EDITORIAL

Taking A Look Here At Home!

August is about over, crops are in the fields, and for the most part, a good harvest is expected, despite the expensive planting season of May and June. Just how financially profitable or unprofitable the 1975 crop will be yet remains to be seen.

Inflation is coming home to roost in rural communities, areas which have been able to dodge some of the inflationary pressures of the past. This is seen in such indicators as food, gasoline, and other services. These cost as much here now as they do in larger cities in Texas.

School has started and the summer season is past now, jobs seem to be available to those who desire to work, especially in the agricultural industry. With the opening of school, many other activities and organizations, dormant in the summer months, swing into action.

Peoplepower seems to be in strong demand these days to do all the things that have been done in the past. Adult leaders are needed in our school organizations, church activities, civic and organization activities. Each year, it seems, there are fewer and fewer volunteers to take over the work.

Old hands who have done these jobs of raising funds for booster, band, and community activities have been retiring with each passing year, in each of our communities. We talked with a civic leader from Quanah recently who said that the Boy Scout Troop there is no more because there was no Scoutmaster. No one was interested enough in the youth to undertake that activity.

This is a sad state of affairs. Regardless of how much pressure economics brings to bear on our citizens, it is most important that adults continue to work and support the many fine programs which make life in communities like ours so much better than in other places.

So much has been done in our communities and area during the past decade and a half toward building the kind of home we would like to live in. A native of Memphis, Homer Tucker, who is working in Austin with a state agency concerning industrial growth in Texas, said last week that Memphians just don't realize what a fine place they have. He travels extensively throughout the state and fills out community reports as a portion of his job.

But just because much work has been done in the past, is no guarantee that a bright future is insured. Working toward securing new industry for this area must be a continuing affair. Even after money and long hours are spent promoting a community as a good home for industry, the rewards are sometimes slow in coming. The alternative, no work in this area, is almost assured to be a failure.

What is the value of all this civic work, work on youth activities, and all the other things that go on? The value will be measured in years to come. Our youth will grow up to be responsible adults, leaders in the community; our community will have a future by surviving, our churches, schools, hospital and business district will continue to grow and improvements will be evident to those who return.

A community is like a nation. It cannot survive if its citizens continue to take from it, without giving more than they take. If we want paved streets, lighting, public services, we must pay our taxes and charges. If we want good business stores, we must trade with them, support them whenever we can. They in turn support us. If we want good schools we must support them with our time and money.

If we want to have another outstanding Hall County Picnic the third weekend in September, we will all have to pitch in and do the work. The same is true with each and every activity.

Becoming discouraged is a trait the community spirit can not tolerate.

As a community, we have grown to expect our young people to give outstanding performance in their projects in sports, band, school work, and other activities. But as adults, we must set the example by maintaining the same high standards by our conduct at work and on community programs.

ABOUT THOSE AGGIES!

It's also hard for us to talk objectively about Texas A & M—especially with football season coming up. However, the Aggies have been getting a lot of credit, and rightfully so, for the many research projects they have been conducting.

Texas Monthly, in its August issue, heaps high the praise on the Aggies and says the university research may, indeed, save the world. The article cites the work of the Aggies in developing farm techniques and research which has produced high crop yields and individual vegetables unbelievable in size.

"They are making highways out of garbage and peanuts into milk . . . They are counting insects by computer . . . They are growing lettuce in moon soil, so as to be prepared when the first lunar farm gets underway," writer John Fallows says. "Under that farmland sky, amid the gentle zephyrs from the swineland and the music of marching Aggie band, there is a miracle underway that has nothing to do with beating the University of Texas in football. If the Family of Man ever has reason to thank our state, it will not be for the Astrodome or the chicken-fried steak, but for off-ridiculed, much maligned Texas A & M. The university best known for its shaved-headed, brown-shirted Corps and a massive inferiority complex is producing the innovations that will feed the hungry, clothe the poor, and not incidentally, enrich the people of Texas."

The article goes on to list the tons of research by A & M and of the various impressive departments of study in fields other than agriculture including medicine, oceanography, weather and aviation.

The writer also had much praise for a now resident of Plainview, Mr. J. Roy Quinby, and referred to him as "Mr. Grain Sorghum" for his outstanding contributions in the creation of hybrid sorghums. Grain sorghums had had trouble producing significant yields in the High Plains of Texas and the article says Texas farmers "had used catch-as-catch-can methods of selection" to find the right sorghum to grow.

"But it was only with the pioneering generation of sorghum breeders, led by Mr. Grain Sorghum himself, J. Roy Quinby of A & M (who later joined the Pioneer Hi-Bred Seed Company of Plainview where he is now Geneticist Emeritus) that sorghum production left the Stone Age and moved into the modern era of high technology . . ."

" . . . Quinby and his associates began the work that would lead them to the first great break through in sorghum production—the creation of a hybrid sorghum."

It's hard to brag on the Aggies, but it looks like they might be doing quite a bit in our behalf down there.

This Monday, September 1st, will be the Labor Day Holiday and all Memphis merchants will be closed for the entire day. We ask all area citizens to drive friendly during the holiday traffic weekend. Tuesday, Memphis merchants will resume business as usual.

The "Back to School Carnival" located in the Memphis City Park will end this Saturday evening. Again, we want to remind area shoppers and families that Memphis merchants will be having a sidewalk sale this Saturday and the carnival will operate each evening for the rest of the week until Saturday, August 30th. The carnival starts around 8:00 p.m. each evening and will close at 10:00 to 10:30 p.m. each evening. The Mother's Club will be selling Cokes and concessions at the carnival, and everyone is invited out for fun and rides for the entire family. Tickets for everyone on all rides are 50c each or 3 tickets for $1.00. The carnival is sponsored by the Memphis Chamber and funds from the week will be used for community development projects.

James Floyd, Chairman of the Hall Co. Picnic beard growing contest reports that shaving permits are going well and many county residents are sporting various styles of facial hair growth. The contest will be held in conjunction with the Hall Co. Picnic and awards will be presented to the "Best-Looking" and "Ugliest" beards in the categories of: full beard, partial beard, chin whiskers, and mustache. Shaving permits sell for $5.00 for those who shave and $1.00 for those who are sporting some type of a beard. Beard growing contestants must be Hall County citizens and have either a permit button or $1.00 entry fee. Out of town citizens who are former Hall County residents may purchase the attractive Hall County buttons from the Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 789, Memphis, Texas 79245.

Plans for the Cotton Boll State Enduro to be held the last weekend in October are already underway. Amarillo Track and Trail Sport Riders will again co-sponsor the enduro weekend in Memphis and trail routes are now in the planning stages. In the past two years we have been able to sponsor a fun filled weekend with many activities in conjunction with the Enduro. However, this year because our loss of membership from the highway business firms, we will be unable to finance as many activities as we would like to. We have made the Cotton Boll Enduro an annual activity for Memphis and Business Revenue from last year's enduro was estimated at $15 to $20,000 which was brought in and spent in Memphis during the Enduro weekend. Without the activities we will not attract the many families which are a direct result of the success of the Cotton Boll Enduro weekend for Memphis businessmen.

The following was written by Mrs. Hubert Dennis for the Memphis Chamber of Commerce for a historical highway brochure to be produced by the Texas Highway Department. Shoe Bar Ranch which is the Barbee place now was built of adobe by T. S. Bugbee in 1880 on Oak Creek north of Lakeview. The lumber used for this house was hauled here by wagons from Dodge City, Kansas. Wire for fencing was frayed from Wichita Falls, Texas in 1882. It was a meeting place for citizens of the whole county when the necessity arose.

A mass meeting was held here on May 4, 1890, at which time final plans were made to call an election for a decision on which town would be the county seat of Hall County. It was between Salisbury, Lakeview, and Memphis. The date for the election was set for June 17, 1890. Memphis won with 84 votes, Lakeview 43, and Salisbury 19 votes.

Old Rath Trail is unmarked and was laid out by Charles Rath in 1874 who had stone adobe walls. It was connected with trail from Albany Griffin to Texas City (Mottley Co.) entered Hare Co. at North Pease River, mouth of Wind River, to Ridge Springs, six miles north of county line across Red River at Fields Crossing which is now Parnell. It went by Shoe Bar Headquarters in Oak Creek, entered the Donley Co. line north then on to the adobe walls (Hutchinson Co.) and Dodge City, Kansas. George Henery's house was

Childress Hwy. Engineers Go To Waco Meet

CHILDRESS — District Engineer Lewis H. White and Assistant District Engineer George R. Wall have conducted an intensive three-day workshop in Waco on Texas' public transportation needs and technology.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation executives joined colleagues from districts with similar population density in the study. The workshops were planned in the light of the department's new role in transportation planning and implementation, which was given it when the act merging the former state highway department and mass transportation commission was signed into law in June.

The transit conference was conducted by the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI) of Texas A&M University which has conducted continuing education programs for department personnel for many years. TTI also works on joint research activities in transportation with the department.

The workshop attended by White and Wall included classroom work, a tour of Waco transportation facilities and discussions with the operators of the Waco system. The conferences provided them with up-to-minute information on technology available, an overview of federal programs, and data methods needed in transit planning and evaluation criteria.

TTI has conducted other workshops for department executives in the major Texas urban areas and in smaller urban areas. Another is scheduled for heads of major staff divisions in the main office in Austin.

Mrs. Elsie Hoover has returned home after spending the past two weeks in Mandfield Center, Conn., with her daughter and family, Major and Mrs. Bill Freestone, Jr., and sons, Billy and John. She was accompanied from Dallas by her daughter, Mrs. Niel Gower. They enjoyed spending some time on Cape Cod, and the islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket Sound in Mass.

They visited other points of interest: Sturbridge Village, Mass., Providence, R. I., Hartford, Conn. On the tour of Martha's Island they saw the complete location of where the movie "Jaws" was filmed.

Toll Calls Can Be Less Despite Rate Increase

A one-minute rate for all hours and all days, and special calling periods with up to 40 per cent savings over day time rates for customer dialed station-to-station long distance calls placed within Texas can help telephone customers save on toll calls even though all rates have been increased, according to L. L. Porter, traffic director for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Porter said the rates General Telephone charges customers for intrastate long distance calls were increased August 11 when Southwestern Bell placed new rates in effect. He explained that Bell operates most of the long distance facilities in Texas and establishes statewide rates.

"Even though all of the intrastate rates have increased, customers can save money by taking advantage of the new one-minute rate which is in effect at all times," Porter said. He explained that prior to August 11 intrastate calls were charged for minimum of three minutes plus charges for each additional minute except between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. when the one-minute rate was in effect. Under the one-minute rate, customers are charged for each minute or fraction of minute they talk.

He continued by saying the day rate in effect from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, is the highest dial it yourself rate in effect. However, he added, the day rate is reduced 30 per cent when the call is placed during the evening hours between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m., Sunday through Friday. In addition, the day rate is lowered 40 per cent for additional savings when the call is dialed by the customer under the night calling period in effect from 11 p.m. until 8 a.m., Monday through Friday, all hours on Saturday and until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Porter pointed out that rates for operator assisted calls have one rate regardless of the hour or day. Operator assisted calls include collect, credit card, third number billing, operator dialed station-to-station, time and charges and person-to-person.

LETTERS To The Editor

Dear Mr. Combs:

Some rumors about the Senior Drop-In Center, which could be harmful, are spreading. Some truths should be brought to light.

Certain people will not come out because they fear they will find dancing. So far, we haven't had any music! There are NO NO DANCING signs on the walls, and I doubt that there will be. However, I am of the opinion that dancing can be a form of showing gladness and happiness. Refer to JUDGES 11:34 — "Jephtha's daughter went out to meet him with timbrels and with dances." This passage of Scripture indicates to me a way of showing joy.

Others refuse to attend because the director is being paid a salary. They are also under the mistaken idea that the director is collecting one dollar for each signature on the register. THE REGISTER IS TO VERIFY ATTENDANCE ONLY.

The director is paid $2.10 per hour, which salary was publicly announced by the late Judge Loran Denton at the May monthly Fellowship Covered Dish Luncheon. He also announced that the Fellowship would be supported by the membership and the community. There is NO CHARGE for ANYTHING! However, we do not frown upon contributions — money, trading stamps, or anything else that we can use.

Yes, we have a coffee kitty, which is merely for the purpose of continuing serving coffee and tea. No charge. Yes, we had a kitty for the purpose of a stethoscope and pressure cup until, through the generosity of Mr. Dan Curl and the Administrative Staff of the Hall County Hospital we received one as a donation. That fund is still kept in the Health Project for future urinalyses and tuberculosis tests. It will not be used for any other purpose.

So, I invite Senior Citizens who hear adverse rumors to come out and see for themselves how much fun it is to have fun with other people. They might enjoy it more than they enjoy passing on detrimental stories!

Seriously, one of our eighty-year-old citizens, who either had not heard or did not believe the rumor, complained of a headache. She came to the Center for a blood pressure check-up. She learned that her blood pressure was dangerously high and was advised to visit her doctor. (She offered to pay for the service rendered at the Center, but was assured that it was free.)

Blood pressure is taken every Thursday starting at ten. Six qualified nurses, who volunteer their time, do the checking and keep the continuous records, with absolutely no charge to anyone.

Yours for a happy, cooperative citizenry of all ages.
Mrs. Merle Rodgers
Director

Dear Editor:

Once again it is nearly time for the Hall County Reunion, and I for one, can hardly wait. I was born in Memphis, the daughter of Audie McCool and Marcus E. Rawlins, and granddaughter of Rachel and Charles McCool, but I had not been there since 1955, shortly before the death of both my grandparents, until last year when I managed to make the reunion. Everyone responsible for this reunion surely deserves the greatest congratulations, because it was one of the finest occasions I have ever been my pleasure to attend. I was thrilled to meet relatives I did not even know I had. One of my biggest pleasures was meeting Byron Baldwin and going through the Heritage Hall. We are tireless workers here in Prescott to preserve the past, and our Sharlot Hall Museum is excellent, but the Heritage Hall ranks right up there with the best. You gained a subscriber, because I felt that I had to keep up with what was going on back there, and I am beginning to feel that I know a lot of people from reading about their activities. I really enjoy B. B. Shots, and read it first.

The only problem with our visit was one which cut it shorter than we planned, since I wanted to stay on after the week end was over and do some looking around. We travel in a twenty-seven foot Dodge Travco motorhome, completely self-contained. When we arrived, we were surprised to find that there was no place to park. We were finally sent to the City Park, which was an excellent place, but we felt a "little out of things." However, we managed very well there. The big problem was that no place was there a place to dump our holding tank. We were as conservative as we could be, but by Sunday afternoon, things had reached a point where we simply had to dump. After the barbecue we had to go north to Clarendon to dump, and since we planned to go back in that direction later, we simply kept on going. There are many recreational vehicles on the roads today, and many service stations have a place for them to dump. They charge $1.00, or no charge at all if something is dumped and we usually fill our tank at the same time, and usually takes between $30.00 worth of gas. I don't know how long it has been since last fill-up, that is a lot of business for the state if the customer only dumps one of these dumps. It required is enough money, and a water hose to wash down the RV, so I hope someone of these people spend a few days in certain areas, and someone like this. Word also through the RV industry there is a nice place to look around. This money spent in the money people buy propane line, souvenirs, etc.

Looking forward to seeing you again.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Campaigns for and against a new Texas constitution are getting off the ground. Proponents of the far-reaching revision to be voted on November 4 have opened an Austin headquarters under the direction of former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert and State Rep. Ronald Earle of Austin.

Opponents, for the time being led by State Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler, are setting up shop in an office building across the street.

First copies of a proposed voter's guide to the revision document were placed in the mail last week. They present complete text of the eight propositions to be voted on, with a comparison summary of the "old" and "new" constitutional provisions.

Acknowledged opposition has centered largely on the proposal for annual sessions of the legislature — a 140-day session during odd-numbered years and a 90-day meeting on even-numbered years.

House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, concerned over effect of the opposition, asked an attorney general's opinion on whether the short, even-year session could be limited by law or legislative rule to budgetary and emergency matters.

Their proposal immediately stirred strong disapproving comment from both proponents and opponents of revision, indicating, perhaps, a hot campaign during the next three months.

Ouster Rules Draw
A Senate committee approved rules for the impeachment trial by 31 senators of 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo September 3. Carrillo personally appeared at the committee hearing with his attorneys, Leon Jaworski, the former Watergate prosecutor, who will be special counsel to the Senate presiding officer, urged proceedings be conducted "on a high plane in strict accord with the rules."

The committee tentatively approved live broadcast news coverage of the trial and recommended a gag rule to restrict comments by senators on proceedings in which they sit as court and jury.

Carrillo subsequently has been indicted by a Jim Wells County grand jury. He already faced a September 8 trial date on an income tax case in federal court at Corpus Christi and an October 2 hearing by a Judicial Qualifications Commission matter in removal proceedings.

Allowable Wide Open Again
The Railroad Commission set the oil allowable for the 42nd straight month at 100 per cent of potential.

Commissioner Jim Langdon said a 15 per cent shortfall is expected in interstate gas pipelines this winter.

Any action by the federal government to take Texas gas reserves to make up for shortages in other states would amount to "a rape of Texas," Langdon commented.

"If it is a cold winter, and indications are that it will be, things are going to be pretty tough, gentlemen," Langdon told oil and gas company representatives at the Commission's meeting to set the allowable.

AG Opinions
A state representative who intentionally charges expenditures to the state in excess of the authorized amount is subject to prosecution under the penal code, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Teachers cannot be school board members in the same district which employs them.

Beginning September 1, judges must contribute six per cent of annual compensation paid by the state to their retirement fund, legislators eight per cent.

A motion for discovery rather than the Open Records Act is the appropriate means for access to information in a welfare recipient's case file concerning pending criminal charges against him.

There is no law authorizing Wharton County to cease operation of the county's Nightingale Hospital, other than by lease.

Texas Board of Dental Examiners may not require dental assistants to register with the Board and pay an annual fee nor permit employment of more than one dental hygienist per dentist.

A member of the board of commissioners of the Port of Houston Authority may also be a member of the Texas Amusement Machine Commission.

A board of regents may not compel a college faculty member or employee to take a leave of absence without pay while campaigning for public office in a school district, city or other local governmental district, but may require that for candidates for any other public office.

Information on inventories from grain warehouse reports of the Department of Agriculture is not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.

Appointments
Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Dr. June Hyer of Seabrook, Howard Richards of Beaumont and John Fanner of Houston to the economy - hunting Joint Advisory Committee on Government Operations.

Briscoe appointed James H. Keeshan of Montgomery as district attorney for the ninth district (Montgomery) Polk, San Jacinto and Weller counties), and K. Baker of Carthage as 123rd district Judge (Shelby and Panola counties).

The Governor picked Rudy Day of Dallas as chairman of the new Texas Committee on Indochinese Resettlement.

He reappointed Dr. Everett D. Wilson of Huntsville and Dr. John Mack Prescott of College Station to the State Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences.

Cedar Parr of Irving September 1 becomes associate commissioner for occupational education and technology.

Short Snorts
State Highway and Public Transportation Commission received $17.1 million in public transportation fund requests from San Antonio, Beaumont, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Lubbock and Amarillo.

State Board of Insurance approved a joint plan by Texas insurance companies for providing malpractice coverage to hospitals and doctors.

A legislative public health subcommittee recommended doctors to relinquish every five years to insure their keeping up with the times.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said 31 retail firms shut down for back sales taxes owe more than $1 million which will be recovered by the state and cities.

BYRON BALDWIN

We had eight of our local fire boys as visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week. Gene Sasser, Bobby Dick Hutcherson, Clyde Collins, Troy Phillips, C. H. Waller, Dwain Floyd and Billy Darrell Roden. They presented Heritage Hall the first siren that was bought for Memphis which was about 1920 and has an age of over one half century. They reported that we now have four new sirens that are located in different areas of the town. This makes the storm warnings available to everyone, regardless of the wind direction. We should be very proud and grateful for our fire department with good equipment and a fine group of young men in the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department, subject to 24 hour a day call. They look after a lot of us who are at home sound asleep, and they may have been up all night fighting a fire and keeping our insurance rate down. Thanks for their contribution to Heritage Hall. The first fire alarm I can remember was when the local citizens would get on the front porch and fire their shot guns into the air. There would be shot guns fired in all parts of town, as this was a neighborly deed, so neighbors and friends could get in the bucket brigade and pass the water in the old galvanized bucket. The next fire alarm that I remember here was the bell that was mounted by the frame building fire station on South 7th Street. We are very thankful that we have gone modern.

I noticed in the daily papers that a lady in Fort Worth really loved her fire-fighting boys at Station No. 8 as she gave them a check for $92,000 to buy a new truck just recently.

Records of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department show that on July 1, 1910, the year they organized, that a practice run was made to several plugs in East Memphis at 7 p.m. and the pressure was found to be very weak. Another practice run was made July 5, 1910, in southwest Memphis at 6 p.m., and the pressure was found to be good. These meetings were written up and signed by W. Lester Fore, Sec.

On February 8, 1911, there was a call meeting at 8 p.m. and the following names were added to the roll of Members of the Fire Department — Walter Crump, Frank Lock, Jet Fore, Haywood Montgomery, Will Bost, Walter Howell, P. M. Holland, Will Powell, Rufus Randal, Walter Nichols and Percy Ware. This meeting also was recorded by W. Lester Fore. The above items were copied from the first record of business of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department which was organized in June of 1910. Abraham Lincoln had a lot of fun at his first inauguration; he kissed 32 pretty girls during the inaugural parade. He was greeted by 32 pretty girls — one girl for each state in the union. He kissed each one, beard and all.

In reading about the quintuplets who were born to the young couple in Lewisville, Texas, I thought of that old quote, "It could be you." If this had happened to you 50 or 60 years ago, with 400 changes of diapers a week, and you had to hang out the week's washing of diapers, you would have to have a clothes line 900 feet long which would equal 3 city blocks; pin bag that would hold about 35 dozen clothes pins that would tire you down carrying that load around your neck. You would have to have strength in your fingers to snap and unsnap 12 hundred safety pins a week. All of this would add up to 20,800 diapers washed and hung out, and also, you would have snapped 62,400 safety pins. With all staring her in the face each day, she might want liberation after washing and scalding 7,300 baby bottles a year.

They must be running short on rich people in Italy that have children to kidnap. I noticed in the daily papers that they have started stealing high pedigreed horses to get ransom money. One of these horses that was kidnaped had won $3,000 and was valued at $8,000.

"The fellow who says he is too old to learn new things probably always was."

"A good way to keep cool is to work fast enough to keep and start a breeze."

As copied from "Spirit of America," "The inventive minds of Americans have created many wonderful things that have brought joy and gladness to the world. Ice cream soda, Eskimo Pie and the Popsicle. The Ferris wheel was invented by Geo. Washington Gale Ferris in 1883. Other great American invention were the calliope, cross word puzzle, the electric chair, the escalator, Graham crackers, Fig Newtons, lighting rod, malted milk, the outboard motor, ice cream cones, Coca Cola, potato chips, the rocking chair, the soda fountain, the steamboat, Ball point pins, railroad sleeping cars and hot dogs.

An usual item received from Roy Alvin Massey for display in connection with the Bi-centennial celebration. He bought this item in London in 1959. It is a copy of a continental forty-two shilling note issued by the colony of the Massachusetts Bay in 1775, after the formation of the Continental Congress. This copy was one of 25 printed from the original copy plate engraved by Paul Revere. The plate was sold by Magx Brothers of London in 1959 and before selling, they had a limited edition of 25 copies made from the plate. Thanks to Roy Alvin for the loan of this note for our display. He has some other items that he will have here for the Hall County picnic.

We received a clipping the past week from the "Alenda Times Star" from the social whirl section which had the picture of the "Girls of Yesterday," who were organized in 1965 and have performed in numerous cities throughout the Bay area and Valley. Recently this group received a letter informing them their project has been filed with the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in Washington, D. C. "The Girls of Yesterday" is a hobby for the women participating. Each member of the group has an extensive wardrobe of "Gay Ninety" costumes. They recently presented a program in San Francisco, Calif., for the Bank of America and for the Eastern Star chapter at the Blue Dolphia. In this group was one of our former Hall County girls, Katherine Frances (Milam) Toner, dressed in her buttons, bows, feathers and broad brim hat on one side of her head. In the picture shown, the group is all ready to present its program with the "Gay Nineties" songs. I wish we could afford the program here for our Hall County Picnic. Katherine Frances' husband, Frank Toner, is now vice president of urban affairs and loans working with SDA for the Bank of America.

We had a telephone call a few days ago from Betty Thompson with the Amarillo Globe News wanting special information on Hall County to be run in a special edition about the counties in this area. Tops Gilreath is working on this and if you have any special information or stories that happened in Hall County, get in touch with Tops Gilreath.

I had a short visit with Elizabeth (Grundy) Murry and Elizabeth Ricker. They had visited with Eileen (Herod) Montgomery who was the wife of the late Jot Montgomery. These Elizabeths had visited with Eileen in Illinois and reported that she was doing fine. Elizabeth (Montgomery) Ricker, the daughter of Scott, worked in the First National Bank in the 30's and 40's. She really liked a Coke any time of day; even if she had just drunk one, she could try another one. I have come to the conclusion that Cokes must be preservative, as Elizabeth is so well preserved for a 39-year-old. I am glad I had a part in this by buying her a Coke every now and then.

What appeared to me a few days ago in front of Branigan's store was a good demonstration of women's liberation as Elmont was taking a coffee break in the drug store. The ladies that were liberated were Flo Branigan, Gladys Power and Clarice Howard as they had the sponges and cloths cleaning the show windows while El-mont was taking it easy. I noticed in the daily papers that Mr. Kissinger's word, "negotiate", is now catching on with other people, as Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton had met in Switzerland and were negotiating on getting married again in Israel. If they will hurry up, they might get Mr. Kissinger to help them negotiate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry R. Lane, Jeffrey and Tammy have just returned from a two week vacation. Their sights included Eureka Springs, Ark. and the surrounding area. Lane also sang at a friend's wedding in Monet, Missouri.

Louisiana is the only state whose laws are not based on English common law.

Let Faith Be Your Guidepost At The Crossroads

"But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering, for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed."
 — James 1:6

Have you come to a fork in the road? Are you confronted with a major decision which you must make and make wisely, in order to travel the road of greater benefit to yourself and your loved ones? Each of us must at some time decide whether to move, to change jobs, to begin a new life in a different area, or some such question of far-reaching consequences. As others before you have done, let your faith in God give you the wisdom, strength and resolution to make the correct choice. Beginning this Sunday, go to your Church and trust Him to point your footsteps in the right direction for all concerned.
