Dr. Agustin Luz presented Senator Judith Zaffirini with flowers for coming to visit and speak and for all the support she has given to the Health related programs.

ZAFFIRINI SPEAKS AT UMC RETREAT

The United Medical Centers held their annual retreat at Fort Clark Springs this past Friday with approximately 115 employees and invited guests participating.

Senator Judith Zaffirini was the principal guest speaker. Senator Zaffirini is on the Health and Human Services Committee which addresses health programs such as W.I.C., Family Planning, and many others. In addition to her duties in the Texas Senate, Senator Zaffirini is an educator, wife and mother. She is a member of such Senate Committees as Education, Health & Human Services, and Natural Resources and she is the Chairperson for the Senate Subcommittee on Child Abuse. She is also on the Task Force for State and Local Drug Control and the Executive Committee of the Texas Office of Prevention of Developmental Disabilities. Senator Zaffirini was presented with flowers by Dr. Agustin Luz in gratitude for speaking to the retreat and for all the support she has given to health related programs.

Ms. Joan Mueller, R.N., Project Director, Public Health Service, DHHS, from Dallas addressed the U.M.C. group on the Public Health Service's expectations regarding the issue of Quality of Care.

Dr. Jim Jorganson from the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, Department of Microbiology, was also a guest speaker. He provided an update on resistance to antibiotic therapy.

A "Burnout and Stress Management" program was presented by Carolyn Reed, Ph.D, Clinical Psychologist from the Rivercrest Hospital in San Angelo, Texas. She was accompanied by her husband, Dr. Wilton Reed, who is the Chief of Staff and Medical Director of the Chemical Dependency Unit at Rivercrest Hospital.

Dr. Douglas Miller, Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, spoke to the doctors and pharmacists on "The Treatment of Myocardial Infarction" and "The Treatment of Angina."

Mrs. Patricia O'Shea reviewed and discussed principles of confidentiality in the health care field.

Fort Clark Springs catered some very delicious food for the gathering. U.M.C. would like to thank Fort Clark Springs for all their help in making this retreat a success. The treatment received and all the services provided by the Fort were excellent.

E & R FLOWERS -- NEW BUSINESS

We wish to welcome a new business to Brackettville. E & R FLOWERS is located on Spring street next to THE KINNEY CAVALRYMAN.

Martha Aguirre Tovar studied the flower trade in Monterrey, Mexico and has twenty years experience in floral arrangements both fresh and silk. Owners and designers, Martha and son Eloy, create original floral arrangements for weddings, funerals, and all occasions. They rent arches & etc. for the decoration of churches and reception halls. There is a wide selection of silk flowers in inventory. Martha says later she will have fresh flowers in stock but for now they will be by order only.

Martha says she will make "Mums" especially for the "TIGERS".

The open house date will be announced later with free carnations for all. So come by, see the beautiful flowers and welcome Martha, Eloy and their business to our beautiful and friendly City of Brackettville.

The Buffalo Hunters came to the grassy plains that extended from the foothills of the Rocky Mountains to the Texas Panhandle and to the eastern part of Oklahoma. This land was covered with nutritious buffalo grass.

For centuries this had been the home of the countless thousands of buffalo. Up to five million buffalo grazed here in summer and in winter. The hunters killed the buffalo for their hides alone. The hides were sent east to be made into lap robes and strong belts to be used in factories.

From 1872 to 1874 a half million hides were shipped east on the Santa Fe Railroad. From 1871 to 1887 six million hides were shipped from Dodge City alone. By 1886 the Buffalo were gone, only a few were left.

Thousands of round sunken areas could still be seen on the plains twenty to thirty feet in diameter and one to two feet deep. These filled with water when it rained and were filled with sand when it didn't. Buffalo rolled in them and covered themselves with sand or mud to get rid of the fleas and flies. They were called buffalo wallows.

After the Civil War, Texas rounded up their wild long horn cattle and shipped them on the railroad. Some of the Buffalo hunters became cattlemen and shipped cattle to the rich pastures of the Plains. The cattle trails the cut can still be seen in places in Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas. Thousands of head of cattle went over these old trails carving them wide and deep.

REFLECTIONS

BY REV. PRESTON TAYLOR FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

What's a good time to plant a garden? Most of us answer with one word, "Spring," and yet, everyone plants and sows all year long. A farmer, rancher, or forester may plant grain seed, tree seedling, or vegetable seed. Each expects a harvest.

Paul talks about planting and harvest time. He says, "Whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap." Even as there is a law relating to plant life, there is also a law which relates to spiritual life.

Law number one is that a person reaps what he sows. Plant a grain of corn and a corn stalk will come up and later produces two or three ears of corn, or at least a few "nubbins."

If a person plants or sows seeds of criticism, doubt, hate, love, friendship, lies, deception, or any number of other "seed," that kind of plant will come from the seed. Wheat always produces wheat. Turnip seed never produces kidney beans. Seeds of hate do not produce love. You get what you sow.

Law number two is that one reaps later than he sows. It takes time for seed to germinate and come up. The moisture in the ground effects the time element, but seed generally take a week or more to sprout and start popping through the ground.

Seeds of affection, compassion, patience, or those of despair and revenge may produce slowly or as quick as a flash. Some seed may be dormant for a long time, but when the conditions get right the seed we sow will produce.

Law number three says that one reaps or harvest more that he plants. The rancher who sows a ton of grass or grain seed expects a big yield. One cotton seed can produce a stalk with 100 bowls of cotton.

A half dozen words of criticism or hate can cause havoc and chaos. A few ill-advised words can result in war and bloodshed. Good, gracious words can build fellowship and good relationships.

You are planting and sowing seeds today. The truth remains: harvest time depends on the kind of seed you plant each day.

ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY

TEXAS TO PRESENT ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY FOR TEACHERS' ADVANCED ACADEMIC ACCREDITATION

In a major move to support the use of television in the classroom, the Texas Education Agency has designated ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY for accredited Advanced Academic Training (AAT) for teachers. Setting a national precedent for the use of television in the classroom, this is the only television initiative application that has ever been sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA), and will serve as a model for future television teaching tools. Recently passed state legislation has made the effective use of technology an additional criterion for school accreditation.

The state of Texas' initiatives are closely watched and widely copied by other state school districts. Texas has the second largest population of teachers, after California. Virtually every Texas educator attends AAT courses as part of the State's career ladder program, which uses monetary and career-status rewards to encourage teachers to advance their skills as educators.

Olivia "Ollie" Besteiro, President of TSTA, said, "ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY is a resource that fits the requirements of educators in all curriculum areas. It fills a need for quality programming that will go hand-in-hand with our core curriculum."

The new course, called "Television as a Teaching Tool," utilizes ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY programming and support materials as a primary part of the approved training workshop that demonstrates general principles of using video in the classroom. Teachers who take the course will receive six credit hours toward their career ladder training.

"It is important to teach educators how to use television effectively," said Nancy Stover, Discovery's Vice President of Education Services. "We applaud Texas for recognizing the importance of the use of television in the classroom and are proud to be part of the Advanced Academic Training program. This move is an affirmation of the quality and value of ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY to all teachers at all grade levels and curriculum areas."

ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY airs from 9:00-10:00 AM (ET) each weekday, targeting a different curriculum topic each day of the week. Monday focuses on Science and Technology, Tuesday on Social Studies, Wednesday on Natural Science, Thursday on Arts and Humanities, and Friday on World Events and Contemporary Issues. ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY's programs are designed for teachers to use in conjunction with their planned curriculum. They are edited for student viewing, and air without any commercial interruptions. Copyrights for all programs have been cleared for a full year so that teachers can tape and use the programs when they fit into their lesson plans.

ASSIGNMENT DISCOVERY is the recent winner of three prestigious awards: a 1990 National Education Association Award for the Advancement of Learning Through Broadcasting; an Award of Merit, as one of the Top 100 Products of the Year for 1990, from Curriculum Product News; and a Bronze Apple Award from the Educational Film and Video Festival.

TEXAS HONORS
JOB TRAINING ALUMNI

Nineteen months ago, Shene St. Simone was unemployed, living in a halfway house, and trying to stay off drugs and alcohol. Today she has a good job, her own apartment and is helping counsel others who want a better way of life. She and four former job training participants shared their success stories at an evening reception honoring alumni from statewide Job Training Partnership Act programs. The reception, sponsored by the Texas Department of Commerce, was held on August 14, 1990 in San Antonio at the Plaza San Antonio. Graduates from many of the Service Delivery Areas were also present to mark the achievements of each locally run job training program. All received certificates from the Governor's office and recognition from the Texas Congressional delegation.

Other participants included members of the Texas legislature, the State Job Training Coordinating Council, the Texas Department of Commerce board of directors, and Service Delivery Area representatives.

This special occasion was the opener for National JTPA Week, August 27th - September 3, recognizing the success among the graduates of JTPA programs nationwide. The mission of the Texas Department of Commerce is to encourage a climate that will stimulate business and other economic activities resulting in the retention and creation of jobs for Texas residents.

Pictured above is Firefighter Ruben Buentello. Ruben has been a resident of Brackettville for some 24 years. He has been employed by the Brackettville Independent School District since 1973.

Ruben joined the Brackettville Volunteer Fire Department in August of 1987. He has the best attendance at both meetings, fires and any other fire department activity. Ruben always participates in our training drills and demonstrations. Ruben has taken a week of this vacation time, three years in a row to go to Texas A & M for the Annual Firefighter Training School.

Ruben has acquired the following certificates.

- Fire Fighter I, Texas A & M
- Fire Fighter II, Texas A & M
- Fire Fighter III, Texas A & M

Ruben has nearly enough hours for basic certification from the Texas State Firemen and Firemarshals Association, which requires 162 hours of training.

This man is dedicated to providing a vital community service and is a valuable asset to the Fire Department.

AAM DENOUNCES FARM BILL

American Agriculture Movement (AAM) National President Harvey Joe Sanner announced today that even though there were some very good aspects to the 1990 Farm Bill, the bad far outweighed the good and he and his organization, after much deliberation, would not support the bill.

"Congress sent a loud and clear message to the trade negotiators at the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)," said Sanner "that we are not buying what they are selling. The 1990 Farm Bill should have made it evident to Secretary Yeutler and Trade Representative Hills that the United States Congress still writes the laws in this country."

Sanner went on to address another positive perspective of the bill saying, "Our lawmakers were not deceived by those who would label farm program as welfare programs. That is why they defeated measures like the Arney-Schumer and Reid amendments which, if passed, would have excluded many of our full time producers from the farm programs. I was also pleased to see the peanut program remained intact. It is one of the few programs that work well for farmers and consumers. I wish some of our other commodity programs were written and administered as well as the peanut program. The sugar program was another survivor, despite intense pressure from the administration to kill it."

"But when you add it all up," Sanner remarked, "it means less money in farmers pockets. Congress seems content to extend the windfall for food processors and grain traders while denying parity to producers. That being the case there is no way we as a farm organization, representing every day, full time, family farmers can, support such a bill."

AAM National Director, David Senter, expanded by saying, "The Farm Bill as it has been passed out of both the Senate and the House does nothing to preserve farm income, much less improve it. America's farmers need a fair price at the market place, and this bill ignores that fundamental need. Congress has chosen to ignore what farmers all over the nation demanded during all of the field hearings. Farmers expressed their need for higher prices at every stage of the farm bill debate."

Senter went on to comment on the politics of the process. "Even though there were true champions of rural America that stood up for and fought for farmers and consumers, they did not prevail. This farm bill is nothing more than the 'Green Book' revisited," he said referring to the administration's farm bill proposal. "In fact, it is getting harder and harder to recognize Democratic farm policy from that of the Republicans," he added. There is essentially no difference, and therefore no alternatives."

Sanner declared, "After much consideration and debate, we have no choice. Farmers have not been misled by the vicious campaign of rhetoric and misinformation orchestrated by the administration. This bill will put hundreds of thousands of this nation's farmers off the land over the next five years. We can not support such an attack on America's farmers, therefore, we have made the decision not to support the bill, nor will we be upset if it draws a veto."

Back-to-School

Riding the School Bus

Although school buses are much safer than family cars, statistics indicate that 40 students die and 7,000 are injured each year in school bus accidents. The majority of these accidents occur outside the bus, when students are boarding or exiting.

- Have your child wait for the bus to stop completely, then board carefully, using the handrail.
- Tell your children to take their seat quickly and stay in that seat for the entire ride — never putting head, arms or hands out the window.
- Teach your children to cross at least 10 feet in front of the bus so the driver can see them.

If you need more information about head injury and rehabilitation, call the New Medico Head Injury System at 1-800-CARE TBI, ext. 3070.

PUBLIC MEETING ON DRAFT OF TEXAS WATER PLAN

AUSTIN (July 27, 1990) -- The Texas Water Development Board announces public meetings to be held in San Antonio on August 22, 1990. Any interested persons are urged to attend and provide written and/or oral comments on the draft Texas Water Plan Update for 1990, which has recently been completed. This is one of a series of regional meetings across the state to receive comments on the draft plan.

State law directs the Executive Administrator of the Board to prepare and maintain a comprehensive water plan for the orderly development and management of the state's water resources in order that sufficient water will be available at a reasonable cost, to further the economic development of the entire state.

Plan development began in the spring of 1989 when the Board conducted 28 meetings across the state to receive public comments on the Board's projections of population and water needs. The draft Plan projects an annual state-wide water demand of about seven trillion gallons by the year 2040, to meet the needs of Texas' population which is projected to increase from about sixteen million in 1985 to thirty-five million persons in 2040.

To meet these increasing needs for water, the Board is recommending phased-in conservation initiatives that can reduce water usage by as much as one trillion gallons annually by the year 2040, along with the development of new surface water supplies, including thirteen new surface water reservoirs, four salinity control projects, reallocation and modification of existing reservoir storage, and twenty-nine major water conveyance systems. Also recommended is a more intensive re-use of water.

The following features of the draft Plan will be of particular interest to the South Central Texas region.

This Region consists of 48 counties located in portions of the Nueces, San Antonio, Colorado, and Guadalupe River Basin, see the attached map. In 1980, the regional population totaled 2.16 million people, with Bexar and Travis Counties accounting for more than 65 percent of the total. Currently, the regional population is estimated at 2.87 million residents and is projected to range between 5.6 and 7.1 million residents by the year 2040.

Currently, the total annual water use of the region is estimated at almost 514,000 million gallons with the two major water uses being for irrigation and municipal purposes. Municipal water requirements are projected to be almost 62 percent of total water use by 2040.

The San Antonio area is and will continue to be highly dependent upon ground water from the Edwards Aquifer since it is the sole water supply for over one million people and their economy. To assure that an adequate water supply is available to meet all of the future needs of the area requires "wise" management policy for the Edwards Aquifer must involve all area agencies, cities, and water users working together to develop water supply alternatives that will fit the water needs of the area.

Approximately $2.2 billion would be required for identified water and wastewater infrastructure in the South Central Texas Region within the next ten years and an estimated $4.3 billion within the 40 years that follow.

A significant feature of the 1990 draft Water Plan Update is an emphasis on the maintenance of adequate in-stream flows to support Texas' abundant and varied fish and wildlife population, and to supply the fresh water needs of bays and estuaries along the Texas coast.

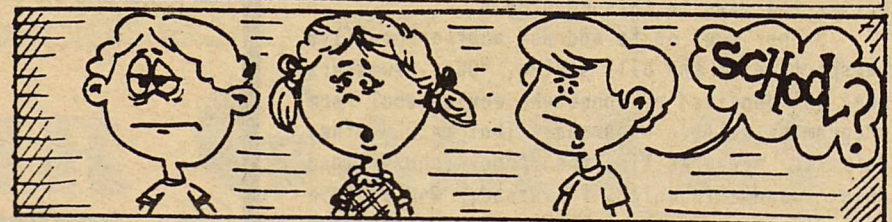

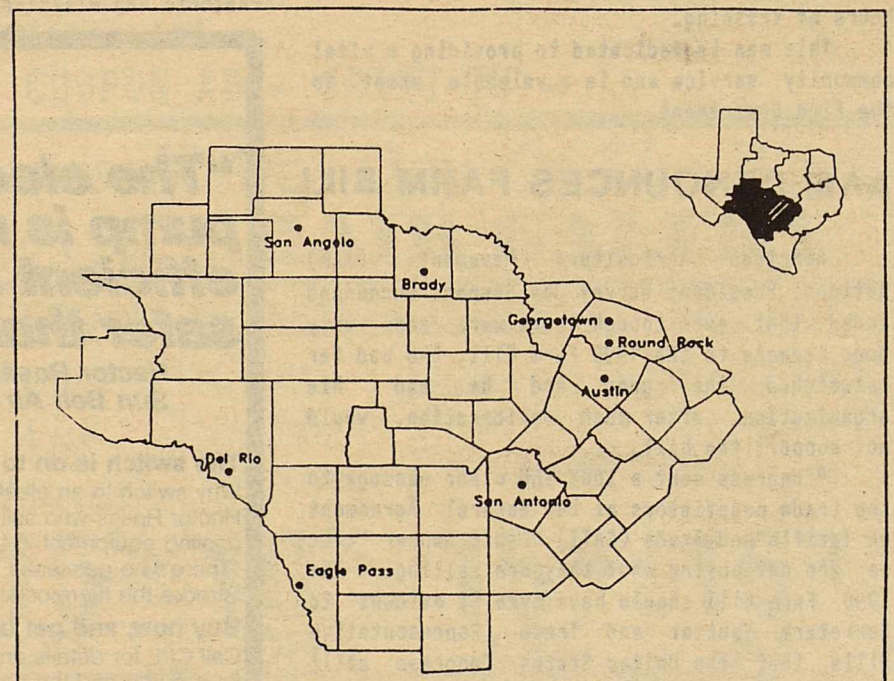

The draft Plan projects the need for an investment of over $37 billion by the state's 2,400+ utilities for water and wastewater facilities, and an additional $1.9 billion to address those flood protection needs which have been quantified to date.

The draft Plan also proposes a number of policy initiatives, on the following subjects:

1. Efficiency and management of available water resources.
2. Protection of our water supplies for future generation.
3. Continuing investment in water resources as federal funding for these purposes decreases.
4. Education so that Texans can learn more about our water resources.

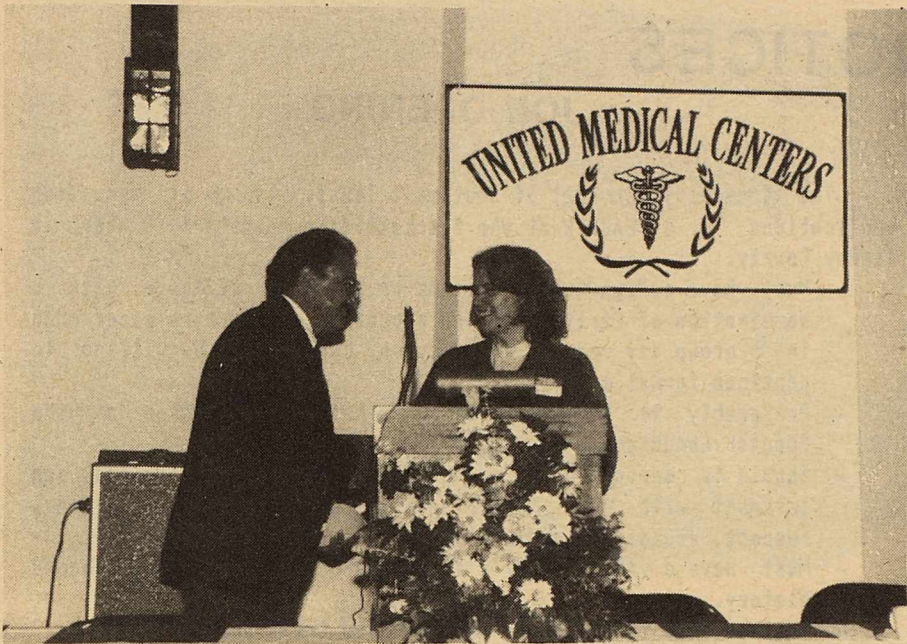

The meetings, scheduled for 3p.m. at the University of Texas at San Antonio and 7p.m. at the Institute of Texas Cultures Auditorium are designed to receive input to the draft Texas Water Plan Update. Copies of the draft Plan are available from river authorities and other major water suppliers in the state, as well as at most public libraries. Written comments on the draft Water Plan will be received through September 14, 1990. After that, the Plan will be revised as necessary to respond to public comments, considered by the Texas Water Development Board for adoption late this year, and presented to the legislature in January, 1991.

OLD ARMY DAYS
BY WALLACE MORGAN

This photo dates some time after the end of World War I. The exact date and location of "The Farewell Review" is unknown, but it is typical of what happens when a large scale war is over. The opinion of the experts, who should know, and the politicians, who want to spend the defense dollars for projects other than a large enough military force to keep us from having to worry about future wars, is to cut back in large numbers all the unnecessary soldiers.

After World War I, our forces seemed to get smaller and smaller. One of the money-saving avenues was to stop production of tanks, which had made their debut on the battlefields of Europe to good advantage. The U.S. Forces had used practically no horse cavalry in Europe due to the military decision that it would be worthless in view of the great use of fully automatic weapons and aircraft. However, it was a great money saving method to maintain regiments of horse cavalry in lieu of tanks and other armored vehicles. Just prior to World War II the thinking of the experts started changing again and horse cavalry regiments were turning into armored units.

When the United States was attacked at Pearl Harbor, we had to build our defensive forces for quite a while before we were able to win battles. We suffered some terrible casualties until we had enough strength to match the enemy. After World War II, the process of elimination of our defensive forces started up just like after World War I. Several years, later when we got involved in Korea, it was necessary to send reservists into battle. A great number of these reservists had spent quite a bit of their training time watching World War II training films and were really unprepared to go into battle. Reservists now receive excellent training. We took a lot of hits during the beginning of the Korean Police Action.

When it was decided that the "Cold War" was over, the thinking of the experts again turned to large scale deactivation of our defensive forces. However, before our forces could be cut, another potential enemy bobbed up and these same forces scheduled for deactivation (the 2nd Armored Division of Fort Hood, Texas) were needed to be sent to Saudi Arabia.

Military tactics in history, even from ages ago, have been found to be repetitious throughout all warfare to some degree and probably will continue to be so. Unfortunately, the decisions of trimming defensive forces after wars have been repetitious and will probably continue. So, the military will possibly continue to hold "The Farewell Review" after our wars are ended.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus, be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever, Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us.

St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us.

St. Jude, help of the helpless situations, pray for us.

say this prayer 9 times a day for 8 days and then publish. Your prayer will be answered. It has never been know to fail. Publication must be promise.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Brackett Independent School District will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1989 by 24.90 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on Thursday, August 23, 1990, at 6:30 p.m. in the High School Library.

FOR the proposal: Jimmy Bader, Zack Davis, Jewel Robinson, Eloy Garcia, Beth Ann Smith, Jim McDaniel

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

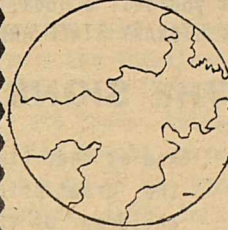

ABSENT: Diane Bravo

The statement above shows the percentage increase in proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on August 2, 1990. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average Home Value	$ 20,185	$ 20,183
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$ 5,000	$ 5,000
Average Taxable Value	$ 15,185	$ 15,183
Tax Rate	.8571	1.04 Proposed
TAX	$ 130.15	$ 157.90 Proposed

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $27.75 or 21.32 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.1829 per $100 of taxable value or 21.34 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

This week's article ties in with the previously written on on types of fencing materials to be used around your home landscape. As with the fences, it is best to evaluate your own family's needs and what role a patio or porch will serve in your landscape.

There are two things that you cannot overlook in your selection of a surface: the surface needs to look good and it needs to be safe. It can be fun to plan the design but make sure it will not be slippery during wet or icy weather.

Concrete is the most common patio or walk surface. It is often unimaginative when it's massed in large squares. But, it does have advantages. It's quick and it's permanent. It can also be finished smooth for areas that are not going to be wet or broom-finished before it dries, to put a thread surface into it.

Exposed aggregate concrete is formed in the same way as plain concrete, but small pea gravel is embedded in its surface just as it begins to set. Once it had dried, the surface is acid-washed to give it a bright clean look. Exposed aggregate surfaces are natural looking and have the convenience of concrete. They blend well with plantings. They are not, however, good do-it-yourself projects unless you have some skill at finishing gravel surfaces.

Brick pavers, are probably the third most common walk and patio surface. There are many colors available, so you can achieve almost any landscape look you desire.

Should you ever have to work under them, you can quickly lift them up, then replace them. This is a fun project for do-it-yourselfers. A little more care is required when installing them in heavy traffic areas like driveways and parking areas.

Decking is very popular. It's natural and can easily compensate for unlevel terrain changes. In fact, decks really look the part when there is some variation in the terrain. Redwood or treated pine last best, both holding up to rain and other abuse for decades. A deck must be securely attached and be sure the exposed portions that contact the ground are treated for termites. Coat the wood with a protective stain or clear sealant once it has aged and dried somewhat, usually six to eight weeks after it's built.

Flagstoned surfaces are beautiful and they are the ultimate in a natural look. It is easy to have an uneven, sloppy surface if care is not taken when they are laid.

It takes a great deal of time and patience to lay a good flagstoned surface. It needs to go over a bed of brick sand. You can then fill in the crack with pea gravel or mortar to hold the stones in place.

Flagstones are particularly appropriate for garden pathways into the landscape or through the woods. Quarried stone can be beautiful, particularly if large pieces are used as walks through groundcover and perennial beds.

Which ever type you used, it will look attractive once you get it installed in your landscape. It will also create an exciting new, fresh look to you landscape. For more information, you can contact the county extension office located on the second floor of the county courthouse.

LIBRARY NEWS

Hey Kids! Be sure to bring your reading lists to the library before August 25th so you can be in on the contest for TOP READER in our summer reading contest.

We wish to thank Mr. & Mrs. Claude Owen, Dr. Harber, Jean Seargeant, and Inez Hutchison for donating books to the Library. Mr. & Mrs. "Batch" Batchelor purchased books for the library in honor of the fiftieth anniversary for Tom and Dot Burrows and Buckles on their Fiftieth!!! We wish to thank Rory Woodson who again donated videos to the Library. We now have HONEY, I SHRUNK THE KIDS and WHO FRAMED ROGER RABBIT, Thanks to Rory.

We have had four people contact us to volunteer for our shelf inventory project. We will be starting in about two weeks and we could use more people. If you have an evening or some time on a Saturday free, let us know when and we will call you to come on down and join us. It will be fun but will accomplish so much in making our Library more functional and efficient. CALL US NOW.... 563-2884 !!!!!!!!!!!!!

Again, Teachers, if we can assist you in providing outside reading or research topics and information for your students, please let us know. We want to work cooperatively to provide the best for our children and their educations.

Remember, we're cool and friendly at the Library. Come on down, cool off, visit, and get yourself a book!! We'd love to see you !!! THE LIBRARY STAFF AND VOLUNTEERS !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

THE SIGNS OF THE TIMES

"And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book."
(Daniel 12:1)

Two thousand six hundred years ago, Daniel was given a vision of our time today. He saw a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation. Global war could break out at any time: troops are in place to start a war that will be a WAR OF WARS.

Yes, there is coming a TIME OF TROUBLE, such as has never been since the beginning of time. Daily watching the television reports of the troop build-up in the Middle East stops the mouth of anyone who tries to say that nothing is happening. America is not "just taking precautionary measures!" The world is daily seeing the prophecy of Daniel come into focus before our very eyes.

For the wicked of the world, this is surely a "gloom and doom" message. However, for the saints of God who are looking for his appearing, it is a time to rejoice for "---your redemption draweth nigh." (Luke 21:28) As Daniel foresaw, there is coming a time of great trouble like this earth has never seen. However, through it all, the Lord will deliver EVERY ONE THAT SHALL BE FOUND WRITTEN IN THE BOOK.

If you are troubled in your spirit about what is taking place in these days, and you fear and wonder about what is to come, then the Lord is surely calling you to draw closer to Him, and to put all your trust in Him for the dark days ahead. The only way to escape the wrath of God is to make certain your name is recorded in the "Lamb's book of life." (Rev. 21:27) To do this, you must be "born again." (John 3:3) If your trust is in a church, a priest, a preacher, or a denomination, or anything other than Jesus Christ, your faith will be easily shaken. But, if you have put your trust and your LIFE in Jesus Christ by forsaking your sins, the future is bright for you, and you have nothing to fear.

Jesus said, "And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." (Matt. 10:28) Have you forsaken your sins? Are you washed in the blood of the Lamb? There is only one escape for the wrath to come, and that is through the blood of Jesus Christ.

Remember: "And there shall in no wise enter into it (Heaven) any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life." (Rev. 21:27)

In Christs Service,

DRIVING MISS DAISY

They couldn't agree. They wouldn't give in. They thought they had nothing in common. But in the years they spent together they built the friendship of a lifetime.

Morgan Freeman, Jessica Tandy and Dan Aykroyd star in Driving Miss Daisy, the joyous comedy about a headstrong Southern lady and her ever-patient chauffeur that won Academy Awards for Best Picture, Best Actress (Tandy), Adaptation Screenplay and Makeup.

BORN ON THE FOURTH OF JULY

Tom Cruise delivers a riveting and unforgettable portrayal of Vietnam veteran Ron Kovic in Oliver Stone's Academy Award winning masterpiece.

Based on a true story, the acclaimed film follows the young Kovic from a zealous teen who eagerly volunteers for the vietnam War, to an embittered veteran paralyzed from the mid-chest down.

Deeply in love with his country, Kovic returned to an environment vastly different from the one he left, and struggled before emerging as a brave new voice for the disenfranchised.

Kin ya'll imagine? I ben a sittun meself all around these parts jest a havun a good time of it...I felt that if Sara Hoover could get herself around tah havun fun, then I'd do the same.

Sorry to hav missed being with ya'll until now, but here goes...Fort has been busy with guests of all the folks comun ta visit and all... The Schafer's had a fantastic family reunion...I war a speekun ta the lovely Bobbie Schafer, and she gave me the followun details - She said that they whar all decendants of "Maximilian" and Francisca Schafer and they had furst, second, and third cousins and thar families from places like Austin, Houston, La Coste, Texas and Shreveport, Louisiana, and along with Richard and Bobbie, of Brackettville whar, along with thar families, the Mrs Henry Schafers of San Antonio, Michael Wards of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Mary Millers of San Antonio, the Martin Schafers of El Paso, and Wanda Elbels of Bergheim, Texas, Wm Schafers, Jr. of El Paso, Herman Clark Schafers of Del Rio, and thar is always someone to git things put ta gether, and that whar lovely Betty Mozisek of San Antonio, who whar in charge...These folk had an eatun good time. Breakfast, then lunch at Las Moras Inn, then the Inn prepared the most delicious picnic lunch which whar served by the pool. Bobbie said the food was, "out of this world."...These fine folk had fun a chawun and rememberin the past, and some played pool and swam, and others played golf...They did have a fine time. And ah thank ye Bobbie fur all the info...And then, thar whar the "50th" wedding anniversary fer Ron and his pixie bride, Lorene Buckles. Thar family and grandchildren whar all thar but seems that a couple had to be missun because thay whar over a takun care of our situation in the middle east...Believe they had seventeen family members present. Ron whar shore havun fun, but said they couldn't have these too often as they are costly...And plus family, the place whar packed with so many friends, as this whar an open invitation ta everyone on the Fort. If you did not come, you missed a good time, and the best food ever. I heard tell that Rosilie Boysen baked all the cakes and did the special "Bride and Groom" cake with all of the lovely decorations. And did ya notice the "Can" cake? Thar whar 50 cans painted gold and even with the pull tabs a dangelun. This Rosalie worked herself ta a frazzel, but bless her gracious heart, she loves doing things fer others ta make them happy. Then another cute thing, and they were created by our own Nelda Archer, and that whar the flower arrangements. She took two kinds of squash and made vases of them and in the arrangements she included mushrooms. As candle holders she topped a green and a red bellpepper and put candles in them. We are blessed with some of the finest talent on this Fort...Thanks ta all you fine folks who helped make this occasion the best...Then from the winter Texans, heard tell that Howard Peck finally had hip surgery and it whar successful, and that Lee and Eleanor Herron whar a visitun the Pecks in Wisconsin along with others that my informant said whar thar also, but she couldn't find Helen Peck's letter jest then, so I cain't tell ya more than

I have...Then, seems that among others a travelun, the Conreys, Bob and Kathy, and also at a different time, the Hirschs, Dick and Huguette, all went ta "Cloudcraft," New Mexico and while in the area visited the Schroeders and Sartwells. They have been in and out jest a havun fun...Heard that some cousins of Frank and Doris Eckenroth, somewhar I believe from Denmark...they whar all out a playun golf on Monday...Then at the First Baptist Church on Sunday evening, Dan Shi, and the Templeton Sisters had a wonderful singun good time, and the many folks attending felt they had a real blessing especially by the songs written and sung by Dan Shi. You haven't heard these young folk? Then be sure ta attend the program being held on the Fort, August 25th, in the Quarry Theater. If'n ya'll git your tickets early, ya'll save a dollar a ticket than if you purchase them at the gate...If'n ya ever spent time at Alamo Village over the past couple of yars, ya whar shore ta have met Mel Green, who is leaving us on the 15th for Independence, MO...A faraewell party whar given Sunday evening out at the Alamo Village and so many of Mel's friends whar thar. We'll miss ya Mel, and come back and see us...Hear tell that Don and Phyllis Herron are a comun in from Montana fer a day or two and then on ta Florida...Also, that Wally and Margaret Cooper of Richardson, Texas will be here fer the Wednesday Pot-Luck dinner...This Fort is really goin ta be a hoppun'...The Earl and Marjorie Loves have ben a flittun around too. They saw "Texas" the 25th showun in Palo Duro Canyon and it whar spectacular. They said even if you have seen it in the past, it is a must, as people who had seen it and were there didn't even recognize it other than the major theme and some of the cast, but so much more has been added. The Love's also had a very enjoyable time during their visit with Randy and Florine Rusch in Comfort, Texas. The Rusch's took the Loves all over the beautiful Hill Country and they enjoyed the many lakes and rivers and "Mancies" (spelling may be wrong) but the Chinese restaurant in Kerrville. They ate there twice because the food was so good. The Ruschs also are Fort members. Jest so much a go un on and if you have a bit of news ta share, call Sara at 3-2991 and she'll pass it on ta me. Tata fer now and stay in good health. "Snoops"

TEXAS WATER BOARD

The six-member Texas Water Development Board meets monthly to consider requests for financial assistance to build water supply, wastewater treatment (sewage), flood control, and municipal solid waste, Funds for these projects are provided from bond proceeds obtained from the sale of Texas Water Development Bonds which are secured by the full faith and credit of the state. Successful applicants meet criteria which show their ability to repay the loan. These loans are evidenced by the Board's purchase of the applicants' bonds.

Since 1957, five constitutional amendments have been approved authorizing the Texas Water Development Board to issue up to $2,680,000,000 in Texas Water Development bonds to be used to finance water-related projects in Texas. To date the Board has sold $895,190,000 in bonds for such projects.

The Board also operates the State Water Pollution Control Revolving Fund (State Revolving Fund) from which low interest loans can be made for the construction of eligible treatment facilities as authorized by the Federal Clean Water Act of 1987. In March 1988, the Board received its first federal capitalization grant of $105,000,000 which made $1426,000,000 available for loans after a required 20% state match was provided. If federal appropriations continue to be made as authorized in the Clean Water Act through the end of the capitalization period in 1994, the SRF should make available about $644,700,000 for the construction of publicly owned treatment works.

Although financing is the Board's most visible responsibility, the Texas Water Development Board has the additional responsibility for forecasting and planning to meet the state's water needs for the next 50 years. An executive summary of the state's plan, called WATER FOR TEXAS, provides an overview of the state's water needs relative to ground water, surface water, bays & estuaries, and municipal and agricultural water conservation. Copies of this summary are available by writing the Board.

The Board approves planning grants to study local area water quality problems and water needs in order to provide for the orderly development and management of the state's water resources. It also has an active program to encourage statewide water conservation.

As a result of its responsibility for planning, the Board has acquired on of the state's most complete collections of natural resources and socio-economic data. This information, along with a complete set of quadrangle maps, aerial photos, and Landsat satellite coverage of the state is available from the Texas Natural Resources Information System.

Board members represent a cross-section of the state, are appointed by the Governor and serve six-year terms. The Board meets the third Thursday of each month, usually in Austin. The Board's staff, which numbers almost 250, is located in the Stephen F. Austin Building in Austin.

NOTE::: The Texas Water Development Board is often confused with the Texas Water Commission. The Texas Water Commission is the state agency responsible for the regulatory functions associated with the state's water resources, including permits, enforcement, water rights, and rates. The Texas Water Commission also regulates the management of hazardous and solid waste spills and disposal.
