SPUR COUNTRY WILL GROW FINE PERSIMMONS

That the Spur country will grow anything any other country will, and in as great abundance, is being demonstrated in many instances every year. This week Lucien Haile, of the Afton country, brought to this office a number of big, fine, ripe persimmons grown on his farm near Afton.

These persimmons were at least one inch through and tasted as good as those growing in the Mississippi Bottom. Mr. Haile said that a number of years ago the children were eating some persimmons brought here from back East, and were informed by Mrs. Haile that if they would plant the seed they would have persimmons growing within a few years. The children planted the seed with the result that they now have twenty-five trees about twelve feet high, four or five of which are now bearing fruit.

There is no question but that this country will grow fruit of every kind in great variety and abundance, and after this country becomes more fully settled and developed it will be generally recognized as among the most productive and richest sections of America.

DRESSING UP

J. A. Neighbors was in the city Saturday from the Steel Hill community. Mr. Neighbors now has a more satisfied and contented appearance, and from his conversation and general bearing he has decided to defer his move to California. In crop production another year the Spur country will eclipse all former bumper crop records. Stay with the country—plow early and deep and next fall harvest a bale of cotton to the acre and all other crops in proportion. California nor any other country can hold a candle light to the Spur country when she puts on her Sunday clothes—and she is now dressing up.

CAPABLE BUSINESS MAN

Chas. A. Jones returned Saturday from Freeport where he has been several weeks looking after the Swenson interests at that place. Mr. Jones will continue to manage the business at that place and also at Spur, making trips from place to place. Chas. A. Jones is one of the most capable business men in the state today, and although he is not in politics, we would like to see just such a man elected governor of Texas. Who knows but this may happen four years from now.

A BIG FARMER

R. R. Johns was in the city Monday from his farm home a mile or two north of Spur. Mr. Johns is one of the big farmers of the country, and he was wearing a smile at the promising conditions at this time for bumper crops another year. We would almost stake our reputation for truth and veracity on the proposition that the Spur country will make a bale of cotton to the acre another year.

ADVERTISEMENTS AS SALESMEN.

Your advertisement is just as much a salesman as any clerk you employ or as you are yourself. But the salesman can talk and show goods only to the possible customer who enters your store. The advertisement talks to possible customers in their homes.

Let your advertisements use the arguments that a good salesman would use. Let them talk frankly and honestly about the quality of the goods and the price. Don't let them say any more—or any less—than you would want a clerk to say yourself.

There is a demand for cheap goods. The cheap, unpolished kitchen table has its place in human life the same as solid mahogany. There are uses to which a cheap quality of calico can be put for which the best broadcloth would be unsatisfactory.

The man who has only a dime to spend can't buy the dollar article. All he wants is something for his ten cents that is worth ten cents. Convince him that you will give him the worth of his money and you get his trade.

BUILDING, AND MAKING SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENTS

During the past several weeks carpenters have been engaged in the construction of a new office building on the Experimental Farm, building additions to other houses on the place and making other material and substantial improvements for the convenience of employees and the advancement of the general interests of the experimental farm work.

The Spur Experimental Farm Station is gradually but surely becoming an ideal farm and is becoming more generally and widely recognized as a factor in not only experimental farm work but in advancing the general farming interests of this section.

A NEW DRUG STORE

Mr. Stafford and wife returned the latter part of last week and are now visiting at the home of his brother, Bill Stafford and family. We understand that Mr. Stafford is making arrangements to open up a new drug store in Spur at an early date, the business to be conducted in the Standifer building. Mr. Stafford is an experienced druggist and capable business man. We welcome he and his family as citizens of this section.

MOVE TO JAYTON

Mr. Hearne and family moved the first of the week to Jayton where Mr. Hearne will assume the management of the Brazelton-Pryor lumber business at that place. During the past year he has been with the Brazelton-Pryor Company of Spur, and being a carpenter and contractor Mr. Hearne is recognized as an expert lumber man and accountant. We congratulate Mr. Hearne on his promotion and also congratulate the company on securing his services in the capacity of manager of their business in Jayton.

FEMININE CURIOSITY.

"We are looking back to see if they are looking back to see, if we are looking back to see if they are looking back at us."

Si Holler says he is going to buy a new thermometer in February, as they will be low then. But don't be like Si, buy your winter goods now while they are low for by February they will all be gone. Say! was you ever in our fix? We need money and notwithstanding the fact we are giving votes with every purchase and collection, we are also giving prices on merchandise, many of them so low you would not believe us if we would tell you that profits had been lost sight of in our efforts to reduce our stock and raise money. Now is the peoples opportunity to make your Dollars Elastic. Spend them with us and they will stretch around all the goods you need for the winter.

Who said rain? Gee, we believe a sandstorm would make us feel more at home now, but the rain means better things in the future, and if our friends will do their best for us now by paying their accounts and spending their cash with us we will be in position to help them next year, so let us all stand together for our mutual good; and town and country will prosper together when the golden harvest of 1914 has been garnered. The Contest Grows Warmer and next week we will put a third prize in for the Contestant who comes out third in the race. This is more than we promised at first but we want the Contestants to be glad they are in the contest. Watch for the specials Saturday of this week. They count; one man bought 48 neckties last Saturday because we were giving 100 votes special with each tie; if your Contestant wins first, second or third prize it will take effort on your part. Next week The Texas Spur has contracted with us to give 500 votes with each cash subscription for one year. Now this will absolutely be for one week only.

We are not telling you this week what the third prize will be—something any contestant will appreciate.

Wire! Wire!! Wire!!! We have it: Baker Perfect and the price is low now. Come on and load your wagons quick for wire will be higher in the spring. Nails, Staples, Windmills, Piping, Buggies, Wagons and Shelf Hardware. Now if it is something you need to give a friend for Xmas, you can find it in our Hardware Department.

Don't forget our Furs. They must be sold between now and Christmas and we will make a price to suit your purse. All we ask is a look.

Watch for the Specials Saturday. Come and hear the sweet toned piano. Music every Saturday evening 'till contest closes.

Ladies Suits $3.75 and up this week. All Childrens and Ladies Coats must be closed out. Our stock is getting low but what we have is good clean stock and you can get real bargains as we are not going to carry over any Ladies Ready-to-wear goods.—Bryant-Link Co.

THRESHING PEANUTS.

J. C. Cooper was in Spur Monday from Tap and spent several hours here on business. He reports that he has about completed threshing five hundred bushels of peanuts grown this year on his place. Peanut growers of this section should not forget the proposition that if they will agree to plant twenty-five hundred acres in the Spur country this year that we can secure a peanut factory for Spur. Ed Hulse has an agreement and we have one at the Texas Spur office which any farmers interested can sign at any time. This means much to the farmers, the town and the country.

EFFECTIVE WORK.

Very effective street work has been done this week on Burlington Avenue. Cinders have been spread over the mud, making an ideal street. We would like to see Burlington Avenue rounded up with gravel from the hill street to the depot. After this is done the cross streets could be graveled as the funds come in. Nothing helps and ads more to a town than good streets and Spur is entitled to the best.

PROSPECTS FOR A BALE OF COTTON TO ACRE.

S. R. Bowman was in Saturday from his farm home three miles north of Spur. We note that Mr. Bowman is now breaking his land preparatory for the 1914 crops, and in our opinion he is doing the proper thing. We now have an abundant season in the ground, and by plowing now the ground will absorb and retain more moisture. We make the prediction now that S. R. Bowman will make a bale of cotton to the acre next year.

GET RICH HERE

Last week we received a letter from E. J. Cowan at Mart, enclosing a dollar for a renewal to the Texas Spur. The Judge extended his best wishes to friends in Spur and says he hopes we will all get rich in Spur City. We have the soil, the season and the right kind of men to produce riches from the soil and we expect to make those eastern people open their eyes to the possibilities and results in this country another year.

COMING BACK

Uncle Wash Robertson, of the Afton country, was in Spur last week and while here handed us another dollar and requested that we no longer send his paper to New Mexico but to change it back to Afton, since he has come back to stay. Uncle Wash is one of the best citizens of the country and one of the most successful farmers and we are glad to welcome him back to this section.

A. E. Reeves returned Sunday from Fort Worth where he spent several days attending the Fat Stock Show and seeing the sights. Reeves says that he had a very nice time, saw many of his old time friends and associates and enjoyed the trip to the full extent.

GROWING EIGHT POUND TURNIPS HERE THIS YEAR

Last week B. F. Crump, of several miles southwest of Spur, brought in some turnips to sell, and among the bunch he exhibited one which weighed eight pounds. These turnips were grown this year on his farm in Garza county and within the Spur trade territory, and are a fair demonstration of the character of produce this country will grow.

The soil of this section is rich and productive, and in the years to come when the people become better acclimated, the country more settled and developed our products will be the marvel of the world. Surely and steadily the Spur country is growing in wealth, increasing in population and influence, and in the years to come will be known and recognized as the Agricultural Empire of America.

VIEWS OIL SITUATION

J. R. Rhone returned last week from Moran where he spent several days looking over the oil situation. He says workmen are drilling in the town and the probability is that the town will be moved to another location to give the drillers room for their operations.

ENTERTAIN CLASS.

Mrs. Oscar Jackson entertained her Sunday School class Thursday of last week at her home in the city.

Those present were little Misses Hornia Burgoon, Lottie Fite, Bettie Holman, Counts, M. Fox, McMahan and Norma Jackson. Refreshments were served, various games played and the occasion highly enjoyed.

IDEAL CROP PROSPECTS

Lee Carpenter, a prominent citizen of the Spur country, was in the city Saturday and while here was a pleasant caller at the Texas Spur office. He reports that the rains of last week placed the roads in bad condition for travel, but contributed further to one of the best seasons this country has had in years. Everything now indicates that this section will make bumper crops another year. Come to the Spur country.

THE VERY FINEST PROSPECTS.

W. F. Shugart, of several miles east of Spur, called in the latter part of last week and planked down a dollar and six bits for a renewal subscription to the Texas Spur and Dallas News in combination, and for which he has our thanks. Mr. Shugart is not only a good citizen, but a successful and prosperous farmer. He always wears a smile and has the money.

GOES TO CLAIREMONT

E. Long, who has been making boots at the Kellar Saddle Shop during the past several months, moved last week to Clairemont where he will establish his boot-making business. Mr. Long is recognized as one of the best workmen of his line and no doubt he will enjoy an extensive business in his new location.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try This! Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Adv.

Nothing Beyond the Milky Way but Empty Space

WASHINGTON.—The boundaries of the universe have been discovered, according to a report received at the National Observatory from Prof. R. T. A. Innes, director of the Union Observatory at Johannesburg, South Africa. The announcement is regarded with interest by astronomers all over the world.

The universe, Prof. Innes asserts, is contained within the space girdled by the Milky Way, and he figures that the most distant star in that wonderful girdle is 540 light years distant from the earth. Inasmuch as the planetary system, of which the earth is a member, is commonly supposed by astronomers to be close to the centers of the arena embraced within the Milky Way, and inasmuch as light travels 186,000 miles a second, or over five and three-quarters quadril-lion miles a year, the diameter of the universe, by Prof. Innes's calculation is 6,334,951,000,000 miles. This is the distance light would travel in 1,080 years. A ray of light takes sixteen minutes and thirty-six seconds to traverse the diameter of the earth's orbit.

The so-called "hellum stars," the Johannesburg astronomer avers, are the most distant of all stars from the earth. The hellum stars are peculiar to the Milky Way.

Is there anything outside the universe? On this point Prof. Innes does not venture a positive opinion, but he says that the most powerful telescopes penetrate far into space, beyond the boundaries of the universe—revealing nothing. In particular, he says, there is absolutely no sign of other universe of similarly constituted systems.

The number of stars, according to Prof. Innes, is limited, falling far short of the number of people on the earth. He estimates the mass of the universe as equal to 441,000 times the mass of the sun. That is to say, the combined mass of all the globes, big and little, in the universe is as heavy as 441,000 suns.

Popcorn Can Be Profitably Raised on the Farm

THIRTY dollars' worth of popped corn in the form of 5-cent packages for the market represents an outlay of only about $1 or $1.50 for raw material, according to a farmers' bulletin (No. 553) just issued by the department of agriculture, entitled "Popcorn for the Home." Sufficient popcorn to make $30 worth of 5-cent packages can be grown on a piece of land 40 feet long and 20 feet wide.

Dealers who put up popcorn in 10-cent packages for the retail trade usually have a number of good recipes printed on the outside of the package. Some recipes for popcorn confections that have given good results are the following:

Chocolate Popcorn—Two teacupfuls of white sugar, two ounces of chocolate, one-half cup of corn sirup, one cup of water.

Put these ingredients into a kettle and cook them until the sirup hardens, when put in cold water. Pour over four quarts of crisp, freshly popped corn and stir well to insure the uniform coating of the kernels.

Sugared Popcorn—Make a sirup by boiling together two teacupfuls of granulated sugar and one teacup of water. Boil until the sirup strings from the spoon or hardens when dropped into cold water. Pour over six quarts of freshly popped corn and stir well.

Popcorn Balls—One pint of sirup, one pint of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of vinegar.

Cook till the sirup hardens when dropped into cold water. Remove to back of stove and add one-half teacupful of soda dissolved in a table-spoonful of hot water and then pour the hot sirup over four quarts of freshly popped corn, stirring till each kernel is well coated, when it can be molded into balls or into any desired form.

Labor Department Clerks Have to Do Real Work

CLERKS of the department of labor are nursing blisters and calloused spots on hands and knees, and the new quarters of the latest executive department of the government smells of arnica and healing ointments. Moving day for the department came around, and, as the appropriation for moving covered only the transfer of the furniture from the old quarters to the new, the clerks were pressed into service to rearrange the desks and filling cabinets and other paraphernalia.

"Oh, it was fun," said Chief Clerk Watson, displaying difficulty in making his stiffened fingers grasp a pen and wincing when he attempted to get out of his swivel chair. "The work had to be done, anyway, and the clerks were the only available persons to do it. It's all in a lifetime, and don't we belong to the department of labor? And I believe we made good."

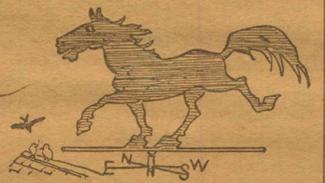

The ordeal continued several days and although the department of commerce had loaned all of its available laborers, charwomen and messengers to the fitting laborites, the muscle-weary clerks had to lend their assistance.

The work of the department of labor is dropping behind as a result of the exodus.

Gilded Horse on Weather Vane Not Yet Extinct

THE gilded horse that once trotted, galloped, pranced and dazzled on the weather vanes above many of the stables of Washington has become rare, but he is not extinct. He may be tarnished, but he still holds up his head and tail. He is not so forlorn looking as most of his brother and sister horses in the streets. The writer early in the spring wrote an honorable mention of a gilt horse on a weather vane on a stable converted into a garage on Columbia road near 18th street. That horse is still there and he still seems unconscious that his neighing, nickering and champing mates below have gone and that a machine creaks and snorts where they lived.

If you are walking along G street between 6th and 7th and will look toward the northern sky you may see high up, always heading into the wind, another gilded horse with flowing mane and upfitted tail, and probably distended nostrils, though his position is too far up in the air to determine that point without field glasses. He is trotting on a gilt horizontal bar and seems to be striking at least a 2.20 gait. He is well extended. He seems to be about to win. No other horse is near him. He wears no harness. No sulky or driver is behind him.

He is a bold, proud-looking horse and it is refreshing for horsemen to look up and see one of their four-footed friends who has not the dejected mien which so many horses in the streets wear. It is a pleasure to them to contemplate this horse, even if he is a gilt horse.

HOT SPRINGS, ARKANSAS, DISCOVERS GREAT TONIC, CONSTIPATION REMEDY

Visitors Home from World's Great Health Resort Say Constipation, Headache and Poor Digestion will Bother Us No More, and Calomel is Unnecessary.

The liver is the straight road to health. If your liver is right, you are right. Everybody's liver goes bad once in a while; gets lazy or stubborn or sick or clogged up.

Whenever your liver rebels, don't take a horsewhip to it in the form of Calomel or violent purgatives or even harsh cathartics. Such treatment is sure to result in much damage.

It's easy to coax your liver to do its duty by using HOT SPRINGS LIVER BUTTONS, a remedy that firmly but gently compels it to do what nature intended it should.

Doctor's Treat.
"I tell ye, the new doctor that's just moved to Torpidville is an uppy date feller!" declared honest Farmer Hornbeak, upon his return from the nearby village. "You know, whenever a new establishment starts up it is customary for 'em to hold a sort of a grand opening and distribute soovy-neers. Well, this doctor, he held a reception in his new office this afternoon, and gave everybody that attended a dose o' pills."—Portland Spectator.

Telepathy.
"Telepathy" is an instance of a new-fangled word for an old thing. Bacon called it "sympathy" between two distant minds, Izaak Walton similarly explained Dr. Donne's vision in Paris of his wife and dead child, observing that "if two lutes are strung to an exact harmony, and one is struck, the other sounds." Scotch highlanders, who would have been puzzled by the word "telepathy," have long been familiar with the idea for which it stands. Andrew Lang quoted the case of a poor highland woman who wrote to her son in Glasgow: "Don't be thinking too much of us, or I shall be seeing you some evening in the byre."

My father once had a curious telepathic experience. He was dressing in his bedroom one morning when he suddenly saw the face of a Scotch servant girl contorted with agony, in the looking glass before him. He went downstairs to the kitchen and found the girl writhing in a fit upon the floor, her face exactly as he had seen it in the mirror.

WORKS ALL DAY
And Studies at Night on Grape-Nuts Food.

Some of the world's great men have worked during the day and studied evenings to fit themselves for greater things. But it requires a good constitution generally to do this. A Ga. man was able to keep it up with ease after he had learned the sustaining power of Grape-Nuts, although he had failed in health before he changed his food supply. He says: "Three years ago I had a severe attack of stomach trouble which left me unable to eat anything but bread and water.

"The nervous strain at my office from 6 A. M. to 6 P. M. and improper foods caused my health to fall rapidly. Cereal and so-called 'Foods' were tried without benefit until I saw Grape-Nuts mentioned in the paper. "In hopeless desperation I tried this food and at once gained strength, flesh and appetite. I am now able to work all day at the office and study at night, without the nervous exhaustion that was usual before I tried Grape-Nuts.

"It leaves me strengthened, refreshed, satisfied; nerves quieted and toned up, body and brain waste restored. I would have been a living skeleton, or more likely a dead one by this time, if it had not been for Grape-Nuts."

A sharp-tongued married woman who had been openly commiserating an elderly spinster on her loveless state went on to talk volubly about her husband's health.

"Poor man, he has been a great sufferer for fifteen years," she remarked. "I can quite believe that, dear," said the spinster, still smarting under the married woman's sarcastic "sympathy." "Let me see, it is just fifteen years since you married him, is it not?"

"IT SEEMED I WOULD DIE"

Expression Used by Mrs. McGee in Describing the Terrible Agonies She Underwent.

Stephenville, Texas.—"For ten years," says Mrs. Jay McGee, of this place, "I suffered from womanly troubles. I had terrible headaches, pains in my back, etc.

My husband told me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, but I did not think anything would do me any good.

It seemed as though I would die, I suffered so! At last, I consented to try Cardui, and it seemed to help me right away. I was interested, and continued its use.

The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me. It will do the same for all sick or suffering girls or women—both married and unmarried.

I will always praise Cardui, the woman's tonic, highly, for it has been the means of saving my life and giving me good health."

Other women, who suffer as Mrs. McGee did, should profit by her experience, and get relief, as she did, by taking Cardui, the woman's tonic.

For women's pains, for womanly troubles, for nervousness, weakness, etc., its 50 years of splendid success, has proven that Cardui is a good remedy, prompt, reliable and harmless.

Cardui is almost sure to help you and will leave no disagreeable after-effects. Try it.

A ROMANCE OF STRENUOUS AFFECTION

BY REX BEACH

Illustrated by Edgar Bert Smith

COPYRIGHT 1910 BY HARPER & BROTHERS

SYNOPSIS.

Cowboys of the Flying Heart ranch are heartbroken over the loss of their much-prized phonograph by the defeat of their champion in a foot-race with the cook of the Centipede ranch. A house party is on at the Flying Heart. J. Wallingford Speed, cheer leader at Yale, and Culver Covington, inter-collegiate champion runner, are expected. Helen Blake, Speed's sweetheart, becomes interested in the loss of the phonograph.

CHAPTER II.—Continued.

"The Centipede crowd took their defeat badly on Frontier Day, and swore to get even."

"And was Humpy Joe defeated?" asked Helen.

"Was he?" Still Bill shook his head sadly, and sighed for a third time. "It looked like he was running backward, miss."

"But really he was only beaten a foot. It was a wonderful race. I saw it," said Jean. "It made me think of the races at college."

Miss Blake puckered her brows trying to think.

"Joseph," she said. "No, I don't think I have seen him."

Stover's lips met grimly. "I don't reckon you have, miss. Since that race he has been hard to describe. He passed from view hurriedly, so to speak, headed toward the foot-hills, and leaping from crag to crag like the hardy shamrock of the Swiss Alps."

Miss Blake giggled. "What made him hurry so?"

"Us!" Stover gazed at her solemnly. "We ain't none of us been the same since that foot-race. You see, it ain't the financial value of that Echo Phonograph, nor the 'double-cross' that hurts: it's the fact that the mangiest outfit in the Territory has trimmed us out of the one thing that stands for honor and excellence and 'scientific attainment,' as the judge said when we won it. That talking-machine meant more to us than you Eastern folks can understand, I reckon."

"If I were you I would cheer up," said Miss Blake, kindly, and with some importance. "Miss Chapin has a college friend coming this week, and he can win back your trophy."

Stover glanced up at Jean quickly.

"Is that right, Miss Chapin?"

"He can if he will," Jean asserted.

"Can he run?"

"He is the intercollegiate champion,"

"And do you reckon he'd run for us and the Echo Phonograph of New York and Paris, if we framed a race? It's an honor!"

But Miss Chapin recalled her brother's caution of the day before.

"I—I don't think he would. You see, he is an amateur—he might be out of training—"

"The idea!" exclaimed Miss Blake, indignantly. "If Culver won't run, I know who will!" She closed her lips firmly, and turned to the foreman.

"We've Got Another Foot-Runner."

"You tell your friends that we'll see you get your trophy back."

"Helen, I—"

"I mean it!" declared Miss Blake.

Stover bowed loosely. "Thank you, miss. The very thought of it will cheer up the gang. Life 'round here is blacker 'n a spade flush. I think I'll tell Willie." He shambled rapidly off around the house.

"Helen dear, I don't want Culver to get mixed up in this affair," explained Miss Chapin, as soon as they were alone. "It's all utterly foolish. Jack doesn't want him to, either."

"Very well. If Culver doesn't feel that he can beat that cook running, I know who will try. Mr. Speed will do anything I ask. It's a shame the way those men have been treated."

"But Mr. Speed isn't a sprinter."

"Indeed!" Miss Blake bridled. "Perhaps Culver Covington isn't the only athlete in Yale College. I happen to know what I'm talking about."

"I don't think he will consent when he learns the truth."

"I assure you," said Miss Blake, sweetly, "he will be delighted."

CHAPTER III.

It was still early in the afternoon when Jack Chapin and the youthful chaperon found the other young people together on the gallery.

"Here's a telegram from Speed," began Jack.

"It's terribly funny," said Mrs. Keap. "That Mexican brought it to us down at the spring-house."

Miss Blake lost her bored expression, and sat up in the hammock.

"Mr. Jack Chapin," read the owner of the Flying Heart Ranch. "Dear Jack: I couldn't wait for Covington, so meet with brass-band and fireworks this afternoon. Have flowers in bloom in the little park beside the depot, and see that the daistes nod to me.—J. Wallingford Speed."

"Park, eh?" said Fresno, dryly.

"Telegraph office, water-tank, and a cattle-chute. Where does this fellow think he is?"

"Here's a postscript," added Chapin.

"I have a valet who does not seem to enjoy the trip. Divide a kiss among the girls."

"Well, well! He's stingy with his kisses," observed Berkeley. "Who is this humorous party?"

"He was a Freshman at Yale the year I graduated," explained Jack.

"Too bad he never got out of that class." It was evident that Mr. Speed's levity made no impression upon the Glee Club tenor. "He hates to talk about himself, doesn't he?"

"I think he is very clever," said Miss Blake, warmly.

"How well do you know him?"

"Not as well as I'd like to."

Fresno puffed at his little pipe without remarking at this.

"Well, who wants to go and meet him?" queried Jack.

"Won't you?" asked his sister.

"I can't. I've just got word from the Eleven X that I'm wanted. The foreman is hurt. I may not be back for some time."

"Nigger Mike met me," observed Fresno, darkly.

"Then Nigger Mike for Speed," laughed the cattle-man. "I've told Carara to hitch up the pintos for me. I must be going."

"I'll see that you are safely started," said the young widow; and leaving the trio on the gallery, they entered the house.

When they had gone Jean smiled wisely at Helen. "Roberta's such a thoughtful chaperon," she observed, whereupon Miss Blake giggled.

As for Mrs. Keap, she was inquiring of Jack with genuine solicitude:

"Do you really mean that you may be gone for some time?"

"I do. It may be a week; it may be longer; I can't tell until I get over there."

"I'm sorry." Mrs. Keap's face showed some disappointment.

"So am I."

"I shall have to look out for these young people all by myself."

"What a queer little way you have of talking, as if you were years and years old."

"I do feel as if I were. I—I—well, I have had an unhappy experience. You know unhappiness builds months into years."

"When Jean got up this house-party," young Chapin began, absently, "I thought I should be bored to death. But—I haven't been. You know, I don't want to go over there?" He nodded vaguely toward the south.

"I thought perhaps it suited your convenience." His companion watched him gravely. "Are you quite sure that your sister's guests have not—had something to do with this sudden determination?"

"I am quite sure. I never liked the old Flying Heart so much as I do today. I never regretted leaving it so much as I do at this moment."

"We may be gone before you return."

Young Chapin started. "You don't mean that, really?"

Mrs. Keap nodded her dark head.

"It was all very well for me to chaperon Helen on the way out from the east, but—it isn't exactly regular for me to play that part here with other young people to look after."

"But you understand, of course—Jean must have explained to you. Mother was called away suddenly, and she can't get back now. You surely won't leave—you can't." Chapin added, hopefully: "Why, you would break up Jean's party. You see, there's nobody around here to take your place."

"But—"

"Nonsense! This is an unconventional country. What's wrong with you as a chaperon, anyway? Nobody out here even knows what a chaperon is. And I'll be back as soon as I can."

"Do you really think that would help?" Roberta's eyes laughed humorously.

"I'm not thinking of the others, I'm thinking of myself," declared the young man, boldly. "I don't want you to go before I return. You must not! If you go, I—I shall follow you." He grasped her hand impulsively.

"Oh!" exclaimed the chaperon. "This makes it even more impossible. Go! Go!" She pushed him away, her color surging. "Go to your old Eleven X Ranch right away."

"But I mean it," he declared, earnestly. Then, as she retreated farther: "It's no use, I shan't go now until—"

"You have known me less than a week!"

"That is long enough. Roberta—" Mrs. Keap spoke with honest embarrassment. "Listen! Don't you see what a situation this is? If Jean and Helen should ever discover—"

"Jean planned it all; even this."

Mrs. Keap stared at him in horrified silence.

"You do love me, Roberta?" Chapin undertook to remove the girl's hands from her face, when a slight cough in the hall behind caused him to turn suddenly in time to see Berkeley Fresno passing the open door.

"There! You see!" Mrs. Keap's face was tragic. "You see!" She turned and fled, leaving the master of the ranch in the middle of the floor, bewildered, but a bit inclined to be happy. A moment later the plump face of Berkeley Fresno appeared cautiously around the door-jamb. He coughed again gravely.

"I happened to be passing," said he. "You'll pardon me?"

"This is the most thickly settled spot in New Mexico!" Chapin declared with an artificial laugh, choking his indignation.

Fresno slowly brought his round body out from concealment.

"I came in to get a match."

"Why don't you carry matches?"

Fresno puffed complacently upon his pipe. "This," he mused, as his host departed, "eliminates the chaperon, and that helps some."

Still Bill Stover lost no time in breaking the news to the boys.

"There's something comin' off," he advised Willie. "We've got another foot-runner!"

If he had hoped for an outburst ofapture on the part of the little gun man he was disappointed, for Willie shifted his holster, smiled evilly through his glasses, and inquired, with ominous restraint:

"Where is he?"

Being the one man on the Flying Heart who had occasion to wear a gun, Willie seldom smiled from a sense of humor. Here it may be said that, deceived at first by his scholarly appearance, his fellow-laborers had jibed at Willie's affectation of a swinging holster, but the custom had languished abruptly. When it became known who he was, the other ranch-hands had volubly declared that this was a free country, where a man might exercise a wide discretion in the choice of personal adornment; and as for them, they avowed unanimously that the practice of packing a Colts was one which met with their most cordial approbation. In time Willie's six-shooter had become accepted as a part of the local scenery, and, like the scenery, no one thought of remarking upon it, least of all those who best knew his lack of humor. He had come to them out of the Nowhere, some four years previously, and while he never spoke of himself, and discouraged reminiscence in others, it became known through those vague uncharted channels by which news travels on the frontier, that back in the Texas Panhandle there was a limping marshal who felt regrets at mention of his name, and that farther north were other men who had a superstitious dread of undersized cowmen with spectacles.

"This here is a real foot-runner," said Stover.

"Exactly," agreed the other. "Where is he?"

"He'll be here this afternoon. Nigger Mike's bringin' him over from the railroad. He's a guest."

"Oh!"

"Yep! He's intercollegit champeen of Yale."

"Yale?" repeated the near-sighted man. "Don't know's I ever been there. Much of a town?"

"I ain't never traveled east myself, but Miss Jean and the little yaller-haired girl say he's the fastest man in the world. I figgered we might rib up something with the Centipede."

Still Bill winked sagely.

"See here, do you reckon he'd run?"

"Sure! He's a friend of the boss. And he'll run on the level too. He can't be nothin' like Humpy."

"If he is, I'll git him," said the cowboy. "Oh, I'll git him sure, guest or no guest. But how about the phonograph?"

"The Centipede will put it up quick enough; there ain't no sentiment in that outfit."

"Then, it sounds good."

"An' it'll work. Gallagher's anxious to trim us again. Some folks can't stand prosperity."

Willie spat unerringly at a grasshopper. "Lord!" said he, "it's too good! It don't sound possible."

"Well, it is, and our man will be here this evenin'. Watch out for Nigger Mike, and when he drives up let's give this party a welcome that'll warm his heart on the jump. There's nothin' like a good impression."

"I'll be on the job," assured Willie. "But I state right here and now, if we do get a race there ain't a-goin' to be no chance of our losin' for a second time."

And Stover went on his way to spread the tidings.

FAMOUS OBELISK IN DANGER

Eminent Engineers and Architects Fear Destruction of One of Rome's Great Monuments.

Several well-known Italian engineers and architects, after examinations of the famous Obelisk of St. Peter, claim that the giant monolith is in such a state, as to its supports, that it may tumble over at any time.

This famous monument that is giving the gentlemen in question so much anxiety is of red granite and 132 feet in height, standing in the center of the piazza of St. Peter's in Rome, and is sometimes referred to as the Obelisk of the Vatican.

It was brought from Heliopolis to Rome by the Emperor Calligula between the years 37-41 A. D. and placed in the Vatican circus. During the pontificate of Sixtus V. this huge stone, estimated to weigh 500 or more tons, was moved on rollers from its original position and placed on its present site.

This great triumph of mechanical skill was accomplished under the superintendence of Domenico Fontana.

The Obelisk of St. Peter enjoys the unique distinction of being the only monument of the kind that has never been overthrown in the many wars and internal disorders that have taken place in the Eternal city.

What Did It Look Like?

A story is being told of a gentleman who was on a motoring tour when his car broke down near a small village. It was late in the evening, so he decided to put up for the night at the only inn the village possessed.

After a rather scrappy supper he was shown up to his bedroom, but soon after the landlord had come downstairs again his guest leaned over the balustrade and called:

"Landlord! Landlord! Do you think I'm going to clean my own boots?"

"What d'ye mean?" grumbled the landlord.

"What have you put a polishing pad on my bed for?" demanded the guest.

"Polishing pad!" he snapped. "That's not a polishing pad! That's the pillow!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Neroli.

Essence of neroli is obtained from a species of orange tree grown in Provence. The trees are grown for their flowers, but are cultivated as are fruit trees. The flowers are picked by hand every two days, in April and May, for high-priced perfume essence. Full-blown flowers are gathered either in linen sheets or in pails. The 24 pounds' weight of flowers gathered by a good workman in one day's work is sent to the distillery in bags. About 1,000 pounds of flowers produce two pounds of essence.

The 1,300 or more producers of neroli, working in co-operation, have vest over 3,000,000 pounds of orange flowers annually.—Harper's Weekly.

The Reading.

When there's a will, there is a way. The proverb says, but take it. It means these days, when there's a will there is a way—to break it.

DIZZY, HEADACHY, SICK, "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

Hoods of the Colleges.

"If you have taken a degree in divinity at Oxford," you are entitled to wear a red hood."

The speaker was Ethelbert Red, the Duluth psychologist. He continued:

"Wearing a red hood myself. I take a natural interest in hood stories. There is one about a man who complained to his bishop that So-and-So, though not of Oxford, was wearing a master's hood."

"And I call it, bishop," said the complainant bitterly, "wearing a lie on his back."

"Oh, don't use so strong a word as that," said the bishop. "Just call it a false hood."

OUCH! PAIN, PAIN, RUB RHEUMATISM

Rub pain right out with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil"

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "fender spot," and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn the skin.

Linger up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" at the store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache and sprains. Adv.

Greatest of Problems.

Living, as we do, from day to day, we do not appreciate the great oscillations of thought, unless some shining moment marks them. Such a moment is marked by Sir Oliver Lodge's address, before the British association, on immortality. Nearly two generations ago, men of science discovered the principle of evolution, and triumphantly proclaimed that material evolution would solve all the problems of the universe. Now at last is coming the swing the other way, and even science is beginning to recognize the vast possibilities of spiritual mystery.—Youth's Companion.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER GRAY HAIR

She Made Up a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to Bring Back Color, Gloss, Thickness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. Wood Cutting Prohibited On Spur Lands!

Notice is Hereby Given That Any Person Who Cuts Wood of Any Kind Whatever From Any of Our Lands Any Where Now or Hereafter will Be Prosecuted to the Fullest Extent of the Law Without Favor or Consideration

IN Some localities in past years, the lands have been shamefully cut over, regardless of our rights, and those of purchasers of land not occupied. Many otherwise honest men, have come to think that what others have done, without a penalty resulting, they can also do, and there is an increasing disposition to appropriate wood wherever it can be found, no matter to whom it belongs. This must and will be stopped. We must protect the people who have already bought Spur Lands, and those who will hereafter buy them, from this wood cutting.

Some people pretend to think there is no objection to it. This is, therefore, public notice that no one has our permission to cut wood of any kind whatever from our lands anywhere, and that prosecution will certainly follow trespassers hereafter without favor.

ENTHUSIASTIC FARMERS' MEETING SATURDAY.

Persuant to a call issued through the press earlier in the week, about twenty enthusiastic farmers met last Saturday in the Woodmen Hall in Spur and organized an association to be known as the Dickens County Agricultural Experiment Station Association. While the association will cooperate with the Spur Experiment Station in solving problems connected with farm work, this is only one of many features which will receive consideration by the Association.

All members present agreed that the farmers of this section should create an organization for the purpose of improving the agricultural conditions and to promote the farmer's social and educational welfare in any way that may be practical. It was pointed out that at regular meetings, an exchange of ideas on various subjects would be profitable; that by cooperation better marketing conditions could be secured; by getting in touch with the experimental station work many things of value could be ascertained. In short, in any matter where the individual might fail to profit, a strong organization would be effective in attaining any end which would be beneficial.

It was decided to have the next meeting on the first Saturday afternoon in January at 2 p. m. when permanent officers will be elected and a permanent meeting place selected. A program of much interest is promised at this meeting and every farmer who possibly can should attend.

The following were elected temporary officers to serve until the next meeting:

President, L. G. Crabtree, Dickens; V. President, J. D. Reagan, Spur; Secretary, E. W. Harrison, Spur. The executive committee of six is composed of the officers and three other members: W. C. Bowman, Will Cherry and I. S. York.

The meeting was attended by the following farmers in this section: L. G. Crabtree, Will Cherry, J. H. Farmer, D. Hargrove, S. L. Cherry, W. C. Bowman, W. H. Teague, I. G. VanLeer, G. A. Willis, W. F. Shugart, H. Campbell, A. J. Wallace, H. E. Grabener, T. M. Cain, B. F. Crump, J. C. Weir, J. D. Reagan, I. S. York, G. J. Stearns and E. W. Harrison.

Following is a copy of the Constitution and By laws adopted by the association:

CONSTITUTION

Article 1.—Name.—This organization shall be known as the Dickens County Agricultural Experiment Station Association.

Article 2.—Object.—The purpose for which this association is organized is to cooperate with the Spur sub-station and the State Experiment Stations Association, in propagating those varieties of plants found to be of economical importance to this section; the breeding of pure varieties of plants, the increase of production by selections of seed and improved cultural methods; the marketing of pure-bred seed; the study of farm problems and farm management work; the promotion of the practice of better methods in all agricultural, horticultural and live stock pursuits; to perfect and establish better methods of marketing, and more systematic and profitable distribution of our products; to conduct on individual farms, cooperative experiments under the direction of the local Experiment Station, for the purpose of solving problems of production; to promote the educational and social welfare of the citizens of our community, and to that end, keep in close touch with the State and National departments of Agriculture. Our aim being to aid and assist each other in the manner above recited, this organization shall not be conducted in the interest of any sect, society, or party, but for the equal good of all members, as well as our general citizenship.

Article 3. Officers.—The officers shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and executive committee of six members to be elected by ballot.

Article 4. Duties of Officers.—The duties of the officers shall be those usually performed by the officers of equal rank in similar associations. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep an accurate record of the minutes and proceedings of the association; to keep a roll of the members of the association, designating their postoffice address, and to file a copy of the roll of membership with the Commissioner of Agriculture at Austin, and with the department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.; also with the Director of Texas Experiment Stations. And the secretary shall report such additions to this membership roll as may, from time to time, be added to it during regular meetings (as the departments of agriculture at Washington and Austin publish valuable books and reports upon items of interest to this membership, and as these publications are for free distribution, it is highly desirable that such reports of bulletin's should be sent regularly to our membership).

Article 5. Term of Office.—The term of office of officers of this association shall be for one year, dating from the organization of the association, or until their successors are elected.

Article 6. Membership.—Any person actively engaged in agricultural, horticultural, or live stock pursuits, or directly interested in the development of these pursuits shall be eligible to membership, upon payment of the annual dues. This is intended to include ladies who are likewise engaged or interested, and the wives and daughters of members. All members shall be entitled to vote.

Article 7. Dues.—The annual dues shall be twenty-five cents (25c), payable annually in advance.

Article 8.—This association shall have power to make by-laws from time, not inconsistent with this constitution.

Article 9. Executive Committee.—There shall be an executive committee consisting of the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer and three other members to be elected annually by ballot, who shall meet at the call of the president, and have charge of all matters of business relating to the association as may not be inconsistent with the objects of the association or in conflict with the constitution.

Article 10.—This constitution shall not be changed except by a two thirds vote of the members at any regular meeting.

BY LAWS

(1) This association shall hold monthly meetings, at such times and places, and continue in session for such time as may be designated by the executive committee.

(2) The president shall appoint as many standing committees as he deems advisable.

(3) Order of Business: Calling association to order by president.

Reading of minutes of preceding meeting by secretary.

Report of standing committees.

New members.

Appointment of committees.

Unfinished business.

New business.

Election of officers.

Adjournment.

(4) These by laws may be amended by a two thirds vote of all the members present at any regular meeting.

S. R. Bowman was in the city Saturday from his farm home north of Spur. Mr. Bowman says he now has a fine season on the ground and is counting on a bumper crop another year. This year he says he made enough feed to run him another year, and his cotton was comparatively good considering everything.

Mr. and Mrs. Hindman, of the Dry Lake community, were in the city Saturday greeting their many friends.

Will Walker, of several miles east of Spur, was in the city Saturday on business and trading with the merchants.

ONLY FLAKY PASTRY

NOTHING ELSE IS FIT FOR HOUSEHOLD TABLE.

Care in Making Pies is Well Repaid in the Enjoyment of the Delicacies—Suggestions That May Be of Value.

Judgment and taste is good in choosing pie for dessert, providing it is the kind of pie which is made from a pure vegetable fat, and good material is put between this vegetable fat pastry.

Every woman who does her cooking should know how to make nice flaky pastry. She can make enough for two or three days and keep it in the refrigerator ready for use at any time.

Pies are not the only desserts which can be made from pastry, and if good, plain paste is once accomplished, then it is only a step higher in making puff paste, which delights any housekeeper when she succeeds in making it light and flaky. It may be used in patty shells, lady locks and turnovers. The plain pastry makes dainty tarts, turnovers, meat patties, fish patties and cases for apple tart pies, lemon and many other pies of like nature.

Cranberry Pie.—Materials—Cranberries, one cup; seeded raisins, half cup; sugar, three-quarters cup; egg, one; flour, one tablespoonful; lemon juice, one tablespoonful.

Directions—Cut the cranberries and raisins in halves before measuring; mix well with all the remaining ingredients and bake between two crusts for a pie or turnovers. They may also be baked in patty pans with fancy twisted strips of the pastry over the top.

Orange Filling for Pies and Tarts.—Materials—Sugar, one cup; orange juice, half cup; flour, three tablespoonfuls; lemon juice, one tablespoonful; butter, one tablespoonful; orange, one; eggs, two; pastry (plain.)

Directions.—Cover an inverted pie pan or patty pans with a good, plain pastry, pricking it well with a fork. Bake a delicate brown. Put the sugar and flour, well mixed, into the double boiler. All the grated rind of the orange, lemon and orange juice, and the eggs lightly beaten. Stir over the fire until it begins to thicken and stir occasionally in the double boiler while it cooks about 15 minutes. Add the butter and cool a little. Fill the baked pastry and cover with a meringue made from the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, and two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar added, and beat again. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla, and bake in a slow oven until the meringue is well puffed and a bright brown. Half of the same filling is fine for layer cakes.—Alice Getchell Kirk in Cleveland Leader.

Hamburg Eggs.

Cream two tablespoonfuls of soft bread crumbs, one tablespoonful butter and a little minced parsley seasoning with salt, paprika and celery salt. Work all to a smooth paste, and with it line small individual patty tins that have been brushed with melted butter; break an egg carefully into each, and after dusting lightly with salt, cover with a mixture of melted butter and brown bread crumbs, cook for six minutes in hot oven. Serve in the pans.

Cheese Fonder.

Buy a quarter pound of grated cheese, eggs, milk and a fresh loaf of bread. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in the chafing dish, and add to it one cup of milk, then stir in a cup of fresh bread crumbs and the grated cheese. Add seasoning of pepper and salt, and cook until smooth. Next put in two beaten eggs and cook three minutes longer. This is served upon crackers or toasted bread.

Tongue Sandwiches.

Tongue sandwiches can be made in many varieties. This is one good sort: Chop cold boiled tongue fine, add to it a little chopped onion and parsley, and spread it between buttered slices of whole wheat bread. Another filling is made with cold boiled tongue that has been pounded to a paste and mixed with a little currant jelly. Still another tongue sandwich is made by putting slices of boiled tongue, garnished with crisp leaves of watercress, between thin slices of buttered white bread.

Lobster Chowder.

One quart of milk, three lobsters, two crackers powdered, one-third of a cup of butter. Stir the crackers, butter and the soft part of the lobster into the boiling milk, then season with pepper and salt; cook about three minutes. Then chop the remainder of the lobster and add to it, cooking the whole three minutes more.

To Remove Ink Blots.

Ink blots can be easily removed from books by covering them with salt and rubbing gently with the fingers.

THREE WOMEN TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Streator, Ill.—"I shall always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wherever I go. It has done me so much good at Change of Life, and it has also helped my daughter. It is one of the grandest medicines for women that can be bought. I shall try to induce others to try it."—Mrs. J. H. CAMPBELL, 206 N. Second St., W. S., Streator, Illinois.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"It was at the 'Change of Life' that I turned to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, using it as a tonic to build up my system, with beneficial results."—Mrs. SARA HAYWARD, 1825 W. Venango St., (Tioga) Phila., Pa.

San Francisco, Cal.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for many years whenever I would feel bad. I have gone through the Change of Life without any troubles and thank the Compound for it. I recommend it to young girls and to women of all ages."—Mrs. C. BARRIE, 3052 25th St., San Francisco, Cal.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled.

Not Stipulated.

"Can you build a stack?" said the farmer to a laborer who wanted a job.

"Sure I can. I can build a stack the shape of an egg."

When the stack was nearly completed the bottom shot out and the stack came to the ground as flat as a pancake.

"I thought you said you could build a stack the shape of an egg," said the farmer.

"So I did. But I didn't say whether it was a boiled egg or a fried one."

DISFIGURED WITH PIMPLES

R. F. D. No. 2, Box 46, Matthews, Ga.—"For three years or more I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. At first my face would itch and burn and then the pimples would break out. They looked almost as if I had measles, causing great disfigurement. They would make my face very red and sore. Then they festered and came to a head and large boils would come on my chin and nose.

"I also had dandruff which caused my scalp to itch and burn. It itched and burned so that I had to scratch it until it was irritated. The dandruff scaled off and showed plainly in my hair. It also caused my hair to break off and become very thin. I used several remedies which did not cure and gave but little relief. After I received a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment I began using them according to directions. I secured two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, which cured me perfectly." (Signed) Miss Willie M. Walker, July 31, 1912. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Algy—If I were to steal a kiss would it scare you so that you would scream?

Hebe—I couldn't. Fright always makes me dumb.—Judge.

Always the Discrepancy.

"Say, what's the population of this town? Approximately, I mean."

"Which figures do you want? The last census, or the way the new city directory estimates it?"

An Ultimatum.

"My dear, I see you are having some clothes made for your poodle."

"Yes; it is the latest fad."

"Well, I serve notice right here that I won't button any dogs down the back."

Depressing Influence.

"So you don't like that professional optimist?"

"Not much," replied Mr. Growcher; "there are times when I might forget my troubles if he were not constantly advising me to make a terrible effort to cheer up."

Watch Growing Children.

I noticed in one of the magazines the other day a strong and sensible plea to mothers to pay more attention to the physical peculiarities of growing children. For instance, a child ought to be shown the importance of breathing through the nose instead of the mouth. Breathing through the mouth is not only unhealthy but it spoils the appearance of the face. The child ought to be natural in conduct. Grimaces are something that mothers should discourage. There are also many bad habits in sitting, standing and walking which the fond mother can correct by a little watchfulness.

What is Woman's Beauty but Health?

And the Basis of Her Health and Vigor Lies in the Careful Regulation of the Bowels.

MRS. C. S. VANCE

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics, every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health, and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly, among them Mrs. C. S. Vance, of 511 S. Ray St., New Castle, Pa. At times she had spells of indigestion so severe that she thought she would die. Syrup Pepsin regulated her stomach and bowels, and she attributes her excellent health today to this remedy.

All the family can use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided, for at best their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently.

It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from griping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative- tonic in America today and thousands of families are now never without it.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 203 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

WORMS.

"Wormy," that's what's the matter of 'em. Stomach and intestinal worms. Nearly as bad as distemper. Cost you too much to feed 'em. Look bad—are bad. Don't physic 'em to death. Spohn's Cure will remove the worms, improve the appetite, and tone 'em up all round, and don't "physic." Acts on glands and blood. Full directions with each bottle, and sold by all druggists.
