Dr. Newton K. Wesley THE LENS IN YOUR EYE

Let us talk a little about the crystalline lens, which is a very important part of the eye. It bends the rays of light and changes shapes.

In a camera, we hink of refocusing by mechanical means. The shape of the lens in the eye is changed by a muscular ring around the crystalline lens. The exact functioning of the crystalline lens is not completely understood, but it is thought that the muscles surrounding the Wesley lens actually apply or decrease pressure on cer-tain ligaments to center the shape of the lens.

If you look at a close point, the rays of light are more divergent and they must be bent to focus; therefore, the crystalline lens changes shape to become sharper in curvature. This changes the focus and improves your vision. The resiliency of this lens is very important, and after the age of about 25, it begins to harden. By the time we reach 40 or 45, the lens has hardened just as other parts of the body may harden. Bones are a good example of such action.

At this point, the lens no longer changes to accommodate vision for nearby objects. Then we complain about lighting when we read or headaches, or we repeat the old joke that our arms are too short for reading when we hold a news-This "old age sight" is a normal change and nothing can be done about it. We see our eye doctor and he fits us with glasses or contact lenses.

Farmers Social Security-Income Tax Information

(Editor's note: Following is the first of six articles prepared jointly by the Internal Revenue Administration for readers' information during this annual Federal Tax reporting season.) Farmers — perhaps more than any other group in the population - are keenly aware of the changes wrought in nature by the four seasons. They have to be - their livelihoods depend almost entirely on how they plan for and adjust their activities to the cycle of the seasons. Another time of the year that farmers are alert to has again arrived. This is the time when they begin looking over the books to see what they must report to Uncle Sam on their Federal income tax returns for the year just past. And they know that since 1955, these same tax returns and the contributions

It isn't just the farmer who actually you can't over-emphahas had an especially good year size SAFETY. Get your car ready for the season ahead. We're who earns social security credready to help you...so drive its. There is an optional method of reporting for farmers whose net earnings in 1962 were low or non-existent. It works like this:

> 1. If a farmer's gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1.800. he may count as his net farm earnings either his actual net or two-thirds of his farm gross income;

2. If his gross farm income is more than $1,800, and the net farm earnings are less than $1,-200, he may use either his actual net or $1.200:

But if his gross farm income is more than $1,800, and his net farm earnings are $1,200 or more, he must use the actual amount of his net earnings.

Because of the option available, a self-employed farmer with a gross income as low as $600 can obtain social security credit for 1962 - and so build protection for himself in his old age, or if he becomes disabled, and protection for his survivors in case of death.
