Senior Citizens' Center nears completion

by Cavalryman Correspondent

The result of a County Commissioner's dream, perseverance, and dedication combined with a young County Judge's commitment and excellent leadership is, soon to be, a reality as the Senior Citizen Center is nearing completion.

Construction on the Center is right on schedule, according to court appointed superintendent, Dan Woods. After serving as a building inspector for the city of Corpus Christi for 30 years, it is no surprise to see Woods in the enviable position of being right on target. The Commissioners Court can give themselves a well deserved "pat on the back" for their choice of leadership on this most important project.

Shortly after Rose Mary Slubar was elected into office as Commissioner of precinct 2 some four years ago, she immediately embarked on a plan to, either improve the old Nutrition Center or construct a new one. She possessed a special kind of foresight that enabled her to foresee a future problem with the growth of the Nutrition program and the facility that was presently housing it. She attacked the problem, with compassion for our senior citizen population, which was growing by leaps and bounds, and a sincere dedication seldom seen in this area. She was confronted by snags and some opposition but she continued her pursuit for this worthy cause. Finally, after a state grant was attained and a long list of bids on the construction was completed, the project got under way.

After leaving office in 1991, Ms. Slubar's project was reviewed by the new Commissioners Court and under the level headed and expert leadership of newly elected Judge, Tim Ward, work has continued on the Senior Citizen Center.

Superintendent Woods was approached earlier this week and a tour of the new facility was requested. He responded with a shy grin of satisfaction that clearly spelled the success of the project he was overseeing.

Since the Center is not yet finished, an individual has to call on his imagination in order to truly appreciate the new building in it's completed stage.

As you walk in the front door you will be greeted by a staff of workers employed by the Kinney County Aging Program. On your right, under a beautiful white archway, you will find Maryn Caton, receptionist and clerk for the Center. She will answer any questions a person might have in regards to joining the program and participating in the meals. If you happen to be lucky, you possibly might find Tencha Pena, the Director of the Kinney County Aging Program, nestled in her private office where she directs the operation of the Center. Don't be too disappointed if you fail to see her. This modest lady of many talents can be seen from the kitchen to the front door, striving to make her visitors more comfortable. She will never be found guilty of being showy, pretentious, or ostentatious.

The next room to visit will be the recreation room, a very spacious and well lighted facility, that should provide our senior citizens with many hours of relaxation and enjoyment.

Next, we turned left and entered a dining hall that literally takes your breath away with it's grandeur and splendor. The room has been designed to accommodate as many as (100) one hundred senior citizens at the same time.

The rest rooms are beautifully arranged and built specially for our older generation. The hallway leading to the restrooms are wide enough to enable two wheelchairs to pass without creating a crowded situation.

The engineering and floor plan is the result of a lot of good people working together and producing an end result that will fill the needs of our senior citizens for many years to come.

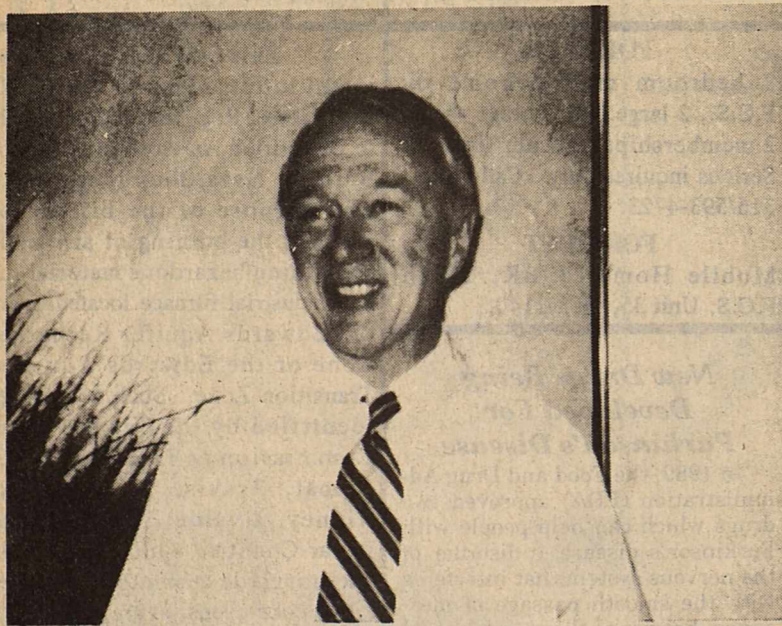

When asked for a completion date on the new facility Mr. Woods said, "I have hopes of finishing this project within six weeks. We are right on schedule and with Bernie Cervantez and his Dad working for me we should stay that way. I have been very fortunate," Woods continued, "in locating two carpenters as good as the two I have."

The walls of the old jail-house, which is the site of the Nutrition Center, are probably filled with many stories. Some of these tales could possibly bring a smile to our lips while others just might bring a tear to our eye. There is no doubt they hold the answers to many questions regarding Brackettville as it evolved from a tiny settlement to the present day town we now call home.

We are now approaching a new era for this historical old building as it is being transformed into the Senior Citizen Center. No longer do the walls have to listen to the stories and conversations of incarcerated men who have been convicted of a crime. They will now be hearing the laughter, singing, and good times that are enjoyed by a happy and contented group of senior citizens who are enjoying their Golden Years to the fullest.

Kasey Hall, future champion of tomorrow

There would be no such thing as High School athletics if it were not for the students, male and female, who devote so much of their time and effort toward these programs. Their determination to compete against one another and their desire to utilize the GOD given talent that some of them possess is the driving force behind these youngsters.

For many high school athletes, studies require most of their day. After the last bell rings they hurry to the tennis courts, golf course, track, or baseball field. Some of them participate in more than one sport and that takes a special kind of perseverance and dedication. For this, many Mothers and Dads, teachers, coaches, and boosters are very proud. At the end of practice the kids head for home and their studies, a good night's sleep, and another day.

Going home after tennis practice, eating supper, and settling down to her studies, is not the routine for a certain young lady who is re-writing the record books on talent and versatility.

As many rodeo announcers have said on numerous occasions, "Ladies, Gentlemen, and Rodeo Fans, coming to us from the little town of Brackettville in far southwest Texas, one of high school rodeo's top cowgirl contestants, Kasey Hall".

Kasey is a petite little 100 pound dynamo, who is in her senior year at Brackett High, and also deeply involved in sports. She is on the girl's tennis team and, like everything else she does, is one of the top players. However, when the rest of the girls finish practice and head for home, Kasey sprints to her home, hooks onto her two horse trailer,

Block grant awarded to state

Block Grant Awarded to State
HHS Secretary Louis W. Sullivan, M.D., today announced the award of a $73,454,000 Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Services (ADMS) block grant to the State of Texas for fiscal year 1991.

The ADMS block grants are the major funding mechanism through which the President's National Drug Control Strategy supports drug treatment services. This block grant provides Federal funds to Texas to help it support alcohol and drug abuse and mental disorder treatment, rehabilitation, and prevention services throughout the State.

Nationwide, HHS will award a total of $1,205,237,000 in ADMS block grants to the 50 states and 6 territories in FY 1991 to help them support such programs. Decisions on the distribution and use of the block grant monies are made by each state or territory.

"This is the largest sum of money ever appropriated for ADMS block grants nationwide," Secretary Sullivan said, "representing nearly a tripling of available funds nationally over the past 6 years, and a 60 percent increase over 1989."

Of the $1,205,237,000 appropriated, 79 percent will be dedicated to drug and alcohol abuse initiatives at the state or territorial level.

"This is striking evidence of the Administration's commitment to helping solve the substance abuse crisis in the nation," Dr. Sullivan said.

Assistant Secretary for Health James O. Mason, M.D., Dr. P.H., pointed out that the Administration also had increased its funding for other components of the Department's anti-drug abuse programs for FY 1991. For instance, the budget for drug abuse research is $302.8 million, up from $255.5 million in FY 1990; funds for drug abuse prevention activities in ADAMHA in FY 1991 total $394.4 million, up from $323.8 million; and the budget for ADAMHA drug abuse treatment improvement activities is $631.9 million, up slightly from $619.1 million in FY 1990.

"With the increased resources the President and the Congress have provided for this year, accompanied by an increased resolve at the federal, state, local and individual level to reduce and prevent drug abuse, I believe we will see genuine progress in wiping out this terrible problem that is devastating so many families and communities," Dr. Mason commented.

The block grant funding mechanism was established in 1981 to allow the states and territories greater flexibility in using Federal resources to meet treatment and prevention needs within each state. States and territories, in turn, may contract with community treatment and prevention programs for direct provision of services at the local level. The Federal Government retains responsibility for assuring compliance with legislative requirements in using block grant funds, and for providing technical assistance to a state or territory in implementing its prevention and treatment activities.

The ADMS block grants are administered by the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration, which is responsible for carrying out research to discover and develop solutions for mental and addictive disorders, then assisting in the transfer of the new knowledge into clinical practice through the states and other service providers.

Senate approves ban on mandatory polygraph examination

Sen. Judith Zaffirini on Thursday (Feb.28) won Senate passage of SB 166, a bill that prohibits a mandatory polygraph examination for victims of sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, incest or indecency with a child.

The bill also prohibits a peace officer from being suspended, discharged or subjected to any form of employment discrimination because of his or her refusal to take a polygraph exam.

Under current law, victims of sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, incest and indecency with a child are often required to take and pass a polygraph test before a criminal complaint regarding the alleged attack is processed. Victims of other crimes such as burglary, fraud or theft, however, often are not required to take polygraph exams.

The Department of Public

Safety reports that 5,331 arrests for sexual offenses were made in 1989 and 2,804 arrests for sexual offenses were made in the first six months of 1990.

"These victims should not be treated like criminals, especially at a time when they most need compassion, understanding and support," said Sen. Zaffirini. "This bill will allow a polygraph exam to be given, but only after the victim signs a statement indicating that he or she was informed that the exam is not required."

Groups supporting the bill were the Texas Association Against Sexual Assault, the Texas Council on Family Violence, CLEAT, Texas Civil Liberties Union, the Texas National Organization for Women and the Baytown Women's Center.

Zaffirini Wins Passage of Immunization Consent Bill

Sen. Judith Zaffirini on Thursday (Feb. 28) won Senate approval of SB 345, a bill that broadens the category of those who can give consent for a minor child to receive immunizations.

Specifically, the bill would allow a grandparent, adult brother or sister, adult aunt or uncle or stepparent to authorize immunization for a minor child if the parent, managing conservator or guardian cannot be contacted and the authority to consent has not been denied.

SB345 also would allow consent for immunization to be given by school personnel authorized in writing by the primary caregiver, a court having jurisdiction of a suit affecting the parent-child relationship, or another caregiver who has written authorization from the primary caregiver.

This legislation does not authorize caregivers to give consent if the primary caregiver has expressly refused to give consent for immunization or has withdrawn authorization in writing.

"It is estimated that approximately 15,000 to 20,000 children each year are sent home from clinics because they don't have proper consent," Sen. Zaffirini said. "This bill will enable most of these children to receive the immunizations they need to combat diseases such as measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria and polio."

The Texas Department of Health, Texas Medical Association, Texas Education Agency, Texas Pediatric Society and the Children's Defense Fund support the legislation.

Reflections

By Rev. Preston Taylor
First Baptist Church

Most remember a little of the story of Job in the Bible. He became desperately ill, and a few "miserable comforters" visited him. They caused the poor man more distress than he had known in all his life.

Follow the route of Job's "comforters" and you may also depress another.

One route is to suggest that you have had friends who had that kind of illness and those friends have all died.

Again, it's possible to say to a person, "You don't look bad to me. I had an aunt who kept doing her work when she was much worse off than you."

Try this good one, too. Suggest that such a condition is brought about because they don't have faith. After all, if one has a solid faith, this one will not suffer from sickness or disease. He will simply keep living forever!

It may be possible to cause a person to wince in pain a bit more if you talk about the high cost of hospital care and suggest that doctors and medicine don't make much difference anyway.

Before leaving the room or bedside don't do anything spiritual like praying or reading a Bible promise. Who wants that kind of crutch, anyway?

Yep, as you say goodbye, let the ill patient know that you'll return to bring more cheer and "sunshine" as you've done today if you can find time enough to do it.

P.S. Well now, if any of us have a negative, pessimistic philosophy that matches the above, we'll probably be in some hospital bed quite soon hoping we never have any "miserable comforters."

Little League field workday and first registration set

The General Meeting of the League was called by outgoing president Sonny Harrison for February 24, 1991, at the Kinney County Courthouse. A small group of people met and a new Board of Directors and Officers were elected. The Board of Directors for the 1991 Season will be Linda Sharp, President; Darlene Shahan, secretary; Ruby Munoz, treasurer; Bill Herman, player agent; Debbie Coe, Little League vice-president; Buck Smallwood, T-ball vice President; Albert Payne, Softball vice-president; Manual Pena, Senior League vice-president, Lingo Sandoval, umpire-in-chief, and John Jones.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING for the League was set for the first Sunday of each month at 3:00 p.m., at the Kinney County courthouse. At this first regular meeting held on March 3, 1991, several reports were made and the season is well under way. FUND RAISING will be a major concern because of the high cost of insurance and charter. A committee will be contacting everyone interested in supporting the League through their donations. League Sponsor Fees are set at $200.00 this year with co-sponsorships being offered at $100.00.

A FIELD DAY CLEAN UP DAY has been scheduled for this Saturday, March 9, beginning at 9:00 a.m. and continuing until 3:00 p.m. People are asked to bring whatever tools they feel will be of use in cleaning the field and adult help will be needed. Be sure to bring refreshments!!!

SCHEDULE FOR REGISTRATION OF ALL LEVELS OF PLAY:

First Registration: Saturday March 9, 1991, 9:00 till 3:00 p.m. Little League Field

Second Registration: Wednesday, March 13, 1991, 2:30 till 4:30 p.m., Jones Elementary THIS WILL BE THE DEADLINE FOR ALL REGISTRATIONS

Any applications taken after March 13, at 4:30 p.m. will be placed in the Player Pool.

For Registration you will need:
1. Parent to sign the form
2. Original Birth Certificate
3. $10.00 per child registration fee.

This year the League is proposing four Little League Teams, two Senior League Teams, one Big League Team, 6 T-ball Teams and 4 Softball teams. The Big League Team will be based on interest expressed at registration and availability of funding for the team. All 15-18 year-old baseball players need to understand that registration for Big League in no way guarantees there will be a team. Projected expenses just to uniform and equip this team are $1,200.00. Registration fees will not be collected on Big League Registrants or "after deadline applicants" until applicants have been placed on a team.

Kinney County Little League is in desperate need of practice fields. As discussed at the Board meeting, only 6 of the previous 9 fields will be available to us this year. If any property owner knows of an available area please let one of the Board members know. And please, don't forget we will always have a need for FUNDING!!

Hannah and Tiffany are concerned about the younger children. "When younger kids see the older kids drink and do drugs it makes them want to do it," says Hannah. "Doing drugs is awful," added Tiffany. "Hopefully doing the (substance abuse) posters will help influence the younger kids," they stated.

The girls chose "Don't Hand Death the Keys. Don't Drink and Drive" was the subject for their poster because they feel since drinking is legal and alcohol

Gardening Tips By Archie Woodson

Summer in March? The recent hot weather may be invigorating to us, but the drastic change in temperature can be devastating to new, tender transplants. Bedding plants are grown under ideal conditions and are protected from the elements- especially wind. The transition from this environment to an unprotected garden or flower bed should be handled with care, as unusually high temperatures and extreme winds seem to be the theme for March this year. New transplants have not developed any defense to wind damage. The thickening and strengthening of the outer layer of cells in the stems and leaves may take 4 to 5 days. A gradual exposure (hardening-off) is a good method to overcome any damage. If planted directly in the ground; a wind break or screen should be employed. Intense heat and light can have the same effect and can be overcome much the same way. Gradual exposure is the key.

Have a good week!

Library News

It would appear that spring is springing. It also appears that March wished to come in like a lion, let us hope the second half of that statement is true and it goes out like a lamb. The Redbud trees are in bloom and we see signs of the latent farmer's blood rising as many begin to plant in their yards and gardens. We have heard several theories regarding the proper date to plant certain garden crops. They vary from those involving the phase of the moon to the statement that all gardens should be planted on Good Friday. Of course, the more scientific opinions are governed by the freeze line for our geographic area. However, should you wish more information to support your particular theory (to defend yourself with your neighbor during those weighty afternoon patio discussions). We have books in several fields which should serve you well.

As you are aware, Mr. Bill Gooch, of the Texas Library System in Austin spoke at a program meeting for the Friends of the Library on Monday at 7:00 p.m. Mr. Gooch was able to bring us very important information regarding grants for the expansion of smaller libraries as well as proper use for present space avail-

We wish to thank the relatives of William M. Mac Farland who donated the Prentice Hall 1991 over-55 Financial Management Guide. Too, the Bill Mitchell Family donated several books referring to the History of the Big Bend Area for our Library.

We received the following memorials for the month of February:

- A memorial for Paul Hill given by Rose Ann York.
- A memorial for William Mendeke, Jr. given by Mr. & Mrs. R.L. "Bret" Trant.
- A memorial for Mr. & Mrs. Aciel Chapman given by Mr. & Mrs. R.L. "Bret" Trant.
- A memorial for Mr. & Mrs. Aciel Chapman and Mr. William Mendeke, Jr. given by friends of the families.

New Books: Silver by Ira Lavine, Straight Shot by Dick Frances, several large print westerns, Danielle Steele's newest, Heartbeat, Into the Darkness by Barbara Michaels, and several excellent non-fiction books on a variety of subjects. As always, we invite you to visit the warmest (or coolest when need be), friendliest little Library in Kinney County!!!

The next year, he accepted their request that he serve as Associate Minister, while finishing his work at Chicago Theological Seminary. His first appointment after seminary was as Associate Minister at First Methodist Church, Corpus Christi, Texas. He is credited as having kept alive and making viable a then-struggling church, St. Mark UMC in north Austin, Texas, his first appointment as Pastor-in-Charge. He has served a number of United Methodist churches in Southwest Texas since 1965, including First United Methodist Churches of Bracken, Junction, and Brackettville.

Mr. Cole has served as a Clinical Pastoral Education intern at the State Hospital, Austin, Texas, and has worked as Youth Worker at the Children's Psychiatric Hospital and Meridel Achievement Center, Austin, Texas. He has taken a number of courses and seminars over the years to enhance his counseling/therapy and listening skills.

Mr. Cole is looking forward to making his experience and training available to those youth and adults who have problems related to alcohol/drug use/abuse--and to their families.

Between Us

Now that we are no longer under the hysteria of war we can pause and look objectively at it. In the first place, all the purveyors of doom have shown themselves radically wrong. Those who were saying the strength of our armies would be sapped showed their ignorance. Those who predicted there would be thousands of Americans killed revealed their lack of good judgment. Those who said the war would drag out for months and years reveal their inability to think clearly. Those who blasted President Bush as a war-monger and worse owe him an apology, if they are capable of such. No matter the situation there are always some who feel they are the few who know more than leaders and the masses. There has not been since World War II, the cohesion of the American people that prevailed during this war. The democratic leadership who fought the President finally saw the handwriting on the wall and got into lock step. Certainly the world has never seen the outpouring of support from so many nations. Never has the world seen such a movement of men and material on such a massive scale and so rapidly. Never has the world seen such detailed, intricate planning. Never has the world been kept so well informed of the war. The media tried to discredit reporting, but only discredited themselves. The CBS crew taken captive early on find no pity. They, in typical media arrogance, defied all directives and guidelines. When you refuse to play by the rules, don't expect sympathy when the penalty is assessed.

The performance of the armed forces was spectacular. A heartfelt vote of appreciation for a great job well done.

There is a major factor that has received little attention. At no time since World War II have so many people attended worship services in churches. At no time in the last 50 years have so many people prayed so much. In World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict, when America observed a Day of Prayer, God intervened in dramatic fashion. When President Bush called for a Day of Prayer and America responded there followed dramatic evidences of God's intervention. America can feel proud of herself, her Armed Forces and her relation to our God. God certainly gained creditability against "Allah", the god of the Muslim world.

Fort Clark, Texas, Circa 1930's. This scene is viewed from the lower portion of the photo being the South part of the main Post, looking North, with the left side being the West side and the right side being the East part.

Officer's family and B.O.Q.'s.

The two open fields above the Officer's family quarters, were the parade and drill fields, which were converted to a nine hole golf course by the Brown and Root Company. In the center of these two fields, from left to right, were the Headquarters and Administration building, a B.O.Q., which was formally the Officer's Club, until the new one was built (now the Las Moras Inn Restaurant and Bar), the Post Chapel, which is now the Baptist Church on Ann St., in Brackettville, and the last building was the Post theater, which is now the Town Hall for Fort Clark Springs. There was no name for this street on this map. Just north of this drill/parade field, across McClelland Road, from left to right, is the Officer's Club, four troop barracks, and building 74 (hidden in the photograph by the Post Guard House). Building 74 was the Post Bowling Alley, and it's use prior to this was as some type of shop. This building has now been converted to private apartments.

Coming down Scales Ave., (new renamed Fort Clark Road) to the right side was the older Barracks Row troop housing. At the south end of the troop barracks, was the Fire Station (now Kinney county Ambulance Building) and just south of this was the Post Hospital (now the Fort Clark Springs Adult Center).

To the East of the buildings in the upper part near the Commissary Building, was the Post Guard House, used to confine military prisoners. Just to the right of this building and across Crockett was Stable Row, seventeen buildings in all, they ran from the remaining stables to the south until the Veterinary area began, which included stables and clinic buildings (the area where Dr. and Mrs. Harber's residence is now located). The above stable buildings are not visible in this photo, except for a very small front corner of the present stables.

Tracks Along the Trail
By Dorothy Payne

Jedediah Strong Smith was born in Bainbridge, New York, on January 6, 1799. Smith was drawn to the life of adventure in the New West. His career was cut short in 1831 when he was killed by Comanches along the Cimarron River.

But during his comparatively short life he took part in the Rocky Mountain Fur Trade in the early 1820's. Not satisfied he determined to try to reach Oregon Territory through California.

Toward the end of the year 1826 Smith was hired to guide a party of seventeen men from the Great Salt Lake to the San Gabriel Mission in California.

Before reaching the mountains the party was forced to camp and all of the party except Smith and two men stayed at the camp in the wilderness, while Smith and his 2 men returned across the desert to Great Salt Lake. (They were the first whites to cross the desert.)

They set out from Great Salt Lake to rejoin the party camped near the mountains. But Smith and his company was ambushed by Mohave Indians who killed ten. The rest made it to their first camp on the American River. There they were forced to stay through a very cold winter in the Sacramento Valley.

In the spring of 1828 they headed up the coast toward Oregon, but met up with Indians again, this time by the Umpquas. These Indians killed all but three of the party.

Smith decided to return to the safer fur trade in Santa Fe. It wasn't all that safe because in May 1831, Jedediah Strong Smith was killed by Comanches along the Cimarron River.

The Bibles Says
By Rev. Joe Townsend

"A man without self control is like a city broken into and left without walls."

We have recently seen the distressing scenes of Kuwait City. This is exactly the type of city God was speaking of. He says a man without self control is like this. We are continually fed the pap that man can't help himself. If he is an alcoholic, don't blame him, he has a disease. If a person is a homosexual, don't blame him he was born that way. If a person becomes a criminal, don't blame him, he was "abused" as a child. The honest truth is that a person does make his own decisions and is responsible for his actions. That is; a person must practice self-control. If a man does not control himself he is like a devastated city. When a person loses control he is to blame, regardless of what the psychologists say. You see God knows more than these.

Texas Senate week in review

AUSTIN—On Wednesday, February 27, the Senate passed comprehensive ethics reform legislation after five hours of debate on the Senate floor. Senate Joint Resolution 8, passed by a vote of 26 to 3, and Senate Bill 1, passed by a vote of 28 to 0, were sponsored by Senator Bob Glasgow of Stephenville. Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposed a constitutional amendment to create the Texas Elections and Ethics Commission to administer laws regulating elections and ethics and to prescribe the compensation of legislators, the Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Senate Bill 1 prohibits lobbyist-funded pleasure trips, places limits on entertainment and gifts received from lobbyists, limits campaign contributions from political action committees (PACS), and eliminates honoraria. Both Governor Ann Richards and Lieutenant Bob Bullock have made ethics reform a top priority in their administrations. In a symbolic gesture, Lieutenant Governor Bullock used a golf club rather than a gavel for final passage of the legislation. The legislation now goes on to the House.

Other news at the Capitol this week included an opinion issued by the Texas Supreme Court on a motion for rehearing the Edgewood v. Kirby School finance decision. The opinion may have the effect of undermining their earlier ruling last month. That unanimous decision gave the Legislature an April 1 deadline to establish an equitable school finance system. Now the court says that wealthier school districts may spend more than poor school districts. Senator Carl Parker, who passed Senate Bill 351 last week in an attempt to remedy the public school finance crisis, viewed the opinion as a protection for people in property-rich districts, saying that it would forever deny the very poor districts the opportunity of ever fully catching up by decreeing that a little bit of inequality is acceptable. The Senate stands adjourned until 11:00 a.m. Monday, March 4.

Get A Sense Of Korea

Korea is a country with a barrage of exotic and unusual sensory impressions for foreign visitors. Senses come alive in Korea. Almost every corner in Seoul features a new sight or sound—from sidewalk vendors to food stalls. Travelers can feast their eyes on the colorful bolts of silk, stacked from floor to ceiling, in Seoul's East Gate Market, and the crowded aisles of people and fresh products at Pusan's Fish Market create a memorable sensory experience for travelers.

The sounds of Korea range from peaceful to pulsating. The sound of a bell tolling on Mt. Pukhansan is peaceful. The echo of the monk chanting at 3:00 a.m. is tranquil. The music of a Samulnori percussion and dance ensemble is exciting. Korean music and songs are composed to be discordant—to symbolize the chaos of nature.

Downtown Seoul is a cacophony of sound from daily life. The bus and taxi drivers honk their horns and Namdaemun merchants sing, yell, beat a drum or ring a bell to sell their goods.

Korea is a country rich in seasons and spice and its food is a memorable taste experience. Kimchi is a spicy vegetable side dish which offsets the blandness of steamed rice. Travelers enjoy the rich taste of beef and sesame oil in pulgogi. Korean snacks are nutritious and surprising: dried squid, the sharp bite of sea squirt in hot pepper sauce, even raw octopus.

Korean holidays are colorful. On Buddha's Birthday, the streets and temples seem to explode into a multicolored, patchwork quilt. The streets overflow with spectators and a lantern parade with its uniformed band and fire-breathing dragon.

Korea is a land of ancient treasures, natural beauty and meaningful cultural experiences. Historic sites are tucked away on mountainsides and in national parks. There are few places in the world where a traveler can experience age-old rituals such as Shaman women dancing in candlelight under a full moon.

Cheese Pie Celebrates Wisconsin's Swiss Heritage

New Glarus, Wisconsin was settled by immigrants from Glarus, Switzerland in the 1800s. The area and surrounding townships are famous for sensational Swiss cheese. The Swiss were one of the first immigrant groups to develop their own specialized cheese in this dairy-rich state.

Later, Italian, German, French, Dutch and Scandinavian immigrants who settled in America's dairyland added their own cheesemaking expertise, contributing to an international diversity that has resulted in more than 200 varieties of Wisconsin cheese. All varieties must pass stringent standards of grading to assure the highest quality. In fact, Wisconsin led the industry as the first state to establish standards for cheese grading as early as 1921.

You can enjoy a delicious taste of New Glarus home cooking with this recipe for New Glarus Cheese and Onion Pie. Be sure to use Wisconsin Baby Swiss or Swiss cheese for authentic flavor. If you start with a prepared, pre-rolled pie crust, this pie takes less than a half hour to assemble—a real timesaver for busy family cooks.

While New Glarus Cheese and Onion Pie is ideal for a no-fuss dinner, it's also excellent company fare, too. Serve it for brunch or a luncheon party any time of the year.

Wisconsin's Swiss-Americans enjoy savory New Glarus Cheese and Onion Pie. Use Wisconsin Baby Swiss or Swiss cheese for authentic flavor.

The rest of the Tigers starting lineup is as follows: Lynn Floyd, catcher; Pete Abrego, first base; Arturo Falcon, second base; Steve Clementz, short stop; Javier Solis, third base; Lesly Floyd, left field; J. Cross Country Trail Ride from Fort Clark to Leakey planned Fort Clark - Plans for a Trail Ride from Fort Clark Springs to Leakey in the early spring are now being made and should be finalized within the next few days. The dates for this trek through the hills of southwest Texas are June 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Riders and their horses will meet at Fort Clark with some of them coming in as early as Tuesday, June 4. Invitations to tour Fort Clark and enjoy the facilities during their visit will be extended to those who do decide to come early.

Trail riding is growing in popularity as horse lovers from all over the United States get together and relive the days of the old west by covering some of the same trails that were used by the early day settlers.

The festivities will get under way Wednesday after all of the riders have checked in down in the Wilderness Area. The participants will be allowed to sleep with their horses under the big pecan trees and water them in the cool clear waters of the Las Moras.

A kick-off party by the swimming pool will get the festivities under way.

Thursday morning, the Riders will answer an early wake-up call and enjoy a good breakfast before saddling up and heading out for Leakey. The first night on the trail will be spent at a predetermined sight about halfway between Brackettville and Campwood. Friday morning, the riders will again wake up early and enjoy a good Texas breakfast. They will then ride to Campwood with a noon stopover on the banks of the Nueces River where they can enjoy swimming if they like. Entertainment in Campwood on Friday night and a good meal should highlight their stay in this little community.

Saturday morning, the riders will saddle up and cross the 21 miles through the mountains to Leakey.

This ride can truthfully be advertised as the most "Beautiful Trail Ride in Texas" and in doing so, attract horsemen from out of state as well as Texas riders.

Anyone interested in participating in this 4 days of western fun can contact Les Roper, Box 1405, Brackettville, Texas 78832. They can contact him by phone at (512) 563-9498.

Boating News

If you love boating, you're not alone. There are over 8.5 million pleasure boats in the United States, the leading boating nation.

These days many families are enjoying the safe, affordable, lightweight inflatable boats that can take you many places bigger boats can't. Especially recommended are the quality models made by RIS/Halcyon. These ruggedly constructed, heavy duty boats have been tested for decades by the Mediterranean's rough seas, strong sunlight, shale beaches and rocky shores. The sandwich construction of two layers outside and two inside provides high impact strength and resistance to sunlight, ozone, oil, grease and salt water.

The many models available—including speed boat, ski boat, dive boat, dinghy and fishing boats—are easy to handle, transport and store and are inexpensive to maintain.

The Inflatable Boat Association of America, including Achilles, Avon, Sea Eagle, RIS/Halcyon, Seyvior and Zodiac, is headquartered at 353 Lexington Avenue, N.Y., N.Y. 10016.

Kasey Hall

and after saddling two of her many horses and loading them into the trailer, heads for the high school rodeo arena where she rides and trains on them until it is too dark to see.

She, then, re-loads her four legged equines, takes them back to their stables, and, after rubbing and brushing them thoroughly, feeds them and beds them down for the night. This is a very important part of her life and she, not only, takes it very serious but she works diligently to attain the success that she has enjoyed.

This little rodeo cowgirl eats a late supper and then tackles her homework. She has no trouble going to sleep knowing that she will have to get up before sun-up the next day to feed her "remuda" again.

So goes a day in the life of Kasey Hall, daughter of Chuck and Connie Hall.

While continuing this hectic schedule, Miss Hall has maintained a grade average high enough to place her in the National Honor Society for the last three years, starting when she was a sophomore.

Her grades, attitude, and riding and roping ability just landed her a Rodeo Scholarship at Sul Ross University in Alpine. She traveled to this mountain resort area with her parents and, after visiting with the rodeo coach, knew she had found the place she was looking for to better her education and have fun doing it.

At the present, Kasey, who participates in Region 6 of the National High School Rodeo Association, is in 2nd place in the girl's breakaway calf roping, and close to the top in goat tying, barrel racing, and pole bending, with 7 more rodeos to compete in, her confidence level is running high and she feels like she can accumulate the necessary points to qualify her for the State Finals which will be held in Abilene.

If you want something bad enough, especially like going and winning in these rodeos," bubbled Kasey, "then I think a person should work hard and go for it."

Border improvements included in Bush budget request

President Bush's new budget includes funding to add new Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) personnel along the Texas-Mexico border, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm said today.

Specifically, the INS plans to add a total of 734 agents, inspectors and investigators throughout the United States, many of whom will be assigned to the U.S.-Mexican border. An exact number for Texas is not now available.

Moreover, a new $2.4 million headquarters building for the INS will be constructed in Laredo.

INS, which currently has 128 agents stationed in Laredo and plans to expand to 170 officers, has outgrown its present headquarters building which was designed to accommodate 50 agents.

Late last year, the senator noted, the U.S. Customs Service announced it was assigning 200 additional inspectors to the Texas-Mexico border. "I'm encouraged with the commitment of additional resources to help ease the long lines of traffic at our Texas bridges," Gramm said.

The President's budget request will now be sent to the House and Senate budget committees. Gramm is a member of the Senate Budget Committee.

The Senator said the budget also contains funding for a number of other programs important to Texas, including $534 million for continued construction of the giant Superconducting Super Collider in Ellis County.

Also, the President is asking $100 million for Sematech, the Austin-based high tech consortium; $2.2 billion for NASA's space station program, a mainstay of the Johnson Space Center in Houston; another $6.6 million to continue the vital work of cleaning up the Rio Grande River by building a joint U.S.-Mexico water treatment system at Nuevo Laredo and $860,000 for badly needed erosion control work along the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway at Sargent Beach in Matagorda County.

At a 6 p.m. Holy Eucharist, the Bishop will preach and will be confirming into the Episcopal Church several individuals of the community. A dinner in the church's parish house will follow the Saturday 6 p.m. service and will honor the Confirmands and Bishop and Mrs. MacNaughton.

This Saturday evening service will serve as St. Andrew's Sabbath worship for the Fourth Sunday in Lent, and there will be no service held on Sunday, March 10, according to the Rev. Bill Koons, priest-in-charge.

TORA to receive formal charter

BRACKETTVILLE, TX.--Lt. Col. Richard C. Hirsch, Chapter President, has announced that the first local Chapter of the Retired Officers Association (TROA) will receive its charter during formal ceremonies at Ft. Clark, in Brackettville, on Friday, March 8, 1991.

He said a banquet and installation of officers will follow registration, at 6:00 p.m. in the Las Moras Restaurant, on that date. "Presentation of the Chapter Charter, by Lt. Col. Frederick J. Holland, of Kerrville, will be the highlight of the evening," stated

Col. Hirsch. "Membership in our organization is not limited to retired officers," said Col. Hirsch. "We also welcome active duty and former officers and warrant officers." Col. Hirsch may be reached at (512) 563-9423, or by writing to Box 1553, Brackettville, Tx. 78832-1553.

All officers who join the Chapter prior to, or at, the installation banquet will become charter members, according to Col. Hirsch.

YOUNG GUNS II

New Mexico, 1879, was a dry, forbidding landscape ruled by an unrelenting blue sky and violent bands of outlaws. A place where a renegade named Billy the Kid, staked his claim as the most notorious legend of the Old West.

Emilio Estevez stars as Billy the Kid, the cocksure "boy bandit" who led a reign of terror during the infamous Lincoln county Wars. Now the county is ruled by ruthless cattle barons and crooked lawmen. They just hired Billy's one-time friend, Pat Garrett (William Petersen), to bring him to justice. With Garrett hot on his trail, the Kid joins up with his outlaw pals including Doc (Kiefer Sutherland), Chavez (Lou Diamond Phillips) and Arkansas Dave (Christian Slater). Together they battle trigger-happy lynch mobs and gunslingers as they blast their way to a violent showdown with destiny.

With sweeping cinematography, and songs by Jon Bon Jovi, "Young Guns II" captures the romance and danger of that great American myth known as the Wild West.

ANOTHER 48 HOURS

Here they go again. Only faster. And tougher. Reggie Hammond (Eddie Murphy) and Jack Cates (Nick Nolte) return in the smash sequel that's "better than the first!"

How much better? For starters, the mob puts a price on Reggie's head. The bus transporting him from the pen flips over about 17 times. His prized Porsche is blown into scrap metal. Creeps in a bar still haven't learned it's dumb to get Reggie mad. And the night is still young. Before these 48 hours are up, Reggie and Jack will turn San Francisco inside out to nail an elusive druglord. The boys are back in town...and the action's on the streets. Don't miss it!

Control Grassburrs in Lawns

Grassburrs can be a problem in lawns damaged or weakened by droughts, insects, and diseases. Grassburrs are commonly found in open fields and meadows where competition from other plants is not great; they are rarely found in a dense, vigorous turf. But when that turf is damaged or weakened, grassburrs often invade.

Seed (burs) from this pest may lie dormant in the soil for several years until environmental conditions favor germination. Once they get started, where there were only a few plants one year, there may be hundreds of grassbur plants the following year. Plants may go un-noticed most of the summer but once burs develop, they're unavoidable.

It takes a good management program to eliminate grassburrs. This includes applying a preemergence herbicide in the spring for crabgrass control before emergence of grassburrs.

Herbicides or fertilizer-herbicide (weed and feed) combinations containing benefin (Belan), DCPA (Dacthal), oxadiazon (Ronstar) or simazine are effective against grassburrs if the timing and rate of application are correct. As for all pesticides, closely follow label instructions.

In bermudagrass lawns, postemergence herbicides can be used for grassbur control. These include products containing one of the organic arsenical herbicides, such as Amchem's Crabgrass Killer, Diamond Shamrock's Liquid DSMA and Amchem's Weedone Crabgrass Killer.

Of course, herbicides only provide a temporary solution to the grassbur problem, a healthy vigorous turf is the ultimate solution. Regular mowing and proper fertilizing, watering and pest control are all required for satisfactory control of grassburrs.

Subject: Solid Waste - Kinney County
City of Brackettville - Permit No. 01199
S of Brackettville, 400 Feet E of Sh-131, and 1.75 miles S of US-90

Dear Mayor Moore:

On February 7, 1991, Mr. H. W. Merritt, P.E., from our regional office, inspected the subject Type II municipal solid waste disposal facility. During this inspection, our representative was accompanied by Mr. David Martinez, Site Operator.

At the time of the inspection, the site was being operated in general compliance with the Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" (MSWMR). We commend the city's achievement in bringing this site into compliance with the state's regulations, and particularly the diligent efforts of Mr. David Tillery and Mr. David Martinez in accomplishing this task.

Further, rather minor improvements, encouraged to turn your site into a model operation would include adding the words "Type II" to your site sign; pumping out the water in the bottom of your dead animal pit to expedite its evaporation on site, and adding a run-off diversion dike along the west end of this pit to prevent recurrences; and continuing the application of intermediate cover soil to your brush area until it is completely covered.

If you have any questions concerning this letter or if we may be any assistance to you regarding solid waste, please contact us at Public Health Region 6, P.O. Box 630, Uvalde, Texas 78802-0630, telephone (512) 278-7173.

Sincerely,

BRACKETT INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT CELEBRATES OPEN HOUSE

Monday, March 4, 1991, was a very nice success. Many, many parents visited their children's rooms and saw part of the education process at work. Open House is a one night time of formal visitation; however, parents and teachers are encouraged to meet informally throughout the school year and discuss student's progress. Other activities of the evening included a very well attended pancake supper, and an elementary school book fair. One could say the evening was designed to feed the stomach and the mind.

Parents please be encouraged to visit with your child's teacher regularly -- the better the communication between home and school, the better the education climate will be at Brackett Independent School District.

ROTARY/FACULTY VOLLEYBALL GAME THURSDAY, MARCH 14

The Rotary/Faculty Volleyball game will be held on Thursday, March 14, 1991. It will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the High School Gymnasium. Admission will be $1.00 for spectators and participants. Proceeds will go to the Rotary Scholarship Fund.

In addition to the traditional Rotary/Faculty game for men and women, the Rotary and Faculty has issued a challenge to other civic and church organizations to put together a mixed team to play during the evening.

Participants must be 23 years of age or a member or spouse of a member of the represented organization.
MARION H. WILLS SCHOLARSHIP PANCAKE SUPPER

The second annual Marion H. Wills Scholarship pancake supper was held Monday, March 4, 1991 at the Brackett Independent School District cafeteria. Over three hundred dollars were raised for the scholarship fund. This money will be used for a 1991 graduating senior scholarship. This scholarship is sponsored by the Brackett Independent School District administration and carries the name of former Superintendent Marion H. Wills.

Like many of the scholarships given by Brackettville organizations, the success or failure of the fund raiser depends on the support of the community. The community must be thanked for the strong support of fund raising activities. Also, a special thank you must be extended to the Super S Food Store of Brackettville for the generous donation of thirty pounds of bacon for the pancake supper.

After the money has been collected the difficult task of selecting one deserving senior to receive the scholarship must be performed. The award will be presented to the chosen applicant graduation night.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE MEDIA FAIR

The Substance Abuse Media Fair was held February 28, 1991 at Brackett Independent School District for grades Pre-Kindergarten through 12th. Entries from all grade levels included posters, T-shirts, bumper stickers, comic strips, videotapes, and audio tapes. Ribbons were donated by Jim Runyan, Agent-in-Charge of Border Patrol, and Don Ralston, First State Bank of Brackettville President. Awards were presented to all elementary participants and the overall winner of each grade. Certificates will be presented to the first three place winners of each grade. Vernon Miers of Southwest Communications is donating six year plaques for each school, Pre-Kindergarten through fifth, sixth through eighth, and ninth through twelfth with the name of the overall winner engraved. These plaques will be displayed in the halls of the respective schools.

All over-all winners advance to the District competition in San Antonio on March 27, 1991. Susan Harrison, counselor, reported an excellent turnout for the media fair with many excellent original entries. Judges were Don Ralston, Jim Runyan, Happy Shahan, and Tom Faulkenberry. All the judges are members of the Brackett Drug Advisory Committee that helped sponsor the Substance Abuse Media Fair.
