Navy Seeks College Men For Flight Training

Single men between 18 and 27 who have completed at least two years of college are needed immediately to apply for the Navy's Flight Training Program, it was announced today by Captain H. R. Nieman, Jr., USN, Commanding Officer of the U. S. Naval Air Station at Dallas.

After having been closed for nearly a year, the Naval Aviation Cadet Program is again "wide open". Captain Nieman's command in Dallas is charged with the responsibility of enlisting Naval Aviation Cadets—or "NavCads", as they are termed, from the State of Texas.

Captain Nieman said that a continuing need exists to interest college students, particularly graduating seniors, in Naval Aviation. For those who expect to have Selective Service obligations to fulfill, Navy flight training offers an alternative to ordinary enlisted service.

Pre-flight and basic training is conducted at the "Annapolis of the Air", Pensacola, Florida. Advanced training is carried out at Corpus Christi, Texas. NavCads who successfully complete the 18-month period of training are designated Naval Aviators, and commissioned Ensigns, U. S. Naval Reserve, or 2nd Lieutenants, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

NavCads are paid $105.00 per month, plus food, quarters and uniforms. Pay and allowances upon commissioning amounts to $355.75 per month without dependents, or $430.75 with dependents.

Men desiring further information on the program should write: NAVCAD, U. S. Naval Air Station, Dallas, Texas. Transportation costs are paid for applicants who wish to take the qualifying physical and mental examinations.

Capehart Amendment Increases Reported

OPS reports that price increases resulting from the Capehart Amendment to the Defense Production Act amounted to $806,200,000 as of mid-March.

Of that increase in prices, the Capehart allowable increases for automobiles came to $279,000,000.

The Capehart amendment allows manufacturers covered by it to obtain ceiling price adjustments based on their highest pre-Korea prices plus all cost increases up to July 26, 1951.

Potatoe Tie-Ins Illegal, OPS Says

Tie-in sales of white potatoes, both by wholesalers and retailers, are prohibited by OPS pricing regulations, San Antonio district OPS officials said.

OPS said enforcement investigators were checking on reports that some local dealers were requiring purchases of other items with potatoes.

Farm Living Costs Steady

OPS learns from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics that prices paid by farmers for commodities used for family living held steady throughout the first quarter of 1952.

Prices of clothing, food and auto supplies declined during the month ended March 15. These reductions were offset by moderate increases in prices of building materials and household furnishings.

At 271, the family living index is one point lower than the all-time peak of last December and less than one percent higher than a year ago.

Our Washington Newsletter

(Note: This weekly Newsletter is being written this week by Pat Capps of Brownwood, a Secretary in Congressman Fisher's office).

This is about my first experience in newspaper reporting. Congressman Fisher is in Texas this week while the Congress is in recess. Every year during the Easter period the Congress takes a 10 day recess. So Mr. Fisher asked me if I would like to fill-in for him with his weekly column while he is away. So this is my chance.

Perhaps it would be of interest to report to you something about what it is like to work in a Congressman's office in Washington. I like it very much. It being the seat of the government, there is a lot going on all the time. Because Mrs. Fisher did not arrive here until about the middle of January, I was able to use the pass issued for her to listen to the President when he delivered his annual State of the Union message to a joint session of the Congress.

It was very impressive, sitting in the gallery and watching the Senators march in, then the Diplomats, Supreme Court Justices, and others. The gallery was packed, as I understand it always is on occasions like that. Cameras, radio microphones, television machines, etc. are grinding away, as the spotlight is directed at the President, the Speaker and the Vice President.

In the office we are kept very busy. A good many visitors from Texas come in to see us, and that is always a special pleasure to all of us. It gives us a chance to talk with our friends, and many times Mr. Fisher is able to make appointments for them and often accompanies them when they have engagements to talk with various people connected with the government.

Some of our work is routine, but what I think I enjoy most is opening the mail in the mornings. Every letter is different, and they are all very interesting. After the mail is opened it is placed on the Congressman's desk, and then he goes to work answering, obtaining information requested, or otherwise trying to help the constituent solve his problem. We get a good many letters from veterans or their families regarding rights, problems and other things. We are able to help out in many of these, send copies of laws, rulings, find out about the status of bills the letters refer to, and check with the Veterans Administration on appeals, etc. We also get a good many letters regarding farm and ranch problems.

Mr. Fisher spends about two hours each day in committee hearings. He is on the Armed Services committee, and has done a lot of work the past year on a subcommittee known as a Procurement Watchdog Committee, of which he is vice-Chairman. That committee investigates reports of waste and improper methods of contracting. I think the committee has been able to save the Taxpayers many millions of dollars. It has received a lot of praise in the press here in Washington.

Then, when the House meets, usually at 12 o'clock noon, the Congressman attends, where he often takes part in debates on subjects in which he has an interest. That has been particularly true this year when most of the sessions have dealt with appropriations. And, as every one knows, Mr. Fisher is a strong believer in strict economy. He spends quite a bit of time working with other Members in obtaining cuts on unnecessary spending that are proposed.

This spring we sent out lists of Farmers bulletins. The Department of Agriculture has for many years been making these lists available. They are very helpful to many farmers and ranchmen because on many subjects they give the best information that science has discovered. Already we have received about 2,000 requests for these publications. We try to send these lists out every few years, while some of the Members I know of send them each year. Many County Agents, Home Demonstrators, and schools make use of them also.

This year the famous cherry blossoms were at their best. Hundreds of thousands of people visited Washington to see them in full bloom along the beautiful tidal basin, near the Jefferson Memorial. Even a cherry blossom Queen was chosen, and there was quite a ceremony in connection with it. That is done every year. These blossoms bloom for about three days, then fade away rapidly. The City has huge flood lights on the long rows of these trees at night when they are in bloom, and it certainly makes a beautiful sight with the reflection in the water along the edge of which the trees are planted.

Well, I better get back to work now. Mr. Fisher has been sending Newsletters to the papers in his district for years. He tries to keep everyone at home informed on some of the highlights of what is going on at the Capitol. This one may not be very informative, but I've enjoyed telling a few of the things that go on, as a Secretary sees them.

Summertime is rapidly creeping up on us though the calendar says we still got quite some to go yet on Spring. So, lets get busy around the garden, plant, weed, clean up and make the home place right pretty.

In 50 years the American work week has shrunk from 60 hours to 40. But in the meantime production per man has multiplied 5 times. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States says the reason is to be found in labor saving machinery and in better planning and management. Also, today's workmen are better trained and more intelligent.

Deposits in the nation's 529 savings banks total more than $20 billion. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out that this huge sum would pay for less than four-months' government spending.

MENTAL MEANDERINGS

The other day the President is quoted as saying that under conditions where he thought the welfare or interests of the nation required it, he could take over and operate the nation's newspapers, radio and TV stations. Which, as one can imagine, brought forth a loud outcry from those who hold, like the founders of the nation, that freedom of the press and of speech, is essential to a free democracy. However, while it does show a sort of dictatorial (if nothing more far-fetched) glimmering by the Chief Exec, it does serve to start one thinking and wondering what might be done if some one in power would one of these days really try to do that.

Those popularity primaries that have been held about the country do not seem to serve much purpose, excepting possibly that they do give an indication of how the people of some states think of a candidate in comparison with others of his own political thinking. However, the real fun, if that is what it may be called, comes when the big national conventions come off. That, as they say, is the pay off.

Seems sorta strange, but there are some people who just can't get it out of their minds that the Good Lord didn't make this world right, but they want to remake it—to suit themselves, of course. And so, they start on their own family, their friends. It is a useless effort, as nearly everyone soon finds out, but most of them get a mighty fine line of personal experience out of it, and perhaps some fun trying to make people do things they don't want to.

Gratitude is not a lost art, nor a lost attribute. It is innate in everyone. But the certain fact is that few ever realize it sufficiently to use it. And is a fine attribute, too.

Scientists studying mosquitoes have found that these winged pests appear to be immune from radioactivity of atom blasts. They were traced by the use of Gieger counters but seemed unaffected by the atomic bath they had been in. Also, it was learned the pests dislike satin or other shiny materials and like green the least of all lark colors. Which may be a mighty interesting to the scientists, but not so much to those of us who have to furnish food for the hungry insects. If we could only spray them with luminous paint and be able to see them in the dark!

Rains of recent date have been causing some rejoicing among the ranchers who have been out on a limb for the greater part of a year—possibly more. Grasses and shrubbery are coming up in good form. Now, if we only get more rain, then it will give the needed boost to put all of them over into summer in fair to good shape.

One thing that is quite noticeable among people is that the majority of them are somewhat tense, that they are anxious for the future to some degree. The government and others in power have been talking about the value of and means to secure "security". But under the conditions as they are, no one really feels secure because of the terrific taxes, and the possibility that this taxing process may have to be continued indefinitely. The best security anyone could ask is security from the big profit-maker, from too much taxes, from fear of seizure or loss of jobs.

May and the graduation days are coming on soon. Not soon enough perhaps for the students. Then these will be scrambling for college, new jobs, the armed services, and everything.

Texas politics are surely getting warmed up. 'Pears that the State Democratic party is going to have a hot time holding on together, or in falling apart, a great battle. Not that, in the final analysis, the average man will benefit anything much from it, but it seems that this is going to be one time when the bystander can bystand in peace and watch the fur fly.

We have been asked several times for our comment in the steel strike plant seizure. Its a rather difficult matter to justify some of the reasons for the seizure and equally as hard to excuse some of the things done after the seizure. The government had other alternatives than seizure to stop the strike, but they took this method. In the interest of the nation and the defense effort. Which, after all, was not too far-fetched a position. But then it proceeded to accept a wage stabilization board's (whose personnel are mostly all in favor of labor and government) recommendation for higher wages (which undoubtedly were in part justified), the closed shop (which makes it compulsory to join the union whether one likes it or no), gives the steel company a price boost, and then sits back of its dictatorial haunches and says it can do the same for other businesses. We are skating on thin ice there—too close to if not infringing on constitutional liberties. A strike would have done much harm, but government seizure may have done more.

It has been learned that pigs, too, have arthritis, just like humans. The fellow who told that to us, seemed to think it was because the swine ate too much and wallowed in mud and water. But no one knows, excepting that now, Science has non-human creatures on which to experiment with the new drugs.

Saw some youngsters the other day flying kites. Brought back to us memories of our younger days, when we too flew kites. And shot marbles, haunted the old swimming hole, and did lot of foolish, boyish things. But then, too, we had few risks such as this youngster flying his kite around the power lines, lodging automobile traffic and possibly his mother.

Often we have heard the comment that many persons go to the big auto races to see the racers dare death and try to cheat the grim reaper. At times it may seem like that. The other day one such car and driver jumped the track, plunged into a grandstand, killed four and injured fifty. Death takes no holiday, especially where automobiles are concerned.

Local News

Manuel Alverdo is constructing a residence on the former Moran lots on Sweeney street.

L. A. Kamps, of Del Rio, was a business visitor in Brackettville Thursday of last week.

Plans are being made it is understood for a general city wide clean up in the very near future.

S. O. Soholo announces that because he is now unable to secure materials and supplies for continued operation of his cabinet making shop he will close it and on May 17th plans to auction off finished pieces in his shop. It is regretted that Mr. Soholo has to do this as this was the only industry here. Mr. Soholo's shop was equal to work being done by the factory.

Brackettville's Carver school was host last Friday, May 2nd, for a May day program of inter school events. The Del Rio, Uvalde, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs and Brackettville colored schools all were represented and took part in this festival of sports and events. The program included two ball games, track races, high jumping and broad jump and literary and school subjects contests. Several hundred teachers and pupils attended the program.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Self-employed persons in Kinney county who had no social wage credits before 1951 may become insured as early as April of this year because of self-employment since that time. Claims filed in 1952, however and based on self-employment alone will lead to reduced payments.

John K. Shelton, manager of the social security office, explains this by stating that self-employment earnings in the year a claim is filed count toward making a payment possible but do not count toward figuring the amount of the payment. Where social security benefits are based on self-employment alone, the earning of at least two full years are needed to make possible the largest benefit payment, Shelton says.

For this reason the social security office will examine each retirement claim filed by a self-employed person during 1952 to determine whether the amount of the payment would be increased if the claim were filed in 1953. If so the social security office will point out the advantage of postponing the application until January 1953, and the retired person may decide whether or not to do so. If the application is postponed until January 1953, back payments are made at that time for month of retirement after June 1952.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the estate of Myrtle Lee Wickham, deceased, that James E. Morris administrator of said estate has presented to the County Court of Kinney County, Texas a report of settlement of the said estate, prays for discharge as administrator. Said report of settlement and prayer for discharge will be acted upon by the court on the 2nd day of June 1952. All persons interested in said estate are required to appear and contest the same if they see proper before the expiration of said date.

JOHN FILIPPONE
 Clerk of the County Court of Kinney County, Texas.

Hidden taxes are sometimes called painless taxes. But they are not painless when the taxpayer's wife pays for meat just half again what she would have to pay if there were no taxes on its production, handling and sale.

Most people would be shocked if they realized the percentage of their income taken by the federal government. An income of $3,500 pays out 30 per cent in taxes of all kinds, and an income as low as $1,500 a year is sliced 26 per cent for government uses.

Clean-Up Campaign

The Kinney County Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a clean up campaign which started Monday, May 5th, and will continue for several weeks. The Chamber of Commerce is especially fortunate to have Mrs. J. J. McCabe as chairman of the clean up campaign committee. Mrs. McCabe has assembled a committee which includes willing and hard-working members from most of the clubs and other organizations in town. Mrs. McCabe is also receiving a great deal of assistance from city, county and school officials, the health director, the sanitary inspector and many others.

A special effort is being made to eliminate breeding places of disease germs and germ carriers, such as insects and rats, as well as to beautify your city by cleaning up and hauling off or burning the trash, weeds and underbrush and on occupied and vacant property. Those citizens who have no other way of disposing of trash are being urged to place their trash at the edge of their lots, outside their fences, where it can most easily be picked by volunteer workers and to mark these piles with markers furnished by committee members.

You are urged to cooperate in this worthy effort, not only by cleaning up your property, but by assisting the campaign committee as a volunteer worker. Your assistance will be especially helpful if you can furnish a pick up or truck for hauling away the trash.

Let us work for a more healthy and better city.

While attending a miscellaneous shower held at the country club Friday as one of the hostesses presenting this event honoring Mrs. Pratt III, the former Sharon Toft, Mrs. J. E. Thompson of Del Rio suffered a critical illness. She was taken to a Del Rio hospital and at this writing was reported slightly improved.

There was very little in the way of celebration here Monday May 5th by the local Latin Americans on this Old Mexico National holiday. A number attended events in other neighboring cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brothers and two daughters, of San Antonio visited in Brackettville Saturday and Sunday.

BRACKETT ANGUS WIN

The Brackettville Angus base ball nine played in Crystal City Sunday afternoon with the town team there, resulting in a free hitting and scoring game, being won by the Brackettville team 22 to 4. Besides the hitting of Angus nine the hitting of Abbie Garcia who went the route for the Angus, was a feature of the game. The Angus expect to match a game here Sunday.

Growing Tax Burden

The federal personal income tax was adopted in 1913, with rates ranging from 1 to 7 per cent. Today rates range from 22.2 to 92 per cent. The corporation tax, when adopted in 1909, amounted to 1 per cent.
Today it averages 60 per cent of corporations' earnings. The total tax burden — direct and hidden; federal, state and local
—now is approaching 35 per cent for the average American.
Those in the $2,000 to $3,000
income group pay almost 30 per cent of their incomes. These facts were reported by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in recommending that proposed foreign aid spending be cut from $10.5 billion to $5 billion next fiscal year.
