

Commissioners attack problem of redistricting all precincts

By LES ROPER
Cavalryman Editor

"A special called meeting of the Commissioners Court convened Monday morning at nine o'clock in the County courtroom with a capacity crowd in attendance. The primary purpose of the meeting was to review the redistricting proposal.

Judge Ward opened the meeting by recognizing a quorum with all Commissioners in attendance.

The Judge explained briefly the guidelines in the proposal and the basis for the new precinct lines. "In the past many citizens have been under the impression that the division should be made according to voters strength" said Judge Ward, "but that is not the issue. The division will be based, contrary to belief, on population data." The Judge continued on by saying, "the voters strength is not the major concern as is population and representation for the number of people within the precinct."

A percentage breakdown on Hispanic population in the precincts was also given. Judge Ward noted that under the new proposal that was pretty close.

Sheedy objects to his precinct being moved further South. "I don't want it moved."

The Court welcomed input from citizens and encouraged them to take an active part in the decision that will be made.

The law firm of Ford and Ferraro, represented by Clint Hackney, compiled the data on the latest census report and submitted the proposal back to the Commissioners. If the Court accepts the proposal it will then have to be sent to the Justice Department for their approval. According to Mr. Hackney, whose law firm is considered experts in this field, the proposed plan would in all probability be accepted.

According to Judge Ward, the current population of Kinney County is 3,119 with approximately 50% of this count being Hispanic and 50% Anglo.

The response from the citizens in attendance was very good with the majority of them being in agreement with the line changes. A small group seemed to have problems accepting the proposal as it was submitted because it did not consider voter strength. Judge Ward again reminded the crowd that voter strength had not been considered.

Commissioner Fuentes took a very low keyed approach to the change in voting districts for precinct three. He indicated that he would be flexible and willing to go along with the new proposal.

Precinct one Commissioner, Freddie Frerich, was aware of the need for a change in lines and showed no opposition to a change that would improve the voting structure.

Plunker Sheedy was very vocal in the changes that had been mapped out for precinct two. He expressed his displeasure at moving the lines of precinct any further south. He was questioned on "why he did not want it to move further south" and he very abruptly answered, "because I just don't want it." He did not give a reason.

Judge Ward reminded everyone present plus the Commissioners that "time is of the essence. People will be filing for office in December and we want to get this issue approved by the Justice Department in time for them to know what precinct they can run in." He went on to say that it was important to the Federal people for this issue to be settled on population alone.

After a short recess the Court re-convened and pursued other issues that were on the agenda.

The county is confronted with a shortfall in their budget and rapidly approaching a disastrous situation. Judge Ward has confronted the Commissioners on several occasions with the dilemma that is settling over the finances in Kinney County. He told the Court that the County does not have the revenue to continue spending as they have in the past. "It just isn't there," commented Judge Ward, "and it is time we faced up to it. We are going to have to cut back in every department."

County Attorney, Tully Shahan, asked the court if they would be faced with this same situation next Eloy "Sonny" Garcia back home with his family after serving his Country in Saudi Arabia during Desert Storm.

Sonny Garcia home from Desert Storm

Cavalryman Reporter

BRACKETTVILLE -- When Eloy "Sonny" Garcia graduated from Brackett High School in 1988, little did he realize that he would be a seasoned veteran of a full scale war by the time he reached 21 years of age. His parents, never for one moment, dreamed that their young son who was receiving his diploma on graduation night would travel many miles into a foreign country, engage an enemy in fierce battle, and return home without a scratch. This young man left home three years ago, bubbling with the excitement of being in the United States Army. Today, he is the same person, but now a mature young man who risked his life for his family and his country.

Young Garcia was stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia when the situation with Sadaam Hussein began to intensify. He was the gunner on the M1A1 tank, America's finest fighting machine. Besides Garcia, there was also a driver, an ammunition loader, and a tank commander. He had been trained for any kind of situation and, in his heart, knew he could capitalize on his training if need be.

President Bush finally order the 2-69th Armored Battalion to Saudi Arabia. This moved "Sonny", as he is called by his parents and his family and friends, to one of the most volatile positions taken during Desert Storm. He was located just 250 miles from Baghdad on the far north end of the strike force.

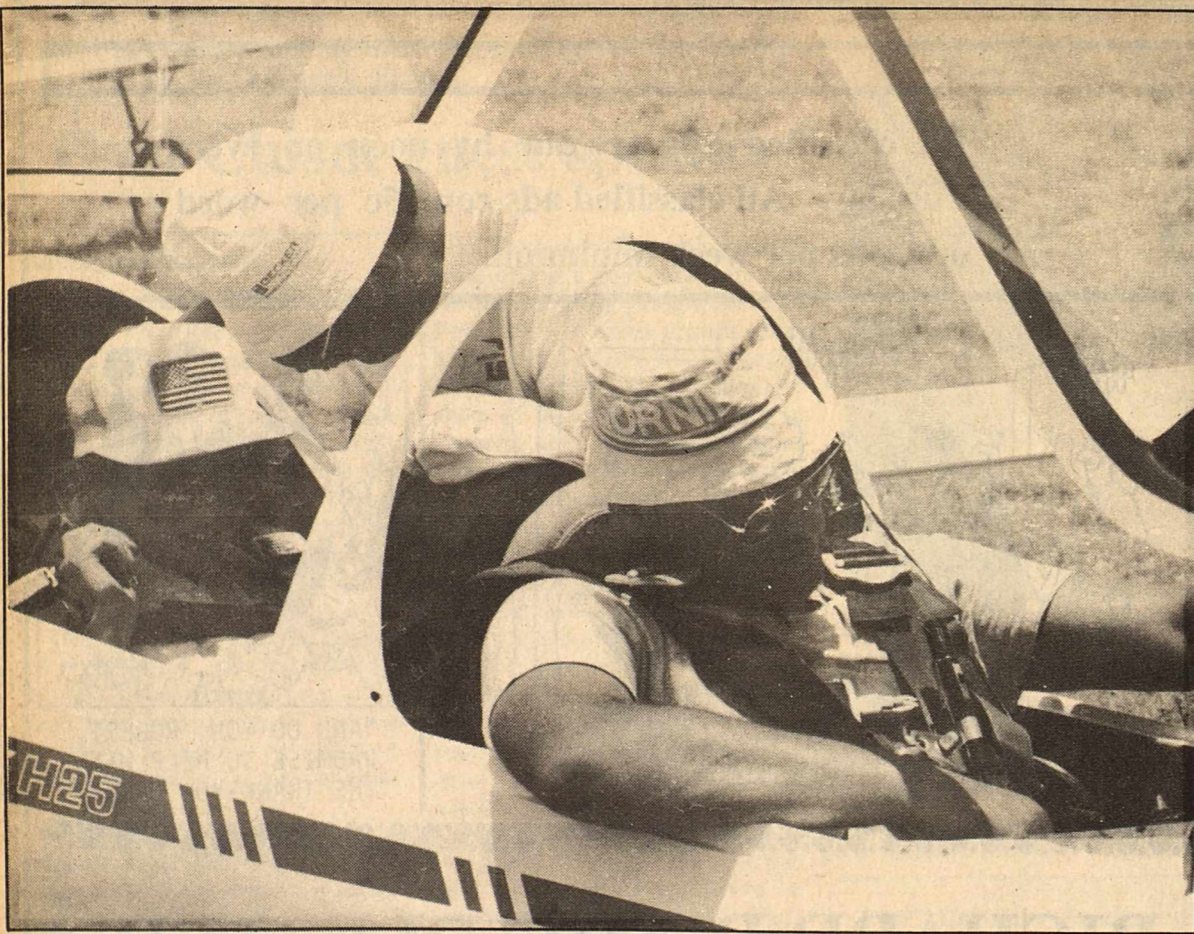

Talking with this young man, you get the feeling you know what it takes to be a hero. When asked if he was afraid, he answered, "yes, before the fighting started everyone was afraid. But after it got under way, we forgot to be scared. We just got mad and fought back." He went on to tell that his fear didn't last long when they found they were in a ground force fighting machine second to none. The Iraqis would fire AK-47's, which were Russian weapons, at them, but they would just bounce off of his tank.

This young soldier described some of the sophisticated equip-

Fort Clark airport opened to International Glider Pilots

FORT CLARK -- Residents of Fort Clark are especially proud of the clear blue skies that accompany the weather here. It is very refreshing to look up into the Heavens and know that you are in God's country.

Word has reached around the world describing these beautiful conditions and in doing so, have influenced the world's best sailplane pilots to enter the 22nd World Soaring Championship in Uvalde.

Some two weeks ago, management at Fort Clark was contacted and a request was made to use the grass runway for practice flights before the official competition gets underway. Permission was given and it opened the door for gliders and their pilots from all over the world to come to Fort Clark and practice.

Airport road has seen a steady stream of vehicles and trailers hauling their gliders in to the airport. The cars and trucks towing the aircraft are filled with men and women from all over the world. The competitiveness of the upcoming event fills the air as the pilots and their crews pull into the airport gate and ready their aircraft for the upcoming competition.

One of the first crews on the grounds was Curt-Olle Ottosson and his son, Stefan, from Kuppen, Sweden. Before the Cavalryman crew could introduce themselves, the two Swedish competitors came up and expressed their pleasure at being in the United States. They were outgoing and more than willing to share some of the lifestyles and past experiences with us.

The father and son said that they would be in Uvalde for 5 weeks and looked forward to every day of it. The only thing they didn't really like was the humidity.

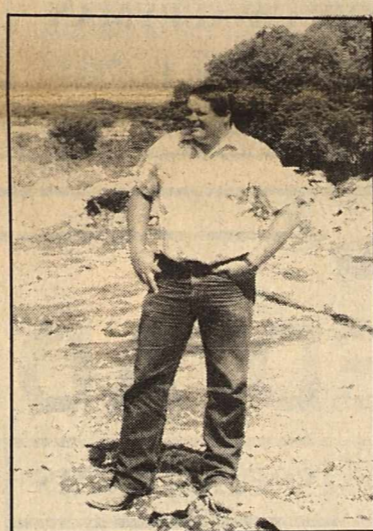

When asked about their glider, Ottosson said, "all of the top soaring aircraft are constructed in Germany. They have the best technology for these machines."

When we questioned him about pouring water into his wings, he responded by saying, "the wings hold about 45 gallons of water. With the added weight the planes soar faster. Just before we land, we dump the water to get rid of the extra weight." He pointed out that he had a computer on his plane and it gave him a lot of data that was very important to flying these "engineless" airplanes. Also, he explained the electronics on his glider were operated by one battery that had to be taken out each night and re-charged.

This was Curt-Olle Ottosson's 5th year of competing in International competition and he considered it one of the highlights of his life.

This event is known as the World Soaring Championships and often referred to as the "Olympics" of Soaring. Each day the pilots are given a different flight routine to perform. They are sometimes according to speed and

New radio tower for SW Comm.

Cavalryman Reporter

BRACKETTVILLE -- Southwest Communications new radio tower is right on schedule and should be in operation within 30 days according to owner, Vernon Miears. The new site is approximately ten miles north of Brackettville on the Rocksprings Highway.

This past Tuesday, Miears met the Cavalryman's reporter and showed him around the new site that will accommodate his repeater that provides radio service for many of the ranches in Kinney County and also his new cellular telephone service.

Southwest has been operating from the County tower, but ill feelings over a hike in an earlier contract agreement by the Sheriff's department prompted Miears to pursue the construction of his own tower.

"The new tower will save me money in the long run," reported Miears, "by letting me move my repeater to my own tower. It's just good business to own your own antennas."

The county and surrounding area is very fortunate to have a family owned business with the expertise of Southwest Communications in Brackettville. Vernon and Sandy Miears are a very private family who live a low keyed life. But, when help is needed on city and county projects they are the first to respond.

Not only are they great people, but they are good friends as well.

Las Moras Masonic Lodge No. 444 installs officers

By Bruce Clements
Cavalryman Contributing Writer

An open meeting was held in the Las Moras Masonic Lodge on Thursday, July 11, for the purpose of Installing Officers for the ensuing year, 1991-1992.

The Officers to be installed were: Bruce Clements, Worshipful Master; Lenny Mahefky, Senior Warden; Howard Miller, Junior Warden; Tom Faulkenberry, Senior Deacon; Warren Outlaw, Junior Deacon; Richard Mountain, Treasurer; Ray Kurtz, Secretary; Henry Robertson, Chaplain; Don Woodson, Senior Steward; Karl Chism, Junior Steward; and James Haga, Tiler.

The Installing Officer was Bruce's brother, Kenneth (Bugs) Clements, Past Master of South Plains Daylight Masonic Lodge No. 1443, Lubbock, Texas. The Installing Marshall was Past Master, Past District Deputy Grand Master Ray Kurtz. This was a very impressive ceremony and was enjoyed by all present.

This will be the second time around for Bruce. He served as Worshipful Master in 1983-84, and was District Deputy Grand Master for Masonic District No. 43 in 1990. This will also be the third time Ray has been Secretary of the Lodge, who has also been Worshipful Master twice and District Deputy Grand Master once.

Following the installation refreshments was served to approximately 50 members and guests. Among the guests were Ron and Jeannette Galyn and Payton and Sue Creech of San Antonio, (Ron and Payton are members of the Alzafar Red Roadsters of which Bruce is a Member), Horace Shackelford and Dorothy Peters of Langtry, Ronald and Sonja Chapman of Princeton, and numerous local guests.

Clements' have family reunion

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

Thirty-two members of the A.B. Clements family gathered in Fort Clark Springs at the home of Bruce and Dorothea Clements for a weekend of fun and fellowship. Of the 8 children of the A. B. Clements family, only 3 are living today; Bruce of Fort Clark Springs, Kenneth (Bugs) of Lubbock and Zona Beth of McKinney.

Some began arriving Thursday afternoon so they could attend the Installation Ceremony of Bruce as the Worshipful Master of the Las Moras Masonic Lodge. Bugs acted as the Installing Officer.

Friday we took a trip to Acuna, this being the first time many of them had ever been outside the U.S.. Friday evening we had a hamburger and hot dog cookout. Saturday, after visiting during the morning, we went to Alamo Village, where Happy Shahan had one of his men give us the Grand Tour of the Village. We stayed for 3 shows, and the adults as well as the children wanted to stay for another, but time would not permit. All said the trip to the Village and the courteous treatment shown by Happy was the highlight of the weekend.

Sunday morning, after a Breakfast of Sweet Rolls and Coffee, they began to depart, leaving the house with a very empty feeling. However, we are all looking forward to the next get together.

In the past we have held a reunion every two years, but as some are getting older, and the number of the original family is dwindling each year, we decided it best to hold it every year. Next year we plan to meet in our Home Town, Childress, although none of us live there, nor have been there for several years, we thought it might be nice to see what the old home town looks like.

Board hires General Manager

by LES ROPER
Kinney Cavalryman

FORT CLARK -- The Board of Directors recently announced the hiring of Tom Nevinger, general manager of Fort Clark Springs. Also, Joe Neibert, from Lamar, Colorado, was hired to fill the position of restaurant manager at Las Moras Inn. Both of these men should be on the job by the end of July.

The Directors, after screening the applications for the position of general manager and personally interviewing each of them, chose Mr. Nevinger for the job. His resume and years of experience in positions that ranged from Finance Officer in the Air Force to City Manager in three different cities made him a Blue Chip choice.

After serving as city manager in McCamey for 16 years, Nevinger moved to Seabrook, where he served in the same capacity for 5 years. He then was hired as city manager in Livingston where he worked until he decided to go into business for himself. In 1986, he and his partner opened the Lighthouse R.V. Park in Matagorda. He has been active in the designing and remodeling of real estate.

The biggest part of Joe Neibert's working career has involved the management of motels and restaurants. He has managed well known establishments such as Howard Johnsons, Stagecoach Inns, and Holiday Inns before going into business for himself. His wife, Rita, has worked with him through the years and contributed heavily toward his success in the food business.

One of Neibert's main priorities will be getting along with the members and supplying them with good food. With the years of experience he is bringing to Fort Clark, anticipation is running high among the members who have heard of his move and are looking forward to meeting him and his family.

Carl Chism guest speaker

Cavalryman Reporter

FORT CLARK -- Community Council vice president, Vickie Nichols, serving as moderator in the absence of president, Dick Hirsch, called the regular monthly meeting to order this past Saturday morning at nine o'clock. With a majority of the membership on summer vacations or, just gone for the weekend, a relatively small crowd was on hand.

The invocation and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Earl Love. After the minutes were read by Lorraine Sloan and the treasurer's report by Harold Kauffman, the business at hand proceeded.

Security Chief, Carl Chism, was the guest speaker. He told the council that he would soon be employed one year as chief. During this time there has been two burglaries and both of these have been solved. The members asked Mr. Chism questions that covered areas such as golf carts driven by children, patrolling the backside of the Fort, teen-age drinking, speeding vehicles, visitors, etc. He very expertly answered every question.

The meeting adjourned with Ms. Nichols encouraging everyone to bring someone to the next meeting. She reminded the members present that the community council was an effective means of communication between them and management.

Some disappointment was shown by the members present when a letter from the Board of Directors was read in response to a recent proposal presented by Ms. Nichols. Ms. Nichols had presented a plan for activities such as chili cook-offs and goat cook-offs that would bring big groups onto the Fort. While these groups were here, they could be escorted around the Post where they might show an interest in investing in property here. The Board's letter encouraged the Council to pursue the plan on their own.

Gene Moore, who had requested that his name be placed on the agenda, spoke to the council on ways to save money. He was under the impression that an increase in assessments was inevitable and he had a plan for heading off the increase. He spoke on ways that management could save money and, in doing so, eliminate any tax increase.

Eyes are on Bill and Odette Mills

Cavalryman Reporter

FORT CLARK -- Brackettville and Fort Clark Springs gained two new residents in 1979 that have proved to be Blue Ribbon members, when Bill and Odette Mills decided to move here from Pasadena, Texas.

The Mills had two friends, Billy and Carl Battle, who lived on the Fort. The Battles told them about the beautiful place in Brackettville, that in their opinion, answered the prayers of anyone looking for a place to retire.

Bill and Odette headed out west with Fort Clark on their itinerary. It was the last place they visited in more ways than one. Immediately after arriving here they both knew they had discovered their own Shangrila.

After selling out in Pasadena, where Mr. Mills had been employed by Atlantic Richfield for 32 years, they picked them one of the most beautiful spots in Unit 3, and, even though this love story is far from over, they have lived happily for the past 12 years.

Mr. Mills has been active in civic affairs on the Fort while serving as chairman of the Architect Committee, president of the Community Council, and many other functions that have contributed toward the promotion of the Post. Mills was president of the Community Council the year it cleared $10,000 from Fort Clark Days. He still holds this celebration very dear to his heart and expresses some remorse when he thinks about it being discontinued.

Mrs. Mills (Odette) is an avid golfer. She loves the game and is one of the most popular players on the Fort. At the present, she is recuperating from a broken hip she sustained when she tripped and fell over a telephone wire at the golf course clubhouse. She is spunky and tough and she refuses to let something as small as a broken hip slow her down. Odette loves Bridge and plays the game on a very regular basis.

The north 40 is probably the most popular place in Bill and Odette's lives. It is a big strip of land behind their house that was rock and weeds when they opted for it. Today, it is an oasis that is covered with grass, fruit trees, and a beautiful garden ... the result of many years of labor and tender loving care.

When the Mills family was asked to name some of their good friends they hesitated. That was clearly understandable when you know two people like them who consider everyone on the Fort their friend. Odette did say that she loves Rosemary and Bob Lovell with all her heart and Bill said that he thought the world of Ralph and Elbe Beard.

Pasadena's loss was Fort Clark's gain.

Fort Clark golf news

By LES ROPER
Cavalryman Sports

FORT CLARK -- When we drive or walk around the golf course today we have a tendency to take for granted the beauty we are enjoying and forget the condition the course was in some months ago. The pretty rock gardens beside some of the tee boxes, the steps that lead up to the tee boxes, the beautiful white cart paths that travel from number one to number eighteen, and the beautiful shrubbery that is growing by leaps and bounds.

Fellow golfers, let us not forget Hoagy's Heroes, the "Over the Hill Gang" that contributed hours of sweat and blood to the beautification of the course. Don't forget to thank Bob Young for helping with the watering and Frank Ekenroth for his continuous watch care over the new trees and shrubs. How many of you remember when the water in the ball washers was changed every three months, whether they needed it or not? Can'tcha remember when the water in them smelled like a gorilla's outhouse right after it was struck by lightning? Well, they ain't that way no more 'cause Dean Adams takes the time to drain water out of the washers and fill them with fragrant soap and fresh water.

Yep, we just take the good things for granted and get so wrapped up in the game of golf, we forget to thank the "good guys in the white hats" who work so hard on our playground like the Ekenroths, Adams, Youngs, Nelsons, Pecks, Petajas, Hornings, Busseys, the Herron boys, Mayberrys, Utey, Millers, and many others. The work list goes on and on.

For you guys and gals who are enjoying the summer up north and didn't forget to subscribe to the Cavalryman before you left, the course is being taken care of. The hard work you guys did before you left is not being neglected. Maybe a lot of these guys here on Fort Clark forgot to thank you for your hard work, but it wasn't deliberate ... they meant to.

The weekly Couples Tournament has always been one of the most popular golfing events on Fort Clark resident's calendar and this past week did nothing to discredit that assumption. It is a fun day set aside for wives who want to gripe at their husbands for trying to give them golf lessons while they are in the process of hitting a good shot. Gardyloos can be heard all over the course on Thursday morning during this tournament.

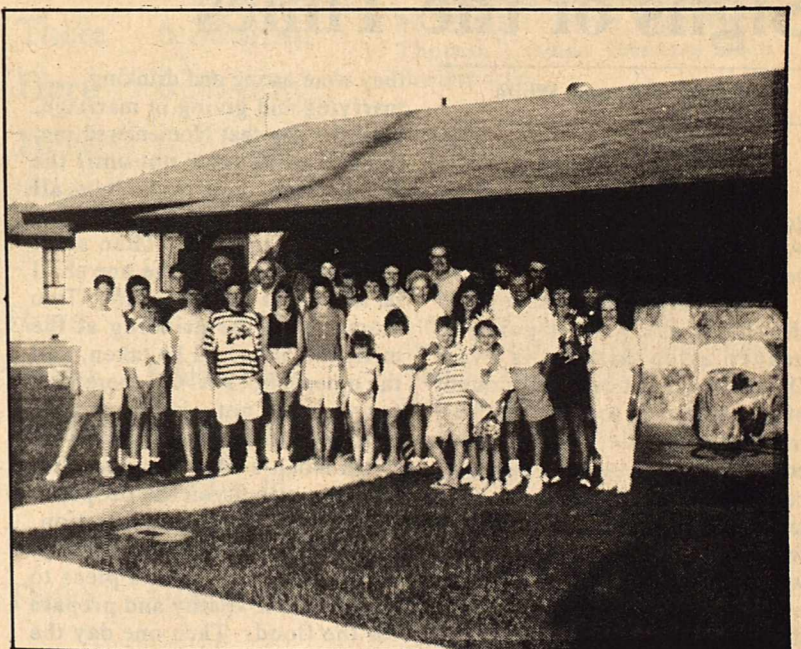

Two teams tied for 1st and 2nd place after posting identical net 64's. Even though Charlie Smith might suffer from a mild case of geromorphism, he still hits the ball like Gargantua when he is playing for money. He proved this point after he led his team of Mary Stephenson, Marti Isenberg, and Dan Isenberg to the first place finish tie with Bob and Jane Young and Avis and Andy Anderson, who also posted a net 64. Young was heard commenting on drawing Andy Anderson for a partner. "A guy who is lucky enough to talk Jack Legg out of "lynching" him for driving on a wet fairway is like carrying a four leaf clover and a rabbit's foot in your golf bag. I love this guy for a partner." Third place was captured by Carl Spray and Jan Chism and Tom and Linda McNew.

Putting and home made ice cream was the order of the day last Friday evening, as nearly 50 of the best putters on Fort Clark signed up for the monthly scramble. The event brought golfers out from all over the Fort.

When Bill Bizzell signed up for the big event, Old Gordie and Ralph were heard chuckling about this entry. One of them said, "Poor Bizzell, after my trip that he paid for to Hawaii and the new motor home he just bought for you, he is going to have to concentrate on his putting for his recreation money."

Well, something must have worked, because he led his team to victory. Bizzell teamed up with

Gallions and Gallions galore

Cavalryman Reporter

FORT CLARK -- The Post was working alive with Gallions' this past week after their family reunion reached it's peak. This family of twins were on cloud nine as they strutted around the Fort "bragging" to their friends about their good looking sons, daughters, and grandkids.

Visiting Harold and Frances Gallion was their daughter, Shirley, and two sons, Harold, Jr., and Ronnie and their families. They have one daughter who could not make the trip.

Gerald and Catherine Gallion's four daughters, Patricia, Karen, Barbara, and Ava came to the reunion with their husbands and children with only their son, Philip missing.

When the Gallion boys were questioned about accommodating this group they just smiled and said, "we managed." They rented apartments for the older kids and a big group of the smaller children slept in tents pitched in the backyard. Part of the adults had to rent a motel in Del Rio. They did express some disappointment in not being able to attain motel rooms on the Fort.

The visitors came from California, Ohio, Illinois, Virginia, Georgia, Oklahoma, and Texas.

It was a toss up as to which area was the busiest ... the swimming pool or the nine hole golf course. According to the two brothers, the kids fell in love with Fort Clark. "Over half of them," commented Harold, "would like to move here and live permanently. They were never bored one minute."

One of the highlights of the reunion took place Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church when three of Harold Gallion's granddaughters were invited to sing. Kathy, Martha, and Sandra Awtry, who are members of the Baptist Church in Bishop, Georgia displayed a very musical talent when they brought the special music to the morning worship service.

The reunion, according to the Gallion brothers, was enjoyed by both families and they are already making plans for a "repeat performance" next year.

Re: Kinney County Redistricting Voting Precincts

Dear Cavalryman,

The County of Kinney has retained consultants experienced in districting matters to assist it in implementing changes in County Commissioners, Justice of the Peace, Constable, and Voting Precinct boundaries for compliance with the Equal Protection Clause of the Constitution and the Voting Rights Act. The eventual result will be new district boundaries for the County Commissioners Precincts and possibly for Justice of Peace, Constable, and Voting Precincts from which many of our officials are elected. The County Judge will continue to be elected at large. The new boundaries will be based on the new 1990 Census data. The County plans to provide opportunity for all persons in the community to participate in the apportionment process by which the final boundary lines will be drawn. Comments, suggestions, and proposed plans are welcome by all. A Citizens Advisory Group has been appointed to assist the County in this process. The County Commissioners Court and the Citizens Advisory Group will conduct a public hearing on districting at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, July 22, 1991. The meeting will be conducted at the Kinney County Courthouse in Brackettville, Texas, in the County Commissioner's Courtroom.

Maps showing the current district boundaries and summaries of the new census data are available. This and other information may be obtained from or examined at the office of the County Judge in the Kinney County Courthouse, in Brackettville, Texas.

Any person or group who wishes to submit a proposed districting plan for consideration should submit two copies of the plan to the County Attorney on or before 5:00 p.m. on July 29, 1991. The following criteria will be used by the County consultants in assessing plans for adoption:

1. Any plan should have four County Commissioners Precincts of substantially equal population.
2. Any plan should be based on 1990 Census data.
3. Any plan should not split or fragment minority communities or pack them into districts in concentrations greater than needed to elect minority representation.

If you or other members or groups within the community would like to submit a plan or make comments or suggestions, the County is very much interested in receiving them for consideration during the districting process. Please feel free to contact Tully Shahan, County Attorney, at 563-2240 if you have questions about the districting process.

We look forward to working with you on this important matter.

Sincerely,
S/S Tim Ward, County Judge

Signs of the Times

By Robert & Bonnie White

"Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able." (Luke 13:24)

Nearly everyone wants to think that he or she will be going to heaven after this life is over. Others could not bear the thought of being thrown together with all the "Jesus people," so they have conveniently devised the theory of reincarnation, in order to have another shot at what they missed in this present life. Still others, who want to continue in their life of sin and self pleasure have devised a theory of purgatory, by which money and prayers for the dead (which is fruitless) can save them from eternal Hell.

Folks, there is ONE CHANCE TO MAKE IT! If you miss it in this life, it is forever too late! Jesus said, "But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken and the other left. Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left. WATCH therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come." (Matt 24:37-42)

In Noah's day, warning after warning was given the people to prepare for coming destruction, but they refused the warning. They scoffed at Noah's pleas to forsake their apathy and prepare for the flood. Then one day the rains came, and it was too late. Jesus said, "When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I KNOW YOU NOT WHENCE YE ARE: --- depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, ---." (Luke 13:25,27,28)

When God "shut to" the door of the ark, it was too late. Though the people outside beat on the door and begged to be let inside, it was too late! Jesus is telling us the same thing today. Jesus is soon to call his true church home, then the door will be shut, and God's wrath will be poured out upon a disobedient world. Terrible destruction ---such as not since the beginning of the world---" Jesus said would then come. (Matt 24:21)

The good news is, our Lord has offered us a way of escape. To those who want to know Jesus, let me leave you with these words: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for HE WILL ABUNDANTLY PARDON. (Is 55:6,7)

FOR BENEFICIARIES OF VA BENEFITS:

The Department of Veterans Affairs has Social Security numbers for most of its 3.5 million beneficiaries of compensation and pension benefits. However, approximately half a million veterans and dependents have not provided these numbers, and will have to do so to remain eligible for monthly payments.

This disclosure requirement, part of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990, is to be used by the VA to determine if there's been overpayment to beneficiaries who may be receiving payments from the VA that should be offset against payments from another federal agency.

If you don't have a Social Security number, inform the VA immediately. In any event, if you get the request, answer it within 60 days or you may face suspension — even termination — of VA benefits. Beneficiaries whose addresses have changed and who did not receive the request, or whose payments go directly to a financial institution and did not receive the notice at their home address, should contact their nearest VA regional office.

year and it was agreed that they would unless expenditures are adjusted to eliminate this problem.

A plan to correct the deficit is now being studied by the Commissioners that could assist in the recapture of some of the money that has already been spent. According to Judge Ward, "we can borrow $175,000 on a long term pay back that could run from 20 to 30 years. This money has already been spent on projects like the Nutrition Center and other expensive ventures that took money out of the general fund. It would be returned to the general fund so we could finish the fiscal year with close to $250,000 in it." He continued on by saying, "we can borrow an additional $150,000 that would be used immediately for new vehicles such as a car for the sheriff's department and a new ambulance to replace the one that is 12 years old. The portion of the loan that would be used on vehicles would be paid back in 5 or 6 years. That is usually the life of a vehicle."

Showing strong concern for the shortage Judge Ward cautioned the Commissioners on spending money that was not available. He strongly urged a cut back in budgets that are to be submitted from every existing county office. It was noted the Sheriff's budget, which is one of the largest in county operations, must be trimmed.

According to Shahan, "the Sheriff's office must be scrutinized. For that matter, every office, including mine, must be scrutinized" as he was referring to a cutback in overspending. He was not referring to any irregularities.

The Judge concluded by saying, "the County has the opportunity to correct these problems or "palm out. If we don't, we will find ourselves following the same paths as Maverick and Zavala Counties."

A plan for putting the entire county on a computer system was discussed at length. It was decided to research it further.

overtimes by distance. Each winning pilot is awarded 1000 points for the day and the flyer who has accumulated the most points at the end of the competition is declared the winner.

To stand around the ground crew and listen in on their radio conversations with the command pilot is a thrill within itself. At times you might hear one pilot telling his ground crew that he can't find a thermal and might have to land, while the other reports that he has found what he is looking for and has now reached an altitude of 7500 feet. These planes will stay up for 4 to 5 hours soaring through the skies from thermal to thermal. No sound of a motor to distract you. It must be quite an experience.

It is easy to understand why "soaring" is so contagious when you spend a few hours around these people. The competition is between you, your plane, and the elements while you do not have to worry about engine failure getting you disqualified.

The practice runs will last until Saturday on Fort Clark and everyone is invited to come and watch and meet some nice people. This could be a once in a lifetime opportunity to witness International competition in your own backyard.

ment on the tank. He said that he looked through a thermal sight which allowed him to spot enemy tanks 4 miles away. When asked about the accuracy from that distance, he said, "we could hit them right between the eyes if we wanted to."

During Desert Storm, Garcia said that his outfit knocked out at least 250 enemy tanks, and probably more.

The highlight of his tour of duty in Saudi Arabia was having Christmas dinner with President George Bush and his wife, Barbara. Corporal Garcia described the President as a very jovial and cheerful man.

The questions that Corporal Garcia were asked were answered with a maturity seldom seen in a man this young. He was asked about the speed of the big tank he fought in and he said it traveled around 55 miles per hour.

When he was asked about making a career of the Army he answered, "I don't think so. I believe I will stay in long enough to get my college education paid for then get out."

Many "Old Timers" from world war II used to ask a question about our young American... "if we were to have another war would todays young adult respond like we did?"

Desert Storm erased any doubt in, not only the minds of Americans, but other countries as well. Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces made up of young soldiers like Eloy "Sonny" Garcia make our flag fly just a little higher than any other flag in the world.

Gregg Nowlin appointed Athletic Director at BISD

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

On July 13, 1991, in a special meeting the Brackett Independent School District Board of Trustees voted unanimously to appoint Gregg Nowlin as Athletic Director. Gregg was born in Wynnewood, Oklahoma. He is a graduate of Eagle Pass High School and Sul Ross University. At Sul Ross he majored in Physical Education and minored in Spanish, received all level certification in both teaching fields, and was selected for the Dean's Honors list with a 3.5 average.

Coach Nowlin has been an active participant in sports since high school where he played football, baseball, and basketball. He played line backer and defensive end on the Sul Ross football team.

Upon graduating from Sul Ross, Gregg made his home in Del Rio where he taught and coached for six years before joining the staff at Brackett Independent School District in 1988. At Del Rio he was head JV Football coach, assistant varsity football coach, JV girl's basketball coach, and JV baseball coach. His duties here at Brackett High School for the past three years have included; teaching English I, English II, and Spanish II; and assistant varsity football, head varsity girl's basketball and head coach of the first Tiger baseball team in twenty years. In 1988-89 and 1989-90 he led the girl's basketball team to the area round of state playoffs. In 1990-91 Coach Nowlin fielded a young team of four sophomores and one junior after losing a senior starter to an injury. This young team lost District Co-Champs to Lytle in a play-off game in Hondo.

Brackett's new marquee

Marquee donated by PTO

Cavalryman Staff Writer

The Tiger Gym will have a new addition this year, a Brackett Marquee. The PTO donated the new $2,000. marquee to the school. The money was raised by having raffles and the concession stand at the football and baseball games.

The PTO also gave a $500. Scholarship to 1991 graduate Frank Rodriguez. This is just one of the organizations who help with the different areas in our school.

All money collected from these different PTO projects goes back into the school. They are solely supported by the parents and fans of our Students at Brackett ISD.

David Dorrrough was president of the PTO last year and the PTO will soon elect a new president. The PTO meets once a month. Check the later additions of the newspaper for time and date.

Fertilizer necessary for landscape maintenance

By Alan L. McWilliams, CEA-AG
Texas Agricultural Extension Service

Reasonable fertilizer programs are a part of basic landscape maintenance. Our soils are low in plant essential nitrogen. Yearly applications of nitrogen containing fertilizers are necessary for healthy tree, shrubs and turf grasses.

There are as many fertilizer formulations on the market as there are diet colas. Exotic fertilizer combinations are usually as nutritional to the plant as a diet cola is, also. Specific fertilizers are marketed for specific plants (pecan fertilizers, tomato fertilizers, etc.). It is a proven fact that plants are unable to read fertilizer labels. Our soils tend to have sufficient phosphorus and potassicases, our soils are low in iron because of high pH values. Nitrogen is also relatively low.

It is possible, and much more economical, to use the same fertilizer on your lawn, trees (shade, fruit, nut) flowers, and vegetable garden. Which fertilizer? One that is primarily nitrogen (the first number of the analysis) with lesser percentages of phosphorus and potassium. (the second and third numbers). The old 16-20-0, has been used for years, but it is probably not the best.

Fertilizers that contain sulfur, zinc and iron may contribute somewhat to plant available amounts of these elements in the soil, but additional and separate applications of iron (in a chelated form for alkaline soils) will be needed on ornamental and fruit trees. Pecans will need zinc (as a foliar spray) for greatest vigor and nut production.

Ideally, fertilizer rates are based on soil samples. Sample Kinney County Extension office. Remember, fertilizer applications go hand-in-hand with sufficient watering throughout the growing season.

- Trees: apply 1.5 pound of 21-0-0 per inch of trunk diameter. A 10 inch pecan tree would need 15 pounds of 21-0-0 scattered around its dripline.
- Shrubs: Apply 1 pound of 21-0-0 per foot of shrub height. A group of three junipers, 4 feet in height would require 12 pounds of 21-0-0.
- Lawns: Apply 20-30 pounds of 21-0-0 per 1000 square feet of common Bermuda. St. Augustine requires about 10 pounds less. These are total yearly amounts of fertilizer. Divide your total requirements into 2-3 applications. Measure your lawn as to not over-fertilize.
- Vegetable gardens: Preplant incorporations of 1 pound of 21-0-0 per 100 square feet of dressings of fertilizer may be necessary during the growing season.

I have made several visits to homes in Unit 15 and around Fort Clark. They all have had one thing in common. Problems with iron chlorosis are common this time of year. A general yellowing of the leaves with green veins running through the yellow leaf indicate a lack of plant available iron. Please remember, the iron these plants need is not the same kind of iron from metal shavings, rusty nails, old horse shoes or similar steel items. This form is not available to the plant and does no good to be around a tree. Chelated iron (copperas) is the type you need to be using.

If you have questions about fertilizer or anything else, please call or come by the Kinney County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Our office hours are 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

CONGRESSMAN

REPORTS TO Texas

Texans routinely purchase services and merchandise over the telephone by using credit cards or checking account numbers. Unfortunately, as the public becomes more accustomed to the convenience of shopping by phone, unscrupulous telemarketers are discovering new ways to empty the pockets of their unsuspecting customers.

Last week, the Select Aging Subcommittee on Health and Long-Term Care held a joint hearing with the House Small Business Subcommittee on Regulation to expose to the public the latest telemarketing scams that are sweeping the country. Fraudulent telemarketers swindle millions of dollars from their victims each year. Worse yet, the elderly and those with bad credit histories have become prime targets for these criminals.

The newest high-tech scams are particularly threatening. A smooth-talking telemarketer, operating from a phone-bank, persuades a consumer with a checking account to divulge his account number. The telemarketer then puts the checking account number on a magnetically-encoded band deposit draft. By depositing the draft, the bank will automatically transfer funds from the consumer's account and into the telemarketer's account.

Even though millions of Americans believe that a withdrawal from their checking account cannot be made without their written consent, this deposit draft scam allows personal checking accounts to be tapped without the owner's permission. By the time the consumer gets his bank statement and learns that the money has been stolen, the telemarketer may be long gone.

All consumers need to be on guard and protect themselves from this type of fraud. Experts testified to Congress that even though this new electronic theft is only a few months old, it has already cost consumers hundreds of millions of dollars. Although there are plenty of legitimate telemarketers, a few criminal organizations could ruin the reputation of the entire industry.

In the coming months, the Congress will work closely with law enforcement authorities, representatives of financial institutions, and scam victims to examine new approaches to register and bond telemarketers so that questionable telephone sales operations are weeded out.

One of my main concerns is protecting the elderly who are most susceptible to these crimes. For the sake of our aging population -- for the sake of all Texans -- I am hopeful that Congress will be able to find ways to protect innocent consumers from being taken advantage of and robbed in faulty telemarketing schemes.

If you have any questions or comments regarding this issue or any other issue before the House of Representatives, please let me hear from you. My address is: Congressman Martin Frost, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

"Although He was a Son, He learned obedience from the things which He suffered. And having been made perfect, He became to all those who obey Him the source of eternal salvation, being designated by God as a high priest according to the order of Melchizedek. Concerning him we have much to say, and it is hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing. For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you have need again for someone to teach you the elementary principles of the oracles of God, and have come to need milk and not solid food. For everyone who partakes only of milk is not accustomed to the word of righteousness, for he is a babe. But solid food is for the mature, who because of practice have their senses trained to discern good and evil" (Hebrews 5:8-14).

As we studied last week, Hebrews 5:11 through Chapter 6 is a digression. In Hebrews 5:1-10, the author begins to tell how Christ is a priest after the priesthood of Melchizedek. The author continues this subject in Chapters 7 and 8, but there is a digression from the subject beginning in 5:11. Every preacher, minister and Bible teacher just has to love verses 5:11 through 14. It is as if the writer of Hebrews is teaching a Bible lesson and is getting ready to get into some heavy theological points when he looks up and sees that he has lost his audience! It is as if some are looking out the window, or polishing their nails, or talking to their neighbor, or sleeping, or doing something besides listening to the teacher. So the teacher starts castigating them by saying that not only have they become hard of hearing, but that they are still babes in Christ. They have been Christians long enough that they ought to be teachers, but instead have to be milk feed with the simple ABCs of Christian doctrine (elementary principles of the oracles of God). The author was going to feed them a succulent T-bone steak consisting of profound theological doctrine, but he finds they cannot handle it since they are still spiritually immature.

"Therefore leaving the elementary teaching about the Christ, let us press on to maturity, not laying again a foundation of 1) repentance from dead works, and 2) of faith toward God, 3) of instruction about washings, and 4) laying on of hands, and 5) the resurrection of the dead, and 6) eternal judgment. And this we shall do, if God permits (Hebrews 6:1-3 - underline and numbers added). The "elementary teaching about the Christ" and the "elementary principles of the oracles of God" both mean the same thing, i.e., the basic ABCs of Christian doctrine. Then the author states that we are going to leave the ABCs and press on to maturity (more profound doctrine) and we are not going to lay a foundation again of the ABCs. Then he lists 6 of the ABCs. In other words, "repentance from dead works" is the first basic Christian doctrine, faith toward God is number 2, etc. Thus the author lists 6 basic doctrines, but keep in mind the first one, "repentance from dead works."

"For in the case of those who have once been enlightened ... and have tasted the good word of God ... and then have fallen away, it is impossible to renew them again to repentance, since they again crucify to themselves the Son of God, and put Him to open shame" (Hebrews 6:4-6 - underline added). Fallen away from WHAT? In the author's context, the only thing they could fall away from is the foundation of the ABCs! And the "repentance" that it is impossible to renew them to is the "repentance from dead works," which is the first of the 6 ABCs that the author listed. Instead of listing the 6 ABCs, the author simply listed the first word of the first ABC, and this is very clear in the Greek. We have to be careful that we don't read things into the text that are not there. We can't add the "fallen from grace" from Galatians 5:4, because all it says is "fall away" and in context the only thing they could have fallen away from was the "foundation of repentance from dead works," etc. "Repentance" is a translation of the Greek word "metanoia" which simply means "a change of mind" about something or someone. When the King James Version of the Bible was translated in 1611, the English word repent also meant simply a change of mind; today, "repent" has come to mean "feel sorry for sin." As for "again crucify to themselves the Son of God," the only way this could occur would be to go back to the temple in Jerusalem and participate in animal sacrifices. The rituals of the Mosaic Law were a shadow of the Person, work, and ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ, and thus animal sacrifice foreshadowed Jesus' crucifixion as "the lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world." But to return to animal sacrifice after believing in Christ would be putting "Him to open shame." Thus the issue in these verses in Hebrews 6 is not about losing your salvation, but rather about the danger of returning to a works system after knowing of the grace system.

Eyesight is one of the most precious gifts we possess. If your sight or the sight of a family member is endangered by an injury, defect or disease, make an appointment to consult doctors at Medical Center Ophthalmology Associates at 4499 Medical Drive, Suite 161 in Methodist Plaza in San Antonio, phone 1-800-634-7230 and in the Val Verde Out-patient Clinic at 612 Bedell in Del Rio, phone 775-7494. They are ophthalmologist physicians, specially trained to diagnose and treat problems of the eye, such as cataracts, glaucoma and retinal diseases. These eye specialists are completely knowledgeable in both medical and surgical treatments. They are skilled in delicate eye surgery...such as cataract removal and implantation of intraocular lenses. Using modern laser technology, the doctors treat secondary membranes which sometimes cloud vision following cataract surgery and use laser to treat glaucoma. They are also available to give a second opinion if eye surgery has been recommended to you. They offer complete eye exams, dry eye treatment, plastic surgery of the eyelids, diabetic eye problems, etc. Why not take that first step toward better vision? For professional ophthalmological care to restore, preserve or enhance your vision, call them for an appointment or information. We highly recommend them.

Across the street to the west, from stable building 56 was a small wooden stable building and fenced in area, which served as home for the paint burro, as shown in the photograph. This little animal seemed to be quite a tourist attraction, as the weekend that I took these photos, quite a few other ranch quests were admiring him and taking his picture. In the photo of the stable area, a mess hall is shown, to the right, which later was converted into a residence. In the background, to the left, appears the old station hospital, which was converted into the present day Adult Center. I am unsure whether the stable in the photograph was an original army building or not, even though it appears as one. On the final map made by the Fort Clark Post Engineer during 1944, it looks as though temporary World War II barracks were located on this site.

The Comanches were one of the few tribes of the South Plains who did not eat dog or human flesh.

In 1875, the last of the Comanches surrendered to the U.S. Army at Ft. Sill and went on a reservation in the Indian Territory of Oklahoma.

The Comanches were called the "lords of the southwest" and dressed in costumes of buckskin and animal hide.

They were fearless fighters who rescued their dead and wounded in battle. On occasion they used poison from an unknown plant or stuck their arrow points in a dead, ripe skunk which also was effective.

Stealing horses from the enemy was a grand accomplishment but then the Comanches would gracefully lose the horses again to their friends in dice and other handgames.

The Comanche ranged all the way north, east and southeast of the Pecos River. It was probably true that the Kiowas went with them on their raids into Mexico.

Perhaps, the introduction of the colt revolver, in the hands of the Texas Rangers was one of the most deciding factors towards their surrender.

Today, according to the Bureau of Indian Affairs there are about 7400 Comanche Indians, but less than a thousand of these are full bloods.

About 8,000 are registered as Kiowas and most of these two groups live in Oklahoma at the present time.

Governor names Board Member for Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority

Governor Ann W. Richards named David Ojeda, Jr. to the board of directors of the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority.

Ojeda, 42, from Carrizo Springs, is Executive Director of the Community Services Agency of Dimmit, La Salle and Maverick Counties.

The Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority is constitutionally mandated to select, construct, operate, decommission and finance low-level radioactive waste disposal facilities within the state.

With over 20 years experience in social work and community development, Ojeda has been involved in projects which promote the use of renewable energy resources and appropriate technology.

Ojeda is a member of the Texas Association of Community Action Agencies and the Middle Rio Grande Private Industry Council.

"David Ojeda is concerned about people's health and their well being," Richards said. "As a member of the board, he will bring his practical experience as head of an agency--dealing with budgets and the concerns of everyday people who struggle to provide for their families and protect their children to a board with critical task in front of it."

Hugh Bradley speaks July 24th

On Wednesday night, July 24, at 7:00 p.m., Hugh Bradley is to speak at the First Baptist Church of Brackettville.

Hugh lettered in Football, Basketball, and Baseball in Uvalde. Following High School graduation Hugh received a broken neck in an automobile accident.

He graduated from the Assembly of God Seminary in Waxahatchie, Texas, and shares his personal faith in Churches in many places.

The Templeton sisters -- Mary, Carol, and June -- will also sing for the special Wednesday services at 7:00 o'clock.

The Public is cordially invited to this special service. An offering will be received during the service for the ministry of Hugh Bradley.

Reflections By Rev. Preston Taylor First Baptist Church

By Preston A. Taylor First Baptist Church

A University of Tennessee research team once made a study of the effect that loud music has on the ears of pigs.

The pigs had to listen to about four hours of music each day -- popular teenage music.

Then the research team plugged the left ear of each guinea pig. After 88 hours of hard sounding music, the ear cells (cochlea) in each unplugged ear were photographed.

The University of Tennessee had a screening test for freshmen. They found that many of those young students already had hearing problems equal to the losses of 65 and 70 year old people. Miserable losses which are permanent. No recovery possible.

Quite frankly, it's not wise to listen to hard rock or any kind of sounds that continue to bombard the ears. Not only does the bad music cause physical damage, but also the negative spiritual impact upon the life is beyond calculation.

Most of us don't worry too much about those who drive their vehicles around with the radio blasting out with music. We simply are afraid the walls of some buildings may fall and that some people may have to be taken by and EMS crew to a hospital emergency room, because of damaged ear drums from the radio shock waves.

A Postscript may be added. Christian songs and hymns are healthy for the ears as well as for the soul.

OPTIONS FOR HEALTH

What Is Heat Stroke?

Katherine M. Jew, M.D.

Department of Internal Medicine at Scott and White Hospital and Clinic, and Assistant Professor of Medicine, Texas A&M University College of Medicine

My 80-year-old mother is very active and enjoys the outdoors. During the summer months I worry that she may overdo and suffer a heat stroke.

A heat stroke is a medical emergency caused by excessive heat exposure and characterized by fever, lack of sweating and central nervous system dysfunction, ranging from confusion to coma.

There are certain medications that the elderly person may be taking that can predispose him or her to heat stroke.

If the elderly person is on any of these medications, they need to be exceedingly careful regarding their exposure to heat in order to avoid heat stroke.

If a person is suspected of having a heat stroke, this is a medical emergency and they need to be taken immediately to the nearest emergency facility.

If the person is alert and not confused, give them cool liquids to drink. If, however, the person has had a seizure or is confused, rapid transport to the nearest emergency facility is important and they should not be given anything to drink.

If you have a question please write to "Scott & White Options For Health" in care of your local newspaper.

the people who reside in Kinney County realize, (a personal evaluation), what this man's job even pertains to.

All of the local rancher's know. Have you ever driven the back roads of this County? If you have, at one time or another, you have seen Mr. Lawson, or his crew, repairing and maintaining the County roads, which most of the local people never drive on or even know exist.

This article is written in very laymen terms because my vocabulary prevents it to be otherwise. I have known Lee Lawson for many years and I only know he is an asset to this County, not only as a citizen, but in his job. Above all, he is my good friend.

I only ask that, for the sake of the welfare and pride of this county, that you, as citizens, at least take the time to inquire why this man was fired from his position in this county.

If you had a piece of precision equipment that was performing it's job and running smoothly, would you take it apart to fix it?

Highway work begins

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

SAN ANGELO - Brannan Paving Company, Inc., of Victoria, has begun work on seal coating various highways in this area. They will be working on this project for the rest of the summer.

Work in Kinney County consists of the following locations: 1. On S.H. 131 from U.S. 90 to Maverick County Line. 2. On R.M. 674 from R.M. 334 to Edwards County Line 3. On R.M. 3008 from U.S. 90 to R.M. 2523

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has a regular program of seal coating highways each summer to preserve the existing highway system and reduce maintenance costs in the future.

When driving in a construction area, slow down, watch for men and equipment working, and obey warning signs.

VEGETABLE VARIATIONS WITH NUTS

One certain way to make vegetables look and taste appetizing is to serve them whole with a delicious stuffing. It's very easy to do, particularly if you stuff with a prepared food such as frozen spinach or corn soufflé, or other side dishes available at frozen food sections. A new recipe book titled "The Nut Cookbook from Planters" suggests mixing and matching vegetables with stuffings and nuts for a boost in texture, flavor and nutritive value.

The following recipes for Corn Stuffed Peppers and Zucchini with Rice Pecan Stuffing can be assembled in a matter of minutes, but they look very special. For texture and flavor, sunflower kernels and pecan pieces are added to the stuffings. These prime quality nuts are from a full line, packaged by Planters Nuts in amounts suitable for recipes as well as for snacking. The cello bags range from 2 to 10 ounces in size, and add considerable appeal to almost any vegetable.

CORN STUFFED PEPPERS

Remove tops and seeds from 5 small bell peppers. Place seeded peppers in boiling water for 2 minutes. Remove and set cut side down on paper towels to drain. Thaw a 12 oz. package of corn soufflé, combine with 3/4 cup Planters Sunflower Kernels. Spoon mixture into thin lengthwise slice off one low baking dish and sprinkle 1/4 cup coarsely grated Cheddar cheese over corn filling. Bake at 350°F. for 25 to 30 minutes, or until peppers are tender. Serves 5.

ZUCCHINI WITH PECAN RICE STUFFING

Dissolve 1 beef bouillon cube in 1/2 cup boiling water. Mix in 1 tablespoon Blue Bonnet Margarine and 1/2 cup packaged precooked rice. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Trim off ends of 6 small zucchini squash and cut a lengthwise slice off one side of each. Scoop out pulp

Finely chop zucchini slices and pulp; mix with prepared rice, 1/2 cup Planters Pecan Pieces and 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese. Stuff mixture into shells and arrange in a shallow baking dish. Bake at 400°F. for 15 to 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serves 6.

"The Nut Cookbook from Planters" offers recipes that illustrate how nuts enhance almost every type of food, from soup through dessert. It may be obtained by writing: "The Nut Cookbook," Box 632, Madison Square Station, New York N.Y. 10010.
