SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER:

By: Tencha Pena

Senior Olympics:

On Friday, May 13th the Senior Citizen's of our community walked off triumph with three first place trophies.

Taking two trophies was Mr. Martin Kelso in the two mile Walk-a-Thon and on the Frisbee throw. Mrs. Jose Martinez won first place also on the Horse-Shoe pitch. Mrs. Bertha O'Banion won second on the sack race.

These people and all who participated really made an effort and competed against seven other counties. I was very proud of the sacrifice these people made in order to be a part of these Senior Olympics. These events will take place on an annual basis, being as sucessful as they were. Approximately 250 S.C. participated from the 9 county Region.

Luncheon:

A special luncheon was served on Monday May 16th in honor of all Senior Citizens as the Mayor Mrs. Dee Jordan signed a proclamation declaring May S.C. Month. Awards were presented to Mr. Carl Poehler and Juan Vasquez for the distinguished and unselfish Older Texan. Grace Daniels and Dorothy Payne were awarded the Volunteer Service Award. Doing the honors at this event were Judge Postell, who presented the awards, David Luna addressed a spe@ch and other county officials were Tim Ward and John Sheedy III (Plunker). More awards than had been presented in several years were the highlight of the annual end of year Dean's Breakfast at Southwest Texas Junior College last Friday morning.

The breakfast marked the end of the first academic year of Dr. Jimmy Goodson's tenure as president of SWTJC.

Law enforcement instructor Leo Aviles received the "Favorite Faculty Member" award, which is the result of a poll taken of the student body at the end of the year through the student newspaper, The Southwest Texan.

Physical education instructor Kenneth Dismuke, who is retiring after 20 years of service, received a plaque that read, "for the many years of dedicated service to students of Southwest Texas Junior College and the people of this area."

Chemistry instructor Ed Heath and English instructor Jane Willingham were recognized as the outstanding faculty members of the year.

Their plaques read, "IN grateful appreciation for outstanding teaching, exceptional service to the students and institution, enthusiasm for position, reliability, cooperation, and professional growth as an instructor."

The President's Award, a tradition begun by former president Wayne Matthews and continued by Goodson, went to Agustin Alejandro for his "contribution to the effective and efficient operation of the institution."

The breakfast marked the end of the spring semester. Summer classes at SWTJC begin with registration on June 1 at 8 a.m.

drugs because of what they get out of it, not you.

Involving yourself in the illegal business of drugs can cause you legal problems. It can also hurt you in other ways. For the young user, poor school performance often follows prolonged use, which sometimes leads to dropping out of school. Automobile accidents, many of them fatal, are often caused by drivers who are under the influence of drugs. To support drug habits, users frequently turn to prostitution or stealing- from shoplifting and other petty theft, to burglary and armed robbery. These potential problems are reason enough to stay away from drugs, but there are other results which can be even more damaging.

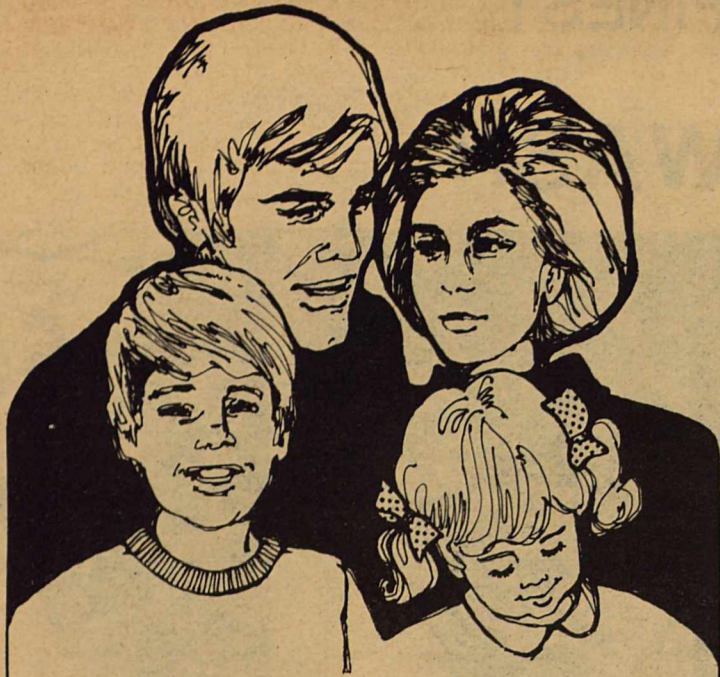

Drug abuse can cause changes to occur in your body and mind that can and often do, lead to permanent disability and death. Controlled substances may be divided into five classifications: Cannabis narcotics, stimulant, depressants, and hallucinogens. Each of these types of drugs can cause certain reactions which will be described for you in detail as this column continues. But there are some things that you should know about drug use in general and the physical and mental damage they can do to you. All Drugs either depress or excite the central nervous system, the most important part of which is your brain. Drugs can also affect your heart rate, blood pressure, and rate of breathing. These are called your vital signs, which means they keep you alive. Playing around with them by using drugs means playing around with your life. One serious physical consequence of drug use among young people is impaired growth. Some drugs adversely affect the hormones responsible for the growth processes that take place during adolescence. Depending on whether you eat, smoke, or inject drugs, you run other physical risks. Drug use can cause reduced fertility, birth defects, impaired vision, lung damage, cancer, heart attack, blood poisoning, infections, hepatitis, convulsions, coma and death. These should be enough reasons for you to take a hard stand against the distribution and use of drugs illegally in our community. I will have some more good reasons for you as I continue next week with descriptions of various drugs and the effects they have on the human body.

Free Booklet: How To Make Your Car Last Longer

"I've had it. That's the last straw! I'm selling this car tomorrow." Have you ever said something like that? A last straw can be the threat of a costly repair, the overall run-down appearance of the car or the last of a lot of little problems piled up. Fortunately, there are ways to give your car longer life if you follow some very simple maintenance advice, says "The Longer Car Life Book," a publication from Shell Oil Co.

To keep your car from showing its age, touch-up paint on chips and scratches does a little for looks and a lot for rust prevention.

A last-straw repair such as complete overhaul of the engine could be prevented or delayed by regular checking and changing of the oil, checking drive belts, checking hoses and testing the cooling system for leaks. Checking the transmission fluid level and changing the transmission fluid and filter regularly can greatly reduce the need for a transmission overhaul.

The booklet is available free at participating Shell service stations or by writing to the author, Jim Jaskoske, Shell Answer Books, P.O. Box 61609, PR Dept., Houston, TX 77208.

The Texas Hill Country is known for its rolling hills and spring-fed creeks, and many say there's no better time to visit than during springtime. Some folks like to see the countryside by meandering along little-traveled roads, while others prefer to visit some of the guest ranches located in the Bandera and Kerrville area. This trio has just finished a hearty cowboy breakfast along the banks of the Medina River, and is enjoying some guitar pickin' before riding horseback through the countryside. Information about your changing telephone service from Doyle Bebee, Community Relations Manager

The Future of Telephone Rates

As Southwestern Bell prepares itself to be a stand-alone company in 1984—separate from AT&T—many of you, no doubt, have been wondering what's going to happen to telephone rates.

Will they go up? How much? Will you have to pay twice as much for phone service as you now do?

While it's impossible to answer those questions definitively, it is possible to give you an idea of where rates are headed...and why.

Local service rates will probably go up

For example, the rate you presently pay for local service will—in all probability—go up. This is primarily due to the fact that local service, for the most part, has been priced well below its cost. The average statewide cost to Southwestern Bell for keeping a residential line in service is about $30 per month. On the other hand, the average monthly rate our customers pay ranges from $7.85 to $10.75. This $20 or more difference between cost and rates has been made up primarily by revenues from long distance service and telephone equipment.

However, since most of those revenues will not be available to Southwestern Bell after divestiture, local service will have to be priced more closely to its cost.

In turn, though, the rates of long distance and other services which have subsidized local service may go down.

Other factors which will contribute to higher local rates include our need to more quickly recover our investment in equipment and facilities, and the effects that are still being felt from past inflation.

To help offset the rise in local rates, Southwestern Bell wants to offer customers more pricing plans so that they will have more control over what they pay for local service. We are working closely with regulators not only to develop pricing options that will fit almost every pocketbook; but also to keep telephone service one of the best consumer values around.

Effects of divestiture to be studied by PUC

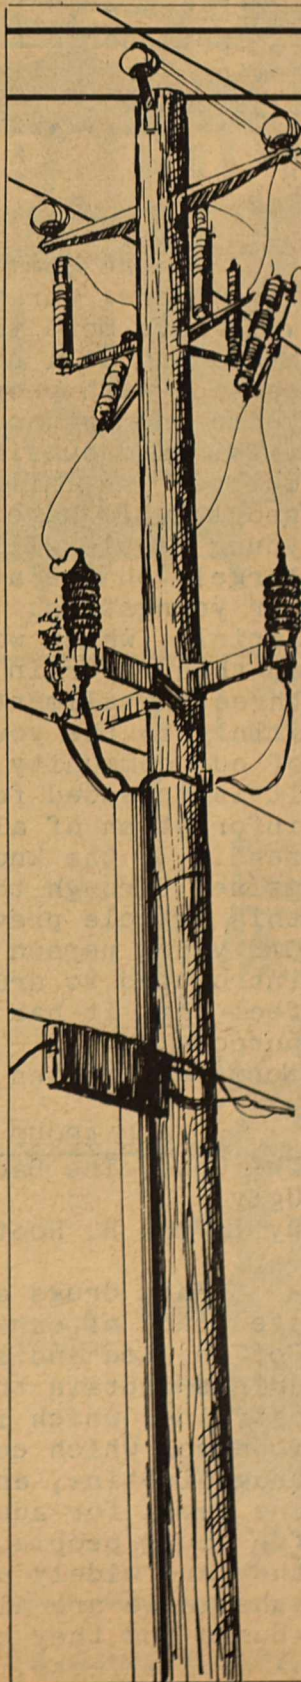

As you may be aware, the Texas Public Utility Commission next month will begin general hearings to examine how divestiture will affect Texas ratepayers. There are a lot of questions and potential problems to be solved. But by cooperating and working together with regulators, we feel we can work out the best solutions, in the long run, for all concerned.

If you'd like additional information on this topic or have any questions, I'll try to help you find the answers.

Stay alert and stay clear—

AVOID POWER LINES

Have respect for power lines—both those overhead and those underground—anytime you're doing a job that requires you to work near them.

- Keep away from overhead lines while you're launching your boat or transporting it over land. Metal sailboat masts, outriggers, power boat antennas—and other high-rising equipment—can be deadly conductors of electricity.
- Don't trim or cut down trees near power lines. This is work best left to experts.
- Check your clearance carefully when you're carrying a tall pole or pipe on a tractor, or driving a truck with a raised bed, or operating machinery such as cranes, booms, draglines, hay loaders and well drilling rigs.
- Fallen power lines also are extremely dangerous. If you see a line downed by a storm, high winds, car accident or other mishap, call Central Power and Light Company. Meanwhile, stay away from the wire and anything it touches—and keep others away, too.
- Make sure you know the location of underground power lines before you install irrigation systems or unclog drain or sewer lines. Even routine projects like digging post holes or planting trees can be dangerous if you get too close to power lines.

Stay alert—and stay clear of power lines!

SHERIFF'S CORNER

BY NORMAN HOOTEN

This column did not appear last week due to my not having time to present my copy to the editor. We have been busy preparing the budget requests for the jail and the Tax Office and working on various criminal cases.

A disturbance at a local tavern Wednesday the 4th led to the arrest of two San Angelo men. Charges of Public Intoxication were filed on Nicholas Talamantex, Jr. and his brother Mario Talamantex after they were arrested by this officer in the parking lot of a local tavern. They were placed in jail and were tried in Justice Court by Judge Darrell Paul Franks the next day. Fines of $76.00 each were assessed the two men after they entered a plea of guilty to the charges. They elected to serve out the fines in jail and were released on Tuesday, the 10th.

Several Brackettville citizens were awakened by the sound of gunfire early Thursday morning of the 5th and I received a call from the Jail Dispatcher that the suspect in the incident was inside a house on Rufus Alley. He was believed to be armed with a .223 caliber rifle. Upon my arrival at the scene I went into the house to talk to the suspect and he was arrested and transported to the County Jail. Several empty shell cases, .223 caliber, was later recovered from the house by Chief of Police Donnie Nance and Patrolman "Corky" McGuire. Charges of Disorderly Conduct with a Firearm, Public Intoxication, and Disorderly Conduct by the use of Obscene Language and Vulgar Gestures in a public place were filed against Walter Wade Salmon, a 29 year old Brackettville resident. He pled guilty to their charges in Justice Court and was assessed fines totaling $318.00 by Judge Darrell Paul Franks.

Peggy Miller of Brackettville reported the theft of approximately $15,000.00 worth of jewelry from her residence on Brown Street on the afternoon of May 12. The case was investigated by Chief of Police Donnie Nance and myself. The jewelry was recovered later that afternoon, no charges were filed.

As of the last of April Kinney County has received $56,328.00 for prisoner care at the County Jail since October 1982. We have approx. $1500.00 outstanding for a total of $57,828.00. We are keeping the jail full most of the time with the majority of the inmates being federal prisoners. We have projected that income to the County for prisoner care for the coming year will be approx. $152,000.00.

Foreword:

As the summer vacation time nears, our young people will have more time on their hands and will be coming into contact with people, both young and not so young, from within and outside our community. The influence these people will have on our young people will depend largely on the attitudes of our youngsters. The following article, which will appear in this paper in two or three installments is directed mainly to the young people of our community, although it is intended for the information of all our citizens. If the knowledge gained through the reading of this article prevents just ONE young person from being introduced to drugs, I will feel that it has served its purpose.

ALL ABOUT DRUGS

The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly.

By Norman H. Hooten, Sheriff

Many drugs are an accepted part of our way of life. Coffee, tea and some soft drinks contain the drug caffeine, which is legal. Tobacco, which contains the drug nicotine, and alcohol are legal for adults, but not for young people. Even though they are widely used, these substances are also frequently abused and they can all have harmful effects. We encounter many drugs as medicine, natural or man-made substances developed to aid the healing process. Use of medicines according to the manufacturer's recommendations or doctor's orders is proper and legal. But medicine can be illegally manufactured, obtained, and used.

There are also some drugs which have no medical value. Many of these drugs are cultivated and manufactured only for illegal purposes. Why do millions of people in this country intentionally use substances which they know can be harmful to them? There are many reasons but the most common are probably these: influence from advertising, pressure from friends, desire to be like others, for the short term effect of stimulation or relaxation, or out of habit. Others misuse or abuse drugs because they don't know any better.

There are federal and state laws regulating the manufacture sale and possession of prescription as well as illegal drugs. Drugs that are evaluated for their medical usefulness, their potential for abuse their potential for dependence or their effect in order that their manufacture and distribution might be prevented or limited are called "controlled substances". Most drug abuse involves the use of a controlled substances for other than medicinal purposes. This includes using a drug that is not legal, using a drug for a purpose it was not intended for, or using a substance that is not a drug to produce a drugged state.

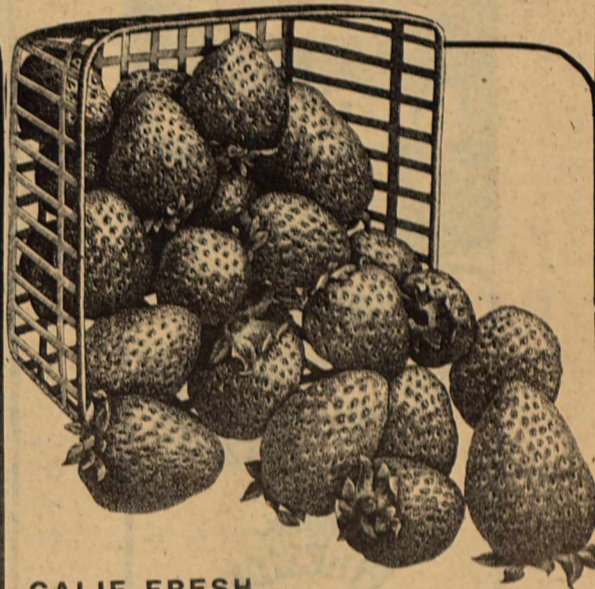

The people who give or sell you drugs illegally might be people you know and like or they might be strangers. In any case, they can't really be called your friends if they are asking you to do something that can hurt you or others. Many times they stand to gain by your mistakes or weakness. Most often they are users themselves or are criminals making a profit off you and others as they deal in this multi-billion dollar business. If you think you can trust another user or a criminal to give you an honest deal or straight talk, you'd better think again. They want you to use

NEWS FROM BOB BULLOCK

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today sent checks totaling 95.4 million in local sales tax payments to 974 cities that levy the one-percent sales tax.

"The checks we're sending today bring this year's total payments to $309.6 million statewide, which is 2.7 percent below the total at this time last year. Although these receipts are still running behind last year, we have seen a steady improvement for the past three months. This is in line with our forecasts and, if the trend continues as we expect, we should finish this year with a slight in-crease over 1982's totals," Bullock said.

LIBRARY NEWS

We would like to thank Mr. Paul O'Rourke for staining our new book shelves.

Our thanks also go to those who are continuing to turn in Campbell soup labels, "Library Love Notes", and donating books and magazines. There are so many of you who are showing you care about our library and we certainly appreciate it.

Last Thursday evening at a meeting with the local committee for the United Fund, we were informed that the library was to be included in the fund-raising efforts along with the ambulance service, Fire Dept., and salvation Army (for emergency help for transients.) It is our request that you all lend support to this fund drive as the majority of the donations will be locally used and the library would be able to purchase a needed piece of equipment for community use that would not ordinarily be approved for through the county budget.

If you would like to help us collect for the United Fund please contact me at 563-2884 or 563-2736.
Respectfully Yours, Charolette Corey, County Librarian.

World's Most Spectacular Sights

The world's largest airplane, the legendary Howard Hughes Flying Boat, the "Spruce Goose," is now enshrined in the world's largest all-aluminum clear-span dome ever built, adjacent to the regal Queen Mary in the harbor of Long Beach, California. You might like to take a moment for this quick flight check to see how much you know about the historic and controversial seaplane.

1. The historic Howard Hughes Flying Boat is nicknamed the (a) American Eagle (b) Spruce Goose (c) Kittyhawk?

2. The plane was given its nickname because it is made entirely of (a) feathers (b) wood (c) tin?

3. Who gave the famed seaplane its nickname? (a) Congress (b) reporters (c) Howard Hughes

4. The flying boat reached a maximum altitude of 70 feet above the Long Beach, Calif. harbor for how long? (a) 500 miles (b) 300 yards (c) one mile

5. The "Spruce Goose" is so large, what modern-day aircraft would fit beneath each of its gargantuan wings? (a) DC-10 (b) B-52 bomber (c) the Goodyear blimp

6. What was inventor/aviator Hughes quoted as saying immediately after the astonishing original flight of his famous airplane? (a)

"What goes up, must come down." (b) "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." (c) "I like to make surprises."

ANSWERS: 1. (b) Spruce Goose, built by Howard Hughes to transport American troops to Europe during World War II, will make its long-awaited reintroduction next to the Queen Mary in Long Beach, California. 2. (b) The plane, made almost entirely of birch, has emerged after 36 years of complete isolation in a temperature-controlled hangar. 3. (a) Congress nicknamed the enormous flying boat the "Spruce Goose" partly due to the type of wood it was built from, but also because at the time they thought the plane would never get off the ground. 4. (c) The Spruce Goose flew for one mile above the choppy waters of the Long Beach Harbor. The original flightpath of the Spruce Goose is now its eternal nesting place. 5. (a) The mammoth airplane, with a 319-foot wingspan that is longer than a football field, can fit a DC-10 comfortably under each wing. 6. (c) When asked by the amazed newsmen aboard the plane immediately after its original flight if he had intended to fly the plane, Hughes remarked in the positive.
