Farmers Watch Sky As Crucial Planting Of Cotton Fields Is Done

Hall County farmers are in various stages of crop work, some have cotton fields up and others are still seeking proper planting conditions. Others have planted but have had fields either washed out or blown out.

The Turkey area, however, is all in the same boat, they will have to repent about every field following a 5.5 inches of rain in 45 minutes last Friday, followed by a 1.5 inches on Sunday and another inch early this week.

Turkey was literally flooded and crop land washed, terraces broke, in the rain storm which hit Friday afternoon.

Sunday's rain was accompanied by 85 mile per hour winds so the farmers in the Turkey area are hoping for much more favorable conditions.

Here in Memphis, Rayford E. Hutcherson, official weather observer, reports that .50 of an inch has fallen since June 1st, and another .25 was recorded last Friday. May rainfall totaled 5.15, and the year's total has been 10.15 inches. Rains this week have been slow and gentle in the Memphis area.

The Newlin area received a two and a half to three and a half inch rain and hail on Friday night, May 24, which completely washed out all cotton planted in that area. About 75 per cent of these fields have been re-planted and some of the cotton is up. Additional rains from a half inch to an inch have fallen in this area since then.

The Lakeview area and Plaska area are in the process of being planted (or re-planted).

All areas, including the Esteline area have ample moisture for planting; however, many farmers are expecting a rough year from the insects and most wanted to get cotton up as early as possible. It looks like June cotton will predominate, if weather will cooperate for the next two weeks.

Fields due east of Memphis have caught heavy amounts of rain during past weeks and some of these fields are too wet to plant. (Continued on Page 10)

United States Mint Makes Appeal To Area Citizens For Return of Pennies

An appeal has been made this week for area citizens to cooperate with the United States Mint appeal for the return of pennies.

Citizens are being asked to turn their pennies in to banks in order to get over 30 billion more pennies into circulation, nationwide.

According to information from the Federal Reserve Bank and the United States Mint, the price of copper has retreated, closing at $1.15 per pound on May 20. There will be no aluminum penny minted in the United States, it was announced. The 62 billion pennies produced during the past 15 years have no numismatic value and because of the huge mintage they will never attain great value.

Nevertheless, speculators and hoarders of pennies have caused what seems to be a shortage of pennies in certain areas of the country.

It is estimated that over 30 billion pennies are in circulation—doing the job for which they were intended. Somewhere in this vast country of ours; however, in excess of 30 billion pennies are in hiding. They are in dresser drawers, shoe boxes, pickle jars; most anywhere you can think of that will get them out of pocket and out of sight. They are unwanted, unused and unappreciated.

The current price and supply copper allows us to continue production and distribution of the copper bearing cent, the announcement said. During the past 15 years, the Mint has pumped out over 62 billion pennies using some 202,000 tons of copper in their manufacture.

If just 15 billion pennies could be lured out of hiding, the Mint, at current production figures, wouldn't have to make pennies for almost two years and it would represent a saving of $150 million.

The First National Bank of Memphis is joining with the Federal Reserve and the U. S. Mint in urging citizens to join the effort by returning excess pennies into circulation.

week. Mr. Messick announced last year he was retiring from this position and he sought a replacement for adult leadership for the program but none was found.

The program has adequate financial support and ample youth participation, but adult supervision became more and more difficult. The program was not begun this season in May as it has been for over a decade and a half, due to lack of adult leadership.

This is an opportunity for the program to be continued if adults are interested in working in supervisory capacities.

Our Economic System!

Cattlemen meeting in Oklahoma last weekend made an appeal to the government for assistance to receive "insured" loans to help this industry over a period of low markets during a high inflationary period. The businessmen felt much of their troubles was brought on by governmental regulations during the past twelve months.

U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, in April, read a statement on "America's Economic Future" before Congress and much of what he said makes good sense. An excerpt of this 10-page speech is published below for it contains some meaningful thoughts.

"Some people question whether we can maintain in the future previous levels of economic growth. Others wonder whether high rates of economic growth will damage the quality of life. Even scholars warn that an end to progressive economic development may be in sight."

Voices of gloom are saying: swallowed by pollution, drowning in overpopulation, growing beyond limits of our national resources, technological advance is destroying human values.

"These familiar chords echo across the land. Our citizens are spinning in the swiftly moving current of change. They are bewildered by rapid and repeated economic disruptions—by booms and busts—unsuccessful phases and empty phrases.

"The rush of events eats away at the bedrock of our institutions, and forces our people to struggle simply to keep their livelihoods from being swept away by steeply rising prices and unacceptably high levels of unemployment.

"Many Americans are beginning to feel that the reins of the public interest are out-of-hand, and that Government by crisis has become the norm. . . . If we choose to withdraw in frustration, sit back in apathy, or boil over in hasty outrage, our economic future can only be bleaker and more uncertain. Shortages of all shapes and sizes, as well as higher levels of unemployment and accelerating inflation may become business as usual. But we can prevent this dismal outcome by using intelligence and ingenuity which have provided the United States a great record of economic progress."

Economic stagnation could mean that productivity will decline and wage costs will rise. Real income will fall because of rampant inflation. New businesses will be forced into bankruptcy while others will have to cut back on funds for innovation and other progressive activities. It means personal suffering for the one million more Americans who may be unemployed. And above all, it means an increase in social discord as workers, farmers, and businessmen compete for a shrinking economic pie. "I believe the Americans have a right to demand more than they are getting under existing policies.

"Last year, we saw not only an energy shortage but also a beef shortage, a paper shortage, a fertilizer shortage, a pipe shortage, and even a bailing wire shortage. And throughout those troubles we saw a shortage of forward Government strategy—a lack of preparation for anticipating and answering problems before they became the next crisis.

"Private free enterprise system is the dominate decision maker in our economy—and I would not have it any other way. A free competitive market still provides the most efficient allocation of goods and services within our economy. But with Federal Government spending one out of every four dollars, we cannot ignore the impact. The spending, taxing, borrowing and regulatory policies of the Federal Government give our economy substantial direction. In recent years we have achieved growth we have in spite of rather than because of Government policies.

"It is essential that we begin now to examine the economic policies required to meet our future needs before we are once again caught short. The continued absence of long-range thinking about our best policy options can only lead us pell-mell into more pitfalls of crisis management."

Senator Bentsen is chairman of a Joint (Senate-House) Economic Committee for the purpose of launching a major effort to spotlight the roadblocks in this Nation's economic future and to furnish the Congress with reasoned long-run policy options and their projected consequences.

Some of the objectives of this committee is to try an encourage a four percent unemployment. Secondly to encourage a greater amount of the percentage of Gross National Product to overall net domestic investment (which creates new-type jobs for Americans). Thirdly, establish guidelines for long-range need for careful management of our natural resources. The United States already depends on imports for more than half its supply of six of thirteen basic raw materials required in our society. Fourth, exploring the long-range need for relative price growth potentials, or creating unemployment.

Businessmen realize that their businesses cannot survive if they fail to look ahead at the potential difficulties as well as opportunities. Senator Bentsen said, "In my judgement, it is the duty of the United States Government to do the same."

Democratic Governments

Events of the past several months have shown that the democratic governments of the world are getting bogged down into trouble on the home front.

Our own is hobbled by Watergate. Great Britain is being taken over by an organized union minority and throughout Western Europe, the governments in power are feeling mighty shaky.

These democracies have one problem in common — they are being shaken out by minorities who demand, and get, a lot more attention to their problems than does the great silent majority.

There is no question but that democracy has its weaknesses & things are not so easily ordered nor controlled because people don't have to jump when the leader hollers "frog."

Sometimes democracies are short lived. The brave new emerging nations of Africa started out with free elections and a democratic form of government. Almost without exception these have been replaced now by a strong man dictator who gives the orders and admittedly the governments seem a lot better ordered and organized under that kind of control.

Another problem common to democracies is that of inflation and its weakening of public confidence in its leaders. History has proved again and again that inflation dissolves social bonds & that uncontrolled inflation usually brings about a change of rulers.

Economists know how to cure inflation, but governments especially democratic governments that depend upon votes for survival, almost never bring themselves to pay the short term costs.

Leaders in government keep hoping that things will level off and that productivity and an expanding economy will outstrip the losses to inflation, and for a long time we have seen this in America.

Democracy is in trouble. When you come right down to it, do people actually take enough interest in their government to become informed of the many complex issues that surround us today?

Good Days & Bad Days!

If you stop to think about it, every community, large or small, gains its sense of identity and purpose through the pages of its local newspaper. If you want to find out anything or let other people know about some event, service or product, it's pretty fair bet that the pages of your local newspaper can lead a hand—even exsubscribers seem to think so.

A letter published in the Hayti Missouri, Herald, makes this point and illustrates, as the editor put it, "... one of the better days in the life of a newspaper publisher." The letter says, "Dear Editor: Please send me a free copy of your newspaper containing the obituary of my aunt. Also publish the enclosed clipping of the marriage of my niece. And I wish you would mention in your columns, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two calves for sale and our church is having a chili supper Friday night and the tickets are only 75 cents. As my subscription has expired, please stop the paper as I can't waste money on newspapers. — Ex-subscriber."

About the only comment that can be made here is that some days just start out badly, and once in awhile they don't get any better!!

The standing subcommittee on pollution of the Environmental Affairs panel actually will conduct the study. The House Judiciary Committee will further consider administrative operation of TWQB in its overall review of administrative agency procedures.

Daniel said purpose of the investigation is to "get all of the facts and to lay the basis for any remedial legislation or administrative action which may be needed."

WIRE SHORTAGE THREATENS A serious baling wire shortage may cause economic hazards, Agriculture Commissioner White warned.

White earlier said the shortage would be between 22 and 47 per cent. Industry sources reported a 30 per cent shortage nationwide and a possibly higher figure for Texas.

Prices may rise from $28 and $50 a carton to $70, White said. A year ago, the price was $13.

White said a black market situation may develop in baling wire as in fertilizer. Haybaling is just beginning in the state. Ninety per cent of farmers in Texas use wire to bale hay. Twine too is in short supply.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Bill Boykin TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Some of the Constitutional Convention's hottest debate is yet to come.

Explosive potential of the general provision article already has been demonstrated in preliminary rounds, and the right-to-work section should produce the biggest bang of all.

Organized labor, headed by State AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard, stands foursquare against writing right-to-work provisions into the new constitution.

A new statewide citizens committee with formidable political and financial muscle has been formed to lobby for placing right-to-work on the ballot as a separate issue from the overall constitutional revision.

The Texas right-to-work law, dating back to 1947, prohibits union contracts which would require union membership as a condition to getting and keeping a job.

Baylor University President Dr. Abner McCall is chairman of the Texas Right-To-Work Committee which opened offices near the state capitol recently. Houston school teacher Mrs. Margaret Wisdom is the co-chairman.

Other big-name Texans, including a scattering of industrial leaders, Republicans, conservative Democrats and Gov. Dolph Briscoe's campaign manager, Austin attorney Joe Kilgore, are on the committee roster.

COTTON THREATENED Drought which destroyed High Plains dryland wheat is now threatening this year's cotton crop, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White fears.

White and High Plains cotton production could be cut almost in half because of dry weather.

The High Plains last year produced an estimated 2.9 million bales of cotton. More than 2.7 million acres of cotton were planted in the area, and 1.1 million were dryland acres. Irrigation costs are running $35-$60 an acre and irrigation fuel which cost 10 cents a gallon last year now costs 27-29 cents.

COURTS SPEAK Evangelist Lester Foloff did not have to get licenses from the state to operate child care facilities, since fewer than six of the children were under 16, the Texas Supreme Court held.

The High Court also set for review the case of a Bee County worker held eligible for permanent, total disability assistance due to ailments resulting from a cut finger and severed tendon.

U. S. Supreme Court will hear the Texas appeal in the House single-member district case.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals invalidated as unconstitutional a state juke box fee found to favor larger operators.

Same Court threw out a Houston man's murder conviction, ordered a new trial for another Houston man convicted of robbery by assault and reversed (on grounds of double jeopardy) a Dallas man's 25-year sentence for beating a teenager.

STUDY ORDERED Speaker Price Daniel Jr. has ordered a "thorough study" of the Texas Water Quality Board by the House Committee on Environmental Affairs.

The investigation will cover the agency's administration, operation and enforcement of environmental standards.

BYRON BALDWIN

Visitors in Heritage Hall the past week were Mrs. J. T. Hardin and Lena Young of Childress. Lena will be remembered as Mrs. Ted Young who was a resident of Hall County for many years. Mrs. Young has been a strong booster and contributor to Heritage Hall.

A. L. Brookshire of Commerce was a visitor in Hall County Heritage Hall. He made the statement that people were different here from most places he had been, as they are very friendly in speaking to you with a wave of the hand when they see you. A few days ago I visited in the store where Lena Mae Adecock works and on entering I thought they were having a toy demonstration with the new stock of toys on the floor. I soon found out the answer as Lena's grandson, Justin, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bunky Adecock of Wilcox, Ariz., were in the store. Carol will be remembered as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith who graduated from M. H. S. in 1963. Bunky Adecock graduated in 1962.

Ed Cudd is waiting for John Fowler to get back from Switzerland to start practicing his yodeling lessons, so he can be prepared for the yodeling contest in Switzerland.

It seems that the penny market has been short here of late, but I noticed that a good many people are now cashing in their pennies. Hubert Dennis cashed in about 1/2 gallon last week that weighed 21 lbs. and cashed out for $30.12. This will give you an idea of about what your penny stock is worth. I think he cashed them in for a happy anniversary June 3, as that was the date he and Lucile married in 1933. Over the coffee table I heard Herschel Pounds say he remembered what he was doing on June 3, 1933, and that was traveling by freight to California from Memphis. I think he said it took him

4 days to make this trip with meals only costing him about $4.00 for the trip, but they were not served to him in a dinner. It was about this same time I heard Bill Leslie tell of his embarrassing experience as a teenage boy riding the freight in South Texas.

We now have framed in Heritage Hall a picture, and obituary written by V. L. McClocklin in 1932 for a Rat Terrier dog named "Jiggs" who was the mascot for the 1927 graduating class. He attended practically all of the fires in Memphis, riding the truck. His delight was chasing cars and trucks. He finally met his Waterloo when a big truck hit him breaking his ribs and leg. Jiggs was brought to Memphis by Estelle Dennis Stone from Sherman. His former master, Hubert, put him out of his misery and his burial was in the back yard of the Dennis Home on East Main. Jiggs was 18 years old. The heading of the obituary by V. L. was as follows: "Jiggs Beloved by many, meets his death under the wheels of big truck, was game until the last."

In 1932 V. L. was working for the Memphis Democrat and I thought he might become an author or newspaper man, but he missed them both. It takes a lot of thought and discussion for young people to pick the right vocation in life. The past week, I noticed a large U haul van back of the First Baptist Church being loaded full with luggage, groceries, cots, bedding, cooking vessels and in the back of the van was a cook stove and a deep-freeze. This cargo truck made the advance run on Friday and on Saturday morning a chartered bus and cars left early in the morning with 85 people headed by pastor C. H. Murphy and son leader, Gary Brodgen on their way to Santa Elena, Mexico for a week's mission crusade in this area. Hope they have a safe and successful week. It seems that many of the churches are sponsoring mission trips now.

Mrs. Sam Jackson gave me the information last week that her granddaughter, Vickie Stovell, was making a mission trip with the First Baptist Church of Amarillo to England, Holland and other places. There will be 80 members of the Junior Choir with 5 adult sponsors. They left June 3, and will be away for three weeks. Vickie's brother, Tim and wife, Sharon are now stationed in Germany with the Army and she will get to visit this brother.

I think Mrs. Jackson is looking forward to the bird flying over Tim's home in December, and making her a great-grandmother.

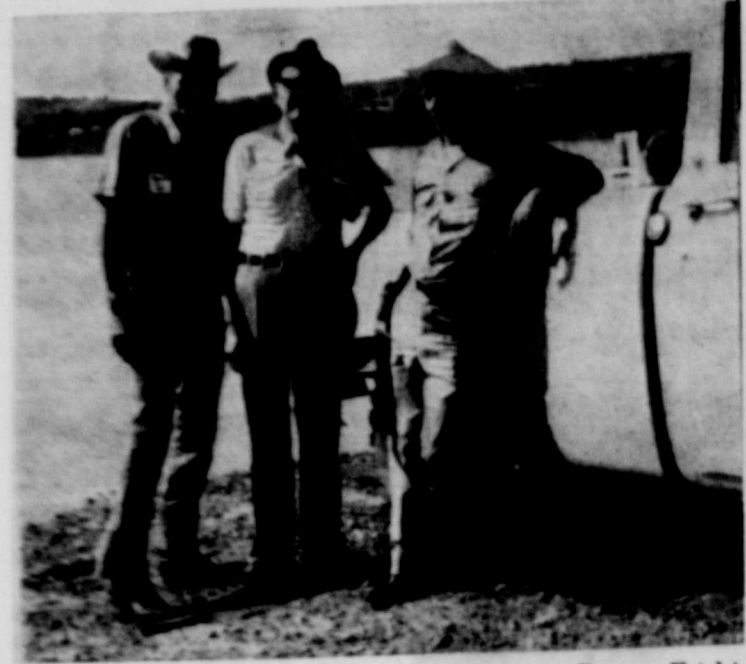

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey of Dallas were visitors here the past week. On April 1, 1973, Alvin joined the "Honey Do" club. Alvin graduated from M. H. S. in the 1927 class. Moved from here and lived in Corpus Christi in 1945 and 46. Moved back to Memphis and was in the plumbing business. 1949 and 1959 moved to Dumas where they lived 1959 to 1969, moved to Dallas in 1946. His wife, Abbey, served as one of the "Hello girls" for several years with General Telephone Co. After 4 months in Dallas, Mrs. Pearl Massey is back in her hometown Alvin and Hubert Dennis were discussing the possibility of having the 50th reunion of the 1927 Class which would be in 1997. If any of their class mates are interested in this 50th reunion write to Alvin Massey, 6648 Avalon Ave, Dallas, 75214.

Word came to us the past week that our friend, Jet Fore, broke his hip on Wednesday and had surgery on Saturday and is now in the hospital at San Monica.

FISH MANAGEMENT—Pictured above are Royce Frisbie, Gene Corley, and Tom Sutton of the Texas Parks and Wildlife, as they stock Club Lake, located 5 miles northeast of Memphis, with 1,500 figertin channel catfish from 3-6 inches long. The fish were released last October. This is done under the Fish Pond Management program.

Calif. Jet, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fore, was an early day resident here, and was outstanding member of the Gold Medal Band. He married Dora Red, sister of Lottie Kinard and Lucile Wright. If any of you remember Jet and want to cheer him up send him a card to Jet R. Fore, 1621 Barry, Los Angeles, Calif 90025.

In 1934 Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crooks moved to Memphis and after 40 years they packed their belongings in a truck and moved to Mena, Ark. They have their three sons, Bob, Roger and Hoby, who graduated from M. H. S. Bob and his wife and two daughters are now living in Childress where they are working in the Childress Schools. Bob and his wife recently celebrated their 19th anniversary. Roger served 9 years in the Navy and has been attending West Texas State University. He and his wife and two sons are moving to Commerce where he will go to college and get his doctor's degree. Toby, the youngest son, married Evelyn Ann Glosson. They have one son and one daughter and are now living in Seymour where he is in the drug business.

It would be hard to find many tons of different items that Mr. and Mrs. Sasser was wholesaling, his wife's tailoring. If just the items have sold were in a job. Hope they find plenty of fishing and a lot of grapes. I noticed in that Mr. and Mrs. Crooks' their shoes as they had out that they are now in Arkansas. Our best wishes family in their new home.

First Christian Church is Setting For Kesterson-Dixon Nuptials

Nuptial vows were solemnized at 4 p. m. Saturday, May 25, for Miss Dana Lynn Kesterson and Billy Ed Dixon of Amarillo in the First Christian Church in Memphis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. Kesterson of Memphis while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dixon, also of Memphis.

Tom Posey, minister, read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white cathedral tapers in an arch candelabra with jade greenery and white gladioli flanked on either side by round tiered candelabra with white tapers. The bridal aisle was marked with white satin bows.

Music was provided by Mrs. Shirley Hansard, organist, who played the traditional marches for the processional and recessional and also accompanied Gary Sims, vocalist, as he sang "Twelfth of Never" and the "Wedding Prayer."

Attendants

Miss Susan Goodnight of Amarillo served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Denise Stotts of Amarillo, and Miss Julia Taylor of Clarendon.

They wore identical floor-length dresses fashioned of apricot dotted swiss skirts and white eyelet embroidery bodices. They wore matching white brim hats with apricot lace trim and carried a long stemmed Tropicana Rose.

The side skirt was tiered with ruffles and the sauntery train was bordered with the ruffled treatment and scalloped lace. The stand up collar was accented at center front with a tiny satin bow and full juliet sleeves were gathered just below the elbow to feature a long fitted cuff with a wrist band of lace and tiny satin bows.

Her tiered veil of imported illusion was bordered in lace and fell from a bride's half crown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of elegance carnations, white roses and baby's breath on a white lace covered Bible.

Mrs. Dixon carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue with a six pence in her shoe."

Mrs. Kesterson, the bride's mother, wore a floor length dress of blue knit while the groom's mother, Mrs. Dixon, chose a floor length dress of lime green. They both wore white accessories with corsages of frenched carnations.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall.

The brides table was centered with an epergne arrangement of white and apricot crystal mums and greenery centered with a white taper. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and was served with punch.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride chose for travel a navy blue and white dotted knit pant suit accented with white accessories and the white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride attended Amarillo Junior College for one year and graduated from North West Texas Hospital School of Nursing on May 16. She will be employed with St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, beginning this week.

Heavy-Light Cotton Bales To Carry Penalty This Year

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)—Natural Fibers Economic Research at the University of Texas has determined that if the light-or heavy-weight cotton bale penalties that go into effect this season had been in effect during 1973-74, it would have cost Texas producers $3,239,000. According to Kermit Voelkel of the UT research unit, close to 11 per cent of Texas bales in 1973-74 fell below or above the 380-to 550-pound weight category.

"To eliminate such a costly expense," Mr. Voelkel said, "it will be necessary to convert to universal density presses at gins, and a study of the cost of the penalties will certainly be an inducement for such a change."

Of the 4,468,000 bales ginned in Texas last season, .3 per cent

One of these days he particular remembered when the Sassers, Clarence Morrison and Peden families celebrated hog day working together when they killed 23 hogs and dressed them. A lot of hard work for the adults, but 23 kids had a good time blowing up their bladder balloons!

Several wedding bells were ringing last week. I met a lot of Fred Bourland's relatives at the motel Saturday morning as Fred's daughter was getting married Saturday afternoon. The sons and daughters of the Late Mr. and Mrs. Mac Bourland had a family reunion on this occasion. The ones I met were Mr. and Mrs. Fred of Ennis; Fred calls himself "Kojak" on account of his hairdo. . . . weighed 329 pounds or below, and would have carried a $10 per bale penalty; .9 per cent weighed 330 to 379 pounds, with a $5 penalty; 89.2 per cent weighed 380 to 550 pounds, with no penalty; 6.2 per cent weighed 551 to 575 pounds, with a $5 penalty, and 3.4 per cent weighed 576 pounds or above, with a $10 penalty.

Mr. Voelkel said the first bale is expected in mid-June, with the full season beginning the last part of July.

Entry Fee Is $3.00 In Tennis Tourney At Lakeview

Entry fee is $3.00 each played in the Lakeview Tennis Tournament this year instead of the figure reported in the news story last week.

Sponsors of the tournament said that increased cost in trophies and tennis balls made it necessary to increase entry fees, but most tournaments in this area have an even higher entry fee than this.
