SCHOOL CENSUS

School Census Enumerator, Cates, Makes Report of Scholastics and Also Population and Growth of Spur.

C. F. Cates, who was appointed by the Commissioners' Court to take the Census of the Spur Common School District, has completed his task with the exception of the people who live on the twenty acre blocks adjoining the town. He reports that the district will have two hundred and twenty five or more scholastics for this year.

In making the rounds Mr. Cates also made inquiry as to the number of individuals in each family, and reports that there are one thousand and eighty people here, not counting the single men, old bachelors and widowers. From the information gathered in the rounds he says that he will be perfectly safe in stating that Spur has a population of twelve hundred people at the present time

Mr. Cates also counted the residences in the city and says the count numbered one hundred and eighty fine residences, neat cottages and homes already built. In the enumeration of the residences the temporary "shacks" now occupied by families were not included in the count.

In the business part of the city there are eighty one business houses and more than one hundred concerns doing business.

Considering the fact that Spur was open to the public only six months ago we consider the growth in both building and population will surpass any town ever created in Texas.

On the first day of November the first town lots were sold to the public, and from the very first day the town began to do business in the various lines of merchandise, realty and building with the result to date as above stated.

We have now under construction a forty thousand dollar hotel which is nearing completion, and when it is complete will be one of the finest and most handsome structures in the State of Texas. It is built of brick with stucco finish and staff ornaments and sufficiently large to accommodate the traveling trade for a number of years. The National Bank building now nearing completion will be one of the handsomest business houses west of Dallas and Fort Worth. It is built of white brick with red stone trimmings and ornaments, and on the inside will be handsomely finished and furnished. Other brick and concrete buildings have been finished and now under construction, while a number of other substantial business houses will soon be under construction. The establishment of an electric light plant, ice factory and steam laundry in combination is now assured and actual construction work will be commenced at an early date. Plans and the survey has been made to put in a sewer system within the year, the sewerage being of the latest ceptic system and adequate for the needs of a city of many thousand inhabitants. The artesian well is being sunk and is now to a depth of thirteen hundred and nine feet. One railroad is already here and the Quanah, Acme & Pacific expected to build through here within a few months. The hundred or more business concerns already established and doing business here are amply able to supply the trade territory with every character of merchandise and accommodations of any character. In fact Spur is a first-class town in every respect and is the "Biggest little city and fastest growing town on the American continent."

An election has been ordered for the creation of an independent school district and before another year rolls round we will have a fine school building to care for all scholastics and make the town second to none as an educational center. With the several churches already organized, the moral, high minded, intelligent and hustling class of citizenship already located and the superior advantages of the surrounding country we expect Spur to continue to grow, develop and within a few years become the commercial, educational, industrial and agricultural center of the great West.

RESCUE WORKERS.

A man and woman were here this week representing the Salvation Army, preached on the streets and secured a liberal donation for their cause. It is reported that through this organization 1582 girls were rescued from shame and degradation, and to carry this work on more successfully the army will make yearly rounds for funds from the general public to assist and promote the rescue work. Spur contributes liberally in every good cause as is evidenced in many instances since the town was opened up. Spur and the Spur people are leaders in all things. There are no better people and there is no better country than we have here.

We understand that the Spur Hardware Company intends to put in a business at Post City and that Ed Shelton will remove to that place as manager of the business.

SURVEYORS HERE.

The Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway Surveyors Arrived in Spur This Week.

The crew of surveyors running the line of railway for the Quanah, Acme & Pacific from Quanah and Paducah to Roswell and El Paso, surveyed into Spur this week.

It is reported that the survey was run direct from Paducah through the Tongue River ranch, the Croton Flats and on into Spur, leaving Dickens about three miles to the west of the line.

We have never entertained a doubt but that Spur would secure this line of railway, and should it follow the line surveyed it is said that it will run through the finest belt of country in Western Texas, and the probability is that numerous towns will be established along the route to accommodate the people as the country develops.

The Quanah, Acme & Pacific will not only give us connection with markets of the country, but will give seekers of agricultural lands and farm homes an opportunity to get in here and will result in the more rapid development of the country as a whole. Covering as it does a rich scope of country from the beginning to the end of the proposed line, the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway will be a paying proposition from the very beginning of its operations and within a few years it will become one of the most important lines of railway in the whole country.

During the past twenty-five years it has been continuously demonstrated that this section of country is a superior farming country, but its development along the line has been retarded on account of large ranch holdings and the lack of railroad facilities and accommodations. However, the few farmers who settled here years ago, endured the privations and hardships of the nester and staid with the country are now prosperous and independent and in a position to enjoy life in the future. Former methods and environments are changing, the large ranches are being cut up and sold to the farmer and farming interests, railroads are coming, towns are building and the country is now in a position to offer superior advantages and inducements to the home builder and farmer, the business man and mechanic and the various institutions, mills and factories that go to complete and make a country prosperous and a people contented and happy. It is a question of only a few years until this country will be densely populated, and among the richest and most desirable agricultural sections of any state. The richness of the soil, the seasons, the coming of railways, the demand for farming lands and the desire for homes, contentment and prosperity justifies the statement that within a short period of time the great Western country and Plains of Texas will become the most densely populated, most desirable and inhabited by the most powerful people intellectually and financially of any country on the face of the earth.

To the industrious and honest homeseeker of other sections we would say "Come West", you need the country, and incidentally the country needs you.

FINE CONCRETE WORK.

Our attention was called this week to the cellar built by Mr. Murray for Uncle Tom Harkey at his new home in the city. The cellar is arched overhead and handsomely finished up on the inside and out side, being built entirely of concrete. It is a fine piece of work and Mr. Murray deserves commendation for his skill in the concrete business. Concrete is all right for building purposes and will stand the test, but it takes a man who understands the business to make it satisfactory.

MARRIED.

Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. Alvin Bilberry, near Gilpin, John Carlisle and Miss Lois Henry were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. J. V. Bilberry performing the ceremony.

The ceremony was witnessed only by a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle left for Spur accompanied by a few friends.

Both parties are well known in the Gilpin settlement, and their many friends wish them a long happy wedded life.

TO THE PUBLIC.

It is reported for some reason that the Southwestern has tried to buy us out. This is a mistake. They have never said a word to us, and furthermore, we wrote the manager that we would sell to him, and he wrote us that we did not have anything he wanted to buy. Even if they did offer to buy us out, that is no reason for us to have to sell, is it?

FINE RAINS COME.

The Spur Country is Now in Fine Shape and Prospects Most Promising For Bumper Crops of All Kinds.

Friday and Saturday of last week and again Tuesday night and Wednesday of this week, Spur and the Spur country was visited by successive ground-soaking rains, and as a result no country was ever in better shape and had more promising prospects for bumper crops of every character.

The new-comer and the staid Eastern man can no longer doubt that the Western country is an ideal farming section and that the rain here is sufficient for the growing of all kinds of farm, garden and fruit products.

The soil of this country is rich and varied and will grow any character of fruit, grain, garden truck and all staple products of the south. The rain fall in this section averages more than twenty-two inches each year and with the proper cultivation and conservation of moisture no country will surpass the Spur farm lands in varied and abundant production of any character of produce. Such statements are not pipe-dreams nor fake ideas of speculators, but are facts demonstrated by farmers in a rough-shod, unsystematic manner under adverse circumstances.

During the twenty-five years since farming in a small way was first attempted in this section, more than a bale of cotton has been picked from one acre of land, seventy-five bushels of oats and forty to sixty bushels of corn to the acre has been harvested, while maize, kaffir corn and other feed stuff will produce in great abundance.

This country, as has other new countries, may have its drouths and other calamities, hardships and privations, but take it all around and one year with another we believe that it has no superior on the map of Texas. It will produce the stuff, prosper the man who comes and stays with it and in the years to come will be recognized by the universe as a superior agricultural and commercial power in the land.

FARMING LECTURE.

Mr. Campbell, The Experimental Farming Expert Delivers Lecture to Farmers Of Spur Country

Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock a large representative audience of the farmers and men interested in the agricultural progress and prosperity of this section of country gathered at the opera house in the city to hear the lecture on farming delivered by Mr. Campbell, known as the most successful dry farming expert of the country.

The speaker was introduced to the audience by Chas. A. Jones, and during the hour or more in which he talked the hearers were most attentive and were given a clear idea of the methods of culture and conservation of moisture as adopted and practiced by Mr. Campbell during his actual experiments of the past fifteen or twenty years.

Mr. Campbell's system as we understood it is most simple and could be followed most conveniently by every farmer in this country.

In breaking land Mr. Campbell said that it should be done in the winter or at any time when the season warranted, the earlier the better. He advised the use of the double disc harrow put deep in the ground for the first breaking, and in sod land to go over the ground twice. Immediately after the breaking a heavy roller or packer should be used to pack the dirt firmly to the hard land underneath, and this packing to be followed at once with the harrow set to run two and a half or three inches deep, thus leaving a loose top surface to preserve and retain all moisture in the ground. In this manner he says he has seen the land retain sufficient moisture to bring up plantings after eight months without a drop of rain. The idea as conveyed to us was to turn your dirt when the proper season is in the ground regardless of the time of year, pack the dirt firmly again and then keep the top surface of two or three inches loose by means of a harrow after each rain, not allowing the ground to bake at any time, and in doing so the ground retains all moisture and is ready for planting at the proper time regardless of whether or not it rains.

We surmised from the talk of Mr. Campbell that his farming experience was principally with grain, but he stated that the same methods could be applied to the culture of cotton, corn and all other products with the result that the yield would be increased from three to four times the amount from the common methods practiced here at this time. He gave instances where a comparison had been made of fields prepared and cultivated by his method and the methods as generally practiced, and which was conclusive that the Campbell methods were a paying proposition.

With the amount of rainfall in this country in connection with the success of the Campbell system of farming, there need be no fear or doubt but that this Western country is destined at an early date to become one of the foremost agricultural sections of America. The day has already come when crude methods are becoming a thing of the past and the man of scientific and practical methods is making good in agricultural pursuits as well as mechanical and other lines.

This country has plenty rain, but the trouble is that it don't rain every time at the appointed time, and if by some system the moisture can be preserved and retained for a period of six or eight months, the absolute success of this country as an agricultural section is inevitable and never failing crop yields is assured beyond a doubt. Give the moisture conservation plan serious consideration and a fair trial and we are sure that you will lose nothing if you fail to triple or quadruple the harvests of the country.

STATE EXPERIMENTAL FARM STATION AT SPUR

Recognizing the great possibilities and wonderful future of Spur Farm Lands, the state is now operating an Experimental Farm Station at Spur. This will be a great benefit to the settlers in this region, showing them by actual demonstrations on the lands what crops can be most profitably raised; best methods of cultivation, and assisting in all the problems of the farm. This decision was reached after a visit to the land by George Ed. R. Kone, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Dr. H. H. Harrington, Director of Experimental Stations, who recognized the unusual farming value.

To the first comers, ready to develop, we are willing to sell one-half our holdings of 673 square miles on easy terms and reasonable prices. We reserve the other half for big increase sure to come with development. We stand shoulder to shoulder with the homeseeker. Cotton, no boll weevil, corn, alfalfa, all feed stuffs, grains, fruits, melons, vegetables. Great hog country—no cholera ever known. The hog farmer is king, and nowhere can hogs be matured so cheaply. Quick run to Fort Worth market. Delightful, healthful climate—altitude 2000 to 2,500. The great extent and variety of land insure the homeseeker such range of selection that the man early on the ground can find exactly what he wants. TAP TELLINGS.

The conditions of the weather the last week has been favorable for the farmer and the good work has been going on among the good looking people here. Some sod land is reported in fine shape and the acreage of tillable land put into cultivation this year will be much increased. Sam McKay of the lower settlement has been breaking sod land for John Luce of Tap. Mr. Luce is opening quite a farm just south of the store in one of the finest valleys of Texas. Mr. McKay is a first class agriculturist, having served an apprenticeship in New Mexico and Texas. Walter Copeland visited our boarding place Tuesday evening and thoroughly discussed cotton planting in our varied climatic region. We were pleased with Mr. Copeland's conversation as he dealt with the subject in a grotesque, yet congruous manner.

Fount Harrell and John Sparks are organizing a troupe. Their first performance will be at the Red Mud Literary Society Friday night when they will render the comedy, "A Quiet Evening at Home." Sherdid Smith and Orwin Lambert will act as endmen. Success to you gentlemen.

E. E. Turner, Sam Smith, Jeff Smith, P. Hinson, Grandpa Sparks and Ed. Fuquay all our best looking men had business at our county capital this week. All report a splendid time and obliging officials at the little city by the hillside.

The boys tell it on Jeffy Smith that he brought his two dollars home to show sister Smith he actually had money.

P. Hinson brought from Spur his last trip an excellent one horse buggy preparatory to begin carrying the Spur-Tap mail as he has the contract to begin when E. E. Turner's contract between Dickens city and Tap expires.

Tom McArthur, accompanied by Miss Minnie Smith, went to the closing exercises of Miss Emma Buchanan's school in Garza county last week. They report a splendid time with quite a crowd at the picnic on Saturday. Tom says he expects the result of his trip to launch his boat upon the matrimonial sea.

J. A. Murchison, an old time Taylor county boy, a good looking man and a prominent candidate for Tax Assessor of Dickens county camped with us Thursday night. Mr. Murchison has a pleasant smile and a warm hand-shake for all man kind.

Messrs. Sparks and Smith have invented a rat destroying phenomena. They claim they can exterminate the fraction of one hundred rats per hour. Jeffy holds the rat by the tail while John pours soot in its eyes, thereby causing its death. They have the thanks of the community for their vermin destructive apparatus.

Eldrige McClain of Kent county was among the pleasant visitors at Tap last Wednesday evening. He was enjoying himself hugely talking to the best looking lady of the Tap community. When interrogated by this writer he said he thought there was plenty of moisture in the earth for planting. Eldrige you better look out for G. S. G. he is after your matrimonial scalp.

Grandma Sparks visited two days this week with her son, Seaborn Lambert, which was quite a treat to her since she stays very close on account of asthma.

Mrs. Bud Martin is the best horticulturist in this vicinity. Her garden on the hillside near Tap is kept in excellent condition and the edibles growing therein are delicious. This writer has accepted an invitation for himself and ye editor to dine with her in the near future. Be on hand Sunday week Mr. Editor and I assure you we will receive a treat.

Our Literary Friday night did not materialize on account of the splendid rain which we had. The people were highly entertained by Mrs. Mary Sparks, organist and Sam McKay violinist. They rendered some fine music to the enjoyment of the crowd.

Miss Marrow Wilson, daughter of surveyor Wilson of north of Dickens city is visiting Mrs. McNeace. Miss Wilson attended prayer meeting Sunday

J. A. ASKINS.

It again becomes our duty to chronicle the death of another one of the pioneer settlers of the county. One by one these old settlers are passing out.

Mr. Askins was four score years and three months old at the time of his death. He was one of the first settlers of Dickens county, and the first resident of the town was preempted by him.

After a lingering illness of several months J. A. Askins passed away at the home of his son-in-law, Ben F. Brock, Wednesday evening, and his remains were laid to rest in the Dickens cemetery Thursday evening at 3 o'clock. His remains were followed to the cemetery by a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives, and upon reaching the grave that had been prepared for the interment, an interesting sermon of warning to his survivors was delivered by Rev. W. A. Wilson, after which the body was consigned to its last resting place.

In his death Mr. Askins leaves an aged wife and several sons and daughters and a number of grand children and great grand children to mourn his death.

The Item deeply sympathizes with the bereaved ones in this sad hour, but the only comfort we can give is to point them to the great Comforter, who said in his Beatitudes, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."—Dickens Item.

Good wagon and buggy for sale or will trade for young stock. C. C. Haile at the Spur Hotel. You can always get a good square meal every day in the week at the Spur Hotel.

J. Carlisle was here Saturday from his home near Gilpin to hear the farming lecture. Mr. Carlisle is one of the oldest settlers in this country and is one of the most prosperous citizens and successful farmers.

J. Ubben, a prominent citizen of Royston, passed through Spur Saturday on his way to Lubbock on business.

W. A. Johnson came in Saturday from his Dockum Stock Farm three miles northwest of town, and was one among the many to attend the farming lecture by Mr. Campbell at the opera house.

J. J. Martin, who recently moved from Dickens to the Tap settlement, was here Saturday and was the lucky man in the R. R. Morrison Stock Reduction Sale in that he was awarded the best suit of clothes in the house on a ticket of a one dollar purchase of goods. We congratulate Mr. Martin on his fortune and hope to see him in town often to show that new suit.

W. G. Sherrod, cashier of the Spur National Bank, left Saturday to visit friends and relatives at Munday.

A BEAUTIFUL DIAMOND RING

A Gold Watch and Valuable Organ and Other Handsome Presents

GIVEN AWAY

BY CERTAIN BUSINESS FIRMS OF SPUR, TEXAS

A number of the business firms of Spur have interested themselves in giving away, absolutely free, a beautiful Diamond Ring, a Gold Watch, and other valuable presents, The Organ is to be given to the organization receiving the greatest number of votes, the Diamond Ring to the young lady having the largest number of votes at the close and the Gold Watch and other presents to the young lady making the largest gains from time to time, which will be announced as the contest progresses.

The plan is a novel one and at once commends itself to the public, there being no outlay on the part of anyone other than the people who are doing this to stimulate cash trade, and at the same time, bestow valuable gifts that will be permanent advertising for them.

Briefly stated, the plan is this: Each firm that is interested in the contest is provided with voting tickets, and for every ten cents' worth of goods purchased or work done issues a ticket entitling the holder to one vote. The ticket can be voted for the church, school, lodge or club, or individual of the purchasers' preference.

A 10 cent purchase entitles to one vote, 20 cents to two votes, $1 to ten votes, $5 to fifty votes, and so on. Tickets can be had only from the firms who have secured an interest in the contest and on cash purchases; the number of votes on each ticket should be marked with ink or indelible pencil.

No charge whatever is made for tickets. You vote free for the organization and individual of your choice on each ticket. Each week the vote will be counted and the standing of the contestants announced in the Texas Spur. A disinterested committee will be selected to count the votes. The closing date of the contest will be announced later.

The following firms will supply tickets free of charge, on lines of goods indicated, and will take pleasure in explaining all about the contest.
