All prospective entrants in the 1966 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, in Fort Worth, are reminded that deadline for entries in the 1966 show. The cattle, horse, and sheep classes close Wednesday, December 15, according to an announcement this week from W. R. Watt, president and manager of the Exposition.

A team of experts from the United States Department of Agriculture, headed by Under Secretary of Agriculture John Schnittker will be in Dallas on Saturday, December 11, to ex-plain to the cotton industry the complexities of the new government cotton program.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m., in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Also on the program will be Joseph Moss, director of the USDA's cotton policy staff, and officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, which administers the government cotton program through county offices.

Several provisions in the law are new concepts in government programs for cotton, including the transfer of allotments by lease or sale; direct subsidy payments to producers; changes in the skiprow planting patterns; and the release and reappor-tionment regulation for allot-

Farmers have various choices under cropland adjustment and acreage diversion features of the new law, to plant, not to plant, or to plant only a portion of their cotton allotments. In general, USDA officials point out, the options for subsidy payments and retirement programs make the farmer's decision a separate consideration for each

Arrangements must be made now for the next crop, even though about five million bales remain to be harvested of the 1965 crop.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four of his community and nation.
(4) For the sake of the Church and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No, not a single thing! Mom always shops carefully for her family. She watches their health. She makes sure they have a clean, comfortable home. She sees that they get practically anything they want. What

Well, how about their spiritual well-being? A family needs a religious framework in which to develop moral responsibility and steadfast faith. If Mom and Dad set a fine example of Christian love and regular church attendance, the family cannot help but be influenced. Today's young people, strengthened and inspired by Church teachings, are the leaders that our country will need tomorrow.

Remember, Mom . . . "Man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesses." Don't deprive your family or yourself of the many precious values the Church can give.

Lest We Forget

The Christmas season is beginning, the season of gifts and ilene. cards and trees and wrappings and last minute shopping. In all of the hustle and bustle of the holiday season, we too often seem to forget the real significance of the time we are celebrating. No matter what our religious belief, or lack thereof, everyone, if he is honest, must admit that the birth of the man whose nativity we mark each year at Christmas changed the world more than anyone in all of history. No great military leader, claiming otherwise. at the head of a mighty army, no king or emperor with all his grandeur and power, no philosopher or scientist, made a greater difference in the lives of all men down through the ages than did this carpenter's son from a remote Judean village. Few persons today, excepting a few historians, could tell the name of the emperor of the Roman Empire—the most powerful man of his time-at the time of the birth of Jesus of Nazareth, but there are few persons in the entire world who have not heard of this man who was executed as a criminal because he dared to tell the truth. Even the most confirmed agnostic will have Tuley emphasized .

Let us then, in all the rush of this holiday season, not fail to remember the real meaning, the real significance of the time | 65 or over, will find that Medi- | 180,000 mark. we are marking. "He was in the world...and the world knew care will pay all but the first Him not," wrote St. John in his Gospel. A Suggestion

One spectacular crime will receive more publicity than the again with no maximum dollar most significant change was in lives of hundreds of good folks. By the same token, the antics of a few imbeciles, idiots, and ignorant demonstrators can get more notice than the quiet, everyday patriotism of the great majority of Americans.

The publicity received by the anti-honor demonstators recently must be a great joy to the Communist leaders in Viet Nam, who are responsible for the deaths of more than one thousand American fighting men, plus unknown thousands of their own countrymen, including great numbers of innocent women and children (these are the kind of people the "peace" demonstators are supporting). It would be hard for the Communists to plan better psychological warfare weapons than are being have birthdays during the next handed them by these so-called Americans who spend their week. Below are listed the birthtime betraying their fellow Americans who are trying to help days we have for this week. the Vietnamese people to freedom and a better way of life, and DECEMBER 2 doing so at the cost of their own lives.

There is a way in which the great majority of Americans who support our military men in Viet Nam can help counteract the harm being done by the small minority of wet-behind-theears demonstators. Almost every American must know one or more soldier, sailor, airman, or Marine serving in the Viet Nam area. If each American would write one letter to such a US DECEMBER 3 fighting man, it would go a long way towad wiping out the doubts that these men must be having about the support of the American people. It is hard enough to face the prospect of dying in combat, but it must be particularly hard if you do so while feeling that the people at home are opposed to what you

The stalks that have been dead for an unusually long time, caused by root rot, or other plant dis-eases, or sometimes by leaving the cotton too long after des-iccation, are often the cause for "barky" bales. An improperly operated machine stripper along with any of these conditions will tains bark.

Bark is difficult and sometimes almost impossible for gin machinery to remove since it is flexible and cotton fibers which oils the machinery to it. cling to it. If it is removed, some cotton lint must be removed with it. If left in the cotton, mill machinery must remove it be-fore spinning the lint, which increases spinning costs, or else a lower grade product results.

There are no standards or set rules as to how much bark a sample must contain before it is reduced in grade. High grade cotton can not have as much as the lower grade bales and still go unpenalized.

A reduction of one grade on account of bark may lower the value of a bale of cotton as much as $10.00, and possibly much as $10.00, and possibly more. Samples are sometimes, but rarely, reduced two or more grades due to extraneous matter such as bark. The Commodity Credit Corporation loan penalizes a "barky" bale 50 points, or about $2.50, and accepts the bale on the grade to which it was reduced.

Cotton producers are urged to take all precautions in setting and operating cotton stripping machinery, as those little pieces of bark are very costly when sold in a bale of cotton.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read John 3:1-8.

Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

On a trip to the Holy Land, a group of us were visiting in the Old City of Jerusalem and other sacred places. When we came to "Garden of the Tomb," the guide told us we could see the places associated, either actually or traditionally, with our Lord. But he added: "The most important thing is to have Him in the heart." It made a great impression on all 18 persons of consion on all 18 persons of our

It is so very vital that we are "born again"—that we give Jesus Christ His rightful places in our hearts. In our present day, when so many earthshaking events are coming to pass, we do not know what a day may bring forth. In Second Peter, we read: "The Lord...is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."

Jesus Christ does and will give us victory in this present life over all sin and evil if we will only let Him do this for us.

PRAYER

Dear God, we thank You for Your Son Jesus Christ, who is able to save us from our sins. Help us every day to walk and talk with Him, who taught us to pray, "Our Father which art in heaven... Amen.
