COMMISSIONERS' COURT

NOW KINNEY COUNTY HAS AN ATTORNEY

The special meeting was called for the discussion of the KC Library problem with it's attorney, Haygood Gulley, of Del Rio, just where Kinney County stood in the legal responsibilities were.

According to Gulley the county would profit by re-hiring the Myers Construction of Uvalde.

Myers state that $24,000 and 90 working days he could have a complete Library building.

The specified that if Myers was awarded the contract once again a man would be hired by the Commissioners to supervise the project. This providing protection for both the County and Myers. Daily reports would be made as to the exact material that was used in the Library and manpower required.

Soil Conservation

by: Howard Ragsdale

RESULTS OF KLEINGRASS STUDY RELEASED

Livestock producers should exercise care when running sheep and goats on 'Selection 75' Kleingrass.

A recent study conducted by the Soil Conservation Service showed that 3.2 percent of the sheep and 0.5 percent of the goats that grazed Kleingrass from 1973 to 1977 were affected by swellhead. There is yet no clinical proof that the Kleingrass caused the swellhead but there is enough evidence to indicate a link between the two.

The survey revealed that during the five year period, 76,056 sheep in Texas grazed 116,000 acres of kleingrass. Of these, 2,440 contracted swellhead and 1.2 percent or 973 animals died. Weaned lambs and suckling lambs appeared to be the most susceptible.

During the same 5 year period 28,031 goats grazed Kleingrass 142 were affected and 92 died. Again, weaned kids and suckling kids were most susceptible.

According to the study, swellhead has occurred from March to November. It occurred most often in July and August during or after periods of plant stress. There is also some indication that it may occur more frequently following thundershowers during dry periods. Additional data needs to be obtained to confirm this relationship.

Although the occurrence of swellhead and the resulting death losses have been low compared to the total number of animals and acres of Kleingrass grazed, death losses have been very significant on some ranches.

The study revealed that 384 livestock producers grazed Kleingrass with sheep and/or goats from 1973 to 1977; 79 producers had one or more cases of swellhead. Eight producers had 57.6 percent of the death losses; these occurred in Coleman, Concho, McCulloch, Runnels, Tom Green and Val Verde counties.

Some 620,000 acres of Kleingrass were growing in Texas at the end of 1977 and produced about $11 million in economic returns. The grass is planted mostly for cattle but 97 percent is grazed by mixed herds of livestock.

Ranchers who graze the grass with sheep and goats should watch them closely, especially during dry periods. Affected animals should be removed immediately, placed in the shade and given food and water. Taken soon enough, these precautions should hold death losses to a minimum.

Work on the sidewalk had been held-up due to the bad weather that we have been having. But since the weather cleared up Wednesday morning it was time to go back to work. If was alot of work but the boys enjoyed working at learning more skills that will help them in their life time.

FINANCIAL COLLEGE PROBLEMS

By: Angelica Hernandez

Financial aid is not just for the poor, the star athlete, or the valedictorian. Rather, it is based on need, which is simply the difference between the estimated cost of an education and the amount students and their parents can contribute toward the total cost.

Financial officers usually makes up individual aid "packages" in order to help as many qualified students as possible.

Financial aid packages consist of campus employment, college-sponsored loans, and scholarships and grants.

The various types of aid in a package are: On-Campus Employment, College Work study Program, Summer jobs, Loans, grants and Scholarships, Merit Programs, and Special Categories.

Students may get information by applying to the Scholarship Search (1775 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10019). They may also get information from the College Broad's new College Service Information Bank, 2500 North River Road, Manchester, New Hampshire 03104.

BISD SELF STUDY UNDERWAY

Schools have to maintain certain standards to be accredited by the Texas Education Association. (TEA) In the past a committee would come to a school and observe activities, teachers, and check records. If the school was in compliance with TEA regulations, the school was accredited. Sometimes schools were put on probation or not accredited based on the committee's report.

The state is now in the midst of a five year school evaluation program. Each school established goals which will fill the needs of its students. These goals must parallel the state goals. In the first year of the program, the school established educational goals. This year, the teachers, students and community are involved in a self study process. Committees have been formed to gather information and opinions which will help to evaluate the school's programs and find ways to meet the goals.

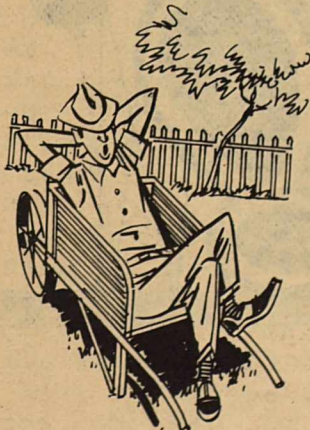

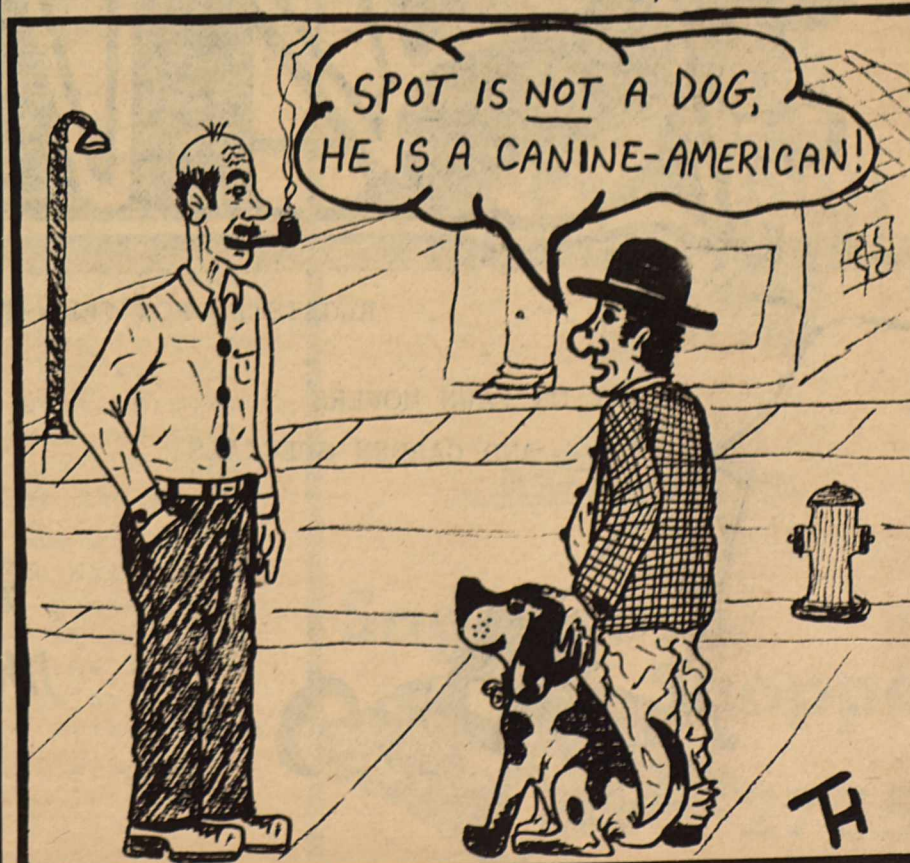

Mr. Schermerhorn met with a group of students last week to discuss school curriculum. Students were free to voice their opinions about their subjects and teachers. Most of these students felt that their course were necessary and that education was important.

This past Tuesday, February 20, the teachers met with Superintendent' Marion Wills. Mr. Wills explained the five year program and made several committee appointments.

GREEN THUMBS

by; Joe Townsend

It is tree planting time. This year will see a short supply of trees. Because of the prolonged wet weather, trees could not be dug. Now that warm weather has come to the trees are budding out so fast it will soon be too late to dig. If you intend to plant trees, shade or fruit you should do it soon.

Be sure to choose a variety of peach, apricot, or plum that will produce in this area. Many will make only shade trees. It's best to plant shade trees that are acimated to the area.

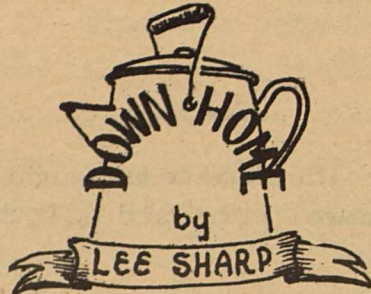

There's no use in buying trouble by trying to force a tree to live here that would be more at home on the coast or in the mountains. There are many that will do well here. Why not use them? There are no bargains in trees. You'll

BETWEEN US

By: JOE TOWNSEND

The 55 mph speed limit becomes regularly more a joke and travesty. When any law is shoved down the throats of people by blackmail, as this law is people will scoff at it and disregard it. For any bureaucrat to say America is saving gas because people drive fifty five miles an hour is a monumental testimony to his lack of integrity. Driving 55 at times puts one in danger because the other traffic is so much faster---Recently I came out of Castroville and a local police car passed me going above 70 mph. He was going to Hondo--no emergency--not "hot Pursuit", just a police officer violating the speed law. It is common knowledge that Del Rio Police Officers on their way to school in Uvalde pay no heed to the speed limit. The same day the Castroville officer passed me I was passed by a Highway Patrol officer this side of Uvalde. He was driving above 65 mph--no emergency--no "hot pursuit" just the same excuse for disregard of the limit any driver would have. The same day a Department of Wild Life Car with two game wardens in it passed me going just over sixty miles per hour, no emergency no "hot Pursuit", no call just coming to Brackettville and maybe late for lunch. I would find not criticism of these men if I did not know how many people pay so much money into our county coffers for doing the same thing. It's mockery of the law when law enforcement officers disregard the speed limit with impunity and others are milked of thousands of dollars a month because they are caught by law enforcement officers violating an unreasonable law.

turn onto well floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Roll out into 9 X 12" rectangle brush with 2 tablespoon melted butter and sprinkle sweetened blackberries evenly over dough. Roll like jelly roll onto buttered baking sheet. Shape into circle and seal edges together. Every 2 1/2" cut deep into dough with scissors. Brush with remaining butter,
