The Difference

By Rosalie M. Gordon
Editor, America's Future

A puzzled college student wants to know if there is any way to distinguish between a modern liberal and a modern conservative, regardless of what each calls himself. On the domestic scene here at home, perhaps the best distinction is where each stands on government interference in our lives — a central question because our uniquely American form of government is based on the truism that while civilized man cannot live without government, government is also the greatest potential oppressor of free men.

Modern Liberal

A modern liberal usually is dedicated to always more government intervention in citizens' lives — from which flows naturally his belief in high taxes, debt, deficit financing; generally, government monetary and credit control and manipulation in order to plan for and intervene in the economic life of the people. He also believes that enterprise cannot be left free to operate according to the natural laws of the free market and competition; he considers the rights of the states a thing of the past, since such rights interfere with an ever more powerful central government — a government which he thinks must also look after the welfare of the people in all its forms. Thus a liberal necessarily believes the Constitution must be stretched, interpreted or ignored in order to bring all these things about.

Modern Conservative
A modern conservative believes in certain basic principles of human life and conduct and thinks they should guide all conditions no matter how conditions themselves may change. Liberals usually make a fetish of change. The conservative does not oppose change but believes changes should be measured as good or bad according to basic principles; not accepted merely for the sake of change. He believes in the sanctity of the individual and his inherent freedoms — freedoms which government can neither grant nor take away; its only duty is to protect them. Thus he is dedicated to constitutional restraints on government from which naturally flows his belief in less, not more, government, resulting lower taxes, leaving enterprise and people as free as possible to make their own way, provide their own security under their steam in a free, competitive market which he considers the greatest guarantee of abundance. He respects the constitutional rights of the states as a curb on a too powerful and oppressive central government.

Demarcation

On the international scene, there can be confusion in telling a liberal from a conservative as regards the international communist conspiracy. Most liberals do not see communism as a conspiracy. They think it can be dealt with through accommodation, negotiation, appeasement. Conservatives believe communism is a conspiracy. They recognize its stated purpose of destroying capitalism and freedom everywhere, including America. Therefore they believe communism should be opposed with every means at our disposal and with a will to win out against it — that anything less gives to our avowed enemy the means with which to destroy us. However, there is a handful of liberals — only a handful, unfortunately — who also see the communist conspiracy for what it really is. A true conservative, of course, with his beliefs about limited government and individual freedom, cannot be other than adamantly anti-communist.

Carmen Donham Home Damaged By Fire Sunday

The home of Mrs. Carmen Donham and Marty was badly damaged by fire about 3:00 p. m. Sunday. The fire started in the kitchen and did considerable damage to the furnishings there. Smoke and water damage was considerable through the remainder of the house.

Mrs. Donham was at work in Brownwood and Marty was visiting a friend at the time of the fire. No one had been in the house since about nine o'clock Sunday morning.

The fire burned through the ceiling in the kitchen and was just beginning to burn the decking at the roof when the fire department arrived. Quick action by the department saved the house from almost sure destruction. As high as the wind was blowing at the time, if the fire had burned 5 or 10 minutes longer, it likely would have completely destroyed it.

The alarm was turned in by Jimmy Boggs, next door neighbor. Within a very short time members of the fire department were there and fighting the fire.

Edd Hartman said the fire, set up for reporting a fire and informing the members of the volunteer department where the fire is, apparently works very well. Because of the high wind, several members did not hear the alarm, but all were notified and were on hand in short order.

Mrs. Donham said she had some insurance, but was not sure as to the amount Monday afternoon.

She will graduate Thursday night as a Licensed Vocational Nurse at the Brownwood Memorial Hospital, where she has been taking training for the past several months.

Mothers March of Dimes Drive To Be Held Monday, January 27

Tax Collector To Be Here All Day Friday, Jan. 24

John Skelton, County Tax Assessor-Collector, will be at the Santa Anna National Bank all day Friday, January 24th, for the purpose of collecting state, county and school taxes from individuals of this area who have not as yet paid theirs. He will also have poll tax receipts with him for those who desire to qualify to vote in this election year.

Skelton said a large number of county residents have already paid their 1963 taxes, taking advantage of the discounts offered if they are paid early. However, quite a number do not have all their 1963 taxes paid and he urged everyone to take advantage of this opportunity to get them paid. If the taxes are not paid by January 31, a penalty will be added when they are paid.

Skelton also urged everyone who is of voting age and not over 69 on January 1, 1963, to get their poll tax paid now. They are looking for a big rush on poll taxes during the last few days of the month, and there is likely to be some long waiting lines. Poll taxes must be paid by January 31 in order to qualify as a voter for this year.

Billie Guthrie, a deputy tax collector, is also selling poll tax receipts at her office here in Santa Anna.

Several Boys To Enter Lambs In Fort Worth Show

Reports from the Fort Worth Livestock Show indicate at least 14 Santa Anna boys have 40 or more lambs entered in the Junior Show and Open Competition at the annual show, which begins this weekend. There are likely others whose names have not been reported to us.

Included in the boys are: Edward Anderson, Larry Avants, Buddy Campbell, Billy Don Cupps, Dana Evans, Les Guthrie, Bill Frank, Mike Hosch, Bill Martin, Frank and Steve Valdez, Corky, Joe Ed and Mark Wade.

The 1964 Exposition, scheduled Jan. 24 through Feb. 2, will have an entry list topping 10,000, shown by exhibitors from more than 30 states. The livestock division figure alone is 5,824, exceeding last year's total for cattle, sheep and swine by more than 370 head. There will be nine breeds of beef cattle, 10 breeds of sheep and eight of swine.

The horse division of the 1964 Southwestern Exposition, again featuring the largest Quarter horse show in the world, will have approximately 1,500 entries.

James Drury, star of NBC-TV's "The Virginian" and the Sons of the Pioneers, known as "America's Foremost Western Music" group will be the featured entertainers at the Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo. Fast paced rodeo action is guaranteed as more than 400 of the nation's top cowboys, champions and challengers, compete for part of the $70,000 plus prize purse of premiums and entry fees.

Wright said he was so clod he could not strike, but attempted to. He was not much trouble to kill.

Methodists To Have 'Taters' Sunday Morning

Sunday, January 26, has been designated as Family Day at the local First Methodist Church. Every member of every family is urged to be present for the occasion.

The pastor, Rev. Bobby Weathers, will preach on the "Tater Family."

Three of the four goals set for attendance in January were reached the past Sunday. New goals have been set for each service. It will take the cooperation of the entire membership to meet these new goals, but the pastor said they were going to meet them. "In fact," he said, "we are going to have to meet them in order to maintain our lead in the attendance contest with the Bangs church." New goals are: Church School, 125; Morning Worship, 165; Methodist Youth Fellowship, 28; and Evening Worship, 115.

Rev. Weathers said the evening service will be moved back to the sanctuary this Sunday night. The evening service is at 6:00 p. m.

Information about the attendance contest will be found elsewhere in this issue of The News.

The Delta Omicron Sorority of Epsilon Sigma Alpha is sponsoring the annual Mothers March again this year. Mrs. Tennyson Granad is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Montie Guthrie. Their plans are not complete at this time for the drive, but zone chairmen will be assigned to each locality, with additional workers to help in the drive.

The drive will get underway at 4:00 p. m. Monday, January 27. It is hoped it can be completed by about 6:00 p. m. Plans call for every home and business location in the city to be canvassed for contributions.

Though the National Foundation has all but been wiped out. Now, the National Foundation has undertaken the job of fighting birth defects and arthritis, as well as continuing their fight against polio.

Contributions are needed from everyone in order for the nation to reach the goal of $45 million.

The Mothers March here usually raises a little over $400 each year. We would be happy to see that amount considerably increased.

American Legion To Meet Monday Night

The regular meeting of the local American Legion Post will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday, January 27, in the Legion Hall. All members are urged to be present. All veterans are invited to attend.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin, Tex. — For the past three months, Texas has led the nation in the number of people taking a newly-developed, 11-lesson course in "Medical Self-Help."

Prepared by the U. S. Public Health Service, the plan is to train at least one member of each family in emergency do-it-yourself doctoring.

Thousands of Texans have been taught what to do until the doctor comes. But state health officials agree with federal officials that still more need to know what to do in case the doctor never gets there. Prime reason of course is in case of a disaster or attack.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Commissioner of Health, says more than 4,334 Texans have "graduated" in the pilot program of the Medical Self-Help project and others are studying now. He says that instructions complement rather than duplicate existing programs and has been endorsed by the Texas Medical Association.

Information or assistance in setting up a local program may be obtained from the State Health Department in Austin.

HIRING POLICY STRENGTHENED

State Hospital Board has announced tough new hiring rules. Board has drawn fire due to hiring of a former mental patient as a doctor in its Wichita Falls Hospital and a one time convict as a medical assistant at San Antonio Hospital.

Board tentatively approved an in-service psychiatric training program at four facilities. Also okayed was a contract for a 10-bed psychiatric unit at Beaumont to care for some patients unable to get in the crowded Rusk Hospital.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

J. E. (Dutch) Winters, former Tarrant County first assistant district attorney, is the new judge of Criminal District Court No. 2 in Fort Worth. Gov. John Connally named him to succeed the late Judge Dave McGee.

Connally also appointed William H. Gardner, Houston Post, and Former Gov. Price Daniel, Austin, to the State Library and Historical Commission; and Byron Grady Bronstad of Kilgore, D. L. (Pete) Brooks of Amarillo and James W. Fisher of Brownwood to the State Board of Public Accountancy.

He named Michael A. Myers of Olney as a new administrative assistant to his staff.

House Speaker Byron Tunnell named Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake as chairman of a House interim committee on protection and development of soil and water resources.

COURTS SPEAK

In upholding the conviction and eight-year prison sentence assessed Billie Sol Estes, the Court of Criminal Appeals announced conclusions of importance to news media, as well as to attorneys and those facing felony trial.

Estes' attorney had complained of television coverage of the trial and contended that widespread newspaper stories on the case kept jurors from being open minded.

Wrote Judge W. A. Morrison: "The wheels of justice must not stop merely because an accused is of such prominence that he and his alleged misdeeds have been publicized throughout the state — It is apparent that nothing beneficial to appellant (Estes) could be accomplished by changing venue countless times."

As to the controlled TV coverage, Judge Morrison wrote: "Under the facts certified, we fail to perceive any injury to the appellant as a result of the telecasting of the proceedings — Of the many cases coming to this court, we know of no case where the accused received better or more efficient representation than appellant in the present case."

Same Court declared "constitutional" the Sunday "Blue Law", passed by the 57th Legislature. Court's ruling was in the case of a Houston auto salesman charged with violation of the Sabbath sales Statute.

Under the 1961 law, a retail merchant may observe either Saturday or Sunday as the Sabbath, but cannot make sales on both.

Ruling is considered a setback for Spartan discount stores which is appealing a San Antonio court order curtailing its weekend sales in several Texas cities.

Texas Supreme Court threw out the effort of East Texas oilmen to have 35 civil penalty suits resulting from slant hole oil investigations tried in their home counties rather than Austin.

How to get MORE out of your tax refund

When you get your '63 tax return (Form 1040), take a look at line 23 on the bottom of the page.

It gives you the option of taking your refund in U. S. Savings Bonds instead of a check for the total amount.

There are two big advantages:

1. Taking your refund in Savings Bonds gives you an easy way to hang onto it.
2. When your Bonds mature, your refund becomes 33 1/3% bigger. You get back $4 for every $3.

You also get a nice red, white and blue feeling from knowing you're helping your country's future as well as providing for your own.

Think it over when you ask for your refund this year.

prior to the general election on Nov. 3, citizens who have not qualified to vote by paying their poll tax or securing an exemption certificate may qualify to vote for President, Vice President, Senator, Congressman and Congressman-at-Large. They may do this by obtaining from their tax assessor-collector during a 30-day period following the amendment's adoption a poll tax receipt marked "not paid."

"Farm Bureau advocated and worked for retention of the poll tax," DeVaney said. "Our efforts now to encourage eligible citizens to pay their poll tax is a follow up on our campaign of last fall."

DeVaney pointed out that the Farm Bureau is non-partisan and does not endorse any candidates of any party. However, the farm organization does encourage its members to become active in the party of their choice and work for candidates of their choice.

"Only by participating in the free selection of our elected representatives can we as citizens fulfill our rightful duties," the Farm Bureau leader said.

"Therefore, we urge all citizens of voting age, especially farmers and ranchers and their families, to pay their poll tax and make sure they will have a voice in this year's important elections."

Farm Bureau Urges Members To Pay Poll Tax

Waco — Texas Farm Bureau President C. H. DeVaney urged all Texans, particularly farmers and ranchers, to pay their poll taxes before Jan. 31 so as not to lose their right to vote in important elections coming up this year.

"Regardless of whether or not the Federal Amendment to repeal the poll tax is ratified by the necessary 38 states, it will still be necessary to pay your poll tax or obtain an exemption in order to vote for local and state candidates," the state farm leader said.

If the amendment is repealed

Soil Bank Contracts Expire On 566,571 Acres In Texas

Contracts expired in Texas, December 31, 1963, on a total of 566,571 Soil Bank acres. Now, points out C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, owners of these acres must decide what to do with them.

No two owners will have the same situation says Bates, therefore, each must study the alternatives available. Some choices are to sell, rent, hire work done, leave the acreage in a conserving use, or participate in a government diversion program.

If the farm has a feed grain base, for example, the owner may want to consider participating in the 1964 Feed Grain Program. For owners with part of their farms coming out of the Soil Bank, any feed grain base included in the Soil Bank land will become a part of the farm's total base, explains the specialist. Information on the Feed Grain Program is available from county Agricultural Stabilization, and Conservation and Extension offices, according to Bates.

Individual situations, existing cover, possible uses of the land, yield prospects, and such considerations as credit, equipment and livestock available will need careful study, says Bates.

Bates points out that Conservation Reserve contracts, totaling 24,068, were in effect in 1963 in 230 Texas counties. Acreage under these contracts totaled 2,680,286 with 566,571 acres released from contracts on December 31, 1963.

Quail Hunters Enjoy Successful Hunt

San Angelo — Quail hunters in the north Panhandle are still having good hunting success and should continue to do so until the Panhandle quail season closes January 31. Sportsmen participating in public hunts on the Gene Howe Area near Canadian, Texas are sharing in the good harvest with daily bag limits approaching 6-7 birds per hunter, while normal hunting years usually provide hunters with only 2-3 birds per bag.

In contrast, quail hunters on the Matador Wildlife Area between Childress and Paducah, Texas, are having fair success with hunters displaying average 2-3 bird daily bags.

Quail hunting success in the Permian Basin around Odessa was below par most of the year with only a few ardent blue quail hunters bagging enough quail to make hunting trips enjoyable. Quail season in General Law counties ended January 16.

West of the Pecos River, where quail season closed January 14, quail hunting was no better than average despite early season rainfall and good hatching conditions throughout most of the summer. Quail were present in substantial numbers but sportsmen report birds were unusually difficult to bag.

Will 1964 Be Screwworm-Free?

Uvalde — Vigorous participation in the screwworm eradication program by Texas farmers and ranchers will be necessary if the Southwest is to become screwworm-free in 1964.

Dolph Briscoe Jr., of Uvalde, said detection of screwworm-infested animals and collection of larvae samples will be even more important this year than it has been in the past. Briscoe is president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, which spearheaded the drive to collect $3,000,000 from livestockmen to get the eradication program underway nearly two years ago.

Briscoe noted that several weeks have elapsed with no screwworm cases being reported in the five-state eradication area. He cautioned, however, that during cold weather, screwworm flies in the pupae stage can remain embedded in the soil for extended periods; when they emerge during brief warm spells, new rounds of infestation could result.

A single undetected, unreported case could set the eradication program back for several months, Briscoe said.

"We must always keep up our guard when dealing with this insect," Briscoe warned. "The screwworm fly has shown a remarkable ability of taking advantage of any lapses in vigilance by livestockmen."

He urged livestock producers to watch their animals closely and treat cuts or scratches that could become infested. After several larvae have been collected from infested wounds and mailed to the Mission laboratory for positive identification, wounds should be treated with insecticide.

INSURANCE COMPANIES CAUTION AGAINST CAR OVERCROWDING

Overloading a car can drastically change road performance, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies warns. Acceleration is slowed, braking distance and effort — especially without power brakes — is increased and "cornering" characteristics are altered. Then too, a crowded front seat often makes it impossible for a driver to react quickly to changing traffic conditions.

The Association recognizes that most drivers will, at some time, operate a crowded car — as members of a car pool, on a rainy evening after a meeting, or just taking youngsters home from a birthday party. Under such conditions, drivers must exercise special care.

Safety suggestions are offered in a publication entitled, "Pile In." Single copies may be obtained free of charge from the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies at 110 William Street, New York 38, N. Y. or through the Association's member insurance companies.

Austin — It's elbow grease that cleans teeth — not toothpastes.

Apply elbow grease to the toothbrush and you have the best possible home weapon for oral hygiene.

Lavish claims for various toothpastes and powders can be and are misleading. The key to dental health lies in the conscientiously applied dental program — regular, thorough toothbrushing and a n n u a l checkups — rather than a cure-all toothpaste or powder.

Dentifrice — powder, paste or liquid used in cleaning teeth — miracles seem to follow much the same pattern. Each has its buildup only to fall into oblivion after a time.

Take the once-heralded ammoniated dentifrices — developed on the theory that their high urea content would help prevent dental decay. They failed to live up to their billing, according to dentists who carried out controlled studies.

Similarly, promises for the widely touted chlorophyll dentifrices have not been fulfilled. Nor do the so-called anti-enzyme toothpastes qualify for the claim that they reduce dental caries, according to dental researchers.

A late entry into the "miracle" toothpaste field is the fluoride dentifrice. Evidence proving its effectiveness is limited.

In the final analysis, no dentifrice provides a panacea for the continuing problem of tooth decay. A product may be developed one day by researchers which will have a built-in biological or therapeutic action. Even then, the teeth must be brushed frequently and well to cleanse them.

Timing is the essence in combatting tooth decay. Dentists emphasize that teeth should be brushed after each meal and each snack.

The secret of proper toothbrushing, they point out, is thoroughly cleaning teeth as often as you get them dirty. Watch what you're doing in the mirror; don't rely completely on "feel".

And when you're through brushing, store the toothbrush in a light airy place so that bristles are allowed to dry and regain their original stiffness.

Whatever powder or paste aid you use, remember, nothing substitutes for brushing your teeth with elbow grease. And if you are unable to brush your teeth after eating, rinse your mouth with water.

The boys have the opportunity to finish high school and go on to college. A vocational training program is arranged for those boys who need it. In 1964 the Ranch plans to build a new combination shop and library for the boys, providing an opportunity for both the older and younger boys to develop skills in working with hand tools and power equipment. This is a supplementary program to the regular Ranch training and academic program.

In 1964 the Ranch has planned to revise its present water and sewerage system. A more improved irrigation system has also been planned. Special events scheduled for 1964 include the Boys Ranch annual breakfast to be held in San Angelo April 2, a special registered horse sale May 23, a Blind Bogey Golf Tournament to be held in Midland, and the annual livestock Roundup to be held September 1-15.

The Board of Directors voted to change the close of the fiscal year from January 1 to May 31 and moved the date of election and installation of officers to the last two weeks in May.

Bob Muphey of Nacogdoches, noted for his humorous after dinner speeches, was the guest speaker. Muphey's home-spun philosophy was well received.

Public Schools Week Proclaimed By Governor

Governor John Connally issued an Official Memorandum recently, proclaiming the week of March 2-6 as Public Schools Week in Texas for 1964.

In the Memorandum, Gov. Connally said, "Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for 14 years by a Public Schools Week in Texas. During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special program to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers."

"Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge."

Panhandle Oil Plentiful

There are many areas in Texas where you can see Texas' fabulous oil industry in action. An excellent spot is in the Texas Panhandle.

In the short, 28-mile trip between Pampa and Borger, you'll find most all phases of this huge petroleum industry.

There are hundreds and hundreds of wells, not to mention refineries, carbon black plants and other structures familiar to oil and gas production.

Seeing so many facets of this industry in such a small area enables one to more fully appreciate the great influence and benefit this industry has been to the Lone Star State.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Austin — Imagine a disaster — tornado, flood or nuclear explosion — striking your community.

People are burned or wounded... public water supply and sewage is cut off... you are on your own... no help is available.

What would you do?

If you are one of more than 12 thousand Texans who have received medical self-help training, your chances of survival are increased.

The medical self-help program got underway in 1959 when the American Medical Association reported that during an emergency, cries for help would overwhelm the physicians available.

Further, they recommended that "the general public receive training and become proficient in the application of first-aid and self-help procedures."

Following this recommendation, the U. S. Public Health Service, under contract with the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization, undertook development of such a program.

The answer: medical self-help training, an 11-lesson course designed to provide the knowledge and teach skills so that families can take care of their own health needs in a national emergency.

The goal is for at least one member of each family in the United States to receive medical self-help training.

In Texas, the State Department of Health, the Texas Medical Association, and the State Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, are jointly responsible for the program on the state level.

Courses are promoted and conducted locally under sponsorship of county medical societies, local civil defense offices, the local Red Cross chapters and health departments.

Texas had the highest total of participants taking the course, nationally, during the last three months.

Suppose disaster strikes. Are you, your family and your community prepared? If not, contact your local or state health department for further information concerning medical self-help training.

Jewel Dunaway, Don McCullough Vows Exchanged Saturday

Miss Jewel Ann Dunaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gordon Dunaway of San Antonio, became the bride of Kelley Don McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McCullough of Santa Anna, in a ceremony performed at the Trinity Baptist Church in San Antonio at 7:00 p. m. Saturday, January 13. Rev. Buckner Fanning was the officiating minister.

Soloist was Don McCullough, accompanied by Mrs. Edward P. Andrick. Best man was W. L. McCullough, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Brad Riza, Cleburne; Lawrence Sapp, Bruceville, Texas and Mike Shaw, San Diego, Calif. Ushers were Gordon Dunaway Jr., brother of the bride, Ralph Chilton, Hayden Boland and Robert Cuyler, all of San Antonio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her gown of white deloused satin enhanced with Alencon lace. Styled with a fitted bodice along princess lines, the gown had classic long petal-point sleeves. Delicately beaded lace appliques defined the neckline, graced the bodice, and cascaded the full skirt. Multi gatherers in the back sent the skirt flowing into a Chapel Train. Satin roses at the back waist gave delightful flower accent. She wore a fingertip bouffant illusion veil with a pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered carnations, centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor was Joy Bunyard of Cleburne. Matron of honor was Marianne Chilton of San Antonio. Bridesmaids were Kay Hady of San Antonio and Mrs. Ken Ruff of Austin.

A reception was held in the Gold Room of the church. Jeanette Chilton of San Antonio, cousin of the bride, was at the register.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McCullough of Santa Anna, Mr.

and Mrs. W. L. McCullough of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bunyard of Cleburne, Mrs. Ollie Dunaway of Palestine, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Dunaway of Houston and Mrs. Frank Gilliam of Reagan Wells, Texas.

The couple will make their home in Waco, where both are attending Baylor University. Mr. McCullough is a graduate of Santa Anna High School. Mrs. McCullough is a graduate of Thomas A. Edison High School in San Antonio.

Local Sorority Members Attend District Meeting

Mrs. Montie Guthrie and Charlotte Moseley attended the quarterly meeting of the District VII Council of Epsilon Sigma Alpha in Comanche Sunday, January 19.

Mrs. Guthrie, District Chaplain, gave the invocation. Luncheon was served by the Comanche chapter. Mrs. Doris Gore welcomed the chapter from Stephenville, Brownwood, Santa Anna, Coleman and San Angelo. Mrs. Barbara Hickman of Brownwood gave the response.

Mrs. Marion Bledsoe, District president from San Angelo, presided over the business meeting. Fifty-one members from the district were present.

Mrs. Sharon Malone of the Iota Alpha Chapter in Stephenville, was crowned Beauty Queen, to represent District VII at the State Convention, to be held in McAllen in May. Mrs. Malone was selected by three outside judges.

Mrs. Bledsoe announced that Mrs. Harris of the Bangs Peaceful Valley Home for Children, had suggested that the district select another project for the year, since her home is now in a self-operating basis, due in part to the contributions from District VII. Mrs. Harris wanted the contributions to go to some other worthy organization, to be helped the way she was.

The State Social Service Project this year is Cystic Fibrosis and the State Project is the Rehabilitation Center in Houston. Just this month the daughter of one of the members in Brownwood succumbed to Cystic Fibrosis at the Rehabilitation Center. Her body was given for research, thus the district voted to contribute to this cause.

The next meeting will be held in Brownwood April 20th.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

THE EVER-RECURRING ISSUE OF TARIFF adjustments is giving sheep and cattle raisers the jitters this year — and for good reason. This is the year for trade negotiations at Geneva, when the big trading nations assemble to bargain on tariffs and trade restriction policies. And the United States has seen fit to place wool and meat, and their products on the agenda for possible negotiation as to tariff rates, quantitative restrictions, etc.

The Congress ordered that when such negotiations are set, affected people may present their views to a tribunal — namely, the U. S. Tariff Commission. That group has no power to do anything about the complaints that are registered, but is obliged to make findings and recommendations to the President, based upon the record that is made by the witnesses. The negotiators may then make use of the findings, or they may ignore them.

Many of us are deeply concerned about what may happen at Geneva. It is well known that many of our State Department and other trade negotiators are disciples of free trade. And they have the final word, so far as the U. S. is concerned.

AN AVALANCHE of evidence has been presented to the Tariff Commission in opposition to any reduction in present tariffs on wool, lamb and beef. I have appeared before the Commission on two occasions this year — once to oppose any reduction in protection on beef, lamb and mutton, and the second time to oppose any cut in the duty on wool and wool textiles. In fact, on each occasion, I urged the need for quantitative restrictions on the amount of such products that may be imported each year.

I reminded that nearly a third of all our woolen mills have been forced to close down during the past few years, because of the low-cost foreign competition in countries where wage rates, etc., are far below ours. And woolen mills continue to close at the rate of about one each month. Only a few years ago 167,000 people worked in these mills; today only about 60,000 are retained.

WE ARE HOPING, of course, that our negotiators at Geneva will take into account the very serious effects now being felt in this country of excessive imports of wool, wool textiles, beef, lamb and mutton. A very convincing record has been made before the Tariff Commission.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. ANEMIA

A favorite cubstone self-diagnosis of many human ills today is anemia. Although more often than not this sort of diagnosis is completely wrong, anemia is a serious health problem that cannot be treated lightly.

In a nutshell — if your blood has too few red cells or too little hemoglobin, you have anemia. Hemoglobin is the red coloring substance in the red cells.

The symptoms of anemia typically include fatigue, shortness of breath, lack of energy and a generally washed out feeling. However, the presence of one or more of these symptoms does not justify a self-diagnosis of anemia.

Anemia can have various causes — improper diet, poor absorption of food, excessive or chronic bleeding, injury to the bone marrow, certain parasites and infections. Whatever the cause, it isn't safe to make your own diagnosis and to treat yourself. Only a physician can determine what is causing your anemia, and can then prescribe treatment.

Predictions On Future of Guns In Maco's "Guns and Hunting" March Issue

The history of guns is a subject that has fascinated many writers, but you rarely find authors who are secure enough in their knowledge to make predictions of the future of firearms, based on developments of the past and current behind-the-scenes research. However, guns — past, present and future — get a close look by six experts in Maco's "Guns and Hunting" March issue, now on the newsstands (Maco Magazine Corporation, New York; 50c). From the first primitive attempts to build a firing mechanism more than five centuries ago to a full-dress field report on Winchester's Hydro-Coil, the new device that takes the recoil out of 12-gauge shotguns, "Guns and Hunting" describes in words and pictures the evolution of firearms. And it doesn't stop there. Based on knowledge of research with new materials, improved production techniques and unusual ammunition, it predicts the guns of the future.

More gun news in the March issue of Maco's "Guns and Hunting" includes "Breakthrough on the Firing Line" — information on a do-it-yourself kit that quickly converts a Colt .45 auto to a 38 Special — and back again.

"A Giant Collection of Pygmy Cannons" is an antique gun buff's feature in the new March issue of "Guns and Hunting." This illustrated article depicts shottable midget versions of full-sized cannons in complete detail. The rare guns shown, some of them built as long ago as the 16th century, are worth from $65.00 to $3,500.00.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read II Timothy 3:16-4:5 Faith comes from what is heard, and what is heard comes by the preaching of Christ. (Romans 10:17. RSV.)

The great concern of Paul was to bring the good news of Christ to all men.

Awaiting execution in Rome, Paul did not feel sorry for himself. As long as his life was spared, he carried on the work of "teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ."

Paul did not feel that with his own death Christ's work here on earth would be finished. Paul knew his work would end, but that if his witness for Christ were effective, others would take up the battle where he would leave off.

The same concern is before us that faced Paul: Who will carry on the preaching and teaching of Christ after we are gone?

If our Christian witness is consistent effective, there will be many to follow us who will carry Christ's gospel to the world "to make of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things."

PRAYER:

Our Father, we rejoice that though our mortal lives will end, Thy work will continue if we tell others the good news of Christ. Strengthen us, fill us with Thy power, and use us for Thy glory. We pray in Jesus name. Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley THE EYES HAVE IT

To obtain maximum eye health, one should start protecting vision early in life. Regular eye tests, including the examination of the inside of the eye, should begin somewhere around three years of age.

It is extremely difficult for a parent to know whether their child really sees well. As a matter of fact we don't know ourselves how well we actually see. There just are no standards for comparison. No way to tell how much the other fellow sees that we don't, for instance. How can you describe a certain color to a person who is color blind?

When a child begins to watch television, it is not unusual for him to see with just one eye at a time. He may not have developed the binocular vision which enables older children and adults to see things in three dimensions. Should the youngster be allowed to persist in monocular viewing, the lazy eye may soon forget its function.

As the child grows up and begins to utilize binocular vision, the next step in preventive eye care is to determine how well he sees. Surprising as it sounds, many people have no idea how well they could have been seeing until the eye doctor places a set of spectacle, or contact lenses in front of their eyes.

Why not find out today how normal your child's vision is?

The Food Outlook For 1964

The food news is good for 1964, says an Agricultural Extension Service consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reminds that protein foods — including meat, dairy products and eggs — will all be in ample supply. Production of domestic beef, coupled with large supplies of imported beef, point to an increased supply over 1964. Pork supplies also will be greater this year.

Broilers and turkeys will continue plentiful. Dairy products will be greater to some degree — just about enough to keep pace with the increase in population, the specialist says. Egg supplies will remain plentiful.

Pricewise, homemakers can look forward to many special features on beef and pork during the winter and spring months. Reports indicate that summer months will be a high-price for red meats, dropping again in the fall. Broilers and fryers will continue to be a regular feature at meat counters, with prices averaging about the same as in 1963.

Indications are that portin foods will be bargains during much of 1964. Careful shopping may be necessary to find these good buys, but the practice can help stretch the family food dollar, Mrs. Clyatt reminds.

Coast Guard Needs Former Military Pilots

Washington, D. C. — The Commandant has announced that due to the increasingly important role of its aviation arm, there are career openings available as Coast Guard aviators.

Applicants must be graduates of a United States military flight training program (heavier-than-air). They must have served on active duty as commissioned officers in the U. S. Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or reserve components thereof in the capacity of an aviator/pilot for a minimum of two years, and must have military or multi-engine civilian pilot experience within two years of the date of application.

Applicants must be less than 32 years of age and must be able to pass a flight physical, qualifying as a Class 1, Service Group I aviator (Navy flight physical standards). Qualified applicants will be offered a reserve commission in a grade not higher than Lieutenant, junior grade, for active duty in the Coast Guard. Date of rank will be the date on which the appointment is tendered. Prior military service is creditable for pay and retirement.

The first year of active duty will be probationary after which those aviators whose service has been satisfactory will be offered active duty contracts for two years. Those who do not integrate will normally be permitted to request two extensions of active duty for two years each following the initial three years, for a total of seven years active duty.

Former military aviators who are interested in and qualified for this program are urged to forward a complete resume of their flight background and experience to the Commandant (P TP-2), U. S. Coast Guard Headquarters, 1300 "E" Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., 20226.

1964 Farmer Tax Guides Available

The 1964 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide is now available, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist, at Texas A&M University.

This handy, easy-to-read guide contains information applicable to every phase of farm income tax reporting, Bates explains. It shows sample returns completely filled out with an explanation of the figures, he says.

Investment credit, one of the newer features of the tax structure, is fully explained in the new guide. It points out that a reduction in taxes paid for 1963 is based on tangible personal property and real property acquired last year. As much as seven percent of the cost of these items is allowed as a deduction but the percentage varies with the useful life of the assets, says Bates.

Another feature of the guide is an explanation of how to sell a farm on installments and examples are given to help clarify the procedure for computing taxable gain. Also an explanation of depreciation methods and the additional first year depreciation is given, says Bates.

Other sections of the guide cover the importance of good records, farm business expenses, farm inventories, casualty losses and thefts, an explanation on completing the return, and many more.

Copies of the Farmer's Tax Guide may be obtained without charge from the county Extension offices or those of the Internal Revenue Service. Bates recommends that a copy be kept handy for reference on tax matters concerning the farm.

HPC Gets Grant To Continue Science Institutes

Brownwood, Texas — A grant of $49,500 has been made to Howard Payne College by the National Science Foundation to support a six-week 1964 Summer Institute in Science and Mathematics for Secondary School Teachers.

News of the grant was received at the college in a letter to Dr. Guy D. Newman, HPC president, from John T. Wilson, deputy director of the National Science Foundation.

It was a confirmation of an intent to make such a grant announced by the National Science Foundation in December, 1962. At that time, the foundation made a grant of $49,200 for the 1963 summer institute at Howard Payne, and issued a statement of intent to grant similar sums for institutes in 1964 and 1965.

Only institutes with up to three years' experience which have received the highest scores on evaluation are granted three-year support, NSF authorities told Howard Payne officials. However, the Howard Payne institutes and proposal for continuing the program were rated so high, that the three-year support was promised.

The 1964 institute will be the seventh annual institute to be sponsored at Howard Payne by the National Science Foundation. In addition, NSF has sponsored several in-service training programs for teachers at the college, as well as institutes in science and mathematics for high level high school students. Dr. Fred Inman, chairman of the Howard Payne division of science and mathematics and head of the department of physics, will serve as director for the 1964 institute, which will be held during the first six-week summer session at the college.

Bears Not Legal In All Counties

Austin — Bears are not legal game in the counties under regulatory authority of the Parks and Wildlife Department. A bear killed November 17 in Maverick County on the Mexican border was taken in a county where bears are legal game from November 16 through December 31 under the General Laws.

"Not many bears roam in Texas," reports J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for Parks and Wildlife Department. "And those that do are usually seen in counties bordering Mexico. The animals sometime drift across the border from Mexico and return after a short stay or until they get chased back or killed. Most of the counties along the Rio Grande come under the regulatory responsibility of the Department," explained Phillips. "It is illegal to kill bear in these counties."

So, if you had in mind to rush out and kill a bear, check the laws first. You'll find that this animal is protected by law in most border counties. The season for hunting bears in counties under the General Laws ended December 31. In counties under regulatory authority, there is no open season.

Attorney General To Head Cancer Society Crusade

Austin — The Attorney General of Texas has accepted appointment by the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society to head its 1964 Cancer Crusade. Appointed during the division's recent annual meeting in Houston, the Honorable Waggoner Carr will lead 80,000 volunteers from all over the state in a Crusade which last year totaled $1,575,203.11 in contributions.

Mr. Carr was also elected to the State's Board of Directors and Executive Committee during the meeting.

The month-long educational fund-raising Crusade which gets under way April 1 marks the beginning of Cancer Control Month, so designated each year by the President of the United States.

Headliners At The Supermarket

College Station, — Beef and pork are the headliners at supermarket meat counters this week, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Some stores are featuring ham, and fryer chickens continue to be good values. Dairy products and eggs remain economical protein choices, the Extension specialist reminds.

There's plenty of frozen and canned fishery products to fill menu needs at reasonable prices.

Citrus fruit prices remain about the same as last week, and the quality is good. "Citrus is about the most economical source of Vitamin C on the market in fresh form now," the home economist reports.

Apples and bananas are in good supply, and there may be some specials on bananas soon.

At vegetable counters, winter standbys are moderately priced. Carrots, cabbage, onions, potatoes, winter squash and turnips will give top eating enjoyment for just a few cents a serving. Lettuce and celery are the tender vegetables in best supply. Check the quality carefully as you shop, suggests Mrs. Clyatt.

Texas Schools To Receive Chicken Allotment

Who would be absent from school when fried chicken is on the menu?

Fried chicken will be on the menu often in Texas school cafeterias taking part in the National School Lunch Program, for they will receive 2-430,000 pounds of frozen young chicken from the Agricultural Marketing Service.

This allotment is part of the 50,100,000 pounds of chicken purchased by the U. S. Department of Agriculture with National School Lunch Act funds. About 1,470,000 pounds of this chicken was bought from Texas processors.

The purchase program ended December 18 and all shipments will be completed by about February 1, according to the AMS southwest area food distribution office, Dallas.

Total USDA purchases represent about 7-1/2 servings of chicken per child for the 16 million school children participating in the National School Lunch Program.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service bought only U. S. Grade A fresh frozen, cut up young chickens ranging in weights from 2-1/4 to 2-3/4 pounds on a ready-to cook basis.

Birds sold to AMS must have been produced in the continental United States.

Local Methodists Continue Slim Lead Over Bangs

Quite a contest is in progress between the Santa Anna and Bangs Methodist Churches, in an effort to see which church can get the greatest number of persons in all four of their Sunday services, percentage wise and in actual attendance.

The local Methodist Church had one of their best days ever from the standpoint of attendance, the past Sunday. Last week the pastor, Rev. Bobby Weathers, set goals for the church to reach during the month of January, and they were broken in Church School, Morning and Evening Worship attendance. The MYF was well attended, but they did not reach their goal.

However, despite the wonderful attendance, the local church just barely managed to come out ahead of the Bangs church. In compiling the figures Monday, it appeared for sometime the score would be a 4-4 tie, but Santa Anna managed to put out a 5-3 score, giving them a 14-10 lead in the contest.

Rev. Weathers said, "They feel confident over at Bangs that next Sunday will spell a different story. They have indicated that the Santa Anna lead might be short-lived, as they are putting forth a lot of effort to get their members out. The contest is still wide open. Our 14-10 lead could be wiped out in one Sunday unless our attendance continues."

Comparative attendance for the two churches for the past Sunday is as follows:

	S. A. Bangs
Church School	113	123
Morning Worship	152	118
M. Y. F.	19	15
Evening Worship	88	92

Bids Asked On More Home Creek Dam Projects

Invitations to Bid were issued by the State Office of the Soil Conservation Service January 13 for construction of Sites 31, Jim Ned Creek Watershed and Site 4, Home Creek Watershed some 7 miles north of Santa Anna and 6 miles southwest of Coleman respectively. Principal bid items for the two floodwater retarding structures consist of the following: approximately 168,000 cubic yards of compacted earthfill material in the embankments; approximately 45-00 pounds of steel reinforcement in 103 cubic yards of concrete and 420 linear feet of 24" spun concrete pipe for principal spillway; salvaging and placing approximately 17,200 cubic yards of topsoil on embankments and spillways for establishing grass and approximately 9000 linear feet of net wire fence around dams and emergency spillways to protect grass. Bids will be opened at 2:00 P. M. in the State Office of the Soil Conservation Service in Temple on February 7. Webster McNeese, Project Construction Engineer with the Soil Conservation Service at Brownwood, will show the sites to prospective bidders and will supervise construction, according to E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist.

Easements for construction of the two floodwater retarding structures have been granted to the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District who has assumed responsibility for operation of the works of improvement after constructed. Maintenance items will be handled by the Coleman County Commissioner Court through a cooperative agreement with the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service. Thomas G. Rockenbaugh, Work Unit Conservationist at Coleman, said, Land treatment on drainage areas above the structures is provided through cooperative efforts of landowners and Soil Conservation District with technical assistance provided by the Soil Conservation Service.

Don't Mutilate VA Income Report Card; But Mail It Soon

Don't tear or mutilate that VA card for reporting income! Glyndon M. Hague, Manager of the VA Regional Office, Waco, Texas, says that too many income reports are arriving at the VA in such condition they cannot be processed through the automatic equipment.

The income reports must be filled out completely and returned to the VA by January 31, 1964, to avoid removal of the recipients' name from the pension rolls.

"A prompt, complete and neat return will avoid the risk of interrupted pension payments," Mr. Hague said.
