

Say goodbye to an old friend. The water tower now standing on the corner of Thorn and Sweeney will be replaced in an estimated two or three months.

Already replaced is the water storage tank to increase the capacity of storage from 175 to 250 gallons. This was accomplished several months ago with the aid of a TDCA Block Grant.

The tower, which has been standing since 1929, has been repaired several times, but cannot be repaired agair. Orily the original legs will remain. So take a good look and remember an old friend.

According to Bill Lindeman, State Game Warden, all hunters who hunt, take, or attempt to take any wild bird or wild animal within the state must have a valid hunting licerise.
"This means everyore," he explains, "including persons of all ages that hunt regardless of place of residence. In other words, the law no longer exempts persons that hunt eertain species of birds and animals in the county of their residence or on land on which they reside. This law wert into effect last seasor and we did not enforce it; however, it will be enforced this season."

Hunting Licenses are being sold in Brackettville at Nash Dry Goods and B&S Grocery. Antlerless permits will be issued to landowners by the Parks and Wildlife Department personnel at the Kinney County Courthouse on Octaber 27, 1986.

For additional information

 Kinney Countyof the Kistrict county

Appraisal District are many. Theirs is a never-ending process that begins each year in October.

To begin the yearly process, the Appraisal District must list all property in Kinney County and appraise lset value) on each one. They then give a list of all property, houses and businesses to Tax Units. In Kinney County, these units include Ft. Clark Springs M.U.D., the courity, Brackettville, the School District, and Spofford. Each of these urits has the right to tax. After receiving their list, each unit sets their tax rates and informs the Appraisal District.

The Appraisal District sends out bills and collects the taxes from the public. They then inform the units at least once a month, usually ance a week, as to how the collection is going and writes each one a check for the amourit of taxes. they have taken in. The Kinney County Appraisal District is open weekdays from B: 00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Steamboat racing was a popular sport in the mid-19th century U.S.

SWBT urges Texans to become informed voters

Think back to last October. If you are like most of us, you probably had only a vague notion of what the strange word - sesquicentennial - meant. A year later, I would wager that there are very few Texans who aren't familiar with the terms meaning. Perhaps a few of us even learned how to spell and pronounce it.
Although many people may have grown a bit weary of the festivities surrounding Texas' century-and-a-half birthday, no one can deny that this event put the Lone Star State in the nation's spotlight.
Before that attention is diverted from us, however, we have one last opportunity to show the rest of the country that Texas is a dynamic state, committed to shaping its own future. And what better way to prove that fact, than by Texans voting in record numbers during the November general elections?
Few people would disagree that this year's elections are especially critical to our state, in light of our difficult economic situation.
There is no doubt that the people we elect next month will be charting the future of Texas. Since each of us has a stake in this process, we must be certain our voices are heard by casting our ballot.
However, voting demands responsibility. Many would contend that it is better not to vote, than to vote without a firm grasp of the issues. As citizens of this state, we have an obligation to learn about each candidate's platform so that we are able to vote with the conviction of our beliefs.
Southwestern Bell Telephone is a strong advocate of our election process, and we encourage our employees to become informed voters. If they are so inclined, we encourage employees to become active in all levels of government.
Although we've heard it before, we all need to be reminded, now and again, that a democracy is only as strong as the people who participate in it. So this November, learn the issues and cast an informed vote.

Guestions on a taxing subject

While on the subject of those things governmental and civic, I'd like to pose a couple of questions I heard on the radio the other day from a national columnist. They are on a favorite topic of most Texans ... taxes. Perhaps this exercise will give you something to ponder in your idle time.
guestion #1 - Is it possible to divert taxes from individuals to businesses?
Some people would argue that when businesses do receive higher tax bills, they simply pass that surcharge along to the customer that's you and me.
The reality is that in today's economy there are probably few businesses able - and fewer still willing - to absorb a greater tax burden. Proof of the unsettled business environment can be seen in the rash of recent bankruptcies.
Then, is it better to pay higher individual taxes or higher prices at the counter? We must decide that answer for ourselves.
Guestion # 2 - Is it better to levy taxes from the federal or from the local level?
Corollary #1 - Does it matter, aren't we going to end up paying the bill anyway?

One argument can be made that when taxes are paid locally, there are fewer middlemen to claim a portion of those monies. Additionally some would say local tax revenue can be monitored more closely by local residents. Theoretically, this allows each of us to have more of a say regarding how funds are spent.
Is this type of control evident in your community? If you answered "No," speak up at your town's next council meeting. Your elected officials want to hear from you.

As you probably guessed, there are no right or wrong answers to these questions. This is usually the case when discussing complicated issues. However, I hope this short quiz may have started you thinking. We all need to give these kinds of topics some thought. After all, any constructive act has to begin with an idea. Perhaps After all, any great will come from one of yours.

TRACKS ALONG THE TRAIL

by Dorothy Payne
During Civil War times, the cavalry wore brass spurs secured to the boots with a single spur strap, laced through loops in the spur and going around the instep. The spurs were goose-necked, meaning the shank curved upward. This type was necessary because the spur was worn very low on the heel in most cases, the rowel was sharp toothed steel about the size of a nickle. Later the army used the humane no-rowel type spur.

Right after the Civil War, Texas style spurs were fairly plain and heavy with the heelband about one inch wide, and sometimes lightly engraved. The shank was about two inches long and not much curved at all. They rode high on the boot so walking was easy. Sometimes a pair of Janglers was worn attached where they would clink against the rowels which made a pleasant sound when walking.

The early Spanish wore spurs which had rowels up to six or seven inches in diameter and had to be taken off to walk. The early Califorria cowboy kept on wearing this type because they were considered an insignia, representing knighthood. The expression "He earned his spurs". is based upon this fact. In fact, the American cowboy was the very last of the horseback aristocrats, and no cowboy would be caught dead in the English type army spur worr low on the heels.

Ever since the first caveman heated a rock and branded his woman, man has branded something. The Indians branded too, and woe to the brave who rustled an animal or woman who wasn't his own.

The first known brander in Western America was Hernando Cortez who used cattle stamp brands to burn the letter "G" (for the word Guerra, meanirg war), on his Indian prisoners. His cattle brand was three Christian Crosses, and his brand became famous in the Western World. By the time the Californios came into their glory a man's brand was virtually his coat of arms, hence another aspect of the knighthood of the cowboy.

The world's largest collection of branding irons is probably owned by the Roosevelt Council, Boy Scouts of America, in Phoenix, Arizona. Perhaps the most famous brand in this collection is the one of Don Luis Terrazaz, whose ranch was the largest in the history of the world. It ran from Juarez, Chihuahua, all the way to Chihauhue City, more than two hundred miles. You could ride in any direction for weeks and not cross the ranch. There were approximately six millior acres.

It is said the song, "El Rancho Grande", was written about this ranch. Don Luis had five haciendas on his property. Pancho Villa hated Don Luis and raided his ranch at every opportunity. When Diaz was ousted, Don Luis lost his ranch and took refuge in the United States, where he died in 1923.

FLIGHT REINACTED

A re-enactment of the 1911 Vin Fiz transcontinental airplane flight has been set for Oct. 21 in Sabinal arid Uvalde after heavy weather delayed the original flight plans for Det. 16.

A replica of the 1911 plane, named after a popular cola drink at the time, is scheduled to land at the Pepper landing strip north of Sabinal at 9:45 a.m. on Dct. 21. The plane is expected to touch ground at 5 p.m. in Uvalde on Dct. 21 at eitiner the fairgrounds or the airport.
"The pilat ran into some heavy weather. His schedule is a day-by-day thing depending on the weather," said a spokesman for Armour & Co., which is sponsoring the 75th anniversary flight and was the sponsor of the 1711 flight.

James Llayd is piloting the replica of the 1911 plane, which was flown by Cal Rogers in its maiden flight. The plane is retracting the flight

COLE DOES IT AGAIN

The undefeated Cole Cougars stayed that way after a $35-10$ victory over a very tough Brackett Tiger team Friday night in a game that was halted after the first half because of a blown transformer.

Cole took advantage of four turn-overs commited by the over-anxious Tigers to score their five TD's.

Dean Cackrell, a highly rated blue chip prospect, rushed for three of the Cougar scores on his way to gathering 123 yds. on 15 carries.

Although the Tigers have been eliminated from post season play, the Cats are shooting for their first winning season in the last three campaigns. The athletes and coaching staff all believe they can win their remaining three games which would give them a season record of 5-4-1, and district record of $3-3$.

Next week, the Tigers go to Asherton to do battle with the Trojans. The following week, they play their final home game of the season hosting the Dilley Wolves, and the final game of the season finds the Tigers at the Lytle Pirates. There has beeri a change of game time for the Asherton game, it will begin at 7: ©10 p.m. All other games will have the usual 8:00 p.m. Kick. off time.

TIGERETTES LOSE

Let there be no doubt, the first ever volleyball season for the Brackett Tigerettes has been an up-hill battle from the start, but believe me friends, you'll find no quit in these tough young ladies.

Coach Naricy Chism seems to feel ..."we have been competitive in every match, but we just haven't clicked yet. The kids have a lot of learning to do but they are fast learners. What we rieed more than anything else right now is experience."

At this point in the seasor, the Tigerettes have had eleveri matches arid stand at $1-10$ with a district record of $0-5$.
Tuesday night, Erackett locked up with the Trojanettes of Asherton and lost in two straight games by scores of 6 15 and $3-15$. Elena Estrada led the Tigerettes with five service points while Martha Sameriego had two with Elena Sandoval and Pilar Lozano adding one each.

The JV Tigerettes fared slightly better in taking their opponents to the full three games. They won the first game in a come from behind, effort, led by Lilliari Castillo's nine consecutive service points, by a score of 15-8. The Tigerettes dropped the next two games by scores of $3-15$ and $6-15$. Castillo led the Tigerettes with 11 service points. Lisa Frerich had six, Travis Smith three, Hope Kelley two, and Frarices Sandoval and Yvarine Luna had one each.

plan of the original Vin Fiz, which touched down in Sabinal and Uvalde in 1911.

An update on the plane's schedule can be obtained by calling the public relations firm of Aaron B. Cushman in St. Louis at (314) 725-6400.

Unfavorable weather had delayed pilat James Lloyd's schedule; therefore his landing at Spofford is not yet certair. When the "VINFIZ II" sets down in a few days, Joe York, Jr. will be there with his son Bob, and Bob's son, Asa, age 3 yrs., and Bob's daughter, Jessica. Commissioner, Tim Ward, Mr. York's grandson, will also be there with his children, Cherrise, Chase & Blake.

WORD NIOM

Children's parties can be a cause for tears when prizes are given for "winning" games Make sure each guest leaves with a small gift and simplify things by making each gift identical.
