

The Ship of Life

Sailing provides a variety of valuable analogies to life. Virtually every aspect of sailing has a lesson to offer. Planning, preparation, and a specific destination precede any journey. The boat must be seaworthy and all of the equipment must be in working order.

Before leaving port you need to ensure all of the necessary equipment, the proper clothes, and enough food and water are on board. You want to feel confident in your ability to sail the boat in all conditions. Appropriate charts and navigation tools are essential.

Anticipating the unex-pected, you need foul weather gear, a first aid kit, tools, a ra-dio, life vests, and a life raft equipped with emergency rations. Skimping on the dockside preparation puts you at needless risk.

In life, you don't want to begin a journey without being prepared. As with sailing, you need relevant skills, knowl-edge, and equipment. Although a mistake in life may not be as instantly catastrophic as a miscalculation at sea, preparation is as important for long term success.

A ship without a rudder lacks the ability to determine direction or destination. Without a rudder you are at the mercy of the wind and currents. If you don't make decisions for yourself, you have no rudder. If you live your life based on the opinions of others, you have no rudder. If you change direction in reaction to criticism, you have no rudder.

Intention and self-determination are your rudder. They enable you to stay on course and make course corrections as needed. With a rudder you can weather storms and overcome adversity.

A destination is your goal and the charts are your plan to reach it. Charts provide you with information to avoid crashing into rocks. Reaching your destination is more than simply sailing a straight line. It often involves many turns and course adjustments to arrive safely. If you encounter bad weather, you must make even more adjustments to keep on track.

To begin a journey without anticipating and prepar-ing for adverse conditions is foolish. Just like the weather, you will encounter surprises and unexpected events. An-ticipation and knowledge equip you to survive the worst storms.

Navigation tools are vital. Radar lets you spot hazards

The Borden County Defense returned following last weeks' debacle which allowed the Coyotes to make short work of the hometown Grady Wildcats. The Borden County offense also contin-ued their successful ways as they scored on 7 of 8 offensive possessions.

The Coyotes got off to a quick start on both sides of the ball as a quick 3 and out forced the Wildcats to punt and then an errant snap forced a incomplete pass and Borden County had the ball at the 15 yard line. The Coyotes appeared to score on their first play but a holding penalty pushed them back 10 yards. An illegal block wiped out another long run on the next play to push them back to mid-field and then following a 5 yard gain and another 5 yard penalty, Tanner Richey hit TJ Basquez on a nice 39 yard pass and catch to quickly put the Coyotes up 6-0. Helio Rosales who was five of seven on extra points made this one to push the lead to 8. The Borden Defense gave up one first down before clamping down and forcing a turnover on downs to give the ball back to the visitors. The Coyote offense used 4 plays to reach the endzone, Richey reached paydirt with his legs this time from 21 yards out to give the Coyotes a 14 to 0 lead with :31 left in the first quarter. Another Rosales kick extended the lead to 16. On the next defensive series, Borden County again forced a nice 3 and out. The Coyote offense used three plays before the combination of Richey to Basquez con-nected again, this time from 25 yards out to push the lead to 22 to 0. On the Wildcat next offensive series they hit a big pass to get inside the Coyote 5 yard line, but the defense stepped up and forced the ball over on downs. The Coyotes looked to push their lead even more, but the only offensive turnover of the game happened on this possession. The defense again bowed its neck and forced a 4 and out to give them good field position.

played their final home game of the 2011 season by hosting the Grady Wildcats. The Pups got off to a very slow start as they trailed early and late in the first half, in fact they trailed 20 to 19 at half. The Wildcats took the opening kick-off and methodically moved the ball down field to get on the board on their opening drive to take a 6 to 0 lead. The Pups wasted a 6 to 0 lead. The Pups wasted very little time answering as Hunter Jones, following the nice blocking up front of line-man, Joel Andrade, Merrik Valentine, Nathan Souder, backs, Colby Pennell, Rhaeden Bland and quarterback Thomas Harrison, reached the endzone from 6 yards out to tie the game at 6. The Wildcats answered back to regain the six point advantage at 12 to 6 still in the first quarter. Borden County scored again to tie the game at 12. The 2nd offensive unit of Robert Jordan, Kace Lott, Dylan Murphy, Braxton Coor, Flint Roberts, Jayton Lewis and Bland were unable to connect on the extra point to get the lead. On the Pups next defensive possession, they fi-nally stopped the Wildcats and shortly after, Jones hit pay dirt again to push the lead to 18 to 12 and then the 2nd group gave Bland just enough room to reach the endzone for the ex-tra point and a 19 to 12 lead with only a few seconds left in the half. The Wildcats however would not go away as they answered with only a few sec-onds left in the half to regain the lead at 19 to 20 heading into the locker rooms.

Borden County and their defense came out of the locker room with a mission to stop the Wildcat offense and continue their offensive success. That is what the Pups did as they did not give up a first down in the 2^{nd} half of the game. The offense just kept gashing the Wildcats with long runs, which got off to a quick start as Jones reached the endzone again to regain the lead Borden County would not give up on the first offensive play of the half to take a 25 to and got the ball back and Jones had another touchdown which was set up by a Valentine run and a Harrison to Andrade pass play to push the lead to 31 to

Borden County got another 4 and out and then Bland got into the act to push the lead to 37 to 20. In the 4th the Pups gave everyone an opportunity to get into the act and Nathan Souder took full advantage as

The Borden County Pups 20 lead. The Pup defense held he used his one carry to reach pay dirt for his first career rushing touchdown from 34 yards out to extend the lead to 43 to 20. That would remain the final tally and the Pups would set themselves up to win the junior high district title with a win at Ackerly as they play the Sands Mustangs.

little time as Austin Fields got in the act by running in from 18 yards out to push the lead to 28 to 0. The Wildcats on their next possession were able to connect on a big 4th down play to keep their drive alive and then took advantage of a blown coverage to put point on the board for the home team to cut the lead to 28 to 6 just before half. On the ensuing kickoff, it appeared that Richey had quickly answered the score with a nice 56 yard return to the end zone, but another penalty brought the return back. That would be the score at half, 28 to 6.

The Coyotes would receive the 2nd half kick-off and they made very short work of this as they would score on a nice 3 play drive to extend the lead to 36 to 6. The Borden defense would not give up a first down in the 2^{nd} half of play. After another defensive stop, TJ Basquez finished off a nice run by Collin Telchik by taking it in from a yard out. Another Rosales kick made it 44 to 6. On the next defensive series which followed a long Wild-cat return, Collin Telchik made his first career interception to give the Coyotes the ball at the 19 yard line.

On the very next play, Telchik followed some very nice blocks from center Matt Roberson, back up guard Kurt Shafer in place of starter Tristen Benavidez, end Quint Shafer, fullback Basquez and quarterback Richey to gallop un touched from 61 yards out for the score. The missed extra point extended the game leading by only 44 points at 50 to 6. On the very first play of the next series, Collin Telchik garnered his 2nd interception of the night and his career and he returned it 16 yards to the endzone for a defensive score and a final score at 56 to 6 with 4:25 left in the 3rd quarter. Leading the way for the Covotes was Austin Fields with 9 carries for 136 yards and 2 scores and was in on 5 tackles with two being for loss. Quint Shafer had 12 tackles and a 17 yard reception. Matt Ham had 5 tackles, Kurt Shafer had a tackle and some nice blocks. TJ Basquez had 5 tackles, one for loss and had 5 carries for 32 yards and a score and 2 receptions for 64 yards and two scores. Collin Telchik had 2 interceptions one for a score and had 5 carries for 73 yards and another score. Auswas 4 of 6 passing for 88 yards and 2 scores and 2 carries for 36 yards and a touchdown. Luke Burkett had a tackle. Matt Proulx had 3 tackles. Jared Smith was in on 7 tack-les and a pass break up. Tristen Benavidez some nice blocks and a tackle, and Matt Roberson also blocked well. Helio Rosales had a tackle and was 5 of 7 kicking.

The victory sets up a show-down with the Sands Mustangs Friday in the final home game for seniors, Quint Shafer, Collin Telchik, Austin Tyler, Austin Fields and Luke Burkett. The Winner of this game will be the District Champion and will play the loser of the Ira vs Aspermont game. Ira is the current number one team in the state, so a victory in this game becomes even more important as both squads would love to avoid the number one team in the first round of the play-offs. Safety Tips for Using a Slow Cooker ting shorter and cooler, we are probably eating dinner much earlier and wanting a more hearty meal on our family's dinner table. This is the perfect time to get that slow cooker out of storage and start cooking supper at breakfast time and breakfast at supper time! There are many wonder-ful easy recipes out there for your slow cooker, but since it is a different type of cooking method, it is important to remember some food safety issues. Here are a few to remember while reaping the rewards of your slow cooker.

* Remember to keep per-ishable food refrigerated until preparation time. If cut up ahead of time, store meat and vegetables in the refrigerator.

Always defrost meat or poultry before placing into a slow cooker. It is best to make dishes with high moisture content such as chili, soup, stew, or spaghetti sauce.

Čut food into chunks or small pieces to ensure thorough cooking. Do not use the slow cooker for large pieces such as roast or whole chicken because food will cook so slowly it could remain in the bacterial danger zone (40°-140°) too long.

Now that the days are get- half full and no more than twothirds full. * Place vegetables on bottom and around sides and corners. Vegetables cook slower than meat and poultry in a slow cooker. Keep the lid in place, removing only to stir or check the food for doneness. * Food will stay safe while cooking and when completed as long as cooker is operating. Throw away food even if it looks done when the power goes out or you are not at home during the entire slow-cooking process, and know the power went out.

* Finish cooking the ingredients immediately on a gas or camp stove or outdoor grill if you are at home when the power goes out. * If food is completely cooked before power went out and you are at home, it should remain safe to eat up to 2 hours in the cooker with the power off.

Take Another Little Piece of My Heart Now, Baby

By Sue Jane Mayes

Janis Joplin and I have about zilch in common. But her song about heartache pretty much sums up how many of us felt last Friday night when the Texas Rangers let the World Series get away from them-and us.

The fact that we were all heartbroken about the loss is a good thing. It is the risk one takes anytime loyalty or devotion is involved, but being willing to risk it means we care. And goodness, it was fun to watch people fall in love with a game that has been my passion for as long as I can remember.

At the Little League parks in Snyder, Texas, I chased down foul balls for snow cones. My brother was my hero, the biggest kid on the diamond and was unusually kind because he actually let me play with him and his friends-those classic sandlot games at East Elementary after school and in the summer. I stepped in his shadow to every ballpark he played all the way to college

He loved the New York Yankees, so of course, I did, too. Growing up, we had all the trading cards. Imagine now if I had that Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, and Yogi Berra collec-tion. The El Camino would have a lift kit and pinstripes.

Someone chided me about jumping on the Rangers bandwagon, forsaking my beloved Yankees. Unfair. I have two daughters. I am quite capable of loving them equally, but it is impossible to love them the same. They are two different people. It's just as true of the boys in red, white, and blue and the boys from the Bronx.

I have more Rangers' ticket stubs (since 1972 when they came to Arlington) than I do of the Yankees. And trust me, the Yankees have broken my heart more times than I care to admit. Quite frankly, they were terrible in the mid-60s until the late 70s when I read their box scores in the Abilene-Reporter News every spring, summer, and fall day. But I kept loving them and having my heart broken. Finally, on a magical October night in 1976 first baseman Chris Chambliss hit a line drive/walk off homerun over the right field fence in Yankee Stadium to win Game 5 of the ACLS over the Kansas City Royals. I was in college, rushed to the phone booth in the dorm hallway to call my brother who also loved the Yankees, and we just cheered our way around the bases with Chambliss. The Yankees' long drought ended. They made it to the World Series (where they would lose four straight games to the Cincinnati Reds)

Over the course of the next three decades, there would be more long droughts followed by some memorable winning seasons, including the World Series win in 2009. The point is this: our Texas team has given us reason to get up in the morning and read the paper. Of course today, we have phone apps that provide immediate updates, but the concept is the same. When Nolan Ryan bought this team, his presence as a Texan and as a winner (which encompasses more than just statistics) has given casual fans a reason to take note. I've heard more people talking baseball in the past year (since the Rangers first went to the World Series in 2010) than ever simply because they enjoy watching this team put together by a legend in his own right.

So from a seasoned baseball junkie, a word of wisdom: don't quit on the Rangers. Some-thing special is taking place that the team will build on. A fan base to rival that of any baseball market has the potential to explode—look what the Dallas Cowboys have done in the same geographical area without having been to a Super Bowl in 15 years.

If you have never been to the Ballpark in Arlington, get yourself some tickets next spring. Baseball games are family oriented because you can talk, you can eat, you can dance, you can watch the Dot Race and the Texas Legends Race, and you can fall in love very, very easily— right now my crush is on that chubby little catcher Mr. Napoli. The stadium is just beauti-ful—a genuine field of dreams with a Texas flare. The food is good, the ice cream even better, and the baseball has been fun to watch.

I am not worried about the Rangers taking another piece of our hearts-they will give it back someday. World Series 2012 would be just fine with me.

USDA Texas Farm Service outside a disaster county are eligible for SURE benefits if Agency (FSA) Acting Executive Director James B. Douglass recently announced that the Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments (SURE) program enrollment for 2010 crop year losses begins November 14, 2011.

An updated version of the SURE benefit estimator from the Texas AgriLife Extension service is available for download at http:// www.plainscotton.org. More information is available at southplainsprofit.tamu.edu/.

"Producers across the state experienced several natural disasters during the 2010 crop year that caused hardship and financial losses to many agricultural operations," said Douglass. "The SURE pro-gram provides assistance to producers when disaster strikes, so I strongly encourage producers with 2010 crop losses to contact their local FSA office to learn more about the program," he said.

To qualify for a SURE payment, the producer's operation must be located in a county that was declared a disaster for 2010 and have at least a 10 percent production loss that affects one crop of economic significance. Producers with agricultural operations located they had a production loss greater or equal to 50 percent of the normal production on the farm.

The following counties in the PCG service area received a disaster designation during 2010: Borden, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hockley, Howard, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Moore, Ochiltree, Roberts, Sherman, and Terry

To meet program eligibility requirements, producers must have obtained a policy or plan of insurance for all insurable crops through the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and obtained Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) coverage on non-insurable crops, if available, from FSA. Eligible farmers and ranchers who meet the definition of a socially disadvantaged, limited resource or beginning farmer or rancher do not have to meet this requirement. Forage crops intended for grazing are not eligible for SURE benefits.

For more information on SURE program eligibility requirements contact your local FSA office or visit the website at http://www.fsa.usda.gov/ sure.

Christmas for Our Troops

In 2004, Scott Davis of Mid- miniature Christmas stockland saw a military acquain- ings. A pack of cotton swabs tance of his leave for a tour of in the box contains a message duty in Iraq. Scott decided to from the kids: Keep your ears do something to let the troops know that the folks back home supported them. He formed an organization called CHRIST-MAS FOR OUR TROOPS. He and a few friends got the names and military addresses of five military personnel from the area serving in Iraq and Afghanistan and sent them a box of stuff for Christmas. The contents included a pocket knife, gun cleaning supplies, two books, a magazine, instant hot chocolate, chap stick, candy and other items to make their lives more comfortable. The box also contained original Christmas cards created by children. On top of the items was a crisp two-dollar bill for good luck.

The following year, twentyone boxes were sent to sol-diers, sailors and marines serving in Iraq and Afghanistan. The word spread and by 2006, 248 boxes were sent. The next year the number doubled. Last year the group sent 2,556 boxes. "People really do want to do something good for the troops," says Scott, who ended up in the oil and gas business after studying architecture at the University of Texas. "The organization is all volunteer, with no paid employees. Everything we do is done out of the goodness of people's hearts. We have boxes in several cities where people can put it items. The list of things we send is on our website, christmasforourtroops.org.

This year the group plans to send at least 2,500 boxes to troops. The items are packed into a Priority Mail box onefoot square and five inches deep. "Each box costs about eighty dollars to send, including twelve dollars for postage. This year we'll pay the post office $31,250. I don't like asking people for money but we have to do it to make it work. Contributions come in from all over the US. We may be in West Texas, but to us that means everything from Maine to Hawaii and from Florida to Alaska. One volunteer near Waco knitted more than 2,500 cleaned out so you can hear the bad guys coming."

Scott says the boxes are not mailed to just any soldier, sailor or marine. "We're looking for any military personnel from the US serving in Iraq or Afghanistan at Christmas. We need their APO address. These go to specific individuals. The easiest way to submit names is to do it by emailing our w e b s i t e , Christmasforourtroops.org. If anyone knows a squad leader, send us his name and address and the names of everyone in his squad and we'll send them all a box.

The boxes will be packed this year on December 7th at various places in different cities. "We start at noon and we're through by 6 PM. The troops will get them some ten days later. We have about five hundred people who come and help pack. They pick up an empty box and by the time they get to the end of the line, everything is in the boxes. Then we slap the customs labels on them, tape them up and stack them for the post office to pick up. We have a pretty significant assembly line. Henry Ford would be proud of us. We have people from all ages and walks of life helping Caden Nowlain

8...The BORDEN STAR, Wed., Nov. 2nd, 2011

Luke Burkett (left) and Collin Telchik run in the district Cross Country meet held last Monday in Lamesa. The boys team finished 3rd overall in the meet qualifying them for regionals.

A mountaineer came to town and saw some strange fruit. "What's that?" he asked.

"A tangerine," said the grocer. "Try one."

"Nope," he answered. "I've got some tastes now I can't satisfy. I'm not aimin' to take on more."

Do you have tastes you can't satisfy? Maybe that's because you've rejected the Lord from your life.

Without Him, you're on a road that leads to ever-increasing dissatisfaction, emptiness and frustration. You become a hollow soul, a zero with the edges rubbed off.

There was a poet like that, but he turned to the Lord. He testified, "He satisfieth the longing soul."
