Curl.

Third place went to Melroy Cofer's team of David Cofer, Tina Foxhall and Marilyn Whitten.

Besides making verbal communication nearly impossible, loud industrial noises can pose a safety problem, warn officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. High intensity noise levels not only are hazardous to the human hearing mechanism, but also could cause a worker not to hear a warning shout.

onomy through utilities, taxes, and local purchase of parts and equipment for the plant. Approximately 90 persons are presently employed at the facility.

Long range prospects for the plant are excellent, Fisher indicated. Further expansion of production facilities are underway and more construction will be scheduled soon. Production should reach five units a day before summer's end, and as sales continue to increase hiring of more employees throughout the plant will be necessary.

"We have appreciated the great cooperation of the Memphis townspeople in our growth and success to date," Fisher said. "We are proud to be a part of this forward looking community and look forward with its people to many years of continuing mutual prosperity."
