SHERIFF'S CORNER

By Norman H. Hooten

Coach Dee Dee Bowers and the BHS Girls Basketball Team deserve a special congratulations for an outstanding season. They ended the season with a 28-1 record. This is outstanding. They played good ball throughout the year.

I would like to relate, to the girls, an incident that happened in my first grade year. I was six years old and had started First Grade in San Saba, Texas. There was a school bully a couple of years older than I and a lot bigger. He singled me out for his special favors and would follow me home daily, taunting and bullying me. Naturally, I was intimidated by him and my life was miserable. I came to the point where I dreaded going to school.

One day he caught me near my grandmother's home, where I was living. He jumped on me and threw me to the ground and was roughing me up pretty good. I lay there on the gound, frightened and ashamed. My grandmother came to me, lifted me up and took me to the old rock fence that surrounded her house. She sat down with me and put her arm around me and hugged me up close and told me something I have never forgotten.

She said, "Son, there is no disgrace in getting knocked down, there is no disgrace in losing. The disgrace is in lying there while you have the streghth to rise and try again.."

That impressed me enough that from that day on, I resisted the bully. After a few days of me fighting back, even though I was not winning, he decided to find easier pickings, and left me alone.

My grandmother, I am sure, meant forme to apply that theory to all things in life. I have tried to do that and when things look their darkest, I repeat that old saying to myself.

THANK YOU

My wife and I would like thank everyone who helped with and attended our wedding, and for the beautiful gifts you havesam ful gifts you have sent.

/s/ Mr. & Mrs. Bernie Cerventes

There is no disgrace to fall on your face,
There is no disgrace in losing,

The disgrace is in lying there while there is strength to rise and try again.

I have shared this experience of my life with you to remind the girls that they suffered no disgrace in losing. They fought back and played hard. They never stopped trying, even when it was evident that they could not win. The girls showed exceptionally good sportsmanship and courage. This reflects the high standards of the girls, and the coaches and teachers of Brackettville High School. The citizens of our community should be proud of the way they handled themselves, especially in defeat. The true measure of a person will come forward in defeat. Our girls passed this test with flying colors. It was heartwarming to watch the courage and determination with which they played, right up to the final buzzer of the game.

Emotions were high for the play off game and I would also like to commend the fans and supporters that attended the game on their control and sportsmanship. I am pretty proud of Brackettville and Kinney County.

I am also proud of our girls. CONGRATULATIONS to Coach Bowers and the Tigerette Basketball Team!!!

DAN COOK C OF C SPEAKER

The Brackettville Chamber of Commerce will have their Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet Saturday, March 5th beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center. The guest speaker will be Dan Cook of KENS-TV.

Dan's reporting career started in an unusual way. While a student at the University of Houston he wrote an article for the student newspaper about the sports editor of the Houston Post. The article was not favorable and the editor called him to complain. "I don't like what you wrote," the editor told Dan, "but I like the way you wrote it," and he offered Dan a job.

After five years with the Houston Post, Dan worked for the Beaumont Enterprise for three years. In 1952, Dan came to his present home, with the San Antonio Express/News where he pens six sports columns a week.

He joined the KENS-TV Eyewitness News staff as a sportscaster in 1961. Presently he produces and is sports anchor for three newscasts, (5, 6, and 10 P.M.) five days a week.

Dan has won over 30 State and National Associated Press Awards and has twice served as president of the Texas Sportswriters Association. Dan is married and has three children. His hobbies include tennis and racquetball.

The Chamber of Commerce invites the neighboring communities to join them in this annual event. Tickets are $7.50 each or $75.00 for a table of 10 and may be purchased from Chamber of Commerce members or by calling the Chamber office at 653-2365.

AIRPORT MEETING SLATED

A Texas Aeronautical Facilities Plan regional planning meeting will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, March 4, 1983 in the Reading Room of the Civic Center Complex, located at 300 East Main, Uvalde.

Airport development needs of Edwards, Kinney, Real, Uvalde, and Val Verde Counties will be discussed. The meeting will be conducted by The Texas Aeronautics Commission.

All area citizens with an interest in air transportation and airport development are invited to attend. Participating in the meeting will be City and County officials, airport board members, airport managers, representatives of the Middle Rio Grande Development Council and other citizens.

During the meeting, the airport development needs currently identified in the Texas Aeronautical Facilities Plan (TAFP) for area airports will be reviewed. Preservation and development of airport facilities in the area will be covered. The availability of state and federal funds for airport development will be discussed. Information on area economic development, community goals and objectives, and other factors that may influence the need for, or timing of, airport development will be requested.

The TAFP is an expansion and update of the Texas Airport System Plan developed for Texas and the Federal Aviation Administration by the Texas Aeronautics Commission. The Plan was first published in 1974. The latest plan revision was published in January 1979. Completion of this TAFP revision is scheduled for mid-1984.

Save money with a heat pump for heating and air conditioning

You can lower your utility bills substantially by using an electric heat pump to provide the heating and cooling that account for as much as 65 to 70 percent of the electricity consumed in your home. It's a super-efficient device that should be included in any new house you build or buy. Or maybe you'll want to consider adding a heat pump to your present home to increase the efficiency of your heating/cooling system.

Although its name is somewhat misleading, the heat pump actually is designed to keep you comfortable all year long. It warms your house during the winter and air conditions it during the summer - and does both more efficiently than any other combination unit now available.

What makes it so efficient? The heat pump simply moves heat - a less expensive process than making heat, as gas and other conventional systems must do.

In cold weather, the heat pump absorbs the heat always present in outside air and transfers it inside. In hot weather, it removes heat from the interior to air condition and dehumidify your home.

The heat pump is an especially good choice for South Texas because it performs most economically in places with a relatively mild climate. In the area served by Central Power and Light Company, a properly installed heat pump can produce at least 2½ units of heat for every unit of energy needed to run it.

If you'd like more details, just inquire at your CPL office. We'll be happy to give you information about heat pumps and other devices that help you use energy wisely.

DEL RIO COUNCIL FOR THE ARTS

University of Texas Architectural Students to Study Firehouse in Del Rio Visit This Weekend

The Firehouse, headquarters for the Del Rio Council for the Arts at 120 East Garfield in downtown Del Rio, will be a beehive of activity this weekend as it hosts 13 architectural students who will study the historic building and develop design plans for its continued renovation.

The students are all studying to be architects at The University of Texas in Austin. They are undertaking The Firehouse renovation as a spring semester design project.

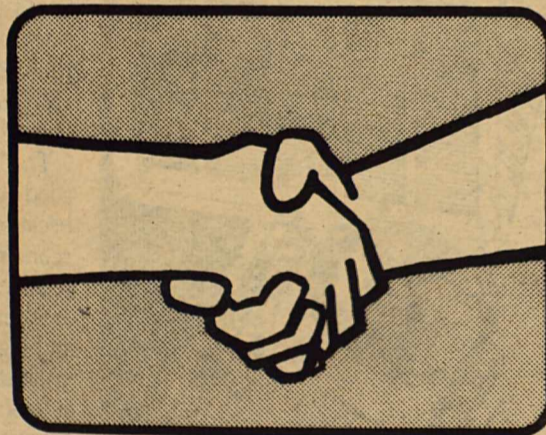

The students will be working under the supervision of Wayne Bell, professor of architecture and partner in the prestigious, Austin based architectural firm of Bell, Klein and Hoffman.

The students will measure and photograph The Firehouse, study its space and storage needs, prepare plans for the classrooms, gallery and studios. They will create drawings and models as well as a phased plan for the building's renovation.

The Firehouse was built as a City Hall for Del Rio back in 1922. The building and its annex originally housed the offices of the mayor the tax and utilities departments, the police department, the jail and the fire department.

NEW CROP INSURANCE PLAN

College Station--High yields and good records can pay off in increased crop insurance protection for many farmers, according to F.W. "Ted" Crouch, Jr., Field Operations Office Director of Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

Crouch reports that a major change in the method of calculating insurance yield guarantees makes it possible for qualifying farmers to obtain additional coverage at no additional cost.

"Our goal is to offer each farmer a guaranteed yield that reflects his own yield experience. Thus, if a farmer can prove that his yields during the past three or more years have been above the average for his area, we'll also give him credit for above-average yield in any years for which he doesn't have the necessary records."

We'll assume his yields in those y years were above average by the same percentage as his recent yields," explains Crouch.

The insurance official states that the improved Individual Yield Coverage Program, as it is called, will make Federal Crop Insurance policies significantly more attractive than in the past to those farmers who have a history of high yields. "The fact that there's no increase in cost for the increased protection should also provide an incentive to carry insurance," he adds.

The county ASCA office can provide information about the procedure for verifying above Average yields. The farmer must provide ASCA with records of plated acreage and all production of a crop for at least the past three years.

The 1983, the Individual Yield Coverage Program is open to farmers who produce corn, cotton, grain sorghum, rice and soybeans. Insurance agents can explain exactly what coverage is available and what the protection would cost. To make the insurance as affordable as possible, the Federal Government pays up to 30 percent of the premium cost.

HOME BUYER CLINIC

By Thomas S. McDonald
President-Elect
American Land Title Association

Retained Rights

Before buying a home, remember that previous owners can retain rights in real estate after it is sold.

The buyer of a home in the midwest was abruptly reminded of this fact when a neighbor unexpectedly demanded removal of a fence just erected on his newly acquired property. As it turned out, the neighbor was a previous owner of the buyer's real estate and had reserved an easement across the property before selling.

Although the buyer was unaware of it at time of purchase, the easement allowed the neighbor to plant and maintain trees, shrubs, foliage and ground cover on the land he formerly owned. When the buyer erected a fence that interfered with this planned use, the neighbor objected.

Under coverage of the buyer's policy of owner's title insurance obtained when he purchased the property, the title company resolved the problem and paid for removing the fence to protect him against financial loss.

Owner's title insurance safeguards against problems including those a search of public records may not disclose, such as previously undetected easement. Coverage includes payment for defending against an attack on title as insured and either clearing up title problems or payment of valid claims as the policy provides.

For free information on home buying precautions, write American Land Title Association, Box 566, Washington, D.C. 20044.

The first bicycle trip around the world was made by Thomas Stevens, who started from San Francisco, Calif., on April 22, 1884 on a 50-inch bicycle and returned January 4, 1887.

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Doyle Bebee, Community Relations Manager

Divestiture, FCC actions to affect cost of local service

Concern is being expressed today in many places that changes taking place in the telecommunications industry are going to create a rapid increase in rates for local flat-rate service.

Unfortunately, that's probably true. We've been saying for years that Long Distance revenues were subsidizing local rates. Because others were saying just the opposite, the public's confusion was understandable.

Now that the Bell System is being broken up, the handwriting is on the wall. Revenues from Long Distance will no longer be available to Southwestern Bell as they have been in the past to help keep local rates low.

Beginning this year, the company lost another important revenue contribution from the FCC's order that a separate subsidiary (American Bell) be set up to exclusively market telephone terminal equipment. Southwestern Bell may continue to sell the Bell System terminal equipment it had on hand at the beginning of the year. When it's gone, however, the company won't be able to sell Bell System-manufactured phones, PBX's, etc.

Services will need to be repriced

Therefore, virtually every service Southwestern Bell offers will be repriced to make each contribute sufficient revenue to stand on its own, profit-wise.

Local flat-rate service probably is the most under-priced service we offer, because of the generally accepted public policy that local rates should be kept as low as possible to encourage the development of "universal" service.

Virtually everyone who has wanted telephone service in recent years could afford a basic local service. Public policy has now shifted to de-regulation, with competition expected to provide the impetus to take advantage of the fruits of the ever faster technological race.

Long Distance bargains come in minutes, too

Long Distance service may be the first to realize the benefits of true competition in the industry, with rates almost sure to go down once subsidies for local service are withdrawn.

But Bell Long Distance rates within Texas are already a bargain. Surprisingly, our research indicates most people overestimate the cost of an in-state call. Do you? Test yourself. What is the rate for the first minute of a Day-rate call dialed direct (1+) from a non-coin phone, without tax, say from Amarillo to Brownsville? A. 42¢ B. 59¢ C. 73¢. Hint: It's the same from El Paso to Texarkana, Texas.

You don't have to turn the page for the answer. Or even turn the page upside down. It's A. Just 42¢. You can talk as long as you like at 42¢ for each additional minute.

That's one of the nice things about Long Distance. You can virtually tailor-make each call. You can pick the time, type and length of call which suits you and your pocketbook best.

Remember, if you have something to talk about, don't hesitate to drop me a line.

LIVESTOCK SHOW AND RODEO

1983 HOUSTON LIVESTOCK SHOW AND RODEO, TO BE THE BIGGEST EVER

Brackettville will be well represented at the Houston Show with six FFA and 19 4-H Members representing many classes. The FFA Chapter Members are as follows: Pete Bland, Jr., Ramon Gutierrez, Mario Lira, Eliu Pinales, Carlos Villarreal, and George Villarreal. The following 4-H Club Members representing us are: John L. Coates, Braenda Foust, Tammy Frerich, Toby Frerich, Brad Gwartney, Kristy Gwartney, Rhonda Haberer, Seth Kaplan, Robby Latham, Ronnie Latham, Misty Rogers, Jamies Shermerhorn, Jodie Shermerhorn, Warren Voss, Dutch Wardlaw, Lashawn Wardlaw, Leisha Wardlaw, Sherri White, and Wesley White.

With more than 30,000 livestock entries the Houston Livestock Show is once again the world's largest. Our 1983 Show is going to be another spectacular event," noted Show President E. Nortwin Gerhart. "With the combination of the finest livestock found anywhere., thousands of hard-working 4-H and FFA exhibitors, and exciting championship rodeo in the Astrodome and 17 of the biggest names in the entertainment world to perform here, the Houston Rodeo in 1983 just can't be beat!"

Stars for the 1983 Rodeo include Kool and the Gang, Mel Tellis, Merle Haggard, Hank Williams, Jr., Lacy J. Dalton, T.G. Sheppard, Roseanne Cash, Eddie Tabbibitt, Conway Twitty, Sylvia, Ricky Skaggs, Janie Fricke, Don Williams, Crystal Gayle, Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band, Charley Pride, and the Oak Ridge Boys.

"We know that the Houston Show is an annual family event for fans from all across the state," said Gerhart. "And, it's still as affordable as ever, with ticket prices remaining at $4.00 and $8.00, just as were in 1982.

Attending the Houston Livestock Show is a traditional event for fans and exhibitors alike. Renown as the most prestigious event in the livestock industry, the Show attracts the finest livestock in both the open and junior show divisions. And, with more than half a million dollars in prize money and premium auction prices above market value, the Show once again offers exceptional rewards for all the hard work involved in raising an animal to win a blue ribbon from Houston.

However, the 1983 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is truly an educational and entertainment spectacular with a two-week schedule for events to appeal to everyone. In addition to the Livestock show, there's the National Cutting Horse Association World's Championship Final's, a world's championship rodeo, a host of exciting contest that kicked off Go Texas Days in fun-filled fashion and the rodeo parade to lead things off.

On February 19, the first week of activities begins in grand style with the rodeo parade at 10 through Houston.. This parade, with more than 6,000 riders, colorful floats, bands and dignitaries, get everyone ready to Go Texas.

The world's championship bar-b-que contest celebrates its tenth anniversary this year, highlighting two days of colorful and crowd-pleasing contests. These includes men's and ladies' hay-hauling contests, three fiddlers contests, a whistler's contest and two days of horseshoe pitching tournament action. There's even a spectacular fireworks display on Saturday night.

At the horse arena, the National Cutting Horse Association World's Championship Finals will take place February 17-20. The finest cutting horses will compete for the title in open and non-professional divisions hoping to capture glory, as well as a part of the biggest added money cutting purse ever. Tickets to this event are separately priced at $6.00 each and may be bought through the rodeo ticket office.

Monday, February 21, marks the start of actual competition in the world's largest live stock show. The first week is devoted primarily to open show competition, drawing professional breeders and ranch owners from some 35 states to show the best in breeding beef, dairy, swine, poultry, sheep, Angora goats, and rabbits. There is some junior competition this week as well--breeding sheep and goats and the junior dairy show.

The Horse Arena is filled from February 17 through March 6 with more 3,000 horse entered in nine shows, including the NCHA world's championship finals. To accommodate all the horse entries, competition here begins earlier than ever.

During the second week, junior show exhibitors take over the vast exhibition facility. Traditionally accounting for more than 65 per cent of all show entries the Astrodome is filled to capacity with the results of hard work by youngsters who have their hopes set high at Houston. While junior show competition includes breeding stock, commercial steers and dairy animals, the real spotlight is on the market divisions, where a grand champion can mean an education or a future in agriculture.

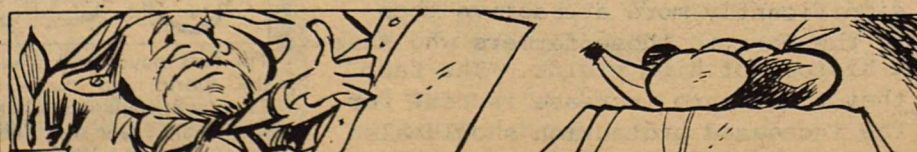

The Houston Show holds the world's record for prices paid for all grand and reserve champions in each of its five market divisions. With the 1982 Grand Champion steer bring $127,000, it's easy to see why Houston is the place to be.

Community support, volunteer action and civic involvement assure that junior exhibitors will receive prices above market for their animals who make the premium auctions. These same individuals and business also donated $600 calf scramble certificates for the winners of scramble heifers in the Astrodome's exciting contest.

Across the street at the rodeo in the Astrodome, action is fast and furious as the top professional cowboys and barrel races pit their skill against the clock and the roughest, toughest rodeo stock anywhere.

Early ice skates were fashioned out of the brisket bones of oxen and fastened to the soles of the skater's boots by thongs.

Since noted French Impressionist Paul Cezanne was an exceptionally slow and meticulous painter, he often used waxed fruits as models for his famous still lifes.

SOCIAL SECURITY

An Amirillo, Texas man has been sentenced to serve a year in prison followed by three years' probation after pleading guilty to federal benefit fraud charges.

According to Miss Elvia F. Fuentes, Manager of the Eagle Pass Social Security office, Francis E. Curley of the Northwest Hills Trailer Park in Amarillo admitted he made false statements to the local food stamp office about his work and earnings in order to qualify for aid. He also pled guilty to a felony charge of defrauding the Social Security Administration. Curley, who had been receiving Social Security disability benefits, failed to report his work to SSA and tried to conceal his work and earnings by working under his wife's Social Security number, Miss Fuentes said. Sentencing was imposed in U.S. District Court in Amarillo by Judge Mary Lou Robinson.

Miss Fuentes noted that the Social Security Administration is presently reviewing all non-permanent disability cases to ensure that benefits are paid only to those who remain too disabled to do any type of work.

Of Telephones

Telephones can save you time and trouble in more ways than ever these days.

For instance, one phone offers a single-button system. You can call any one of 12 numbers in about three seconds by pressing just one button. That can be a real safety feature in homes with children, the handicapped or elderly people, because there's no need to look up—and dial—emergency numbers if they're programmed into the dialer.

In addition, this phone is smaller and lighter than phones used to be—only one-and-a-half pounds, thanks to tiny electrical circuits—each less than an inch square that replace large mechanical components. Such miniaturization also adds up to efficiency and ease of operation.

One of those electronic components is a special microphone that replaces the standard carbon transmitter. Compact and extremely sensitive to sound, it reproduces voices with greater clarity.

An electronic push button telephone can be a boon to families with children or elderly people.

Another sound difference in this Touch-a-matic S series phone from Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, is the way it rings. Or rather, the way it doesn't. Instead, it alerts you to calls with what has been described as an ear-soothing "beep."

According to its manufacturers, it's also more reliable and less costly to produce in the long run than older models. It seems like the sort of thing this country's been calling for.

BILL SIMMS COLUMN

OUTLAWING TEFLON-COATED BULLETS

State Senator Bill Simm of San Angelo said today he supported the bill outlawing Teflon-coating bullet-proof vests worn by policemen.

Sims said the bill, SB 22, would protect law enforcement personnel and would absolutely not affect any other type of ammunition used for hunting and other legal purposes.

"The Senate was concerned for the safety of law enforcement officers, but the Senate did not want to pass any gun control bills, either," Sims said.

That problem was resolved when the bill was amended to define the killer bullets as "handgun ammunition that is designed primarily for the purpose of penetrating metal or body armor."

These Teflon-coated bullets can go through a bullet-proof vest and still penetrate a big phone book behind it. Can you imagine what it would do to a policeman wearing the vest? These bullets can also go through car doors, which policemen really do use for protection during shootouts."

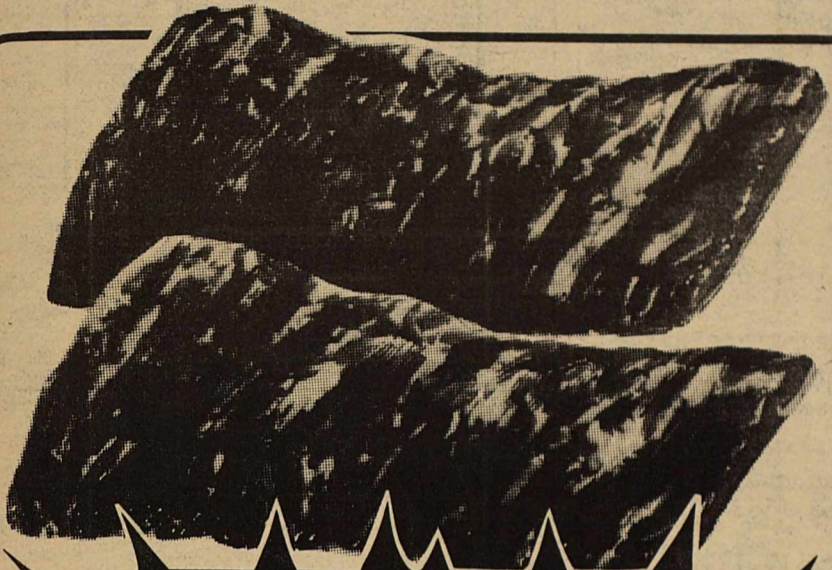

Sims said his staff talked to one policeman who said he and his squad once took a machine gun loaded with Teflon bullets of one criminal.

"Can you imagine the terrorism if he had been able to cut loose with that weapon?"

"Those bullets are hard for criminals to get hold of, and now we're going to make sure they're even harder for criminals to find."
