Let's Talk Livestock

By Ted Gouldy

Fort Worth. — The swine plague—vesicular exanthema—has struck in Texas! Positive diagnosis of a case of the disease was made at Fort Worth today from a "sick pig" discovered in the stockyards last Thursday.

Vesicular Exanthema has been rampant in the Midwest for some months and originated in California, where it has been common for many years. Called "VE" for short, the symptoms are identical with the dread foot-and-mouth disease.

For this reason careful tests were made at Fort Worth and calves, lambs and a horse were inoculated with serum from the feet of the infected hogs to be sure of the diagnosis. On Monday, Dr. C. F. Layton, veterinary inspector for the Bureau of Animal Industry of the USDA, sent word to this writer that the VE diagnosis had been proven.

This poses a very serious problem to hog producers, hog buyers and markets where hogs are handled. Producers certainly are concerned deeply about avoiding a start of the disease in their herds.

Buyers are fearful of tremendous losses if a sick animal is found in their plant. Losses of $5,000 and $10,000 have resulted when VE pigs have been found in packing plants. The loss is caused by the fact that much pork must be destroyed and a thorough cleanup of the facilities and premises must be made.

In fact the virus is believed by many to be spread as much from pork scraps in garbage as from contact or otherwise. One hog feeder called this writer at Fort Worth Sunday night and suggested that all dining car garbage should be either cooked or destroyed and not fed to hogs. It was his theory, and shared by many others, that dining car garbage was probably responsible for the rapid cross-country spread of the disease.

The Eastern Meat Packers Ass'n last month passed a resolution demanding that garbage feeding of hogs be stopped by law. It is the considered opinion of a majority of observers in the matter that the trouble does seem to center around feeding operations where raw garbage is fed.

Texas faces a big job. It is fortunate that the disease was discovered early and speaks well for the alert inspectors for the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission and the Bureau of Animal Industry of the USDA on the Fort Worth Livestock market.

Efforts are being made to trace the origin of all the hogs found to have the disease here.

U. S. Wins In O. P. S. Case

Judgment of $8,420.80 in favor of the U. S. government has been entered in U. S. District Court, San Antonio, before Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr. against the Ed Auge Packing Company, slaughterers and meat wholesalers of San Antonio.

The judgment represented the full amount of ceiling price overcharges in a civil suit that alleged over ceiling sales of veal.

Petition in the case, signed by Charles F. Herring, U. S. Attorney for the Western Judicial District of Texas, was filed here November 8, 1951. It was the first suit filed in the Western Judicial District San Antonio Division as a result of Office of Price Stabilization investigations in the operations of packing houses.

Special Care Food Packages For Holiday Gifts Overseas

Americans who wish to assure Thanksgiving and Christmas cheer for relatives, friends or needy families overseas can take their choice this year of three CARE food packages especially prepared for gift-giving.

The annual CARE Holiday day Package, containing a whole canned turkey plus the dinner trimmings for as many as 12 persons, is again available at $18.75 for delivery in Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, West Germany and Berlin, Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland), Greece, Italy, the Netherlands and Norway.

In addition, CARE offers the canned turkey alone at a cost of $12, and a tasty $6.95 Budget Food Package designed to supplement the bird or travel proudly on its own. These two assortments may be ordered for recipients in East Germany and Yugoslavia as well as the above countries, while the Turkey Package is also available for Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines.

Orders may be mailed to CARE, 20 Broad St., New York 5, N. Y., or any local office of the non-profit agency. Deadline for Thanksgiving orders is November 1; for Christmas delivery, December 1.

All of the CARE turkeys are full-meated Beltville Whites, each weighing at least 8 and 1/2 pounds. Steam-roasted in their own juices and packed in two pounds of lard, they can be served hot or cold.

Accompanying the bird in the CARE Holiday Package are: 1 lb. each of plum pudding, bacon, coffee (or tea), chocolate candy, hard candy; 29 oz. peaches; 15 oz. raisins; a half-pound of butter and 1/4 oz. mustard.

Contents of the special CARE Budget Food Package include: 2 lbs. each of bacon, sugar, rice; 1 lb. each of coffee (tea for Great Britain), butter, preserves, candy (assorted chocolates and hard candies); 15 oz. raisins and 12 oz. luncheon meat.

Hide Dealer Assessed In O. P. S. Suit

Judgment of $6,697.16 for the United States has been ordered in the U. S. District Court, San Antonio, by Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., against the Melton Provision Company, San Antonio dealer in hides, for overceiling sales in horse hides.

The judgment covered the amount of the overceiling sales. O.P.S. had alleged that the defendant had charged the purchaser of the horse hides $6,697.16 in excess of the ceiling prices.

O. P. S. Advises On Freight Costs

Adjustments in certain ceiling prices to cover increases in transportation costs are permitted under Office of Price Stabilization regulations, district O.P.S. officials said today.

Businessmen and others who want information about this or about other government pricing, filing or record keeping regulations are urged to contact the San Antonio District O.P.S. office, 229 West Nueva Street or the Houston office, 2309 Austin Street.

State Health Offices Issue Warning

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Oct. 10. —The State Department of Health has just issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever, as the number of cases usually increase during the fall months. The majority of deaths from this disease occur from October through February.

Scarlet fever is a very contagious and serious disease. Grown people may contract it, but children under 15 years are especially apt to have it, if exposed. It is especially dangerous for children under 5 years, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns mothers to "not let your children take any chances with scarlet fever. Call the doctor as soon as the first symptoms appear."

If your child has contracted scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chills, vomiting, or convulsions and fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and, under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest and soon the rash, very red in color, spreads over most of the body.

The doctor is required by law to report the case to the local health officer. Do your part by following carefully the quarantine instructions which the health officer will give you, since a severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with some one who has only a light attack. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician.

Texas Needs Highway Improvements

Austin, Oct. 10. — If Texas could spend all its highway income on construction of new highways it would have a system of new roads unequalled anywhere.

Maintenance, however, is becoming such a factor in use of highway revenue that it is eating fast into the total amount of money paid by the highway users, according to a study of the Texas Good Roads Association just released.

In 1952 road maintenance will take some $42 million out of the $120 million total that will be available to the highway department, according to the figures.

"It must be remembered that we have many hundreds of miles of highways, built back in the Model T days, that are now carrying from 2,000 to 4,000 automobiles a day," said General Ike Ashburn, executive vice-president of TGRA.

"The speed of the automobiles is twice as great and the load limit for trucks is eight times as great. This beats down these old roads unmercifully and the maintenance cost is high," he said.

Highway planners also point to the dwindling dollar value. A dollar of highway money, like any other dollar, is worth less than half what it was when the roads were built.

Provisional figures for 1951 reported by state departments of health reveal a tuberculosis death rate in Texas is exceeded by that of only eight other states.

MENTAL

MEANDERINGS

Now we are told that gas is given to help the neurotics. Perhaps that is what made them neurotic in the first place.

When in the school zone, lessen up on that speed and watch carefully for the young 'uns who may be crossing the street, or be going home or to school. You can spare those few moments it takes to go slow at proper speed through the zone, and also probably spare a life. Better be slow and have no regrets.

Russia—the Soviets or Communists, that is—are reorganizing their country's government. Or so we are told. However, we can all expect but very little from them or anyone else. Changing names, or the reins from one hand to another, does not make too much difference to those who have dealings with them.

Seems a pity that much of that squabbling, mudslinging, digging up of facts and fiction, ridiculing, advertising, publicity, etc. is being wasted on an internal political situation. We could do very well with lots of this energy, research, contradicting, confusion, etc., if we just applied it to our real enemies, those outside this country.

They say—do men of science—that insects are winning their war with the world. Maybe. But most of us will keep hanging on and fighting on, despite what we say or think of the world.

Not that its any of our business, specifically, but its everyone's business: running the government, that is. So, on Nov. 4, VOTE.

Politics, and more politics. We have begun to wonder what will be the net result of the campaigning by all of these candidates and their followers from now until General election day. So far, as we can observe, it has been one filled with more abuse, accusations, counter-accusations, denials, ridicule, and what not, than any ever seen in modern times. It is a sad commentary on our modern times that anyone should see fit to excuse corruption, falsification and near-treason, and to aid and abet in skulldoggery. But these are modern times, and it appears both fashionable and necessary for anyone who wants a high political office to engage in these practices. Politics has never been too clean nor pleasant, and probably never will be. But the voter should weigh carefully, not the accusations and promises, but the value of the men who make these charges and promises, and put it to the touchstone of test: How will it benefit the country. Its a hard deal, this trying to get at the truth, but it will be worth it.

We were wondering recently, after listening to the radio for some time, of the change which has occurred in modern taste for music. That is, from that which a few years ago was prevalent. Of course, we all realize that the Gay 90's have gone, and with it the sweet, sentimental songs and music that set it apart. Then the beginnings of the swing, the jazz, the rumba and all the other music which seems to have a release from the "good old days" and an entrance into "modern" music and times. Then more recently, range or hillbilly music seems to have been the rage, and still is. However, nowadays, from what samples we had, it seems as if portrayal of the sad side of life is popular, in a sort of a swing manner, just as the old-time sentimental songs were so popular with grandmother and grandpop. We like music, if it has rhythm, but must confess we can't go with the boogie stuff, the somba, rumba, and the faster beats. Maybe its because age has mellowed us down too much.

We overheard a fellow the other day talking about the manner in which some people, who fancy themselves a mite better than their fellowmen, treat others who are not so fortunate or in as good circumstances. This, he finally opined, was a natural course of events among the civilized (?) people. And, we can add, almost anywhere you find humans living or trying to live with others. But then, during the course of his discussion, he mentioned something we had also often thought about. That is, the manner in which some larger communities treat others which are smaller and not so favorably located. Too often, we see the larger cities taking advantage of their position or of more favorable publicity, to claim for themselves, often by indirection or suggestion or even omission, favorable publicity that is not theirs. Not that we have anything in mind particularly at this time, but we have all seen it in the past. As, one of our contemporaries recently remarked, smaller cities or communities should not all be treated as poor relations, and in this is one reason why cities, like humans, respond better to good treatment than otherwise.

More than half of October has already passed by and the month is now on a more rapid descent. Just a few more days, then Halloween, a few more and Thanksgiving, and then Christmas and New Years, 1952, the year which will perhaps be given the seal of a critical era in mankind's progress, is on the wane. Too many things are happening, the world and its people are confused.

That Korean situation does not appear to be either worsening (possibly because it can not under the present conditions) or improving. In short, it appears that we are in something which will acquire momentum soon if nothing is done towards alleviating the whole affair. But what is to be done? That is something that very few persons have any ideas about. And even those who might have something to suggest apparently do not have the courage nor the wisdom to state. There are a few choices left to us, but none of them are favorable to our government and nation, and none of them will serve to justify our sacrifices, nor promote our position in the world at this particular time when what we need is more moarle lifting.

Starting on your Christmas shopping soon? Better, if you want to be able to plan better what you will give to whom you will give it and to have less cost in the long run. At least so we are informed by some of those who have gifts to sell, by medium of catalog, radio and what not.

Voting Absentee Ballots

Voting for absentee tickets began on the 15th and are continuing now and will be until the end of the month.

Those expect to be out of the community on election day or for some other valid reason will be unable to vote on that general election day can make application to vote an absentee ballot securing same from the county clerk's office.

Tigers Play Del Rio

The Brackettville Tigers will journey over to Del Rio tonight, (Friday) for a game with the full grown wildcats, members of 2-AA league. This will be quite a jump for the Tigers but they are pepped up and hope to make it a real contest.

The Tigers appear to have their stride back and hope to make this a win over the husky Del Rio team. Anyways, a big number of fans are going over with the Tigers to root for them.

Firemen District Meet

Winter Garden Area Firemen will convene November 2nd in Del Rio in a district meeting. Brackettville is one of ten counties which will be represented. The last meeting which had been set to be in Del Rio was called off because of the serious illness of the Del Rio Fire Chief at that time.

Court Next Month

The Kinney county district court will not try any criminal cases it now appears until some time in November due to other court commitments and plans. The possibility is that the court will not get to any criminal cases until some time after the first week in November. There are two cases awaiting trial in indictments turned in by the grand jury.

SOME HAY ARRIVES

The local FMA office has been getting orders for hay for local ranchmen under the recent disaster area ruling program. A lot of the hay has been taken over by ranchers under the program and most of it appears in fair shape. Some of the hay however has not come up to the standard and was turned down. Mrs. Golemor has been handling the hay and feed orders for Kinney county ranchers.

Laguna Road Gets Traffic

The Laguna road has recently assumed unusual role of having a large amount of both light and heavy traffic over it. Most of this traffic comes over this ranch road because extensive repairs being made on highway 90 near Cline in Uvalde county, makes it easier for traffic to flow over this lateral road to join the highway again in Brackettville.

However the Laguna road was never intended to handle such heavy traffic and though to date it is standing the strain well, highway officials fear what might happen to it if the road work continues and detours keep being made.

Veterans Questions And Their Answers

Q—May I attend a foreign school under the new Korean GI Bill?

A—Yes, so long as you meet the eligibility requirements of the new law, and so long as the school is an approved institution of higher learning. VA has the right to deny or discontinue a veteran's foreign training, if it finds that the training "is not for the best interest of the veteran or the Government."

Q—A veteran and his wife were both killed in an automobile accident. He had a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance, with his wife as beneficiary. He had named no secondary beneficiaries. What happens to his insurance?

A—The proceeds of his insurance policy would normally be paid, in one sum, to his estate.

Q—How much can a veteran borrow on his permanent National Service Life Insurance policy? Also, what's the annual interest charged on such loans?

A—A veteran may borrow up to 94 per cent of the reserve value of his policy if the policy has been in force for a year or more. The interest rate is four per cent.

A—You would not be permitted to take the accounting course under the GI Bill. The reason is that completion of your Business Administration course is not a prerequisite to enrollment in the second course.

Q—I am a World War II veteran, and I expect to get my degree in Business Administration, which I studied under the GI Bill. After I finish, may I take a course in accounting at a business school? Would such a course be considered a "normal progression" from my Business Administration training? The July, 1950, GI cut-off date applied to me, by the way.

Movies To Be Made Here

It has been announced that a Hollywood Moving Company will invade Brackettville for a movie to be made here at old Fort Clark and in this area.

The announcement of the fourth coming production was made last week before the Rotary Club and since been elaborated on by advance notices from the producers.

The tentative name of the new movie to be made here is "Adobe Walls," and this may not be its final or screen title. It is from the original story by W. R. Burnett and the direction will be by Charles Marquis Warren. Nat Holt Sr. is the producer of this picture.

The stars who will appear in this production include Charlton Heston, Mary Sinclair, Katie Juarade, Robert Keith Jr. and Jack Parlane.

The picture will be filmed in technicolor and will be a Paramount release.

Shooting of the new picture is scheduled to begin on the 8th of November and will continue for about a month.

Actors and personnel will stay at the Fort Clark Guest Ranch during the filming of the picture.

It is expected that a considerable amount of color will be secured and that Brackettville and this area will be asked to assist in its making and secure some good publicity therefrom.

TIGERS 13. SANDERSON 7

The Brackettville Tigers invaded Sanderson for a game with the Eagles and managed to come off with a 13-7 win over that hard fighting team.

The game was of the hardest fought for the Tigers with plenty of action and excitement throughout. Ernest Jaso as the main spring for the Tigere, and he made one of the touchdowns for the Brackettville boys. Hernandez made the second score.

The Tigers had their full crew for the game and with most of the injuries and winks ironed out. Hernandez who had been out with a hurt arm, Jaso with an injured leg and one or two others who had been on the injured list all went in and helped pull the Tigers to victory.

The Tigers found the Sanderson Eagles tough and hard to lick and it was no easy job to make the win.

DUSTY STREETS A NUISANCE

Dusty streets are a continuous source of nuisance and complaint here in Brackettville, principally because of the continued dry spell which has caused the caliche tops of some streets to disintegrate. This causes a continual cloud of dust to be scattered over and into many homes and dusk often hangs over the community as a cloud. The fact many motorists drive fast on such streets give rise to much of the dust. Slower driving help keep down the dust. So drive slow.

DRIVER HAS TWO WRECKS

One driver last Friday had two wrecks on the Del Rio road. The first occurred a few miles west of Brackettville on highway 90, when the car went over the side turred over twice and came up standing on four wheels. The driver started up soon after and went on but later completed the wrecking by having another mishap further west on the highway.

Hosiery Ceilings Suspended By O. P. S.

Price controls have been suspended on all types of hosiery except those sold for surgical or corrective use, O.P.S. said today. Hosiery on which price ceilings are suspended includes women's nylon stockings, men's, women's and children's socks and many hosiery items have been selling at considerably below pre-Korea price levels.

Wonder How Miss Gilbert Is in "History"?

By now I guess you've heard about the spelling errors in the kids' report cards this week.

A typical card looked like this:
 Arithmetic ..... B
 Geography ..... B-
 Spelling ..... C
 Grammar ..... B

I don't know if Miss Gilbert, the principal, actually wrote those cards, but she took full responsibility. This morning I hear she got up in the Assembly Hall—before all the students—and started writing GRAMMAR with two "a's" on the blackboard 100 times!

From where I sit, I'll bet this makes her even more popular with the students. It's nice to see an expert admit she occasionally makes a mistake. Too many so-called "experts" claim they're never wrong on such subjects as what you or I ought to eat . . . what we should wear . . . whether we should enjoy beer or butter-milk. A really wise person never claims to "know all the answers" all the time.

Perfectly Marvelous Flavor Makes This Rice and Vegetable Chowder a Mealtime Favorite

Hungry folks will be completely satisfied by this hearty and really good Rice Chowder which is crowded with the garden goodness of the red, green and yellow vegetables which help the rice "make for" yummy eating.

Here is a smart thrift which doesn't show except in the pleased and happy expressions on the faces of the lucky eaters of this extra special Rice and Vegetable Chowder. It is the clever addition of one little bay leaf that transforms just a dish into WHAT A DISH—and causes the bottom of the soup kettle to appear in a mighty big hurry.

INGREDIENTS:
 1/2 lb. ground, uncooked meat (cooked may be used)
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 4 cups water
 1, No. 2 can tomatoes (2 1/2 cups)

1 cup firmly packed grated carrots
 1/3 cup coarsely grated or diced onions
 3/4 cup uncooked rice
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 bay leaf
 1 cup finely grated or chopped cabbage

METHOD: In a large saucepan or soup kettle brown the meat in the butter or margarine. Add the water, tomatoes, carrots, onions, rice, salt pepper and bay leaf. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Add the cabbage and cook 5 minutes, or until the cabbage is tender. Remove the bay leaf. This recipe makes 8 cups of chowder.
