August 3, 1858 in Mora, New Mexico the pastor of the Mora Catholic Church was murdered in a mysterious manner.

In January, 1856 Father Peter J. Munnecom a Dutch priest was sent to replace the priest at Mora by the new American Bishop of New Mexico, Jean Baptiste Lamy.

The Mora parishioners were slow to accept him; but they went along with the changes. In 1858 Father Munnecom was replaced by Rev. Antoine Avel who had served for four years in a Santa Fe parish. A few weeks later Father Munnecom was scheduled to give his final mass at 9:00 a.m.; but he failed to show up. Rev. Avel was forced to take the absent priests place. He consecrated the wine and drank from the chalice at communion. He suddenly noticed a difference in the taste and texture of the wine.

When he realized the wine was poisoned he cried out to the people saying, "Pray for me, I am dying." Some of the people tried to help him and tried to find Father Munnecom to give him the last rites, but said he didn't want the last rites from Father Munnecom. He still had time to write his last will and testament, leaving the little money he had to help build a hospital in Santa Fe. Then, dying he forgave his murderer, (who ever he might be).

In the investigation a man named Noel left town. Later Noel himself was murdered in southern New Mexico. Rev. Munnesom disappeared but soon returned and was cleared at the hearing. A new priest named Father Damaso Taladrid was sent from Santa Fe to take care of the church at Mora.

This unusual case has a place in New Mexico history as one of the most famous unsolved murder mysteries of the nineteenth century.

ture's credit agency, including deciding whether an applicant is eligible for a farm loan.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to any one who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Persyn said. "The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer. An old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has dropped."

"The nominating period will run until May 19, 1990," Persyn said. "At least three eligible farmer voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition."

Two of the three committee members are elected by farmers in the county, and one is appointed by FmHA. One of the elected seats is to be filled for a three-year term at this year's election, which is scheduled for June 29, 1990.

REFLECTIONS

BY PRESTON TAYLOR
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The downtown San Martin plaza in Cordoba, Argentina, glows with attractive features. A luxurious ten-story hotel, a four-century old Cathedral, and plenty of shops that encircle the plaza all combine to attract large crowds every day. The large statue of General Jose de San Martin in the plaza produces admiration from many people who remember a little about San Martin's deeds of courage. That army General liberated Argentina, Chile, and a big part of Peru from Spanish forces in the early part of the past century. We hail the ones who win battles and wars. Many of these conquerors deserve praise. What about those who don't fight? What about "Peace Makers?" Jesus said, "Blessed are the peace makers, They shall be called the children of God." Every family needs a peace maker, don't you think? Disturbances invade home life. The one who brings peace and stops the strife has a special job to do in every family. Communities could propose that statues be made to honor those who help put down backbiting, bickering, and "fussing." The person who works for good relationships earns our applause.

Churches sometimes could add a new staff member and give him the title of peace maker. He would be worth his money.

Nations need to erect statues to those who love peace and help bring it about.

A long time ago the prophet Isaiah wrote that the Christ Child is "the Everlasting Father, the Mighty God, the Prince of Peace" (Is. 9:6). When we give Jesus room in our hearts the peace that mankind desperately needs will be found. Who wouldn't welcome such a day.

BY ALAN L. MCWILLIAMS

Things are looking greener around the county with the much welcomed showers we have been receiving lately. We certainly have had some humidity and cool temperatures along with the rain. This can lead to several problems around the home landscape. I have observed a few cases of powdery mildew on some roses. Apply a fungicide at the recommended rate to take care of this problem should you notice a white powdery substance covering your plants.

Along with last week's article on gardening, have you also ever considered using a mulch to increase your gardening success?

Mulching is defined as any material spread on the ground to protect the roots of plants from heat, cold, drought, or reduce problems with weeds.

Here are a few materials commonly used for mulching:

--Clear plastic: It helps warm the soil early in the season. One problem with this kind of mulch is that it may stimulate weed seed germination and growth.

--Black plastic: It warms the soil but reduces the weed population by the absence of light. Adequate soil moisture should be available when using this type of mulch. Cut holes over the bed to allow for seeding or transplanting.

--Paper: Almost any type of paper will work. Several sheets of newspaper laid flat over the surface of the garden row works well as a mulch; however, this will reduce the temperature of the garden soil. Paper mulch used early in the spring when the soil is still cold will delay maturity of garden vegetables. It probably has a greater advantage if used after crops are growing.

--Organic mulch: Organic mulches are by far the most common. They are most beneficial in the summer in reducing soil temperatures and saving soil moisture. They should not be used too early as they will also slow the maturity of new plants.

Mulches of organic matter will help control weeds, prevent erosion, help prevent soil crusting, and lessen fruit rot as well as save moisture and reduce the heat of summer. After the soil warms, apply organic mulches at a depth of 1 to 2 inches thick around growing plants.

Sawdust, leaves, rice hulls, wheat straw and other hays can all be used. It is usually necessary to increase the amount of garden fertilizer by about one-fourth to compensate for nutrients used by the microorganisms during the breakdown process. This occurs all the time your mulch is laying on the ground. At the end of the season, organic mulches should be turned under to improve the soil's physical condition.

A statewide 4-H Horse Leaders Reining Horse Training Clinic will be conducted April 17-19 at the West Texas Fairgrounds in Abilene.

The clinic will involve three days of intensified horseback training by Dick Pieper of Marietta, Oklahoma, a nationally recognized reining horse trainer, judge and former president of the National Reining Horse Association.

The clinic is open to any Texas 4-H Horse Leader wanting to learn about teaching 4-H horseman how to train horses in such basic maneuvers as circles, stops, spins, lead changes, backing and rollbacks.

Participants should bring their horses for the training session, but others may also may attend if they cannot bring a horse. If you are interested in more information on the clinic or the above mentioned article call or come by the Kinney County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This letter to the editor is really a letter to the parents of children in Brackettville. It is to express my sorrow over the death of Gerardo Pacheco a few weeks ago. I knew Gerardo from school and thought well of him and his family. When I heard of his death I remembered a story by Dear Abby called "Please God, I'm only 17!" The circumstances were a little different, but the results the same.

PLEASE GOD, I'M ONLY 17

The day I died was an ordinary school day. How I wish I had taken the bus! But I was too cool for the bus. I remember how I wheedled the car out of Mom. "Special favor," I pleaded. "All the kids drive." When the 2:50 bell rang, I threw all my books in the locker. I was free until 8:40 the next morning! I ran to the parking lot, excited at the thought of driving a car and being my own boss. FREE!

It doesn't matter how the accident happened. I was goofing off---going too fast. Taking crazy chances. But I was enjoying my freedom and having fun. The last thing I remembered was passing an old lady who seemed to be going awfully slow. I heard a deafening crash and felt a terrible jolt. Glass and steel flew everywhere. My whole body seemed to be turning inside out. I heard myself scream.

Suddenly I awakened; it was very quiet. A police officer was standing over me. Then I saw a doctor. My body was mangled. I was saturated with blood. Pieces of jagged glass were sticking out all over. Strange that I couldn't feel anything.

Hey, don't pull that sheet over my head! I can't be dead. I'm only 17. I've got a date tonight. I'm supposed to grow up and have a wonderful life. I have'nt lived yet. I can't be dead.

Later, I was placed in a drawer. My folks had to identify me. Why did they have to see me like this? Why did I have to look at Mom's eyes when she faced the most terrible ordeal of her life? Dad suddenly looked like an old man. He told the man in charge, "Yes, he is my son."

The funeral was a weird experience. I saw all my relatives and friends with the saddest eyes I've ever seen. Some of my buddies were crying. A few of the girls touched my hand and sobbed as they walked away.

Please...somebody...wake me up! Get me out of here! I can't bear to see my mom and dad so broken up. My grandparents are so racked with grief they can hardly walk. My brothers and sisters are like zombies. They move like robots. In a daze, everybody. No one can believe this. And I can't believe it either.

Please don't bury me! I'm not dead! I have a lot of living to do! I want to laugh and run again. I want to sing and dance. Please don't put me in the ground. I promise if you give me just one more chance, God, I'll be the most careful driver in the world. All I want is one more chance!

PLEASE GOD, I'm only 17!

Right after the accident, I questioned why an unlicensed driver was still out driving in yet another person's vehicle. Also, I had thought all four boys were out after curfew. I wanted to start a petition to get the curfew enforced with the signatures of parents who would back the police who enforced it. When I went to City Hall, I found out how lenient the curfew is and how some think enforcing it won't work. I felt I should give up on this. (CURFEW hours on the City Hall Minutes read as follows: JUVENILE CURFEW ORDINANCE: 201 - 6 - 12 years old, Sunday thru Thursday must be home by 10:00 p.m., Friday thru Saturday must be home by 12:00 p.m.; 13 -16 years old, Sunday thru Thursday must be home by 10:30 p.m. and Friday thru Saturday must be home by 1:30 p.m.

First, both 12:00 a.m. and 1:30 a.m. should read A.M., second there is no curfew at all for 17 & 18 year olds.

I was told that the parents would have to get mad, mad enough to have the hours changed and to have it enforced. Parents, please, to protect our kids, and to be in control of our own families, get MAD enough and voice your opinion at City Hall. My petition will be out soon. I care what happens to our kids.

Sincerely,
ss/ Sandy Herman

OLD QUARRY SOCIETY'S ANNUAL MEETING

Approximately 60 persons attended the Old Quarry Society's annual meeting, Monday, April 2, at the Las Moras Inn restaurant.

Goodies were served, nomination of officers were announced and awards were presented. Anyone who had ever bought a ticket to one of their plays was invited. "Thank you for the plays you have helped us with. This is our way to say thank you," said President, Harrell Floyd.

Rozetta Pingenot was recognized for her involvement with the Old Quarry Society. Dorothy Haga who presented the award said, "She is always helping in the front or back, acting and even directed a play this year. She gets the job done."

How the amphitheater developed, the teen theater and the play, "The Glory Road" were discussed, as well. "The Glory Road" is a historical drama, it is a story of Fort Clark, The action comes alive under the stars in the Old Quarry Amphitheater. June 23, 29 and 30 at 8:30 p.m. is when the evenings of outdoor fun can be enjoyed.

Fort Clark is fortunate to have so many wonderful organizations. The Old Quarry Society definitely fits in this category.

MICHAEL ORLOV, RUSSIAN BAPTIST CHRISTIAN SPEAKS & SINGS AT COMMUNITY POTLUCK LUNCHEON

First United Methodist Church, First Baptist Church and St. John's Baptist Church of Brackettville sponsored a potluck luncheon for the community last Sunday, April 1, at First UMC's Slator Hall after morning services. The guest speaker was Michael Orlov, A baptist Christian from Leningrad, Russia. He was brought to Brackettville courtesy of Mr. Grainger Weston, a friend of Rev. J. Roland Cole; Mr. Weston also served as translator for Mr. Orlov much of the time.

After answering many questions of the multi-ethnic gathering made up mostly of Christians representing a number of denominations, Mr. Orlov gave a witness to his spiritual history and sang several hymns in his robust and moving manner. The hymns were all in Russian, beginning with "Nearer My God to Thee," and at times the congregation joined in the singing.

The Rev. Preston Taylor, Pastor of First Baptist Church, led the fellowship in expressing thanks for the meal and the occasion. The food was furnished by individuals from the three sponsoring churches. The table preparations, drinks, cleaning, etc. were all courtesy of the Adult Church School Class of First United Methodist Church. Mr. Orlov closed the meeting with a prayer in Russian, and the Rev. Walter Johnson, Pastor of St. John's Baptist Church, gave the Benediction. Participants agreed that the food and fellowship were enjoyable in themselves, and that the presentation brought to them by Mr. Orlov and Mr. Weston was informative, exciting, and at times, very moving.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Orlov, Mr. Weston, and his friend, Jenny Schwartz, of San Antonio, had attended Sunday School and public workshop at First United Methodist Church. At the service, during the congregational singing of "Amazing Grace" before Holy Communion, Mr. Orlov sang the third stanza as a solo in the words he knew "by heart" in the Russian language.

Mr. Orlov (whose last name means "the eagle") is a lay Baptist Christian who has been studying at the Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky for the last two months. His ticket to American and semester's fees, etc. are all courtesy of Mr. Grainger Weston, a retired American businessman who is now bringing top counselors and therapists to the U.S.S.R. When the two first met, Mr. Orlov viewed "psychology" and "meditation" and things like that as "the work of devil?" He is now learning what American Baptist and other Christians think about those realities and many others.

Many interesting facts were shared during the presentation. The Communists at one time made all the non-Orthodox Christians worship with and "become Baptists." All the other church buildings were shut down. Now, even with glasnost (the new openness or freedom), the churches cannot grow as Americans know growth: the government owns the land and the buildings. Mr. Orlov, whose trade is doing auto body work, has to follow autos and stop and ask potential customers if they'd like his services. There is little or no advertising as we know it in Russia. Michael teaches a 60-80 person church school or inquirer's class each Sunday and gives a lay sermon or witness of 25 minutes during public worship. There they generally have four preachers per service, and each service lasts for several hours. In the Greek Orthodox Church services, persons stand for three hours.

VERA NASH RETIRES

A coffee was held in the offices of the First State Bank, Brackettville on Friday, March 30th in honor of Mrs. Vera Nash. Mrs. Nash has retired from the bank's board of Directors after serving for eighteen years. Donald Ralston, the bank President, stated that the bank had lost a valuable resource with the retirement of Mrs. Nash. Her wisdom and knowledge of the local community will be sorely missed. The bank's board of Directors has elected local businessman Vernon Mears, to replace Mrs. Nash on the board.

Mr. Marle Everett Nash and Mrs. Vera Nash came to Brackettville in 1942 from Uvalde, Texas. They started working at that time for Peterson and Co. They continued to work for Peterson and Co. until they closed in 1956.

In 1957 Vera Nash opened her own store, called "Nash Dry Goods" which is still in operation and going strong today. Mrs. Nash is retired now from the store and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Seargeant is in charge.

Mrs. Nash is certainly a very big part of our community. She might have officially retired but she is still active. She told us tonight that she and Sarah Hoover were going real soon on a big fishing trip. Retirement has its advantages, don't they, Mrs. Nash?

FORT CLARK SPRINGS ANNUAL MEETING

Fort Clark Springs had their annual Meeting last Saturday in Town Hall. Rosetta Pingenot of Fort Clark Springs and John Oliver of Uvalde were elected Association Board Members. They are replacing Emet Huntsman and Molly Ardrey who are retiring from the Board.

Nelda Archer was named "Member of the Year". This honor was well deserved. Nelda has been very active in the community. She is involved with the amphitheatre, is a member of the Architectural Committee and a member of the First United Methodist Church. She is a very talented lady and is called upon quite often for flower arrangements and decorations for many functions.

Nelda, and her husband, Marvin, came from Lake Jackson, Texas in 1982, to retired at Fort Clark Springs. They have been so involved in the community, they really still aren't retired.

Marvin is a retired Commercial Insulator. The Archers have one grown son and no grandchildren yet.

Congratulations, Nelda, on your much deserved award!

SNÖÖPS

Howdy, ya'll!..It shore has been a busy week. Also, if'n in the last "Snoops" column it seemed a bit late, it's because thangs got a bit mixed up, and my article whar lost. No problem, cause it did make it a week later. Sometimes I git so busy, I'm unable ta git the news in by cut off time, and Whal, I heard sumptin on the news today that I questioned as ta beun newsworthy. Sumwhar in Florida, a woman named Sara Sota, was havun trouble with her white socks and they whar a goin ta git people together this spring ta train them. Isn't that trivial? ...The Fort had thar annual meetun Saturday, March 31st, and thar whar a crowd. Molly Ardrey and Emet Huntsman had completed thar terms and down a fine job serv un on the Board, and the new ones ta serve, by a large vote of members, are Rozetta Pingnot, who is a very hard workun gal who is into workun on everythang, and John Oliver, and they whar welcomed with loud applause, are the replacements for the board...Gene Britton gave an excellent report on the progress a goin on at the Fort, and the new manager Mr. Robert Nelson, will be a taken over...Gene's shoes will be hard ta fill, but then, Bob is a very cable gentleman too...Good lock ta ya both...Than, beautiful, talented and extremely busy, Nelda Archer won the person of the year award, and she shore did deserve the title...Congratulations!! Thar whar so many folk thar, but I did git ta meet fur the first time with David and Florence Perry, from Kerrville, and he is now retired from the Real Estate business. They stay in Campers World when they come down, and they whar shore happy with see un all the good changes that have been made on the Fort the past yar....Also, hear tell that Charles and Falba Evans are a goin ta begin a buildin thar house in the "Oaks". They have been a livun at Campers World also. They had a visit from thar dentist son, and his son, and had a great time...Also, the BBQ was a great success. Many from out of town had cum ta the meeting, and then they whar hungrey. Randy and Florene and thar son, Michael Rusch, came in from Comfort, Texas, and she said that they had been a "Honey Dew un" round thar place. Puttun up a wall, and spring plantun of vegetables and flowers. It shud look good and taste good also, in a very short while, since we are at last gittun sum good rains...Also, Mrs. John Dooley sat with her friends, the Postor Roland, and wife, Karen, and young son, Shannon, who shared that a fellar from Russia, Mr. Micael Orlov, was a goin ta be speakun at thar church on April 1st, and that whar no joke...He did speak, and it whar most interestun...He ben a studying fur the past four months at a Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky...A sad note, and he whar so young, jest 48 years old, and that is the loss of our Postmaster, Joe. We give up prayers ta his family at this time...Monday evening, the "Old Quarry Society" had refreshments, and displayed all the pictures and paraphernalia from thar previous happenins, plus they told the good group jest how Marie Curcio had formed the organization, and how she so sweetly prodded them with love ta git the Society whar it is today. These people shore do work hard, and donate thar long hours of thar time ta see that the folk around these parts have a good time. They are a presently a workun on "The Glory Road", which will be presented June 23,29, and 30, 1990, at 8:30 p.m., on the Fort in the Old Quarry theater. Ben Pingnot is well versed in history and is a makun the story more according ta history or like it truly was at that time and that shud make it worthwhile ta see cause it's history about the Fort, with a light story around ta give complete enjoyment. They'll be a auditioning right soon, and need lots of Folk ta hep out...LaShawn is gettun tour groups together from San Antonio and places out from here and givin a package deal which includes dinner and the theater. She is really promotun the Fort, and a doing a great job....Winter Texans are a preparun to git back ta thar summer abodes and we'll miss you wonderful folk. Besure....Git your subscriptions ta the Cavalryman on your "must" list so ya'll know what is a happenun here while you are away. It's only $15.00 a year. Best that money can buy!....A recipe from Marj Love's friend, Helen Peck, who will be heading back ta Wisconsin, April 16th.....

LIBRARY NEWS

By Marjorie Moore
HISTORY OF THE KINNEY COUNTY
PUBLIC LIBRARY..PART THREE

In 1976 Mrs. Goleman was forced by ill health to resign as Librarian of the Kinney County Public Library, and recommended to the County Commissioners that Else Sauer be appointed to succeed her. Miss Sauer accepted the responsibility of Head Librarian, earned certification, and also served without pay. She persuaded the commissioners to purchase a bicentennial flag for the Library and provided speakers for the community through the San Antonio Public Library. As the Library grew in its old frame building, it became necessary to rearrange and to make improvements, including the installation of carpeting. A large number of duplicate copies of books had been acquired, and a large load was given to the young Quemado Library.

County Judge Tommy Seargeant, assisted by Judge Albert Postell and others, applied for and secured a number of Federal grants for Kinney County, including one for a new Library building. An architect was employed, plans were drawn, the foundation poured, and the walls went up. Unfortunately, the contractor was unable to complete the handsome new building, the bondsman defaulted, and the work on the building came to a standstill.

In 1977 Mrs. Goldman's health improved and she was able to return to the Library to assist Miss Sauer. Litigation came to an end, and Al Pagel volunteered to supervise the completion of the new building. Funds were needed for the Library equipment. Young ranchers, including the Frerichs, the Wardlaws, and the Baders, provided a barbecue at Las Moras Springs, and the Friends of the Library raised $700. Rozetta Pingnot organized another barbecue, assisted by many friends, sold tickets at $25. per plate, and raised more than $7,000. Ill health and passing years again forced Mrs. Goleman to retire, this time permanently, and Miss Sauer was becoming eager to be free to resume her favorite pastime, traveling.

In 1983, as the Library's beautiful new home neared completion, a campaign was launched by the community to persuade the Commissioners to include in their budget funds for a paid Librarian. Charlotte Corey was hired, and books and shelving were moved to the new building. A big Open House, coordinated by Pat and Don Parks assisted by others, honored our retired volunteer Librarians, Charlotte Goleman and Else Sauer, and the community celebrated the occupation of our present Library. Our handsome glass and stone Library, made possible by the untiring efforts and hard work of many volunteers, contributes much toward making our community a desirable place for children, newcomers, and all to live.

BISD TRUSTEES EMPLOY NEW HEAD FOOTBALL COACH/ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

In a special meeting that began on March 27, 1990 and ended at 7:15 p.m. on March 28, 1990 the Brackett Independent School District Boars of Trustees interviewed five outstanding applicants and unanimously agreed to employ Steven Kolb in the position of head coach and athletic director. The vote was unanimous to offer Mr. Kolb a two year contract at 207 days.

The Board also approved bringing the new coach to Brackett on April 16, 1990 providing that he could be released from his coaching duties. Bob McCall, superintendent for the district, indicated that this would give Mr. Kolb a head start in preparing his coaching staff and student athletes for the coming year.

Mr. Kolb and his wife Staci will be moving to Brackett with two young children, Jase and Blake, ages one and four years. Mr. Kolb has been head football coach and athletic director at Lubbock Cooper for the past four years. He played football at TCU under F.A.
