L.L. All-Stars To Play In Childress

The Memphis Little League All-Stars, 16 boys in all, 14 players and two alternates, began working out Tuesday to compete in the Area 1 play-offs with Wellington All-Stars Saturday night at Childress.

The game is to begin at 7 p.m. at the Childress Little League ball park in the Childress City Park.

Managing the local team is Bill Lockhart, with PeeWee Barnett as coach.

Players selected by Managers to be All-Stars, (and those boys who were able to have their birth certificates ready) include: Tommie Morris, Ronnie Smith, Steve Ferris, Neal Newsome, Kelly Wood, John Kilgore, Chris Allard, Alan Barnett, Randy Tomlinson, Scotty Lockhart, Jim Bob Goldston, Cliff Tippett, Scott Becker, Ronald Herndon, Quint Floyd and Terry Foster.

The Little League games were rained out last Thursday night and again Monday night, so the League still lacks three more nights of play.

Since no little League games have been played this week, all All-Stars will have full eligibility for pitching on the mound when they go to Childress Saturday.

In talking with the manager and coach of the team, it appears the 1975 Little League All-Stars appear to be all about the same caliber of players. The team has several good pitchers and hitters, but none really outstanding. Workouts have been held each evening preparing the local team for the play offs.

Should the local team defeat

Wellington All-Stars Saturday night, the schedule calls for them to play again on Tuesday, July 15, at Childress, playing the winners of the East Panhandle, Pampa American, game.

If they win that game, they will advance to Region Play-offs.

Memphis Receives 3.20 Inches Of Rain; Area Gets Varying Amounts, Some Hail

Beginning last Thursday evening, and continuing through today, storm clouds have roamed over this area leaving varied amounts of moisture and some hail, and causing continued damage to some crops.

Here in Memphis, a total of 3.20 inches of rain has been recorded by Rayford E. Hutcherson, official weather observer, from several rains.

Memphis, however, missed some of the really big rains, like the one that hit south of Red River which filled five-inch rain gauges and caused hail damage Monday afternoon late.

A small strip of cotton received hail damage on the Rayford Hutcherson, Larry McQueen, C. C. Hartsell and Ray Phillips farms southeast of Memphis Monday afternoon. The hail accompanied a one-inch rain.

Almost every farmer this reporter talked with had a different story this week about damage from this weeks rain, and blowing sand from winds out of storm clouds.

Some farm land has been washed badly, due to the recurring rains. The Memphis Country Club golf course was so wet July 4th, the course was closed to golf carts, and only a few golfers even attempted to play.

The latest system moved into the area early this morning leaving as much as one inch of moisture, and it appears the area will receive more rainfall tonight.

So far, July has proved to be a wet month. There is no hope of re-planting crops at this late date, so area farmers will be harvesting whatever crops survive. One rumor overheard here this week indicated that as much as 40 percent of the crop land in this area will be without a crop this year. Accurate figures will not be known until later.

County Blood Donors To Give Monday Afternoon

The Coffee Memorial Blood Bank will be in Memphis on Monday, July 14, at the Community Center between the hours of 1 to 4 p.m. to collect blood.

This is a continuation of the program sponsored by the Memphis Lions Club whereby Hall County supplies its quota of blood to the Blood Bank.

The Lions Club announced that anyone may come and donate blood during the afternoon, however, the following blood donors have already signed up to give blood.

These include: Jess Bridges, Sam Bruce, Willie Cannon, Mert Cooper, Kenneth Dale, Morris Davis, Ronnie Bradshaw, Orvilla Evans, Dwain Floyd, James Floyd, Gene Hughs.

Also, Wendell Harrison, Denise Hill, Sharon Johnson, Louise Jones, Ilene Jackson, Sarah Kilgore, Bill Leggett, Gene Lindsey, Nancy Lambert.

Also, Andy Gardenhire, Weldon "Doc" Bates, Roger Messer, Skipper Murdock, Lacy Montgomery, Nancy Montgomery, Larry McQueen, Jerry Montgomery, Wan-

Taxes Lowering Standard Of Living!

The fact remains that property owners, the vast majority of which are middle-income taxpayers, have been hit hard during the worst recession in decades and the greatest inflation in a century. This is the first recession in which the burden has continued to grow for families and individuals. It is no wonder the Joint Economic Committee of Congress has established that the standard of living of the middle class in America today is filling more of the tax tell than any other single thing.

In some portions of the country, property tax on a home has doubled, or even tripled during the past five years. Tax assessors on the county level have increased assessment values as much as 56 percent during the past two years.

Here in this area, local, school and county taxes have not gone up nearly as much as they have in other areas of the country. But, considering the state's new school finance bill recently passed the Legislature and signed by the Governor, many school districts in this state may have to raise huge additional tax funds from district sources in order to meet requirements under new guidelines.

Frankly, school officials from the separate school districts in this area do not know at this time just exactly how much local school taxes will have to be raised during the next few years. Texas has operated on a more sound financial basis than have many other states in the union, but with inflation eating away at the cost of running city, county and state governments, it is just a matter of time until taxpayers will have to pay more and more.

Nation-wide, however, the tax collector's take has become the biggest single factor in the rise of living costs. Middle-income Americans now shell out more for taxes than they do for food, housing, utilities, transportation or recreation. For the very poor, there are some cushions. Welfare and various support payments, food stamps, health care, financial help for educating their children are examples.

For the very rich there are tax advantages in the special treatment the law provides on long-term capital gains, tax-exempt interest that is paid on city and State bonds, and so on. Also, there are other legitimate offsets—charities, capital losses, depreciation, to name a few—that help ease the tax load for them.

But for those in between—the millions of salaried families whose well-being depends on how far each paycheck will stretch—there is nothing. The more they earn and save, the more they pay in percentage of income.

Middle income Americans in the future will have less discretionary income—the amount left after paying for food, rent, transportation and taxes—so careful purchasing and selection of more functional products will become the "fad." A return to simpler and more natural products and services, particularly in housing, autos, food and clothing, will be the "in" thing.

The trend has already started, with more home gardening, more home-made clothing, smaller cars, especially in the hands of younger licensed drivers, and a reluctance to purchase homes unless they are priced economically and monthly payments are within the family's budget.

Governmental leaders say the recession has bottomed out. What that really means is that things are now the worst they have been in decades, and inflation the worst in this century. Hall County farmers recognize this fact of economic life when they realize they have more money invested in the 1975 cotton crop than any crop they have ever planted, already, and the season, and its expenses, is far from being over.

REGULATING THE UTILITIES
THE STATE GOT its first Public Utility Commission in the waning hours of the 1975 legislature, but the effectiveness of the panel will be decided by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

He is the one who will be responsible for appointing three commission members to the regulatory agency. The bill creating the commission is marginal at best, but it does offer some regulation, and it can be improved by future legislatures.

The miracle is that it even came up for a vote. The big utility companies pushed for Speaker of the House Bill Clayton to put the bill off until the last day, and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who many observers feel is controlled by a utility company, did nothing to help the cause.

But there was apparently enough public pressure on individual legislators that they felt they had to vote for it if they wanted to be re-elected.

Many people and organizations fought the fight to a successful end. Among those were Dr. Mike Abel of Martindale and Wimberly, a small town veterinarian who neglected his business and spent his time and money in a fight that appeared virtually hopeless in the beginning.

After first becoming embroiled in demanding better telephone service in Martindale (just outside of San Marcos), he was named a co-chairman of the statewide Texas Coalition for Utility Regulation . . . and went on to advocate stronger control of all utility problems.

Dr. Abel has contributed immeasurably to a cause he thought would be beneficial to all of the people of Texas.

It wasn't an easy fight, and he acknowledges that the end result may not be what the advocates of the commission sought.

But it is a beginning. And it will only be a good beginning if our governor sees fit to appoint independent thinking citizens to that commission. A commission made up of utility industry "friends" will be worse than no regulation at all.

We suggest that Gov. Briscoe give strong thought to appointing Dr. Abel to that commission. And we urge our readers to use their influence as voters and citizens to write the governor in support of the once little-known veterinarian who was contributed immeasurably to a cause he thought was right.

NEXT TO TREASON
A news story came out of the Ochiltree Soil Conservation tour last Saturday which has caused a ripple across the country and if true should cause some action to be taken to straighten out the U. S. Department of Agriculture. U. S. Rep. Glenn English, Cordell Democrat, told Herald news editor Bob McVey that he is investigating reports that the USDA is telling other countries not to buy American farm products.

English said he had talked to members of the Oklahoma Wheat Producers Association who had been in the Philippines trying to drum up business in grain sales.

These Philippine officials told the group that USDA officials advised them to wait a few months before buying American farm products because by then the price would be down.

The motive, as explained by English, is that the Ford administration might feel that lower food prices at home would be an advantage when the 1976 elections were held. Overseas sales would raise prices at home.

At the meeting in Perryton, our own Rep. Jack Hightower expressed concern at this report and was properly motivated to do something about it. Certainly we cannot let the USDA or any government official make our grain export program a political football.

The American farmer has responded to the plea to produce more food. This year's wheat crop is a big one and the corn crop promises to be a good one as well.

And what does the farmer get for his cooperation? He gets the feet chopped out from under him because export sales are what keeps grain prices at a decent level. The government has already messed up the market by manipulating exports.

Grasshopper poison has been secured for the farmers of Hall County, County Agent W. B. Hooser said Wednesday. A building has been made available as a mixing station by Frank Foxhall and is located at the West Texas Cottonoil Co. "Grasshoppers are starting to damage crops already," the county agent said. "We must not let them do much damage, but begin to distribute the poisoned bait as soon as it arrives."

Inez Baker stated the following in her column "Women Work": The Germans call the Americans sentimentalists, and we are prone to be, sometimes to the extent of thinking the Germans are human. But Sgt. Scruggs told things that opened our eyes. He told of the complacent, well fed German people; he told of dropping food from planes to the starving people of Holland, while German soldiers kept guns trained on the mercy ships; he told of the arrogance of German prisoners transported by plane. Lynn Bourland Receives USDA Service Award

COLLEGE STATION — Lynn Bourland of Bryan-College Station, Texas, and five other Texas home economists have received the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Superior Service Award — one of the highest awards USDA grants.

She is a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Miss Bourland, a Quail, Texas, native, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Bourland of Ennis, and granddaughter of Edie Sweatt of Memphis.

Termed a "Unit Superior Service Award," the recognition was the only one of its kind given this year by USDA to Cooperative Extension Service professionals from throughout the nation.

It and 10 individual superior service awards were announced during ceremonies in Washington, D. C.

The award was given for "innovative development and implementation of a home care and maintenance program that reached the Texas public through utilization of creative mass media methods and other educational techniques," according to USDA.

"This team of home economists cooperatively planned, developed and implemented a statewide project to teach families money-saving, comprehensive home care and maintenance skills," Dr. John E. Hutchison, Extension director, noted.

A series of 30-minute television programs entitled "You Can Do It!" introduced the project to 282,000 Texans.

Also, some 32,000 homemakers in Texas were involved in follow-up activities, such as workshops, "fix-it" institutes and "how-to" publications.

"These homemakers reported an estimated savings of $100,000 in using the home care and maintenance information," Hutchison added.

Miss Bourland received bachelor's and master's degrees in home economics education from Texas Tech University. She attended Clarendon Junior College and taught high school home economics in Clarendon for three years.

Gail Swope and Charles E. Sperry Marry In Pretty Church Ceremony

The First United Methodist Church was the setting for the June wedding of Willetta Gail Swope and Charles Eugene Sperry at 7:30 p.m. on June 6.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roach of Pismo Beach, Calif., while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sperry of Newlin.

Rev. Mert Cooper, pastor, read the single ring ceremony before an altar covered with white satin and backed with candelabra holding votive candles and entwined with greenery, white satin streamers and wedding bell. Baskets of gladioli flanked the arrangement.

Mrs. Mert Cooper, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Jerry Lane as he sang "The Wedding Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white organza fashioned with a molded bodice and tiered skirt. The square neckline was trimmed in lace as were the long fitted sleeves which came to a point over the hands. Her shoulder-tip veil of illusion fell from a headpiece studded with pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and baby's breath centered with two white orchids.

Her only attendant was Drenda Wiggins. She wore a full-length gown of blue dotted Swiss styled with empire waistline. She carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations tied with blue and white streamers.

Charles Black served as best man and ushers were Steve Becker and Brad Whitten.

Craig Sperry was ring bearer and Miss Shana Subanks was flower girl.

Miss Donna Ferrel was the foyer to register guests. She wore a pink crepe and lace formal accented with a white camela corsage.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ora Ritchie, wore a formal dress of chiffon styled with full skirt flowing from a fitted waistline with long cuffed sleeves. The groom's mother chose a formal dress of pink crepe and lace. Both wore Cymbidium orchid corsages.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white silk organza and net cloth and appointed in crystal.

The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue roses.

After a wedding trip to Palo Duro, the newlyweds are at home here.

Mrs. E. P. Thompson underwent a lense transplant in Dallas, and is now recovering at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herschel Montgomery who resides in Richardson.

Drop-In Center News

The number of birthdays is a matter of small importance at the Drop-In Center. People from fifty-five years of age and older are having gala times playing games, quilting, knitting, and visiting each day from Monday through Friday, ten o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon.

A class of beginners' knitting has been organized. Instruction will be offered each Wednesday morning, beginning at ten o'clock.

The second session of recording blood pressure was quite satisfactory. In behalf of the administration board of the Hell County hospital, Mr. Dan Curl presented the Center with a stethoscope and pressure cuff. Mrs. Rodgers expressed to him her personal thanks and the gratitude of those people who are interested in having their blood pressure recorded. Mrs. Rodgers stated that a pleasing contribution had been made for this equipment, and that the fund would be applied to the purchase of materials necessary for making urinalyses, which project will be effected much sooner now than was anticipated.

Mert Cooper, Pastor of the United Methodist Church, has accepted the chairmanship of the devotional committee. Mrs. Ruby Longan has consented to serve as publicity chairperson.

Several memorials have been made to the center. This gesture of interest in the memory of deceased loved ones is especially appreciated.

Plans are being made for a big get-together at the Fellowship Luncheon, which will be held in the Community Center on Friday, July 11. The Pounds family will entertain. All people fifty-five and above are urged to bring food and enjoy the fellowship. There will be no particular group of sponsors. Mrs. Estelle Barber will be in complete charge of the food.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Estelle Odecock, owner and manager of The Old-Fashioned Freeze, complimented the guests with Cokes. Everyone was most enthusiastic in appreciation of her thoughtfulness.

Mike Evans and Allen Holliman of Amarillo spent Sunday and Sunday night with Mike's grandmother, Mrs. R. A. Wells.

YOUNG TWIRLER—LaBeth Williams, age, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Williams of Memphis, won a trophy in Divisional Solo Rating IV, July 5th, in a NBTA Sanctioned Contest at WTSU in Canyon. She is a student of Mickey Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shadid and Terri were in Kansas City, Mo., over the July 4th weekend to attend a family reunion of Mrs. Shadid's family. They returned home on Monday. Terri remained in Oklahoma City to visit this week with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Bob Lindsey, Tim and Jeff of Dimmitt visited the past weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stilwell, and also with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lindsey.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Room Air-Conditioners

- Set air-conditioner to maintain a slightly higher temperature than you might normally; each degree cooler than 78 uses substantially more energy.
- Clean the filter regularly.
- Close draperies, blinds and use shades or awnings on all windows exposed to sun.
- Use appliances that give off heat (ovens, dishwashers, dryers) during cooler times of the day.
- Remember to keep outside doors, windows, and fireplace dampers closed. If you have window units, close the heating vents near the floor, as cool air falls and can escape through vents.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The row over medical malpractice insurance has landed in district court here.

Argonaut Insurance Companies, one of the largest carriers of malpractice insurance, filed suit to enjoin the State Insurance Board from freezing rates at the June 3 level.

Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie charged insurance companies appeared to have inflated their rates when a new law required them to file with the Board.

"It's beginning to look like the classic case of weighing the butcher's thumb along with the hamburger," Christie said. He said one company nearly doubled quoted mid-May rates after the legislature ordered filing with the regulatory agency.

A board order of June 27 put companies on notice that only premium rates in effect June 3 may be charged for renewal of policies for doctors and hospitals unless a 90-day notice of increase is furnished the insured.

Argonaut went to court and got a temporary restraining order effective until a July 10 hearing, blocking the 90-day notice provision.

The provision, Argonaut attorneys claimed, imposed a past duty they could not have anticipated. They also contended that reissuing policies at pre-May rates even though inadequate would result in irreparable damage to companies.

Press Buy Protested
Texas printers are strongly protesting a proposal by Secretary of State Mark White Jr. to explore purchase of a large web-off-set printing press to print copies of the proposed new state constitution.

White said press dealers informed him the state could save $150,000 by doing its own printing of the document and the new official "Texas Register."

Printers, backed by an auditor's letter, claim the press purchase would cost the state far more than commercial printing of the constitution and register, and would lead to additional government competition with the printing industry.

Austin State Sen. Lloyd Doggett requested an attorney general's opinion on constitutionality of the purchase. Printers threatened a lawsuit to stop it.

White said no purchase will be made unless bids clearly show

Bran Adds Fiber To Shortcake

Recent research has shown the importance of fiber in the diet. NABISCO 100% Bran Cereal is an especially good source of food fiber. Of course, bran is good for breakfast, but it can also be used in many recipes. In this shortcake shell, bran adds a delightful, nutty flavor and chewy texture. Fill with colorful, juicy fruits and serve with sour cream sauce.

FRUIT SHORTCAKE

- 2/3 cup butter or margarine
- 1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup NABISCO 100% Bran Cereal
- Rice or dried beans
- 1/3 cup apricot preserves
- 4 cups chilled fruit, well drained
- 2 cups dairy sour cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Grease a 2-quart oblong baking dish. Line with wax paper, allowing paper to extend 1 inch above pan. Grease paper. Beat butter, cream cheese and 1/2 cup sugar until fluffy. Blend in next three ingredients. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add with bran to cream cheese mixture. Spread evenly on bottom and sides of prepared dish to form a shell. Line with wax paper, pressing carefully into corners. Half fill with rice or beans to hold in shape. Trim paper to within 1 inch of pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 20 minutes. Carefully lift out paper and rice. Reduce temperature to 350°F. Bake 15 minutes longer. Cool in pan on wire rack 30 minutes. Lift out and cool completely. Spread bottom with preserves. Fill with fruit. Blend together last three ingredients; serve as sauce with shortcake. Makes 10 servings of about 2 x 1 1/2-inch pieces shortcake and 3 tablespoons sauce.

TALK

By BILL COLLIER

All it takes is a glance at your own checkbook to know that in the long run you have to have more coming in than going out. The same principal works with nations as well. That's why an international trade surplus is more desirable than a trade deficit. American farmers last year did far more than any other segment of U-S industry to reduce a trade deficit topped off by the high prices of mideastern oil. Agricultural exports last year were worth 22 billion dollars, producing an agricultural trade surplus of nearly 12 billion. This contribution by food and fiber producers brought our total deficit to 3 billion dollars. Still high, but much less than some economists thought it would be. Those figures from last year are considered by many to be the harbinger of agriculture's future importance to the U-S position in world affairs. Farmers and ranchers are moving more directly into the limelight as they produce enough to keep us number one.

Jim Ed Wines, Executive Vice President of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce recently completed a week's Institute for Organization Management at Southern Methodist University. Over 185 voluntary organization executives from 14 states participated in this personal development program.

The Southern Methodist Institute is one of six, annual, one-week sessions sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at leading universities throughout the country. Other universities which host Institutes are — Notre Dame, Georgia, Colorado, Santa Clara and Delaware.

James Merrell Awarded WTU Trip To Ohio

James Merrell, West Texas Utilities employee, and former Memphis resident, recently spent three days in Dayton, Ohio, at the Frigidaire Factory. In order to qualify for the trip a WTU employee must be on Accredited Technician. Mr. Merrell has been a Master Accredited Technician for five years. While in Dayton the men dined in the famous "Yankee Tavern", a beautiful, historic restaurant built in and around two restored barns.

The agenda consisted of meeting Frigidaire's Executives, attending several clinics on Frigidaire products and a complete tour of the factory, seeing the products on the assembly line.

James thoroughly enjoyed the trip and felt it a special honor to be chosen to go. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Merrell of Estelline.

The Merrells presently live in Anson, where James is the Manager of the WTU office there. Mrs. Merrell is the former Miss Joan Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davis, of Memphis, and they have one son, Dave Merrell.

has been an unusual year County to get a crop plant started growing. The way wind and storms this year need many farmers to plant 4 times and still not have stand of cotton. With the of seed and fuel some of will have to make a bumper fall to break even. We to change our cotton sign this year to "Heinz 57", as the crops are more in Hall County than I seen here. On the coffee exchange table I hear farmer is putting in 800 blackeyed peas, another of Quar. Others for are sun flowers, soy beans, wheat, alfalfa, maize, wheat, oats, watermelons and peanuts, watermelons and peaches. You name it, I think it have it; and the ground is idle with the industry of Hall County.

BANKING IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Direct Deposit—New
By Willis W. Alexander
Executive Vice President
American Bankers Association

Help is on the way to some 30 million recipients of Social Security benefits.

Many recipients are plagued each month by thievery, extra trips to the bank, missed vacations and dependency on relatives or friends—all because their Social Security checks are mailed to their homes.

Beginning in August on the West Coast and spreading to the East Coast by October, recipients will have the option of having their benefit checks deposited directly in a savings or checking account at the financial institution of their choice. At first, the U.S. Treasury will simply mail the check directly to the designated account; but by the end of 1976, deposits will be transferred instantaneously via computerized tape messages through a national electronic network.

And the benefits will be many. The Treasury will save some $1 million each month in postage alone, banks will cut down on crowds in lobbies and demands on tellers' time, and for Social Security beneficiaries, there will be:

- Safety—no need to worry about lost, stolen or forged checks, because none will be written.

- Simplicity—no need to delay a trip or worry during illness. You won't have to be at home to receive your check each month because it will be automatically credited to your account.

- Convenience—no need to make an extra trip to the bank, stand in long lines or depend on friends or relatives for transportation.

- Speed—no need to wait for possible delays in the mail when automatic electronic transfers begin. Your money will be deposited instantaneously, and you will have immediate access to it in your checking account.

To sign up for this voluntary free program, look for the availability announcement from the Social Security Administration which will be mailed with your check. Then go to your bank and pick up Government Form SF1199. Fill in the top half of the form with information from your monthly benefit check or initial awards letter from Social Security, and bank information from one of your personalized pre-printed checks or deposit slips. The bank will complete the bottom half and send one copy of the form to you and one to the Social Security Administration.

It's that simple. If you are a Social Security recipient, why not join the 107,000 direct deposit participants in Georgia and Florida (where pilot programs were conducted last spring) and make your life a little easier?

some of the members of the family reunion visit Heritage Hall, she had promised to give some of them a showing. They were all having such a good time visiting one another that there was no time to break away from all of this love and fellowship. There were 62 in the group; ages 2 months to 92 years old. They had such a good time here, they voted to return here in 1976 for their reunion with Mrs. Barber's hot rolls to be on the menu again. Our thanks to Alice for the contribution to Hall County Heritage Hall. I first knew this family about 65 years ago.

Visiting from Lubbock this past week were Mrs. T. E. Bennett and son Rodney and Jeff. This family had lived in Odessa and San Antonio before moving to Lubbock. Mrs. Bennett was very much interested in the Dennis display in Heritage Hall as she was a Dennis clan before marriage. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Skelton of Denton and Georgia Beasley of McLean. Also visiting in Heritage Hall was Phil Walkup of Amarillo, who is with the Amarillo Globe News. He is a graduate of Amarillo High in 1968 and was a graduate of the University of Texas in 1974 in Journalism. He worked in the Iran Oil Fields during his off-time of his education.

P. A. Cowan had as his guests in Heritage Hall Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Cowan of Hurst and also Brenda Taylor of Kermit. Chas. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cowan and Brenda is their daughter.

Habit is a very peculiar thing with people. Dink Dennis had always gone east from downtown to her home of 29 years of life. She recently bought a home on North 10th street and she needs to drive West from the square and then north. Her brother stated that she was having a time changing over her directions. So I think her brother Hubert installed a compass in her car so she will not go east but west. If you hear Dink singing "Show me the way to go home" you will know the reason.

When you tell of an experience you have had it won't be long until someone will remember something to tell. I was at a coffee break a few days ago, where Clyde Smith and Don Curl were sitting, and if we could have kept them talking a while longer, we could have added another chapter to "Tall Tales From Texas." They were discussing the depression of "Dirty-Thirty Years." Don made the remark that he thought he would have made a good "Boy Scout", but he could not raise the 15 cents a month dues in the thirties. Clyde's report on this era was that the nearest he ever had meat in those years was "A frog in his throat!"

I still think of the quote I read from someone: "You cannot see as much in the little town as you can in the city, but you can hear a lot more!" I heard of one lady who thought her husband was talking too much and to loud in the yard so she turned the water hose on him to cut off his talk which it did for a time but from what I hear I think she had to give him the second soaking to get him cut off from talking too much.

Sounds like Clifford Irvin, the Howard Hughes book writer, has his business messed up talking bankruptcy with four hundred and ten dollars and 55 million liabilities.

In the celebrations of July 4, I found these quotes from four presidents:

"To believe all men honest would be folly, to believe no man is honest is something worse," John Quincy Adams.

"The sermon on the mount and the ten commandments contain my religion," James Madison.

"There never was a democracy that did not commit suicide," John Adams.

"Be courteous to all, but intimate with just a few—and let those few be well tried before you give them your confidence," George Washington.

The most attractive float on TV the 4th from my view was from Turkey, Texas, Hall County.

Dick Fowler was in Dallas last week attending the Christmas gift market.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Jones had visiting in their home, her niece, Mrs. Floyd Dyer of Chickasha, Okla., on Saturday, June 28, her nephew, Mr. Sammy L. Bradley of Pampa on Saturday, July 5, and Mr. and Mrs. Winston Jones and Sean, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Teal and Miss Karen Crisman, all of Lubbock, over the 4th of July weekend.

Local Golfers Go To Area Tourneys

Local golfers have been active the past two weekends, playing in area tournaments, either playing in partnerships or as individuals.

The most successful victory came the last weekend in June when Larry Parks and Joe Bob Browning teamed up to win the championship flight of the Childress Country Club partnership.

The Browning-Parks team posted a low-ball total of 64 on Saturday, and came back with 67 on Sunday, nine under par to tie for the lead with the team of Robert Mills and Kent Wood. Wood is a Texas Tech golfer. On the 19th hole in sudden death, Parks holed a 12-foot birdie put, and the Childress team failed to sink an eight footer.

Browning holed a five-foot par put on the 18th to get into the play-offs. "Browning's putter kept us alive in the final round," Parks said, while Browning tried to say that Parks was the one responsible. Actually, the team just played good partnership golf.

This past weekend, Browning played in the Hay Camp tournament and tied for second place in the championship flight. He lost out in the play-off and took third. Tony Pounds won the first flight at Hay Camp. Phillip Bray and Clinton Voyles were other local golfers competing at Hay Camp.

Larry Parks teamed with Don Ward of Shreveport, La., to play in the championship flight at Vernon C. C. partnership. They tied for consolation but lost in the play-off. Danny Scarborough teamed with Barry Smith of Quanah to play in the championship flight at Vernon.

Since 1902 when President McKinley was assassinated, the U. S. Secret Service has been charged with guarding the President.
