ALFALFA CULTURE.

G. H. Dietzel, of the Mariposa ranch, at the head of Pinto Creek, seven miles from Brackett, is in town this week and says that he has already made two cuttings on his alfalfa and expects to get five more before frost. Last year he got six cuttings, averaging one ton to the acre per cutting but the alfalfa was young, even now not two years old. He cut from a ten-acre field last season and has planted five more early this spring which will soon be ready for cutting.

The alfalfa farm is irrigated,
but after it is well rooted, no irrigation will be needed though an occasional watering will do no harm. Government experts have found roots extending down 129 feet in the alfalfa fields in California, and in the fields here, especially near running streams, the roots will penetrate a sufficient depth for ample moisture. There are varieties of alfalfa also that do not need irrigation.

R. F. Smith, "alfalfa king"
of S. man, Tex., has an alfalfa field of 1000 acres from which he gets $78,000 per year, besides the profits on side issues, hogs, bees, etc. He gets four cuttings per year. One thousand acres in this section subject to irrigation would bring 50 per cent more, owing to longer seasons and lands
equally as rich.

$100 PER ACRE FROM ALFALFA.

Mr. Dietzel's experiment in alfalfa is proving eminently satisfactory and is one of the first to open the eyes of our people to the wonderful opportunities of this section in this section in this crop. On ten acres this year he will cut about $1000 worth of alfalfa at very little expense.

Mr. Dietzel is also experimenting in cotton and has two from which he expects to get four bales, providing he can head off the boll weevil, but if he can succeed in rootin 1000 acres in alfalfa he will be able to feed cotton to the weevils.
However, his experiment in this line may prove what our lands

under irrigation and intelligent cultivation may do. He is also conducting an experiment in onions, but about six weeks ago a hail lasting an hour very much damaged his onion crop.
He thinks the soil admirably adapted for the onion. Experiments conducted for ten years back prove that no lands anywhere are better suited for cabbage. He has one acre in potatoes as an experiment.

SIDE ISSUES TO ALFALFA.

As to alfalfa there are two issues which may be made avenues of great profit and Mr.
Dietzel will try both bees and hogs. Alfalfa honey commands a high price and is especially valuable for medicinal purposes.
Alfalfa is usually cut in the bloom and the bees have an opportunity of working seven times a year. This experiment has been made and proven successful in other places. It is also well known that hogs fatten rapidly on alfalfa and are less liable to disease than when fed on corn. Several ranchmen in our county are contemplating raising hogs for the market and feeding on alfalfa.

It may be mentioned here
that Mr. Dietzel's alfalfa remained green all the winter and used as a pasture for his horses
and saved considered an element of profit. Reliable information has been received that pastured stock on alfalfa
in the winter is more helpfu than harmful to its growth in the summer.

There are some 20,000 or 30, 000 acres of fertile land in our county susceptible of irrigation, as we have about 150 miles of running water, and some big bodies of land near large permanent lakes which could be utilized by pumping machinery. And then, too, Devil's River could be brought this section at less expense than is incurred in many similar undertakings in other States
and with about the same money
as laid out by Sr. Lorenzo Gonzales Trevino in his irrigated farm just across the Rio Grande from us.

LIMITLESS FIELD IN WESTERN TEX.

With the admirable climate of Southwest Texas and industries which are gradually opening by which a man may accumulate wealth unhampered
by the long drouths that sometimes afflict us, the prospects are indeed bright.

The experimental farms in Southwest Texas where our Government is testing the various grasses and grains that may be cultivated with safty in dorothy sections, will have an important influence in developing our resources. This county alone has 300,000 acres fertile land and only a small part of it in reach of irrigation which at present is used only for grazing lands. If it can be proved that certain crops can be raised with safety, the demand for the lands would at once increase and our section would soon be rapidly filled.—Brackett Correspondent in S. A. Express.

We want to talk plainly to the careful daughter of the home, and few are the home,
and few are the homes without such a daughter. We want to speak to you mother. It may be that you have noticed a careworn look upon her face lately.
Of course it has not been brought there by any action of yours, still it is your duty to chase it away. We want you to get up tomorrow morning and get breakfast and when your mother comes and begins to express her surprise go right up to her and kiss her. You can't imagine how it will brighten her dear face. Besides you owe her a kiss or two away back when you were a little girl she kissed you when no one else was tempted by your fever tainted breath and swollen face. You were not as attractive then as you are now.
And through those years of childish sunshine and shadows
she was always ready to cure
by magic of a mother's kiss
your little dirty chubby hands whenever they were injured in those first skirmishes with the rough world. And then midnight kiss with which she routed so many bad dreams as she leaned over your restless pillow have been on interest these long, long years. Of course she is not pretty and kissable as you are, but if you had done your share of the work during the past ten years

the contrast would not have been so marked. Her face has more wrinkles than yours, far more, and yet if you were sick that face would appear more beautiful than an angel's as it hovered over you watching every opportunity, to minister to your comfort and everyone of those wrinkles would seem to be bright wavelets of sunshine chasing each other over her dear face. She will leave you some of these days. These burdens if not lifted from her down. Those rough hard hands that have done so many necessary things for you will be crossed over her lifeless breast.
Those neglected lips that gave you your first baby kiss will be forever closed and those sad tired eyes will have opened in eternity and but it will be too late.

Total cash belonging to Kinney County 19021.29

Sworn to and subscribed before me by M. P. Malone County Judge, N. Castro, Dave Rose, R. E. Cannon and J. F. McCormick, County Commissioners of said Kinney county, each respectively, on this, the 9th day of May, 1904.

O. F. SEARGEANT, Clerk, Kinney county.

The labor question is supreme and it cannot be disassociated from that of cotton planting and cotton harvesting, says the Textile Manufacturers Journal. It is upon labor the ultimate crop depends, throwing out of consideration, of course the influence of weather. This phase of the question, one which is overlooked by those who have not made a careful study of cotton growing and of the conditions prevailing through the south, is discussed in an intelligent manner by J. W. Spain. Mr. Spain grows cotton and manufactures cotton, and he is familiar with the necessities and the urgencies of the grower and of the manufacturer, and southern born and southern raised he is well equipped to discuss the question. As he points out, the labor of the south has been the negro, and this is not the best kind of labor, for the average negro love ease too well to work when his stomach is full and his eyelids are heavy. The hope of the south is in increasing white labor, a labor that will not hesitate to do farm work and to go into the fields and raise crops. The south has not in the past realized the necessity of bringing in foreign labor, and even today in many sections there is a strong sentiment against immigration, but this sentiment is being rapidly dissipated, for each recurring year accentuates the necessity for a larger supply of white labor not only for the farm but for the workshop. The movement which has set in a small volume is likely to increase rapidly and it will not be many years before the south has a larger supply of good labor to draw upon. The solution of the problem which confronts the cotton grower and the cotton manufacturer as well as many other kinds of manufacturers is and increase of white labor.

The quantity of flaxseed shipped from Argentina from January 1 to May 6, 1904, amounted to 24,596,000 bushels compared with 15,413,000 bushels for the same time in 1903.

Shipments of wheat from Argentina from January 1 to May 6 have been 50,552,000 bushels against 32,402,000 bushels against 32,402,000 bushels during the corresponding period a year ago.

The export trade in the bananas from Porto Rico the United States began in 1881, and has grown from 3,500 bunches to upwards of 4,000,000 bunches annually.

There were 6,537 potato distilleries in operation in Germany in 1901-02; the output of pure alcohol was 93,965,940 gallons. The production of the potato distilleries amounted to 78 per cent of the total production of alcohol in the Empire. The quantity of potatoes used amounted to 113,475,848 bushels.

During the period from January 1 to May 6, 1904, Argentina exported 11,388,000 bushels of corn as compared with 3,383,000 bushels for the same period last year.

Exports of corn from the United States during the first nine months of the present fiscal year were 49,593,599 bushels, 52,656,018 bushels for the same period a year ago.

Home Circle Page.

Henry Ward Beecher once said "I thank God I was not born a Baptist, nor a Presbyterian, nor a Methodist. I was born a baby and my mother was my my saintly teacher,"

Mother's love is the purest and the best of love born on earth, and it is as unselfish and undying as eternity's years. Other loves may die, mother never will, never can.

We like to think and reflect upon our youthful life. How swiftly as the summer's sun or winter's blast, like a beautiful panorama or dream, the days departed to be known no more to us! Yes, how swiftly they now seem, as we think of the dear departed days of childhood, and with what anxiety we looked forward to the time when we could become useful and not simply ornamental for where is the child that does not sometimes grow tired of being petted and fondled as a mere plaything, and in the utmost recesses of its heart long to become "grown up" so they may be privileged to exercise greater will power?

The other morning in our rambles we met a little ragged urchin, whom we thought to be lost. "Where is your home?" we inquired of the little black eyed boy. Pointing to an old beggar woman across the street he said; "That is my mother, and where mother is, that is my home." How true was the answer. Where mother is, is home. Home is the magic circle within which the weary spirit finds refuge. It is the sacred asylum to which the careworn heart retreats to find rest from the toils and cares of life. Home and mother are words that touch every fiber of our souls. As dear as home can be is the mother who presides over it. Long years may have flown since we saw that home, and since the dearest of all earthy friends has slept the long and silent sleep of death; but that home and that mother will never cease to awaken the sweetest recollections of our lives.

No home is complete without cheerfulness, order, good humor and laughter. For every good hearty laugh we indulge in there is a day taken off our age. Why take life so seriously. Can we not labor as well or better, accomplish as much, and enjoy life more as we go along, if we keep on the watch for every possible opportunity for a good blood-stirring, pulse tingling? Let wives and mothers put away all the wrinkle-producing, skin withering feelings of envy, spite and hatred, let's make up our minds to enjoy life as long as we live, and to live as long as we can. A good laugh is the sunshine of the heart, and cheerfulness and mirth bring forth the blossoms, and their fragrance sweetens our lives of those around us. As "laughter is the best of medicines," let's partake of it freely and look on the bright side of everything. If our seat is too hard for us to sit upon, let's stand up; if rocks rise before us let's climb over them. Be the Martha that is needed in every home. A good side-splitting laugh will soon penetrate through the coldness of society and bring men and women nearer together and make heavy hearts forget their burdens and be glad. It might be possible for us to direct our ways by plain reason and support our life by tasteless food, but God has given us wit and flavor and laughter to enliven our days, and to "charm our painful steps over the burning marl." A well regulated sensible Martha is certainly a great comfort in a home. She is "careful and troubled", perhaps, but she doesn't make a fuss about it. She does not worry. If she scolds, you never hear her, she is mistress of herself, and nothing distracts her; she believes there are few women who cannot be trained to govern a home if they will be in earnest, be cheerful and set their minds to it. How many mothers plan their work so as to give some time to the amusement of their children? How many believe that a good, wholesome article of fun is essential to the comfort and health of boys and girls? There is nothing wrong in wholesome fun, and it is really necessary in the training of children.

School Notes.

Final examinations for promotions are now in progress and are now in progress. Usually in each subject to be examined eleven questions are selected by some person not in charge of the class and the greatest care is taken that no pupil receive assistance in any manner while answering the questions. The object in having questions selected by others than the teachers in charge is to show the patrons of the school that our examinations are fair in every way. If teachers select their own questions they might sometimes be tempted to choose questions on which they had carefully drilled their pupils, while, if some one else chooses them, there is no possibility for this.

The program for the commencement Exercises next Tuesday night is as follows.

Literary Address and Delivery of Diplomas Rev. H. N. Dideman.

Men who neglect opportunity are the men who rail at fate. It pays to keep the buildings painted. The farmer who keeps his buildings and premises neat and orderly always has a better reputation than one who lets things go slipshod. Bars in the driveways are nuisance slow to let down and to replace. A gate is much handier in every way. The time to maintain the fertility of the soil is while the soil is still fertile. When the soil's fertility has become exhausted, it requires much expense, time and labor to restore it. Meanwhile poor crops are the result. Migratory habits are good for birds, but bad for farmers.

Plow deep while chickens peep, and you'll get corn, and poultry cheap.

WHAT'S THE USE.

What's the use o' growin' up?
You can't paddle with your toes
In a puddle; you can't yell
When you're feelin' extra well.
Why, every feller knows
A grown-up can't let loose,
I don't want to be no older;
What's the use?

What's the use o' growin' up?
You couldn't ride the cow;
An' the rabbits an' the pig
Don't like you 'cause you're big.
I'm comfortublest now;
P'raps I am a goose.
I don't want to be no older;
What's the use!

What's the use o' growin' up!
When yer growed, why, every day
You just have to be one thing.
I'm a pirate, er a king,
Er a cow-boy—I can play
That I'm anything I choose.
I don't want to be no older;
What's the use?

Cows. The highest praise has been received on the valuable merits of "Dr. Kay's Kentucky Stock Food" from dairymen who have thoroughly tested it. It cures and prevents milk fever, sinking, weakness of the Stomach, Kidneys and Bladder, bloody urine, bloody milk, etc. In fact removes every taint of disease and corrects and regulates the natural secretions. It puts cows in a vigorous, healthy condition and increases the flow of pure, rich, nutritious and wholesome milk; fit for children, butter, calves, etc. Tainted milk is dangerous to human health.

Had Other Heavens.

STOCK FOOD.

The Best of Breakfast Foods.

We often read of the wondrous good
Wrought by the brands of breakfast food;
How age unlimbered his stiffened legs
By a daily diet of Pura Pegs,
And buoyant life and vigor mingles
In a generous jar of Shredded Shingles.

We're told how wealth waits on the man
Who gormandizes on Brawny Bran;
What smiles awaken on rosy lips
O'er a steaming bowl of Cero-Chips
And what gain in weight and strength
and savings,
Eating Desiccated Shavings.

But better than these of which tales are told,
Though never found where such things
are sold,
Are the morning kisses you like to steal
From loving lips that bless the meal.
Oh, no, there is nothing "just as good"
As the Cupid Brand of Breakfast Food!

Worms

Are a very common affection of horses. Nearly all horses that are out of condition and thin in flesh, are affected with worms, more or less. There are several kinds of worms that infest the stomach and bowels of the horse; namely: the long worms, pin worms, tape worms and bots. The symptoms are colic pains, constipation or diarrhoea, ravenous appetite, hide-bound, pot-bellied, poor in flesh, rubs his tail, turns up the upper lip and rubs the nose violently. Hogs and sheep are frequently troubled with worms, as also are cattle sometimes. Dr. Kay's Kentucky Kondition Powder is a certain and effective cure. It not only expels the worms, but aids digestion, tones up the stomach, bowels and kidneys, purifies the blood, renovates and put the animal in good condition.

LET IT PASS.

Has it been a weary day?
Let it pass;
Lots of others on the way—
They will pass.
Soon the skies will start to lighten,
All around begin to brighten,
And misfortune cease to frighten—
Let it pass.
Does the world the wrong way rub you!
Let it pass;
Did your best friend seem to snub you?
Let it pass,
Chances are you were mistaken,
None is ever quite forsaken,
All for naught your faith was shaken,
Let it pass.

Hog Cholera.

Messrs Buckner & Bassett, Santa Fe, Mo., says: "Most all our customers use Dr. Kay's Kentucky Kondition Powder to PREVENT and CURE Hog Cholera. It does the work, because it is all medicine and not half bran, to look big."

Plenty of good drinking water is very important in making a cow do her best work; cows require nearly five times as much water as they give milk; we can lower their yield by cutting down their supply of drink. There never was a good milker that was not a big drinker.

PRICE, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Has Double Strength, Does Double Work!

Because it is both a Condition Powder and medicated Stock Food. It cures and Prevents Disease by Renovating, Regulating and Restoring The Entire System.

It stimulates the Stomach, assists Digestion, regulates the Bowels, corrects the Liver and Kidney's, purifies the Blood, destroys Worms and strengthens all the Organs of the Animal, so that what is digested and assimilated, none goes to waste. It is guaranteed to be the Best and Cheapest for Growing, Working, Breeding, Fattening and diseased Horses, Cattle, Hogs, Sheep and Poultry, because you get two or three times more for your money—in strength and results—than any other Condition Powder or Stock Food on the market. Ask for the FLYING HORSE brand and take no other. Price 25 cents per package.

Ambition and contentment seldom travel in double harness.

Mrs. Chubby.—What is your opinion of the Monroe doctrine.

Mrs. Shoddie.—I don't know nothin' 'bout these new medical fads. The old allerpath style o' doctorin' is good enough for me.

For Fattening Hogs.

Give one table-spoonful of "Dr. Kay's Kentucky Medicated Stock Food" to each hog every morning. It will not only prevent disease, but will stimulate the digestion and assimilation of all nutriment, and thus help to convert the feed into good pork. A healthy hog's stomach is as regular as clock work in demanding food, but it is not what a hog eats, but what is digested and assimilated that makes them fat and healthy. Corn contains too large a percentage of starch and not enough muscle-forming and bone-building elements to be fed alone, and needs some correcting and regulating vegetable medicine, like "Dr. Kay's Kentucky Medicated Stock Food, that contains the necessary elements for producing larger hogs and finer quality of pork, to command the highest market price. If you are crowding hogs, you will find that "Dr. Kay's Kentucky Medicated Stock Food" will prepare them for market in from two to three months less time than can possibly be done without it.

Give Dr. Kay's Kentucky Stock Food a trial, and you will not regret it. Large Package, 25 cents

Calves.

Some Stockmen think they are doing the correct thing if they can manage to keep life in a calf until it is five or six months old, and then let it get fat on grass before winter. Of course it is poor, thin blooded, suffers from cold, does not grow, has the scours from indigestion, and in the Spring is a scrubby runt of the skin and bones. If you want your calves to be strong and healthy, feed Dr. Kay's Kentucky skim milk, or ground feed, once or twice a day, according to age, size and condition. It prevents skin diseases, scours, etc., gives health and rapid growth, which means a big profit in putting them in prime condition for market—cows or steers, in the shortest possible time.

2 PHOTOGRAPHER.—Hi, there! One of you hand me one of those plates, quick!

Saved his Cow and Calf.

Mr. O. M. Nevitt, Plymouth, Kans, says that one of his best cows was in such a run down and poor condition after calving, that he thought she would die. At the suggestion of his neighbor, he began giving her double doses of Dr. Kay's Kentucky Stock Food. It restored her appetite and her entire system. She is doing fine now.

Large Package, 25 cents.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher, "If I gave you three oranges and your mother gave you four and your aunt gave you five, how many oranges would you have?" "I guess I'd have enough answered small Johnny.

Hog Cholera Prevented,

LOBLEVILLE, TENN., Sept. 8, 1904.
We were threatened with an epidemic of Hog Cholera, but the free use of Dr. Kay's Kentucky Stock Food soon stopped it and prevented it from spreading.

Very respectfully yours,
A. R. BATES.

"Dr. Kay's Stock Food" is good for Poultry, but "Dr. Kay's Poultry Powder" is not good for Stock.

Watch your Live Stock.

Every practical and successful farmer and stockman spares neither care nor reasonable expense on their live stock, because on the health and vigorous condition of his stock, depends their usefulness and profit. It is not what an animal eats, but what is thoroughly digested and assimilated that makes life, vigor and flesh. If the animal is run-down and the digestion weak, then from one-fourth to one-half the grain eaten passes through the animal undigested and worse than wasted. Some animals, with ravenous appetites, eat twice as much as others but never gain flesh, consequently it is a dead loss at both ends,—the grain is wasted and nothing gained. "Dr. Kay's Kentucky Stock Food" is the remedy they need to strengthen and stimulate the digestive organs, regulate the Liver and Kidneys, purify the Blood, renovate the entire system and make very rapid gains. You save money at both ends, by saving grain and by getting more good and profit out of your stock.

RUSHED.

A dozen operations
Per day was not such fun:
The doctor didn't stop to eat—
He could only cut and run.

For Eczema.

Top Prices for Poultry.

All poultry must be healthy to fatten for the market, and the only safe and quick way to make them healthy and put on tender and juicy flesh, is to feed them Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder to make digestion good, bowels regular and blood pure. It can always be relied on to double the profits on Chickens, Turkeys, Ducks, Geese and Pigeons.

THE SECRET.

It wasn't the sun, it wasn't the sky,
Nor the glad little birds that sung,
Nor the whispering winds that went loitering by,
And because they both were young,
That life seemed wrapped in a silver haze,
Like the breast of a brooding dove,
But because they had plucked on the world's highways
The marvelous bloom of love, Sweetheart—
The marvelous bloom of love.
For the sun went down and the air
turned chill,
And the winter winds blew cold,
And the birds in their leafy homes
were still.
And the lovers glad grew old!
But still were their grateful hearts
perfumed
Through poverty pain and ruth
By the fragrance sweet of the flower
that bloomed
In the happy days of their youth,
Sweet-heart—
In days of their eager youth.

CURES Chicken Cholera, Roup, Gapes, Worms and all Diseases. It produces muscle, bone and feathers.

It makes the comb red, feathers lay smoothly, eggs fertile, and makes larger fowls. It prevents leg-weary, egg eating and unnatural habits. Molting fowl when fed Dr. Kay's Poultry Powder pay largely by their early laying qualities. Also young chickens grow more rapidly, healthy and free from all diseases.

Shy.

"So their engagement is broken?"
"Yes: they were both too shy to get married."
"What?"
"Well, you see, he was shy of money, and she got shy of him when she found it out."

Winter Feeding.

Fowls should have a daily feed of Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder in winter. It costs only one cent a day for twenty-five fowls. Weidle, of 3917, says: "By feeding her my girl needed to make eggs. One egg per day more than pays the cost."

Goodwin.—What do you think of that story of Jonah being detained in a whale's stomach for three days and nights?

Gayboy.—Oh, it's all right. I've given my wife worse excuses than that many a time.

Joeko has him well trained.
Yes. But that Ostrich wasn't worth his scrap-iron until Joeko fed him Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder.

Roup and Cholera.

Are easily avoided and cured by the regular use of Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder. If some of the fowls are sick separate them from the rest of the flock and feed Dr. Kay's Poultry Powder freely. It cures and prevents contagion.

Bill Nye's Cow Ad.

Bill Nye once had a cow to sell, and advertised her as follows: "Owing to my ill health, I will sell at my residence, in township 19, range 18, according to the government's survey, one plush raspberry cow, aged 8 years. She is of undoubted courage, and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon."

"She is very much attached to her present home with a stay-chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth short-horn and three-fourths hyena. I will also throw in a double-barrel shot-gun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red calf with waboly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a non-resident."

Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder never fails to do its work.

She'd Have a Fit

Teacher.—Now, Tommy, what is the meaning of the word "purchase?"
Tommy.—Don't know, ma'am.
Teacher.—Well, If your papa gave your mother $10 to go and buy a new hat, what would your mother do?
Tommy.—Have a fit, I guess.

CAVE POINT, TENN. Nov. 13, 1902.
Morley Bros., St. Louis, Mo.
When your salesman called on me first he had hard work talking me into taking Kr. Kay's Kentucky Liniment and Dr. Kay's Kentucky Stock Food, because I thought that kind of goods were slow sellers. I now know they are the best and quickest sellers of any line I ever handled, because they give first-class satisfaction. C. J. CARTWRIGHT.

Struck a Popular Cord.

joined a new society? What's the name?"
"It's to fight the existing order of things. We contend that everything is wrong, the earth is a howling wilderness, that all known foods are poisonous, that society is gangrened to the core, and that it is better to die than to live. By George, it's going to be an immense success! Every crank and every kicker in town has joined already."

IF YOU WANT HENS To Lay Every FEED THEM

Dr. KAY'S Kentucky Poultry Powder

A nutritious and vitalizing medicated food, that will keep fowls healthy, vigorous and thrifty. Prevents and cures Cholera, Gapes, Worms, Roup, Diarrhoea, Indigestion, Leg Weakness, Distemper, Debility, all Diseases of the Bowels and Digestive Organs and makes poultry grow fast. It Strengthens and Invigorates the egg producing organs, makes hens lay more and longer, because it contains the things eggs are made of. There is no profit in poultry that do not lay more than enough eggs to pay for feed, use Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder and make money.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

POULTRY that is unhealthy is unprofitable. A hen with a pale comb, rough feathers and morose disposition will not lay eggs, nor get fat. She is an expense and no profit to her owner. Make her lay eggs or kill her. Feed her Dr. Kay's Poultry Powder every morning. If she don't commence laying and improving in flesh in a few days, you had best kill her.

"Terrence, what is the doctor's diagnosis of your case?" "He hasn't told me yit, but I'm bettin' it'll be iv'ry cent av tin dollars."

Hens that are fed on Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder lay very fertile eggs, which produce strong, vigorous, hearty chicks, that moult quicker and commence to lay earlier in season.

The Morning Feed.

A good feed for morning is a warm mash of cooked or scalded ground grain or vegetables and table scraps, in which has been mixed one tablespoonful of Dr. Kay's Kentucky Poultry Powder to every 12 or 15 fowls. It keeps the fowls healthy, vigorous and thrifty.

Had Worms.

ST. LOUIS CO., MO., Nov. 18, 1904.

Mess. Morley Bros.

GENTLEMEN: My horse got so poor, thin and no account that I was ashamed to drive him, because my neighbors made fun of him. I tried horse remedies and stock foods without success. His appetite was good, but everything seemed to go right through him, without doing him any good. A blacksmith bet me that "Dr. Kay's Kondition Powder" would cure him. I gave him "K. K. K. Powders" and on the second or third day I was surprised at the quantity of worms that came from him. The horse passed worms for several days and then began to mend in spirits and flesh. Two packages cured him. Mr. Wm. Brandenburg, one of my laughing neighbors, asked me what I gave my horse to make such an improvement and gave me the money to buy two packages for his horse.

His horse began to show such marked improvement in a few days that his neighbor asked about it and I had to buy two packages for him also, so as to be sure that he got the right kind. "Dr. Kay's Kentucky Kondition Powder" is certainly the best medicine for horses that is sold, and I think it no more than right that I should tell how well pleased my neighbors and myself are with the results.

C. T. DANA.

He Coughed Up.

A man in Missouri who swallowed a three-cent piece, back in the days when silver coins of that denomination were sometimes seen, has just coughed it up. We, all of us, have had experience with individuals who required a very long time to cough up very small amounts.

Kay's Kentucky Kondition Powder is the standard with the "Blue Grass" Stockraisers.

DO IT NOW.

If you have a man to lick,
Do it now!
If you have to make a kick,
Do it now!
If you have a girl to kiss,
If you are looking out for bliss,
Let me tell you, Bill, just this:
Do it now!

Do you want to borrow coin,
Do it now!
M... or purloin?

If you have a scheme to rob
Some man of his watch and fob,
Burg up—don't be a slob:
Do it now!

Cures Pink Eye.

BONDVILLE, ILLS., May 14, 1901.

3 !!!—??—!!!

Mess. Hitz Bros., Merchants, Alhambra, Ills., after ordering 2 gross of Dr. Kay's Kentucky Kondition Powder, close their letter by saying. "Please 'rush' this order, as K. K. K. Powder out-sells any condition powder on the market, because it gives perfect satisfaction."

"Well, my dear madam, and how are you to-day?" "Oh, doctor, I have terrible pains all over my whole body, and it seems impossible to breathe. Of course I can't sleep at all, and I haven't a particle of appetite." "But otherwise you feel all right, don't you?" asked the doctor.

Reckon We'll Git Thar Yit.

He wuz always a-sayin', when trouble come roun',
I reckon we'll git thar yit!
Ain't enough rain for a lilly to drown—
Reckon we'll git thar yit!
It's jest human natur' to growl an' complain,
Ruther have sunshine than oceans o' rain;
But—spite o' wild weather, I'm tellin you plain,
Reckon we'll git thar yit!

An' he carried that counsel the rough way along—
"Reckon we'll git thar yit!"
It lightened the burden—made sorrow a song—
"Recon we'll git thar yit!"
He wuz only a toiler in bloom an' in blight.
With hope's star a-shinin', full blaze in his sight;
But he looked to the light, friends—he looked to the light—
"Reckon we'll git thar yit."

Cures Headache.

Dr. Kay's Kentucky Liniment has become the universal remedy for sick head-ache. It is used by rubbing the forehead, temples and back of the neck. It seldom or never fails.

Cures Rheumatism.

DRYHILL, TENN., April 25, 1902.

I suffered with rheumatism for a long time, because nothing that I tried or that our doctor gave me did any good. One day I read about Dr. Kay's Kentucky Liniment, and started to use it at once and kept it up until it cured me sound and well. It is the most penetrating liniment I ever used and that is why it always reaches the right spot.

THE NEW FIRM.

"Where Doubt & Wait had failed,
And where the ruins of their enterprise
Were scattered round in sorry heaps,
Offensive to the public's eyes,
The firm of Hope & Try set up,
And hung their sign above the door,
There stands a fine establishment
Where failure's ruins were before."
