SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FEBRUARY 3, 1966

NUMBER 5

We received the following letter this week from Miss Lena Boyd, a resident of Santa Anna, who is a retired missionary to India, and who spent many, many years in that nation. The letter gives an interesting insight into one of the headline stories of the last few days, from a person who is in a position to know whereof she speaks. Text of the letter follows:

Sir:
Several people have asked what I think of Mrs. Indira Gandhi, as prime minister of India.

I believe she is the right one for the place at this time. You remember she was mentioned for the place when her father (former Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru) died in May, 1964. But she declined. But now she realizes she can help her country, so was willing to run. And I believe she has the support of most of her people.

She is well educated and well qualified. She had her education in Switzerland. In fact, she was a high school student there while her mother was there for her health, and where her mother died of tuberculosis. Her father (Nehru) was at that time in prison in India for his activities in the struggle for independence, but the British government allowed him to go to Switzerland to be with his wife in the last few weeks of her life.

I met Indira once—that was in the summer of 1945. I was having my summer vacation in Kashmir, and Mrs. Gandhi's camp was only a few hundred yards from my camp. I had with me three school children, my Naseem, whom some of you have met, and two others. Our tents were down by the river.

One morning, Indira and the Danish nurse who cared for her two little boys of about one and three, were out hunting for mushrooms. I was outside my tent when they passed by, and the nurse, whom I had met before, introduced us. I asked about the health of her father, Pandit Nehru, who was also in Kashmir with her, having only recently been released from prison by the British, because he had not been well. I saw him one day in town—I had gone to the post office and I saw him standing in the street talking with some men. In India, we do not go inside the post office, we just stand in the street and are served at a little outside window.

As the nurse, Indira, and I stood talking that day, suddenly Indira darted down and picked up a choice mushroom from between my feet!

Sincerely,
Lena Boyd

We would be willing to wager the Santa Anna is the only city in Texas with a resident who has had a mushroom plucked from between her feet by the prime minister of a major nation.

This is the time of year that is the bane of all glasses wearers. Whenever you enter a warm room from the cold outdoors, your specs always fog up, and you walk around in a semiblind condition, stumbling over chairs and stepping on the dog's tail (which can be painful if the chair has sharp corners or the dog sharp teeth). To speed up the defogging process, you can hold the glasses over the nearest stove, but then you burn your nose when you put them back on.

Mrs. Cliff Herndon, our Ranger Park Inn correspondent and reporter-of-all-trades, tells us that she has heard that your glasses won't fog up if you back through the door into the room. We can't testify to the effectiveness of this method, since we haven't tried it yet. We can't decide which is worse—having our glasses fog up or having people think we are crazy for backing through doors.

Kenneth Brusenhan was discussing cattle prices the other day over coffee at Phillips Drug Store. He recalled Fox Johnson once took some cattle to Fort Worth for sale. "You should have been here yesterday," he was told, "they were really bringing a good price."

Mr. Johnson shrugged. "Oh, well," he said, "I've been bringing cattle up here to sell for 40 years, and I've been a day late every time!"

Santa Anna Name Inspires Book

Satisfying his curiosity about the origin of the name of Santa Anna Mountain, near his birthplace, led Roy D. Holt to research which resulted in the writing of his latest book. Titled "Heap Many Texas Chiefs," the book contains individual articles covering the lives of 78 wellknown chiefs of the Comanche, Kiowa, Apache, and other tribes that live in Texas during the early and middle 1800's, and that played an important role in the history of this part of the West.

Holt, a native of the Santa Anna area, taught in Texas public schools for 39 years. He is now retired and resides in Copperas Cove. He teaches extension courses at Fort Hood for Mary Hardin Baylor College, at Belton. Holt has written extensively on Texas subjects.

His latest book is scheduled for spring publication by the Naylor Company, of San Antonio.

Local Postmaster Nomination Made

According to a report from Washington, the nomination of John C. Gregg as Postmaster of the Santa Anna Post Office was sent to the Senate by President Lyndon Johnson last Friday, January 23.

Approval of the nomination is expected in 60 to 90 days. Gregg has served as Acting Postmaster of the local Post Office since April of 1964. He was appointed following the death of the former Postmaster, J. Lee Strother, Jr.

County And State Offices Draw Candidates As Filing Deadline Nears

A couple of surprise entries in local races, and the not unexpected announcement that Ben Barnes, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, is a candidate for renomination, marked the political scene hereabouts this week.

Among the new candidates for the Democratic Party nomination in the primaries are Byron (Lefty) Gilbreath, of Santa Anna, a new entry in the race for county commissioner of precinct 2; and Erman Miller, who will oppose incumbent County Judge Frank Lewis.

On a statewide level, the Texas Supreme Court ruled that State Senators Galloway Calhoun and Franklin Spears are eligible to run for the nomination for state attorney general. The high court had been requested to rule on the eligibility of the two men, since one interpretation of the state constitution would rule them out of the race. They join Secretary of State Crawford Martin in the attorney general contest. In-

School Board Sets Election Date Here

Election of two members of the Board of Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District was set for Saturday, April 2, 1966, by action of the Board in their meeting on Tuesday, January 4.

Two places on the Board will be open, those of Grady McIver and William Brown, whose current terms expire on May 1, 1966.

Brown has served on the Board of Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District since 1957. He is presently serving his third term of office on the Board. He also served on the Board of Trustees of the Buffalo school district prior to the consolidation of that district with the Santa Anna district.

McIver was first elected to the Board of Trustees in 1960. He has served as president of the Board for several years.

According to state law, the deadline for filing for places on the ballot in school board elections is 30 calendar days prior to the date of the election—in this case, the deadline will be Thursday, March 3, 1966. Those wishing to file for a place on the ballot do so by applying in writing to the county judge.

Absentee voting will commence 20 days before the date of the election—Sunday, March 13, 1966. Mrs. Pauline Garrett, Santa Anna City Secretary, will issue and receive absentee ballots at the City Hall.

Tuesday, March 29, will be the deadline for absentee voting.

Election officials will be appointed by the Board of Trustees.

Members of the Board of Trustees are elected for three year terms, with the seven members of the Board serving staggered terms. Two Trustees are elected on each of two consecutive years, with three Trustees being elected on the third year.

Present members of the Board of Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District, in addition to Brown and McIver, are vice president James Eubank and secretary Barbara Kingsbery, both of whom have one more year to serve on their present terms; and Richard Horner, Robert T. Smith, and Joe Wise, all of whom have two more years to go on their current terms of office.

Mayor and Mrs. W. Ford Barnes spent the weekend in San Antonio, visiting with their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barnes.

Attend church regularly.

Incumbent Waggoner Carr will make the race for United States senator, opposing Senator John Tower.

In that race, Carr will face competition from Houston advertising man Jack R. Willoughby, according to an announcement this week.

State Representative Barnes, who was the youngest man to serve as speaker of the state Legislature, stopped by the office of The Santa Anna News this week, to announce that he will be a candidate for reelection. Barnes expressed interest in the possibility of a campsite location near Santa Anna, and promised to assist in such a project if local citizens decide they want it.

W. Byron (Lefty) Gilbreath, longtime local resident, who is Fire Marshall of the City of Santa Anna, announced as a candidate for county commissioner, precinct number 2, on Monday, January 31. Gilbreath told The News that he has been considering such a race for quite some time, decided Sunday to file for a spot on the primary ballot. Already in the race are incumbent Thomas Wristen, Jr., who is seeking his second term; and local stock farmer Glen F. Pope.

Another surprise candidate for a county office is Erman Miller, of Coleman, who recently retired as manager of the J. C. Fenney Store in that city. He will oppose incumbent County Judge Frank Lewis.

Deadline for filing for a place on the primary ballot is next Monday, February 7. Filing must be made with County Democratic Chairman Don Johnson, Coleman attorney.

Other contested races that will face county voters include the United States Congressional position, in which Abilene attorney Eldon Mahon will oppose incumbent Omar Burleson; the state representative race, in which incumbent Barnes is being challenged by David Ratliff, of Stamford; and the county clerk contest, in which Barney Ransberger, of Coleman, is trying to take the job away from incumbent Lee F. Craig.

Candidates who are unopposed, so far, include County Treasurer Monte Gideon, District Clerk G. A. (Tode) Hensley, and county school superintendent candidate D. H. Williams.

Governor John Connally and Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith are being opposed by a team of two candidates, Houston businessman Stanley C. Woods, running for governor, and State Representative Bill Hollowell, of Grand Saline, who is a candidate for lieutenant governor. Railroad Commissioner Eyrone Tunnell is facing a race with State Representative Paul Harling, of Goliad. District Judge John F. Onion, of San Antonio, is running against Judge W. T. McDonald for the latter's seat on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Candidates for state office as yet unopposed include incumbents State Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Agriculture Commissioner John White, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, and Texas Supreme Court Associate Justices Joe Greenhill and Clyde E. Smith.

Local Farm Bureau Organization Sets Membership Drive February 7 To 12

The Coleman County Farm Bureau will join with other local Farm Bureau organizations across the state in the observance of the week of February 7 through February 12 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week in Texas," so designated in a proclamation signed by Governor John Connally.

Charles Sewell, of Coleman, is chairman of the membership drive in this county. He will attend a state membership kickoff meeting in Dallas, Wednesday, February 2, to prepare for the local program.

In signing the proclamation, Governor Connally said: "Farming and ranching are essential to the economy of our state and nation. About 40 percent of all Texans receive their livelihood either directly or indirectly from agriculture. Through their organized efforts and by democratic procedures, the farmers and ranchers of Texas have sought a voice in state affairs and have campaigned for improvements in the economy and government of Texas.

In designating the special week Governor Connally urged "Our citizens to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week in an effort to publicize this important phase of our Texas life."

The Texas Farm Bureau now has a statewide membership of 95,204, and has a goal of 100,500 by October 31, which is the end of the organization's membership year. The Coleman County Farm Bureau has a membership of 855. Goal for the County during the membership drive is 865 members.

Emzy Brown is president of the Coleman County Farm Bureau.

Still more new cars and diesels, too, for Santa Fe.

Our $145-million improvement program for 1966 includes 60 high-horsepower diesels and 5,000 freight cars. That brings our investment — in just 4 years — to more than $360-million for 18,000 modern cars and diesels. All to serve still better our busy Santa Fe Country.

Soon more than 20 per cent of Santa Fe's huge fleet will be less than four years old. But this does not tell the whole story. Many new cars are longer; others have capacities multiplied 2½ times; many haul double the tonnage of cars they replace.

Our fleet of giant 100-ton covered hopper cars for grain, and other bulk commodities is being expanded. Soon 5,600 of them will be in service — with the carrying capacity of 11,000 conventional box cars! Half of Santa Fe's diesel freight power is in new high-horsepower units — and more keep coming to move our trains on fast, dependable schedules. How can we help you? Just call your local Santa Fe Agent.

The railroad that is always on the move toward a better way.

FAMILY

Ever thought about that word — its deep, stirring meaning? We start out as part of a family. And even though we know we are "little" it doesn't matter. We are part of the family—that's important. And what we will become—the family is looking out for that!

Then one day we are grownups. And again we are part of a family. But now we are "big." Oh so big! For what the rest of the family will become—that depends on us!

How important a part did the Church play in your transition from being little to being big? Well, in this free land, the chances are good that you grew up spiritually as well as physically.

But, even if you didn't—it's not too late! Not only can you see your children off to a free and fine education, but you can come with them to church . . . where the "little" and the "big" learn of GOD . . . where the truth of Christ's teaching guides the destiny of THE FAMILY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIG INCH

The ruled box above is a one-inch ad. It measures one column wide by one inch deep. It costs advertisers 45 cents.

It looks kind of lonesome by itself.

But look at it this way:

What you get when you buy a one inch ad in The Santa Anna News is not just a single space in the paper, but one inch multiplied by more than 1,000 copies each week. And by more than 4,000 readers each week.

So you are really buying 1,000 inches, which (at 120 column inches per page) would be some eight and one-third pages of printed newsprint.

That is a mighty big chunk of space to cost 45 cents. Just imagine trying to reach all those Santa Anna News readers by postcard. It would amount to more than $160 just for the postage. But The News does it for just 45 cents.

So you can see that a little one inch ad is a big inch when it is advertising space in The Santa Anna News. And two inches will tell your story twice as well as one, and four will get your message across four times as well, and so on. It is the most effective and economical way possible to let people in this area know that you have wares and services they could use.

Call FI8-3545 and let our advertising representative show you how our big inches of advertising space can be a big salesman for you.

Four Years In Washington?

Not very long ago, Texas voters rejected a bid to increase the terms in office of state representatives from two years to four years. Now the proposal has been made to extend the terms of United States Congressmen from the present two years to four years.

The arguments being put forward in support of this plan are similar to those presented in support of the four year term for state representatives—mainly, that the two year term requires the representative to campaign for reelection too often, thus impairing his efficiency in performing his legislative functions. The necessity of standing so often for reelection causes the representative to become too easy a target for lobbies and special interest groups, that provide the necessary campaign funds.

The Constitution of the United States of America is a masterpiece. Without going into long, drawnout detail (try reading our state constitution some time), it spells out a system of government that is best designed to protect the rights of the citizens of the nation, and at the same time provide a government strong enough to meet all challenges, and flexible enough to meet the test of time and changing conditions. The basic concept in the Constitution is one of "checks and balances," in which the power of each segment of the government is limited by the responsibilities of another segment, so that no one man, or group of men, can become too powerful. The final check lies with the people (the writers of the Constitution did not forget the revolutionary point made in the Declaration of Independence, that a government derives its powers only from the consent of the governed). And so they placed in the Constitution the provision that the members of one house of the legislative branch must go back to the people every two years, to allow the people to keep a tight rein on government, to be able to express their approval or disapproval at regular short intervals. So long as the people maintain such a tight control over their representatives, just so long will they not need to worry about dictatorships or other losses of rights and freedoms. It is true that the two year term makes a representative responsive to lobbies and pressure groups—at least to the largest lobby and pressure group, which is the voters, the citizens he represents, and this is as it should be.

If a Congressman lacks the moral strength to resist pressure from lobbies or financial contributors, he is not going to resist whether his term in office is two years or ten, and he should not be filling the position of trust he holds.

It is said that the rush of events in this modern world is a reason for electing representatives to four year terms. The exact opposite is true. With events happening with such rapidity, events that affect everyone, the people need more than even a channel through which to make their desires and opinions known in the shortest possible time.

Texas recently demonstrated that they do not favor a change that would remove control of the government farther from the people, when they rejected the proposed four year terms for state officials. They should be even more dedicated in their opposition to four year terms for their most direct link to the Federal government.

Cotton Report

The United States Department of Agriculture Consumer and Marketing Service reported 14,832 cotton samples graded last week. B. B. Manly, Jr., who is in charge of the Cotton Classing Office, said there was very little cotton harvested during the week. About one half of the samples classed were carried over from the previous week, while the remaining one half was what accumulated in gin yards and was ginned during the weekend and the first part of the week.

The grades of District 2 cotton dropped last week. White grades dropped from seven to three percent of the total. Light Spotted qualities declined from 77 to 70 percent. Spotted cotton increased from 15 to 25 percent, and Tinged cotton increased to two percent.

Predominant grades last week were: Middling Light Spotted, nine percent; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 54 percent; Middling Spotted, nine percent; and Strict Low Middling Spotted, 13 percent. The largest change in percentage was for Middling Light Spotted, which dropped from 19 percent of the total to nine percent.

Samples reduced in grade because of bark increased from seven to 12 percent of the total classed.

Sixty seven percent of the samples classed stapled at 15/16 of an inch, compared with 76 percent for the preceding week, while 29/32 of an inch staple lengths increasing from 22 to 32 percent. The remaining one percent stapled at 7/8 of an inch.

Micronaire readings were unchanged compared with the preceding week. Forty eight percent of the samples milled 3.6 through 4.8, 26 percent milled 3.3 through 3.5, 18 percent went 3.0 through 3.2, six percent rated 2.7 through 2.9, and two percent milled 2.6 or lower.

The market became more sluggish, as Strict Low Middling Light Spotted became more difficult to sell. Most of the cotton that graded Middling Light Spotted or higher went into the Commodity Credit Corporation loan, as did the Strict Low Middling Light Spotted cotton at a few places. Prices received on the lower colored qualities ranged from $1.00 to $3.75 per bale above CCC loan rates.

This is the last of the weekly quality and market reports until the cotton harvest is complete. A summary article will be released at that time.

State Capital NEWS

Governor John Connally is going along with forecasts that a "substantial amount" of new government spending in the next fiscal period is "almost inevitable."

However, Connally declined to join in predicting specific new state taxes. He called such forecasts "premature," although the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy had indicated earlier that it agrees with these predictions.

"It's almost inevitable that we are going to be looking at increased expenditures in a substantial amount," Connally told a press conference. "But I don't want to try to estimate the magnitude of a tax program, if any, or the expenditures."

Meanwhile, the tax policy committee held its first meeting, ordered Texas Research League studies on the impact of sales tax adjustment and an unusual appraisal of how to equalize the widely variant state property tax.

State Representative Ben Atwell, of Dallas, committee chairman, reported that all members of the panel seemed to feel that more revenue will be necessary when the Legislature writes the new budget for Texas government operations next year.

Atwell said the committee will be taking a reading on revenue which could be obtained from raising the state sales tax rate, now set at two percent, and removing various exemptions.

These exemptions to payment of the sales tax now apply to food, drugs, farm machinery, alcoholic beverages, industrial and agricultural fuel and power, and tobacco. Atwell doubts that the legislature will tamper with the exemptions applying to food, medicine, and farm implements. He expressed a personal preference for an overall sales tax hike if the need for new sources of money for the state is mandatory.

The committee also is going to study the likely effects of state income taxation, and adjustments in the state corporation tax formula.

As a possible method of equalizing the property tax situation, the committee will evaluate results of assigning each county its equitable share of the ad valorem load on a basis of estimated fair market values. Voters would have to approve such a procedure by amending the state constitution.

Citizens of some counties are now paying seven times as much tax on property with the same value as do citizens of other counties.

DRAFT RULES TIGHTENED

Young Texans who have received draft orders can no longer get them cancelled by enlisting in a reserve or National Guard unit, Colonel Morris Schwartz, State Selective Service director, announces.

A man can still enlist in regular forces after receiving an induction notice—but only if he can be signed up before his induction date, Colonel Schwartz said.

New policy reached Texas draft boards from National Selective Service Headquarters, where it was adopted on recommendation of the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower.

CONNALLY TO SOUTH AMERICA

Governor Connally is considering a weeklong tour of major South American countries, starting February 21, to drum up participation in San Antonio's 1968 HemisFair.

He said he hopes to visit presidents of Venezuela, Brazil, and Argentina—and perhaps Chile and Peru—to ask their cooperation in staging HemisFair exhibits. Connally doubles as commissioner general of the HemisFair, which is being called the "Fair of the Americas."

"We are running out of time," Connally told a press conference. "The fair is scheduled to open in April of 1968. Exhibits must be built in a little over two years. Once the line is broken, I think they (meaning all of the major South American countries) will come in."

TOURIST SEMINARS SET

Texas businesses will get tips on how they can get a bigger share of the 30 billion dollars a year US vacation market, in a series of tourist seminars, scheduled for 20 Texas communities during the period from March 7 through May 13.

The University of Texas Department of Distributive Education and the Texas Tourist Development Agency will co-sponsor the meetings in places yet to be selected.

The seminars are mainly designed for groups which have direct contact with tourists, including police, hotel, service, and restaurant personnel. Interested communities and groups should contact the Texas Tourist Development Agency, in Austin.

POLICE REPORT COMPLETE

Out of almost 300 police agencies, employing 9,000 officers, less than half have established formalized minimum requirements for employment, according to the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

In addition, less than one fourth of the agencies require any sort of formal training before officer assignment.

SOME WIN, SOME LOSE

Some Texas communities have been adversely effected by the recent closing and reduction of 126 military establishments in the nation. But this may turn out to benefit other communities in need of airport equipment.

Texas Aeronautics Commission will act as a go between for communities seeking surplus equipment.

Austin and Abilene both had Nike missile facilities declared excess recently, and Bellville and Huntsville lost Navy Reserve installations. Towns interested in securing the surplus equipment should contact the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

STATE INTEREST EARNINGS UP

Texas state government now has $228,800,000 in time account deposits.

State Treasurer Jesse James estimated the money will earn $9,100,000 this year, at four percent interest.

James said that the interest will average $762,832 a month, or more than $25,000 a day. This total exceeds that of recent years.

Read 2 Corinthians 1:1-7

Although he was a Son, he learned obedience through what he suffered. (Hebrews 5:8, RSV)

Though suffering is the lot of everyone along the pathway of life, the experience may be used to strengthen faith and character.

Edward Trudeau decided to become a medical doctor. In preparing himself for his profession, he made a good record in school and seemed destined for a promising career. But he was struck down with tuberculosis. He was forced to give up his plan to practice medicine, and in weakness and pain, he went to the Adirondack Mountains.

Instead of giving up in despair, Trudeau made friends and became interested in others who suffered as he did. He regained his health and organized a laboratory for the study of tuberculosis.

We, too, may learn through suffering. By the endurance of pain, we may become more aware of our need for God; for often "man's extremity is God's opportunity." As we have time to think on the spiritual things, we may find deeper meaning and purpose in life, and come to a closer walk with the Lord.

PRAYER

Teach us to be grateful, O Lord, for life, health, and the higher happiness. Grant us strength sufficient for every circumstance, in joy or pain. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Wise is the person who uses suffering to bring him closer to God.
