Four polling places will be open for the Second Democratic Party Primary Election to be held Saturday, June 5, and one local race is the center of interest in Precinct No. 1 in Hall County.

NUMBER 5

The County Commissioner, Precinct No. 1 race is between Glenn Bruce, co-owner of Bruce Bros. Mobil and Floy E. (Chuck) Anthony, an employee of County Precinct No. 1. Both men are longtime citizens of the precinct.

In talking with the two candidates, both seeking their first elective office, they expressed interest in seeking a good voter turnout from the precinct. Both have been actively campaigning since the first of the year, and continued their efforts during the weeks following the first primary when the run-off race developed.

Also on the ballot, will be two state-wide races.

The race for Railroad Commissioner is between Jerry Sadler and Jon Newton. This race has had high public interest due primarily to the fact that the Railroad Commission controls companies which sells natural gas to consumers over the state, and natural gas prices have been soaring.

The race for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals-Unexpired term, has Carl Dally and W. T. Phillips in the run-off. The Amarillo Daily - News endorse Mr. Dally editorially Wednesday. He has served as a law professor and is highly respected. W. T. Phillips highly respected in the Wca area, graduate of Baylor University and has strong support in that portion of the state. The Railroad Commissioner race is between Jerry Sadler, who was defeated in his last bid for Land Commissioner and who has been in political life in Texas since the 1930s. Jon Newton is about half Mr. Sadlers age and a relative new - comer to the political scene. Absentee voting at the County Clerk's office has seen 102 voters participate. unusually high for a run-off election. Election Day, Saturday!

Citizens of Texas need to mark their calendars and take a little time out next Saturday, June 5, to vote in the Second Democratic Party Primary. There are several reasons why this election is important.

First of all, there is no election held in this free land of ours that is not important, regardless of how small or how lowly the office may be. Secondly, to those involved in a primary run-off election, there is no greater agony than to have to wait to see what the outcome will, be.

The most difficulty part of primary run-off elections is the historical fact that fewer voters will turn out. It's very disappointing to those involved in a run-off race when the returns come in and only a small percentage of voters took the "bother" to even go to vote. Most runoffs are close affairs to begin with, and the agony of thinking that if a few more voters had turned out the final results might have changed is a bitter pill to have to live with, but its a reality nevertheless.

So for these reasons, and many more, it behooves each and every voter to take time out to go vote on June 5. And go a step further, take someone else with you to the polls. Polls will be open during regular times Saturday in the four regular polling places in the county.

Don't be one of those indifferent citizens who realize Saturday night when voter returns are being given that you completely forgot about voting that day. Being diligent with one's duties of citizenship is one of the highest traits of personal character a free man or woman can possess.

THE ROLE OF ISSUES Jimmy Carter's rise to prominence has made an issue out of the role issues themselves should play in a presidential campaign, and forced many Democrats to question their assumption that it takes a programmatic liberal to win the party's nomination. The complaint from many Democratic liberals is not that Carter is a conservative, but that he has failed to run an issue - orinted campaign. Some Democratic leaders, including such people as George McGovern, worry that the temptation of victory is leading the party away from a discussion of issues the country needs to hear. Others want a winner so desperate-

In 1960, when strated that you were bright John Kennedy sought the nomination, critics charged that he was avoiding the issues, depending on personal appeal and vague promises to get the country moving again. In 1972, Sen. Muskie had to confront charges of "waffling" on the issues when he used the slogan "Trust Muskie" and sought to steer a careful course on the moderate Democratic course. In recent years, the most conspicious successes of the Carter - type approach have been at the congressional and

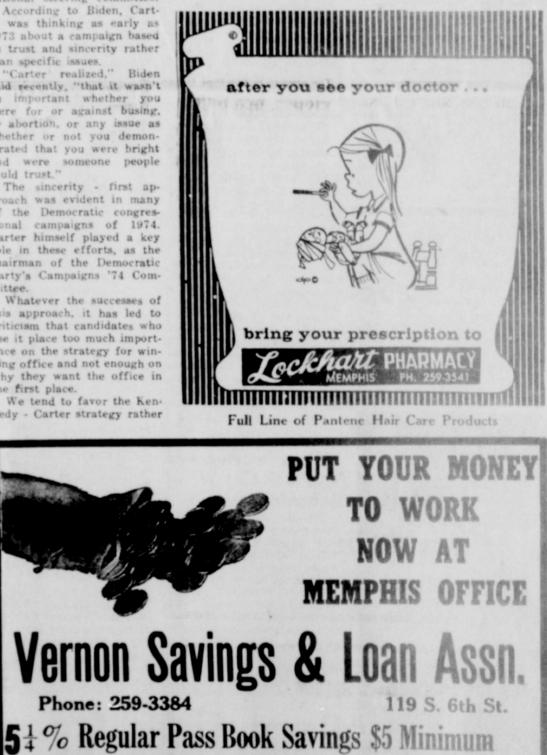

than the McGovern - Reagan strategy.

We are more concerned with a man's character, his sincerity, his moral principles, than we are his specific views on specific problems about which he knows too little from his seat on the outside. Almost every president who promised specific programs in advance of his election defaulted after he came face to face with the problems, seeing them from inside the White House. Eisenhower in particular made this mistake. He, is 1952, just like Reagan in 1976 had too many pat solutions to offer which were formed on the basis of too

Decision to hold a bond election, in which bonds not to exceed $15,000 would be sold to buy land for a municipal airport, was made at a called meeting of the city council of Memphis last Friday.

think issues give you a chance to articulate your intellectual capacity. Issues are a vehicle by which voters determine your honesty and candor." The similarity between the Biden and Carter campaigns is more than a coincidence. A few months after his election. Biden spent several days with Carter at the governor's mansion in Atlanta. Carter already was planning strategy for his presidential campaign, and Biden says the two men found a natural affinity in their political thinking. Biden is now chairman of Carter's national steering committee.

According to Biden, Carter was thinking as early as 1973 about a campaign based on trust and sincerity rather than specific issues.

"Carter realized," Biden said recently, "that it wasn't as important whether you were for or against busing, or abortion, or any issue as whether or not you demonand were someone people could trust." The sincerity - first approach was evident in many of the Democratic congressional campaigns of 1974. Carter himself played a key role in these efforts, as the chairman of the Democratic Party's Campaigns '74 Committee. Whatever the successes of this approach, it has led to criticism that candidates who use it place too much importance on the strategy for winning office and not enough on why they want the office in the first place.

placed by an expanded crop insurance program.

Naturally, if government was to decide that its role in agricultural disaster protection is no longer needed, the farmers themselves would carry the cost of extra crop insurance.

General Accounting Office made a study and issued a report which is being circulated in Washington on the subject which states: "the shift to insurance would shift most of the disaster protection cost from the taxpayers to primary beneficiaries-the producers.

Disaster payments in the two years 1974-75 mounted to almost $750 million on the eligible crops which are wheat, upland cotton, and the feed grains-corn, grain sorghum, and barley. Approved as part of the basic farm law of 1973, the program is authorized to run through the '77 crop year.

Farmers, themselves, are not pleased with the disaster provisions of the 1973 farm law due to the abrupt cutoff on payments eligibility, but at the same time farmers need some type of help against the cruel elements of floods, hails, drouths, etc.

It also is an irritation how that every time some government study comes out on farm assistance programs it always makes a statement referring to 'cost to the taxpayers" and farmers as "beneficiaries". Now, are not farmers taxpayers as well? We're willing to bet the farmers in this country paid in far more than $750 million in tax money to the public treasury.

We've said it before . . . farming at today's prices has grown into the biggest gamble of any industry. Let a two-year drouth strike the bread-basket of this nation and the American taxpayers will be praying for relief. As a nation, our agriculture is the most important industry we have. Some would like to ignor this fact.

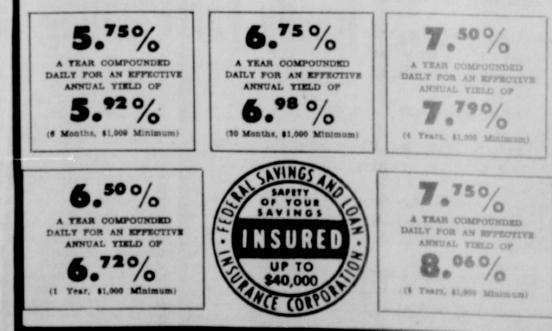

state level. Many of the upset victories of 1972 and 1974 were won with a style similar to Carter's - a lot of emphasis on personality and character, and only a little discussion on specific issues. Perhaps the most significant one was Joe Biden of Delaware who emerged from obscurity in 1972 to win a U. S. Senate seat against incumbent Republican J. Caleb Boggs. Like Carter, Biden concentrated on telling voters they could trust him. "I don't think issues mean a great deal about whether you win or lose," Biden said shortly after his election. "I

She told the folks in Estelline that she was coming back with something that Estelline and Hall County had not seen yet and that was an Olympic gold medal. Cherri, a former three-time Wayland Baptist All American, was one of the 15 girls selected to represent the United States first Olympic women's basketball team ever. Her selection to the team was no surprise considering her international playing credentialscaptain of the U.S. Women's team which won a silver medal at the World University games in Moscow in 1973, member of the U.S. team which won a silver medal at the Pan - American games in Columbia in 1973. She toured Central and South America with U. S. teams in 1969, 1970 and 1971. She was captain of the U.S. team which hosted Russia in a 6 game tour. She was captain of the U. S. team which won the gold medal at the 1975 Pan American games in Mexico City

This past year she traveled with the U.S. team to Columbia, Taiwan and Japan. She quoted, "We definitely have a shot at the gold medalbut first we have to qualify." The final two qualifiers will be selected in late June at the Olympics pre - tourney at Ontario, Canada, Cherri, when not on the court, is a er of the U pic Committee for Women's Basketball. When the Olympics are over, Cherri will begin her coaching career at North Texas State where she will double as the women's basketball and tennis coach. She has been offered similar jobs from schools ranging from Indiana to California, but chose North Texas because these parts are her stomping grounds. Cherri began her career at Estelline High School where she was All-District for four years and scored 55 points in a game. While at Estelline, she and her younger sister, Anne, combined to win 3 straight Class B State Doubles crown in tennis. After high school, Cherri enrolled in Wayland College at Plainview and in 1972 graduated as number 1 in her class. She was a member of the Flying Queens basketball team at Wayland which won the national championship of the AA1 in 1970 and 1971. She gives a lot of credit to her coaches for her success, George Goodson in junior high, Jimmy Don Adams in high school and Harley Redin at Wayland Baptist College. Cherri's daily workouts now are early rise and a jog of 10 miles and a three-hour workout in the gym. She has a lot of faith in the U.S. team if they only had a 7-foot, 2 inch center as Russia has against our 6ft. 3 inch center. Anyway, if they all have the spirit that Cherri has, we will welcome them home with a "Gold Medal." The next ones entering the Olympics from this family (I would guess) would be Anne in tennis and Jan in golf. Our congratulations to this family where we will be looking for winners from Hall County! We are proud of Hal! County kids who have been outstanding in their pursuits of life. We will be looking forward to a special "Rapp Day" when they come marching home with the Gold Medals.

We received a check the past week from Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fisher of Spencer, Okla., as a memorial to Mrs. Ottie Jones who recently passed away. Mrs. Fisher will be remembered as Louise Gowan daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gowan, She is also the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McElreath who were pioneer settlers in Hall County.

An article written by Dorthie Brown in the daily news on "Down on the Feather Farm" was very interesting on the Ostriches which are our fine feathered friends in South Africia. They weighed to 300 pounds, can run 40 miles per hour and kick like mules. Down on the Ostrich farm, they are content to graze on alfalfa, hiss a lot and grow boas for Zsa Zasa, plumes for show girls and feather dusters for the world. Mr. Alec Hooper who managed the Hooper farm and whose family has been in the feather business over 100 years says they have about 1,000 of the large birds. This is the world capital of feather farming as there are about 90,000 domesticated birds in this valley. The feather business had its ups and dowrs

With the Rev. Medvin Hooten moving here and serving as pastor of the Firsht Baptist Church brought back many memories. Melvin is the 24th pastor of this church since it was organized in 1890 by the Rev. J. W. Brice who was the first pastor. He organized several churches in this area. In checking the church history, we found some difference in money values as of today. The pastor's salary grew from $162 .-50 a year in 1891 to $1,000 a year in 1905. On April 2, 1898, in conference, it was reported that the First Baptist Church of El Paso had appealed to this church for a donation of $1. The dollar was collected and the church clerk mailed the check to the El Paso church. People

FIRST STATE BANK

The family farm could become a vanished specie if revisions in federal and state estate tax laws aren't made soon.

Outdated estate tax exemptions and an Internal Revenue Service provision which forces settlement of estate taxes within nine months after death are forcing hundreds of family farms out of existence.

Estate tax reform has become a prime issue on Capitol Hill, and a bill before Congress would raise the personal exemption to levels more realistic for today's farm valuations.

There are two basic courses a farm family can take: 1) form a corporation and distribute shares to the children ahead of time; 2) form a legal partnership which will guarantee that half of the farm belongs to the wife.

One thing a farm wife can do to help overcome estate tax problems is to document her contributions to capitalization of the farm so that she has proof that she helped operate and finance the business and was a true business partner.

Why lose what you have worked so hard to accumulate, when a little time and effort toward estate planning, will save much of your investment.

Work to Begin Robert Butlers On U.S. Highway Elected Members 287 in July of Angus Assn.

CHILDRES - Work will begin in mid July on the thermoplastic edge line striping contract awarded recently to Prismo University Corporation of Rockville, Maryland, announced Lewis H. White, district engineer for the Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT).

The striping is scheduled for sections of U.S. Highway 287 in Donley, Hall, Childress, and Hardeman Counties, and U. S. Highway 82 in Dickens County.

Highway safety for motorists in the work area was a major topic of discussion at the preconstruction conference held Thursday, May 27, 1976, in Childress at the District Office between representatives of the DHT, Contractor, and Department of Public Safety.

Work is expected to be completed by September 1, 1976, if weather conditions are favorable.

The 4-inch stripe is hotsprayed on the pavement at approximately 400 degrees F and offers a long lasting. highly reflective, and economical edge line stripe. The striping machine travels at approximately 7 miles per hour when applying the stripe.

The work will be supervised by Vance L. Castleberry, supervising resident engineer.

In discussing the case, Jim Talbot, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office stated, "Medicare dollars are valuable and we who are involved in administering the Medicare program want to protect the money contributed to the program by taxpay-ers and beneficiaries." "When Medicare pays for services rendered to Medicare beneficiaries, it sends an account-

Hiway Contracts Let To Work On Area Roads

CHILDRESS - Highway construction contracts let in April by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission include work in Donley, Hall, Childress, Hardemar, and Dickens Counties.

A contract was awarded to Prismo Universal Corporation of Rockville, Maryland, for placing approximately 118 miles of 4-inch thermoplastic edge line striping. Low bid was $150,197.06.

"Thermoplastic edge line striping is more durable than paint," said Lewis White, district engineer. "It should last five years, at least, where a painted stripe will normally last only a year."

White pointed out that the thermoplastic stripe is a real savings. "The initial cost is about three times that of paint, but it lasts about five times as long.

The highly reflective yellow and white thermoplastic edge line, which is sprayed on hot, offers added safety for highway users, especially at night and in inclement weather.

The project includes striping on sections of U.S. Highway 287 from the Armstrong County Line, west of Clarendon to the Wilbarger County Line, east of Chillicothe. The remainder of the work is on U. S. Highway 82 through Dickens County.

The work will be supervised by Vance L. Castleberry, supervising resident engineer, in Childress, and should be completed in 50 working days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce, Elizabeth Dabney and Reginia and Marty Crone were dinner guests in the Charles Waller home Sunday night.
