City Council terminates Gonzales

Kinney Cavalryman Writer

CITY HALL -- A packed courtroom was on hand Tuesday evening when Mayor Pro-Tem Diane Bravo called a special meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. The much talked about meeting that had been set, canceled, and reset was called for the purpose of discussing problems that have grown between Felix Gonzales, newly hired city secretary who was still serving his probationary period and the city council.

The business to be discussed was in regards to personnel and, by law, held while the City Council was in executive session. Gonzales contacted a lawyer after been notified by a County Commissioner that the meeting was to terminate his (Gonzales) job. When the agenda was posted a letter was attached to it by Mr. Gonzales requesting an open meeting as per Article 6252-17 sub section 2 G.

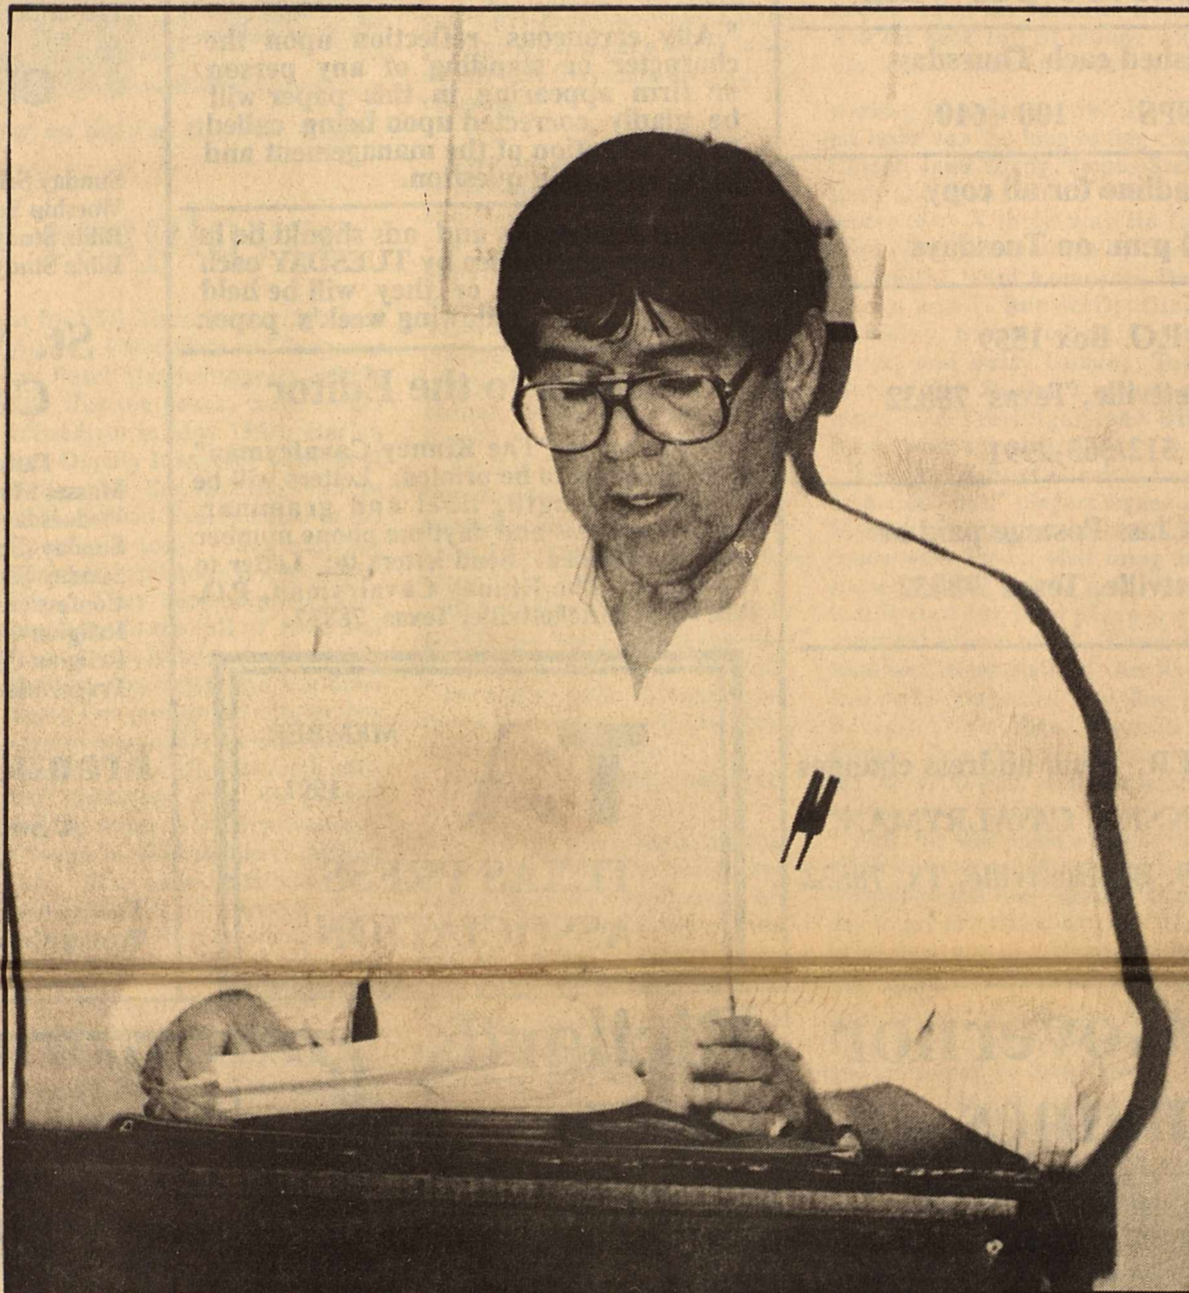

City Attorney Ralph Brown was in attendance at the request of the entire City Council.

The Mayor addressed Mr. Gonzales and asked him if he would like to publicly speak to the council. He replied that he would.

Mr. Gonzales stated that this whole incident was a personal vendetta against him by Alderman Ralph Gonzalez and Mayor Pro-Tem Diane Bravo.

He continued on by telling of an incident that took place in his office where Mrs. Bravo supposedly swung a tape recorder at him in an attempt to do him bodily harm. Gonzales told the audience that he contacted the Sheriff's office and Norman Hooten responded to the call. Before he could continue on, he was stopped by Mayor Bravo and informed that the tape recorder incident had nothing to do with the hearing that was in progress.

Attorney Brown notified Mr. Gonzales that the incident he was referring to with the Mayor was of no consequence in this hearing. Brown did tell the Council that criminal charges had been filed, but would be disposed of in due course.

One of the charges Gonzales leveled at the Council was his being stripped of the right to hire and fire. He stated an ordinance that gave him this power. He was immediately reproached by Alderman Gonzalez for openly discussing business that had transpired during executive session. Mr. Brown affirmed the Alderman's assumption, but explained that executive session was to protect the rights of an employee. Brown continued on by saying Mr. Gonzales could divulge this information about himself in public at his own discretion.

The city secretary stated, "I think that I have done a pretty good job since I have been here."

Mr. Gonzales listed many of his accomplishments during his short tenure as city secretary. He pointed out to the Council that he had saved the city many dollars in telephone calls, gasoline expenditures, and employee overtime.

After he finished his remarks he repeated his accusations toward Alderman Gonzalez and Mayor Bravo charging them with a personal vendetta. When Mr. Gonzales was questioned about the firing of Edward Salazar, he promptly accused the Mayor and the Alderman of instructing him to do so. This was vehemently denied by both elected officials.

Two city employees were called to the podium and both of them agreed that Mr. Gonzales had used profanity on them. They both agreed that the city secretary had threatened to "work their butts off" and fire them if they didn't produce. Alderman Gonzalez asked the two employees if they felt as though the secretary had a personal vendetta toward them and they both replied, "yes."

Secretary Gonzales denied using vulgar language and requested Mrs. Ginger Dodson to please come forward and exonerate him from the charge. Mrs. Dodson did say that profanity was used, but not the four letter word that was told by the employees.

Alderman Gonzalez asked Mr. Gonzales if he had ever told any of his employees that they would be fired if they went to a city council member with a problem. The city secretary denied the statement. Alderman Gonzalez snapped back, "then you are calling all of these boys liars that say you did?" Gonzales continued to deny that he had made a statement such as the one he was accused of saying.

Alderman Gonzalez asked the city secretary if he had ever ordered drug tests on city employees. Mr. Gonzales refused to answer the question until the city attorney, Ralph Brown intervened. Mr. Brown told the secretary that the question was legitimate, but naming the four employees was classified. Mr. Gonzales answered, "yes" that he did require drug tests on these men.

Alderman Bernie Cervantez acknowledged the large crowd and reminded them that all of their meetings were open. He said the meeting was originally set for a personnel meeting in executive session. There were no plans to fire Mr. Gonzales. But when he attached his letter to the agenda and asked for an open meeting "he jumped the gun. No one on the council wanted to fire him. They just wanted to work out some complaints that had been registered against him."

Mr. Gonzales told the crowd, "this meeting might terminate me but, by the same token, I intend to take this to Mr. Tom Lee, the District Attorney's office, for a possibly Grand Jury investigation because of "theivery" here at the city hall." He went on to name the items that were reported missing.

Alderman Gonzalez charged the city secretary with not adhering to the chain of command in city government. The Alderman explained the importance of a chain of command. It was his opinion that the secretary was "out of control."

Mayor Bravo pointed out to Mr. Gonzales that many of the "accomplishments" he was taking credit for had been done before he was hired. Gonzales had no comment.

The question of the missing money bag was presented to the

DEL RIO -- "Texas has a warehouse in it" was the tune that dominated the setting at the Paul Poag theater in Del Rio the past two weekends as the Upstagers performed as never seen before.

The story of the world famous "Chicken Ranch" was brought to the stage after weeks of hard work and intense rehearsing. Fred Brockwell not only directed and produced the show but gave an award winning performance as Melvin P. Thorpe, the news commentator who kicked the political machine in gear that finally created the "shut-down" of this ever popular brothel.

The casting had all of the earmarks of professionalism seldom seen in a small border town of 30,000. The young men from Laughlin went through their parts with the confidence of seasoned veterans. The music that was provided by the Southern Exposure was as close to perfect as could be.

Miss Mona, played by Ellen Williams, exhibited a special talent at acting plus a beautiful voice. David Graf could not have portrayed Ed Earl Dodd any better had they grown up together. Miss Brackettville's Harrell Floyd performed in Del Rio with Upstagers. His talents were obviously appreciated by the big crowds.

Mona's girls were not only stunning and easy to look at but talented as well.

The boys from the base who played the part of the Aggie football team came close to bringing the house down.

The Angelettes brought smiles, chuckles, and laughs to the overflow audience that filled the theater with their own rendition of a special cheerleading dance.

The entertainment was snappy and the singing by the many dif-

Madge Belcher appointed to Nueces River Authority

BRACKETTVILLE -- She is not just another pretty face in the crowd, but Madge Belcher is one of Brackettville's most popular and colorful figures. She has been very active in the campaign to keep Spofford and Kinney County from falling into the clutches of a radioactive waste pit. She has taken a hard line stand against Texcor moving into this area and spreading their unwanted contamination into the air that her family and friends have to breathe.

Now, this dynamic and multi-talented young lady has been appointed to serve on the Nueces River Authority Board of Directors by Governor Ann Richards.

Some time back, Ms. Belcher was contacted by State Senator Judith Zaffirini with the request of a resume to be forwarded to Governor Ann Richard's office. Her resume, along with others from this area, were turned in.

According to Ms. Belcher, "I received a call from Mrs. Zaffirini's office in February notifying me that I had been selected to serve on this board. However, I didn't hear anything else until two weeks ago." She was pleasantly surprised and excited to have been chosen to serve on the very prestigious board.

Shortly after being sworn in to the Nueces River Authority Board of Directors, Madge Belcher glows with radiance. She was appointed by Governor Ann Richards.

Monday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. Ms. Belcher accompanied by her family and friends reported to the County Courthouse where she was sworn in by Judge Tim Ward.

The Nueces River Authority Board of Directors consists of 21 directors. They meet once monthly. Their job is to oversee and evaluate the water supply in the Nueces River.

The river is divided into the upper Nueces and the lower Nueces with the majority of the

Brackett ISD trustees adopt a budget for 1991-1992

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

In the meeting on Monday, August 26, 1991, the Brackett ISD Trustees adopted a budget for the 1991-92 school year. The budget included funding for one-half of the health insurance plan for each employee. Also included in the budget was money for completion of the middle school construction, purchase of a new 72 passenger bus, and remodeling of Jones Elementary School.

The Trustees were unable to take action on a tax rate for 1991-92 because the new County Education District #18 that Brackett ISD is assigned to has not set a tax rate. The CED will meet on September 5, 1991 in Fort Stockton for the purpose of adopting a tax rate. The Brackett Trustees will meet the following Monday, September 9, 1991 to set the local rate. The Trustees were told by Superintendent Bob McCall that the tax rate would be within three percent of last year's rate and he was not anticipating any increase pending CED action.

In further action, the Board approved a final budget amendment for the 1990-91 fiscal year. The budget amendment did not reflect an increase in over all expenditures.

The Brackett ISD budget is public information and copies can be requested at the school district central office by any interested party.

Tracks Along the Trail

The myth of the Dust Bowl in Oklahoma in the 1930's was not completely exact. Only five of Oklahoma's seventy-seven counties were in the Dust Bowl region. And of these counties only three were in the Panhandle. Kansas was more affected by the dust than Oklahoma, as were parts of Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

There was a dust bowl in part of Oklahoma between 1935 and 1938, and 309,000 Oklahomans left the state. But only 22,000 of them left from the dust bowl, which was only a coincidence. As for the new accounts, few journalists ever actually visited Oklahoma. I myself left Oklahoma about this same time, but didn't know there was supposed to be a dust bowl. I came to Texas with my family, because my father was transferred to Big Spring, Texas by the Company he worked for. In the last twenty years historians have tried to set the records straight, but it is a hard fought battle. Most people now blame one of the causes to be poorly conceived federal agriculture program for the cause of the exodus.

Perhaps the truest account of the beauties of Oklahoma is to read Washington Irving's Journal when he toured Oklahoma. Irving was America's first travel writer of the West.

Irving was invited to join Henry Leavitt Ellsworth, a Connecticut lawyer, who President Jackson had commissioned to travel west of Fort Gibson. He was to report back to Jackson about where the tribes of Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, and other tribes were to be settled.

His journal told the true story of Oklahoma terrain, it's wild fruit and nut trees, the wild horses and buffalo. He recorded the dress and bearing of the Indians and the legends of the Pawnees. In his writings the soldiers seemed to come to life. But spend an autumn day in Oklahoma and you too will agree with Washington Irving that it is a "glorious country spreading out far and wide in the golden sunshine of an autumn day."

Security guard Harlan Hunter on duty at the Fort Clark Springs swimming pool.

Know your employee

By Joan Boutwell
Cavalryman Staff Writer

April 27, 1926 in Decatur, AL there came into the Hunter home a bouncing little baby boy who was named Harlan. At age three, he was transplanted with his family to Nashville, Tenn. where he spent his youth and graduated high school at age eighteen in May 1944. In June 1944, he joined the Army Air Corps and served as an aviation cadet until Nov. 1945. After service, he attended college at Auburn University in ALA. There he met and married Evelyn McDonald. Upon receipt of his BS degree in August 1949, they moved to North Alabama where he did several years of farming. In 1960, they moved to Mobile, ALA when Harlan went to work at Brookly AFB in Civil Service. He has had three overseas tours - (1) Vietnam, Weapon System Logistics Officer, 1968-69; (2) Vietnam - Program Management at Bien Hoa, 1972-74 and Project Manager for F5E Aircraft; and (3) Saudi Arabia - Chief Plans and Programs for Peace Hawk Program, 1977-78. For ten years, prior to his retirement in May 1986, Harlan was Deputy Inspector General at Kelly AFB, San Antonio, Tx. In 1981, he and Evelyn came to the Fort for a tour. They enjoyed their stay and bought a membership. They became permanent residents in the fall of 1986 and have a lovely home in Unit 32. Evelyn is an artist and has done many fine paintings. Harlan has always been active in ball sports - football, baseball, fast pitch softball, tennis and golf. He pitched for the Army Air Corp National Champs in 1945 at Turner AFB in GA. His other hobbies are: Music, Golf and TV sports. He is a member of the Church of Christ in Brackettville, Tx. Evelyn and Harlan have 1 daughter, Melissa and 3 grandsons. Harlan is employed by the Fort as a security guard and can be seen mostly at the pool. Go by and say hello for he'll always have a big smile and "Howdy" for you.

Golf Highlights

Cavalryman Reporter

FORT CLARK -- While recently talking to one of Kinney County's most prominent young sheep ranchers the subject of weather (the most talked about subject in this area) surfaced. The young rancher listened to the "old outsider" talk about how dry it was as long as he could before finally very politely butting in and saying, "heck fire, old timer, this is the month of August and we never expect any rain then. August has been so dry through the years the stock around here would most likely spook and stampede if it went to raining now."

It is dry and seldom ever rains in August but that don't mean we can't get lucky and get a little precipitation from a water laden squall that frequents the Gulf on occasion.

Even dry as it is, Old Jack Legg is hammering away at the dry spots as he waters from "can to can't." Considering the growth conditions the golf course still looks pretty dog gone good. Wouldn't it be great if the golf course could use some of the pretty water that flows by the Club House down the Las Moras Creek?

Zsa Zsa Gabor was heard telling someone that she was a marvelous housekeeper. She said, "every time I leave a man I keep his house."

One of Fort Clark's best lady golfers was heard talking the other day at the Club House. She said, "there is so little difference between husbands you just might as well keep the first one."

The truth is finally out about

Bob Young. Everyone knew that he was too young to retire and would have to supplement his income with some king of job. Now we know.

The 4444 dinero comes from golf.

He has become such a perennial winner that people never notice anymore. But, let him lose one week and everyone says, "you reckon he done it on purpose?"

Nah Bob ... just kiddin'. You got one heck of a game and you deserve everything you win.

The Couples Tournament last Thursday found the team of Bob and Patty Barnett coupled with Bob and Jane Young turning in the best score of the day and claiming the first place check. Their 9 under par led the way but close behind them with a 8 under par was the team of Hubie McKelvy, Shirley Stephenson, Bill Koons, and Gene Graham and they claimed second place. A two way tie for third place was enjoyed by George and Helen Miller and Herbie and Eileen Voracek on one team and Charlie Smith and Mary Stephenson, and Andy and Avis Anderson on the other.

Fifty six of Fort Clark's mightiest hackers signed up to play last Saturday in the monthly scramble that never loses it's drawing power. Golfers who just play once a month usually come out of temporary "retirement" long enough to play on this day.

It looks like Roy Dyer's wounded hand has finally healed and he is taking up where he left off when he was injured. He teamed up with Andy Anderson, Marti Isenberg, and Janie Heninger and hauled down the beautiful trophy and the sack full of money with the lowest score of the day ... a sizzling 11 under par 59. Hot on his heels was the long hitting Carl Chism, Jane Young, James Stafford, and John Osborn with a 10 under 60. A three way tie for third place was captured by Charlie Smith, Ward Pomoroy, Dee Curry, and T. Boutwell; Clem McKelvy, Bill Mitchell, Leslie Houk, and Betty Inman; Tom McNew, Sr., Shirley Stephenson, Mary Lee Trollinger, and Bill Bizzell with a 8 under 62.

Twelve of Fort Clark's best "pitch and putt" players signed in Monday morning on the nine hole course with Sondra Meil firing the starter's pistol at 9:05 a.m. Two teams tied for first place with identical scores of 27. The first team was James Stafford, Art Ray, and John Osbourn and Roger Berset, Dave Yates, and Bill Koons. Tee off time next week will be 9:00 a.m. with all teams signing in by 8:45 a.m.

Well, the wilweme wives of the golf course quit acting like whangdoodles long enough Tuesday to get in a round of golf. Our loved ones played a Nassau on the front nine, back nine, and overall. The best score on the front nine was claimed by Jane Young, the back nine by Mary Stephenson, and the overall by Patty Barnett.

The Stableford System drew center stage for the men's scoring system Wednesday morning and after all of the dust had settled the big winner's check was picked up "The Smoocher", Dan Isenberg, and Don Packer. Finishing second was Julian Garza, Jack Wood, and Ray Kurtz. Third place went to Jim Bussey, George Miller, and Harold Kauffman.

On his return home in 1946, he left the service and they moved to Odessa,

Accident on Hwy 90 West

By Joan Boutwell
Cavalryman Staff Writer

Friday, August 23, 1991 at around 12:15 p.m., a 3/4 ton truck from Eagle Lumber Company of Del Rio, Texas was towing a heavy fork lift. They were West-bound on Highway 90 about 2 miles west of Pinto Creek when the Fork lift blew a tire. The equipment then proceeded to weave across both lanes of the Highway. (Luckily) for the driver and his passenger, it broke the tow and then turned over into the east bound lane. DPS Officers Buddy Burgess and Robert Cano arrived on the scene minutes later and began directing traffic. The driver and his passenger were shook up but unharmed.

Officer Burgess stated that, had the tow not broken, it would have probably turned the truck over also causing the occupants injury.

The Brackett Fire Department was called to the scene because there was quite a bit of gasoline spilled on the highway.

Thanks to the DPS' prompt actions controlling the heavy traffic, a possible bad accident was avoided.

Texas Senate Week in Review

By Barbara Schlieff
Cavalryman Correspondent

AUSTIN -- The Second Called Session of the 72nd Legislature convened on Monday, August 19, and adjourned Sine Die on Sunday, August 25.

During the weeklong session, congressional redistricting was passed into law, creating three new minority congressional seats, a predominantly black district in Dallas County, and two predominantly Hispanic districts, one in San Antonio and one in Houston. Senator Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas was the sponsor of the plan.

The prison overcrowding issue was solved during this session. Legislation sponsored by senator Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Senator Jim Turner of Crockett worked out the differences over a lawsuit filed by thirteen Texas counties against the state. At issue was jail overcrowding caused by state convicts waiting to be transferred to state prisons. Included in the bill are landmark drug and alcohol treatment and education programs.

Other legislation passed into law included beer sales at Texas Stadium in Arlington, reorganization of the Texas Department of Commerce, and limits on water well drilling in artesian wells. The water well issue was recently brought to light when a Texas newspaper reported on a catfish farm pumping 43 million gallons of water a day with 94% of the water being waste. The new law puts a moratorium on the wells, as well as new restrictions.

Senator Don Henderson of Houston was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate Ad Interim. Henderson is expected to host constituents for a Governor for a Day celebration in December.

The Senate stands adjourned Sine Die, a Latin term for "without another day."

Sports Highlights

Nowlin pleased with first scrimmage

Cavalryman Sports Editor

LEAKEY -- Coach Greg Nowlin, along with his coaching staff, took a young group of Fighting Tigers to Leakey last Friday night and observed them "under fire" as they engaged the Leakey Eagles in a controlled scrimmage.

A visit with Coach Nowlin found him excited over the play of the majority of his players. He did mention that some of the boys still needed more work in their positions. Nowlin praised his defense for the good job they turned in, but went on to mention that defense always seems to "gel" faster than the offense.

Even though the offense crossed the goal line just one time, they still managed to rack up 200 against a stubborn Eagle defense. When asked about the offense in particular he said, "our boys showed a lot of speed. I am impressed with that phase of our playing, but we still need to work on our blocking." He went on to say, "we just have some rough edges that need to be worked on. I'm not disappointed one bit at this point in time."

All of the coaching staff was more than satisfied with the defense. They showed a lot of hitting power and none of the boys demonstrated any weakness as far as hitting went.

Coach Nowlin was asked about some of his freshman players and he noted that the ones who played looked good. He went on to say that he had some freshman that would play a lot of football regardless of their being on the Jr. varsity or the Sr. varsity.

The coaching staff in general was impressed with the response from the kids in the athletic program. Nowlin told the Cavalryman that he had 47 boys out for football and about 43 girls out for volleyball. That 90 young people participating in sports from a total enrollment of 160 has to be impressive in the eyes of anyone or any school district the size of B.I.S.D.

When the conversation led to the prospects of a top team in the next two or three years, Nowlin's eyes twinkled and his smile told the whole story.

The future sports program in Brackettville certainly looks bright.

With the return of 10 starters from last year's team and four of them making the all district team last year things should go well this year.

Some of the early predictions show the Tigers close to the top in this year's 29-AA race.

Rebecca Payne - First Girl in Kinney County to play Football

Cavalryman Reporter

B.I.S.D. -- The future football stars of tomorrow are getting their workouts just like the big boys. Coaches Frank Taylor and David Burton are working diligently with these "little guys" preparing them for the upcoming season.

These two coaches, Burton and Taylor, are the unsung heroes of the coaching staff. They are the ones who take youngsters who have never seen a football and don't even know how to put on a uniform and get them off on the right foot. It takes time, perseverance, and a lot of patience but according to these two friendly individuals it is well worth it.

This year a new addition to the team has created some excitement and an interest in Jr. High football. They have a girl suiting up and playing the game with the boys.

She is Rebecca Payne, daughter of Albert Payne. She was asked why she wanted to play football and she answered, "I use to sit around and hear the guys say that girls can't play the game. I just said I'll show them." She continued on by saying, "I really enjoy the sport. I don't mind getting hit. I've had my arm broken playing rough sports so football doesn't scare me."

The coaching staff was pleased with the response from the 25 young players who came out for football. Coach Burton reported thirteen 7th graders and twelve 8th graders.

There first game will be at home against Nueces Canyon on September 19.

These kids need the same encouragement and response the big boys get. The coaches have invited everyone to come and watch these little "Tiger Cubs" when they play.

Rory's Video Review

Almost an Angel

It's hilarity to the high heavens as Australia's favorite funnyman, Paul Hogan ("Crocodile Dundee") stars as a thief who's convinced he's an angel.

Hogan is career criminal Terry Dean, who's hit by a car while saving the life of a little girl. When Terry regains consciousness, he awakens in a place strangely like heaven with a God who looks strangely like Charlton Heston!

Terry emerges from this vision believing he's an angel—a belief that propels him and those he encounters into some howlingly funny and heartfelt predicaments.

Featuring Hogan's Dundee co-star Linda Kozlowski, Almost an Angel showcases Paul Hogan at his most irrepressible (including hilarious impersonations of Willie Nelson and Rod Stewart) in a joy-filled, spirited comedy on high.

The Rookie

Packing years of experience and a .45 automatic, L.A. Detective Nick Pulovski figures he's got all the help he needs. He's also got all the help he doesn't need. His new partner is The Rookie.

Two top action movie heroes join forces, Director/star Clint Eastwood is the wise-cracking veteran cop Pulovski. Charlie Sheen (Platoon, Young Guns, Navy SEALs) is the eager, by-the-hook newcomer. Each must—reluctantly—rely on the other to hunt down a killer-elite gang of auto thieves.

A dynamite cast - Raul Julia, Sonia Braga, Lara Flynn Boyle, Tom Skerritt - blends with "the most spectacular action sequences Eastwood has ever filmed" (Dave Kehr, Chicago Tribune). A freeway becomes an 80-mph bumper-car game. A barrio bar is busted open like an oversized pinata. The pair drives through a wall to escape an exploding building - five stories up. And there's a little game of tag at the airport. On the runway. With a jet.

"Fasten your seat belt," Pulovski growls. He means what he says. Because The Rookie is "a slam-bam, action-packed thriller (that) packs a wallop" (Susan Granger, American Movie Classics).

Curt Brumett

Cowboy Cauldron Saturday

By Kathryn Letsinger
Chamber of Commerce PR

Curt Brumett is covering the most ground to get here for our Cowboy Cauldron Saturday, September 7. He is coming all the way from Maljamar, New Mexico. I hope it is worth his trip or we may find ourselves the subject of some of his next stories. I am not sure if that would be in our interest! He is some kind of storyteller; you will have to find out what I mean at the Civic Center. He can make anything sound funny and no matter how many times you have heard his stories they never lose their appeal.

Mr. Brumett was born in Clovis, New Mexico and grew up on a farm and ranch. He told me he started trying to write short stories when he was a senior in high school. According to his biography, the first story he sold back in 1986, was the same story his senior English teacher gave him an "F" on. He says she was "pro-Shakespeare and anti-Curt." As soon as it was published, he got a copy of it, sent to her postage due. He says he is not right very often, but when he is, he sure enjoys it!

His stories have been published in magazines and special books for years and he has performed at all the top gatherings. "All of his stories are true, but the names have been changed to protect the guilty that hasn't been caught yet." He doesn't write about long gun battles or "hot and heavy love affairs." His says his heroes do not get shot 97 times, then crawl into town to beat up the town bully and then ride off on a horse after explaining to their true love that they just haven't got the time to mess with her. (that's what he said!) He writes and tells stories about common everyday ranch kids or cowboys that are just trying to survive.

He has two books published and tapes that will be available at the Cowboy Cauldron. He is being sponsored by Nash's (Jean's), Kinney County Wool and Mohair and Burger and Shake. I want to thank Gulf Publishing and Albert Payne again for providing a house on Fort Clark Springs for the Cowboys to stay. The F.C.S. Restaurant will be serving them breakfast Sunday morning after the Cauldron also.

We have approximately thirty-five booths signed up for this first time event so far. There will be all kinds of food, woodwork, jewelry, spurs, horsehair braiding, southwestern rugs, pottery, cochina dolls, saddles and boots, southwestern fashions, local artifacts, painting, drawings, sculptures, ceramics, and much more. Our own square dance team will perform, Jim Holland's sheep dogs will show their skill, and firefighters from Waco will do their stuff at various times during the day. If you think you are a cowboy poet there will be a couple of open sessions during the day for you to try your hand at the art. Cokes and beer will be sold during the day, so outside beer can not be brought into the Civic Center. Don't forget the chili cook-off or the tortilla toss. See you there!

Brackett ISD fails to find bats in its belfry

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

The school district has had a crew of workmen employed for the past week looking for the source of a stale odor in one of the elementary classrooms. The ceiling tiles were removed from the room but no bat droppings were evident. It was finally determined that the smell was emanating from a small area between the walls. The workmen washed the entire area with a strong chlorine solution and a deodorant. The outside and inside walls were sealed with a foam sealant covered with concrete. This week the walls will be painted with a concrete sealant to keep the odor from returning. Hopefully, the ceiling tiles can be replaced and the room returned to use by the Friday, August 30.

An on-site visit by a health department representative again assigned little health risk. The health department official told the elementary principal that rumors about rabies had no credibility because the rabies virus could not exist in the environment. Elementary principal, Steve Mills, noted that no bats had ever been seen in the room.

Martinez appointed to Texas Agricultural Finance Authority

La Salle County Judge Leodoro Martinez was appointed to the board of directors of the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority by Governor Ann W. Richards.

Texas Agricultural Finance Authority was created in 1989 to establish programs to provide financial assistance for eligible agricultural businesses. T.A.F.A. is authorized to issue up to $25 million in bonds to finance agricultural processing and marketing businesses and the development of new crops. The purpose of the program is to stimulate new food and fiber industries in Texas such as textiles, food processing, and aquaculture.

Judge Martinez joins board members Rick Perry, Texas Agricultural Commissioner; Dr. Freddie Richards, Director of the Institute for International Agribusiness at Prairie View A&M University; Mary Webb, Cisco; Gary Valdez, Austin; and David Guerrero, Alice.

Loan applications are reviewed by a credit review committee composed of the Commissioner and two board members and are recommended for approval by the full board.

"It is indeed an honor to serve our Honorable Governor and the State of Texas in this very role. I hope that all eligible agribusinesses in our region will take full advantage of this program and enhance or create business and jobs for this part of Texas. I certainly will do my share to assist and cooperate with those interested businesses," Martinez said.

4-H Meeting Scheduled: A County 4-H meeting will be held Thursday, August 29, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. in the county Courthouse. All youths and parents who are interested in joining the Kinney County 4-H club are encouraged to attend.

All 4-Her's showing finewool commercial ewe lambs are reminded that we will shear on Saturday, September 14, 1991 at 8:00 a.m. at the shearing barn at Pat Rose III's house. All ewe lambs must be sheared on this day to be eligible to show.

The 4-H shooting sports project stresses safety at all times, and with hunting season coming up, now is a good time for youth to take part in the project. Shooting safety training for all new shooters and the continued promotion of safe gun handling habits for experienced shooters is the key part of the 4-H shooting sports project.

Safety first, safety always is the most important lesson taught in the program. Safe gun handling involves both common sense and the development of safe habits.

All shooters should practice these 10 rules of shooting safety:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
3. Always be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Never point your gun at anything you do not intend to shoot.
5. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
6. Never consume alcoholic beverages either before or during shooting.
7. Never climb a tree or cross a fence carrying a loaded gun.
8. Never shoot at a hard, flat surface or the surface of water. Always make sure you have a safe backstop.
9. Carry only empty guns—taken down or with the action open—into your camp, car or home.
10. Store guns and ammunition separately, under lock and key.

Remember, carelessness is the largest single contributing factor in firearms accidents. Safety rules and proper instruction, in themselves, do not prevent accidents. It's up to every individual shooter to make the rules work.

If you have a horse that can run, enter it at just $5.00 per race. Races begin at 1 p.m. with the championship race at 5 p.m. All races will be run down Front Street, one of the two famous streets in the village.

cannon firing and world famous trick roper, Kevin Fitzpatrick will provide action with his trick and fancy roping. Fitzpatrick has been roping since he was child and after many years of practice has mastered the art, performing in shows patterned after the great Will Rodgers. He does tricks such as the Butterfly, Rollovers, Wedding Ring, Cowboy Hop Scotch and the favorite of all time, The Texas Skip. Fitzpatrick, along with his eight year old gelding, "Wet", will provide an unbelievable show for all ages.

Japanese firm inks pact with A & M Extension Center

Mr. Tomohiro Nakada, president of the Salad Cosmo Company, the third largest sprout producer and distributor in Japan, is very impressed with the agricultural climate of the area. He is so impressed that he has invested substantial cash in a research project to determine how Kaiware seeds can be grown.

Mr. Nakada signed an agreement with the Texas A&M Extension Center in Uvalde, for a three year research project. Kaiware is a Japanese staple used in salads. Kaiware seeds are produced from Daikon radishes.

The A&M study will determine the appropriate growing and cultivation methods for optimum seed and harvest production. A dry harvest is critical to kaiware seed quality. The seeds are gathered in wind rows and harvested after ten days. Extensive moisture adversely affects the quality of the seed. As such, a major focus of the study will concentrate on the growing season to assure the harvest will occur during optimum dry periods.

Mike Patterson, Executive Director of the Middle Rio Grande Development Council, and Sky Lewey met Mr. Nakada in Japan last fall, during the MRGDC's first Asian mission. "When Mr. Nakada told us that he was looking for a dry climate - critical to the harvest of quality Kaiware seeds, we were confident that we could accommodate him," said Sky Lewey, Director of Economic Development. "When we returned, we contacted Dr. Daniel Lescobar at the A&M research station to discuss the feasibility of seed production. Although the first crop was planted without any specific knowledge, both the yield and quality of the seeds were impressive," she said.

Since the initial results of the Kaiware harvest in June, Mr. Nakada has twice visited the area. He has toured seed cleaning and processing facilities at Foster Rambie and Corn Processors and several farms.

Mr. Nakada is intent on developing the necessary system and operations to insure a supply of quality seeds for his growing markets. Mr. Nakada is not interested in contracting for production but rather in participating with farmers to produce the seed quality he desires. "This is an unprecedented opportunity to develop a unique system of production with direct relationships between farmers and the Japanese consumer," according to Lewey.

"Salad Cosmo consumption translates to about 1200 acres of seed production annually," commented Uvalde County Judge Bill Mitchell. "As Mr. Nakada captures a larger market share with his quality product, the potential for increased production of the seed grows accordingly," Mitchell said.

"The Salad Cosmo project is a prime example of an Asian consumer business that is seeking quality and is prepared to invest capital to obtain the product. The concept of attracting the 'end user' of a product to the production source is the foundation of MRGDC's economic development strategy and the A&M research station is key to its success," according to Patterson. "This project is the product of MRGDC's joint effort with the Internationals Marketing Division of the Texas Department of Commerce and our growing partnership with the Texas A&M Research Center," Patterson added.

Reflections

The "Labor Day Weekend" zooms down upon us. It's a little hard to understand why we call a "holiday weekend" by the name "Labor Day." However, most public offices do close early or late and people "hit the highways" during this time.

One place never closes down. So if you're out of town, remember that the doors to God's Houses all across the land swing wide open this coming Sunday.

Something else does not close down either. Heaven keeps up its steady pace. Once Jesus said, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." So while some may be free from duties, remember that the Lord above faithfully stays on His job.

Man thinks he runs the world. And yet, the Apostle Paul reminds us that Jesus "holds the world together" (Col. 1:17). Some people think that "gravity" does this job. No, it's God power that keeps the universe intact.

The Lord keeps busy preparing a place for all who trust Him, too. While some ladies may keep busy "tidying up" their homes, the Lord puts together eternal dwelling places for His people. Do you ever wonder what your place will be like?

By His Holy Spirit, Jesus visits His people wherever they gather in His name, too. So as you look around and smile at people in Church next Sunday, remember that Jesus gazes at you and welcomes you to His House on His Day.

Labor Day is a reminder to us all that we can do something for the glory of the Lord and for people wherever a need exists. Therefore if you are leaving home or staying in town, remember that you may do some deed that will lift a burden and encourage someone. Even if we withdraw from normal activities, keep in mind that we may help others who need the help which you and I may give.

Word Studies - Eternal Security, Part IX- By Ken Curry

"To him who overcomes, I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the Paradise of God" Revelation 2:7.

Thus far in this series, we have studied the major approaches to prove that the Bible teaches the eternal security of the Christian. We then looked at some problem verses in the Bible that seemed to contradict that doctrine, but when correctly interpreted were found to be speaking of something altogether different. So, in concluding this series, I would like to look at a few more verses that positively illustrate the secure position of the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the 2nd and 3rd chapters of Revelation, our resurrected Lord dictated to the Apostle John seven letters to seven churches in Asia Minor. In each letter Christ praised the church for what it was doing right, and chastised it for what it was doing wrong. Even though each letter was different from the others, the Lord ended each letter with the promise of a special blessing to the one who would "overcome." We see the special blessing promised in the first letter in 2:7 above, so let me list the other six promises: "He who overcomes shall not be hurt by the second death" 2:11; "To him who overcomes, to him I will give some of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and a new name written on the stone which no one knows but he who receives it" 2:17; "And he who overcomes, and he who keeps my deeds until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations; and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to pieces, as I also received authority from My Father; and I will give him the morning star" 2:26-28; "He who overcomes shall thus be clothed in white garments; and I will not erase his name from the book of life, and I will confess his name before My Father, and before His angels" 3:5; "He who overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God, and he will not go out from it anymore; and I will write upon him the name of My God, and the name of the city of My God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from My God, and My new name" 3:12; "He who overcomes, I will grant to him to sit down with Me on My throne, as I also overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne" 3:21.

It would be extremely interesting to study what each of these promised blessings mean, and we may do that in a future series. But I would like to concentrate on the meaning of "overcome." These promises make all of us want to be an "overcomer," but the Lord does not here explain what it means. In Revelation 21:7, the Lord also says, "He who overcomes shall inherit these things, and I will be his God, and he will be My son," but what constitutes an "overcomer" is not given here either.

Hermeneutics is the science of Bible interpretation. One of the first rules of hermeneutics is that you always look up other uses of the same word or phrase throughout the Bible that you are interested in. Any concordance will show all other locations where the word "overcome" occurs, but I prefer the Young's Analytical Concordance to the Bible because it lists which Hebrew and Greek words were used to translate the English word "overcome." The eight verses I have referenced in Revelation that use the word "overcome" are all translations of the single Greek word nikao, which means "to gain the victory." The English word "overcome" is used to translate the Greek word "nikao" fourteen other times in the New Testament besides the eight verses I have referenced in Revelation. But the key to unlocking its meaning as used by Christ in Revelation is found in I John 5:4-5. Let me put these verses in context by beginning in I John 5:1, "Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ is born of God; and whoever loves the Father loves the child born of Him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and observe His commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments; and His commandments are not burdensome. For whatever is born of God overcomes the world; and this is the victory that has overcome the world - our faith. And who is the one who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?" Thus, because of OUR FAITH in Jesus Christ we are the "overcomers" and will be the future recipients of those blessings promised by Christ in Revelation.

Next week we will begin a series called Sin versus Taboos.

A gathering of dinosaurs

Not many people today realize that WORLD WAR II gave birth to a flying profession which is now practically non-existent. Bombardiering, or bomb aiming as the British chose to call it--is barely visible in the highly skilled procedures of the modern aircrew.

The functional responsibility is deeply hidden as an additional duty of the CREW NAVIGATOR in today's Air Force. While bombs are still released from high-flying airplanes, in the process there is little or no visual sighting of the target used. Radar pulses and electronic wizardry poke unseen holes in the sky, computing and executing weapon release miles from a target. This provides a far less romantic image than the bomb-drops from the Flying Fortresses, Liberators, Marauders, Mitchells and other Bombers of WWII.

The picture of those young men, in their bulky flying suits, depended upon the coolness and skill (primarily eye-to-hand coordination) of the "BOMBARDIER" as he took the aircraft on the "bomb-run"! General Eugene L. Eubank, wartime Commander of the 19th Bomb Group, succinctly summed up the importance of the "Bombardier", saying: "The greatest bombing planes in the world take him into battle through every opposition; --- and in thirty seconds over the target he must vindicate the greatest responsibility ever placed upon an individual soldier in the line of duty!"

World War II "Bombardiering" began with enlisted bomb-sight technicians in the nose of the bombers of the time. Thereafter, specialized emphasis was placed upon the training of those who were to determine the success or failure of a bombing mission. Some 45,000 hand-selected young men were schooled at fourteen Army airfields scattered throughout the west and southwest later expanded to list encyclopedically the status of all who were trained or worked with this profession.

Now, in 1991, (seven years later), he has identified some 16-thousand of these "dinosaurs"; and the list grows daily.

In April, 1985, BOMBARDIERS, INC., held its first reunion at Midland, Texas (the site of the largest Bombardier School of WWII). There were 347 people in attendance. The second reunion was held in San Antonio with 650 attending March 26-29th, 1987. At this gathering the membership decided to hold annual reunions beginning with May, 1988, at Denver where nearly 400 attended. The fourth reunion (May, 1988) was held at Dayton, Ohio, attended by 400 persons; and the fifth gathering of Bombardiers was May, 1990, at Houston, Texas. At the last meeting (May, 1991) held at Las Vegas, some 450 attended.

All former Bombardiers and those who are interested or who participated in the training of Bombardiers, are urged to contact the organization at 200 Van Buren St., Suite 2109, Daphne, Alabama 36526, or call (205)-626-3920 for particulars. Members of WWII COMBAT CREWS are asked to pass this information to their crew Bombardier. Interested persons may also contact Charlie Ward, PO Box 787, Brackettville, Texas, 78832, or call (512)-563-2626.

ferent characters who had singing parts was great.

The performance by Sheriff Ed Earl and Miss Mona was warm and sincere transmitting a feeling that made the two actors project as if they had come from that era.

One of the highlights of the stage performance was performed by Brackettville's own Harrell Floyd as he demonstrated a very special acting skill in his portrayal of the Governor. Mr. Floyd probably received one of the best ovations of the evening as the curtain dropped down following his dance routine. It was obvious the audience loved him by the applause following his act and when he was re-introduced at the conclusion.

Brackettville is very fortunate in having several good stage actors but Harrell Floyd stands heads and shoulders above them all.

According to Mr. Brockwell, the show enjoyed a nice profit and gave the Upstagers the operating capital it needs to start working on their next production. It has been reported that steps are now being taken to acquire another top stage production for Del Rio and the surrounding counties.

Dr. Benito Perez appointed to Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Advisory Board

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

Dr. Benito Perez was appointed by Governor Ann W. Richards to the statewide Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Advisory Board.

The 28 member Board, created in 1975, is charged with making recommendations to the governor regarding plans to comply with the JJDP Act. "The federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act allocates the state of Texas with approximately $3.5 million dollars for the JJDP Program. Two thirds of this money is allocated for state and local programs while a third will be used for the 'War on Drugs' program," explains Dr. Perez. "The Advisory Board will determine the most effective methods to use these monies and make recommendations to Governor Richards," he said.

Staff support to JJDP is provided by the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office.

The JJDP Advisory Board is a member of the National Coalition of State Juvenile Justice Advisory Groups. The Coalition is composed of similar boards from other states and territories.

Dr. Perez is Director of Federal Programs for the Crystal City Independent School District. He is a member of the PIC Education, Employment Generating Activities, and Planning Committees.

Ms. Belcher is a graduate of Del Rio High School and from there she attended the University of Texas for two years. She transferred to Texas Tech in Lubbock and it was there in 1970 that she graduated and received her degree in English and Government. When she was asked which school she was partial too, she very slyly answered, "I attended two of the top schools in Texas and was raised in an Aggie family by an Aggie. I love them all." She went on to say, "at the time I enrolled in college, girls were not allowed in A & M so I have a good excuse for not going there."

Senator Zaffirini is of the opinion that Ms. Belcher is the first woman to be appointed by the state to a position such as this.

Regardless of first, second, or third, Brackettville and Kinney County are proud of Madge Belcher and her contribution to our state.

city council. Mayor Bravo addressed Chief of Police Johnny Fritter and asked him to answer the question. Chief Fritter said the investigation has been turned over to the Texas Rangers so there would be no suggestion of collusion.

After being recognized by Mayor Bravo, Reverend Joe Townsend told the council, "when you hired him (Gonzales) to do something he had no experience in, who has no personality for it, no back ground for it, then the city council has to bear the responsibility for it." He went on to say, "this man is not capable to do this job."

The publisher for the Brackett News, Mrs. Jewel Robinson, asked the council if they had any previous experience to handle the job they were elected to do. Alderman Gonzales immediately took the floor and gave his qualifications and past work record. Mayor Bravo asked, "Jewel Robinson, how much experience did you have before you were elected on to the School Board." The Mayor received a round of applause for her question.

Mayor Bravo called on the Council for a motion and Alderman Gonzalez made the motion to terminate Felix Gonzales position as city secretary. The motion was seconded by Bernie Cervantez. The motion carried with Alderman Richard Terrazas voting against the termination and Alderman Julie Fuentes abstaining.

The Mayor requested Chief Fritter to escort Mr. Gonzales to his office while he retrieved his personal belongings.

Home Hints

LEFTOVER ONIONS — When I have onions left from a meal, I chop the onion up and put it in the freezer and use it in dishes that call for onion. The freezing tenderizes it.

RECYCLE CEREAL BAGS — I use the cereal bags from the boxes when they're empty to roll out pie crust. I also make several crusts at a time. I put them in pie pans and stack them, using the papers from the cereal boxes to put between each pie shell. It sure saves on waxed paper.

HOMEMADE NOODLES — While making homemade noodles one day, my husband came up with a good idea.

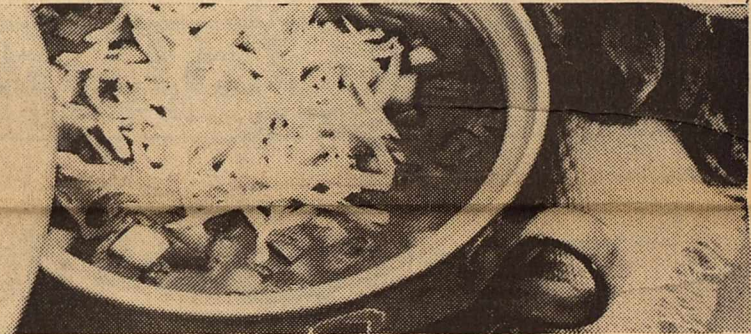

After I had all the noodles rolled out flat and was just about to cut them, he suggested that I use a pizza cutter instead of a knife. It really worked great! A pizza cutter has now become a necessity in my kitchen. Rita H., Humble, Texas

PUMPKIN PIE — I chill my pumpkin pie fillings and the crust separately. That way, the pie crust doesn't get soggy. Maxine D., Oklahoma City, Okla.
