LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

Special Correspondence.

There has been much discussion before the committees this week on the guarantee deposit bill and the officers fee bill, and each have been reported unfavorably from the committees to the House but each will be brought on the floor of the House by minority reports, and all members will be put on record as to how they stand on these important measures. I am glad to be able to say that on the officers of my district I have received only three or four letters and all of these were as to the county treasurer's office. They are from the western counties. They objected to having their salaries placed at $50.00 per year, but since writing them the bill did not take effect until 1911 there has been no further complaint. None of the county officers under this bill would receive less than $2000 per annum if the fees amount to that and not over $3000 in the largest counties. When the bill is printed I will try and send you a copy. In the committee room we who favor the bill said to the officers and their attorneys who were before us in the committee room arguing against the bill, that there was not a single one in the room and there were a number of them in the room or in the state, who would go before the people and asked to be elected on the issues raised by this bill, and not one of them denied this proposition, statement or challenge. The bill allows adequate compensation. Indeed I believe it allows them a third more at least for their work per year than nine tenths of them ever made or can make at any private or other business. I know no private individual or corporation or firm would pay from $3000 to $8000 per year for services that they could procure for $1500 to $2000 per year.

We had before us Alphonzo Steel the last survivor of the battle of San Jacinto on Friday who made a talk on the events of this battle. He is now in his 92nd year. Although there are one or two old men in the Legislature, not a member was born when this battle was fought. Beside this honored veteran at dinner yesterday and in our conversation about the battle I asked him if there were women about when this battle was fought and he said there were none. I asked him this specific question because I heard that there is a historical question as to whether any women were around during the battle.

Col. W. P. Zuber was beside Mr. Steel on the speaker's stand. Col. Zuber was detailed to remain with the sick at Harrisburg while the others went to the battle. One of the most pathetic things was Col. Zuber telling how, when they were starting for the battle, Mr. Steel came up and found him in tears and asked him what was the matter and he told Mr. Steel he was denied the privilege of going into the battle. Mr. Steel then asked Col. Zuber how much he would give him to exchange places. Col. Zuber replied he only had ten dollars and a half, and he would give him all of it and if he had a thousand dollars he would give it just as willingly. Mr. Steel then said he would not exchange with him for two thousand dollars. Col. Zuber wept like a child when he found he was deprived of the privilege of going into the battle.

These words of heroism and patriotism as told from these venerable patriots brought gushing tears to my eyes in this Legislative hall.

W. B. CROCKETT.

METHODIST HOME MISSION SOCIETY

The first Thursday in February was election day for the Woman's Home Mission Society and almost all the officers of last year were returned to office. It was decided to make several divisions of the membership over the town to see if better results would not be obtained. Before beginning this it was decided to have a "valentine fish pond" and serve luncheon on Saturday, Feb. 13. This was done at W. L. Doss's drug store. Mrs. Douglass Ferguson having the affair in charge. Many dainty and useful articles as well as beautiful valentines from Mrs. Shaw's artistic brush were obtained by those fishing. Ice cream and cake, coffee and sandwiches were served from 11 a. m. until 7 p. m., and about $25 was cleared by the Society. We hope this year to progress spiritually as well as financially.

MRS. J. G. MERRITT,
Press Superintendent.

THEY ARE IMPOSTERS

I learn that certain parties are selling spectacles over the country representing that they are connected with this house and giving my guarantee on the inferior stuff they sell.

I have no representative in the field; anyone claiming to be connected with my house in any line is an imposter and swindler. Parties who have been victimized by such fakes will do me a favor by helping to bring them to justice.

Miss Sallie Morris of Big Springs was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris several days this week. She returned home Tuesday night having spent the time very pleasantly.

Miss Lettie Miller was hostess to the young ladies 42 club, and entertained delightfully at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. T. Johnson, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 13. The majority of the members were present to fill the air with their gay chatter and merry laughter and the occasion was a most enjoyable one.

W. H. Clark of Cananea, Mexico, manager of the commissaries of the Cananea Copper Company was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Donahoo last week. He left Sunday for Hico where he will spend some time among friends whom he has not seen for some time. He expressed himself as highly delighted with our part of the country.

A Literary Society was organized at Union Chapel, Friday, Feb. 12, under the direction of Miss Lillian Davis, who is teacher of the school at that place. A number of enthusiastic workers, eager for improvement were present and doubtless the society will be of much pleasure and benefit to all who have the opportunity of being a member.

The prospecting party composed of Messrs Dave Leaverton, Ney Sheridan, Hubert Toler and Dr. Henthorn arrived at home Sunday afternoon. They visited a number of towns to the west and traveled over much of the beautiful country, had a delightful trip and were in all things well pleased but found no place which was better to them than Loraine.

Miss Pearl Porter entertained with a most enjoyable social party at her pretty home, south of town Saturday evening. It was one of those valentine gatherings where every heart is full of love and gladness and as Miss Porter is a young lady who possesses the gift of a successful entertainer it was indeed a very pleasant occasion. Games, Music and conversation were the features of the evening.

While returning in a buggy from a party, at the residence of J. R. Porter Sunday night Allan Hall accompanied by his sister, Miss Willie, were nearly losing their lives. While going down a slight incline the tug broke and the horse became frightened and ran away, overturning the buggy and throwing both occupants to the ground. The young lady was bruised and scratched and parts of her clothing torn to rags but fortunately not otherwise seriously injured. The buggy was torn completely to pieces.

Mr. Ah Pratt entertained five of his young men friends with a delightful Valentine luncheon Sunday. This is another home in which the old lamps of southern hospitality has not ceased to burn and the host assisted by his mother and charming sister, Miss Lela did everything for their guests enjoyment and succeeded in the fullest sense of the word in making for them a most pleasant day and one which will not be forgotten soon. A huge cake was cut by the young men and in each slice was hidden the dimpled likeness of their future bride, and an appropriate verse. The luncheon was excellent and tastily served and each one did their best both in devouring and in afterwards thanking his host. Covers were laid for Messrs Cornet Wimberley, Ross Gregg, James Garnett, Tim Garland and Lon Beach.

Mr. Adolphus Carter of Loraine and Miss Gertie Lofton of Hermleigh were married at the bride's home on the evening of Feb. 10, by Rev. Ledger of that place. Mrs. Sidney Boykin played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the ceremony was performed under a beautiful arch. After the wedding a reception was held and a dainty bridal luncheon tastily served. Mrs. Carter is a young lady of many accomplishments and Mr. Carter's many friends congratulate him upon his excellent choice of a life companion.

The young couple came immediately to Loraine and are at home in their pretty cottage on the east side.

Among the guests who attended the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. Ney Carter, Mesdames Hollingsworth, Hubert Toler, Sidney Boykin, Miss Orell and Ruby Land, Eula Hill Hollingsworth and Mr. Robert Spence.

Fire at Big Springs Tuesday morning destroyed two residences and burned Mrs. A. S. Jones to death. She was cleaning a skirt in front of the fire with gasoline when it ignited and in a moment the flames enveloped her as she ran across the street to a neighbor's house. By the time assistance arrived, she had been so frightfully burned that death ensued after five hours of horrible suffering.

The fire spread so rapidly that both the Carter and the Tom Tamsitt residences were destroyed, with a total loss of about $6,000.

CUTHBERT CULLINGS

Crisp and Curt, From the Record's Regular Correspondent.

Special Correspondence.

Owing to the severe cold weather Sunday Bro. Sweeney failed to fill his regular appointment.

G. W. Womack & Co has purchased the Badget stock of goods and have moved same up to their store.

Say! Mr. Editor when does Hicks say it will rain here? We need about a 4 inch shower upon our part of the vineyard.

Donnell Willman has been out of school the past week. The cause was a wagon wheel ran over his leg at the knee. The hurt was not serious.

Some report thermometers registered 10 degrees below zero Monday morning. We had no thermometer but we are confident it was lots colder than that at our house.

Our neighborhood was saddened Friday morning by the news of the death of E. J. Malloy. Mr. Malloy lived on Mr. Badget's farm about three miles east of here. About a week before his death he took lagrippe and a few days later pneumonia which was the cause of his death. He was a devout christian, being a member of the Primitive Baptist church. He had resided in this neighborhood only a few years and was 64 years of age. Besides many friends he leaves an unmarried son and daughter who lived with him and a married son who lives near him to mourn his death. We with the entire neighborhood sympathize with those that are bereaved.

MARK HOPKINS.

"If you want to know what a man really is, give him power." Never was a truer test of the "stuff of a man" enunciated. The limitations by which the man without the power to do as he wills is hedged about, cramps him within conventional lines. The man whose birth the nation celebrated last week was great by this crucial test. He never abused his power, and responsibility only added to the burden of his care, without serving to warm his vanity. He sought no revenge, harbored no resentment, though some of his closest advisers and lieutenants openly ridiculed and mercilessly lampooned him. Lincoln's whole life and character was relieved by a sense of humor that saved him doubtless, at times of the nation's greatest stress, from madness. At no time did he separate himself from the mass of the people or regard himself as a being apart.

A HOME PRODUCTION

At the opera house, on Friday night, Feb. 26th, will be produced a play written by Miss Minnie Thornberry, of this place and a graduate of the Colorado high school last year. The title of the play is "Ione," an Indian romance, and it has been stayed by Miss Clara Reaville. The title role will be played by Miss Ethel Majors, who is a very capable amateur in histrionics. Others of the cast who have appeared behind the footlights to local audiences before are, Miss Don Higginbotham, Prof. Hale, Myrtle Vaughan, Miss Ruth Graves, Martha Fields and Edgar Majors.

There will be specialties of songs, drills, cowboy and Indian scenes during the play, and the public is assured of a good entertainment.

The play is given for the benefit of the public school library fund and aside from its own merits, deserves the heartiest support by the public. Remember the date, Friday February 26th and secure your seat soon as possible.

HERPERIAN CLUB MEET

MISS DRY, REPORTER

The second open meeting of the Hesperian club year was given Friday at the home of Mrs. W. L. Doss, Mesdames Bell, Collier, Dolman and Doss being the hostesses. The cozy home had been bewitchingly decorated for the affair, which was a valentine meeting in every particular.

The reception hall was festooned with red hearts, and on a table in the center was the daintiest basket imaginable, made of three immense red hearts fastened around three red canes which formed a handle; this was filled with white hearts to which red pencils were attached.

The parlor was beautiful with its chains of red hearts caught at intervals with beautiful valentines. Hearts and valentines festooned the windows and peeped out from every corner, making a fairy-like bower of beauty.

The guests and club ladies were beautiful in elegant new frocks, and, as a well dressed woman is always happy, joy reigned supreme.

Elsie Lee Majors in a beautiful red silk dress with crown of hearts was the dearest little queen of hearts imaginable, while Gussett Collier in white satin bloomers and blouse with gauzy wings, a gilded bow and arrow and numerous "matches," was the ideal cupid.

The program was very interesting, roll call being a valentine verse, and the original ones were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Collier's Published of St. Valentine given in her best saying that nothing Te be done.

Miss Dry gave Y TH and His Valentine, WHIPKEY'S a way that all were EST with laughter.

Miss Dupree sang veryly.

Miss Jo Dry gave a love story in child language which was a perfect gem.

Mrs. Majors gave a beautiful piano solo.

Mrs. Dupree told in a most interesting way the love story of Napoleon and Josephine.

Miss Dupree followed with the love story of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert.

Miss Doss gave an exquisite piano solo.

Mrs. Majors told the love story of Burns and his Highland Mary. Mrs. Hazzard charmed one with two delightful selections.

Miss Graves also sang most sweetly.

The heart-shaped basket containing the white hearts was now passed and each person asked to write a valentine. These were read aloud, then collected, and each guest drew one on leaving, as a souvenir.

An elegant two-course luncheon in white and red was served. The sandwiches were heart-shaped and tied with red ribbons. The jelly and sugar was also in the form of red hearts and everything was as delicious to the taste as it was beautiful to the eye.

"Though love looks not wit the eyes, but with the mind; o this day we hope poor Cupid was not blind."

Let's do something and keep things going. What shall we do? And how shall we do it? What needs to be done, anyway? Who knows? The person who knows what's the matter with Colorado will please tell us all about it.

We want to move forward, but how and whence? That's the question. Can the farmers help. What do the farmers want? What do they need? Who knows and why? What crop is the most profitable? Is there a market for it? If not, why not? How can we make a market?

There will be a big meeting of the Commercial Club soon, and when it does occur, let everybody be there, for there is going to be something interesting take place.

COLORADO WINS

Considering the wind and the amount of sand in the air, a large crowd came to witness the game of basket ball between the girls of the Sweetwater and Colorado high schools, on last Saturday.

This is the second time that Colorado has defeated Sweetwater, but our girls have improved greatly since the last game which was played at Colorado in December.

The visiting team was accompanied by four teachers, Misses Higginbotham and Wellborn and Messrs. Hale and Darwin and a large and enthusiastic crowd of rooters.

The other game advertised for the same afternoon between the Sweetwater and Roscoe boys had to be called off on account of the failure of the Roscoe team to put in its appearance.

Both our teams appreciate the financial support given them, enabling them to pay expenses and put a small surplus into the basket ball treasury.

The line-up of the game was as follows:

Colorado—Beulah Padgett, 1st center; Alpine Fox, second center; Mattie Shuford, 1st forward; Beulah Ellis, second forward; Roxie Coughran, 1st guard; Omelia Terry, 2nd guard; Olive Greenwood, substitute.

Sweetwater—Josephine Sanders, 1st center; Lola Williams, 2nd center; Fern Howe, 1st forward; Ruth Seaton, 2nd forward; Katheryn Sanders, 1st guard; Vivian Snell, 2nd guard; Annelene Faber, substitute.

Referee, Mr. Hale.
Umpires, Miss Garrison and Leon Maner.—Sweetwater Reporter.

MONEY'S GREAT SPEECH

A Frank and Logical Plea for Political Supremacy of White Race

Washington, Feb. 3. When the senate was in executive session yesterday afternoon considering the nomination of Dr. Crum to be collector of customs at Charleston, S. C., Senator Money of Mississippi made what is generally pronounced one of the few really great speeches delivered in recent years. Speeches made in executive session are never recorded, and one of the proofs that this was in reality a great speech is the fact that so many senators were trying today to quote passages from it.

A Republican senator, one who comes from the northwest, declared today after the spell of Senator Money's eloquence had passed away, that it was a national calamity that this speech could not be published just as Senator Money spoke it. For, he declared, its distribution would entirely shift the North to another viewpoint of the South's race problem.

Senator Money's speech was a frank, naked plea for the supremacy of the white race. He declared that the hope of political or social equality an iridescent dream. He said he would appoint no man to a Federal position who is not a white man. The admission of negroes into political fraternity he held to be a wrong both against them and the whites, and to cultivate in them that hope was against the advance of civilization. The African, he said, was the only race known to history that had increased, multiplied and prospered in slavery, and that, to his mind, was infallible proof of its inferiority—in the divine scheme of things.

Once, in answer to a question from the Republican side, Senator Money declared that the difference between the North's attitude toward the negro and that of the South was that the North sympathized with the negro as a race, but not as an individual, whereas the South sympathized with him as an individual, but not as a race.

Senator Money's speech was so profound in its logic, so recondite in historical illustration and, withal, so lofty in tone, that it made, it is said, a perceptibly deep impression on the Republicans of the senate. It has been called one of those few speeches which modify if they do not destroy opinions long held.

Frank Smith has his name on the honor roll of this paper with figures up to 1910. Frank is up to date at least.

There have been many cases like the following in Colorado. Everything relates the experience of people we know. These plain straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

J. L. Harris, living in the northern part of Merkel, Texas, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than anything I had ever used before, and I believe there is nothing better on the market for kidney or bladder complaint. My back gave me more or less trouble for several years, at times it was a dull throbbing ache, then it would come on in sharp twinges. The kidney secretions were very irregular in action, causing me much annoyance. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply and since using them I have not been troubled with backaches and the secretions are regular and natural. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to several of my neighbors."

WEEKLY HEALTH BULLETIN

Tuberculosis—Continued

In all cases, contagion to others can be prevented. The contagion (germs) is contained in the discharge from a tuberculous nose, therefore it is in the sputum in lung tuberculosis. The germs are very small and frequently millions are spit up in a single day by one patient. If he is careful with the sputum he is harmless, if he is careless he is dangerous to others and also to himself. In tuberculosis, spitting is one of nature's way of getting rid of the germs. The patient should therefore never swallow his sputum for fear of infecting other parts of the body. He should wear no beard or mustache to which particles of spit might adhere and be inhaled or swallowed. The hands should be washed and the mouth rinsed before eating.

Congress seems to hold the idea of "economical dissipation." It spends a billion, and then calls attention to the fact that it might have spent two—a clear saving of a billion dollars.

The census bill that the president vetoed would have given each congressman about 50 good jobs to hand out to his rooters in his district, and of course they are incensed and threaten to make his closing days rocky.

HEALTHFUL? WELL RATHER

The Record has time and again but with uniform failure, tried to convey in formal words some idea, by material symbols, of the healthfulness of this particular section; but had about despaired until the following, from the Tombstone, Ariz. Epitaph came our way. Mutatis mutandis, it applies, with varying features but equal force to Colorado: Nobody ever dies in Tombstone, unless—they brought it "with'm" or fall into a 600-foot vertical shaft, or buy an automobile, or "sass" their mother-in-law, or try to thaw out powder, or mistake cyanide potassium for sugar, or start off a county seat racket. Some die of old age, some old partners of Daniel Boone, but none have ever been known to die from physical irregularities contracted in Tombstone, aside from the above mentioned causes, and occasionally an abnormal tightness about the throat, superinduced by a coil of manila rope, or from a cold caught through a hole made by a .45.

There are three general classifications of people who attend entertainments to which all can go who have the price. There are those who go to be entertained and if they are disappointed know how to endure it and behave. There are those whose capacity of enjoyment runs between the most flagrant horse play and sticky love making. They chew gum like a sheep, giggle during the dialogues, try to hum or whistle the tunes of the actor and orchestra, and if they have seen the play before try to tell you what's coming next; who are as much concerned about being seen as seeing. Last is that contingent seen oftenest where the girls are thickest, skirts are shortest, kicks are the highest and the play most salacious—boistrous, annoying, peanut eating gallery gods. But it takes all sorts of folks to see a play—the bad and indifferent play.

LOST—One good resolution of personal amendment, somewhere in the alley between Oak and Walnut streets on last Saturday evening about six o'clock. The only clue is an empty bottle that smells like a cross between gasoline and high life, but nothing has benzine of the lost property. It was made about January 1st and shows but little use. From the character of the company in which the owner was seen about that time, foul dealings are suspected. Apply at this office for information or reward if found.

It does look to a green outsider that, in every measure that comes before the legislature, there is always a "fly in the ointment," a rift in the flute, some fatal error or emasculating omission. In so important a question as submission, where each side knew the bill would be gone over with a microscope, it was found at the eleventh hour that the bill contained no enacting clause.

While other states and sections are swept by storms and ravaged by flood, west Texas serenely basks in healthful zephyrs—reliets of those boreal convulsions born in Kansas and Oklahoma—with just that minimum admixture of sand that insures grit and abrasive power. And as for rain, it never mist.

WITH PUNIC FAITH

If the democratic platform of last year contained one demand that touched the interests of the people of Texas more than any other, it was submission, while the republican party stood against it. This was the local line of cleavage between the two parties. The victory of the democratic party reflected the will of the people on the question of submission, and every member of the 31st legislature nominated and elected on the democratic ticket was morally and politically pledged to do his utmost to give the voters of Texas an opportunity to vote on state prohibition. From these premises the conclusion is unavoidable, that every legislator who voted against, or any way aided or permitted this abortion, has violated a party pledge. The only semblance of excuse for knifing their campaign promises is, that certain sections prefer local option to state prohibition, but this kind of democracy is but a bastard offspring of that yelled from every stump and platform last year. Majority rule, is the heart, lungs and running gear of the democratic party, in Texas at least. The El Paso Herald on this fiasco speaks, pertinently and sensibly: "Repudiation in this case is only mockery and political cowardice, not in any sense a settlement of the problem. But statewide prohibition might be stayed off some years if the local option laws should be, in good faith, strengthened and rigidly enforced, along with other regulative measures. Prohibition through local option should be made easier and while a majority vote should at any time suffice to shut out the saloons, it ought to take a strong petition and a two-thirds vote to force saloons back upon a town once closed."

FORT WORTH'S ALRIGHT

Fort Worth is again to the fore. It is the center of a humane movement that may not only effect the president of these United States, but every lion, tiger, elephant, gorilla and vicious big thing on the dark continent of Africa. The Band of Mercy hopes to secure the signatures of 5,000,000 school children to a petition begging the President to spare the animals of Africa. It would be cruel to kill them, and its effect on the morals of the young might be bad.

Such a movement in Fort Worth! Shades of Nero and Caligula, at once! Little more than one year ago several kids of that tender hearted burg—maybe, some of these same school children, were taken red handed crucifying a number of dogs in the Trinity bottom. Yesser, nailing 'em alive to trees, and dancing a ring-around-rosey, while the impaled canines smote the miasma with howls of agony. Oh yes, Fort Worth's alright, all right.

POT VERSUS KETTLE

Last week an El Paso paper kinder coughed behind its hand when editorially mentioning the movement in Fort Worth to disuade the president from his hunting trip—on the ground that it was cruel to kill the animals. Now listen at this from the Pass city:

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 11.—The Bengal tiger, a wild Guadalupe bull and the enormous grizzly bear will fight to the death in a specially constructed enclosure in the near future.

The election has come and gone. Two thirds of the tax paying citizens of Colorado have said by their votes they endorse the present city government and want it perpetuated. We are all democrats, who bow to the majority's will. Let's try to make our town a model one.

Of all the styles of doin' hair That women have essayed, From Roman plat and Psyche knot To wearing it in braids— There's none that so disfigures them Or so misfits their hats, As that belike a coil of hemp Infested by the rats. I know not how the trick is done— It may be held by pins; But one thing is self-evident— The hair and rat ain't twins. Nor do they dwell in harmony— Of this there is no doubt, Else from the overtopping hemp The rats would not break out. I saw a lady yester eve Though I wasn't very nigh her, I tho't she had upon her head A rubber auto tire. What if the fashion should decree That of the rats instead, The proper caper in coiffure Were "bats worn in the head." —Record's Own Poet Fecit.

"It also left me with a very weak, all-gone, empty feeling in my stomach, which I thought was dyspepsia, for which I tried different reme'dies with very little improvement. MARRIED

W. E. McKinney has been making trips west over the T. & P. road so often and so regularly the past three or four several months, that his pilgrimage last Sunday morning, even though old Boreas did heave the swift, frigid and windy sigh, excited no comment beyond the ordinary nor aroused any suspicion. If the specific object of this particular trip was known, the Record failed to hear it, and its surprise Sunday night on learning that he would return on the 8:59 train with his bride, was as sudden and great as its wish, for the happiness, longlife and prosperity of the happy pair is fervent and sincere.

At four o'clock Sunday afternoon he and Miss May Runyon were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at Coahoma by Rev. E. V. Bond.

Mr. McKinney has been a resident of Colorado about two years and by his sterling worth and business reliability has made a host of friends.

His bride was raised in Colorado, and has a circle of friends as large as her acquaintance.

The happy couple begin life under the most auspicious skies; for if faithful friends, the highest esteem and good wishes can command the blessings of life, they are assured of all them now.

Mrs. Runyon and daughter of Big Springs and Mrs. L. H. Weatherly of Colorado, also attended the wedding.

ASKS US TO PRINT

To relieve the worst forms of rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime.

Fluid Extract of Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription forces the clogged up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes rheumatism.

As rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare this mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed and when you need it you want it badly.

CLEAN UP NOTICE

Now that the city government has been so enthusiastically endorsed by the taxpayers, it is very necessary that each individual do his whole duty to justify the decision of Saturday in doing those things for which the corporation stands. It is therefore imperative that all the streets, alleys, yard premises and closets be thoroughly cleaned up and kept so.

It is also, ordered by the authorities that all waste paper, boxes and trash, of whatever kind be burned if swept into the street or put into a receptacle that the scavenger may remove it.

Done this February 19th 1909, by order of
C. H. EARNEST, Mayor,
WILLIS R. SMITH, City Health officer.

The norther that blew up Sunday morning was one of the early day kind. The wind blew from every point of the compass at once and changed every second. We tried for half an hour to find a lull in the breeze when a box of ashes or a pail of water could be thrown out without landing in one's eye, nose and mouth. The sand, which for three months sifted and bolted as fine as flour, was also on the wing at a 70-mile rate, while mercury dropped with the passing hours. It was a bad day to show the country off, for sure.

BAPTIST MARKET

MURRAY'S

Balm for the Lungs and Kidneys.
This is a Sequel to the Wonderful Story.

I was born in the State of Kentucky, where my father practiced medicine forty-eight years, and where his father, his brother and my brothers also practiced till they were very old men.
When my father was about 35 years of age he was taken down with what the physicians at that time called quick consumption. His brother physicians who attended him gave up the case, telling him they could do nothing more for him. He then told my mother to get certain remedies and how to compound them, and in less than three months he was able to resume his usual life. He lived to be 85 years old and never had another attack of lung trouble, but was a strong, healthy old man. After being cured he gave the medicine the name of Murray's Balm for the Lungs and Kidneys.

This medicine loosens the cough so the patient can expectorate with but little effort and gradually but surely breaks the lungs. It is so effective that it will cure tubercular consumption as that it may not be brought on again by exposure, but I do know there are people in Taylor, Callahan, Brews, Hamilton, Hamilton and many other counties in Middle and West Texas who are now able to attend to their business and apparently in good health who would have died with lung trouble years ago had they not used this medicine.
It will cure an ordinary sore throat in a few hours and relieve Tonsillitis the same way, but it takes about a bottle of the medicine, that is about three weeks' treatment, to eradicate tonsillitis entirely so as to have the tonsils from being cut out. It will loosen an ordinary cold very quickly and keep it from settling on the lungs, and will cut the phlegm and relieve the cough quicker than any other remedy that has ever been discovered. Give a child say 2 years old 2 to 5 drops on its tongue with no water to wash it down and it will work its own way down and relieve the child in a few minutes. For a child 6 to 12 months old from 2 to 3 drops; a good way is to drop it on the point of a case knife or on paper, as it is thick like syrup. Mothers who have once used it with their children will not do without it.

It is as good for kidney and bladder troubles as for lung and throat troubles. Every ingredient in it is a kidney remedy, and a person doesn't have to wait, as is the case with many kidney remedies, till he has taken two or three bottles to be relieved, but where there is anything wrong with the kidneys with the flow of urine, or where there is anything wrong with the bladder, after they have taken the medicine two or three days, the matter will not know what they are cured or not till the stone gives the matter a stop. It should be given at least a month and stop, and if it comes on again give it another month. It is rarely the case that it has to be given the second month. Many persons have to get on many times during the night. This shows disease of the kidneys or bladder and frequently both. After using this balm three days the patient will rest quietly about 4 to 6 hours and when down with humors, the matter will be rubbed with pain and helples to rise from the bed or chair without assistance, the balm will cure and enable the patient to go to work before other remedies will begin to help.

Twenty-five drops will cure any case of camp or bilious colic in less than twenty minutes, usually in about ten.
Now, as a proof that this balm is what it is claimed to be, will allow any one who purchases a bottle to use it a week and if not entirely satisfied with it they may return it at the end of the week and get their money back without any questions being asked. In this honest way I think I have had hundreds of letters from persons who have been cured of kidney and lung and throat troubles with this balm, and the reason I do not have them printed is, first, it costs money, and, secondly, I have seen so many such and have so little confidence in them that I am thoroughly disgusted with them, and I believe others feel the same way about it; so I say, use it at my expense for a week and you will not have to make an affidavit nor sign any statement nor say anything only that here is your medicine, I am not pleased with it, and get your money. I don't believe one bottle in a hundred will be returned, for I have seen the medicine used ever since I was a child, and am now past 70 years of age, and it is spoken of by all who use it as a wonderful remedy. If your druggist does not keep it, write to F. L. Murray, Abilene, Texas.
It is put up in one-ounce bottles, there being from 3 to 4 weeks' treatment in a bottle. The bottles are strong and will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00; 2 bottles for $2.50.

THIS IS A FENCE—NOT A NETTING.

A strong and all-important distinction. Is especially designed as a poultry and rabbit fencing, it is sufficiently strong to stop all larger animals. Costs practically the same as the lighter nettings, while in the matter of service and durability it is worth ten times as much.

BLOOD REMEDY

PURIFIES THE BLOOD

Hot Springs is a noted place for the cure of blood diseases. However, it costs "money" and lots of it, to take a course of treatment there. It also takes time. Very few people can get away from their work for 3 to 12 months. The point we make is this—it takes time to cure an old case of blood trouble.

If you haven't the time and money to go to Hot Springs, we recommend you to take Nyal's Hot Springs Blood Remedy.

It's an efficient and reliable remedy for impure blood, scrofula, boils, pimples, salt rheum, tetter, eczema, etc. Price $1.00.
