BRACKETTVILLE TEXAS, FRIDAY JULY 13 1952

NO 18

Texas Safety Association

The age of wonder drugs—penicillin, the sulphas, streptomycin—has overshadowed the oldest and still one of the best remedies for mankind's ills—rest.

The Texas Safety Association would like to see restful vacations this summer, instead of the usual competitions to see who can drive the farthest and fastest and play most dangerously.

"A restful vacation is more likely to be a safe vacation," said W. Carlross Morris, Jr., a Houston Attorney and President of the Association. "And the statistics of summer accidents certainly should make all of us think about safety."

A motor vehicle accident is the most likely mishap to spoil vacation rest and fun, but many of them could be avoided with a little advance planning, Mr. Morris said. He emphasized the importance of a thorough safety inspection of the car before starting a motor trip.

"Texans now have the opportunity to take advantage of their new motor vehicle inspection system which offers a uniform safety check at convenient locations throughout the state," he said. "What better time to get that inspection than just before the summer holidays? At the same time, you are freeing your mind of worries over the mechanical performance of the car and taking out an insurance policy on the safety of your family and yourself."

The inspection stations will pay particular attention to the following check points:

Brakes—must stop car in 30 feet from 20 m.p.h. and take hold evenly on all wheels.

Lights—headlights at level to give maximum illumination with minimum glare. All lights clean and operating.

Tires—rubber should be evenly worn. No cuts or breaks in fabric.

Steering and wheel alignment—uneven tire wear and excessive play in steering wheel are warnings for mechanical correction.

Exhaust and muffler—tight and free from rust holes or leaks.

Windshield wipers—good operation is necessary to visibility.

Horn—audible 200 feet without undue loudness.

Glass and mirrors—clean and unobstructed for maximum visibility.

Clerical Help Wanted

Chas. S. Gardiner, Director of the Merit System Council, announced today that the State Department of Public Welfare is in need of employees in clerical and professional positions and that competitive examinations have been scheduled for August 16. He said that there is a continuing demand for qualified workers for career jobs in State service and urges interested persons to make inquiry at the local office of the Welfare Department. Examinations will be offered for Typist, Clerk, Stenographer, Intake Receptionist, Senior Child Welfare Worker and Child Welfare Worker and Child Welfare Field Supervisor. Gardiner stated that applications may be obtained at any office of the State Department of Public Welfare or by writing the Merit System Council in Austin. He said the closing date for accepting applications will be July 26.

Special units for the handling of aged and infirm patients have been established in four state-operated hospitals by the Texas State Hospital system.

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

GOING DOWN the home stretch before a recess for July 4 and the national conventions which follow, the House worked long hours last week to put the wraps on "must" bills. Last minute rush tactics always provide bad atmosphere for good legislating. During the last few days of a session conference reports come in on measures that often un-do the cut-backs and corrective actions previously made. Under these conditions, a good many members, tired and weary, go ahead and accept compromises even though they don't like them.

A good example was the huge Independent Offices appropriation bill, which included socialized housing. Last March the House passed that bill but accepted my amendment to cut the starts of public housing to 5,000 units during the next year. In the Senate the number was upped to 45,000. Then the House and Senate conferees agreed on 35,000. This additional 30,000 would cost our taxpayers a half billion dollars. The Conference Report containing that figure then came back to the House for approval. I urged that the Report be disapproved and the bill be sent back to conference with instructions to our conferees to insist on the 5,000 figure. After a hard fight, a vote was taken and the bill was recommitted as we urged, but by a too-narrow margin of only 14 votes. Another attempt to compromise is being made, and no telling what will happen.

The Senate came through on an economy amendment which I sponsored in the House to an appropriation bill, which trimmed some $4,000,000 from the Immigration Service. This additional money was requested to pay for an expensive airlift from the border into the interior of Mexico, for the erection of two high detention camps for illegal aliens, and to put 400 more people on the payroll along the border.

In sponsoring the amendment, I took the position that the Border Patrol already has 713 patrolmen stationed on the Mexican border, use local jails for detention, and can deport aliens without running free airplane shuttle service, at Uncle Sam's expense, deep into Old Mexico.

Senator Humphrey of Minnesota made a fight in the Senate to restore these items. But he was smacked down by votes of 65 to 11 and 62 to 17 last week. That clinches the saving to our taxpayers, since both the House and Senate have now taken the same action, and the Conference committee will not deal with that item.

THE HOUSE OVERRODE the President's veto of an immigration bill, and so did the Senate. I voted to override. The bill is a big improvement over existing law, it codifies and revises the hodgepodge of our immigration and nationality laws. The AFL and the American Legion supported the bill; the CIO led the fight against it. It holds the line against influx of immigrants, and tightens our security against Communists and subversives.

AS THIS IS WRITTEN, the fate of price and wage controls is anybody's guess. The House version called for a revamping of the Wage Stabilization Board to protect against a biased board and giving "public" members more influence. They would have to be confirmed by the Senate. The OPS was continued in the House bill, but decontrols were ordered on all items not in short supply and which sell below ceilings. I voted for each of these amendments, but voted against continuing the program. I am convinced this regimentation of our people is unjustified in view of the fact that supply and demand has already brought most commodities well below OPS ceilings, and since wage controls have been practically abandoned.

The final version is being written by a conference committee, and what the final draft will contain is anybody's guess.

A RIDER to the Controls bill requested the President to invoke the Taft-Hartley law against Phil Murray and the CIO steelworkers. By a vote of 228 to 164 the House joined earlier action by the Senate in calling for the use of the law to stop the disastrous strike. I voted for the rider.

Already enough steel has been lost by Murray's strike to build 4½ million automobiles or 26,000 tanks. And the only item really in dispute is the union's demand for a union shop for all steelworkers, whether the individual workers like it or not. In other words, Murray is now striking to force the men to join his union in order to work and make a living. I am opposed to that.

Brig. Gen. R. J. Smith Will Head Texas 1953 March of Dimes

AUSTIN, July — Brigadier General Robert J. Smith of Dallas, president of Pioneer Airlines, has been named Texas State Chairman for the 1953 March of Dimes' appeal for funds to carry on the fight against polio.

The appointment was announced today by Basil O'Connor, national president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. General Smith will succeed Lloyd Gregory of Houston, Texas State Chairman for the March of Dimes held last January.

"I have long been closely interested in the National Foundation's fight against polio, and I welcome the opportunity to be able to participate in the March of Dimes and personally help the campaign to overcome the disease," General Smith declared.

General Smith, one-time attorney with a background of more than 2 years in aviation, has been head of Pioneer Airlines, operating in Texas and New Mexico, for six years. He previously held executive posts with American Airlines and Braniff Airways, and during World War II was a brigadier general in the Air Transport Command, serving in North Africa.

In 1950 and 1951, General Smith was on leave from Pioneer to serve as vice chairman of the National Security Resources Board under W. Stuart Symington. For this service he was named "Headliner of the Year" for 1951 by the Dallas Press Club, and has received many other civic honors in Dallas and throughout Texas.

All set for the big Primary to be held on July 26th? Better start looking over the list of candidates now.

MENTAL MEANDERINGS

Just one more week, or thereabouts, to get into the Primaries. Guess you folks have about made up your mind that you are going to vote, which is the primary consideration. Vote! The matter of whom you vote for is, in the final analysis, the second and more unimportant matter. Every true American who can, and is eligible to vote, should take enough interest in his own country and its elections, to cast a ballot and say whom he favors to govern him. It's the indifferent voter, and there are many like him, who lets the control of the country slip into hands that are indifferent to national interests and breeds dictatorships. Where people vote and express decided opinions, power-mad dictators and persons are not wanted.

Before to 4th of July we were wondering what we would do on the great holiday and its week end of holidays. We did exactly what we had suspected we would do all along—stay home, safe, and put.

They are trying a new and promising experiment in Houston to determine whether the medical profession has a new weapon against polio or not. The specific purpose of the experiment is to determine whether there is now in hand a means of preventing paralysis when polio attacks a person. If the experiment succeeds, polio will be robbed of one of its greatest and most terrible aspects. We have a hunch that in a few years, possibly two or three, this polio will not be so terrible any more. At least we all hope so.

With the passing of June, we had meandered through half of the year of 1952. We don't know how it appeared to many, but to some it seems as if the first six months just fairly flew. Possibly we were too busy trying to keep a few fast steps ahead of the collectors.

Tuesday, 15th, was Swinthin's Day, on which day, if it rained, then we would have rain for forty more days, or so the popular tradition goes. Well, though this is being written prior to the day itself, our hope is we will get some rain to break up the heat (Nearly said drouth). Its too soon yet to say whether we are in the middle of another drouth or not right now.

At the risk of being considered an alarmist, which we are not, we would want to urge that there be no let up in the continuation of the clean-up campaign we have here in Brackettville. There is need of the clean-up if for no other reason than for general health purposes and to rid ourselves of obnoxious flies and mosquitos and millions of bugs and insects which come around all the time. Polio is something we do not want here, and it has been proven that where there is cleanliness, there is little disease, even of polio. Let's keep up the work.

Occasionally we read a detective or whodunnit magazine, and in reading find that in many cases where someone has been killed, or should we say disposed off, that the main character, the deceased of course, is said to have had no enemies. Occasionally, of course, some one is liquidated because of an error—mistaken identity, a nervous finger, a miscalculation—but on the whole, after a lot of investigation, story-told manner of course, it is found the deceased was leading two lives, and had some enemies. Pardon us if we used some of the underworld lingo, its from reading Dick Tracy and other like characters.

In a confusing old world, our Congress has added some more confusing touches to everything else. Half of the time we don't know whether we have enough for defense or not, whether prices will go up, whether this is going to be a major decision year or not. In short we are not sure of anything save there will be no appreciable reduction in taxes or expenditures by the federal government, that prices in the main won't come down too much, and that oratory will be crowding the ether waves from now until November. Meanwhile the Korean situation keeps on, with occasionally a glimpse of optimism for a peace of some sort.

The mocking birds are at it again. In the daily news we find that some people have gone to writing in to state officials and asking permission to kill the birds because they are "driving their cats crazy." It's against the law to kill a mocking bird, of course. Personally we don't have anything against the critters excepting that they get up too early in the morning to start their warbling. We saw one the other day swoop down on a cat which was crossing a road and make the said cat hit for the brush in haste. 'Peared to us that time someone ought to protect the cats from these belligerent birds.

As we have often said before and still say, there should be something done about providing places of recreation for the young people of the community. They should have some place or places to spend time in, and to have wholesome fun.

The number of annual Fourth of July celebrations were nearly up to average, but some were missing. It is good thought to celebrate our greatest national holiday in an appropriate manner—with more than flag-waving and lip service by way of old-time oratory—with a proper and respectful display of the flag, and the lack of dangerous fireworks and keeping down of the awful slaughter that takes place on our highways where motorists usually try to exceed last year's traffic toll. Personally, we took the day off, stayed at home, and enjoyed a day's rest.

The average voter, if we can read the signs right, is considerably confused as to many of the issues before the nation and those who will vote for the candidates for president and many other offices. We are told that prosperity is riding high, that it is dangerous and inflation; that peace is around the corner, that it is nowhere in sight; that taxes are high because we are arming against communism, that it is ruining our nation, and the people. Just take an aspirin brother, turn off the radio, don't read the papers, and just let common sense decide.

POLIO STILL ACTIVE

Polio is far from being a discarded issue, as new cases are being daily diagnosed in southwest Texas. In some part it is causing the proportion of an epidemic.

The chief protection against polio are cleanliness and good health habits. This ridding of the community of flies, and other insects, by a thorough eliminating of breeding places, is the main effort. So keep cleaning up. Don't let it be said, if polio should strike that it was because of your failure to clean up and join the health crusade that polio came here.

KINNEY COUNTY PRISONER RECORD

Huntsville, July, 10.—Kinney County in the past ten years has committed 11 prisoners to the Texas Prison System.

This was revealed in a study conducted inside the prison by graduate students at Sam Houston State Teachers College, under the supervision of Dr. Rupert C. Koening, head of the college's sociology department.

In number of commitments per thousand population, the County ranked 25th in the State with 4.12 persons per thousand committed, the study further showed. From 1942 to 1952, represented 41.73 per cent of the total population based on the 1950 census committed 50.73 per cent of the prisoners.

From State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Texas.—This is the season when an increase of undulant fever may be expected, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

An undulant fever patient suffers from chilly sensations, or severe shaking chills, sweats, and high fever. The patient loses weight and becomes weak. If the illness is of a mild type, the patient may find it hard to remain in bed, but if he tries to keep on with his work he finds he has not sufficient energy.

Symptoms often continue for a number of weeks before recovery occurs. Fortunately undulant fever has a low death rate. Body temperature may reach a higher mark each day than the day before for some time, and then gradually return to normal over a period of several days. Fever may be absent for some days and come back again in the same way as before, registering higher each day and then gradually going lower. The patient's temperature chart will resemble smooth waves or undulations. The appearance of the temperature curve in typical cases has given this disease the name undulant fever.

Undulant fever is one of the infectious diseases known to be transmitted from animals to human beings. In hogs and cows, the germ produces a great economic loss because it causes contagious abortion. When this same germ invades the human body, the resulting disease is undulant fever. Prevention is dependent upon (1) eradication of the disease in farm animals, (2) careful pasteurization of dairy products, and (3) avoidance, in so far as possible, of direct contact with infected animals.

Mrs. Sallie Hutchison

The passing of Mrs. Sallie M. Hutchison, pioneer resident of Kinney County and Brackettville respected and loved by all who knew her, occurred July 26, 1952, in a Del Rio hospital where she had been taken for medical treatment. Mrs. Hutchison had been in failing health for some time but the end came suddenly.

Funeral services were held at 4 o'clock, July 30th, from the family home. At the First Baptist Church, of Brackettville, Rev. F. N. Pack, pastor, conducted the rites of the Baptist church and interment was made in the Brackettville cemetery in the family lot, beside her husband who had preceded her into life eternal.

The Doran Funeral Home of Del Rio was in charge of the funeral.

Full bearers included V. Christensen, John Shady, Ben H. Nolan, Henry Eless, Sam Harwood and Ogden Dooley.

The presence of a multitude of friends and of numerous floral offerings gave testimony as to the esteem and respect in which Mrs. Hutchison was held here.

Mrs. Hutchison was born Mar. 17th, 1868, on Mustang Island, Texas. She later married Sam H. Hutchison, well known Kinney county resident who passed away a few years back, and reared a large and respected family in this county.

Surviving Mrs. Hutchison are five children: A son, Emmett Hutchison, of Uvalde; four daughters, Mrs. J. R. Miller, Mrs. Chas. Veitmann and Mrs. Victor Couture of Brackettville, and Mrs. J. N. Miller of El Paso. Also two brothers, Robert McGowan of Campwood and John McGowan of Artesia Wells and a sister, May McGowan, of Artesia Wells.

To those who mourn the loss of this loved one, their many friends and acquaintances in Kinney county and this community join in expressions of profound sympathy.

ANGUS LOSE A GAME

The Brackettville Angus lost their first game of the season in the border league to the Ciudad Acuna Mexico Indians in a game played Sunday in the border town across from Del Rio.

The Angus played good ball, and backed up Henry Talamantez, good, but were trailing in the ninth inning when they put on a big rally. This however fell one short of tying the score and Acuna Indians won 6 to 5.

This loss however leaves the Angus team still on top of the heap in the league as they are still one game ahead of second place Uvalde and are a cinch to be in the play off.

Cafes Reminded Of OPS Regulations

Quality and quantity of foods and beverages must be maintained by cafe owners, OPS reminded today.

OPS said several cafes recently had served coffee in cups of half the capacity of the cups used during the restaurant price "freeze" week of Feb. 3 through Feb. 9, 1952, but had charged the full price.

Under OPS regulations, the cafe operator is required to maintain the same quality and quantity of servings in his meals, food items and beverages, and the same number of courses in his meals at ceiling prices or less.

If he reduces the quantity of a serving—such as coffee—he also is required to reduce the price in proportion.

OPS Reports On Price Level

OPS reports that 160 items of the goods and services bought regularly and necessarily for our daily living are selling near their peak prices due to the forces of inflation and demand.

This means, says OPS, that 85 per cent of the items on the cost-of-living index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics are within 5 percent of their peak prices.

Veterans Questions And Their Answers

Q.—I saw a house I would like to buy with a GI loan. The seller wants to charge me $200 more than the reasonable value which has been determined by VA. Is it all right if I pay him the extra $200.

A.—No. Under the law, the purchase price may not exceed the reasonable value determined by VA. Any side payment made to evade this requirement of the law is illegal.

Q.—I am now training under the GI Bill, and I just learned that I might possibly be recalled to active duty sometime in the fall. I plan to take my regular summer vacation. Should I continue with my GI course this fall, even though I may have to interrupt it to return to military duty? Or may I stay out of school and wait for my orders?

A.—There are many uncertainties in a situation like yours. You cannot be sure of your return to service until you actually receive orders and are found physically qualified. So you should not interrupt your training merely on the probability that you may be recalled. Such an interruption would not be considered beyond your control; however, receipt of orders requiring you to report for active duty would be considered beyond your control, and would enable you to go ahead with your training after you are discharged.

Q.—I am drawing compensation for a service-connected disability. Now that the rates have gone up, will I have to re-apply in order to get higher monthly payments?

A.—No. You will receive the increased payments automatically. They become effective July 1, and will be reflected in the check you receive at the end of the month.
