PRESENT DAY MYTHS
by: JOE TOWNSEND

There is no more sick nor destructive idea than that the government owes anyone anything in a material way. Almost every segment of society feels the Government should give them something. Free meals, free food stamps, free transportation, free housing, free fuel, money for new buildings of all types, money for recreation facilities, money for paving and on - and - on - and - on. We live in a wild realm of fantasy where we think the Government can continue to act as a doting Santa Claus and "Give away" what any group wants or demands or what bureaucrats and politicians can hand out to maintain power and buy votes. If I walked into an office where pay checks were being made out and pulled a gun and made the company take money out of every paycheck and give it to me so I could give away as I chose, I would be sent to the penitentiary. However, a group of men (congressmen, legislators, city councils, commissioners courts, regulatory agencies) can get together and write up a paper and take money from anyone anyway they choose and it is legal. Being legal by no means makes it right, it just puts it beyond prosecution. There is no way one can claim to be Morally right by taking from one who works for and earns something and giving it to another. Even the "do gooders" can't approve of Robin Hood. Were I at gunpoint to take some money from another and pass it out to my friends who knew it was so taken, they too could be sent to the penitentiary for receiving stolen property. Bureaucrats and politicians doing this doesn't clear the skirts of the recipients it just puts them beyond prosecution. After all the "Government" is the people. It has no money to give away, it simply takes from one to give to another. For all its legality, it is still morally and logically wrong. The Government owes no segment of society anything other than protection and the maintenance of an orderly society.

TRAVELING AVIATION EXHIBIT STOPS
AT BRACKETT HIGH

By: NOCONA BREEN

Thursday, October 20, the Brackett High School student body had a special treat; they were able to experience the sensation of flight. The van that the Navy brought was an exact replica of a Navy transport plane. Petty Officer Second Class David H. Garcia, said that the van was an effort by the Navy to expose students to the career opportunities available in Naval Aviation. Garcia's assistant Lynn Dockey, CO2 has traveled all over the United States showing the exhibit to high school students. In the words of BHS freshman, Bill Fergesun, "It was an unusual experience."

FRIENDS AND OLIGISTS

FRIENDS

This past week, when Judy was hospitalized in San Antonio, countless people contacted us offering to help in any way they could. Many of these people were merely speaking acquaintances. It is a wonderful feeling to know that you have so many friends in a time of crisis.

Our special thanks to "Frenchie" and Jo Breaux, Rose Mary Slubar, and Wanda Schwandner, for seeing that last week's issue of the Cavalryman went to press. Also, to our friends, Kathy and Derwin King in San Antonio, for taking care of Crystal and putting up with me for over a week. To Marty Meirs for helping my Mother, and to my Mother for "holding the Fort down".

Thanks again to everyone from Judy, Crystal, and Myself. You made our day a lot brighter!!

OLIGISTS

Being around a hospital is never humerous, but one observation proved to inspire a humerous thought It seems that a lot of Doctors now have to hang the letters OLIGIST behind an obscure title to describe their specialty. I haven't decided if this is to confuse the public or increase their fees, (I have a feelin- it is the latter). LO AND BEHOLD THE DAYS OF THE PLAIN OLD "DOC" SEEM TO HAVE FADED INTO THE PAST!

For the uninformed, such as myself, I have prepared a list of some of these OLIGISTS that I suggest you clip and save. In fact, it may be a good idea if you clip the following list out and either #1, attach it to your insurance policy, or #2, glue it to the inside of the suitcase you plan to take to the hospital!

Anesthesioligist: Knock-out specialist

Proctologist:

Anesthesioligist: Knock-out specialist

Proctologist: He works on your bottom

Dermatologist: Skin Specialist

Endocrologist: Gland Doctor

Gastroenferologist: Stomach doctor

(That's enough to make it hurt)

Gynecologist: Women's Disease

Hematoligist: Blood Doctor
Nephroligist: Kidney Doctor
Ophthalmologist: Eye Doctor
Ofolaryngologist: Ear, Nose and Throat Doctor

Radioligist: X-Ray (Don't ask him to fix your radio)

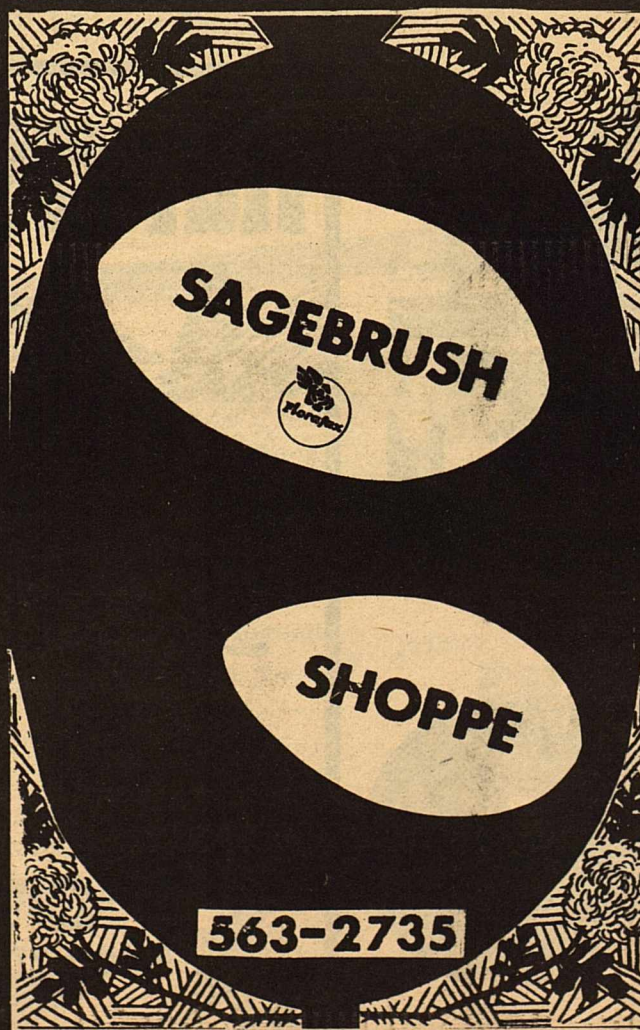

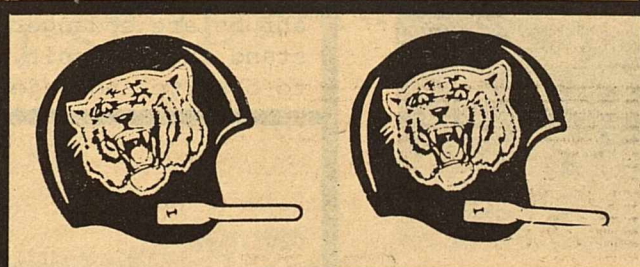

The poor Pediatrician (Baby Doctor) must really feel left out of this elite group.

I began to wonder what if the none Medical people decided to adopt this OLIGIST title policy??

THERE ARE LIMITLESS POSSIBILITIES, SUCH AS:

- Clipoligist: A barber
- Greaseoligist: Mechanic
- Canoligist: Jailer
- Cowoligist: Cowboy
- Gruboligist: Grocer
- Hasholighist: Cook
- Hammeroligist: Carpenter
- Bulloligist: Politician
- Journalogist: Newspaperman.

Gee! I wonder if this would increase our incomes too?

Between Us

by: JOE TOWNSEND

There are always some people who feel duty bound to run other folks lives for them. They somehow feel they know more about what others should do. They feel they need to play God and force others to do as they want them to do. They overlook the fact that God never trespasses on the mind of man to force him to do anything. He well might punish man for doing wrong, but he allows him the privelege of doing it. It is not enough for people to have to cope with little people in places of authority who want to show their littleness by trying to be big, there are many times when uninvolved people try to get involved. These people who interfere in the lives and affairs of others need to take a lesson from a fish in one of my aquariums. He never bothers another nor becomes involved in anyway. You can peck on the glass and he never moves. He takes care of himself and lets others do likewise. He has learned to live and let live.

RETAMA GARDEN CLUB

The October visit of the Retama Garden Club to the Amistad National Park North of Del Rio, was an experience enjoyed by all the members. The Park is located in a beautiful scenic setting overlooking Amistad Lake on the Lake's East Border. Mr. E. C. Lehnert is Park Superintendant. The guide for the group was a most interesting and knowledgeable young woman, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Armijo, Park Technician and Naturalist.

Beginning with an explanation of the terrain, she told the group how this land was once a small ocean or inland sea, and pointed out fossil rocks there which may also be found in spots all through this part of the country.

Next the group followed a trail past many types of native cactus, shrubs, and native fall flowers. It was interesting to learn the many uses the Indians made of these plants for food, medicine, clothing, and dyes. Many people are aware of the Prickly Pear's uses for food and cosmetics, but some of the uses of our well-known Texas Sage (Cenizia) are: browse for goats, sheep, and deer; as a treatment for chills and fever (by Indians); a tea; and as a source of Vitamin C. Our common use in yards and flower gardens is as a hedge and an ornamental plant. The Indians used most of the desert plants for food, cloth, rope, soap, and medicines.

Amistad Park personnel work constantly to preserve the plants of our ecological environment. Many plants and ahrubs are endangered. All of the public needs to understand the necessity of saving these for future generations to observe and enjoy.

"FIGHTING TIGERS"

BRACKETT RISES TO THE OCCASION BY PAT O'ROURKE

The Brackett Tigers came out on top of a hard fought football game by beating the Dilley Wolves 14-0. The first Tiger score came in the first quarter when quarterback Tony Samaniego threw a screen pass to Moses Benites who raced 25 yards for the touchdown. The extra point was kicked by Tony Samaniego

A strong Dilley defense kept the Tigers from mounting a strong ground and air attack, but the Tigers were still able to pull out a 14-0 win.

The second score came on an 80 yard run by Moses Benites in the 4th quarter. The extra point was again kicked by Samaniego.

The Dilley Wolves' farthest penetration was to the Brackett 19 yard line. The scoring threat was stopped when Dilley had to give the ball up on downs.

The Tiger defense was led by Happy Cervantez who had two interceptions.

The Tigers have an open date this week.

IS THERE LIFE AFTER HIGH SCHOOL?

BY: JOE SWEET

Sure there is! Brackett High School graduates have several opportunities. They can go to college, trade school, join the military, or work. The college bound individual will discover that college can bring him in contact with many interesting students and staff members as well as prepare for a career. Each student should select a college which fits his interests. He should find the things he values, such as a strong educational program which will help in his career, an atmosphere that can help him grow as an individual, and the opportunity to make good friends.

In preparing for college a student will need an acceptable high school transcript, or GED scores. He will also need ACT or SAT test scores. Evidence of the following immunization is required by state law: diphtheria-tetanus, polio, if under the age of 19, and a complete health card and physical.

Making an early decision about which school to attend will assure that a student takes all of the high school courses required for admission and that he maintains the necessary grade point average for admission.

Making an early decision about which school to attend will assure that a student takes all of the high schools course required for admission and that he maintains the necessary grade point average for admittance. Making an appointment to talk with Mr. Schermerhorn, our counselor, will help a student plan ahead wisely for college.

Yes, there is life after high school; graduation is only the beginning.

TEACHER'S MEETING

BY: NOCONA BREEN

Monday, October 24, the Brackett School teachers went to school. Three hundred teachers from around the district attended an in-service training program in La Pryor, Texas. Thirteen school districts were represented at the workshop. Topics ranged from Early Childhood Education, to Vocational Agriculture.

Two of Brackettville's teachers presented programs. Mrs. Helen Huebner, Junior High English teacher, presented a language arts program and Mrs. Angelica Meeks, BOSD Kindergarden teacher, presented the early childhood program. Our system is honored that these teachers were selected to present their ideas and methods to other teachers.

Only the Newspaper

Worth remembering: "An informed public depends on accurate and effective reporting by the news media. No individual can obtain for himself the information needed for the intelligent discharge of his political responsibilities . . . The press therefore acts as an agent of the public at large." — Justice Lewis Powell Jr., U.S. Supreme Court.

COLLEGE DAYS

Mr. Schermerhorn, Brackett High School Counselor took 32 seniors to Hondo Tuesday for College Days. Representatives from over 20 colleges and universities prepared exhibits for the students. Seniors from several area high schools attended the event. The students could question recruiters about tuition, courses, campus activities, scholarships, and entrance requirements.

Each senior came home with an arm load of free materials and new ideas about college. Most found the day helpful in making after graduation plans.

PRACTICE BEGINS

BY: CATHY WAGNON

Monday, October 17, Brackett High School Girl's Basketball practice began in earnest. The Tigerettes are practicing every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, during football season. Daily practices will begin the week after football season ends.

Coach Ormsby is pleased with the number of girls who have come out for the team. The girls are working hard and are improving their basketball skills.

This season the Tigerettes will be wearing new uniforms and new warm-ups. The first game is on November 28 when the Tigerettes take on Eagle Pass at 6:00 p.m. in the Brackett High School Gym.

FUN-FILLED POWDER PUFF GAME

BY: ART TERRAZAS — DEBRA LONGORIA

A Fun Filled Powder Puff game sponsored by the Brackett High School student council was played last Friday, October 28th, at Tiger Stadium. If you weren't there, you should have been. The game was hilarious and the cheerleaders were outrageous. The Senior and Freshman Saints played against the Junior and Sophomore Bunnies. The Saints were coached by Moses Benites and Mario Fuentes. Bunny coaches were Lupe Flores and Daniel Samaniego.

The coaches thought it was the strangest game of football ever played. They either had too few players on the field at one time or too many; and none of them knew how to line up. On top of that, the referees, Mrs. Bader, Mrs. Burks, Mrs. Simmonds, and Mrs. Hall didn't always know when to blow their whistles. Trying to kick off from the 45 yard line was the least of Coach Flores' troubles; his team won the toss and thought that they had to kick to the Saints.

The comedy of errors did not stop with the game. Half time entertainment looked like a reject from the Gong Show. Pom Pom boys fromed a chorus line and did a routine to Fire Cracker Fire Cracker Boom, Boom, Boom. A definite O. Twirlers, Kevin Kaplan and David Cruz also participated in the half time fiasco. It was good entertainment and good fun, even if the final score was Saints 3-, Bunnies 12.
