Cyclone Scrimmages Quanah Fri.

The Memphis Cyclone will travel to Quanah Friday night for a scrimmage with the Class AA Quanah Indians with the varsity scrimmage set to begin at 7:30 p. m., immediately following the junior varsity scrimmage which will begin at an earlier hour.

Coach Clyde McMurray forsores the Quanah team as a tough opponent for the local team and the local coach is hopeful that the Cyclone offense will have a better night than was seen at the Stinnett scrimmage here last Friday.

The big news in Cyclone camp was the Harris Poll rating in Class A which lists the Memphis Cyclone in the No. 2 spot in the state.

This is the highest rating the local squad has ever received in the history of the Harris ratings. Rarely does the local team make the top ten, although for the past several seasons the team has steadily been in the top 20 in the Harris ratings.

Commenting about the rating, Coach McMurray said, "When you're No. 2 you just have to shoot for No. One which is held by Royal now. Naturally, our coaches and players are flattered. We must improve every phase of our game in order to withstand the attack our opponents will place on us as the result of this high rating."

Several things must occur before any team can deserve a top rating, the coach said, and the first thing is to win the district in order to qualify for the state playoffs. "Winning our district, in the past, has proved to be as difficult as winning state. District 2-A is one of the top districts in Class A in the state and 1974 is no exception," the local coach said.

McMurray explained that local coaches started out this season to accomplish certain things. The first priority was to install a defense, then bring the offense around as time permitted.

"We didn't move the ball very well against Stinnett's defense in scrimmage," the local coach said. "Our defense, on the other hand, looked good, but still needed more (Continued On Page 8)

Fogging Machine Now In Operation

The City of Memphis now has its new fogging machine and the machine was in operation on Wednesday night. REINFORCEMENT COMMUNICATION—Pictured above is a derrick-type radio tower to be erected on the north side of the Courthouse for a new-type radio network to be used by the Hall County Sheriff's Office. The tower is creating a lot of controversy as to what citizens or County officials expected to be erected. A single-pole tower was the plan of County Sheriff Elmer Neel when contracts were signed between local and federal agency installing the Panhandle-wide system. Citizens favor the communication network but want the tower located off the Courthouse lawn.

Terms of the act, the guarantee program will be in effect through July 25, 1975. It is extended for 6 months until that date if the Secretary of Agriculture determines that it is necessary to help the livestock and poultry industry obtain sufficient credit.

Drive Friendlier!

Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe is urging that Texans drive even more friendly than they did last year in a "drive friendlier" campaign during the Labor Day holidays this weekend.

Last year, traffic accidents on Texas highways claimed the lives of 31 people during Labor Day holidays. Hundreds more suffered injuries.

The message is simple: "It takes extra care. Use your lap and shoulder belts. Observe all rules, and look out for the driver who doesn't."

Traffic accidents in the local area have reduced during the year. Jerry Burleson, operator of the Consolidated Ambulance Service reports that ambulance runs to wrecks are off, from 87 last year to 25 so far this year.

Reduced speed limit and shortage of gasoline last winter and spring could be considered contributing factors in the reduction of accidents.

But Col. Spier of the Texas Department of Public Safety is warning that motorists, generally, are not observing the 55 mph speed limit, and DPS records reveal an increase in traffic accidents as more and more motorists ignore the speed limit mark and race faster and faster down the highways.

With other motorists trying to drive the limit, and speeding motorists doing a lot of passing, a dangerous condition could exist on the crowded highways during Labor Day holidays.

On a recent trip, this editor and family attempted to drive the speed limit. During the trip, it was necessary to pass about three vehicles, driving slower than 55 mph. All the rest of the vehicles, including trucks, were passing us in a steady stream.

According to the highway map, the trip was 390 miles long. Under the 70 mph speed, it took seven to seven and a half hours.

Traveling at the slower speed, it took eight and a half hours, including ample stops along the way. Under the old 60 mph speed limit of several years ago, it was a consistent eight hour trip.

Traveling at the slower speed can be more restful, especially if the car is equipped with a cruise control device. Starting on the trip a little earlier can offset the extra driving time.

Driving friendly is the safest thing a motorist can do. Getting ample rest, alternating drivers, keeping interior distractions to a minimum, and keeping a sharp watch on other vehicles are also good practices.

One practice this editor observes possibly prevented a dangerous situation on this recent trip. A truck driver chose to pass on a downhill grade coming into a hill marked with a no passing zone. It appeared that no cars were on the "dark" side of the hill so the truck driver felt pretty safe that the road was clear. We slowed down anyway (as is our practice) to allow for a faster passing. Sure enough, a car suddenly topped the hill and the truck had to get over. By slowing, there was ample room.

Wrecks often occur due to poor judgment of drivers. A defensive driver never takes "gambling" chances. Drive friendlier than you ever have, and we'll see you after the holidays.

What Other Editors Say

Character and Health:

After reading several newspapers and watching television programs over the weekend as well as trying to sort out something in the way of books and magazines worth spending some reading time on during some spare weekend hours, it was fate which brought me around to sorting some old files Monday morning.

Out of one of the files dropped a clipping taken from The Lutheran Digest several years ago. It was quite appropriate.

Labor unrest, busing and anti-busing marches and claims, militancy of all kinds and for all real and imagined grievances, news of crime, of murder, of rape, of embezzlement, of wasteful extravagance in furnishing legislative offices, smut in TV programming, in books, in magazines, the breakdown in respect for anything or any idea more than 30 minutes old — all these things which every one of us every day of the week.

But the most demoralizing part of the whole picture is the blasé acceptance of the general public that such things are an acceptable part of living.

The piece in the Lutheran Digest was what caught my eye. The title was "We Mass Produce Almost Everything — Except Character."

The article should be must reading for every person in every home. Here it is:

"It used to be that when you wanted something, you worked to earn it. Now you stage a riot to get it given to you at someone else's expense.

"If your father or grandfather lost his job, he took whatever work he could get and he went (probably walked miles) to where there was work, any honest work, being done. Now hordes of relief "clients" refuse a job unless it is to their liking. And they demand that the job be brought to them in their community and on their terms.

"This nation was built by immigrants (beginning in the 1600s and earlier) who struggled here for an opportunity, and would have scorned the false idea of "something for nothing." Now getting something for nothing is a universal and all too often the only ambition.

"It used to take a lifetime of grueling work and scrimping for a family or a country to earn a little surplus, a taste of security. Now mobs of stupid & lazy people and whole nations demand they be given security — out of someone else's earning and efforts.

"Minority groups all over the earth seem to think the world owes them everything they want.

If this "debt" isn't forthcoming then it is "to the streets" for a destructive tantrum.

"We have lost our character."

It could be that we are all too concerned with finding a spot in the playpen of society. What we have lost is moral character — the moral character to do things for ourselves. We are in the midst of a suicidal lemming march to destruction as we race to get the good life at the expense of someone else.

Another clipping which dropped out of the file dealt with age and the fact that time marches on & so does your age. The article called attention to 6 basic commandments in the battle with age.

1. Plan for action — You're never too old to exercise. Exercise can be as vigorous as a game of tennis, as relaxing as working in the rose garden or as unorganized as an evening walk but it must be done regularly.
2. Think about food — As your body grows it needs a smaller quantity of it.
3. Watch your waistline — Staying thin is good for more than your vanity.
4. Rest up for days ahead. Don't be a sleep cheat. Adequate sleep benefits adults as well as children.
5. Check up on your health. Sickness just doesn't happen. Much of it can be prevented or controlled by early detection and fast attention.
6. Don't just stand there — don't wait for retirement to join a club, develop a hobby or participate in civic affairs. Now is the time to get involved in activities.

Reddy's consumer tips on lighting

Edison's light bulb has come a long way since it first lit up the night in 1879; today, lighting is such a natural part of our lives we hardly give it a thought. But the fact is, the more choice we have in how we can use light, the more attention we should pay to how we buy and use light bulbs and lighting fixtures. Put a little more light in your life by following Reddy's money-saving, energy-conserving lighting tips:

CARE FOR LIGHTING EQUIPMENT

Dust and dirt alone cause substantial losses in the amount of light produced. Systematic cleaning is important. Clean lamp bulbs (when they are cool) with a damp cloth.

Check frequently for defective cords or plugs. Replace or repair them immediately if they are faulty.

LESS IS MORE

Generally, you'll get more light for your money if you use the least amount of bulbs that give the light you need. For instance, one 100-watt bulb gives more light than three 40-watt bulbs—and costs about one-third less to buy and replace.

READ THE LABEL

Speaking of "lumens," you'll find that all light bulbs have three ratings on their packaging. Lumens tell you what the light output or performance of the bulb is. "Watts" tell you how much electricity is needed to produce that light, and "bulb life" is the estimated length of time it will take the filament inside the bulb to burn out. When brightness is more important than bulb life—for reading, studying or working—choose the "standard" bulb that gives you the most lumens for its wattage.

Remember, Reddy supplies the energy, but only you can use it wisely!

I heard a few guesses on Hall County cotton crop a few days ago. One guess came up with 100,000 bales, but I think he was talking through his crop of picnic whiskers.

We received a card from Bill Cosby. This card was written Aug. 12. He is now seeing a part of the world that some of us will never see. He states as follows: "Sao Paulo is the first stop and will be there until the 15th of August, then to Porto Alegre. After several concerts in the south, we will fly to Brazil, then to Rio. The whole town is celebrating 150 years German immigration to Brazil; it will last until Sept. 6." After he gets back to Germany, he will begin Sept. 1st as first oboe in the "Hamburger Symfoniker". He has signed the contract for the season with them and will be on the move most of the time making the different towns where they are backed. Bill has been in Germany and Austria for the past six years. Congratulations to him on his achievements!

With the program, he has ahead of him, I imagine he will have to wear clothing that is "wash and wear" with all of his traveling. His brother, Bob, may be following in his footsteps, as he is now vice president of the Texas Tech band, which is composed of about 300 members.

A quote: "A man may travel far in his life—but there is always a small part of him that never leaves the town where he was born, the neighborhood where he spent his boyhood. He may walk the streets of London, sit at the sidewalk cafes in Paris, admire the blue of the bay of Naples or linger long in the parts of the Orient. But always his hometown will be a small core inside his soul."

Mrs. L. E. Jenkins and Roy Grimes had as their guests in Heritage Hall, Mrs. Ollie Jackson of Cearis, Calif., Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Littlefield, where she has lived the past 37 years. Others in this group were Mrs. Wilma Parker and Kent, Patsy and Kenya of Englewood, Colo. After leaving Hall County, Mrs. Parker lived in Arizona for 29 years and the past 12 years in Colorado. Mrs. Jackson, the wife of the late Will Jackson, moved to Hall County in 1914. She has lived in Arizona 18 years and 22 years in California. Ruth Jenkins and Ollie Jackson are sisters of Mrs. Jenkins and Roy Grimes.

Other visitors in Heritage Hall were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Orcutt of Estelline.

We received a letter the past week from Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Toner of San Leandro, Calif. Included with the letter was a copy of their new weekly newspaper, "Cherry City Gazette". This paper covers history and current events. After reading the newspaper, I came to the conclusion that Frank and Katherine almost have full time jobs keeping up with their civic work. One particular project they are interested in and work with is the "Girls of Yesteryear" which was organized in 1965. They follow the rules of "Little Theatre" in costuming and business. They have accepted many engagements in their area. The show is about 30 minutes long and is a revue of old time songs. Each member of the group has an extensive wardrobe of the "gay ninety" costumes in a complete range of color. These are researched and designed by the director. "The Girls of Yesteryear" is a hobby for the women participating. They do a great many shows for senior citizens, churches and convalescent hospitals. Frank helps in the stage props. This sounds like it would be a good show for the Hall County Picnic if they were a little closer to Hall County. They are open for engagements. I have the card with the address and telephone number. It is always good to hear from Frank and Katherine Milam Toner. She has a regular date with her mother, Mrs. Clyde Milam each Sunday afternoon on the telephone.

I have heard several of the young wives of the men with long whiskers say that they just went along with their husbands so they would not have to kiss them goodbye. On a coffee break a few days ago, I heard comments on the depth of the holes they poured concrete in for the new communications tower being put on the square. Don Long said they were about 40 feet deep and Warren Mitchell came up with the answer of 60 feet deep. Another man who seemed to know what he was saying was Roscoe Eller. He reported that there would be a trained monkey inside this tower that would change the light globes when they burned out.

We have business from other towns of which we are proud. Wendell Harrison had a check a few days ago from WinRock Farms of Arkansas. This check was from the estate of the late Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of our soon to be vice president of the U. S. Nelson Rockefeller.

There were many stories about last week's rainstorm. One was told me about the man in the telephone booth talking and the booth blew off from him without hurting him. Another story was told me about Mrs. Lacy Montgomery was parked in her car and she now knew how a baby felt being rocked in a cradle. Still another story came to me about a person being in their car and some of the window glass exploded and also blew the glasses away this man was wearing.

It was truly an inspiration to see and hear Geary Brogden with his 50 or 60 young people in this choir singing a story of life in Christ. I first estimated this group to be a million dollars, but the more they sang the higher the value. We will miss many of them as they go to college.

Virginia Browder is really working on the "Roaring 20's". She gave me the article below on print in this week's column.

"Letters are coming in from various ex-students of Memphis High in the 20's. Budge Harle of Durant, Okla., (Class of '24) will be here as will Bill Swaim of Harrisburg, Penn. (Freshman of '20). Also, Elizabeth Boykin of Washington Crossing, Penn. (Class of '21) is flying into Amarillo Sept. 12, to be on hand when the fun begins.

"As to the nature of the FUN, a Roaring 20's hayride in the parade, preceded by sandwiches and snacks at the Roaring 20's Hdqts. Visiting on the square following the parade, the Donogal Contest (Moustaches and beards) back to Hdqts. for an old-time Song Fest with Shyrle Patrick and probably a dance that evening or the Little Miss Hall County Contest at the Community Center are activities on 'the drawing board' for the occasion.

"Letters are being sent to out-of-town folks but a list of 'The Roaring 20's' home folks will be included in The Democrat before time for the festivities. And all who want to renew old acquaintances are invited to drop by 215 S. 5th St. Saturday afternoon."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Orcutt are parents of the groom.

Centering the altar was an arched candelabra flanked on each side by branched candelabra covered with bakers fern and apricot and white miniature mums. Tree candelabra spiraled with greenery holding white cathedral tapers. Urns of apricot gladioli and white spider mums completed the setting. The bridal isles were marked by apricot and white satin bows and streamers.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta, designed with a fitted empire bodice enhanced by Chantilly lace. Covered buttons marked center front, while center back was marked by an organza bow. The high Victorian neckline was of organza ruffling. Her long full, sheer sleeves were of bishop styling, caught at the wrists by deep cuffs of Chantilly lace. The skirt fell to a deep flounce organza ruffle trimmed by a band of Chantilly lace. The entire gown was enhanced by appliques of lace in floral design. She wore a matching bridal illusion veil attached to a miniature coil. The veiling was edged by Chantilly lace and fell to a chapel length over her gown. She carried a bridal bouquet of white sweetheart roses, surrounded by miniature carnations and baby's breath atop a white Bible belonging to Mrs. Danny Scarbrough. In August of 1907 our family arrived in Memphis on the F. W. & D. C. after an all day ride on this passenger train with the windows of the cars open and sand and cinders from the coal-burning engine blowing through the windows as there were no air conditioners.

In going back over family history, I found that the first one of our family to come to America was Samuel Baldwin who arrived in Mass. from Kent in 1639 and was followed by Richard, who came from Buckinghamshire to Conn. in 1665.

THE WORD

"The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart."

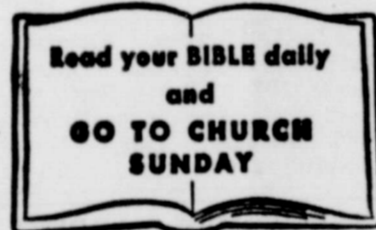

-Deuteronomy 30:14

The Apostle Paul reminded the Romans that in his heart man believed in righteousness and with the mouth confessed unto salvation.

As Christians, we know right from wrong. If we follow the dictates of our heart we will always do what we think is right. Our conscience usually tells us when something is wrong.

As Christians, we should not hesitate to show evidence of our belief and faith in God. It is not necessary that we shout our faith from the street corners. The manner in which we live our lives, conduct ourselves in business and in our relationship with others is evidence enough.

Farmers Union Has Business Meeting, Social

Members of the Memphis chapter of the Hall County Farmers Union held a business meeting and enjoyed an ice cream social August 15, at the city park. A large crowd was in attendance, according to Tom Tippet, president.

During the business meeting, Mr. Tippet announced that the Farmers Union had eight new members for the month of July. Two more new board members, Joe Neal Berry and Roy Gresham, were named. It was also announced that Donna Ferrel and Jo Ann Berry were the two youths, sponsored by Hall County Farmers Union, who attended the Methodist Camp Butman near Merkel this summer. The fees for the two girls were paid by the First National and First State Banks of Memphis. Miss Berry was elected to the council and attended a work and play day at Cisco Aug. 16. She announced that the state convention would be held Dec. 13 and 14.

Mr. Tippet stated that farmers and ranchers of the Union were supporting the candidacy of Sen. Jack Hightower for United States Representative and that anyone wishing to support this campaign might turn in donations either to himself or to any board member.

After the business meeting, the program was turned over to the social committee, J. M. Ferrel and W. H. Reed, and refreshments were served. Following the refreshments, a baseball game was enjoyed.

Farmers Make Plans to Plant Cover Crops

Many farmers in the Hall-Childress Soil Conservation District are making plans to interseed cover crops of rye and winterpeas to protect their land from blowing, according to Henry D. Gregory, District Conservationist with the local Field Office.

Windstorms in the Spring of 1974 did moderate to severe damage some 125,000 acres of cropland in Hall County. This damage was caused by a lack of cover and drought conditions made emergency tillage operations ineffective. Not only did these sandstorms damage valuable farmlands, damage was done to fences, roads, bar ditches.

Now is the time to take action to get cover crops planted, Gregory stated. For further information contact the local Soil Conservation Service on planting cover for winter and spring protection.

practice in certain areas."

The coach went on to say, about the offense, that the team had worked less on offense, but a certain amount of credit should go to Stinnett's defensive unit led by a fine middle linebacker named Dodson.

Neither varsity team scored during the scrimmage; however, in the junior varsity scrimmage the two teams each scored one TD. The Memphis JV's were coming on strong in the closing session of their scrimmage.

Coach McMurray said, "We should look better on offense at Quanah due to some extent on our working more on offense during practice this week."

Local coaches cited Charles Bryley for earning the "big lick" award in the scrimmage and Don Davis, Duck Richards, Kenneth Fields and Candy Reyes were cited for outstanding play.

More Poise

The local coach, in Wednesday's interview, brought up a new dimension of evaluation, in discussion the 1974 Cyclone and that is the subject of poise.

"In order to have a championship team, the team must be able to win the big ones, the crucial games before a stadium full of fans, withstand the big games' pressure and remain poised."

"This year's team is showing more poise at this stage of the season than teams have during other years," Coach McMurray said.

There will be some lineup changes for the scrimmage, as Isaac Alexander will start at defensive wingback, James Beck will be starting at split end and has had to miss some of this week and this position filled at this time.

The Quanah team scored Archer City last Friday.
