The annual search for "Mrs. Texas" — the State's Number One Homemaker — was announced today. The winner will have a golden opportunity to compete for the glamorous title of Mrs. America of 1964.

A contest to select "Mrs. Texas" will be sponsored in March 14 by the Fort Worth Press, Fort Worth.

Homemakers in the Fort Worth area may obtain entry blanks from the Fort Worth Press. Married women from other of Texas may obtain them by writing Mrs. America Headquarters, Suite 2307, Pan Am Building, New York City.

Married women 21 years old and over anywhere in the United States are eligible to enter. Deadline for obtaining entry blanks is February 17, 1964.

State champions and Mrs. America will be chosen for their ability as homemakers and for their poise, personality, good grooming and participation in community activities.

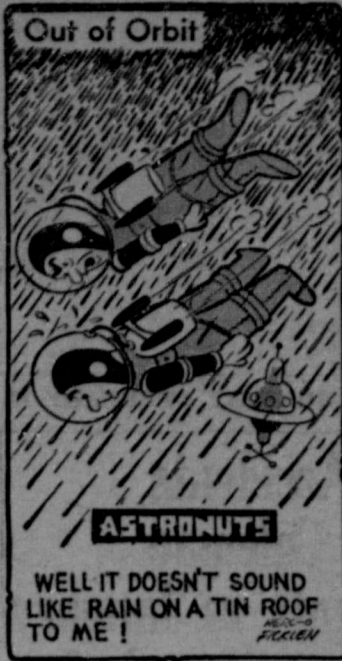

Mrs. America of 1964 will be selected from among champion homemakers representing each of the 50 States and the District of Columbia during the Mrs. America Pageant next April 2 to 12 in St. Petersburg, Florida.

The pageant will be held in conjunction with the St. Petersburg Festival of States, sponsored by The Suncoasters, an organization of leading businessmen.

Miss Ruth Brooker, managing director of Mrs. American, Inc., said Mrs. America of 1964 will win a dazzling array of prizes, including:

A week's all-expense trip for herself and husband to Curacao, in the Caribbean, for a gala government-sponsored "Mrs. America week" in that Netherlands Antilles island.

A free trip for herself, her husband and family to the New York World's Fair.

Five hundred dollars in cash and an opportunity to earn thousands of dollars in personal appearance fees.

A complete fashion wardrobe from nationally known Hess Department Store in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Miss Brooker said that each State titleholder also will receive valuable prizes, including:

An all-expense trip to St. Petersburg for herself and her husband when she competes in the National Finals.

A 16 mm color print of the film to be made of the Mrs. America Pageant from Lever Brothers plus a gift package of soaps and detergents.

A tiara presented by Kramer — the "Diamond Look."

Various Types of Insurance Coverage Discussed in Book

Various types of insurance coverage to best meet the risks that the small businessmen face are discussed in a new booklet announced today by Robert E. West, Regional Director of the Small Business Administration, Dallas, Texas.

The booklet, Insurance and Risk Management for Small Business, is number 30 in SBA's Small Business Management Series, and can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., for 30 cents a copy.

The booklet discusses errors commonly made in the management of insurance programs as well as the major provisions of different types of insurance and alternative ways of handling risks — such as noninsurance, loss prevention, risk transfer and self-insurance.

"Because insurance is a complex subject it is little wonder that many small businessmen are confused about its proper place in the running of their businesses," the booklet says. "Frequently, they buy too much or too little coverage, or they attempt to insure situations that might better be handled by alternative means. Often, they do not distinguish between true insurance and the other means of handling risk."

SBA's new booklet discusses functions of insurance, pointers of buying insurance, common insurance terms, main types and supplementary coverages, settlement of losses, life and health insurance and managing the insurance program.

It was prepared for the Agency by Mark R. Greene, professor of insurance and head of the Department of Marketing, Insurance and Transportation in the School of Business Administration at the University of Oregon.

The FFA In Texas Continues To Grow

By Clemon Montgomery Executive Secretary Texas Association, FFA

The Future Farmers of America organization is in its 35th year in Texas—and it continues to grow, having over 39,702 members this year. These FFA members are boys who are studying vocational agriculture in approximately 900 high schools in Texas. In their vocational agriculture classes, students are provided an opportunity to secure technical and scientific training in agriculture as well as to receive training in leadership, citizenship, and cooperation.

In 1950 there were 711 FFA chapters in Texas with a membership of 28,643. Today, we have 875 chapters with over 39,000 members. The largest growth has come in the last three years since the membership increased over 3,000. In a recent study it was found that 52.2 percent of the vocational agriculture graduates last year who were available for employment are now in full-time farming or in an agricultural related occupation. Approximately one-half of this number is in full-time farming.

Agriculture today is more than farming. It involves those who process and distribute many agricultural goods. Many people are employed in agricultural occupations such as engineers, scientists, management personnel, sales and service personnel, and educators. There are 60,000 desirable openings each year for farm operators, farm engineers, and full-time hired farm labor. This group needs a sound education in a continuing education to help keep them abreast of the rapidly changing technical and management aspects of farming.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
If you haven't read your tax instructions you better go to work. A lot of folks back off from having anything to do with preparing their income tax returns. You may need professional help in preparing your tax return, but your professional tax man can't do the job for you if you don't understand at least a few basic principles. You will do well to carefully study your tax instructions now, instead of at 11:30 p. m. on April 15.

Radioactive Fallout

Its Dangers & Effects
By T. G. Hollmig & Bobye Riney Specialists, Rural Civil Defense Agricultural Extension Service

College Station — When a nuclear weapon explodes on the surface of the earth, thousands of tons of dirt and debris are lifted into the mushroom cloud. This material mixes with radioactive elements produced during the explosion and forms radioactive fallout. This dust-like material is carried by the winds and can contaminate thousands of square miles downwind. The first particles of fallout usually require from 30 to 45 minutes to reach the ground and almost all has fallen within 24 hours. Two types of radiation are produced by the elements in fallout — Gamma Ray and Beta Particles.

Gamma rays are like X-rays and can penetrate deep into most materials including our body. When they do, they destroy or damage living cells. If enough cells are injured, that is if the radiation count is high enough, people or animals sicken, perhaps die, depending on the amount of radiation received. Gamma rays, however, do not damage or make food and water radioactive when passing through it.

Beta particles, the other hazard, can be stopped by the thickness of clothing. However, if these particles come in direct contact with bare areas of the body, severe burns will result. The major concern is to keep this type of radiation out of your body. For this reason, contaminated food and water, that is food and water with beta particles on or in it, should not be consumed.

Nuclear radiation is measured in terms of roentgens. Since a total dose of 200 roentgens over a 36 hour period would make most people ill and a dose of 450 roentgens will result in many deaths, it is apparent that avoidance of high intensity radiation is imperative.

How to protect ourselves from radiation will follow in this series.

Gift Tea Honors Miss Elaine White

Miss Elaine White, bride-elect of Mr. Kenneth Koecher of New Jersey and Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, was honored with a gift tea by Mrs. D. H. Moore recently. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Tom White, mother of the bride-elect and Miss White.

The table was centered with a white wedding bell hanging from a trellis, entwined with Lily of the Valley flowers and ribbons. The tea table was covered with a white linen cloth with each corner having a large Bermuda blue bow. The centerpiece was a lovely floral arrangement of white mums and Bermuda blue hearts, surrounded by white tapers.

Priceless Research Materials Given To Howard Payne

BROWNWOOD — A gift of priceless library material — both published and of an original research nature — has been made to McClelland Library of Daniel Baker College by heirs of a pioneer Brownwood family, it was announced by Dr. C. E. McCaver, administrative vice president of Howard Payne College.

The material, to be known as the Dobbs Family Papers, was given to the library by Misses Anna and Bess Dobbs and their nephew, E. R. Sims, Jr., of Midland, and will be housed in the Treasure Room of Walker Memorial Library at Howard Payne.

The Dobbs sisters, who now live in Austin, for many years operated a kindergarten in their home on Cottage Street here. Their father, the late Rev. Charles Holt Dobbs, a Presbyterian minister, was widely known in Central Texas, and was the recipient of an honorary doctor's degree from Daniel Baker College.

Some of the research material is not to be found anywhere else, Dr. McCaver said. There is an unpublished history of Brown County and its families. Also included is the life of the late Brooke Smith, Brown County pioneer, banker and financier.

A history of Daniel Baker College, with much material on the people associated with it in its early years, is another priceless piece in the collection, Dr. McCaver said.

The collection also included some rare books. Miss Bess Dobbs, the historian and writer, was well known for a number of pageants and plays she wrote for presentation by Presbyterian churches. The manuscripts are in the collection, as are a number of those which were published by the Presbyterian Board.

The sisters have long been interested in genealogy, and extensive material of this nature is included in the collection concerning the Dobbs and Hanna families, both well known with early days in Brown County.

Dr. Dobbs, a Confederate veteran, was the first president of the Presbyterian College at Round Rock in the 1880's. Later, while a pastor in Richmond, West Virginia, his sight failed him. He moved to Brownwood then and was associated with the Presbyterian work in this area for the remainder of his life.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D. Commissioner of Health

Austin — Eating out and grabbing a cup of coffee are part of the American tradition. Twenty-two million meals — roughly speaking — will be served in 16 thousand Texas restaurants this week. And enough coffee is drunk each year in the nation to float about 450 mammoth battleships.

The fact that you can go into the majority of the restaurants and eat a wholesome meal is an accomplishment.

This is especially so when you consider the 75 different communicable diseases existing in the United States — about 28 or more which can be transmitted through insanitary food production, processing, distribution, preparation and service.

One of the main reasons — among many — for this are the three-day short courses conducted by the Division of Public Health Education of the Texas State Department of Health for persons engaged in food preparation and service.

For more information about these food schools, contact your local or state health department.

Managers, supervisors and all other employees of eating establishments are principle participants. However, the same principles apply to all public and private foodhandlers — whether housewife or canner.

Discussions during the three sessions of two hours each deal with the causative agents of communicable diseases: virus, bacteria, protozoa and worms; the source of these organisms (sick people, people who are carriers, and sick animals); the mode of transmission from the source to susceptible persons; and the ports of entry.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that if people are properly vaccinated, and thereafter practice sanitation, personal hygiene and food refrigeration, the majority of these diseases could be greatly reduced or stamped out.

Do you plan to eat one of the estimated 105 million meals to be served in the nation or 2.5 million meals to be served in Texas today?

If you do, look for the restaurant's placard and personnel certificates showing their interest in a high standard of health by participating in the available training.

Time Running Out For Some WWII GI Loans

Many World War II veterans are still eligible for GI home, farm and business loans but time is running out, Glyndon M. Hague, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco pointed out.

For great numbers of World War II veterans the deadline date has already passed and the terminal date for all such veterans is July 25, 1967, under present law, the VA manager said.

He explained that each veteran can figure out his own GI loan deadline date by using the following formula.

Add ten years to the date of his discharge from his last period of active service in World War II. Then add an additional year for each 90 days active service in World War II. (Any remaining balance of less than 90 days cannot be used extend the deadline).

For example, Mr. Hague said, a veteran with two and a half years of active service who was discharged on January 10, 1946 would add ten years to that date, arriving at January 10, 1956. Then for each 90 days period (four in each year and two in the half year period), he would add a year or a total of ten more years, making his individual deadline date for GI loans January 10, 1966. Should he have served three full years, the extra two 90-days periods would have exceeded the maxi-

Austin, Tex. — Twenty-eight Democratic and 15 Republican candidates banged through the starting gate before last week's filing deadline in a dramatic beginning to a political year that opened with relative calm. A ruckus over the would-be U. S. Senate candidacy of McAllen Congressman Joe Kilgore, and Gov. John Connally's last-minute hesitancy about running for re-election, highlighted the filing-deadline spectacular. Kilgore decided not to run against U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Connally, acknowledging that he had considered retirement, went ahead and filed for a second term. Conservative Democrats boiled over the Kilgore incident, said it might result in a second Republican senator from Texas.

"IF YOU'D KEPT ALERT FER SCREWORMS LIKE THEM SCIENTIST FELLERS SAID, OLE BLAZE WOULD STILL BE ALIVE!"

Jack Cox, the GOP's 1962 candidate for governor against Connally, was a surprise entry in the Republican senate contest — at five minutes before deadline.

The Republicans fielded a complete slate for state offices (except judicial) and congressional races.

Connally ended up with opposition from liberal Don Yarborough of Houston, Mrs. Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Brenham and Rev. M. T. Banks of Beaumont, a Negro. Republican candidates for Governor are Jack Crichton of Dallas and Harry Diehl of Houston. Yarborough is opposed by Democrats John Van Cronkhite and Gordon McLendon, both of Dallas. Cox and George Bush of Houston, and Dr. Milton V. Davis and Robert Morris, both of Dallas, are the GOP senatorial candidates.

Here is the complete lineup for other statewide offices:

Lieutenant Governor — Preston Smith of Lubbock (incumbent) and Albert Fuentes Jr. of San Antonio, Democrats; and Horace Houston of Dallas, Republican.

Congressman-at-large — Incumbent Joe Pool of Dallas, Bill Elkins of Greenville, Robert W. Baker and Bob Looney, both of Houston, Democrats; and Bill Hayes of Temple, Republican.

Attorney General — Incumbent Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, Democrat; and John Trice, Waco, Republican.

Commissioner of Agriculture — Incumbent John White of Wichita Falls and Millard Shivers, Waco, Democrats; and John B. Armstrong, Kingsville, GOP.

Land Commissioner — Incumbent Jerry Sadler of Grape-land and Fred H. Williams of Dallas, Democrats; and John A. Matthews of Abilene, GOP.

Comptroller — Incumbent Robert S. Calvert of Austin, Democrat; and Dallas Calmes Jr., Houston, GOP.

Treasurer — Incumbent Jesse James, Austin, Democrat; and Fred S. Neumann, Beaumont, Republican.

Railroad Commissioner (full term) — Incumbent Ben Rainey, San Augustine, Democrat.

Railroad Commissioner (unexpired term) — Incumbent Jim C. Langdon of Austin, and Jesse Owens of Vernon, Democrats; and Don Flanagan, Richardson, GOP.

Supreme Court, Place 1 — Sears McGee of Houston and Jack Pope of San Antonio, Democrats; and T. E. Kennerly, Houston, GOP.

Supreme Court, Place 2 — Ruel C. Walker, Cleburne, incumbent, Democrat.

Supreme Court, Place 3 — Incumbent Robert W. Hamilton, Midland, Democrat.

Court of Criminal Appeals — Incumbent K. K. Woodley of Austin, Democrat.

Thirteen of Texas' 23 congressmen escaped opposition in their own primaries, but for the first time in history there will be a Republican to deal with in every district come November.

"INSTANTS" HOSPITALS
The State Health Department is keeper of some 92 storehouses of medical and treatment supplies (furnished by the federal government) which could be converted into hospitals almost instantly in the event of disaster.

Eleven more "hospitals" are expected to be added to the list this month, and a master plan calls for 450 of these facilities eventually. The State Health Department is directing the Civil Defense Emergency Hospital program, and encourages local authorities to provide the needed storage space.

APPOINTMENTS
Governor Connally appointed Frank B. Appleman of Fort Worth, a University of Oklahoma law graduate, to the Board of Regents of Texas Woman's University of Denton.

He then picked Myrlin O. Johnson of Harlingen to preside over the 107th District Court in Cameron and Willacy counties. Johnson replaces Judge Hawthorne Phillips, who resigned to become Attorney General Waggoner Carr's first assistant.

BUSINESS IMPROVES
The 1963 index of Texas business activity was up 5.4 percent on the average monthly level over the previous year, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Austin, Amarillo and Beaumont showed highest gains. They were followed closely by Corpus Christi, Houston, Fort Worth, Galveston and Waco.

No city showed a percentage decline.

Bureau predicted that 1964 will be another good year as far as personal income and business activity is concerned, if the federal income tax bill now in the Senate is passed.

CIVIL DEFENSE SPACES UP
Texas now has 1,800,000 licensed civil defense shelter spaces of a goal of 1,900,000, CD Regional Director Bill Parker told a conference here.

These seven cities have fully-stocked shelters, Parker said: Abilene, Baytown, Bryan, Big Spring, Denton, Odessa and Tyler.

SHORT SNORTS
The Texas Tourist Development Agency awarded its $250,000 advertising contract to McCann-Erickson, Inc., Houston advertising agency.

Texas Liquor Control Board collections for December amounted to $40,701 as the result of 609 convictions and 77 jail terms for liquor-law violations.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler ordered a full investigation when he learned that seven oil wells on a state lease in Gregg County had been plugged without his approval.

Texas State Teachers Association president, Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Corpus Christi, said public school teachers in the state this year will receive a salary almost $600 below the national average; teachers group has voted to fight for a salary increase when the 59th Legislature meets.

Governor Connally authorized removal of the three remaining Confederate widows now housed in the Confederate Home for Women in Austin to a "first-class" nursing home, where he said they would receive better treatment and at less expense to the state.

Banks in El Paso and Burnet were granted charters by the State Banking Board while application of Jacinto City

State Bank was declined, and action again was postponed on bids for two new banks in Midland.

Governor Connally got a new lighter cast on his damaged right arm, was pronounced in pretty good physical shape, but doctors said it will be six or eight months before he regains full strength.

Excise taxes collected on cigarettes in Texas last month came to $7,300,000, up from $7,200,000 a year ago, despite U. S. Health Service warning about evils of smoking.

Texas schools have been urged by the governor to give special emphasis to the state song, "Texas, Our Texas," during Public Schools Week, March 2-6, and Texas Historical Period, March 2-April 21.

Speed, drinking and wrong-side driving are three main factors in fatal traffic accidents, Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. told a traffic courts conference.

Warning Issued On Traveling Peddlers of Trees, Nursery Stock

The approaching spring season brings with it the threat of bogus tree and nursery stock salemen operating primarily out of the backs of pickup trucks, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White warned this week.

Commissioner White said his Austin headquarters is already receiving complaints from home owners who have purchased from traveling peddlers and the plants proved to be dead or dying. The influx is apparently heavier this year and an especially troublesome area has been pinpointed around Dallas and Fort Worth.

Teams of Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors have been deployed throughout the state to be on the lookout for itinerate salemen. Several truckloads of illegal and below standard trees have been seized, White said.

Buyers are urged by Commissioner White to buy only nursery stock which has a certificate of inspection from the Texas Department of Agriculture. This inspection certificate is required by state law but difficult to enforce on fly-by-night operators who slip in from out of state.

"I recommend that home owners buy from reputable local nurseries — or at least always ask to see the inspection certificate," said White. "Bargain plants often prove to be not such a good bargain after all."

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

We were visiting a friend who runs a boat livery on a Midwest lake when we saw a young fellow doing the worst job of casting we had ever seen. He was in a row boat about 100 yards offshore and was spending at least nine tenths of his time picking out awful backlashes.

"His first time out?" asked Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

"Second," said Tom, the liveryman. "He was out once before with a couple of fellows who knew a little about how to do it, and he seems to have caught the fishing bug."

We had forgotten him, and were chatting, when we heard a wild yell from out on the water. The young city man had the oars — and was frantically rowing in. He couldn't row properly, splashed enormously and progressed in a crazy zigzag.

"Gimme a landing net, quick! A big fish broke my line, and I want to go back out and get him!"

We looked at each other knowingly, and by almost superhuman self-control kept from laughing.

"Here you are!" said Tom, and thrust his largest net into the man's hand.

He tore madly back to the shore, got wet to above his knees showing the boat out, tumbled into it and started out in the same inept zigzag.

What's funny, you may ask, about an absolute duf at fishing making a complete fool of himself?

This: He was soon returning to shore — doing slightly better rowing since he wasn't so excited. He walked up to Tom.

"Got a scale that will weigh this fish?"

Tom had. He put the walleye on it. The scale showed exactly 13½ pounds. It was the biggest walleye I've ever known of coming from that lake, though not particularly outstanding for that species.

The city man put the fish and his rod in his car and drove off. It was some time before Tom could even say that he'd be damned. We could only stare at each other and shake our heads.

It seemed, from the novice's brief remarks, that the big plug had hung in such fashion that it held the walleye's mouth wide open, so that it probably was strangling — if that's what you call what happens to a fish that can't breathe. At any rate, it had stayed at the surface, so busy trying to shake loose the plug that it had let itself be netted.

In Caesar's time, the territory that is now Germany was inhabited by barbarous tribes that originally came from Central Asia.

Santa Anna, Bangs Methodists Keep Setting Records

Every week gets better in the attendance contest between the Methodist Churches of Santa Anna and Bangs. Each of the last four Sundays has been the greatest day in the history of the local church, with records being continually broken each week.

The past Sunday was the coldest day yet, in the contest to see which of the two churches can get the best attendance in their four regular Sunday services. Santa Anna came out the winner the past week by one point, getting 4 1/2 points to 3 1/2 points for Bangs. In total attendance Bangs had 471 while Santa Anna had 470.

Rev. Weathers said, "This record has been set because our people have caught fire, and have a significant vision of what church loyalty really means. This church will never be satisfied with anything less than their best again."

A new addition Sunday bring the total new membership to 34 since June 15. One baby, Deborah Avants, was baptized during the morning service.

CHILDREN TO SING
 The children of the Methodist Church will again sing at the evening worship service. They will meet in the sanctuary for practice at 5:30 p. m. The great crowds attending the evening services have been inspired by this group's musical offerings.

YOUTH CHOIR TO SING
 The newly organized Youth Choir will also sing at the evening service at 6:00 p. m. They will practice Sunday afternoon at 4:30. Rev. Weathers said he had never seen any group do better in such a short time. Great things are expected of this group.

CONTEST REPORT

Church	S. A. Bangs
Church	110 151
Morning Worship	159 180
M. Y. F.	47 38
Evening Worship	154 102
TOTALS	470 471

Santa Anna now leads the contest by 28-20 points. This week they gained one point in morning worship, 1 1/2 points at MYF and 2 points at evening worship.

Last week new goals were set for Methodist Youth Fellowship and for evening worship. Both fell by the wayside Sunday evening. Thus new goals are now announced for the evening services, with the goals for the morning services expected to be broken this week.

VISIT IN AUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Aldridge took Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vanderford to Austin Sunday for a visit with her brother, John B. Biggs, who had just observed his 91st birthday. Mr. Biggs is still in good health, does his own cooking and takes care of his yard work. They also visited two of his sons, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Biggs and family and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Biggs, then visited Mr. Aldridge's sister, Mrs. Jessie Little and family.

Returning home they came back through Johnson City, but did not find the way to President Johnson's LBJ Ranch, and the Little White House in Texas. Mrs. Vanderford said all the road signs had been taken down.
