

From a story in the Dallas Morning News for Sunday, January 3: "Davis S. Jackson, a stock specialist, has been nominated for election as chairman of American Sock Exchange's board of governors."

This is just what we have been looking for. As a bachelor, we always have more socks with holes in them than otherwise, and this American Sock Exchange might solve our problem. Wonder what the exchange rate for holey socks is?

Now that we have cast stones at a member of the competition, we better mention a couple of our own recent boo-boos.

For instance, last week in this column we carried an item about one of the letters to Santa we received, one that asked for a duddle berrill fourten, only in our version, it came out "dubbl" which was nearer to what was requested, but wasn't what the letter said.

And then a couple of weeks ago, we were tipped off by one of our astute tipper-offers that there would be an eclipse of the Moon, a total one at that, during the coming week. Our tipperoffer said that the ecipse was to be on Friday, December 18, but we had to be sure, so we consulted the Texas Almanac, which is always right about by Harold Pittard, vocational Steve Valdez, 2. There was once a very powerful and important African king, who had a huge gold throne built as a symbol of his greatness. As he travelled from city to city in his kingdom, holding court, the throne was toted around with him and set up wherever he happened to be. After a while, however, the king grew to old to make these trips, so the gold throne was stored in the attic of the big grass house that served him as palace. Rural Routes

Postmaster John C. Gregg today appealed to postal customers on rural routes to help their rural carriers make mail deliveries during bad winter weather.

Questions At The New Year

The beginning of a new year is a traditional time for looking back across the past and making plans for the future.

We would like to have the people of Santa Anna do this in respect to some very important questions facing our city.

Questions such as: Which way are we going? The answer to that would seem to be obvious. We are going forward toward a better city.

But are we? During the year just past, Santa Anna added no new industry of great importance. And we lost one that poured an annual payroll of more than $100,000 into the economy of Santa Anna.

Is this progress? We don't think so. It is the echo of the situation that is fac- expert, recalled a story he had ing cities the size of ours across the country. The gradual loss of once heard from a lecturer: industry, of income-producing business, and the inevitable descent

"You ain't seen nothin' yet." But for the present, the problem has been kept within reasonable bounds. Pilots are carefully schooled in holding sonic booms to a minimum. And citizens are coming to realize that the boons are caused not by hot rodders in the sky but by vital defense training. The message is getting across that the boom is of the testimony of a scientific a boon in disguise, that this man-made thunder is not the irksome sound of mischief but the reassuring sound of security.

SPORTS

Local Hoopsters Lose Six Games During Past Week

The past week has not been kind to the fortunes of Santa Anna's basketball competitors. Last week, the boys and girls participated in the Early Tournament. Drawing Mullin as the first round opponents, the boys went down to a 33-30 defeat, as a close a game as they have played this season, while the girls were dropping another three-point margin heartbreaker to the same school, 34-31.

Leading the local aggregation in scoring were Bob Rutherford with 10, for the boys, and Lois Simmons, with 25, for the girls. Rutherford was high point man for the contest, as Mullin's top scorer could amass only eight points. And Miss Simmons likewise led the game scoring for the distaff side of the picture, with Mullin's Annetta Murray as runnerup with 20 tallies.

In the consolation round, the boys and girls teams both met their counterparts from Brookesmith, with the boys losing 43-36, and the girls coming out on the short end of a 31-17 score.

Eugene Davenport led local scoring efforts for the boys with a dozen points, but Brooke-smith's Joe Henderson took game honors with 14, followed by Roger Petty with 12.

In the girls' contest, Lois Simmons led local efforts with nine points, while Donna Miller was pouring in 13 for the opponents. Lose To Bangs Here
