THE AMERICAN WAY

WHAT IS THE CONSTITUTION?

By Harry Browne

Editor, American Progress Magazine

The Constitution is the literal contract between the people and the government. It is the legal document that spells out the duties, powers, and responsibilities of government.

Whereas laws passed by Congress are generally restrictions upon the people, the Constitution is a restriction upon government. It sets out the boundaries of power — beyond which government may not tread. It tells individuals in government what they may do and what they may not do.

In the American concept, the people are sovereign. Not collectively sovereign in the sense that a majority of them may inflict their will upon the minority. But individually sovereign in the sense that each man is his own master — capable of running his own affairs, making his own decisions.

Inalienable Rights

The American way recognizes that each man received precious gifts from his creator — the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. These rights are inalienable — not to be given nor taken away by any other man or by government.

And as one man hires other men to supply him with products and services, the American people have hired a government to protect these inalienable rights.

But throughout all history, governments have been instruments of oppression: Instead of protecting liberty, they take it away. Instead of defending man's life, they tell him how he may live it. George Washington expressed it, "Government is not reason; it is not eloquence. It is force! Like fire, it is a dangerous servant and a fearful master."

So Americans — recognizing the nature of government and yet still needing an agency to protect their rights — tried a noble experiment.

Noble Experiment

Our forefathers wrote down the duties of government in a written contract — the Constitution. When they were finished, they said to their new government, "Here — these are the duties and responsibilities we want you to assume, nothing more. This is all you are expected or entitled to do. If we find that we have not given you enough power, we will let you know by amending this Constitution."

And they made it absolutely clear in the ninth and tenth amendments to it, that the government had no other powers than those specifically stated in the contract.

As Thomas Jefferson put it, they had bound their rulers "down from mischief with the chains of the Constitution."

Freed from the age-old threat of government interference each American was then inspired to produce more — because he knew the fruits of his labor were his own, not liable to confiscation by a greedy government.

As a result, Americans created the greatest, most abundant civilization ever known. And this abundance was the result of a single document, a contract between the people and their historical enemy — government. Americans tamed it by binding it down.

Today, however, we see that enemy reasserting its traditional proportions. The $100 billion budget, the harassing regulatory agencies and restrictive laws are all nothing more than modern forms of the age-old tools of oppression.

Violations Overlooked

Government has broken its bonds — simply because we, the people, have not vigilantly enforced the contract. We have overlooked violations because we have felt they were for the "general welfare." We fail to recognize that one breach in a contract nullifies the value of the entire document — and we have thus relinquished our God-given rights of free speech, religion and press.

Our greatest task today is to re-establish the Constitution as the literal contract between the people and their government. An era of even greater freedom and prosperity awaits that day. Let us prove that it is not too late to earn those rewards.

Call Mission Collect If Screwworm Found

Mission — Knowing immediately where every screwworm case in the Southwest is located has become so important to the eradication program that arrangements have been made so livestockmen can call the Mission headquarters collect when an infestation is detected.

When a screwworm case is found, officials would like producers to do two things: (1) collect about 10 worms from the wound, place them in water or alcohol and hold for further instructions and (2) report the infestation to eradication officials by calling collect to Justice 5-1646 (Mission). No telephone call should be made unless a sample is available.

The following information should be available at the time the call is made:

1. Name
2. Address and telephone number where producer can be contacted
3. Date when sample was collected
4. Location of farm or ranch where case was found
5. Location of wound on animal

Producers are urged to call day or night, whenever the infestation is found. At night or on weekends, the information will be relayed to eradication officials who will contact the producer for further information and instruct him to either mail the sample or hold it to be picked up by a livestock inspector.

From the information received, a determination can be made as to the action that is necessary. In many cases, a screwworm livestock inspector will be sent to the premises to pick up the sample and obtain additional information. If the sample is identified as a true screwworm, sterile flies will probably be dispersed in the area.

The key to the system, officials said, is that sample of worms be collected at the time the wound is detected. Without the sample, they won't know whether the infestation was from a screwworm or from some other maggot, similar in appearance and characteristics. Screwworm infestations are now at a minimum, the eradicator said, and through prompt reporting, action can be taken to prevent the infestation from mushrooming into a large scale outbreak.

Texas Prepared To Meet 1963 Tornado Season

Austin — Texas will meet the 1963 tornado season with one of the world's most complete storm warning systems, and with a well-oiled public health relief organization.

Radar storm warning sets are in operation in 15 of the state's 18 first-order weather bureaus. All state highway patrolmen have been carefully schooled in the wily ways of the weather and are keeping a sharp eye on the sky as they patrol their sectors.

Texas' "local severe weather warning system," the first of its kind established anywhere in the world, is made up of sets operating around the clock in Amarillo, Abilene, Austin, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Galveston, Fort Worth, Houston, Port Arthur, San Angelo, San Antonio, Victoria, Waco and Wichita Falls.

Of the first-order weather stations which cover all sections of Texas, only El Paso, Laredo and Del Rio do not have radar storm warning sets as part of their regular equipment inventory.

All stations are connected by teletype and radio. Any station is able to instantly appraise all other stations of a tornado traveling in their direction. When such a storm warning is given, the weather bureau in its line of approach immediately notifies all communities in the area via commercial radio and television station bulletins.

The radar sets are owned by the Weather Bureau, having been supplied from U. S. Government surplus stocks, but the cities concerned paid installation costs.

Louisiana and Oklahoma are cooperating in the southwestern warning network by operating networks of their own. The Texas network is larger, however, by virtue of the area to be covered.

State Health Commissioner Dr. J. E. Peavy says the State Department of Health and local health departments stand ready at all times to provide public health know-how to stem health threats occasioned by weather.

Meanwhile, these precautions are still valid if and when a tornado is sighted:

Cut off gas and water before it strikes. Open windows on the north and east side of the house. If possible, take shelter in a storm cellar or cave. If this is impractical, sit down on the lowest floor of a strongly reinforced building, or against the southwest corner of a house. Stay away from windows.

In open country, move away at right angles to the path of the storm. If there is no time to escape lie flat in a ditch or depression to avoid flying debris. (A feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Beef Cattle Short Course To Be Held Soon

A. D. Pettit, vocational agricultural instructor, announces a beef cattle short course for adult farmers will be held in Santa Anna April 15-18. This is the same course that was scheduled about a year ago, but had to be postponed due to the instructor's not being able to be here.

James Thornton, specialist from A & M College, will be here for the course.

Those who might be interested in attending the course are requested to contact Mr. Pettit and make arrangements to attend. More information will be published about this course in the next few weeks.

License Plate Sales Still Below Normal

Sale of the 1963 license plates for vehicles in this area are still running below normal, according to Mrs. Billie Guthrie, operating a local sub-station here. Less than half of the usual number of plates have been sold and there is only nine more days in which to purchase your plates.

County Tax Assessor-Collector John Skelton, urged everyone to get your plates as soon as possible, and not to wait until the very last few days. It appears there will be some long waiting lines, and you can avoid this by getting your license plates now.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — A $3,000,000,000 budget bill has been passed by the House of Representatives.

Before it cleared the House and went on to the Senate, the bill elicited several cries of anguish from some who protested agency bequests as too small and some who claimed certain allotments were too big.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo claimed appropriations for the State Armory Board and the State Board of Control were too big, since they involved $1,000 salary raises for executive directors of those agencies.

Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady claimed deputy commissioners in the Texas Education Agency draw a total of $14,800 more than the Legislature authorized.

Townsend also tried to cut out a $250,000 appropriation to improve the newly-donated Wheatly Ranch in Blanco County as a state park. He claimed the money was needed for established parks. But this move failed.

HIGH COST OF LIVING
Another attempt to cut a specific recommendation out of the budget bill almost was successful.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford tried to get the House to "ground" the State Land Office airplane. He pointed out that $100,000 is appropriated annually for operation and maintenance of a high-powered Land Office plane.

Cotten showed a photostatic copy of the plane's flight log for the year ended October, 1962. He stated, "In a year's time, only 68 flights were recorded. Sixteen were test flights to familiarize the pilot with the plane before he broke the propeller when he collided with another plane in a hanger and then he had to take eight more test flights to familiarize himself with the new propeller!"

Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs disagreed. He said that the plane is necessary for aerial surveys and photographs to confirm the 1941 state land survey. Cotten insisted that the Land Office should hire commercial aerial photographers, as the Texas Water Commission does.

Cotten's amendment to strike out the plane appropriation failed by a narrow 72-68 vote.

LOW COST OF EDUCATION
Complaints about too-low appropriations came from members who said allotments for higher education in 1964-65 are too small.

The last Legislature appropriated $159,600,000 from the State General Revenue Fund for higher education in 1962-63.

State College administrators requested $243,000,000 for the coming two years. Former Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board recommended $228,000,000. Gov. John B. Connally recommends $225,000,000. Paducah Rep. Bill Healy's appropriations bill allows for $187,600,000 to educate the bumper crop of war babies that is expected to begin to flow into state colleges next year.

Rep. Hugh Farmer of Fort Worth claimed the Healy committee had slashed Arlington State College's library budget so drastically, the school might not be accredited next year.

So, Farmer and Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth begged for an amendment to raise Arlington's appropriation. It failed by a vote of 94-41.

The $172,000 needed to make the Texas Maritime Academy in Galveston a reality was absent from the appropriations bill. But Governor Connally said, "I have real hope of getting the Legislature to restore the maritime money." He didn't say whether he had any hope of getting the allotment for higher education boosted.

COUNTY BUYING MAY BE EASIER

Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison got a green light from the House Committee on Counties on his bill to raise the amount a county purchasing agent may spend on emergency purchases without advertising for competitive bidding.

Since 1925, the amount that may be spent without competitive bidding has been $150. Beckham said this is unrealistic in the view of rising costs. He proposed it be raised to $500. However, the subcommittee set it at $300.

Reps. Henry Grover and J. C. Whitfield of Houston won approval from the House State Affairs Committee on their bill to require competitive bidding on public school purchases above $1,000.

SALES TAX FREEZE FAILS

An attempt by Rep. John Allen of Longview to pass a constitutional amendment to freeze the state sales tax at two percent and keep food and drugs exempt failed by a 72-64 vote.

However, food may remain safe from the sales tax if a measure by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas and Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity passes. They have proposed legislation to simplify sales tax bookkeeping for grocers. Since grocers have been the ones fighting for a blanket tax, this bill may satisfy them.

TUITION RAISES PROPOSED

Representative Atwell picked up a recommendation by the Commission on Higher Education to double state college tuition, and filed a bill to raise it from $50 to $100 a semester.

Governor Connally has ignored the commission's suggestion.

Rep. Dick Morgan, Republican from Dallas, chose "a good compromise." He introduced a bill to raise tuition to $75 a semester.

Children of members of the Texas National Guard who have been killed in the "cold war crisis" since 1950 will be provided free tuition in state colleges, if a bill by Representative Parmer is passed.

STATES RIGHTS STAND

The House passed a resolution to ask Congress to call a constitutional convention to leave legislative reapportionment to state legislatures. Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock said, "This may be the last time the state can take a stand on what may be the last of state's rights."

If the proposed amendment is adopted by a sufficient number of states, Texas could insure a rural - dominated legislature, despite urban growth.

or with peacetime service for at least one enlistment unless discharged or released from duty for disability incurred in the line of duty. They are then presented to the next of kin. Flags may be obtained from VA offices and some post offices as well as from U. S. State Department offices overseas.

Of Interest To VETERANS Questions And Answers

Q — What is the present maximum amount of a GI home loan the Veteran's Administration will guarantee?

A — That part of a GI home loan guaranteed by the government may be up to 60 percent of the amount of the loan or not more than $7,500. The limit on direct loans made when no loans from private lenders are available is $15,000.

Q — How does one get the free American flags for use at the funerals of veterans?

A — These free burial flags are used to drape the casket during funeral service of a deceased veteran with wartime service, discharged under conditions other than "dishonorable,"

It's Time For ... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley

"SAVE YOUR VISION WEEK"

"Save Your Vision Week" will be observed from March 3rd thru March 9th this year. I believe such a week should be observed 52 times every year.

Our civilization requires the use of our eyes more today than at any other time in our history. Our eyes were made to see at a distance and yet, today, we use them more indoors than out. We have created stresses and strains that are far greater than normal. Therefore, it is extremely important to have our eyes examined regularly and to wear the proper prescription.

Most of us do not see as well as we could if we were to have our eyes examined and wore the correction recommended by our eye doctors. We accept a world not quite clearly defined—mostly because we were not aware of gradually fading vision. It happens so slowly, we are not always aware of it. As we approach middle age, nature forces us to realize that our vision is not all we could desire it to be. It is then we take action and visit the eye doctor for an examination.

If we would only realize that eye examinations every six months could prevent blindness—sometimes our own blindness—I am sure it wouldn't be necessary to continue to remind the public.

The National Eye Research Foundation suggests you have your eyes examined every six months. It's good advice—take it! See your eye doctor soon!

The hall was decorated in the Worthy Grand Matron's chosen colors of red, white and gold and themes of Resplendent Light. A revolving arrangement of a large white triangle candle, red and white carnations and open white Bible made on the turntable, surrounded by gold and white foliage, was placed in front of the Worthy Matron's station.

In the east was a large Bible, her emblem, with red and white carnations on the open pages. Two triple gold electric candles and sprays of gold and white leaves were on either side of the Worthy Matron's station. The altar was laid with a gold glittered cloth over a larger red one. There was an arrangement of electric candelabra, red carnations and fern on this altar. Back of each star point station was a gold stand covered with red velvet, held an open Bible with red satin markers. A red carnation lay across the top edge. Topiary trees of star point colors were placed on the piano. Red and white candles, greenery and carnations were used at all vantage points throughout the hall.

"The Carnation Luncheon" was held in the Presbyterian Church annex with 75 members attending. Master of ceremonies was Mrs. Ethel Stone, Zephyr. Introductions were made by Mrs. Oneita Ross, Brownwood. The invocation was given by Hal Burnett, Alpine.

"The Carnation Presentation" was made by Mrs. Billie Guthrie, Santa Anna; Mrs. Ruby Steel, Comanche; Mrs. Ella Faye Merrill, Cross Plains; and Mrs. Joyce Alley, Blanket.

Mrs. Coleta Newton, Bangs, sung, "Stepping In the Light," accompanied by Mrs. Exa Lane. Benediction was by Mrs. Pauline Alzman.

Barnett, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation. Miss Patricia Davis sang, "The Guiding Light March," accompanied by Mrs. Fannie Bryan.

Following the turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, County Attorney Wallace Dings spoke on, "The World We Live In Today." Mrs. Bass gave the benediction.

The cafeteria was decorated with a triple gold electric candle with gold and white foilage, flanked by large gold sun bursts. Red candle arrangements were in the foreground. The tables held arrangements of red carnations, tiny red and white tapers in gold containers. Streamers of red ribbon, flanked with gold stars, were placed the length of the table on which white carnations were arranged. Favors were hand made miniature gold candle holders with red carnations and twisted white candles.

The fraternal visit began with the Santa Anna Chapter Drill. Members wore floor length white formal dresses, with wide red ribbon sashes, and carried lighted red candles atop gold stars, trimmed with red carnations and red and green ribbon streamers.

Mrs. McReynolds' greeting was entitled, "Kindness Toward Others." Mr. Burnett brought his greeting in a very interesting manner.

After the retiring march, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall, with the Brownwood Chapter No. 116 as hostesses. Punch and party cookies were served from crystal service. The table was laid with a hand drawn cloth. In the center was a large ceramic star in star point colors, surrounded by the ceramic star points, Adah, Ruth, Ester, Martha and Electa, with a large white lighted candle in the background.

Besides members from nine chapters of Section 5, there were members from Ranger, Hamilton, Killeen, Brady, De Leon, Dallas, Winters, Temple and the State of Kansas present.

Incoming Shots

For many shotgunners the in-comer is the toughest shot of all. The trick is to blot out the bird with the gun muzzle as you shoot.

If you can see your target when you press the trigger, you can be sure you are not leading enough.

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

AN AFL-CIO DRIVE to unionize all federal employees — some two and a half million of them — is gaining headway. Outside observers are a little worried lest this trend may eventually get out of hand. France is cited as an example of this danger. There the civil servants, solidly organized, are often able to call the shots on questions of wages, hours, etc., by threatening the use of strikes. If the latter weapon is employed they can virtually shut down the operation of the government.

Last year President Kennedy issued an executive order giving federal employes unions official bargaining rights and is believed to be preparing another order authorizing an automatic union dues checkoff system. Thus, Federal agencies would deduct union dues from employ salaries — if voluntarily agreed to by the employe.

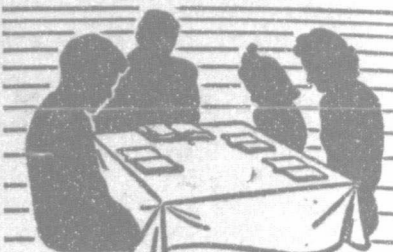

This trend, if handled properly, would not necessarily be against the public interest — assuming that strikes against the government will be forever prohibited; but such trends in union activities have a way of always getting out of hand in power struggles among union leaders. And the trend lends itself to a breakdown of efficiency policies desired by agency heads where they come in conflict with union demands.

ALREADY the Government employe union (AFL-CIO), numbering 800,000 members, is demanding a 35-hour work week, with some of them plugging for a 32-hour week, plus a 20-day annual leave privilege. Most of this agitation comes from those who want more pay for less work. AFL-CIO at its Miami meeting last month threw its support behind the "elimination of speedup practices now in effect" by employes in government work.

Voluntary union activities, if used to promote efficiency, improved work standards, greater production, and an attitude of subservience to the public interest, can serve a useful purpose. But unfortunately the power of collective unionism is often used to interfere with good and responsible business management on the part of agency heads. Therein lies the real danger.

Today's MEDITATION
from
The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read John 3:16-21

God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (John 3:17.)

The story preceding the Scripture reading given above tells us about Nicodemus. In it we have an example of the spiritual ignorance of Nicodemus in spite of his education. We also see an example of disbelief in spite of the offer Jesus gave. This portion of the Gospel includes the beautiful statement — John 3:16 — of the meaning of Jesus' mission.

Through Jesus Christ we father God's pardoning love. It is noteworthy that this is for the whole world. May there be no people who boast of being the only nation pardoned by God's love. May all people rejoice in the privilege of being the object of God's pardoning love!

Therefore, let cold war cease! May there be a stop to the arms race! May we realize the futility of these things. Through the love of God in Christ the whole world must be saved.

PRAYER:
Heavenly Father, Thou art love. Help us to be possessed of love like Thine that it may be the governing force in our lives. In the name of Christ, who proclaimed Thy love and taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
May the peoples of all the nations rejoice in being the objects of God's pardoning love.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Very few people will argue with you that the United States is a great country. Neither will most people argue with you that Americans are great people (except a few soreheads). The factor that proves the greatness of the American people, more than any other thing, is the voluntary self-assessment income tax system we have in the United States. When nearly all of our taxpayers voluntarily pay a large part of their income to support the necessary activities of our government it proves that our people are law-abiding, worthy citizens. April 15 should be set aside not as a day to call IRS vile names but as National Taxpayer Day to honor our millions of taxpayers who voluntarily do their part to maintain our great country.

BOOK REVIEW

Come one, come all to the Mountaineer auditorium to hear Mrs. Karen Taylor review "The Decline and Fall of Practically Everybody." This book, written by Will Cuppy, is an entertaining and humorous story of the troubles of many different people. This review will be presented at 7:30 on the night of March 25, and is sponsored by the Beta Club. Tickets will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. A nursery will be open at the school for the children. This is another project of the Beta Club. We hope to provide some culture for our community as well as make money for our club.

LETTER JACKETS

Last week five boys received letter jackets for their efforts in basketball. They are Glenn Gilbreath, Donnie Neff, Stanley Hartman, Terry Moore and Freddie Cullins. The rest of the squad lettered but didn't receive jackets because they had all received a jacket for football.

Mr. Buddy Neff will honor the basketball squad with a steak dinner in the near future, for the fine season they had.

BAND TO MOZELLE

Last Tuesday the Santa Anna High School Stage Band went to Mozelle to play for their stock show and awards ceremony. The band enjoyed the skits put on by the classes and the one-act play. After the play and skits, the band played a few songs. Then the presentation of awards was made. The band enjoyed the free barbecue dinner. They returned immediately after lunch and arrived back in Santa Anna about two o'clock. The band always enjoys their trip to Mozelle for the stock show.

BRADY RELAYS

The Santa Anna Track team went to Brady Saturday for the relays. Some new school records were set. Tommy Sewardson set a record for Santa Anna in the high jump and 120-yard high hurdles. Randy Brown, Bill Horne, Tinker Dockery and Freddie Cullins set a school record in the 440-yard relay and the mile relay. They placed fourth and third in the meet. Randy, Tinker, Bill and Charles Allen placed fifth in the sprint medley relay. We placed fifth in the 880-yard relay with the same four boys participating. Terry McIver tied for fifth and sixth in the high jump. Santa Anna placed sixth in the track meet. Twenty-one teams entered from over this area. We think this is a fine record and hope they continue to improve.

ASSEMBLY

Monday morning, the Student Council sponsored another Southern School Assembly Program entitled the "Jungle Wonders." The program was very entertaining. We saw dogs perform and monkeys do stunts. Most of the students were fascinated by these smart animals. This has been one of the most interesting programs we have had this year.

At the close of the assembly, Tommy Stewardson, President of the Student Council, presented the cheerleaders pins which the Student Council bought. The cheerleaders for this year are Donna Walker, head cheerleader, Sandra Davis, Sharon Gilbreath, Karen McCluskey and Linda Horner.

RANGER BAND ENTERTAINS STUDENTS

The Ranger Junior College Band stopped in Santa Anna last week and played several songs for the student body. They were on tour from the college presenting programs for various schools in this area. A variety of songs played by the band gave us a half hour of enjoyment.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Did Donna Walker amaze you Friday night Larry Wardlow? Bobby Clifton, who's the new girl friend? She's cute.

Patricia's sportin' a new car. I'll bet it makes a lot of trips to Coleman. Pat and Mike were seen together Friday night.

Well, boys, did you enjoy twirp week? Isn't it just too bad that it only rolls around once a year. The girls have it made.

Linda Campbell, tell us who the three boys were in the gold Impala at your house Saturday afternoon.

We noticed Sharon G. and Karen J. were on the ball twirp week with Terry Blanton and Danny Wylie.

Barbara and Linda R. kept Nelson busy last week. Best of luck to Sheila and Alfred.

Geneva is going steady with Clebert Bohanan from Bangs.

How was your trip from Brownwood to Coleman Saturday night Brenda, with Ronnie? Linda took Pete to Brownwood to the Bowl Saturday night.

How are the Seniors coming along with your play? Have there been any arguments? Cheryl, was Royce a little late Saturday night?

The Biology Class has spilled a lot of blood lately. It was too much for Nelson.

Tinker came to school with a black eye. Where did you get that, Tink?

Lawanda and Gary were at church Sunday night. So were Randy and Linda S.

Does anybody know who said those famous words, "Stop standing there gapping you big ape, get us out." Was it Virginia or Lois? Wonder what it was about?

Bonnie Smith, we heard you had a slight accident with your ink bottle. Was it a messy experience?

Sharon M., is there a boy in Science class that gives you a heart throb? Is that why you dropped the weights the other day?

Bob House, did you get a little over excited while doing the Bunny Hop Friday night?

Warren Wallace, did you finally discover that the stairs are kind of tricky?

Lois Simmons, we've heard that you lost your purse in study hall Wednesday. Did you have fun while trying to find it?

Donnie Neff, did you and Bill Horne get saddle sores last Thursday morning?

Jean Kline, did Western Week go to your head the other day when you were writing the heading of your paper?

Patsy Drake, what did you drink before you went to Science class Tuesday? We noticed that you had the hiccups and couldn't stop.

Barton and Jo Ann had a lot of fun Sunday afternoon. Does Freddie Blount's helpfulness turn out right opposite in Science class?

Freddie Colbough, did you smell dirty feet the other day?

Tom Durden, tell us more about your trouble with the girls Thursday.

John Hensley, have you been sharing your pop gun with a certain girl?

Ronnie, do you like to carry quilts very much? We heard you do.

Stanley M., when are you to give those girls their candy? They're still waiting!

Jack, did you happen to break your perfect attendance record for not being tardy Wednesday?

CAMPUS CHUCKLES

Joe Ed: Did you know David was kicked out of school for cheating?

Nikki: How come?

Joe Ed: Mr. Mathews caught him counting his ribs during a biology test.

Sherman: I hear that fish is brain food.

Mr. Bowen: Yeah, I eat it all the time.

Sherman: Another theory down the drain.

Donnie N.: Say, can't you stretch the music a little longer — just a dance or two more?

Mr. Camp: Sorry, Donnie. This isn't a rubber band!

Wade: What was the explosion on your farm?

Glenn G.: We fed our chickens some lay-or-bust feed and one of them was a rooster.

Coach Smith: Now, Charles Allen, if you stood with your back to the north and your face to the south, what would be on your left hand?

Charles: Fingers.

Neighbor: "Have you heard from your son in the Army recently?"

Proud Mother: "Oh, yes. He's been promoted for striking that unpleasant sergeant. He's going to be a courtmartial!"
