City To Create Housing Authority

City Officer Foils Attempted Burglary

If ever an event happened to help prove that Muleshoe needs two police officers on patrol after midnight, that was graphically proven early Friday morning.

Muleshoe City Police Officer Jimmy Mills answered a routine burglar alarm call to Gibson's at 12:29 a.m. on West American Boulevard. That call in itself is of no particular consequence as the burglar alarm can be set off by high wind or other weather conditions at times.

However, when Mills arrived, he found two subjects attempting to burglarize the store. When the two persons saw the officer, they started running. Mills called in to the Muleshoe Law Enforcement Center that he would be in foot pursuit.

Nothing was heard from the officer for the next few minutes as the dispatcher on duty and a dispatcher who was just going off duty called out extra help for the foot race.

Then Mills called in by telephone from a residence some three blocks from the store and said he had been fired upon twice by the pursued subjects.

AT HOUSING MEETING . . . Pictured are some local and area community residents who attended a proposed Housing Meeting at the Muleshoe City Hall Thursday evening. During the meeting, the City of Muleshoe tentatively agreed to create a Housing Authority and name a board of directors in an attempt to update Muleshoe housing. The Bailey County Commissioners Court and City of Muleshoe have pledged support of the proposed project with the approval of area residents.

Citizen Opinion Asked On Project

While emphasizing "Please tell the citizens there would be no taxes involved, and their taxes would not be raised," the city and county leaders joined forces Thursday night in the first major efforts to create a local Housing Authority. Following the two hour meeting with about 20 people present, the City of Muleshoe City Council tentatively accepted responsibility for activating a Housing Authority and naming board members. Meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe City Council chambers, the joint meeting also attracted citizens interested in a proposed housing unit which would increase present housing in the city by more than 100 units, or apartments.

After Mayor Ken Henry opened the meeting, Harmon Elliott, who has worked as coordinator for the proposed project told of meeting with officials and attorneys in Plainview where such a housing project is located. He said, "I am not trying to paint a rosy picture. There are lots of problems on a daily basis at Plainview, but when you stack up the assets against the liabilities, the assets far outweigh the liabilities."

Elliott added, "A lot of Muleshoe people have seen the housing project at Plainview and they have all liked what they have seen. The problems can be worked out with a capable board of directors who will hire a good manager."

Speaking on available housing in Muleshoe was Ramon Perez, who is the head of a new vegetable processing plant presently under construction west of Muleshoe. He said the business represents an interest in the community and he will definitely have an interest when he is attempting to house 200-400 workers who will be brought in this summer during harvest time.

More Activities For July 4th Celebration

At the Thursday morning of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, most of the discussion centered around the upcoming 5th of July celebration.

It has been suggested that the Bicentennial jewelry and coins would make unique and different gifts for this time of the year. Necklaces, are available in silver or bronze, at a price from $5.95 to $11.95. Key chains in silver or bronze are offered for $3.95 and $5.95 and belt buckles can be purchased in silver or bronze for $7.95 and $9.95.

The Bicentennial ornaments have the special symbol of the mule and also symbolize the Bicentennial year. Proceeds from sale of the special jewelry will be used for Chamber of Commerce projects.

The jewelry will be offered at booths during the upcoming celebration or persons can go by the Chamber of Commerce office to make their selection.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Tommy Black said David Murphy, choir director from Muleshoe High School, will be coordinating the Bicentennial singing scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at the new city park during the family picnic. He has signed up two or three individual groups to sing, however, needs a large group of up to 50 persons if possible to meet with him and rehearse Bicentennial songs prior to the celebration. Interested groups of singers are urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce office.

Local Man Dies Of Electrocution Near Muleshoe

A rabbit in an aluminum irrigation pipe caused, indirectly, the death of a Muleshoe man Thursday morning. Nick Hurtado, 32, and father of six children, was pronounced dead on arrival at the West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe at 8:45 Thursday morning.

Hurtado, who was a truck driver for Protein Processors, was apparently attempting to shake the rabbit out of the pipeline on the Randy Johnson ranch east of Muleshoe hursday morning, when the pipe came in contact with an overhead power line.

He was taken to the hospital by ambulance from Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home where he was pronounced dead by Dr. Jerry Gregory.

A resident of Muleshoe for the past year, he moved here from Ribera, N.M. He was born on September 10, 1943 in Las Vegas, N.M. and was a Catholic. His body was taken to Rogers Funeral Home in Las Vegas, N.M. for services and burial.

Crouch Murder Solution Closer

As he praised the Clovis City Police Detective Division and the Chief of Police of Clovis, Nelson Worley, for their many long hours of legwork in helping to solve the Traylor (Dude) Crouch murder, Sheriff Dee Clements said it is beginning to look like the solution is near.

According to Sheriff Clements, they have traced Crouch's movements step by step and have pinpointed the location of where he was apparently beaten and stabbed to a location in Clovis.

For the past several nights, Sheriff Clements, Deputy Sheriff Alton Carpenter and Texas Ranger Marshall Brown, from Plainview, have worked with Clovis officers. They have talked to potential witnesses, and Clovis Police polygraph operators have given numerous lie detector tests.

Crouch, who died Sunday,

June 6 at the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo, had been found critically injured in the Muleshoe Hotel on Thursday afternoon, May 3. He was taken to the hospital in Amarillo after receiving emergency treatment at West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe.

Lions Club To Install New Officers

On Tuesday, June 22, at 8:00 p.m., the Muleshoe Lions Club will convene at 15th and Avenue B in Muleshoe, for its annual installation banquet and Ladies Night. According to Lion Boss Jim Burgess, Lion Kep Cutshall of Littlefield will serve as installing officer.

During the ceremonies, Lion Boss Jim Burgess will turn the gavel over to Lion Bill Loyd. Lion Loyd has been active in Lionism for 24 years and has served the Muleshoe Lions Club as vice president during the past year.

Other Lions to be installed include: Lion Frank Ellis, first vice president; Lion David Sudduth, second vice president; Lion Gordon Wilson, third vice president; Lion Royce Clay, secretary-treasurer; Lion Darrell Turner, Lion Tamer; Lion Johnny St. Clair, Tail Twister and Lions J.W. Coppedge and Connie Gupton will be joined on the board of directors by Lion Dee Clements and Neal Dillman.

Replacing Donann Harmon as Lion Sweetheart will be Connie Harmon. For the installation banquet, the Muleshoe Lions will host their ladies, area Lions Club officers, and local civic club presidents.

When Crouch arrived in Amarillo, he was taken immediately to surgery for the amputation of a badly cut leg and further abdomen surgery to repair a perforated intestine. He succumbed to his injuries the following Sunday.

Friday afternoon, detectives from the Clovis Police Department were expected in Muleshoe to talk to persons who supposedly transported Crouch back to Muleshoe after he was beaten, stomped and stabbed.

No official charges had been filed in the murder late Friday, although the Sheriff felt they were very near pinpointing the actual murderer of the longtime Muleshoe resident.

One Killed In Lazbuddie Explosion

Cary Dee Duncan, 29, was killed instantly in an explosion at Maritt Grocery shortly after 8 a.m. Saturday. Duncan, who had his 29th birthday on Friday, June 18, had apparently poured gasoline in an incinerator behind the store.

An explosion blew the cover of the incinerator into his head inflicting fatal head injuries.

A complete list of survivors was not available at press times, although it is known that Duncan is survived by his wife, mother, Mrs. Tommie Maritt and one child.

The Duncans had moved to Lazbuddie from Florida two weeks ago.

WRECKED PICKUP . . . This pickup was driven by Francis Franks when it was in a collision with a car from Albuquerque. The accident occurred at Progress Wednesday at noon. Franks was attempting to cross the highway on highway 70-84.

Burglary...

More officers were called out to help in the search for the apparent would-be burglars. Mills thought the wanted subjects may be in a dark pickup with camper he saw leaving fairly near where he was fired upon. For the next couple of hours many startled motorists found themselves staring into a sawed off shotgun welded by a grim, informally dressed law enforcement officer. Patrol vehicles and unmarked personal cars were utilized in the intensive search that covered streets and alleys in West Muleshoe as the officers concentrated their efforts to no avail. Area officers began stopping suspected vehicles in surrounding towns, but apparently none of the stopped vehicles had the wanted subjects. Two different calls on domestic problems came in during the time officers were extra busy trying to find the would-be burglars. Judge Glen Williams was called to his office to issue two warrants for men wanted in the two separate domestic incidents. Officer Mills? His dignity was hurt, along with a badly skinned knee, a three-corner tear in the knee of his uniform pants and grass stains on his uniform shirt. He had hit the dirt, and gravel, sometime during his impromptu foot race. No leads had developed by 3:00 a.m. as weary officers gathered back at the Law Enforcement Center and drank coffee as they discussed the events which took place during about two and a half very busy ours for local city, county and state officers. Williams presented his individual thoughts on the proposed housing project, and said he was keeping an open mind on the proposal. He spoke of the "obvious good" the Plainview housing project had brought to that community and lauded the clean, neat and well-kept appearance of that facility. According to Judge Williams, "If a proper survey shows a need for such housing, I think it would be an asset to the community. It is my judgement, that when we get to that point, you will have the support of the commissioners court." Mayor Henry said, "The city has not voted in any way to have a Housing Authority. We will document it in writing when a decision is reached. The housing need is no argument, now we need to determine how many we need."

He emphasized that a Housing Authority has no taxing authority, thus residents' taxes cannot be raised as there is no taxing by federal law. Bailey County Commissioner Matt Dudley of Precinct One added, "I think the judge pretty well said how I feel about it. The Plainview Housing is well kept and is clean. I am for the project." The mayor asked if the county was planning to create a housing authority. Commissioner Loyd Stephens of Precinct Two said "we are waiting to see what you're (the city) going to do." Mayor Henry countered, "Will the county cooperate with the city to create a Housing Authority?" Bob Sanders, commissioner of Precinct Three commented, "We'll do everything we can to help you," and Stephens added, "We're not going to get in your way." Sanders added, "If the city would take it and start it, we'd appreciate it. We already have a large project underway." Sanders was referring to the proposed agriculture center and civic center. Lonnie Merriott of the Texas Employment Commission said his office had registered approximately 150 migrant workers during the past week, with most of those registering going on to where housing was available. Alfonso Posado, who has worked for several years attempting to help local residents bring sub-standard housing up to a liveable level spoke strongly in favor of such a project. "I have batted my head against the wall for three years. We need a lot of housing. I often wonder, when will we have enough housing for the people." He also told of people working in the area who are staying in the old city park because there is no housing available. "I am real glad the city council and commission are working together for something like this," he added. Now, the city council and the county commission need an input from the general public. They have asked the community to register your opinion with members of either governing body, and preliminary work will begin to obtain the housing for Muleshoe.

If the local and county residents approve the plans for the Housing Project, a Housing Authority Board of Directors will be named, and they will begin the necessary paper work for the grant which will be 90 percent of the cost of construction of the unit.

Also, the Chamber is still signing up booths for the county fair which will open at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, July 5 on the Courthouse square and will operate until they are ready to close. Black said that eligible are any civic, church, youth organization, school class or school function. They can offer games, food items, crafts, or have a booth of their choice during the fair. The day gets underway with the annual Needmore-Muleshoe Pony Relay race followed by the Jaycee ride in - fly in breakfast. Getting into the annual Muleshoe Pitching contest next, there is also scheduled the kid's games, starting at 9 a.m. at the Law Enforcement Center and the Old Settler's reunion at 2 p.m. There will also be the parade at 5:30 p.m. and the fireworks will cap off a full day of celebration at 9:45 p.m. at the new city park. "Plan to be in Muleshoe on Monday, July 5," urged Black, "and enjoy a full day of all types of activity."

bock. John Trimmer of Hale Center and Buddy Murrell of Gruver will serve as official judges for the 1976. District Agent Billy C. Gunter will be in overall charge of the District Two Horse Show.

City Receives Tax Rebate Of $17,714

Along with a warning to businessmen who are not paying a state use tax, the Texas Comptroller's office has mailed a tax rebate check in the amount of $17,714.33. Muleshoe's tax rebate was part of a total of $48.9 million mailed to some 846 Texas communities and cities as their portion of the monthly rebate for the previous month's one-cent city sales tax collections. Comptroller Bob Bullock warned that many businessmen are not collecting and/or paying the use tax and suggested they may run into what may become costly problems when they face state auditors. Bullock commented, "It's called the sales and use tax, but too many people don't understand what the second part means." He explained that use tax is due on any goods bought from out-of-state and then put to business or personal use, without being sold. He also said that the biggest problem is with businesses that do not sell retail goods, have no sales tax permit and never think about the tax when they buy equipment from outside the state. According to the report from the Comptroller, city rebates for 1976 are running about 12.5 percent ahead of 1975. Rebates through June 1975 totaled $129.2 million, compared to the 1976 total of $145.4 million.

Other area cities received checks as follows: Bovina, $2,358.52; Earth, $3,440.28; Friona, $10,795.72; Hart, $3,796.31; Hereford, $55,465.74; and Levelland, $46,486.09. Littlefield, $33,181.77; Morton, $6,578.57; Nazareth, $1,741.51; Otton, $5,832.60; and Sudan, $1,815.23.

Farm Vehicle Registration In Violation

One of the most common violations of motor vehicle registration laws in Texas is the use of farm registration plates on a vehicle used for non-farm purposes.

Farmers and ranchers pay only half the normal registration fee for plates on vehicles used solely for farm purposes and certain personal activities of farm and ranch families.

The law is specific in stating that a farm-registered vehicle "may not be used for other gainful employment."

"Violation of this statute is considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $25 to $200," according to R.W. Townsley, director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation's Motor Vehicle Division.

Townsley said a farmer or rancher may not use his farm-registered vehicle as a means of transportation to an industrial job, nor for hire -- even if it is for the transport of farm or ranch products.

Violations frequently occur when a farm-registered pickup is sold to a non-farm operator, Townsley said. In such instances, the plates may be surrendered and application made for new registration, he added.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

Bill Loyd, President Muleshoe State Bank

America's early colonists were hard put to come up with hard coin to pay for the goods they purchased from Britain, so they experimented with substitutes for metal.

From New England to Virginia, wampum or shells used by the Indians became the accepted small coinage. In 1641 in Massachusetts, it was made legal tender, subject to some limits as to the size of the transaction, at the rate of six shells to the penny.

Shells came in two denominations, black and white, the first being double the value of the second. The acceptability of the shells depended on their being redeemed by the Indians in pelts, making the Indians, in effect, central bankers of their day. Beaver pelts were the reserve currency into which wampum could be converted.

As civilization moved westward, beaver became scarce and wampum stopped being convertible, thus losing its purchasing power. It soon disappeared from circulation.

Area Wrecks Injure Seven During May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of May, 1976, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and seven persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1976 shows a total of 17 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 11 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for May, 1976, shows a total of 517 accidents resulting in 14 persons killed and 268 persons injured, as compared to May, 1975, with 524 accidents resulting in 17 persons killed and 310 persons injured. This was seven less accidents, three less killed, and 42 less injured in 1976 at the same period of time.

The 14 traffic deaths for the month of May, 1976, occurred in the following counties: Two each in Parker, Wichita, Donley, and Randall; and one each in Kent, Palo Pinto, Carson, Harley, Potter, and Wheeler.

Recipients of veterans' benefits from the War of 1812 continued until 1946, the Veterans Administration reported.

There were about 4.7 million veterans in the United States when the Veterans Administration was established by President Hoover in 1930. Today there are almost 30 million living veterans.

Rainbow Girls In Flood At Houston

Muleshoe Rainbow Assembly No. 161 traveled to Houston on Saturday night, and arrived Sunday, at 11:30 a.m. They began what was to have been a three-day Grand Assembly of Texas Order of Rainbow for Girls.

They visited Astrb World on Sunday night, and toured N.A.S.A., now known as Lyndon B. Johnson Space Control Center, on Monday, and had fresh fish dinner at the bay.

Their first session, on Monday night was opened with Prisca Young of Muleshoe, Grand Representative, Texas to Mississippi being among the introductions. Sheila Hunt and Judy Lust served as Grand Guards during the Monday session.

At the Tuesday morning session, elections for Grand officers were held. Muleshoe voting delegates included Marcia Rudd, Sherrell Rasco, Sally Lunsford, Kanetha Hysinger and Pam Young.

Then the rains began. The girls were to have supper before the Tuesday night session; but due to heavy rains, by 5:00 they cancelled. By the time the evening session was to be held, at 7:30, it was cancelled. Electricity was off; cars were stalled and people were wading for high ground. Water was waist deep everywhere, around the Astro Motor Inn, where Muleshoe was staying.

The group knew the feeling of being stranded and how hurricane victims felt. No food, electricity or phone service. The total rainfall was 10 to 13 inches of rain. It receded enough by Wednesday morning that they made it downtown to the coliseum for the announcements of cancellation of Grand Assembly, 1976.

The electricity had come back on by 4:30 a.m. That helped, but still there was no outside phone service when he group left Houston, at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday afternoon.

They drove by bus to Austin for a tour of the State Capital, shopping and eating supper. On the bus were girls and sponsors from Lubbock and Plainview.

At 8:30 Wednesday night, they began the long drive home. After experiencing bus light trouble, at Lampasas; due to flood water getting up on the bus in Houston, they finally arrived in Lubbock at 5:00 a.m. Thursday morning. Meeting the group were Mrs. Oscar Rudd, Mrs. Robert Lunsford, Mrs. Odell Rasco and Mrs. Fred Uphoff.

They returned to Muleshoe at 6:15 a.m., but not until one more incident to close the trip. One car load, Mrs. Odell Rasco, Mrs. Glen Lust and Mrs. Latrell (Jack) Hysinger discovered a small fire on the railroad outside Sudan. They put it out with a fire extinguisher they were carrying, for just such incidents.

A bus trip, a flood and a fire wrapped up in four days time. It will be well remembered for a while by everyone attending. Those going were Mrs. Jack Hysinger, Mother Advisor; Mrs. Robert Hunt and Mrs. Glenn Lust, as sponsors. Kanetha Hysinger, Sheila Hunt, Judy Lust, Pam Young, Sally Lunsford, Sherrell Rasco, Marcia Rudd, Prisca Young, Grand Representative of Texas to Mississippi and Kathy Vogle, Grand Representative Mississippi to Texas.

Kathy Vogle returned to Muleshoe with the group and was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young and daughters through Saturday. She returned to her home in Mississippi on Saturday. Her flight out of Houston was interrupted by the flooding conditions, so that she was unable to reach the airport by flight time.

The Rainbow girls and their sponsors want to express their appreciation to those people that provided transportation for the girls to and from Lubbock. They are Jack Hysinger, Robert Hunt and Mrs. Jack Young, on Saturday night. Those people delivering girls home on Thursday morning were Mrs. Odell Rasco, Mrs. Oscar Rudd, Mrs. Robert Lunsford and Mrs. Fred Uphoff.

Planning Makes Improvement Pay

COLLEGE STATION -- Before planning home remodeling, homeowners should consider an objective evaluation of their neighborhood, design of the house, whether the project will be improvement or only maintenance and whether the scale of the project fits in with the rest of the house, Denise Beigbeder, a housing and home furnishings specialist, said.

"Families usually consider home remodeling and improvement to make their present home more liveable -- but they also need to consider the return on their investment. Not all improvements add to the resale value of the house," she added.

Miss Beigbeder is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"If the neighborhood is starting to 'go downhill', the homeowner would probably lose on any improvements he made. It does not pay to over-improve, regardless of the neighborhood.

Ready and Willing

The little woman had been converted to a diet made up exclusively of raw fruit and vegetables, and when she asked dad to call the children to dinner, he'd always shout: "Hurry up kids, supper's waiting."

The person who has no appreciation of the beautiful in life hasn't been properly educated.

A sensible addition to the smallest house in the neighborhood will enhance its resale value as will any improvements made by neighbors," she said.

And she pointed out that homeowners will want to be careful that the changes don't violate local regulations, or the existing architectural or functional integrity of the house. Any addition should harmonize with the original plan and avoid blunders such as a new bedroom that can be entered only through another room, she said.

"Regular maintenance items shouldn't be confused with remodeling improvements. Replacing the furnace, rewiring, changing the plumbing system, re-roofing, waterproofing or planting shrubbery are not consistency System.

considered home improvements. These things only bring the house up to the level that most buyers would expect," she explained.

And the scale of the remodeling in relation to the rest of the house is an important consideration, too. A kitchen appropriate for a $70,000 house does not belong in a less expensive dwelling. Much of the investment will be lost at resale, she noted.

"The prospective buyer generally will not pay as much for a fifth of sixth bedroom as he would a third or fourth one. But if the house does not have something that its price might indicate, such as a garage on a $50,000 house, this would probably depress the resale value," she said.

Consider Worth Of Bicentennial Products Before Buying

COLLEGE STATION -- This year's bicentennial could be called a "buy-centennial", and will be a happy experience or a financial disaster, depending on how well consumers consider any bicentennial products they purchase, Mrs. Patricia Seaman, housing and home furnishings specialist, warns.

"In most shops, consumers are bombarded with sights and sounds of the last two centuries. Everything from special commemorative canning jars to revolutionary drum-shaped picnic coolers to perterware, to an Uncle Samwich, are available.

"And everywhere there is red, white and blue -- on commemorative plates, fabrics with revolutionary graphics and lawn chairs," she said.

Mrs. Seaman is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To prevent financial disaster, the specialist suggested consumers ask themselves these questions before buying bicentennial-related products.

--Is the item an official bicentennial item?

--Can the cost be justified by long-term enjoyment and use?

--Do you really need or want the product, or is it just the excitement of the time that makes it appealing?

--Is the item well designed and constructed?

--If chosen as an investment, will its value increase? How many were made?

"Even though this deluge of bicentennial products has been encouraged partly by official commissions, including the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, consumers should consider purchases carefully," she said.

Platform: Something a candidate stands on before election and falls down on afterward.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

We are friends with this couple and we like them very much. There is only one trouble about associating with them--they seem to be competing with each other, even in conversation.

If the man is talking about something--and I may be interested in what he is saying--his wife will turn to me and start talking about something altogether different. And vice-versa. If she is talking about something he turns to my husband and begins on a different subject.

They give the impression that women are not interested in what men have to say or that men are not interested in what women have to say. What can we do about this? I think it is extremely rude to interrupt someone while they are talking and it is possible that the listeners are interested in what is being said by number one.

-Frustrated-Ind.

Answer:

People who try to monopolize the conversation are either very egotistic or are compulsive talkers. They either think that people find them fascinating or they are trying hard to impress their friends with what they have materially, or their imaginary backgrounds.

I doubt if you can do anything about this situation unless you keep your face turned to the first speaker and ignore the blast which is coming from the other direction.

Louisa.

Longhorn Trail Drive Gets Underway

LUBBOCK — Come 1977, there will be only a few who can say, "I remember the Longhorn trail drives of 1976 because I was there!"

Some who will have the most vivid memories are those who ride in the symbolic Texas Tech University Bicentennial Longhorn Trail Drive from San Antonio to the Ranching Heritage Center in Lubbock. There still is time to sign on for the ride.

The Longhorns are now "in training" for the drive at the YO Ranch in Mountain Home — choosing their lead steer, picking a "buddy" with which they'll travel the distance, and deciding a pecking order to find their place in the herd.

These are decisions the Longhorns make for themselves, and by the time the 70 animals start the drive June 27 they will know which steer they are following, and they'll horn out any steer that gets out of line.

The Texas Tech Longhorn drive will be different from most this Bicentennial year. It will last from June 27 to July 2, arriving in Lubbock in time for the formal opening ceremonies at the Ranching Heritage Center at The Museum of Texas Tech University. The opening is scheduled for July 2-5.

The 12-acre Ranching Heritage Center has a score of historic ranch buildings authentically restored, furnished and landscaped to depict the development of ranching in the American West. Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will dedicate the center July 2. Its interpretive program was made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C.

While most Bicentennial trail drives are relatively short and move through open country, the Texas Tech drive — like the Ranching Heritage Center itself — will give urban dwellers an honest look at their history.

The drive will move through main streets in San Antonio, Kerrville, San Angelo, Stamford (in time for the 46th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion), Midland and Lubbock.

In the open country, the animals will be trucked. The arrangement is partly a concession to the difficulties in mixing cattle herds and impatient, 55-mile-an-hour highway traffic. The major goal, however, is to let the greatest number of people possible have a look at their past, an era that faded at the turn of the century.

Any who want to join the drive for the entire route, participating in Bicentennial festivities in the towns through which it moves, should write or phone the YO Ranch, Mountain Home, Tex. 78058 or 512-640-3222.

In each town sheriff's posse and riding and rodeo clubs are invited to participate. Club officers should contact local Bicentennial committees or phone Dr. J. Wayland Bennett, 806-742-4277. He is the Texas Tech coordinator for the drive.

Charles Schreiner III of the YO Ranch is trail boss. He also was the first president of the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America, organized in 1964 to recognize the Texas Longhorn's link to American history, to promote breed practices and to encourage the development of herds to preserve for posterity a magnificent breed of cattle.

The Longhorn is as American as the land the animal dominated in the last century. They developed as wild stock out of Spanish ancestry.

Longhorns are big, raw-boned and rangy, with slabbed sides and a squarish look. Steers on the Texas Tech drive will weigh about 1,500 pounds each. They have long legs with the huge front quarters making the front legs appear shorter. The head is large and long. Some have a thatch of hair between the horns. The neck is short. Hair is coarse and thick with a heavy dewlap beneath the neck.

The horns are either oxbow or corkscrew, and they grow as long as the animal is healthy. On a steer they can be six feet or longer.

No two Longhorns are exactly alike in color. They can be mulberry, speckled and ring-streaked, slate, mouse-colored, dun and brown, yellow and cream, or spectacular shades of red.

The steers being trained for the drive — by honking horns and molesting them in other ways they might encounter on the trip — come from four ranches. They are from herds belonging to H.C. Carter, Austin, Carter McGregory, Wichita Falls, Dan Harrison, Jr., Houston, and Charles Schreiner, Mountain Home.

LEAD STEER SELECTION . . . Texas Longhorns in training at the YO Ranch at Mountain Home, Texas, are choosing their own lead steer for the symbolic Texas Tech Bicentennial Longhorn Trail Drive June 27 - July 2 from San Antonio to the Ranching Heritage Center in Lubbock. The lead steer emerges from the herd as the animals themselves select which to follow. The trail drive, bossed by Charles Schreiner III of the YO, will precede the July 2-5 formal opening of the Ranching Heritage Center.

Financial Aid Is Available At Texas Tech

It is not too late to apply for financial aid for the fall semester, 1976, at Texas Tech University, according to Dudley S. Akins, director of the office of financial aids.

"However," he said, "time is pretty short. We're talking about only two months."

Programs administered by the office of financial aids at Texas Tech include scholarships, grants, loans, college work study and referral service for part-time jobs in Lubbock.

Anyone interested in financial aid for the fall semester should contact the financial aids office, room 131 West Hall, Texas Tech University, soon.

Akins said that the biggest problem at Texas Tech is not unclaimed scholarships or scholarships for which no one applies, but getting the word to all prospective or eligible students.

James Black Earns Degree

In commencement exercises at the University of Texas at Austin May 22, James A. Black was among more than 400 students to receive diplomas from the University's School of Communication. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Black, Route 1, Sudan, was graduate with high honors in the field of Journalism.

A 1972 graduate of Sudan High School, Black specialized in magazine editing and production. During the spring semester, he worked as manuscript and copy editor for Pearl Magazine, the monthly supplement to the University student newspaper, The Daily Texas.

Black plans to re-enter the University in the fall to work as the managing editor for Pearl and to complete degree work in English.

A Letter From Daddy

Her father has sent a letter and a picture, too, to show his family what he's doing while they are apart. It makes them feel close and it comforts them.

Our Heavenly Father has written us a love letter and given us a picture of what He is doing for us while we're apart. Both are contained in the words of the Bible.

In Jeremiah 31:3 He says, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness I have drawn thee."

And Our Lord tells us in John 14:2, 3, "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself: that where I am, there ye may be also."

We invite you to attend church this week. You'll receive a blessing from having done so.

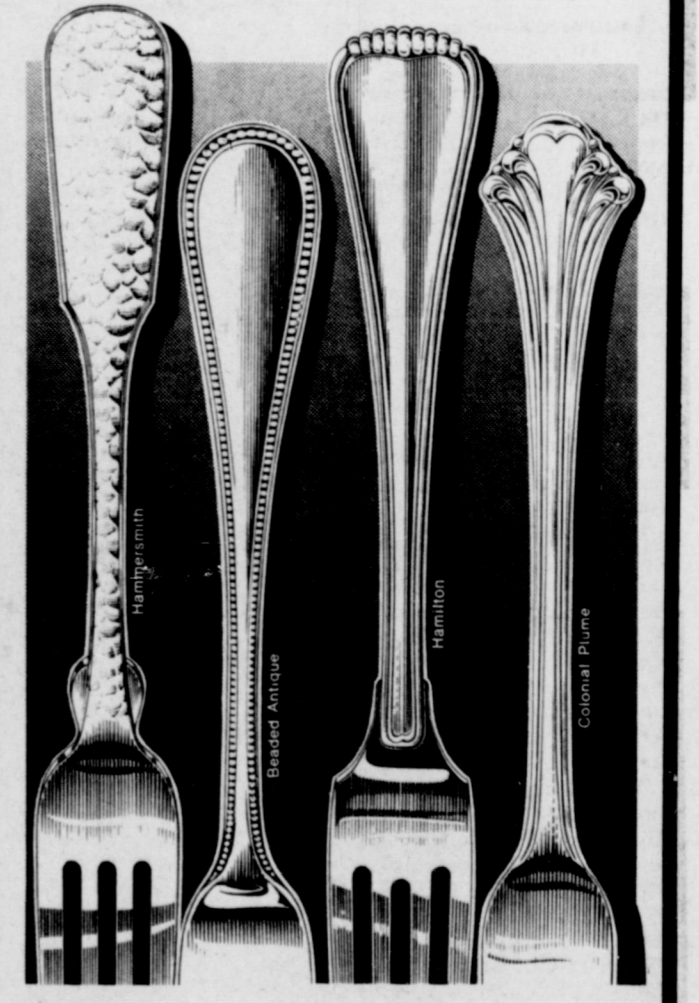

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Scout Camp To Celebrate Anniversary

The South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America has announced a Homecoming to celebrate the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Camp Post. The gala festivities are scheduled to be held on Tuesday, June 22 at Camp Post beginning at 6:00 p.m. An open invitation to all Scouters who have used the Camp over its 50 year history are invited to attend. The homecoming, while open to all Scouters, is especially directed toward those former Scouters who took part in the development of Camp Post both as participants and as community involved individuals. Activities call for the gathering to begin with an informal visitation period from 6:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. followed by a Dutch Treat meal at a cost of $1.50 per person. After the meal a short Council business meeting and historical program will follow. Visitors are encouraged to bring with them any historical artifacts from the early days of Scouting such as old photographs, newspaper articles, uniforms and equipment to be exhibited during the meeting. William H. (Bill) Crenshaw, son of one of Lubbock's founding fathers and civic leader, Judge C.C. Crenshaw, will be in Lubbock to help plan the event. Crenshaw was one of the Scouts who attended the formal dedication of Camp Post in July of 1926. He also was a member of the first troop to use the new facility which was composed of 400.77 acres of land secured from the C.W. Post Estate. History recalls that approximately 2000 interested adults and Scouts were on hand for the historic dedication a half century ago. Headlines of the event were carried on the front page of most area newspapers. This activity suggested a strong backing for Scouting in the early days on the High Plains of Texas.

The modern camp facilities, as we know them today, have come a long way since the early days of Camp Post. It was noted that drinking water for campers was hauled from the City of Post in pickle barrels. It was also noted that the stout taste of pickling brine was very evident in each dipper of water tasted. Indeed, camping at Camp Post has come a long way in 50 years.

National Effort Urged To Help Children With Arthritis

A national mobilization of medical professionals and specialized treatment facilities to help America's 500,000 victims of juvenile rheumatoid arthritis (JRA) and related connective tissue diseases was called for here today.

Dr. Joseph E. Levinson of the University of Cincinnati Medical School described the serious impact of arthritis on children, stressed the lack of enough trained personnel to provide care for them, and outlined the nationwide programs needed to deal with the problem.

He spoke at the annual scientific meetings of The Arthritis Foundation, attended by more than 1000 physicians, scientists and other health workers, being held this week at the Hyatt Regency Chicago Hotel.

"Most people are surprised to learn that children can and do get arthritis, yet there are 250,000 with JRA alone. More children are crippled by JRA in any single year than were crippled by polio in any ten of the pre-vaccine epidemic years," Dr. Levinson said.

He reported that though many childhood arthritis sufferers outgrow the disease, "about 25 percent continue to have limiting disabilities in adult life and 10 percent progress to a lifetime of crippling disease."

The development of an ideal national program for these children will be a major task, especially since resources at present are minimal.

"There are said to be only about 30 American physicians specializing in JRA treatment, and the physician alone is not enough," said Dr. Levinson. He explained that children suffering from JRA need care by a professional team including persons trained in pediatric rheumatology, physical therapy, occupational therapy, orthopedic surgery, and social work. Other specialized medical services ought to be quickly available as needed, such as radiologists trained to recognize x-ray changes in childhood arthritis, pathologists trained to identify other changes and assist in diagnosis, and ophthalmologists -- the latter because serious eye problems often accompany JRA.

"There are at present only 15 centers in the United States that can provide such care," Dr. Levinson said. "This means that each center should care for at least 30,000 children -- an impossible task."

The magnitude of the problems of children suffering from arthritis was highlighted by the 1975-76 investigations of the National Commission on Arthritis and by the First Conference on Rheumatic Diseases of Childhood, sponsored by The Arthritis Foundation earlier this year.

Guided by these reports, Dr. Levinson proposed the develop-

1. Geographically dispersed clinics for locating unidentified cases of JRA, providing diagnosis and initial evaluation, and offering routine follow-up care in cooperation with the primary care physician.

2. Special centers located at medical schools where evaluation of complicated cases can be provided; where highly specialized rehabilitative treatment for longterm problems, including surgical cases, is available; and where investigative clinical research, and training of both physicians and allied health professionals, are part of the program.

3. Geographically dispersed day-care centers to help chronically ill, disabled childhood patients to learn to lead independent lives, and solve family problems.

Dr. Levinson also emphasized the need to use allied health personnel, especially nurses trained to "evaluate and prescribe treatment quite adequately and safely in most non-critical, on-going therapeutic situations."

The care of children with arthritis involves much more than even the best that physical medicine has to offer. The psychological impact of a chronic, potentially crippling disease on the child and on his or her family, can sometimes be even worse than the disease itself.

He reported that one study has shown that young arthritis victims with the least physical disability often have the greatest psychological difficulties.

Another study indicated that many children with JRA who recovered and appeared capable of resuming normal social and recreational activities continued to lead restricted lives for reasons other than arthritis.

"The patient and his or her family," Dr. Levinson said, "should take part in all decisions together. There must be an on-going dialogue between the family, the health team and even the school. Every effort must be made to prevent children with arthritis from looking at themselves as crippled.

such care personally or to provide careful supervision for students and other trainees. Over-worked, under-staffed clinics and in-patient services provide poor care and develop callous and careless attitudes, which reflect on patient care.

"You'll mean to stand there, son, and tell me you never heard of Muleshoe, Texas!"
