OFF THE ROAD TO ZANZIBAR AND ON THE ROAD TO VICTORY

By Harry Browne
Editor, Freedom Magazine

Zanzibar's new government has provided the correct formula for attracting American State Department approval. All a foreign power has to do is to hang, burn and shoot a large crowd of respected citizens, kick out all U. S. diplomatic personnel, and swear allegiance to the Soviet Union. This will bring prompt U. S. recognition and — we presume — a generous helping of foreign aid.

The spectacle of America being overwhelmed by the Zanzibar rebels is good laughing material for everyone in the world — everyone but the Americans who realize it is their government that's the butt of the joke.

But is it their government? Do the American people really have any "say-so" in the conduct of foreign policy? Obviously not. There has not been a significant change in American foreign policy since the beginning of World War II — despite great public outcries.

No Improvement
Two different administrations have been elected on promises to "clean up the mess" — but neither fulfilled its promise. If Americans really control their government, why isn't foreign aid terminated and why isn't public disgust over incidents like Zanzibar, Panama and Cuba translated into effective improvements in policy?

One reason is that no clear-cut foreign policy alternative has been presented around which the people can rally. Cries to "do something" about Cuba are meaningless — for they don't tell what to do. The "firm stand" and the "Why not victory?" phrases are only words — they represent no positive policies that can be firmly demanded by the people. As a result, the State Department "experts" can throw the citizens a bone now and then — in the form of a slight change in policy — and declare that they've done their duty.

Plan For Victory
What is the foreign policy that we need? It is an end to all diplomatic relations and negotiations with all Communist governments.

Without the prestige, financial aid, and scientific resources of the capitalist United States, the Soviets would soon be seen for what they are — a feudal, totalitarian system that cannot even feed its own people, much less pose a threat to the rest of the world.

Communism is a menace today only because we have made it so. Without our aid, the Soviets would be forced to choose between greater freedom for the citizens (which means a lessening of armed might) or inevitable financial collapse.

New Hope
Without American officials begging Khrushchev — without American taxpayers subsidizing Soviet wheat — without the U. S. carrying on incredible disarmament negotiations with the world's worst arms — without the State Department groveling before the audit nations of the world — without these things, the captive peoples would have their first real incentive to overturn the Communist governments.

There is a strong, moral, correct foreign policy available: the breaking of all relations with all Communist governments. Let's start demanding it — RIGHT NOW!

The bid will be studied by the Housing Authority in Ft. Worth and will likely be awarded about the middle of next week. Construction on the project is expected to get underway by the latter part of April.

Roy Reese Low Bidder on Two Home Creek Sites

Roy Reese of Comanche, was apparent low bidder on sites 9 and 14 Home Creek at a bid opening in Temple March 9. Eight bids were submitted on the construction job with Reese's low bid of $108,515.01. Other items include approximately 3,800 lb. of steel bar reinforcement placed in 95 cubic yards of concrete and 400 feet of 24" spun concrete pipe for principal spillways; salvaging and placing 24,000 square yards of topsoil on embankments and emergency spillways for establishing grass and net wire fencing around dams and emergency spillways in the amount of approximately 12,000 feet.

The two floodwater retarding structures, sites 9 and 14 Home Creek, are located approximately six to eight miles southwest of Santa Anna in the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District. Weber McNeese, Project Construction Engineer at Brownwood, will supervise construction, according to E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist. Work is scheduled to begin within 20 days from the time the low bidder is certified and the award is officially made, Hughes said.

It contains a number of class rooms and is designed so the rooms can be opened up to make a nice size auditorium. It also contains kitchen and rest room facilities.

More Polio Vaccine For Local Residents

There was not as large a turnout at the Type III Polio Vaccination Center the past Sunday as was expected, so there is still plenty available for those who did not get the vaccine for some reason.

About 200 vaccines are still on hand. Some of them are at the Central Medical Clinic, where Dr. John D. Murrell will give the vaccination free of charge other than the 25 cent contribution for the cost. The other portion of the vaccine is at the Santa Anna Clinic, where Dr. R. W. McMullen will give the vaccine in the same manner. If you cannot make the contribution, you may still get the vaccine free of any charge.

Those who did not take the vaccine and feel the need of helping to curb the polio incidence in Texas are urged to get the vaccine within the next few days.

There is several hundred people in this area who should take the vaccine. Unless you have received all three vaccines you are not completely inoculated against the dread disease. The vaccine is there for you — it does not cost anything and it could possibly save your life or keep you from being crippled for the remainder of your life. What is your choice?

A modern 24-hour service station is in the process of being built at the old location of the Bailey Lumber Co. Plans are for the service station to be in operation by summer.

Texas Schools

To Receive

Apple Allotment

College Station — Apples for the students.

This is a new twist on an old cliché, as most Texas school children will be munching on apples purchased by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. All Texas schools participating in the National School Lunch Program and all schools receiving USDA donated foods will get the apples.

A total of 44 cars, about 1,552,320 pounds, of apples will be distributed to Texas schools and other eligible institutions through USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. The Texas allotment is a little more than 10 percent of the total 427 cars purchased by AMS.

All shipments are to be completed by March 31, so the apples will be consumed before the end of the current school year, according to John J. Slaughter, southwest area director, food distribution division, AMS, Dallas.

The apples were bought and of you will remember the family. He was also an uncle of John Richardson of Bangs.

Be sure and remember the annual Trickham Cemetery Association meeting will be held the first Sunday in April. Our own Rev. Pat McClatchey is to be the speaker. So, make your plans to attend.

will be distributed in states west of the Mississippi River, except for one lot of Michigan apples which will be distributed in that state. This limited distribution is following USDA's general practice of holding shipping costs to a minimum. Apples bought for school lunch include Delicious, Winesap, Newtown, Rome and McIntosh varieties.

Under the School Lunch Act, USDA contributes cash and foods accounting for about one-fifth the cost of the lunch program. Children's meal payments make up some 60 percent of the cost. Local and state sources pay the remaining 20 percent.

NATURAL RESOURCES

... basic factor in economic development

Many industries are established close to natural resources. One is pictured above — the Bestwall Gypsum Company near Quanah, where gypsum wall board and allied products are made. It is near Quanah because of large gypsum deposits there, and is a perfect illustration of the economic value of a natural resource to a community.

Employing 200 people, it adds payrolls, increases consumer sales, builds deposits in banks such as the one pictured left, and is a major factor in the Quanah economy.

This is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

It is because here is a manufacturer using a natural resource. National studies show that each 100 new factory workers in a community increase local personal income by $660,000, bank deposits by $229,000, and create 65 new nonmanufacturing jobs, besides increasing all types of consumer sales.

The manufacture of natural resources pays big profits to a community, and almost every community has natural resources subject to development. WTU urges every community to assess and evaluate its own natural resources as a basic step in economic development.

Radioactive Fallout

Its Dangers & Effects

By T. G. Hollmig & Bobye Riney
Specialists, Rural Civil Defense
Agricultural Extension Service

College Station — Livestock are affected by fallout in almost the same manner as humans, except generally, they can receive more radiation and still survive. External radiation caused by radioactive sources outside the body and internal radiation caused largely by consumption of contaminated food and water are the hazards from which livestock must be protected.

Livestock, as well as people, must have protection from gamma radiation by shielding or shelter. The shielding materials must be of sufficient density to absorb the radiation until its intensity decays. The best animal shelter is a one-story basement type barn, with a hay filled loft. A good tight barn of any kind would reduce radiation by half. Milking cows should be given the most protected place in the middle of the barn and calves should be with milk cows so they can suckle and reduce the discomfort of the cows' udders.

Other livestock should be placed in the best shelter available, even a shed without sides gives some protection. If building or shed space is not available for all livestock, those outside should be put in a yard near farm buildings, or grouped together since they could offer each other some protection.

It is essential that stock have non-contaminated food and water if we are to guard against internal radiation. Protection against this hazard consists of providing adequate cover for food and water to prevent fallout dust from becoming incorporated into these materials. Feed from covered barns would be safe, haystacks could be used if covered by a tarpaulin, or made safe by removing the outside layer of hay. If only a limited reserve of clean feed is available, it should be used for milk cows and other breeding animals.

It would be better to keep animals alive on contaminated feed and water than to let them die of starvation, since they might recover from effects of the contamination.

Dairy animals and the milk supply will be discussed in the next article.

Live Oak Tree Owners Watch For Caterpillars

Owners of live oak trees in East, Central and South Texas are warned by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, to be on the lookout for an "explosion of caterpillars" within the next few weeks.

For the past three years, the buildup has been heavy of the forest tent caterpillar, Malacosoma disstria, and its close relation, Malacosoma texanum. Warm spring weather is expected to bring out even greater numbers of the insects which have an enormous appetite for the tender young live oak leaves, Commissioner White said.

Homeowners are urged by White to examine their oak trees closely during late March and early April for signs of young larvae. The larvae are easier to control with insecticides when they are small and extensive damage can be prevented if sprays are applied early.

Homeowners who wish to protect their yard trees may use one of several commercial insecticides as the larvae begin to emerge. Local dealers or county agents can be of assistance, Commissioner White said. However, it is probably not economically advisable to spray range trees because of the costs, he added.

Additional information can be obtained by writing to Commissioner John White in Austin or from the local county agent.

Job Opportunities In Agribusiness

College Station — The opportunities for employment in agriculture have increased despite the reduction in rural farm population, according to

Dan Davis of the Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department, Texas A&M. He points out that as agriculture has become more scientific, many of the new jobs are performed in the city. These, having to do with the business side of agriculture, are concerned with industrial processing, marketing, transporting and financing agricultural products.

On the other side of the agribusiness picture, farmers and ranchers buy from agribusiness about everything that goes into raising their product. They buy seed, fertilizer, chemicals, fuel, equipment, medicine, and all types of services. In fact, Davis says, they rely on the agribusiness man for about everything except the land and their own labor.

Professor Davis suggests that high school students find out more about training needed for the many jobs in agribusiness through their high school counselors, vocational agriculture teachers, county agents or by writing to the College of Agriculture, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.

Raking Yard Part Of Spring Clean-up

Cleaning up your yard should be part of your Spring Clean-

Up job, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

You will not only make your home more attractive but clean yards throughout a community make it a pleasanter place in which to live.

After raking your yard, never start an outdoor fire unless you are sure it is permitted by local regulations. If you do burn leaves and other rakings, never start an outdoor fire on a windy day.

It is preferable to burn trash or leaves in a covered metal container.

As a precaution, keep your garden hose hooked up and ready for use.

BY TURNING DOWN a general $600 million a year federal pay raise bill (including a salary jump for Congressmen) the House last week registered two economy votes in a row. The first, which came a week earlier, was the defeat of a $300 million item for foreign aid, disguised as an advance (nonreimbursable) to the International Development Association. The salary raise was defeated by a 222-184 margin. I joined with 12 other Texans in voting against the pay hike. Nine from the Lone Star State voted for it. The bill was quite generous. It raised Supreme Court Justices, and other Judges, from $35,000 per year, which they now get, to $45,500; jumped the President's cabinet from $25,000 to $35,000; upped members of Congress by $10,000; and tossed in an average 4.2% raise for classified civil service workers plus a 5.6% average jump for postal workers. A little more than a year ago the Congress voted a $12 billion a year raise for all classified and postal employees, some of which just became effective in January of this year. As I pointed out during debate, the current deficit in federal spending is estimated at about $10 billion; and the recent tax cut takes more than $11 billion a year from revenue receipts. Moreover, by playing loosely with the taxpayers' money now the effect would be to encourage pressures for another round of pay raises in private industry, with resulting inflation. I maintained that it behooves the Congress to set an example of frugality and restraint at this time. This is on time to be indulging in raises for anyone.

Never put a poison or toxic substance in a container designed to contain food — milk bottle, soft drink bottle or cereal box. Teach your children there are some things they must leave alone. Never forget the curiosity of the child. He will eat or drink anything. If poisoning occurs in your home, three steps are essential — (1) Administer first aid to the victim; (2) Save the container and any of the poisonous substance to identify it; (3) Get medical help immediately. First aid involves getting rid of the poison or delaying its absorption. To get rid of the poison induce vomiting, by finger gagging after a generous drink of tepid water. To delay absorption, have the victim drink milk or raw egg. Vomiting should not be induced when volatile oils like gasoline or kerosene are involved, or when corrosives like lye or drain cleaners have been swallowed. Prevention of accidental poisoning requires a sense of responsibility and an awareness of possible hazards. Remember, your home contains enough unlabeled poison to kill your entire family.

Q and A YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

Q. What do I have to do to be sure my old E Bonds continue to draw interest? A. Not a thing. It's automatic. All E and H Bonds are continuing to draw interest. Q. Is it true that I am limited on the amount of Savings Bonds I can buy? A. There is an annual limit on holdings issued to one owner in any one calendar year of $10,000 in E Bonds and $20,000 in H Bonds. However, two persons as co-owners can hold together double each of those amounts. Q. I bought some E Bonds back during the war. Are they still drawing interest? A. They certainly are! All E Bonds issued between May 1941 and May 1949 have been granted a second 10-year extension. That now makes them 30-year bonds. Q. I know that chain letter schemes are generally illegal, but somebody had one the other day using Savings Bonds. Said it was all right because it helped the Government sell more bonds. Can you tell me about this? A. The Treasury does not condone such schemes, even to sell more bonds. In fact, issuing agents have been told to refuse to sell bonds where they know or suspect they are to be used for such purpose. This applies whether or not the letters or bonds are sent through the mails.

Plenty of Ashtrays And Big Ones, Too, A 'Must' in Homes

Do you want to keep your home fire safe? Then, remember this, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters: Ashtrays are a must if you have smokers in your house. Buy large ashtrays and be sure they are made of metal or some other fire safe material. See to it that there are plenty of them and that they are placed in every room where smokers go. One additional thought: empty ashtrays often and be sure that all fire is extinguished before they are emptied.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. Poison Dangers

Household chemicals are so familiar and we have used them so long that we tend to become careless. When we get careless, someone in our family can get hurt. Each year half a million people are accidentally poisoned. Many are children, but many also are adults who should know better. Some 1,700 people die each year from accidental poisoning.

We use household chemicals to clean our homes, launder our clothes and open our drains. We spray roses, control weeds in the lawn and exterminate vermin and pests with poisons. We take medicines occasionally without realizing that, while the prescribed dose may relieve aches and pains, an overdose can be fatal.

What can be done to help avoid accidental poisoning in the home? The American Medical Association offers some suggestions — Label everything. Don't depend on memory to tell you what's in a bottle. Keep all household chemicals, cleansing agents and polishes out of reach of children. Keep all medicines, including aspirin, in a locked or inaccessible cabinet.

Never put a poison or toxic substance in a container designed to contain food — milk bottle, soft drink bottle or cereal box. Teach your children there are some things they must leave alone. Never forget the curiosity of the child. He will eat or drink anything. If poisoning occurs in your home, three steps are essential — (1) Administer first aid to the victim; (2) Save the container and any of the poisonous substance to identify it; (3) Get medical help immediately.

Guides To Good Food Buys

College Station — This should be an easy week to find attractive meat items for menus, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist. Beef specials are widespread, and there will be some features on fresh pork. Smoked meats and poultry also are headlined.

Retail prices of eggs also have declined a bit. It's fortunate for those confronted with meatless meals — and the thrifty-minded as well — that this is the season for increased egg production. Attractive values are offered on a variety of cheeses, too. Nourishing meatless meals may be made with cheese as a protein source. Use it in casseroles, soups and sandwiches, salads and desserts. Cheese and meat supply the same amount of protein, ounce for ounce.

There's little change at fresh vegetable counters. Cabbage, broccoli, carrots, onions, lettuce, potatoes, sweet potatoes, winter squash and turnips are the fresh vegetables in best supply, but careful shopping is needed even when shopping among these plentiful. Quality is not uniform, but top quality is not always needed, so take advantage of lower quality at lower prices.

Grapefruit and oranges are the citrus fruit leaders, with apples also on the fresh fruit plentiful supply list.

BANGS AIRMAN OUTSTANDING POLICEMAN AT ENGLAND BASE

Alfred S. Stover To Be New Navy Recruiting Officer

Chief Petty Officer Alfred S. Stover, U. S. Navy, reported for duty last week at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, 1117 Fisk Ave., Brownwood, Texas. He will relieve Chief Fred A. Sifton as Petty Officer in charge of the Recruiting Station in May.

Chief Stover is a veteran of 19 years Naval Service. His last duty station was with the Navy Recruiting Service in Abilene. The Chief commanded the U. S. S. Minniska (YT-408) from December 1957 until January 1961. The Minniska is a harbor tug boat that operated in the Marianas Islands.

Chief Stover is married to the former La Verne Bible of Marble Falls, Texas. They will reside with their three sons Albert 3, Dudley 6; and Michael 4, at 1109 Center Street, Bangs, Texas. Stover is a native Texan and calls Johnson City his home.

Parks And Wildlife Department Crews Check Rio Grande

San Angelo — Parks and Wildlife Department fishery crews from San Angelo are now netting stretches of the Rio Grande north of Del Rio above the Amistad Dam site. Completion of Amistad Dam is a few years off, but preliminary fishery surveys are necessary now so adequate background data will be available for future management and stocking programs.

Every effort is being made by the Department personnel to create a fishery in Amistad that will rival the fabulous fishery that has been provided in Falcon Reservoir, located farther south on the Rio Grande. In the past few weeks, fishermen have been loading up on black and white bass, carp and the ever popular blue catfish at Falcon.

Clean Lot Can Make A Safe Place To Play

Cleaning up vacant lots should be a part of every community Clean-Up campaign, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The removal of rubbish and underbrush not only eliminates a fire hazard but also clears away a possible breeding place for flies, mosquitoes, rats and other disease-bearers. Clean vacant lots, in addition, provide safe play spaces for children. It's better for them to hold their ball games on a lot than in the street.

Are you planning a painting job in your home this spring? If you are a do-it-yourself painter, remember to observe these simple rules for fire safety, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

PLANNING A PAINT JOB?
Keep It Fire Safe
By Following These Simple Safety Rules

● If you are painting inside, keep a window open in the room in which you are painting. Vapors arising from some paints when they are drying can burst into flames if they come in contact with a spark. In addition, some vapors are toxic.

● Paint and oil-soaked rags should be thrown away after using or kept in a closed metal container. They can heat up from chemical action and burst into flames.

● Hang up paint-soiled clothing after using so that air can circulate around it.

● Keep paint and paint brushes away from radiators, heating plants and stoves.

● When your painting job is completed, throw away empty paint cans and brushes you do not plan to use again. Paint should be kept in closed metal containers.

Austin — For the first time in history, Texas Republicans will have an opportunity to express their preferences for the GOP presidential nomination in a statewide straw poll.

Republican Executive Committee voted to hold the presidential referendum on the May 2 primary ballot. The opinion sampling has no binding effect. Principal purpose is to boost the stock of Barry Goldwater and to lure restless conservative Democrats into the GOP primary.

Democratic Executive Committee offered no special vote bonus to keep their own partisans in the fold.

Leaders of both parties, in simultaneous meetings in Austin, declined to submit requested referendums on sale of liquor by the drink and curtailment of Mexican nationals' commuting to jobs in Texas.

Names of Goldwater, Nelson Rockefeller, Margaret Chase Smith and Harold Stassen will appear on the GOP ballot. Originally the names of Richard Nixon, William Scranton, George Romney and Henry Cabot Lodge were included, but they were asked to be omitted. Rockefeller wanted off. He was told he had to stay since he already had announced.

Democrats responded warmly to Gov. John Connally's call for all-out support of President Johnson in party conventions.

But they squabbled at length before accepting Dallas as the site of their September 15th state convention. Dallas finally won, 33-13 over Corpus Christi.

Connally made clear in a ringing speech urging Johnson support that as governor he plans to keep control of the state party.

"It is important... to choose people (as convention delegates) who will be as strong for Connally in September as they are for Johnson in June," the Governor stated.

Without dissent the Democrats agreed on Houston as the site of their June 16 state convention to pick national presidential nominating convention delegates. The state party platform will be written and a new SDEC selected at the September meeting.

Republicans will hold their June convention in Dallas and their September convention in Austin.

SDEC Chairman Eugene M. Locke of Dallas resigned at the Democratic meeting and was replaced by Frank Erwin Jr. of Austin. He had served as secretary.

Republicans adopted a resolution calling for a special legislative session on congressional redistricting, and decided to admit registered voters who did not pay their poll taxes (under new federal constitutional authority) to party conventions.

Both committees also got around to their required business: certifying statewide candidates for the primary ballot and selection of a place (Austin) for their May 12 meeting to canvass May 2 election returns.

STUDY HEARINGS PLANNED

The Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School will take its preliminary recommendations before college officials and state legislative groups during late May and June.

Chairman H. B. Zachry, still fighting a running battle with the capitol press over secret sessions of the 25-member committee announced the hearings. He said members will reach a tentative decision on recommendations at a meeting here April 17-18.

Committee has balked at telling reporters anything it has agreed on to date except a coordinating committee for all colleges and junior colleges.

A sub-committee on junior colleges reported a list of specific proposals, however, including a recommendation that no more junior colleges be elevated to four year status. They also recommended that the state pay all instructional costs of the 33 existing and future publicly-supported junior colleges.

Zachry indicated the Committee will propose a "stair-step" or easy-stages approach to achieving a first class system of colleges and universities. He hinted the Committee will make specific recommendations for financing the proposed upgrading program.

COMMITTEES MEET

The new steering committee of the governor's Committee on Aging, headed by Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales, held its initial meeting, as did the governor's 14-member committee studying electronic date processing equipment in use by the state.

TOURIST PROGRAM IN HIGH GEAR

The Texas Tourist Development Agency reports that national advertising is scheduled for summer issues of the New York Times and Chicago Tribune travel sections and for issues of Sunset, Redbook and Reader's Digest magazines. Some 36 travel writers from other states and Canada are due to take a week-long tour of the state in April to gather material for their columns.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court has agreed with lower courts that a state tax on gas pipelines is unconstitutional. Decision upheld earlier opinions that the dedicated reserve tax cannot be applied to pipelines holding long-term contracts to take Texas gas to out-of-state consumers. About $9,000,000 has been paid to the treasurer under the levy, $8,500,000 of it under protest.

High court permitted filing of three mandamus petitions involving election controversies.

It also heard arguments on former Fort Worth Councilman Doyle Willis' suit to get on the May 2 Democratic primary ballot as a senate candidate.

In addition, it scheduled hearings on a suit to keep former Bexar County Commissioner Sam Jorrie off the ballot as a House candidate. Both are challenged under a ruling that

ALL TIME RECORD SET IN TEXAS TRAFFIC DEATHS DURING LAST YEAR

Austin — Texas motorists, barreling along the streets and highways at a clip of 99,000 miles each minute, killed themselves at the rate of one person every three hours and 12 minutes to rack up the worst year in history for traffic tragedy in 1963.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that DPS Statistical Services officially closed the traffic death book for 1963 at noon Sunday, recording an all-time record of 2,729 motorcides.

"This tragic toll of lives was 308 or 13 percent higher than in 1962, and 129 or five percent higher than the previous all-time high of 2,611 in 1956," Garrison said.

"Even though many more miles were traveled in Texas last year than in previous years, the fatality rate per 100 million miles traveled increased from 4.9 deaths in 1962 to 5.2 deaths in 1963.

"We are shocked and saddened by this terrible loss of human life in our state, which was accompanied by untold suffering among an estimated 161,000 persons who were injured, and a staggering economic loss of $432,715,000."

In order to point up the magnitude of the traffic situation in an effort to bring about public awareness of its seriousness, Garrison listed these facts:

- The 312 motorcides in December 1963 was the highest number for any month on record. Second high was 303 in December 1950.

- Only one day during 1963, Tuesday, September 3, was motorcade free. It followed Labor Day when 22 persons were killed in traffic.

- On both Sunday, May 5 and Friday, December 20 there were 25 persons killed in 17 accidents.

- During 1963 there were 21 days with 15 or more motorcides. There were only 19 in 1962, 14 in 1961 and 13 in 1960.

- The worst accident in 1963 occurred on September 2 in Liberty County where 10 persons were killed in a head-on collision near Dayton. The last previous 10-death accident occurred on February 15, 1959 in Hidalgo County under similar circumstances.

- The estimated economic loss from motor vehicle traffic accidents in 1963 was $13.72 per second.

The Public Safety Director pointed out that the 13 percent statewide increase in traffic deaths in 1963 was reflected almost equally in rural and urban areas. The rural traffic death increase was 13 percent, while the urban increase was 12 percent. He added:

"The fact that this upsurge in traffic fatalities appears to be part of a current national trend — and I might add that many other states had their worst traffic year in 1963 — does not alter the seriousness of our situation here in our home state. "Certainly, with these facts before them, the people of Texas are challenged to do everything in their power to halt this trend which, incidentally, seems to be continuing into the new year.

"The records consistently reflect that two things stand out in general as the leading causes for serious traffic accidents — carelessness and willful or unwitting disregard for the laws of safety.

"Therefore, we wish to issue an urgent appeal to all Texans to charge themselves with the responsibility of doing a better and safer job of alert driving and thus bring down this terrible toll of lives and suffering and economic loss in our state."

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Unseen Consequence

Soil Bank Land Utilized

Austin — John Wood, district conservation chief, and Horace Gore, wildlife biologist, Brownwood, report the Soil Bank Land in Central Texas is fast being returned to the landowners.

This land consists primarily of farms which have been leased to the government and has been deferred from its normal uses from five to ten years.

Most of these fields had been returned to grasses or other cover crops. Farmers and ranchers are beginning to graze these long idle soil bank plots which have been a wonderful haven for bobwhite quail.

As these food and cover patches begin to disappear, quail hunters will probably notice a reduction in the quail population in some areas.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. ASTHMA

Asthma is a chronic illness in which the victim has difficulty in breathing. It is not contagious and, fortunately, most attacks of asthma are relatively mild, but if neglected, it increases in severity, and endangers health as time goes on.

A majority of asthma attacks are triggered by an allergy. It could be almost anything — foods, furs, feathers, pollens that start the flare-up. Sometimes a bacterial infection of the throat, nose or sinuses can touch off an asthma attack. Nervous tension sometimes is a factor.

In a severe attack, the victim appears to be suffocating. He becomes pale and turns bluish, perspires heavily. He is using all of his strength to breathe. Fortunately, these attacks can be relieved by your doctor or by treatment in a hospital.

Finding the allergen is the first step in dealing with chronic asthma. Occasionally it is obvious, but most often a series of tests and studies are required.

The important thing is to seek medical advice and counsel if you suspect that you have an asthmatic condition. Self-diagnosis is almost impossible. Only a physician can make an accurate diagnosis. If the allergen is something you can avoid, such as a dog or a cat, your problem can be solved with relative simplicity. If it should be pollen in the air, the case is more difficult. But it still can be kept under control, with proper medical direction.

Occasionally, an asthma patient will be helped by a change of climate, but doctors advise that you proceed with caution in making a cross-country move. You may develop a new allergy to things in the new climate which you haven't encountered before. If you must move, try to arrange an extended visit to the proposed new home to find out for yourself whether you feel better.

Asthma can be controlled in most cases. In almost all cases, a doctor can provide relief from asthmatic attacks, and by careful management reduce the frequency and severity of attacks.

Varietal Purity Important In Cotton Planting Seed

What is the single most important factor in purchasing cotton planting seed? The answer most universally agreed upon by agronomists is "varietal purity."

What is "varietal purity"? What does it mean to a cotton farmer?

Simply, it means the farmer is getting the seed of the variety of cotton for which he is paying. He can be assured of getting genetically pure seed that will, under normal weather conditions, have the same growth habits, and produce a uniform product at production levels the variety is capable of producing.

"Varietal purity" guarantee comes only in certified or registered seed.

In addition, the farmer who plants certified or registered seed can be assured:

1. The seed will be graded.
  2. The seed will be treated.
  3. The seed will be tested.
- And the farmer can be sure the seed has been grown under rigid standards, and that the seed can be traced directly back to the originator. The certified tag is "the tag on the bag that guarantees the breeding in the seed". Ask for certified cotton seed at your gin or from your seed dealer.

Texas Woman Is Named to President's Consumer Committee

A Texas home economics leader, Mrs. Florence W. Low of Texas A&M University, has been appointed to serve on the President's Committee on Consumer Interests.

Chairman for the committee is Mrs. Esther Peterson, an assistant Secretary of Labor and a recently appointed Presidential Assistant. Committee members are representatives of the federal departments and agencies most concerned with consumer affairs.

President Johnson, in his special message on consumer interests recently, focused attention on four major areas: Increasing consumer protections, increasing information for consumers, assuring the consumer's free choice, and giving the consumer an adequate hearing.

"The American housewife — the major buyer of consumer items — cannot help but feel confused, and too often unheard, as she seeks the best value for the dollar she spends," the President said. "This government is pledged to come to her aid," he said.

Mrs. Low, assistant director for home economics with the Agricultural Extension Service, is president of the American Home Economics Association. She directed the "Family Life Abroad Tour" to Russia and Scandinavia last summer under the sponsorship of the national home economics group, and participated in the Tenth International Congress of Home Economics in Paris, France, prior to the tour.

A native of Troup, Texas, Mrs. Low has been identified with the Extension home economics program in Maryland and Texas for a number of years.

Cheap Cotton Planting Seed May Be Expensive

The Bible advice that you'll reap what you sow certainly applies to cotton planting seed. If you plant better seed, you expect to harvest a better crop. It's as simple as that.

Trying to save money by buying cheap cotton seed or using seed of unknown origin is false economy. The cost of seed represents only two percent of the total production costs of a crop. No gambler would accept odds like that.

Investing in certified cotton seed is the best and cheapest insurance a farmer can have to assure him of varietal purity. All the hard work, expense, time and investment involved in producing a crop can be to no avail if the seed is of questionable value.

Why certified cotton seed. This is the only assurance a farmer has that the seed is genetically pure and of high quality; the farmer knows for certain who produced the seed and under what standards. It is produced under rigid specifications.

The certified tag assures the farmer of varietal purity. Certified cotton seed is grown from the originator's seed under the rules and regulations of the State Seed and Plant Board, and inspected by qualified and impartial inspectors of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

In short, it's the certified tag on the bag that guarantees the breeding in the seed.

Farmers who like to save cotton seed each fall for planting seed the next spring, should follow these recommendations:

1. Always save seed from registered or certified seed. This assures you varietal purity.
2. Avoid mechanical mixtures at the gin.
3. Check moisture content immediately. If the seed are more than eight percent they should be aerated immediately. High moisture sometimes causes the development of free fatty acids, and in all cases will cause the seed to heat and lose germination.
4. Have a germination test made after the seed cure.
5. All planting seed should be treated before planting. Many farmers find it convenient to have the seed delinted (acid or mechanical) before treating.

Summer Good Time To Have Heating Plant Serviced

Now that the winter heating season is over, it is smart to make an early date with your service man to have the heating unit in your home put in shape for next fall.

June, July and August are slack months for service men, and they will be glad to check your equipment while they have time on their hands.

A heating unit in good repair helps keep your home fire safe. The National Board says every tenth fire in the United States is caused by defective heating plants.

Tips From The TACKLE BOX

By B. F. Gladding
A Boost For Bobbers
IT'S AN EXCITING MOMENT when a bobber suddenly ducks under but a bobber can do much more than merely signal bites. This simplest of all fishing devices can add to your catch when used to full advantage.

One thing it can do is take the "still" out of still fishing. With either bait casting or spinning equipment you can lob out bobber and bait long distances, from shore or from a boat. Cast as far as possible but don't let the bobber rest for long. Instead, gently reel in a few feet of line every few moments. This causes the bait to drift slowly along near bottom and provides just enough action to attract the attention of all nearby fish. Since the moving bait threatens to escape, alerted fish are inclined to dart in and grab it in a hurry.

When the breeze is favorable, the same stunt can be worked in reverse. Simply drop the bobber near the boat, then let the wind carry it slowly away as you pay out line. A spinning outfit is best for this, for on light monofilament a bobber can be drifted almost as far as it can be seen. By constantly probing new spots as it drifts slowly along, it greatly increases your chance of a bite.

Underwater weed beds are favorite lurking places of big bass, pickerel and pike, but a live minnow lowered directly into the weeds seldom attracts attention. Much better is to snap on a bobber so that it holds the struggling minnow just above the weeds and then let the bait tow the bobber around. Those big weed dwellers will have a hard time resisting a minnow which dangles within such easy reach.

Trout often lie in overhanging spots which can't be reached by casting but if you snap a small bobber to your line, the current will carry it, and your bait, straight to the waiting fish. Wise trout fishermen usually have a tiny plastic bobber tucked in their fishing vest for just this special purpose.

Bobbers aren't just for kids and beginners. They can help put fish in the creels of the best of fishermen!

Any fishing questions? Send them to me, in care of this newspaper.

Bluebonnets Should Be Planted in Fall of Year

Austin — Each Spring as the Texas countryside becomes bathed in the beauty of Bluebonnets, Texas Highway Department mail grows heavy with requests for information. Hundreds of people in every section of the state want to know about the planting and care of the world famous Texas State Flower.

But, by then it is too late to plant bluebonnets for enjoyment during the current season. So the Texas Highway Department has compiled the following information which will assure the "green thumb" crowd the opportunity to include Bluebonnets in their gardening plans for 1965.

The Bluebonnet blooming date is influenced to some degree by the weather. In general, the first flowers open about March 15 in the southern part of the state, and in the more northern section the first flowers may not show before May 1. The length of the flowering period is about one month.

Seed mature about six weeks after the last flowers fade. These should be harvested before the seed pods explode and scatter the seed. Seed may be planted immediately after harvest or may be stored. However, seed should be planted prior to November 1, so that they may germinate and grow throughout the winter months. During this period a heavy root system and a sturdy plant is developed to produce an abundance of spring flowers.

Bluebonnet seed can be obtained from seed distributors.

If orders are placed well before the crop is ready for harvest. The Texas Highway Department harvests seed from time to time for its own use by mowing the plants when the seeds are mature, and immediately distributing them thinly over the area to be seeded. No seed is retained for the ensuing season by the Highway Department.

It is extremely important to inoculate Bluebonnet seed prior to planting. This procedure is necessary because Bluebonnets require the presence of certain bacteria in order for its root system to form the nodules (knots) on its roots and to carry on its nitrogen fixation process.

These bacteria cultures, call inoculants, may be purchased through commercial seed stores. Be sure that the seedsman is told that the inoculant is for Bluebonnets. Dampen the seed with a small amount of water and mix the inoculant by stirring it into the wet seed. Plant the seed soon after inoculation.

Bluebonnets grow best in soils that are sweet (contain lime), moderate in fertility and most important of all, well drained.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read Luke 5:17-26
Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for

Christ's sake hath forgiven you. (Ephesians 4:32.)

After a man told a lie about his friend, the false news spread all around. Soon the liar was ashamed of what he had said and went to his friend to ask for forgiveness.

In reply, his friend took him to a high mountain and opened a pillow filled with feathers. A strong wind came and blew the feathers all around the countryside. Then he said, "I'll forgive you if you gather together these feathers." But his friend was not able to collect them.

God's forgiveness is not dependent upon our undoing all the harm and damage our sins have caused. Therefore, should we not all the more gladly give thanks unto God for His forgiveness? It is for Christ's sake that He forgives us.

It is when we are repentant that God forgives us our sins and blot them out. However, if we expect God's forgiveness, we must be willing to forgive one another, as Christ has commanded.

PRAYER:
Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Christ, who gave His life for us as a ransom. Teach us Thy lovingkindness so that Thy kingdom may enter our hearts. Through love make our earth a paradise for Thy honor and glory. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I give thanks unto God for His forgiveness.
