Rep. Gardner Withrow (R-Wis.) was thumbing through his newspaper a short time ago, and saw a junk dealer's ad offering used landing mats for sale. The mats in question are steel—the kind used by our armed forces for speedy construction of aircraft landing strips.

The Congressman checked up and found that the mats originally were sold by the Navy as surplus material for 67 cents a ton in 1947, and had since passed through several junk yards, with the price going up each step of the way. By the time he saw the ad, the asking price was $75 a ton.

Further checking showed that the Army is now buying new landing mats and paying $157 a ton for them. 67 cents—$75—$157. Can this be in the taxpayer's interest?

A short time ago, the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency found itself in the hay business.

It seems there used to be an agency called the Bureau of Community Facilities, which handled disaster relief, but it was absorbed by the Housing Agency in one of the periodic shake-ups in Washington. And little more was heard from it until recently when it came time for the Government to put up money to buy hay for drought-stricken cattle.

The Housing Agency was ordered to advance $3 million to the Department of Agriculture for the hay business.

A two-year course in tuberculosis nursing offered by the State Sanatorium School of Nursing in McKnight hospital provides maintenance and $100 monthly to student nurses after a 10-week probation period during which they are paid $80.

Highway Needs Repairs

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS—New highway and county road construction and improvement of deteriorated and unsafe highways in South Texas will cost in excess of $300 million, according to a report released this week by the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Datus E. Proper of San Antonio, Chairman of the regional chamber's highway committee, said Monday that the $300 million figure is based on costs estimated by the State Highway Department and 53 counties of South Texas that were represented in five area highway conferences sponsored by the South Texas Chamber in July.

"The report does not reflect an official action or recommendation of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Proper stated. "The meetings in South Texas were sponsored by the regional chamber to give all citizens, members and non-members, an opportunity to report county recommendations for road building and financing."

Five South Texas counties reported highway requirements costing more than $10 million, as follows: Bexar, $76,152,000; Harris, $40,000,000; Nueces, $17,535,000; Brazoria, $17,505,000; and Travis, $11,453,000.

Counties reporting costs from $5 million to $10 million were: Fort Bend, $9,201,000; Webb, $7,496,000; Gonzales, $6,900,000; Fayette, $6,536,000; Kerr, $6,500,000; Wharton, $6,320,000; Matagorda, $6,165,000.

Only one county, Kennedy, reported that its present highway system was adequate.

Following a study of the report, the highway committee will make policy declarations to the regional chamber's board of directors and to its legislative committee for action in developing and expediting highway improvements in South Texas and the state.

"UN Day" Parties Planned To Send Gifts Overseas

NEW YORK—Every American will be urged to give personal significance to this year's observance of United Nations Day, on October 24, by sending gifts and greetings to the people of other UN countries.

A nation-wide campaign conducted by the National Citizens Committee for United Nations Day, in cooperation with The Advertising Council, will reach into every state, city and county. It was announced today by Frank L. Weil, prominent New York attorney and chairman of the NCC.

The campaign is aimed at making the international holiday, established by the UN Assembly and proclaimed annually in this country by the President, a tangible expression of world friendship and brotherhood. Plans call for UN Day balls and parties to be held throughout the nation to raise funds for special UN Day greeting cards and CARE gift packages which will be sent to the people of Europe, Asia and the Near East.

Arrangements have already been made for large balls in New York, Washington and New Orleans. Support of all national civic, service, veterans, religious, women's and school organizations is being sought to sponsor local affairs in other areas.

Counterpart parties are also expected to be held in Paris, Rome, London, Montreal, Rio de Janeiro and other foreign cities so that the observance will be world-wide.

For American donors, CARE is preparing a special $5 food package, labeled "UN Day Gift from the U. S. A.", which its representatives overseas will deliver wherever they are needed most. The greeting cards, made available by the Committee in packages of 10 for $1.00, can be mailed individually or may be signed and forwarded to CARE for distribution with the parcels.

Both the cards and the CARE packages can be ordered through the UN Day Committee, Box 498, New York 7, N. Y. A free booklet detailing the program and containing suggestions for UN Day parties can be obtained by writing to the headquarters of the National Citizens Committee for United Nations Day, 816-21st Street, N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

"It is our hope that the International exchange of greetings and gifts on UN Day will become traditional," Mr. Weil stated in appealing to Americans, as individuals and as members of organizations to get behind the plan. "Were that custom already established—were millions of people in all the UN countries thus expressing a friendship transcending all oceans and borders—the day of universal peace on earth, good will toward all men would be nearer each year."

The Advertising Council task forces to rally newspaper, magazine, radio and television support is headed by Allan M. Wilson, vice president, and Edward F. Royal, account executive, with Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn as the volunteer advertising agency to prepare campaign material. Other officials of the national committee include C. Lloyd Bailey, executive director, and Felix D. Towle, executive coordinator.

Air Force Reserve

BROOKS AFB, SAN ANTONIO — Colonel George F. Keene, Jr., Commanding Officer of the 2577th Air Force Reserve Flying Training Center at Brooks Air Force Base, today clarified the eligibility requirements of enlistment in the Air Force Reserve.

He revealed that non-prior service personnel are eligible to enlist in the 8707th "Alamo" Pilot Training Wing at Brooks providing they have NOT been classified 1-A by their local Selective Service Board.

Young men and women, age 17, are also eligible to join the 8707th providing they secure their parents' or guardian's consent.

Colonel Keene also revealed that there are still numerous vacancies in the wing in fields such as engineering, radio repair, logistics, and medical services.

Young men and women interested in joining the Air Force Reserve are urged to call Kenwood 1241, extension 454, or write to the Commanding Officer, 2577th AFRTC, Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio for further information.

From State Health Officer

AUSTIN, TEXAS, SEPT. 6—Fear of cancer cannot help its victim and unreasonable fear should be replaced by intelligent action concerning this disease, is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The doctor said in a statement this week that cancer can usually be cured in its early stages. This has been demonstrated by the fact that many persons have been treated successfully by surgery, radium, or x-ray and are living now, many years after a definite diagnosis of early cancer was made. Many people postpone diagnosis when they suspect cancer either because they dread to hear the truth or because they believe that cure is impossible.

"In the treatment of cancer, time is the most important factor," Dr. Cox said. "To produce satisfactory results, treatment must begin early in the course of the disease while the cancer is still confined to a small area. Persons suspecting cancer should consult their physician as soon as they notice an unexplainable lump, unusual discharge, a persistent sore on any part of the body, or any change in the appearance of a mole or wart. It is often disastrous to wait for pain since this is a late symptom that usually doesn't occur until the malignant growth has made considerable advance."

The value of early diagnosis cannot be stressed too strongly according to Dr. Cox and that is one reason why regular periodic examinations are recommended particularly for those of middle or old age.

The other day, in a magazine, we found an item on how to make a Vermont Scripture cake. Which sort of intrigued us. But we found out, as we usually do when we get interested in such matters, that it was not what we had in mind nor what the title suggested would be. However, we decided it would make a fine cake and that one of these days when we had plenty of time, flour and money to buy the ingredients, we might take our ambition right out in the open and try to make such a confection.

MENTAL MEANDERINGS

Now that the political rumbles are developing into some real interesting sidelights on the trends toward the general election in November, one can fairly well see, in spite of the mud which clings to practically everything political, that it is not going to make too big of a difference soon as to what party or candidate wins in November, or what they will do about it.

With taxes as they are and the general financial condition of the country as it is, the best we can expect for next year—and possibly a few years after that—is attempts to balance the budget. But when there is such a big overload of persons on the government payroll who want to keep on no matter who gets in, of labor unions who want higher wages and capitalists who want more profits, and inflation which is dampening the spirits of the entire nation and keeping a thumb down on the middle and poorer classes—well, its not going to change much, in fact it can't. When you get lost in the middle of the woods, no matter from where you came or where you want to go to, its going to take you quite a while to get out again. So, we can relax if our man wins and then wait to see what is going to develop.

That new car inspection law caught quite a number of persons asleep. That is, many of them waited too long to have their cars in top shape, and as a result quite a few of them were automatically ruled off the highways. Just having the car brakes, lights, windshield wiper and horn working, is not too much to ask. We recall just recently, we were out on the highway one night, and heard a noise behind us. And it wasn't until another car, coming up from behind, swept around us that we realized that car had no lights. And the driver thereof must have had owl eyes from the way he was driving and maneuvering the car in the dark. Or perhaps he was using infra-red spectacles or apparatus in doing his driving.

Recently we spied three small advertisements in the Classified column of a daily newspaper all relating to purchases of used automobiles. The first heading read: "Highest prices for Used Cars." The second, "Best Prices for Used Cars." The last and third, "Highest prices paid for junk." It could have been unintentional.

A trade paper stated that more and more Americans are turning to the use of arbitration as a means of settling disputes rather than expensive and long-drawn out lawsuits. Maybe, but we still contend that, despite the simplicity and lower cost of this method, lawsuits and possible acts of violence will prevail as long as mankind keeps on being stubborn about many things.

We also learn, or so they would have us believe, that a man's personality can readily be told by the sort of hat he wears, and how he wears it. You can tell, in our opinion, whether he is a good dresser or not, thrifty or not, and whether he has good taste. But aside from that, its hard to tell what a fellow is by his hat. Anyways, it seems that about half of those we meet don't own or sport any hats.

In reading a newspaper you can readily find out what on the whole interests people. Disasters, violent deaths, war and the like seem to take over the front pages of most newspapers. Occasionally you will find thereon a human interest story, an average occurrence in almost any community. Few humorous items find their way into the columns. But the preponderance of the news items carried, is not conducive to better living, easier going or relief from trials and tribulations.

Now that the football season has started off with a real bang, and there is plenty of the sport in the air, the average football fan is now getting red hot. It is always time for the players and the people who like the sport, to get behind the home team and do their level best for them in their efforts to win the coveted trophy.

Don't forget to slow up when in the school zone. It may be the means of saving a life—that of a child. These youngsters do not all comprehend the whys and wherefores of traffic, and occasionally may put themselves in a dangerous situation where it may mean that the motorist who isn't careful may maim a youngster or possibly take a life. The burden of care is on the motorist, not on the child. Besides, what's your hurry going by a school? You won't get to see so many youngsters, happy and carefree, together again in a hurry save in another school. And it may do you good, and it really does make you realize that here is the subject of responsibility, of neighborliness and of realization in the future brought home to all of us in the person of young people.

The first few days of fall-like weather, which have turned a few of our nights and mornings into delightfully cool ones, remind us that it won't be too long until we will be right smack in fall, and cooler weather. Just will be just three more months in this year! Time sure is fleeting.

Dusting of outdoor houses where filth and insect-breeding places may be collecting, has brought about a good health return here. The Chamber of Commerce did a good thing there, and though it was getting a bit late in the season, the equipment and its use demonstrated that it will help clear up many breeding places of insects and raise the community health some. There will be much more work to be done next year, when the warm weather sets in and all of this equipment will be available for use then. And with the polio season that we have had in Texas the past year, it will be a welcome addition to our annual fight.

The Big Four (U. S. and Allies) are offering to meet with Russia in the near future and see what might be done to advance the cause of world peace, by settlement of some of the biggest problems confronting them. Seems to us like trying to start a balky mule by pulling on the reins or trying to build a fire under it.

Don't forget to come out for each football game here and help the Tigers win their next one.

The Brackett News Mail
Brackettville, Texas

Dear Sirs:

We thought you may be interested, knowing that United States Senator Lyndon B Johnson will make the principal address at the Cooperative's Annual membership meeting to be held in Brackettville, at 10:00 A. M. Saturday, October 11, 1962, at Fort Clark Guest Ranch.

As a matter of information, the Cooperative is required by its by laws to hold an annual membership meeting for the specific purpose of making a financial and progress report to the membership as a whole and for the election of directors. The candidates for election having been nominated by a nominating committee, which consists of members in good standing.

The Cooperative has nine (9) districts and there is a director from each district with the exception of the Brackettville, Uvalde district; there are three directors elected from this district, due the general offices being located in Brackettville, Texas. The directors elected at each annual meeting serve for one year, during this time they are responsible for the establishment of new policies and carry out previous established policies. A brief history of the cooperative is as follows:

The Cooperative opened its office September 1, 1947. Since that time, it has constructed approximately 1600 miles of rural electric lines to serve approximately 1100 farm and ranch loads which are located in all, or part, of the following counties; Terrell, Crockett, Val Verde, Edwards, Real, Kinney, Uvalde, Maverick, Zavalla, Dimmit and Webb.

At the present time the Cooperative purchases all of its power from the Central Power & Light Company, with general offices in Corpus Christi. At this time the Cooperative is constructing approximately 425 miles of line to serve approximately 160 members in Pecos, Terrell, and Crockett counties. The Cooperative has an approved project, which when completed will serve addition members in the western part of Terrell and eastern part of Brewster counties. This project will also bring electricity to the Big Bend National Park for the first time. It is hoped this project can be completed in the early part of 1953.

If you make use of the above information or if you need additional data, please let us know. Yours very truly
THOMAS J. HURD
General Manager

MAY TOP ROCKSPRINGE HIWAY

Among the next of the farm-to-market roads which will most likely be taken up in this area by the State Highway Department, may be the completion and topping of the highway joining Rocksprings and Brackettville.

The Kinney County portion of this highway needs slightly under three miles for completion, and the Edwards County part is not too far away.

According to unofficial sources, the Highway Department is desirous of closing this gap and making this road a paved thoroughfare all the way through.

Plans revealed some time ago indicate the highway route will be shifted to higher ground in parts of Edwards County so as to avoid crossing the Nueces River more than once or twice.

This is one project we all want to see completed.

WIDENING HIGHWAY BRIDGES

The state highway department program of bridge widening in Kinney county has been started. Zachry Construction Company is the contractor. The Company recently moved into Brackettville and established headquarters here, moving in heavy equipment and crews.

The widening process started with that of Las Moras bridge on highway 90 in the city. In this one the pedestrian walk will be removed. It is learned that most of the smaller bridges will be widened up to 40 feet and the larger one to 28 feet.

NO RAIN

That brief rainy spell which traversed a good portion of the hill country towards San Antonio last week end, failed to reach as far as Brackettville though the eastern portion of the county has satisfactory rains up to 1.50 inches. Most of the rain which fell in the county was along the Nueces Valley river section and hill country to the north. Locally we had about .03 of an inch.

Did He Forget Your Birthday

How many times have you forgotten your best friends birthday?

How often do you forget to send a card or a telephone call to loved ones celebrating an anniversary only to remember weeks too late? Does he forget your birthday?

Then cheer up! The Brackettville PTA has the answer for you. They are sponsoring a birthday calendar with the proceeds to go to the band for new and more colorful uniforms. For a very small sum your name and birthday and perhaps your anniversary will be placed on the birthday calendar. The calendars will be sold for around $ 75.

Everyone will know when your birthday is but no one will know how old you are.

Everyone in Brackettville will be contacted in the very near future by a group of high school boys and girls and given a chance to get on the birthday calendar.

If he forgets your birthday just draw a circle around your name and the date and pop it against his coffee cup. If he ignores that—well you'll know what to do then! To put your name in the calendar will cost only 25 cents.

Tigers Wins First Game

Brackettville Tigers won their first game of the 1952 season Friday night last, with a 12 to 6 victory over the Sonora Bronchos but it was a thriller.

The Tigers and the Bronchos fought a scoreless first half with the Bronchos doing a lot of ground covering but no scoring. The Tigers threatened once during this period.

In the second half, third quarter, the Tigers pushed down to the Sonora 28 yard line where Jaso went over from that point for the first score. Try for point failed.

The Sonora team up for their first touchdown in the same period after a long series of ground drives, but failed to score the point.

At the end of the third quarter the score was 6-6. In the last quarter, Brackettville with a series of line plays reached the Sonora 4 yard line when Jaso went over for another score. Again point was defeated.

Sonora put on a drive in the last quarter which had them on the one yard line, first down and goal to go, when the whistle ended the game. The final score was Brackett 12, Sonora 6.

The Sonora team is a fast capable team full of fight and aggressiveness and put up a great battle.

The Tigers sparked by Jaso seem to be developing into a good team and with some of the rough spots smoothed out should have a good season. Jaso is as good as ever and Hernandez gives promise of developing into a good back.

Friday night September 19 is an open date for the Tigers

STUDY CLUB ENTERTAIN SCHOOL FACULTY

The lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harwood was the scene last Thursday evening of a party given by the members of the New World Study Club honoring the teachers of the Brackettville Independent School District at the beginning of the new school year.

The lawn was most attractive with its surrounding hedges and flowers, the colorful lawn chairs and lights. After the guests were welcomed and had visited together a while everybody entered into a game of "buncs" in which formality was completely dropped and all had fun together. This was followed by refreshments of cold, delicious fruit punch and cake by the hospitality committee.

Mrs. Harwood had her centerpiece on the long attractive refreshment table a beautiful arrangement of yellow xinnias and golden glows with blue plumbago thus carrying out the club colors of yellow and blue.

About sixty members and guests attended the party and enjoyed the evening of informality and fun.

METHODISTS REOPEN CHURCH SCHOOL

In the belief that every church needs to be a teaching church, the congregation of the local Methodists are announcing through their pastor, Theodor Sebler that Sunday morning, September 21, they are reorganizing the Sunday School at 10 o'clock. Mr. W. B. Lewis will serve as superintendent. All the people in the Brackettville area who are not now attending a church school are given this hearty invitation to become a part of the new group. In the beginning there will only one class for adults. The children will be placed in their proper age groups as nearly fitting as possible. Methodist literature will be used in all classes.

A special call is sent to parents of children where the Methodist church is the preference. If transportation is needed for the children, it will be provided if at all possible. Every member of the congregation is urged to spread the invitation to Methodist who are not members of this congregation and to those whose denomination is not represented in this community.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist of Brackettville are enjoying the new look of the front chancel in their sanctuary. An altar railing has been made from surplus pews arranged as a divided chancel. Against the dark green wall has been placed a handsome altar table from a piece of local furniture more than fifty years old. The arch and all the new sections have a light oak finish. No new material was used in the work. Raymond Fuentes was the local contractor. The next change in the building will be the refinishing of the floor and the church lawn will receive attention.

J. E. Thompson of Del Rio was a business visitor Monday morning.

Corporal Ruben Rose who had been here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rose left this week for the east coast where he will later this month go back to Europe for new station. This will be his third assignment in Europe.

TRY THE Electric WAY
ON WASHDAY!

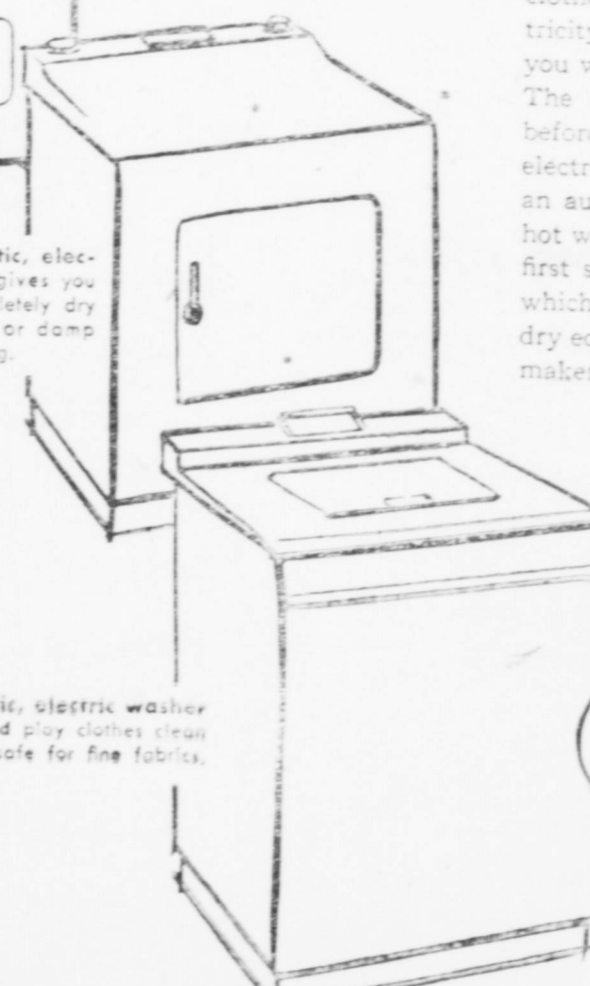

An automatic electric water heater provides plenty of hot water. It's clean, safe and trouble-free as a modern electric light.

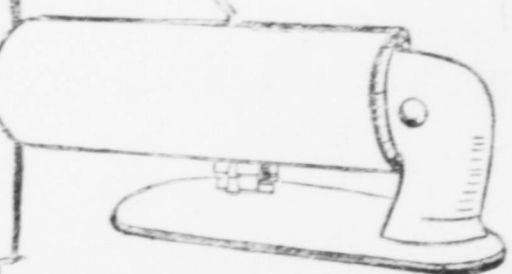

Look at the way low-cost electricity takes over the laundry chores. No more back-breaking scrubbing and ironing; no more weather worries and clothes-line drudgery. Time and labor-saving electricity will wash, dry, iron your clothes; and supply you with plenty of clean, hot water to do the job. The result: a cleaner, fluffier wash than ever before, with less work. Begin planning for all-electric laundry now. You may want to start with an automatic electric water heater to supply the hot water demands of your whole family; or, your first step may be an automatic washer or dryer which you can just set and forget. Whatever laundry equipment you choose... you'll find electricity makes washday your day off.

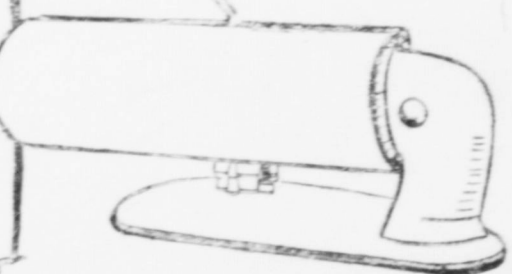

An automatic electric dryer gives you clothes completely dry for folding, or damp dry for ironing.

Now the medical profession—or at least some of them—are suggesting "gas" for the neurotics. Perhaps they got that way from too much "gas" (of another kind, of course) in the first place. Perhaps that old phrase "the hair of the dog that bit you" applies in other directions too other than in that involving one's mental outlook the morning after.

Of 17,497 fire and safety hazards revealed in a survey of state-operated hospitals and special schools, more than 4,000 have been eliminated, but 12,806 will require a major outlay of funds, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has reported.

Texas has only one state-operated tuberculosis hospital of permanent type construction, McKnight State Sanatorium near San Angelo. Two others were provided by conversion of surplus military installations following World War II.
