Little League All-Stars Lose In Area Play-Offs To Pampa Mon. 7-2

The Memphis Little League All-Stars were defeated by the Pampa National All-Stars Monday night in the Area Playoffs' opening round by a score of 7 to 2. Tony Richardson went all the way on the mound for the Memphis All-Stars, and the scorebook revealed that Tony gave up only three runs to hits during the game, one was a home run smack, but the other four runs came on fielding errors. The Local All-Stars hitting loaded all the bases several times including the last of the sixth inning, but the Pampa team managed to retire the sides denying several scoring opportunities. The local team's two runs came off two double-bagger hits off Tony Richardson's bat with one man on base each time. Those attending the game in Pampa Monday night reported the local lads played well against Pampa. The local team was leading 1-0 in the early innings of the game. Little League President D. C. Messick said this week that plans are now being made for the Little League Picnic, an event which climaxes the season each year. The date of this event is currently under discussion.

Hubert Jones indicated that mid summer was a time each year when certain items were in short supply, but he said there are more items in short supply now than at anytime he could remember. Grocery men all indicate that salesmen complain to them that wholesalers are losing money under price guidelines they have been under since the price freeze set in. Now that the price freeze has lifted, grocery men are predicting an increase in price on items from wholesalers which naturally is passed on to buyers. Among items listed as being hard to get include: raisens, fruits, beans, canned meats including fish, and many of the high protein foods. Tomatoes, No. 1 potatoes and corn were also mentioned as being in short supply at times during the past few weeks.

Driver's License Office To Be Closed July 25

Today's newspaper headlines tell of the lifting of price freeze on food items except beef prices, but a continued freeze over the rest of the economy.

What effect this will have in local grocery stores was the subject of an interview conducted by Editor Bill Combs with local grocery store owners and managers.

It is generally felt that prices will climb in the next week or too on many items, especially pork and chicken in the meat cases.

Grocery men here indicate their suppliers have informed them that pork was in short supply and when their orders arrived a lot of their meat cuts (beef included) would not be trimmed of fat.

In dropping the freeze in the food industry, the President said that food prices can go up only to reflect the increased cost of raw agricultural products. He said that the food prices must not be kept so low as to cause shortages, as the current freeze was threatening to do.

Actually grocery men here indicate that meat companies have already stopped producing canned meat items, and canned fish is getting hard to get.

What is seasonally in short supply or what is in short supply due to price freeze is questionable, but many items grocery store men here need are listed as unavailable, especially in the canned fruit columns and many of the bean items. Even dry pinto beans have been put on the allotment basis.

Don Davis of Davis and Scott summarized his feeling on the situation by saying, "I feel the supply cycle has been broken. Demand is strong and supplies are having difficulty meeting this demand."

Hubert Jones indicated that mid summer was a time each year when certain items were in short supply, but he said there are more items in short supply now than at anytime he could remember.

National Farm Safety Week!

The week of July 25, 1973, has been proclaimed as National Farm Safety Week by President Richard M. Nixon, who pointed out in his proclamation, "the blessings of technological progress so significant in achieving agricultural abundance also add to the danger of injury on the nation's farms."

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz said, "In keeping with the President's concern about safety in Rural America, and in an effort to help farm families avert daily hazards, the Department of Agriculture has undertaken a year round farm and home safety program. Monthly emphasis are centered on practices and activities that will help avert mishaps on the farm and in the home. Our plans for the coming year call for renewed USDA emphasis on rural safety."

Recent studies indicate falls in the home and from equipment in fields or around farmsteads are responsible for one-third of the annual national farm accident toll.

Farm Safety Week is an excellent time to point out dangers and hazards which may result in falls or other mishaps.

President Nixon said in the proclamation: "Each year, many thousands of farm and ranch residents are killed or seriously injured in work, home, recreation and highway mishaps. For the most part, these accidents could be prevented if basic safety precautions were observed."

"The dollar cost of rural accidents is high, but there is no higher price than the human suffering. This waste of precious human and economic resources must be reduced and can be reduced. The same energies and talents which have made agriculture so highly productive should also be turned to the task of making it safer."

It would be wonderful if Hall County citizens could say, "there is no need for farm safety concern, for accidents are non-existent," but unfortunately, this is not true. Never does a season go by that farm related accidents do not occur, some are fatal, some cripple and maim, right in our own county.

Farmers are trapped under their tractors, family members are injured by animals, equipment gets tangled up in clothing or portions of the body and rips and mangles, fingers are lost; and the list can go on and on.

Our citizens need to be more conscious about safety practices. Our children need to be carefully instructed as to the dangers in their environment.

Farming operations are becoming more complex, due to modern technology and the declining number of competent farm laborers. More and more are farmers having to rely on their own children or teenagers to help out during peak working periods.

Safety instructions must be the concern of the bossman, the foreman, or the owner. Unless those in charge are concerned with safety, it is rare for a worker or teenager to concern themselves.

In this same vein, practical joking sometimes ends in tragedy. The old cowboys joke of putting a burr under a saddle blanket on the horse, while considered funny, is extremely dangerous.

What Other Editors Say

Never give in ... never

From the "How Far is Too Far Department": The price of gold has zoomed to over $120 an ounce while the dollar continues to skid on the world money market to record lows, soybeans are selling for $10 a bushel and a pornographic movie grossed over $1 million at one New York theatre in less than a year.

I don't suppose it's the first time anyone ever scratched his head in puzzlement and attempted to unravel all the threads of uncertainty woven into and around the fabric of society, but it does seem that the "mess in Washington", inflation, deflation and attempts to entertain have reached record extremes. Probably not though, since every age and time has had its highs and lows.

I suppose it's a good time to remind ourselves of an admonition given by Winston Churchill, "Never give in! Never give in! Never, never never. Never, in anything great or small, large or petty—never give in except to convictions of honor and good sense."

—The Plainview Reporter News

Not always true to life

There's no getting around the fact that some of the television commercials are good—and apparently most of them must sell, because the cost is tremendous. But others are so inane and far out that it seems to us they would drive buyers away.

It will never happen, of course, but we keep waiting for the housewife in answer to her husband's question, "What shortening do you use?" to respond, "Why axle grease, honey—that's what makes your fried chicken so good!"

Or for the lady who's offered two boxes of detergent for one to cry out, "Sure, I'll take them; there's very little difference in any brand!"

The one we'd actually like to see happen true-to-life, however, is when the mother put the little girl's new party dress on her the day before the party and the little girl promptly went out and sat down in a mudhole. In the commercial, the woman explains that it seemed hopeless to try to clean the dress, but that her daughter was so upset about not getting to wear the new dress to the party the next day that she (the mother) used this certain brand of detergent and had the dress sparkling like new by party time.

In the first place, the mother shouldn't have let her young daughter put on the dress until time to go to the party. In the second place, instead of getting upset over her daughter getting upset, the mother should have tanned her good for sitting down in the mudhole in the first place. Nine times out of ten, that's what would have happened in real life.—CD

Punch Line of the Week

In some parts of this country things are so bad that complete protection is assured only by the right deodorant.

tor Wilburn P. Coffman leading. I think they "brought in" the New Year.

Our patient load is a bit low—we are full—then if we have a patient to transfer to another home, or a death occurs, or some are rehabilitated to the degree they can return home, then we have a period of educating the people that we have a vacancy. Then if we are full and a patient has to go to a home in the surrounding area and makes an adjustment the family does not want to make another move.

Really—little as you would think, just moving a patient from one room to another, will disorient one. So we make no moves unless patients are not compatible, or some other legitimate reason; request for a patient's family, or old friends would like to be together. Then it is given very careful study before a change is made.

It states in the Civil Rights Act in part, "There is no distinction in eligibility for or in the manner of providing any patient service due to race, color, or national origin. All facilities of the home are available without distinction to all patients, visitors, or others, without regard to race, color or national origin. There are no restrictions in room assignments. There are no restrictions in hiring of personnel because of race, color or national origin."

We have found colored and white have no problem in sharing a room in adjusting to a new situation.

O'Byrne Travel Editor Afield, says he likes smallmouth bass in the White River and for rainbow trout in the White River north-central Arkansas border near Bull Shoals. Each river trip represents an opportunity to enjoy wilderness experience with some of the finest trout fishing to be had in our country.

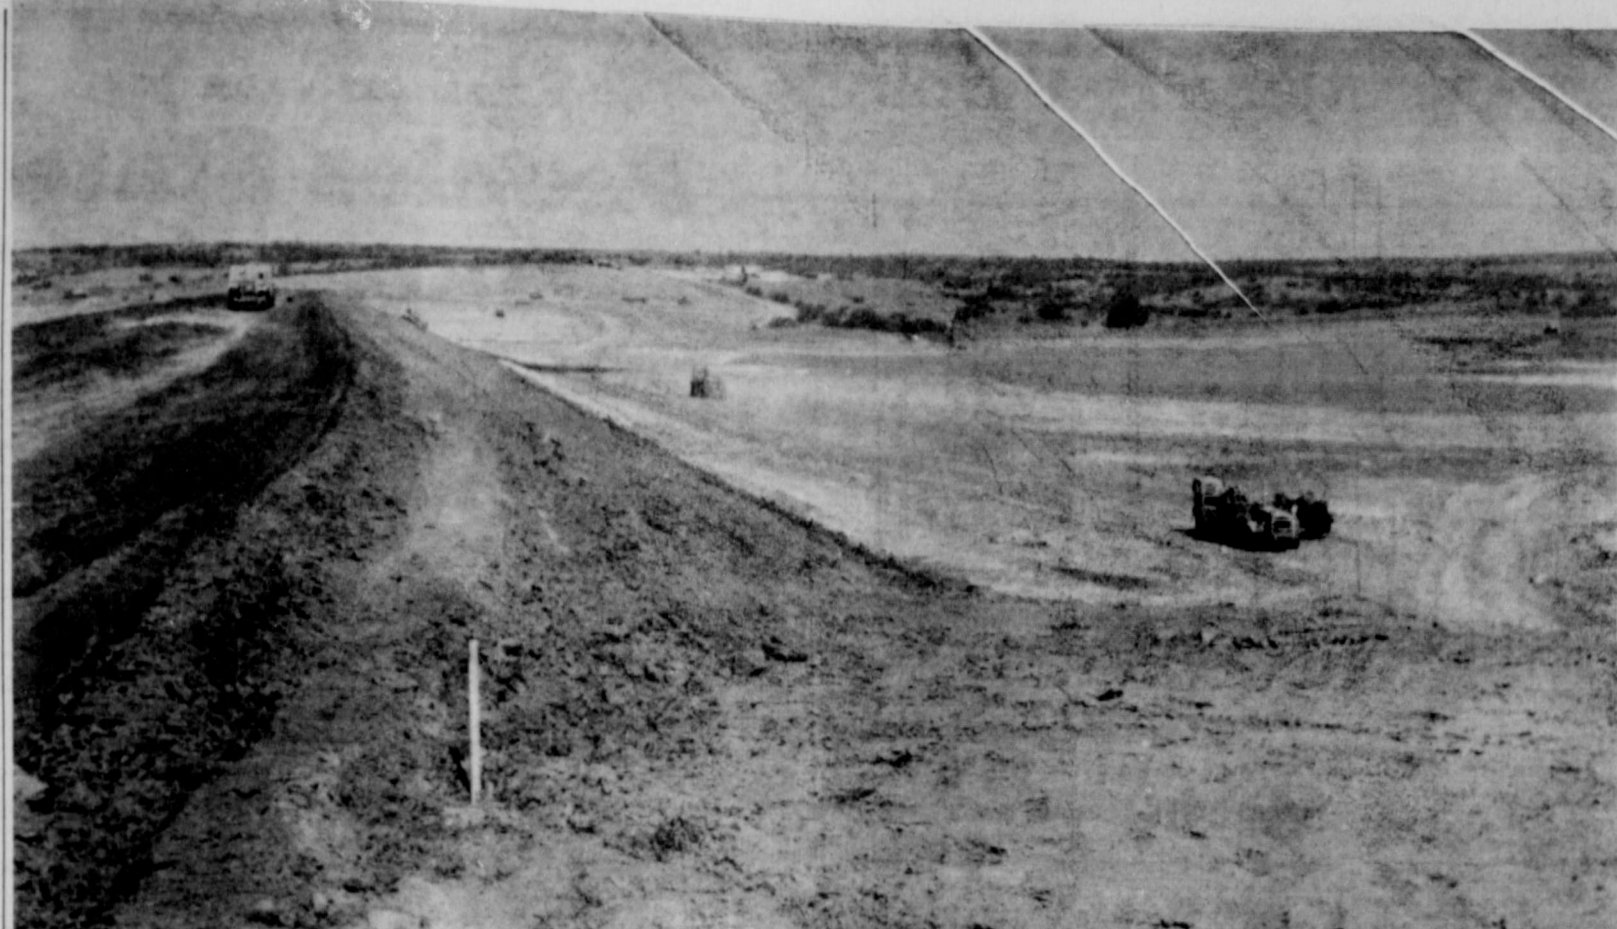

Travel comfortably on a deck chair aboard a flat-bottomed johnboat, drift along with the current enjoying the magnificent solitude for which the area is famed. Every-thing is taken care of by you; you need only sit and enjoy this unique experience. A report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service confirms what every livestock and poultry producer knows: feed costs are out of sight.

Feed prices—the prices that livestock and poultry producers pay for feed which is fed to dairy cows, beef cows, and poultry—have doubled in recent months. Cottonseed meal, for example, averaged $11 per hundred pounds as of June 15; a year ago it was $5.20 per hundred pounds. Mixed dairy feed as of June 15, cost dairy farmers $110; a year ago it was only $75. Laying feed was $160 as of June 15; a year ago it was $86 per ton.

And while those prices to producers doubled, the prices farmers were getting during the past year are up 34 per cent on the average. Counting potatoes, only six commodities are above parity, in spite of recent price rises to producers.

No crop prices are above parity (except for potatoes). Wheat at $2.42 per bushel is almost a dollar below parity. Corn at $2.08 per bushel is 20 cents under parity. Cotton at 27 cents per pound is less than half of parity.

SITE 4 DAM—Pictured above is the dam and area surrounding Site 4 of the Lakeview Watershed. This picture was taken when the dam liked five feet being topped out. This event occurred only a few days after this picture was taken. Although the dam itself is now completed, there still remains work to be done on the dam located north of the Brice area on the Hagy Ranch. The dam runs east and west across a large creek canyon and stands 55 feet high. This is the first and largest of 25 proposed dams to be built in the Lakeview Watershed.

Hogs averaged $36.50 per hundred pounds; this is only 40 cents above parity. Beef cattle at $15.30 average as of June 15, are $2 above parity; calves at $55.30 are almost $2 above parity; sheep at $15.90 are $3.70 above parity.

Mohair as $2.30 per pound is almost a dollar above parity. Eggs at 50.8 cents per dozen are 11 cents under parity. Milk is almost $2 under parity. Apples in Texas? To a small extent, apples are produced in a few counties in Texas. An ambitious program in Kimble, Kerr, and Mason counties is underway to produce apples on a profitable basis. Growers in those counties this spring set out several thousand young trees which are expected to bear fruit within three years. In Gillespie County and around Fredericksburg and Stonewall, apples have been grown for 15 years and sold in the open markets.

Apples are also produced in Comanche and Montague counties and in small amounts in other counties throughout the state.

The Hill County climate is nearly ideal for growing apples with cool winters, a long growing season and abundant sunshine. One drawback; deer-proof fencing must be installed around the orchards to keep out deer which would damage trees and could destroy a crop.

SHEEP feeding in Texas has shown a 34 per cent increase as of July 1, compared with a month ago. It is 10 per cent above the number on feed last year at this time.

Current intentions to market are: July 72,000 head; August 63,000 head; September 14,000 head.

Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 149,000 sheep and lambs on feed as of July 1.

B. B. Shots

By BYRON BALDWIN

A few weeks ago we received a complete family directory, 1973, from Jim Frances of Garland. In memory of Saladin Harris and Irene Adams Wallace Willis and deceased descendants. Saladin and Irene married in Plain Dealing, La., about 1897. Saladin had two children, Willie and Zula, by a previous marriage. Irene had two children by a previous marriage, Mattie and Mamie. Together they had five children: Burr, Zephyr, Maggie, Trude and Opal. They moved to Texas, first to Dora, Floydada, Turkey and then settled permanently at Harrell Chappell in 1914. Then had 9 children (3 deceased), 55 grandchildren (seven deceased), 123 great-grandchildren (3 deceased) and 53 great-great-grandchildren (1 deceased). There is a total of 240 descendants in this family with 14 deceased. There are 107 married into this family. Out of this family of 347 people, there have been only 12 divorces. I found that there are 13 telephone listings in the Memphis directory who are descendants of this family. A few days ago I received the newsletter to the descendants of S. A. and Irene Willis, saying in this letter that there would be the Willis family reunion at the Community Center July 21-22. The reunion will start at 2 p. m. Saturday, July 21. Then there will be the barbecue at 7 p. m. dedicated to the relatives who live in the Memphis area. At 8:30 p. m., there will be a talent show of the descendants and they are all urged to get their singing voices in good shape and bring their musical instruments. I talked to two of the Phillips boys about what instrument they would play. Troy said he would try playing the guitar and would to get R. B. to commit himself on playing the French harp. The program will be over about 11 p. m. Saturday night and the reunion will start again at 10 a. m. Sunday morning and close out Sunday evening. From the newsletter, it sounds like they are in for a happy occasion. Hope they have good attendance.

Someone reported last week that Wendell Harrison had gone to the Watergate. This was not so as I checked up on him and found out he had gone to see Leo at Waterloo, Iowa.

Mrs. W. W. Farris of Hedley had as her guests in Hall County Heritage Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Don Young of Wichita Falls. Mrs. Young will be remembered as Ermalee Farris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Farris. She graduated from Quail High School in 1954. She married Don Young of Marlow, Okla. They have one son, age 7, and one daughter, age 3. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Farris were born in Donley County near McKnight. Woodrow is the son of John Farris. Mrs. Farris was Ora Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Shannon. She and Woodrow were married Nov. 20, 1933, by O. K. Webb, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Memphis. She remembered Woodrow buying her wedding ring from Mr. Wherry.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmont Branigan had as their guests in Heritage Hall their daughter, Elmonette (Branigan) Bivens of Arlington. Also as guests were Mr. and Mrs. John B. Freeman of Martin, Tenn. Mrs. Freeman, sister of Elmont, was the former Felicia Branigan and was reared at Hollis, Okla.

"Oh, your boy friend's mustache and sideburns are fakes... That's different."

"Hot Pants". A few days ago I got the true meaning of Hot Pants. One of the days when the weather was 105 degrees here, I observed Bob Douthit and Les Sims working on a composition roof and when they would sit down on this roof, they would jump up immediately and I came to the conclusion that they were wearing "hot pants on the roof".

I observed that J. B. Scott and Clyde Collins did not care for "Hot Pants" as they picked a cloudy day to work on the roofs of their homes.

Some other observations I made driving around town were that Zeno Lemons should put new bearings in his wheel barrow as his wife was pushing it with a heavy load and the wheel was wobbling pretty bad.

Mrs. Grover (Ruby) Roden may be retired or on vacation from the A. S. C. office, but she did not quit work, as she was really using that paint brush on the outside of their home. Grover had left her a jug of water or anti-pain colic medicine in case she overdid the paint job.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berett and daughter, Lois, of Greeley, Colo., were visitors in Heritage Hall the past week. Mrs. Berett will be remembered by her schoolmates as Dalton (Dopey) Hendrickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hendrickson, who moved from Sulphur Springs to Hall County about 1920. They lived on a farm near Eli. They later moved to Memphis where Leo worked for Harrison Hardware for a number of years before moving to Colo. in 1948. Dopey remembered that Wesley Foster was her 6th grade teacher at Eli. She graduated from MHS in 1942. She played the snare drum in the High School Band when Norman Heath was band director. Some of her schoolmates she remembered were Jo Carmen, Wanda (Posey) Phillips, Hubert Jones, R. B. Phillips, Sandra Morris, Temple Deaver, Jane Tarver and Elwanda Jones. Dopey enjoyed seeing the pictures of her schoolmates in the school room. Ed is in the postal service in Greeley where they have lived the past 25 years. They have the one daughter and two sons, ages 24 and 27, and they have one grandchild. Dalton's father passed away two years ago. Mrs. Hendrickson was with them on this trip, visiting relatives at different places. Dopey and Ed were married in Memphis in 1945 by Rev. Brice Peacock, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here at that time. Dopey's brother, R. L., is also living in Greeley. His wife will be remembered as Caradell Lenoir, daughter of Mrs. T. E. Lenoir of Memphis. Word came to me that the husband of another one of Mrs. Lenoir's daughters passed away a few weeks ago, Eugenia, who married Morris Williams. They were living in the State of Washington.

While visiting in Memphis, Mrs. Hendrickson wanted to drive out past Indian Creek and see the house they first lived in after coming to Hall County in 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Berett drove out in the direction of the house and from what I heard by grapevine, they had a sandy reception, as they drove out before sundown and after getting stuck in the sand where it had washed in after the heavy rains, they finally made it back to their motel room about 2 a. m. I forgot to ask if they saw the house from a distance.

These people were very complimentary of Heritage Hall. Thanks to them for their contribution. Hope they come back again and do not get stuck in the deep sand.

Sometimes I think I must be full of mistakes as I make so many, but not intentionally. I received a letter from Mrs. Lowell Houston reminding me that I had made a bad mistake in calling the route of the bird flying around that increases our population. I get my own kids' names mixed at times as this is not the first time for me to make a mistake. The ones that have been watching for the bird circling overhead are Sammie and Sandy (Saye) Houston and not Carl and Mary (Continued on Page 9)

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

regularly suffer with a headache, frayed nerves, even a flareup of peptic ulcers, you might blame it on "pollution" in your neighborhood. And state health officials say that in some instances it is pretty close to the mark.

At the Texas State Department of Health, like their counterparts in every other state, the federal level, see the problem as a mushrooming health problem. Health officials estimate the overall cost of environmental noise is $4-billion a year. If not checked, the problem of "noise pollution" will be as serious as the other environmental pollutants, such as air, water and solid waste.

Industrial noise is estimated to cost $4-billion a year on worker injury, lost work time, accidents and compensation. As many as 16 million U. S. industrial workers may be partially or completely deafened by factory noise.

When the cilia (hair-like growth) in the inner ear is eroded, resulting in nerve impairment and, as a result, hearing impairment.

Deafness, noise can be a bodily harm. The U. S. Health Service reports physiological changes in glandular, cardiovascular and respiratory effects may result from noise pollution. Some believe there's a direct relationship between noise and heart disease, peptic ulcer, colitis, blood pressure, migraine, and other health problems.

Industry, health officials are concerned with hearing as a result of prolonged exposure to high levels of noise in community noise-producing areas is not normal. Most often the problem is one of annoyance, disruption of life in the home, a constant nuisance.

Community noise problems may be placed in two categories: noise produced outside the home, including industrial, air traffic, recreation, neighborhood noise; and noise produced inside the home, including small and large appliances.

And traffic may involve noise problems from automobiles, buses, trucks, motorcycles and trains. Little regard has been given in the past to noise control in the planning of highways within cities and the interstate routes which surround them. Areas surrounding airports and on aircraft flight paths may encounter quite community noise problems. Neighborhood noises such as those from power mowers, power tools, barking dogs and other such ordinary problems may present tension or annoyance to some residents. Industrial noises near neighborhoods may also pose a problem. One may not even get away from noise problems in recreational activities in such sports or hobbies as motorcycling, hunting, speed boating, bowling and events attended by large crowds.

Inside the home, various types and intensities of noise occur. These may be from such common home appliances as the vacuum cleaner, garbage disposal, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer, air conditioner and others. Even small appliances can produce noise problems in the home.

Scientists measure the strength or pressure of the sound in decibels (dB's). You can comfortably tolerate sound levels of 80 dB. Between 80 and 90 dB, some persons show intolerance to noise, and above 90 dB the noise becomes a serious problem. This 90 dB value is the limit for noise exposure for workers during an 8-hour workday that is permitted under federal and state health standards.

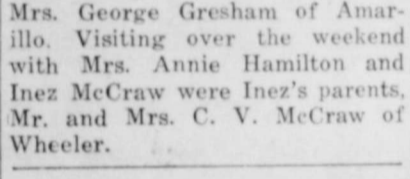

For comparison purposes, typical sounds that we are familiar with include the following decibel levels: normal whisper, 20; quiet residential area, 40; normal speech, 60; busy office, 80; heavy city traffic, 100; discotheque, 120; jet flyover, 103; power mower, 96; diesel train, 83; TV audio, 70; clothes washer, 78; food blender, 88; air conditioning unit, 60; rock-n-roll band, 108-114; industrial milling machine, 85; industrial electric furnace, 100.

It is easy to determine from such a comparison that community noise sources can pose severe hearing problems just as industrial noise exposures do.

FOUR ON A RAFT—This is one way to describe that American favorite, the Hamburger, because it provides the four basic food groups needed to make a nutritionally complete meal.

Hamburger Provides Nutritionally Balanced Meal For Adults And Children

Name a balanced meal you can hold in the fingers of one hand—a meal practically everybody likes and kids love!

Before you answer remember this meal, to be nutritionally balanced, must contain something from each of the four basic food groups: Dairy; fruit or vegetable; meat, fish, eggs, or poultry; and the enriched bread-cereal group. No, the answer is not "An Astronaut's dinner packet". It is your old friend the Hamburger, with a slice of cheese added to complete the Basic Four!

The hamburger has been with us a long time, since 1904 when it was introduced at the St. Louis World's Fair. But not many people realize what a perfect meal it is. "A hamburger gives you the Basic Four on a 'raft', or bun," declares Ellen Semrow, director of nutrition education for the American Institute of Baking. To illustrate her statement, Mrs. Semrow uses a hamburger with the following make-up:

- Enriched bun
- 2 oz. patty of lean ground beef
- slice of American process cheese
- thin slices of raw tomato
- a lettuce leaf

"In addition to providing each of the 'Basic Four' food groups this hamburger makes a most significant nutritional contribution," Mrs. Semrow says. She explains that nutritionists speak in terms of "Recommended Daily Allowance", the amount of a nutrient a person should have each day for good health. "Measured in terms of the recommended daily allowance for a young male, age 22 to 35, the hamburger provides 40 per cent of the protein, 40.7 per cent of the calcium, 22.5 per cent of the iron, 25.4 per cent of Vitamin C, 15 per cent of thiamin, 22.3 per cent of riboflavin, and 25 per cent of the niacin this young man needs each day."

And she adds that the enriched hamburger bun, far from being a mere "raft" for the Basic Four, makes significant contributions of iron, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin. If you're a calorie watcher, it's good to know that Mrs. Semrow's hamburger—a big buy in nutrition—totals only 371 calories. So the next time you wrap your fingers around a warm and juicy hamburger, remember it is entitled to respect. For you hold more than a mere hamburger—You hold a complete meal. You hold the Basic Four on a "raft"!

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lindsey over the weekend were their granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Shelton and Shelli of Lubbock. This was little Shelli's first trip to Memphis to visit her great-grandparents.

Your COUNTY AGENT

Says

Gasoline Dangers Noted

Due to its explosive power, gasoline merits careful handling and storage. One gallon of gasoline—vaporized in an enclosed area, mixed with the proper amount of air, and exposed to a spark—will produce an explosion equal to that of 83 pounds of dynamite.

With the busy crop season at hand, farmers and farm workers should be especially cautious when handling gasoline, points out County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser.

Gasoline is a threat any time it is present as a vapor in the air where flame or sparks may be present. This hazard occurs when gasoline is stored near flames and when a tractor tank is filled while the engine is running, or the operator is smoking.

Some people have been careless in filling gasoline tanks for years without anything happening, so they don't consider these practices dangerous, notes Hooser. However, they have escaped injury only because the proper mixture of gasoline vapor and air wasn't present when the spark occurred.

Some safety tips with gasoline include the following:

Never smoke or permit others to smoke in or around a gasoline storage area.

Fill the tractor tank when the engine is cold. A fire can start if gasoline is spilled over a hot engine. Never leave the engine running while filling the tank.

Locate above-ground gasoline storage tanks at least 40 feet from any building.

Store and handle small quantities of gasoline in approved safety containers. Never leave open cans of gasoline in a building. Don't use gasoline as a cleaning agent for hands, clothing, paint brushes or greasy machinery parts.

Place a five-pound dry chemical fire extinguisher on each tractor and in the fuel storage area.

Pesticide Safety Curbs Accidental Poisoning

Chemicals used as pesticides are toxic and care must be exercised to avoid accidental poisoning.

Minimizing exposure to the chemical is an essential element of safe use, says County Extension Agent W. B. Hooser.

In one western state almost 80 percent of the occupational poisoning cases by industrial and agricultural chemicals resulted from absorption through the skin.

Those mixing and loading pesticides are potentially subject to relatively high levels of exposure to the skin as well as those applying fine sprays and dusts, notes Hooser.

Of course, indoor spraying can be hazardous if proper precautions not taken. Other activities that can result in exposure of the skin to pesticides include the maintenance and repair of contaminated equipment and contact with treated surfaces. Hand harvesting, thinning, cultivating, irrigation and insect scouting can result in significant exposure if fields are entered too soon following pesticide application.

Hooser cautions persons with skin conditions to avoid exposure to pesticides unless extra precautions are taken. Similarly, persons with cuts, abrasions, scratches, scuffs or other skin disruptions should exercise extra care to minimize exposure to these areas.

The agent lists some "safe use" suggestions to minimize exposure to pesticides:

The Lonely Heart

1. Observe recommended protective measures specifically mentioned on the label.

2. Cover up before exposure, not after. Covering contaminated skin with a thin plastic wrap has caused a fourfold increase in absorption of one insecticide.

3. Use clean clothing daily and bathe or shower at least daily.

4. A wide-brimmed hat, preferably waterproof, offers protection from downward drift for face and neck areas. Contaminated hatbands can present a problem, so use an inexpensive hat that can be discarded after minimal use or use one with a replaceable hatband.

5. Wear unlined, natural rubber, gauntlet gloves for best protection. Frequent contamination of the inside of the gloves.

6. A long-sleeved, light colored, washable cloth jacket, preferably water-repellent, is desirable. Disposable paper jackets have been tested and apparently are suitable except in cases of heavy wetting.

7. A waterproof apron is essential if exposure to the lower trunk and legs is anticipated, such as may occur in mixing and loading of pesticides.

8. Use waterproof shoes or boots. Leather shoes crack after a few wettings, and are easily penetrated. Canvas also becomes wet and can be a constant source of skin exposure.

9. Shield the eyes to avoid contamination, particularly if splashing may occur. Plastic shields or masks generally are tolerated better by agricultural workers than are goggles.

In addition to avoiding skin exposure, also beware of exposure either orally or through the respiratory tract, adds Hooser. You just can't be too safe when using pesticides.

Funds Sought In Drive For Cystic Fibrosis

Memphis and area residents are being asked to place donations to the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation in specified jars on display in local stores.

Also, a fund raising drive will be conducted in the downtown area next week.

What is Cystic fibrosis? The disease wasn't recognized medically until the late 1930's. It affects one in every 1,500 babies, the result of both parents carrying the gene for C/F. It affects the entire body, particularly the lungs and digestive system. So far it's incurable.

Parents of children affected by C/F formed the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation 17 years ago, knowing very little about the disease. What those parents did know was terrifying—C/F children usually died before they were old enough for elementary school.

Today that beginning has grown into a national organization which raises funds through the Breath of Life Campaign in local communities like Memphis. There are over 300 chapters and branches of the National Foundation to advise and help parents and administer local programs and fund raising.

There are more than 100 C/F Centers where not just C/F patients, but children with asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis and childhood emphysema can be

"Middle Age is when you have given up everything you can, and you still don't feel so good."

A young couple and their young daughter parked on the square a few days ago; and their first question to me was, "Where is the Post Office." I gave them the directions and offered to put the mail in the boxes I passed by. They wanted to stop here a short time and rest, so they would find the Post Office. I found out they were tourists, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parker and daughter, Quincey, of Houston, on their way to Denver, Colo., for a vacation. I asked them why they stopped here and Mr. Parker stated that this was an unusually neat looking small town and they thought it would be a good place to do some shopping they needed to do. In the course of conversation, I asked him if he was any relation to a Hunter Parker. It turned out that his great-uncle and my father were in the lumber business together about 70 years ago in East Texas. Jack Parker is now working at the Sam Houston State University.

I met some visitors in our town a few days ago and they were asking about Sonny and Raynita Murphy, who on the spur of the moment, I did not recognize, but finally got them placed.

A letter from Jack and Suzbeth Miller of Austin was received the past week. Enclosed in the letter were two snap shots of an oil painting that they had purchased. The artist was Juanita F. Nelson of New Braunfels. The description of this oil painting was as Juanita gave it, "Hall County, Texas, 1972". This is a unique windmill in that it only has 12 blades. They usually have 18. It is located in the Texas Panhandle on Highway 256 between Memphis and Silvertown. The owner, Mr. Capp, utilizes the tank by keeping his fishing minnows in it. This statement was signed by Juanita F. Nelson.

This painting was auctioned off this spring in the annual money raising auction of KLRN in Austin and San Antonio. Jack and Suzbeth were surprised and delighted when they saw a painting entitled "Hall County, Texas" and had to have it for themselves by raising the bid. Good to hear from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller and to know that they still have love in their hearts for their "home county".

Cloyce Orr had as his guest in Heritage Hall, his friend, Leo Miner of Orlando, Fla. Leo said he was reared in a small town in Iowa and he got tired of looking at so many hogs and so much corn.

Other visitors in Heritage Hall were Mrs. C. L. Cunningham and son, Eddie, of Estelline. Bret Combs has as his guest in Heritage Hall, his cousin, Diane Welch of Austin.

For the past week, I have noticed that Mrs. Herschel Combs had enough granddaughters visiting her to take care of all the chores, such as milking the cow, churning, laundry, washing the dishes, doing the housework and helping get out the Memphis Democrat on time.

"Middle Age is when you have given up everything you can, and you still don't feel so good."

A young couple and their young daughter parked on the square a few days ago; and their first question to me was, "Where is the Post Office." I gave them the directions and offered to put the mail in the boxes I passed by. They wanted to stop here a short time and rest, so they would find the Post Office. I found out they were tourists, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parker and daughter, Quincey, of Houston, on their way to Denver, Colo., for a vacation. I asked them why they stopped here and Mr. Parker stated that this was an unusually neat looking small town and they thought it would be a good place to do some shopping they needed to do. ### From The Chamber Corner

Plans are in the stage of development for a 12 x 50 foot sign to be erected on U. S. highway 287. The proposed sign will be similar to the design of the "Memphis" bumper sticker and will be located on No. 8 warehouse of the Memphis Compress Company. When all cost estimates are in, the Chamber Board of Directors will review the project in all areas.

Jim Edd Wines, Chamber manager was in Clarendon this past week visiting with officials of the Texas Highway Department and the President of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce. The Highway Department is doing research on a highway sign project to be erected on the right-of-way advertising Hall County Heritage and Natural City Park. If the signs are approved the intersection of U. S. 287 and N. 6th street. Public support of this project would be of considerable help to the approval of this project and all citizens may write to Virgil J. McGee, District Engineer, Texas Highway Dept., P. O. Box 909, Childress, Texas 79201.

Highway signs advertising the city park and several of the local public facilities are located in both Childress and Clarendon but not so in Memphis. Your written support to the Highway Dept. will be appreciated by the Memphis Chamber.

With the help and ideas of several chamber members a variety of designs have been drawn up for the chamber letter head. These drawings will be submitted to the Board of Directors as for their approval.

The chamber is also designing an emblem with the "Cotton Capital of the Panhandle" slogan for postage meters located in several of the businesses in Memphis.

The tourist trade center in Memphis is Grandmaw's attic. A wide selection of antiques and collector's items with a friendly "Memphis" greeting awaits every tourist and local customer. Visit Helen Ballaw at Grandmaw's attic a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

The 1973 Hall County Economic Factors are as follows. The average buying income per household is $7,246. The retail sales per household is $4,155. The median household income is $5,667, and the per capita income is $2,650. The per cent of households by Cash Income groups are as follows: $0 - 3,000, 30.8; $3,000 - 5,000, 18.5; $5,000 - 8,000, 24.3; $8,000 - 10,000, 9.5; $10,000 - 15,000, 11.9; $15,000 and over 5.0. The Basic Economy is as follows. Agriculture - Cotton, Wheat, Sorghums - $12,000,000. Manufacturing - mobile homes, bedding materials, agribusiness - $100,000. The Government facility and Civilian employment in the area is 25 Federal Government employees with a total payroll of $193,544.

Our thanks to Lawrence J. Kennor who helped us in cutting our pegboard. The Chamber of Commerce has recently purchased and assembled a display rack for travel information for Hall County Heritage Hall. The travel display rack is located on the back wall of the Heritage Hall and contains a wide variety of travel information through the chamber of Commerce.

Our congratulations to Jimmie's New Furniture on their Grand Opening weekend. The chamber also appreciates chamber member John Deaver who had his building painted. The building is located next door to the Memphis Glass and Supply. We support the constant improvement and progress of our community.

Memphis ISD Beard Meets, Handles Business

The Memphis I. S. D. school board met in July session last week and among the items handled, the board discussed and brought up to date the school policy.

The board also discussed the newly created state kindergarten program but postponed any definite plans for the local district until instructions were received from the State Board of Education which is meeting this week.

The board is asking all parents of children who will be five years of age by Sept. 1, 1973, to register with the Superintendent's Office.

The board accepted bids from the Borden Milk Co. for milk and Mead's Bread Co. for bread for the cafeteria.

The board also approved the purchase of a convection type oven for Travis Cafeteria and is purchasing two stainless-steel sinks to replace sinks in Travis and Austin Cafeterias.

The School Board voted to set the tax rate at $1.70 per $100 valuation, the same rate the district used last year.

The board received no bids for gasoline, so decided to operate on a system hereby wholesale dealers in the area would each provide fuel for the school during the year.
