Point Rows

Well, it happened again! Every time we put something in this column, someone comes along and lets us know that it ain't necessarily so. For instance, we got involved in a major debate about the oldest native resident in Santa Anna, and we aren't sure we have heard the last of that yet. Then we had an item about the smallest towns in Texas, only to be indignantly informed that we had a town right here in Coleman County—Whon—that has only one citizen, which is about as small as you can get. We even got put down by a secondgrader. We had asked why it was that all hurricanes are given women's names, intending to be a trifle sarcastic. Along comes this wiseguy secondgrader and informs us that it is only natural for them to be named for the ladies, since who ever heard of a himicane? We don't mind playing straight man, as we said at the time, but it hurts to be topped by an eight year old.

Now comes Judge Joe Dibrell, who deposes and says that, in regard to the item in this column last week about the Judge and some disappearing signs, that it was his brother who was the guilty party, and besides, the statute of limitations has run out on that particular crime.

If he asks, we are not going to tell Judge Dibrell where we got our information. We will be so vague that he will never figure out our source of information. Like for instance, we might say that it is one of the veterinarians in Coleman on the school board. No one could guess who we mean. You have to be subtle in this business.

And if Judge Dibrell decides to sue us for libel, we are going to demand a change of venue.

Several Colemanites are making it tough on us poor column-writers. Bob Griffis, Coleman County's answer to Hugh Downs, just has no sense of appreciation. We gave him a nice mention in last week's column, and he got downright huffy about it. You just can't help some people without them resenting it. Anyway, at the Dublin-Santa Anna game the other night, Bob would add after every statement he made: "That's off the record."

So we can't report the wild weekend he and Curtis Roberts were planning to have in Dallas, since they were on the way to Big D for the Texas-Oklahoma festivities after taping the Santa Anna game. And we can't mention all the nasty remarks Bob made about his sponsors as he did their commercials during the game. Nor can we mention the picturesque phrases he used when his car broke down in Dublin and he had to phone back to Coleman for help.

We wish we could tell you about these things, but Bob said that they were off the record, and we respect his wishes.

Probably the most publicized member of the LBJ team to come along in some while is the President's new press secretary, Bill Moyer, who is a licensed Baptist minister. Did you know that Moyer once applied for the position of associate pastor of First Baptist Church in Abilene, and was turned down?

We guess Abilene's loss is Washington's gain. Or vice versa.

We wonder if the report we heard is true—that the doctors who operated on the President recently were amazed to find the letters "LBJ" stamped on the gall bladder when they removed it.

Knowing a little about Lady Bird's business acumen, we bet she demanded a receipt for it before she let the doctors remove it.

Congress is in a big hurry to adjourn. We don't understand politicians. First they are so all-fired anxious for the voters to send them to Washington, and when they do, they are anxious to get away.

Next Wednesday Deadline For Filing Of Appellant Brief In Election Appeal

Appellants briefs, the statements of why those appealing the case feel that the decision of the lower court should be changed, are due to be filed in the appeal of the suit involving the contest of the election whereby Santa Anna voters approved bonds for needed improvements in the sewer and water systems, must be filed with the 11th Court of Civil Appeals, in Eastland, no later than next Wednesday, October 20, according to Homer Smith, Clerk of the Court.

Attorneys for the City have until the time for the hearing of the case, on Friday, November 12 to file answer to the appellant brief.

On the hearing day, one hour and 15 minutes will be allotted to hear the appeal. Each side is allowed 30 minutes, with the appellants going first. Then the appellants are allowed 15 minutes for rebuttal. The three judges then study the documents filed in the case, and announce the decision at a later date.

The election, which passed by six votes, approved issuance of bonds to finance construction of sewer and water system improvements. The state health department has informed the City that the present sewerage treatment facilities are not acceptable, and improvement must be made or action will be taken to force the City to make the required additions, which would cost the taxpayers and utility users much more than under the plan approved by the voters. The water system improvements will guarantee Santa Anna adequate water for dry years, and insure enough water for future growth.

Future Homemakers Hold Monday Meeting

The Santa Anna chapter of Future Homemakers of America met Monday night, October 4, in the Santa Anna High School auditorium. Anita Ellis, president of the local chapter, was in charge of the meeting.

Loretta Broadway and Pam Garrett were chosen to assist with registration at the Area 4 FFA meeting, to be held in Stephenville in the spring.

Reports were given by the chairmen of various committees. Pam Garrett, project committee chairman, listed the projects for the year. Norma Jo Eubank told of plans for the year's programs. Chapter mothers and other visitors were recognized.

The program for the evening was introduced by Norma Jo Eubank. First on the program was the initiation of 11 new members, including Dorthea Carpenter, Paula Copeland, Beth Dean, Janice Langford, Judy McIntire, Frances Oakes, Clea Pollock, Leta Pollock, Mary Jo Quinn, Donna Strickland, and Emily Wells.

Mrs. Vernon Herring presented a program on flowers for various occasions.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee, made up of Linda Abernathy, Wanelda Blount, Lynda Brannon, and Loretta Broadway, to about 40 persons attending the meeting.

Local Citizens Invited To Austin October 24

Sunday, October 24, has been designated as "See Your State Capitol Day" by state house speaker Ben Barnes. Barnes has particularly invited persons from the 64th District, he said. He represents this district in the state legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will be host to all 64th District visitors and will serve refreshments.

"I am extremely hopeful that a large group of families from Coleman, Runnels, Brown, and Comanche Counties will take this opportunity to visit the State Capitol," Barnes said. "I think it will be interesting to all, and should be particularly educational to school children, many of whom have not had an opportunity to take a look at state government."

SANTA ANNA 4-H CLUB MEETING SCHEDULED

The Santa Anna 4-H Club will meet in the City Library Building on Thursday, October 14, with the meeting scheduled to start at 7:00 p.m.

Big Turnover This Week In Catfish Division Of Jaycee Fishing Contest

There was lots of activity in the catfish division of the Santa Anna Junior Chamber of Commerce Annual Fishing Roddeo this week.

On Friday, October 8, Bill Day who had been holding both first and second spots in the catfish competition, brought in another big one, this one weighing in at 11 pounds 14 ounces, to take the lead. But the lead didn't last long, as Alfred McCrary took over first place with a 14 pound 10 ounce entry.

McCrary held first place for only four days, as C. C. Stanley brought in a real lunker, a big yellowcat that weighed in at a whopping 20 pounds eight ounces. The big one was caught in Home Creek, on a drop line, using red worms for bait.

Day's latest entry was also caught in Home Creek, using the blood bait; and McCrary's entry was taken from Brownwood Lake on shad.

Clarence Gilbert still leads the bass division, with a six pound 10 ounce entry, with Woodrow Nell in second place with a five pound eight ounce bass, and Mrs. Gilbert in third place with an entry weighing an even five pounds.

TOMMY R. POLLOCK
New Missile Information Man

Army Information Man From Here

Private First Class Tommy R. Pollock, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pollock, of Santa Anna, is the public information and community relations specialist for the 5th Missile Battalion (NIKE-HERCULES), 517th Artillery, Dyess, Air Force Base, Abilene.

Private Pollock, a 1961 graduate of Santa Anna High School, joined the Army in December of 1964. After completing basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana, he was assigned to the 5th Missile Battalion, in Abilene, as a clerk typist. In July of 1965, he was sent to the Armed Forces Defense Information School, at Fort Slocum, New York, where he took a course in basic military journalism.

Following graduation from the school, in September, he was returned to the Abilene missile unit as the public information specialist.

Among his duties, Private Pollock edits a monthly newspaper for the Battalion personnel, writes for a regional Army newspaper covering the South Central United States, and a national Army newspaper.

Private Pollock is married to the former Anita Broadway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Brusenhan, Jr., of Rockwood. She is a registered nurse, a 1964 graduate of Scott and White School of Nursing, in Temple. She is now employed in the hospital of the Abilene State School.

Fort Worth Stock Show Lists Ready

Announcement of the publication of the premium list for the 1966 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, in Fort Worth, was made this week. The premium lists are being sent to all previous exhibitors at the Fort Worth show.

Anyone wishing a copy of the 1966 premium list may write to the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Post Office Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas.

Prize money for the livestock show, rodeo, and horse show, will total about $229,000. There have been several changes in the 1966 premium list, and all prospective exhibitors are urged to study it thoroughly by a spokesman for the show.

The Fort Worth event will begin on January 28, 1966, and will continue through February 6. Deadlines for entries are December for cattle, horses, sheep, and swine, and January 15, 1966 for poultry, rabbits, and pigeons.

The United States Civil Service Commission has determined the top scoring applicants in the testing to obtain eligible applicants for the position of Postmaster of the Santa Anna Post Office.

Under the combined Civil Service and Presidential appointment system used for providing postmasters for the smaller Post Offices, all applicants must take the Civil Service examination, and the Civil Service Commission certifies the top three ranking scorers to the Post Office Department. The appointment is then made by the President, usually on recommendation of the United States Representative from the area, if that official is of the President's political party. Then President's nomination is then sent to the United States Senate, where it must be confirmed, which in the overwhelming majority of such cases, is a formality.

Ten persons applied for the Santa Anna Post Office Postmastership, including the acting Postmaster, John C. Gregg, and Alton M. Benge, Albert F. Brown, Jackie P. Dillingham, John R. Dillingham, Duane T. Grand, Raymond H. Lightfoot, Jake McCreary, Robert T. Smith, and Sidney A. Wheat.

On September 29, 1965, the Civil Service Commission sent to the Post Office Department the names of the top three applicants on the list of those eligible for the position, the ranking resulting from the examination all applicants took on January 23, and of the investigation conducted by the Civil Service Commission into the personal recommendations of the applicants. The top three ranking applicants, from among whom the appointment must be made, were, in order, John C. Gregg, John R. Dillingham, and Duane T. Grand. The Post Office Department usually recommends appointment in the order in which applicants rank in the Civil Service rating.

The time required for the Presidential nomination and the confirmation by the Senate can vary widely, but it is usually the rule that the Senate tries to finish up as much of this detail work as possible before adjourning.

The Santa Anna Postmaster position carries a PFS grade level of 8, paying $6,650 per year. The local position has been unfilled since the death of J. Lee Strother, Jr., March 13, 1964. John C. Gregg was appointed Acting Postmaster on April 17, 1964.

Large Crowd Attends Open House Saturday

More than 200 people got a picture of life as it was lived in pioneer times. The open house at the restored stone house west of Santa Anna, conducted for benefit of the Santa Anna Library, drew people from all over this part of the state, and had many viewers from out of this area, who happened to be passing by and stopped, including one family from Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The first official showing of the old building, which has been restored by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce, featured several local people who were dressed in styles of the times, and who were performing typical household tasks as they were done in pioneer times. Among the 1965 pioneers were Mrs. Tom Kingsbery and daughter Carol; Mrs. Elgean Harris, Debbie and Sandra; and Mrs. Bruce Cammack and Kelly. They churned, washed, and pieced quilts, reported they were "all quite tired" when the day was over.

Due to the large crowds at the first open house, which prevented some people from attending, another session has been set for Sunday, October 17, from 1:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. As with the earlier open house, admission charges will be 50 cents for adults and 15 cents for students, with all proceeds going into the Library fund.

Local Sheepshowers Sweep Waco Fair

Santa Anna FFA and 4-H Club members went to the Heart of Texas Fair, in Waco, last week, and they brought a lion's share of the prizes back home with them.

In the fine wool lamb competition, Santa Anna entries took eight of the top 10 places. Eddie Jones took first; Ray Valdez, second; Ted Ford, third and sixteenth; Lane Guthrie, fourth and tenth; Wade Jones, fifth; Mark Wise, sixth; Norma Jo Eubank, ninth; and Darlene Jones, twelfth.

In the Southdown class, Korkey Wise took third place, and Steve Valdez finished in fifth spot.

Crossbred competition saw Korkey Wise take first place, followed by Steve Valdez, fifth and sixth; Mark Wise, ninth; Jimmy Eubank, seventeenth; Eddie Jones, eighteenth; and Ted Ford, twentieth. Korkey Wise also took tenth in this competition.

In the competition for other breeds, Steve Valdez won fifth, sixth and seventh places; with Korkey Wise, tenth; Bubba Jones, thirteenth; and Raymond Valdez, twentieth.

Jimmy Taylor Tops Football Contest With Only Perfect Prediction Entered

Jimmy Taylor, of Santa Anna, took top honors in last week's version of the District 9A football contest, sponsored by The Steak House, Horner Premier Service Station, Phillips Drug, and The Santa Anna News.

Taylor was the only person entered in last week's contest to pick the winners in all five games. He wins a five dollar gift certificate at The Steak House.

The race for second and third places was tight. John S. Hensley won two free reserved seat tickets to the next Santa Anna Mountaineer home game by picking four out of five games correctly, and by hitting the exact score of the Santa Anna-Dublin game. Don Pritchard wins a year subscription to The News by getting four of five right and coming within two points of the final Santa Anna-Dublin score.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rush of Dallas, spent a recent weekend with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Garrett, in Santa Anna. Mrs. Rush and Mrs. Garrett were girlhood friends.

Many persons entering the contest are ruining their chances of winning by failing to check the entry form closely so as to pick winners in all of the games in each week's contest.

Self Culture Club To Sponsor Luncheon

At the regular meeting of the Self Culture Club, on Friday, October 8, in the Santa Anna Library Building with Mrs. Tom Kingsbery as hostess, a short business meeting was held.

Plans were made for a lunch to be served on Thursday, October 21, in the Santa Anna Lions Club Building. The lunch will be homecooked, and the public is invited to participate. Charge for the homecooked meal will be one dollar per plate.

The program featured Mrs. Maurice Smith, of Brownwood, who showed colored slides of Queen Elizabeth's visit to Ghana, where the Smiths were serving as missionaries. Mrs. Smith was introduced by Mrs. C. D. Bruce, program chairman.

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P. O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car, may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Editor:

Many of us who are closely associated with the Texas program of higher education are genuinely concerned about one of the constitutional amendments which will be submitted to Texas voters on November 2.

It is number 1 on the ballot, and is the amendment which will earmark reasonable funds for permanent buildings on certain of the state college campuses—those which do not come under the benefits of the University of Texas and Texas A&M provision for building funds out of revenues from University lands.

We have a good example of the need for adoption of the proposed amendment here at Angelo State College. We nearly doubled the amount of teaching we were doing in the two years between the passage of the bill creating the college and the first year of its operation as a four year college. This had to be done without any increase in operational or capital outlay from the state.

In order to provide new buildings for Angelo State College, the Legislature had to make direct appropriations from the State General Revenue Fund. Funds were voted for a new library, a new science building, and a new administration-operations building, although the Governor subsequently vetoed the funds for the latter, and, as a result, we are going to be cramped pretty badly for the next three years.

We believe adoption of Amendment number 1 will go a long way toward meeting the building needs of the 17 schools in the state college system, while at the same time clearing up the confusion resulting from the fact that constitutional provision is made for the building requirements of 12 of the schools, with the other five dependent on direct appropriations from the State General Revenue Fund.

Very truly yours,
Ollie S. Cauthen

Services

COTTON REPORT

Cotton harvest was slowed somewhat this week by rains, according to B. B. Manly, Jr., who is in charge of the Abilene Cotton Classing Office.

The westernmost portions of District 2—Mitchell and Howard Counties—received only scattered showers.

Several days of dry, clear weather are needed before sample receipts at the Abilene office will gain momentum. It is still too early to tell how much the crop was affected, however, farmers should allow their cotton to dry thoroughly before resuming harvest, says Manly.

White grades classed this week increased from 25 percent of the total to 34 percent over last week.

Light spotted grades accounted for 62 percent of the classing, and spotted grades accounted for four percent.

The cotton market is active, with white grades selling at even with CCC loan rates, and light spotted grades bringing even with loan to 75 points over CCC loan rates.

Average prices received by farmers this week for main qualities were: Middling 15/16, 28.14; Middling 31/32, 28.74; Strict Middling 15/16, 27.54; Strict Middling Light Spotted 31/32, 28.04; Middling Light Spotted 15/16, 26.84; and Middling Light Spotted 31/32, 27.34.

Micronaire readings were nearly all in the desirable range, showing 92 percent between 3.6 and 4.8. Three percent miked 3.3 to 3.5, and four percent miked 4.9 to 5.1. One percent miked 5.2 and over. The most desirable range is 3.6 to 4.2.

SHEEP SCABIES OUTBREAK POSES MAJOR PROBLEM

A current outbreak of sheep scabies, found in a feed lot near Uvalde, has serious economic implications for Texas sheepmen, warned Gaylord Hankins, of Ricks Springs, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

"This could conceivably lead to a quarantine of our whole state," he said. He urged ranchmen to watch their own flocks for sign of the malady, caused by an infestation of the psoroptic mite. It causes itching and inflammation of the skin, which in turn results in the sheep biting or scratching himself and damaging the wool.

Hankins urged stockmen to cooperate with Federal and state officials who are trying to determine the source of the outbreak by checking the origins of all sheep in the feedlot. The Texas Animal Health Commission has announced a quarantine of 93 premises known to have sold sheep which went into the feedlot. Continued tracebacks undoubtedly will reveal more such sources.

EDITORIAL

National Newspaper Week

The week of October 10 through October 16 has been set aside throughout the country as National Newspaper Week, a time devoted to realizing and recognizing the important contributions newspapers make to the life of every citizen of this nation.

An understanding of the importance of newspapers in a society of free men goes back to the earliest days of the American history. Peter Zenger, an early newspaper publisher in New York, was sent to prison because he would not submit to the censorship being imposed on the press by the British government. His trial was a great sensation at that time, and he was defended by a young attorney named Alexander Hamilton. The results of that trial first established the basic right to freedom of the press that was later written into the Bill of Rights. Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States, and the man who has been called "the architect of American democracy," once said that if he had to choose between a nation with good laws and poor newspapers, or one with poor laws and good newspapers, he would choose the latter, because where there is a free and responsible press, good laws will follow, but where there is a poor press, even good laws will be abused by unscrupulous persons.

The newspaper in our modern American society takes many forms, ranging from the greatest newspaper in the world, the New York Times, to the smallest and most modest country weekly. But all of these papers have much in common: They are all dedicated to a better way of living for the people in their areas; they provide permanent record of the daily events of the world in which we live, whether that refers to a meeting of the United Nations or the war in Viet Nam, outlined in our metropolitan dailies, or a story about the most recent meeting of the ladies church group or the plans to obtain new uniforms for the high school band, in the weeklies.

A newspaper has four basic functions: It serves as a regular bulletin board, letting people know what is going on in the community and what has happened; it serves as permanent record, a daily or weekly history of the community, more complete than any historian could hope to compile; it serves as a guide for the growth and improvement of the community, attempting to provide its readers with the information that they must have to make wise decisions, as citizens, about the governing of the community; and it serves in the function of a public watchdog, insuring every citizen that if public servants fail to act in the best interests of the community, they will be exposed. It is for these reasons that Thomas Jefferson stated his preference for a nation with good newspapers.

No newspaper is infallible, because newspapers are the product of human beings, and no human being is infallible. But when you take into consideration the long hours, the pressures and stresses, and the sparsity of financial remuneration that is the lot of most newspaper editors, it is easy to see that they stay in their profession because they feel that they can do a little bit toward making their community a better place to live, and the lives of its people a little more enjoyable and worthwhile because of their efforts.

From Peter Zenger to today's smalltown weekly, our way of life rests on an informed public, and newspapers are the means whereby we have an informed public. It is nice to set aside one week out of the year to remember this.

Hesterday's News

FIVE YEARS AGO

An automobile belonging to Carl Autrey, which had been stolen in Santa Anna on August 27, was found this week in Canyonville, Oregon, according to the paper for October 7, 1960.

Coleman County State Bank, in Coleman, opened their motor bank this week.

Keith Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Gill, was slightly injured when he fell off of his bicycle, reports the paper. He suffered a fractured jaw and severe cuts.

TEN YEARS AGO

Eddie Hall, of Santa Anna, died this week while under treatment in Santa Anna Hospital following an accident in which he was thrown into the hydraulic mechanism of a gravel loader, reports The News for October 14, 1955.

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring the annual fire prevention poster contest again this year.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Sergeant Weldon Spence, formerly of Trichham, was liberated from a Japanese prison camp this week in 1945, according to the paper for October 12 of that year.

P. B. Lightfoot has purchased the Sinclair Service Station, located on the corner of the Brady and Coleman highways.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Next week is "D-Day" in Santa Anna and the rest of the nation, the "D" in this case standing for "Draft." The first peacetime draft in the history of the United States gets underway with registration on Wednesday, October 16, and the paper for October 11, 1940 tells all about it.

A thief broke into the Santa Anna High School building Sunday night and stole $160.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Santa Anna's first community fair was a big success, with the "exhibits entered exceeding all expectations," according to the paper for October 11, 1935.

A headline in this week's paper says: "Mountaineers Nose Out Bangs, 45-13." It is this what they call "nosing out" an opponent, we would hate to see the score if they really beat them badly.

FORTY YEAR SAGO
The News for October 9, 1925 quotes Will Rogers as saying that more politicians speak of Abraham Lincoln's good qualities, and fewer of them copy any of them, than any other man.

NEWS

Campaigns now are underway for and against the 10 proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on November 2.

However, little is being said on behalf of what is perhaps the most controversial of all the proposals—extending the terms of office of the governor and other statewide officials to four years. Governor John Connally promised an all-out drive for it. Organized labor strongly opposes the term stretchout.

A 46 member committee of leading citizens, headed by Dallas banker Ben H. Wooten, is pushing amendment number 1, to increase the state college property tax levy for college building purposes, from five to 10 cents. Opposition to the tax increase is developing in San Antonio.

State Bar Association is battling for amendment number 3. It provides for automatic retirement of overage judges, and sets up a commission to recommend disciplinary action against misbehaving judges. A variety of groups have kind words to say for amendment number 2, to increase the Veterans' Land Fund to $200,000,000, and revive the program of longterm, low interest loans to veterans for farm and ranch land buying. But there is opposition here, too.

Other amendment proposals: Permitting Texas' participation in cooperative Federal and state programs of assistance to medical care for the aged, needy, and handicapped. Clarifying investment authority for teacher retirement system; authorizing the Legislature to set up a $85,000,000 student loan fund. Exempting certain hospitals from local property taxes. Permitting the Legislature to raise salaries of the speaker of the house and the lieutenant governor, and to increase lawmakers' expense allowances from $12 to $20 per day. Lengthening terms of state representatives from two to four years.

Many observers have expressed concern that opposition to the four year term amendments may spread over to other, less controversial measures. A light voter turnout is forecast.

ILLNESS STRIKES GOVERNOR
Flu confined Governor to his bed all last week. On advice of his doctor the Governor cancelled speeches in El Paso, Paris, Houston, and Dallas. He is taking no chances on a relapse, since he is scheduled to leave the country for Japan and Viet Nam on a State Department sponsored tour for governors later this month.

TEXAS BUYS PLANE
The State is buying, for $85,000, a used 11 passenger twin engined airplane for use of the governor and other state officials.

Legislature this year appropriated $275,000 for purchase of the plane, and allotted another $150,000 to maintain it. But Connally elected to save money and invest in a time-tested model which has been equipped with latest safety and communications equipment.

RECORD LEASE SALE REPORTED

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said addition of $6,800,000 from last state oil and gas lease sale of 1965 brought the year's total to a record $85,000,000.

Sale covering 131,660 acres of land located throughout the state averaged more than $52 per acre on bonus payments. High bids were made by Phillips Petroleum Company, which paid $293,760 for each of two Gulf of Mexico tracts in Brazoria County.

All leases, except four river and bayou tracts, were awarded by the School Land Board for five year terms and one sixth royalty on production. River and bayou tracts were leased for two years.

New income boosted permanent public school fund to more than $652,000,000.

MODERN STATE PARKS
Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has released a full color film, available to clubs and various other groups, depicting the step by step conversion of areas into public recreation parks.

Film shows how state funds have been put to use in modernizing state parks all across Texas.

DRAFT TALK
Young men who married before August 27 may be called for by some Texas draft boards in November. This to help fill the Texas quota of more than 6,000 men.

Colonel Morris Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, said the decision was made because some local draft boards may not have enough men otherwise. Order does not pertain to married men with children. Draft age men are warned by Selective Service that it is a criminal offense to mutilate draft cards and subjects draftee to five years imprisonment, a fine up to $10,000, or both. Destroying a card can speed up induction, the warning said.

TEXTBOOK PROTEST
A total of 324 textbooks are being studied by the State Textbook Committee for possible adoption in Texas public schools, but five are being protested.

All of the books protested deal with economics, and all of the publishing houses involved have filed answers to the protesters, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gabler, of Longview.

MENTAL RETARDATION
First Governor's Conference on Mental Retardation, climaxing a two year statewide study of the problem, will be held March 17 to March 19, in Austin.

Conference will be charged with the task of providing recommendations on how to provide a better life for the mentally retarded.

Twelve task forces developing a tentative plan to combat the problem have slated and October 16-17 meeting in Austin.

COTTON PACT SIGNED
Threat of a Texas embargo on Mexican cotton was ended with the signing of a new agreement by US, Mexico, and Texas regulating planting on both sides of the border.

Agreement, reached in a two day conference at Brownsville and Matamoros, set planting dates of February 1 to March 31; stalk destruction deadline at August 31; and plowup by September 15. Experimental late planting would be permitted at agricultural experiment stations in Matamoros and Rio Grande Valley areas.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED
House Speaker Ben Barnes named State Representative Steve Burgess, of Nacogdoches, to the South Central Interstate Forest Fire Protection Compact Advisory Committee.

Barnes designated State Representatives Neil Caldwell, of Angleton; L. DeWitt Hale, of Corpus Christi; and Renal B. Rosson, of Snyder, as delegates to conference on workmen's compensation and rehabilitation in Oklahoma City this week.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Parks and Wildlife Department is authorized to participate in Land and Water Conservation Fund Act an deceive Federal grants in aid.

Today's MEDITATION
from
The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Philipians 1:12-21.

Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the progress of the gospel. (Philipians 1:12,RV)

In the ruined castle of Launceston, in England, is a long disused dungeon. There George Fox, the founder of the Society of Friends, and other Quakers were once imprisoned for eight months. On the wall is an inscription and beneath are some words by George Fox: "I was never in prison that it was not the means of bringing multitudes out of their prisons."

George Fox knew what the Christian attitude was to imprisonment. To him, as to the apostle Paul, being imprisoned was another opportunity for testifying to the liberating power of Christ.

This attitude does not demand cleverness, great gifts of eloquence, or powerful social influence. It proclaims that there is no situation into which a Christian may come which does not offer its own opportunity of bearing testimony to his Lord.

PRAYER

O Lord, give us so sincere a devotion to You that we may never be in any doubt of Your call. Help us to turn every kind of trial to the glory of the gospel of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father Who art in heaven... Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

It is the set of the sails, not the gales, that decides the way we go.

Next Wednesday Deadline For Filing Of Appellant Brief In Election Appeal

Appellants briefs, the statements of why those appealing the case feel that the decision of the lower court should be changed, are due to be filed in the appeal of the suit involving the contest of the election whereby Santa Anna voters approved bonds for needed improvements in the sewer and water systems, must be filed with the 11th Court of Civil Appeals, in Eastland, no later than next Wednesday, October 20, according to Homer Smith, Clerk of the Court.

Appellants must file their briefs 12 to file answer to the appellant brief.

On the hearing day, one hour and 15 minutes will be allotted to hear the appeal. Each side is allowed 30 minutes, with the appellants going first. Then the appellants are allowed 15 minutes for rebuttal. The three judges then study the documents filed in the case, and announce the decision at a later date.

The election, which passed by six votes, approved issuance of bonds to finance construction of sewer and water system improvements. The state health department has informed the City that the present sewerage treatment facilities are not acceptable, and improvement must be made or action will be taken to force the City to make the required additions, which would cost the taxpayers and utility users much more than under the plan approved by the voters. The water system improvements will guarantee Santa Anna adequate water for dry years, and insure enough water for future growth.

Future Homemakers Hold Monday Meeting

The Santa Anna chapter of Future Homemakers of America met Monday night, October 4, in the Santa Anna High School auditorium. Anita Ellis, president of the local chapter, was in charge of the meeting.

Loretta Broadway and Pam Garrett were chosen to assist with registration at the Area 4 FHA meeting, to be held in Stephenville in the spring.

Reports were given by the chairmen of various committees. Pam Garrett, project committee chairman, listed the projects for the year. Norma Jo Eubank told of plans for the year's programs. Chapter mothers and other visitors were recognized.

The program for the evening was introduced by Norma Jo Eubank. First on the program was the initiation of 11 new members, including Dortha Carpenter, Paula Copeland, Beth Dean, Janice Langford, Judy McIntire, Frances Oakes, Clea Pollock, Leta Pollock, Mary Jo Quinn, Donna Strickland, and Emily Wells.

Mrs. Vernon Herring presented a program on flowers for various occasions.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee, headed by Linda Abernathy, Wanelda Blount, Lynda Brannon, and Loretta Broadway, to about 40 persons attending the meeting.

Local Citizens Invited To Austin October 24

Sunday, October 24, has been designated as "See Your State Capitol Day" by state house speaker Ben Barnes. Barnes has particularly invited persons from the 64th District, he said. He represents this district in the state legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will be host to all 64th District visitors and will serve refreshments.

"I am extremely hopeful that a large group of families from Coleman, Runnels, Brown, and Comanche Counties will take this opportunity to visit the State Capitol," Barnes said. "I think it will be interesting to all, and should be particularly educational to school children, many of whom have not had an opportunity to take a look at state government."

SANTA ANNA 4-H CLUB MEETING SCHEDULED

Big Turnover This Week In Catfish Division Of Jaycee Fishing Contest

There was lots of activity in the catfish division of the Santa Anna Junior Chamber of Commerce Annual Fishing Rodeo this week.

On Friday, October 8, Bill Day who had been holding both first and second spots in the catfish competition, brought in another big one, this one weighing in at 11 pounds 14 ounces, to take the lead. But the lead didn't last long, as Alfred McCrary took over first place with a 14 pound 10 ounce entry.

McCrary held first place for only four days, as C. C. Stanley brought in a real lunker, a big

Turkey Shoot Set By Jaycees Here

The Santa Anna Junior Chamber of Commerce has decided to sponsor a turkey shoot in Santa Anna, on Sunday, November 21, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The location of the contest has not been determined, and will be announced later. There will be classes for .22 caliber rifles, for rifles of larger caliber than .22, and for shotguns. First prize in each division will be a fat turkey. Competition and scoring will be carried out according to National Rifle Association rules.

The local Jaycees will also raffie off a new .22 caliber rifle in connection with the turkey shoot, with chances costing 50 cents each. All entrants in the shooting competition will also have a chance at an extra turkey that will be given away by drawing following the shooting. Entry fee for the shooting contest (and the free turkey) will be 50 cents. Tickets for both the turkey shoot and the rifle raffie are available from any Jaycee, in the office of The Santa Anna News, and in various other businesses in Santa Anna. Tickets are available in Coleman at Bob Turner's.

TOMMY R. POLLOCK

Army Information Man From Here

Private First Class Tommy R. Pollock, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pollock, of Santa Anna, is the public information and community relations specialist for the 5th Missile Battalion (NIKE-HERCULES), 517th Artillery, Dyess, Air Force Base, Abilene.

Private Pollock, a 1961 graduate of Santa Anna High School, joined the Army in December of 1964. After completing basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana, he was assigned to the 5th Missile Battalion, in Abilene, as a clerk typist. In July of 1965, he was sent to the Armed Forces Defense Information School, at Fort Slocum, New York, where he took a course in basic military journalism.

Following graduation from the school, in September, he was returned to the Abilene missile unit as the public information specialist.

Among his duties, Private Pollock edits a monthly newspaper for the Battalion personnel, writes for a regional Army newspaper covering the South Central United States, and a national Army newspaper.

Private Pollock is married to the former Anita Broadway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Brusenhan, Jr., of Rockwood. She is a registered nurse, a 1964 graduate of Scott and White School of Nursing, in Temple. She is now employed in the hospital of the Abilene State School.

The Pollocks live at 3442 South 11th Street, in Abilene.

Fort Worth Stock Show Lists Ready

Announcement of the publication of the premium list for the 1966 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, in Fort Worth, was made this week. The premium lists are being sent to all previous exhibitors at the Fort Worth show.

Anyone wishing a copy of the 1966 premium list may write to the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Post Office Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas.

Prize money for the livestock show, rodeo, and horse show, will total about $229,000. There have been several changes in the 1966 premium list, and all prospective exhibitors are urged to study it thoroughly by a spokesman for the show.

The Fort Worth event will begin on January 23, 1966, and will continue through February 6. Deadlines for entries are December for cattle, horses, sheep, and swine, and January 15, 1966 for poultry, rabbits, and pigeons.

The United States Civil Service Commission has determined the top scoring applicants in the testing to obtain eligible applicants for the position of Postmaster of the Santa Anna Post Office.

Under the combined Civil Service and Presidential appointment system used for providing postmasters for the smaller Post Offices, all applicants must take the Civil Service examination, and the Civil Service Commission certifies the top three ranking scorers to the Post Office Department. The appointment is then made by the President, usually on recommendation of the United States Representative from the area, if that official is of the President's political party. Then President's nomination is then sent to the United States Senate, where it must be confirmed, which in the overwhelming majority of such cases, is a formality.

Ten persons applied for the Santa Anna Post Office Postmastership, including the acting Postmaster, John C. Gregg, and Alton M. Bengel, Albert F. Brown, Jackie P. Dillingham, John R. Dillingham, Duane T. Grand, Raymond H. Lightfoot, Jake McCree, Robert T. Smith, and Sidney A. Wheat.

On September 29, 1965, the Civil Service Commission sent to the Post Office Department the names of the top three applicants on the list of those eligible for the position, the ranking resulting from the examination all applicants took on January 23, and of the investigation conducted by the Civil Service Commission into the personal recommendations of the applicants. The top three ranking applicants, from among whom the appointment must be made, were, in order, John C. Gregg, John R. Dillingham, and Duane T. Grand. The Post Office Department usually recommends appointment in the order in which applicants rank in the Civil Service rating.

Local Sheepshowers Sweep Waco Fair

Santa Anna FFA and 4-H Club members went to the Heart of Texas Fair, in Waco, last week, and they brought a lion's share of the prizes back home with them.

In the fine wool lamb competition, Santa Anna entries took eight of the top 10 places. Eddie Jones took first; Ray Valdez, second; Ted Ford, third and sixteenth; Lane Guthrie, fourth and tenth; Wade Jones, fifth; Mark Wise, sixth; Norma Jo Eubank, ninth; and Darlene Jones, twelfth.

In the Southdown class, Korky Wise took third place, and Steve Valdez finished in fifth spot.

Crossbred competition saw Korky Wise take first place, followed by Steve Valdez, fifth and sixth; Mark Wise, ninth; Jimmy Eubank, seventeenth; Eddie Jones, eighteenth; and Ted Ford, twentieth. Korky Wise also took tenth in this competition.

In the competition for other breeds, Steve Valdez won fifth, sixth and seventh places; with Korky Wise, tenth; Bubba Jones, thirteenth; and Raymond Valdez, twentieth.

Jimmy Taylor Tops Football Contest With Only Perfect Prediction Entered

Jimmy Taylor, of Santa Anna, took top honors in last week's version of the District 9A football contest, sponsored by The Steak House, Horner Premier Service Station, Phillips Drug, and The Santa Anna News.

Taylor was the only person entered in last week's contest to pick the winners in all five games. He wins a five dollar gift certificate at The Steak House.

The race for second and third places was tight. John S. Hensley won two free reserved seat tickets to the next Santa Anna Mountaineer home game by picking four out of five games correctly, and by hitting the exact score of the Santa Anna-Dublin game. Don Pritchard wins a year subscription to The News by getting four of five right and coming within two points of the final Santa Anna-Dublin score.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rush of Dallas, spent a recent weekend with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Garrett, in Santa Anna. Mrs. Rush and Mrs. Garrett were girlhood friends.

The Santa Anna Postmaster position carries a PFS grade level of 8, paying $6,650 per year. The local position has been unfilled since the death of J. Lee Strother, Jr., March 13, 1964. John C. Gregg was appointed Acting Postmaster on April 17, 1964.

The time required for the Presidential nomination and the confirmation by the Senate can vary widely, but it is usually the rule that the Senate tries to finish up as much of this detail work as possible before adjourning.

The Santa Anna Postmaster position carries a PFS grade level of 8, paying $6,650 per year. The local position has been unfilled since the death of J. Lee Strother, Jr., March 13, 1964. John C. Gregg was appointed Acting Postmaster on April 17, 1964.

Large Crowd Attends Open House Saturday

More than 200 people got a picture of life as it was lived in pioneer times. The open house at the restored stone house west of Santa Anna, conducted for benefit of the Santa Anna Library, drew people from all over this part of the state, and had many viewers from out of this area, who happened to be passing by and stopped, including one family from Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The first official showing of the old building, which has been restored by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce, featured several local people who were dressed in styles of the times, and who were performing typical household tasks as they were done in pioneer times. Among the 1965 pioneers were Mrs. Tom Kingsbery and daughter Carol; Mrs. Elgean Harris, Debbie and Sandra; and Mrs. Bruce Cammack and Kelly. They churned, washed, and pieced quilts, reported they were "all quite tired" when the day was over.

Due to the large crowds at the first open house, which prevented some people from attending, another session has been set for Sunday, October 17, from 1:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. As with the earlier open house, admission charges will be 50 cents for adults and 15 cents for students, with all proceeds going into the Library fund.

Self Culture Club To Sponsor Luncheon

At the regular meeting of the Self Culture Club, on Friday, October 8, in the Santa Anna Library Building with Mrs. Tom Kingsbery as hostess, a short business meeting was held.

Plans were made for a luncheon to be served on Thursday, October 21, in the Santa Anna Lions Club Building. The luncheon will be homecooked, and the public is invited to participate. Charge for the homecooked meal will be one dollar per plate.

The program featured Mrs. Maurice Smith, of Brownwood, who showed colored slides of Queen Elizabeth's visit to Ghana, where the Smiths were serving as missionaries. Mrs. Smith was introduced by Mrs. C. D. Bruce, program chairman.

Well, it happened again! Every time we put something in this column, someone comes along and lets us know that it ain't necessarily so. For instance, we got involved in a major debate about the oldest native resident in Santa Anna, and we aren't sure we have heard the last of that yet. Then we had an item about the smallest towns in Texas, only to be indignantly informed that we had a town right here in Coleman County—Whon—that has only one citizen, which is about as small as you can get. We even got put down by a secondgrader. We had asked why it was that all hurricanes are given women's names, intending to be a trifle sarcastic. Along comes this wise guy secondgrader and informs us that it is only natural for them to be named for the ladies, since who ever heard of a himicane? We don't mind playing straight man, as we said at the time, but it hurts to be topped by an eight year old.

Now comes Judge Joe Dibrell, who depises and says that, in regard to the item in this column last week about the Judge and some disappearing signs, that it was his brother who was the guilty party, and besides, the statute of limitations has run out on that particular crime.

If he asks, we are not going to tell Judge Dibrell where we got our information. We will be so vague that he will never figure out our source of information. Like for instance, we might say that it is one of the veterinarians in Coleman on the school board. No one could guess who we mean. You have to be subtle in this business.

And if Judge Dibrell decides to sue us for libel, we are going to demand a change of venue.

Several Colemanites are making it tough on us poor column-writers. Bob Griffis, Coleman County's answer to Hugh Downs, just has no sense of appreciation. We gave him a nice mention in last week's column, and he got downright huffy about it. You just can't help some people without them resenting it. Anyway, at the Dublin-Santa Anna game the other night, Bob would add after every statement he made: "That's off the record."

So we can't report the wild weekend he and Curtis Roberts were planning to have in Dallas, since they were on the way to Big D for the Texas-Oklahoma festivities after taping the Santa Anna game. And we can't mention all the nasty remarks Bob made about his sponsors as he did their commercials during the game. Nor can we mention the picturesque phrases he used when his car broke down in Dublin and he had to phone back to Coleman for help.

We wish we could tell you about these things, but Bob said that they were off the record, and we respect his wishes.

Probably the most publicized member of the LBJ team to come along in some while is the President's new press secretary, Bill Moyer, who is a licensed Baptist minister. Did you know that Moyer once applied for the position of associate pastor of First Baptist Church in Abilene, and was turned down?

We guess Abilene's loss is Washington's gain. Or vice versa.

—0—

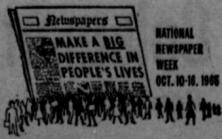

We wonder if the report we heard is true—that the doctors who operated on the President recently were amazed to find the letters "LBJ" stamped on the gall bladder when they removed it.

—0—

Knowing a little about Lady Bird's business acumen, we bet she demanded a receipt for it before she let the doctors remove it.

—0—

Congress is in a big hurry to adjourn. We don't understand politicians. First they are so all-fired anxious for the voters to send them to Washington, and when they do, they are anxious to get away.

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P. O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. Le Sabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special Skylark Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

LETTERS

Editor:

Many of us who are closely associated with the Texas program of higher education are genuinely concerned about one of the constitutional amendments which will be submitted to Texas voters on November 2.

It is number 1 on the ballot, and is the amendment which will earmark reasonable funds for permanent buildings on certain of the state college campuses—those which do not come under the benefits of the University of Texas and Texas A&M provision for building funds out of revenues from University lands.

We have a good example of the need for adoption of the proposed amendment here at Angelo State College. We nearly doubled the amount of teaching we were doing in the two years between the passage of the bill creating the college and the first year of its operation as a four year college. This had to be done without any increase in operational or capital outlay from the state.

In order to provide new buildings for Angelo State College, the Legislature had to make direct appropriations from the State General Revenue Fund. Funds were voted for a new library, a new science building, and a new administration-operations building, although the Governor subsequently vetoed the funds for the latter, and, as a result, we are going to be cramped pretty badly for the next three years.

We believe adoption of Amendment number 1 will go a long way toward meeting the building needs of the 17 schools in the state college system, while at the same time clearing up the confusion resulting from the fact that constitutional provision is made for the building requirements of 12 of the schools, with the other five dependent on direct appropriations from the State General Revenue Fund.

Very truly yours,
Ollie S. Cauthen
Director of Special Services
Angelo State College

COTTON REPORT

Cotton harvest was slowed somewhat this week by rains, according to B. B. Manly, Jr., who is in charge of the Abilene Cotton Classing Office.

The westernmost portions of District 2—Mitchell and Howard Counties—received only scattered showers.

Several days of dry, clear weather are needed before sample receipts at the Abilene office will gain momentum. It is still too early to tell how much the crop was affected, however, farmers should allow their cotton to dry thoroughly before resuming harvest, says Manly.

White grades classed this week increased from 25 percent of the total to 34 percent over last week.

Light spotted grades accounted for 62 percent of the classing, and spotted grades accounted for four percent.

The cotton market is active, with white grades selling at even with CCC loan rates, and light spotted grades bringing even with loan to 75 points over CCC loan rates.

Average prices received by farmers this week for main qualities were: Middling 15/16, 28.14; Middling 31/32, 28.74; Strict Middling 15/16, 27.54; Strict Middling Light Spotted 31/32, 28.04; Middling Light Spotted 15/16, 26.84; and Middling Light Spotted 31/32, 27.34.

Micronaire readings were nearly all in the desirable range, showing 92 percent between 3.6 and 4.8. Three percent miked 3.3 to 3.5, and four percent miked 4.9 to 5.1. One percent miked 5.2 and over. The most desirable range is 3.6 to 4.2.

SHEEP SCABIES OUTBREAK POSES MAJOR PROBLEM

A current outbreak of sheep scabies, found in a feed lot near Uvalde, has serious economic implications for Texas sheepmen, warned Gaylord Hankins, of Rocksprings, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

"This could conceivably lead to a quarantine of our whole state," he said. He urged ranchmen to watch their own flocks for sign of the malady, caused by an infestation of the psoroptic mite. It causes itching and inflammation of the skin, which in turn results in the sheep biting or scratching himself and damaging the wool.

Hankins urged stockmen to cooperate with Federal and state officials who are trying to determine the source of the outbreak by checking the origins of all sheep in the feedlot. The Texas Animal Health Commission has announced a quarantine of 93 premises known to have sold sheep which went into the feedlot. Continued tracebacks undoubtedly will reveal more such sources.

State Capital NEWS

Campaigns now are underway for and against the 10 proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on November 2.

However, little is being said on behalf of what is perhaps the most controversial of all the proposals—extending the terms of office of the governor and other statewide officials to four years. Governor John Connally promised an all-out drive for it. Organized labor strongly opposes the term stretchout.

A 46 member committee of leading citizens, headed by Dallas banker Ben H. Wooten, is pushing amendment number 1, to increase the state college property tax levy for college building purposes, from five to 10 cents. Opposition to the tax increase is developing in San Antonio.

State Bar Association is battling for amendment number 8. It provides for automatic retirement of overage judges, and sets up a commission to recommend disciplinary action against misbehaving judges.

A variety of groups have kind words to say for amendment number 2, to increase the Veterans' Land Fund to $200,000,000, and revive the program of long-term, low interest loans to veterans for farm and ranch land buying. But there is opposition here, too.

Other amendment proposals: Permitting Texas' participation in cooperative Federal and state programs of assistance to medical care for the aged, needy, and handicapped. Clarifying investment authority for teacher retirement system; authorizing the Legislature to set up a $85,000,000 student loan fund. Exempting certain hospitals from local property taxes. Permitting the Legislature to raise salaries of the speaker of the house and the lieutenant governor, and to increase lawmakers' expense allowances from $12 to $20 per day. Lengthening terms of state representatives from two to four years.

Many observers have expressed concern that opposition to the four year term amendments may spread over to other, less controversial measures. A light voter turnout is forecast.

ILLNESS STRIKES GOVERNOR
Flu confined Governor to his bed all last week. On advice of his doctor the Governor cancelled speeches in El Paso, Paris, Houston, and Dallas. He is taking no chances on a relapse, since he is scheduled to leave the country for Japan and Viet Nam on a State Department sponsored tour for governors later this month.

TEXAS BUYS PLANE
The State is buying, for $85,000, a used 11 passenger twin engine airplane for use of the governor and other state officials.

Legislature this year appropriated $275,000 for purchase of the plane, and allotted another $150,000 to maintain it. But Connally elected to save money and invest in a time-tested model which has been equipped with latest safety and communications equipment.

RECORD LEASE SALE REPORTED

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said addition of $6,800,000 from last state oil and gas lease sale of 1965 brought the year's total to a record $85,000,000.

Sale covering 131,660 acres of land located throughout the state averaged more than $52 per acre on bonus payments. High bids were made by Phillips Petroleum Company, which paid $293,760 for each of two Gulf of Mexico tracts in Brazoria County.

All leases, except four river and bayou tracts, were awarded by the School Land Board for five year terms and one sixth royalty on production. River and bayou tracts were leased for two years.

New income boosted permanent public school fund to more than $652,000,000.

MODERN STATE PARKS
Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has released a full color film, available to clubs and various other groups, depicting the step by step conversion of areas into public recreation parks.

Film shows how state funds have been put to use in modernizing state parks all across Texas.

DRAFT TALK
Young men who married before August 27 may be called for by some Texas draft boards in November. This to help fill the Texas quota of more than 6,000 men.

Colonel Morris Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, said the decision was made because some local draft boards may not have enough men otherwise. Order does not pertain to married men with children. Draft age men are warned by Selective Service that it is a criminal offense to mutilate draft cards and subjects drafted to five years imprisonment, a fine up to $10,000, or both. Destroying a card can speed up induction, the warning said.

TEXTBOOK PROTEST
A total of 324 textbooks are being studied by the State Textbook Committee for possible adoption in Texas public schools, but five are being protested.

All of the books protested deal with economics, and all of the publishing houses involved have filed answers to the protesters, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gabler, of Longview.

MENTAL RETARDATION
First Governor's Conference on Mental Retardation, climaxing a two year statewide study of the problem, will be held March 17 to March 19, in Austin. Conference will be charged with the task of providing recommendations on how to provide a better life for the mentally retarded.

Twelve task forces developing a tentative plan to combat the problem have slated and October 16-17 meeting in Austin.

COTTON PACT SIGNED
Threat of a Texas embargo on Mexican cotton was ended with the signing of a new agreement by US, Mexico, and Texas regulating planting on both sides of the border.

Agreement, reached in a two day conference at Brownsville and Matamoros, set planting dates of February 1 to March 31; stalk destruction deadline at August 31; and plowup by September 15. Experimental late planting would be permitted at agricultural experiment stations in Matamoros and Rio Grande Valley areas.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED
House Speaker Ben Barnes named State Representative Steve Burgess, of Nacogdoches, to the South Central Interstate Forest Fire Protection Compact Advisory Committee.

Barnes designated State Representatives Neil Caldwell, of Angleton; L. DeWitt Hale, of Corpus Christi; and Renal B. Rossion, of Snyder, as delegates to conference on workmen's compensation and rehabilitation in Oklahoma City this week.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Parks and Wildlife Department is authorized to participate in Land and Water Conservation Fund Act and receive Federal grants in aid.

from
The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Philippians 1:12-21.

Now I would love you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the progress of the gospel. (Philippians 1:12, RV)

In the ruined castle of Launceston, in England, is a long disused dungeon. There George Fox, the founder of the Society of Friends, and other Quakers were once imprisoned for eight months. On the wall is an inscription and beneath are some words by George Fox: "I was never in prison that it was not the means of bringing multitudes out of their prisons."

George Fox knew what the Christian attitude was to imprisonment. To him, as to the apostle Paul, being imprisoned was another opportunity for testifying to the liberating power of Christ.

This attitude does not demand cleverness, great gifts of eloquence, or powerful social influence. It proclaims that there is no situation into which a Christian may come which does not offer its own opportunity of bearing testimony to his Lord.

PRAYER
O Lord, give us so sincere a devotion to You that we may never be in any doubt of Your call. Help us to turn every kind of trial to the glory of the gospel of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father Who art in heaven... Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
It is the set of the sails, not the gales, that decides the way we go.

Chris H. Tice (England)

National Newspaper Week

The week of October 10 through October 16 has been set aside throughout the country as National Newspaper Week, a time devoted to realizing and recognizing the important contributions newspapers make to the life of every citizen of this nation.

An understanding of the importance of newspapers in a society of free men goes back to the earliest days of the American history. Peter Zenger, an earlyday newspaper publisher in New York, was sent to prison because he would not submit to the censorship being imposed on the press by the British government. His trial was a great sensation at that time, and he was defended by a young attorney named Alexander Hamilton. The results of that trial first established the basic right to freedom of the press that was later written into the Bill of Rights. Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States, and the man who has been called "the architect of American democracy," once said that if he had to choose between a nation with good laws and poor newspapers, or one with poor laws and good newspapers, he would choose the latter, because where there is a free and responsible press, good laws will follow, but where there is a poor press, even good laws will be abused by unscrupulous persons.

The newspaper in our modern American society takes many forms, ranging from the greatest newspaper in the world, the New York Times, to the smallest and most modest country weekly. But all of these papers have much in common: They are all dedicated to a better way of living for the people in their areas; they provide permanent record of the daily events of the world in which we live, whether that refers to a meeting of the United Nations or the war in Viet Nam, outlined in our metropolitan dailies, or a story about the most recent meeting of the ladies church group or the plans to obtain new uniforms for the high school band, in the weeklies.

A newspaper has four basic functions: It serves as a regular bulletin board, letting people know what is going on in the community and what has happened; it serves as permanent record, a daily or weekly history of the community, more complete than any historian could hope to compile; it serves as a guide for the growth and improvement of the community, attempting to provide its readers with the information that they must have to make wise decisions, as citizens, about the governing of the community; and it serves in the function of a public watchdog, insuring every citizen that if public servants fail to act in the best interests of the community, they will be exposed. It is for these reasons that Thomas Jefferson stated his preference for a nation with good newspapers.

No newspaper is infallible, because newspapers are the product of human beings, and no human being is infallible. But when you take into consideration the long hours, the pressures and stresses, and the sparsity of financial remuneration that is the lot of most newspaper editors, it is easy to see that they stay in their profession because they feel that they can do a little bit toward making their community a better place to live, and the lives of its people a little more enjoyable and worthwhile because of their efforts.

From Peter Zenger to today's smalltown weekly, our way of life rests on an informed public, and newspapers are the means whereby we have an informed public. It is nice to set aside one week out of the year to remember this.

Hesterday's News

FIVE YEARS AGO

An automobile belonging to Carl Autrey, which had been stolen in Santa Anna on August 27, was found this week in Canyonville, Oregon, according to the paper for October 7, 1960.

Coleman County State Bank, in Coleman, opened their motor bank this week.

Keith Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Gill, was slightly injured when he fell off of his bicycle, reports the paper. He suffered a fractured jaw and severe cuts.

TEN YEARS AGO

Eddie Hall, of Santa Anna, died this week while under treatment in Santa Anna Hospital following an accident in which he was thrown into the hydraulic mechanism of a gravel loader, reports The News for October 14, 1955.

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring the annual fire prevention poster contest again this year.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Sergeant Weldon Spence, formerly of Trickham, was liberated from a Japanese prison camp this week in 1945, according to the paper for October 12 of that year.

P. B. Lightfoot has purchased the Sinclair Service Station, located on the corner of the Brady and Coleman highways.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Next week is "D-Day" in Santa Anna and the rest of the nation, the "D" in this case standing for "Draft." The first peacetime draft in the history of the United States gets underway with registration on Wednesday, October 16, and the paper for October 11, 1940 tells all about it.

A thief broke into the Santa Anna High School building Sunday night and stole $160.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Santa Anna's first community fair was a big success, with the "exhibits entered exceeding all expectations," according to the paper for October 11, 1935.

A headline in this week's paper says: "Mountaineers Nose Out Bangs, 45-19." If this is what they call "nosing out" an opponent, we would hate to see the score if they really beat them badly.

FORTY YEAR SAGO
The News for October 9, 1925 quotes Will Rogers as saying that more politicians speak of Abraham Lincoln's good qualities, and fewer of them copy any of them, than any other man.
