FINE BROOM CORN SAMPLES RAISED IN TAYLOR COUNTY

Those With Knowledge of the Plant Pronounce the Specimens Mighty Good.

O. D. McIlroy brought into the Reporter's office today two samples of broomcorn, of the long green and dwarf varieties, grown on his place near Hamby. The specimens are pronounced as good as the straw produced in Oklahoma, which leads in the production of this crop. Mr. McIlroy planted the seed June 15 and it has grown with practically no rain, demonstrating beyond doubt that it is a drought resisting crop with few equals. He planted only 3 acres, as an experiment, and it is needless to say that he is well pleased with the result. Broom-corn threshed and ready to be converted into brooms has a market value ranging from $60 to $200 per ton and all who have knowledge of the requirements of the plant and the soil and seasons of this section are confident that the people can turn their attention to no surer and better paying crop. Mr. McIlroy promises an article giving the result of his experiment in detail when he has harvested his crop and has it ready for the market.

The Reporter also has a sample of the corn from the field of John Guitler, Jr., who planted quite a large acreage on his farm at Hawley this year. It is also a splendid specimen, and also demonstrates that if there is any agency in the crop anywhere there is no better place to grow it than in this part of the state.

An Old Colorado Boy.

Dick Weatherly has been recently added to the police force of the city. Mr. Weatherly, who resides at No. 400 Arthur street, was formerly engaged in the engine service at the Denver.

This is the first police office furnished by the East Side. Mr. Weatherly assumed the duties under appointment a few days since, and is described as being well suited to the needs of the situation.

Following the resignation of Perry Pendue a few weeks since, the force has been minus a man, and for a portion of that time only Chief Snider and John Blanton served, Patrolman Hughes being engaged at court, and for a while was ill.—Amarillo Daily Parliamade.

Dick is an old Colorado boy, known to many people living here now, and who will be glad to learn that he is doing well at his new home.

WILL BUILD TO STERLING CITY.

San Angelo, Tex., Aug. 21.—President Ripley of the Santa Fe in response to a telegram sent from here, states that the report to the effect that the Santa Fe will build to Sterling City and connect with the Coleman cut-off, is true. He continues, however, that his company is merely taking up the contract that San Angelo, Water Valley and Sterling City have with J. J. Lanin, the Iowa railroad builder.

If a merchant if we say,—were to get the citizens of a town to sign a note for all the flour they expected to use, at the beginning of the year, at $1.75 per sack, and then ship that same flour to Lorraine, Iatan or Cuthbert and sell it at 60 cents a sack. What would the people of Colorado call the transaction, and what would they think of the transaction? Now would they welcome the Lorraine merchant who would ship his flour and sell it for the price? The merchant sold it at $1.75. But the Colorado people would have to continue to pay the $1.75 flour as they had paid for their year's supply in advance; neither could they encourage competition against the $1.75 flour.

There have been 3,500 liquor licenses issued by the comptroller's office at Austin, out of 4,106 applications.

COMMITTEE.

A lady from Southeast Texas was on her first visit to West Texas, and noticing the entire absence of gardens in the spring and early summer, asked what the people did for something to eat. And the explanation was made to her that the glorious and bracing climate gave one the appetite and digestion to eat anything.

WESTBROOK WRINKLES.

Misses Bell Ruth Arnett and Alice Rogers of Colorado, are the guests of Miss Lena McNairy. They took in the auction lot sale at New Iatan.

A light shower fell last week followed by a veritable downpour at 4 o'clock this morning and continued for four hours and fell about right to soak in the earth good and deep. The farmers say this rain will be of more benefit to crops than any previous rain, and seemed to be more general.

C. Buisden received a gasoline engine Saturday with which he will run his well drill.

R. E. Van Horn, our eldest, gave his daddy and family a pleasant surprise by dropping in on us unannounced Wednesday morning. He will spend a ten-days' vacation in fishing and hunting.

John D. Bell, who lives north of town was in town Wednesday and stated he had 245 acres in feed and about 40 acres in cotton which was looking well. His June corn will make about 30 bushels to the acre.

Congressman Smith, Judge D. C. Earnest, Judge A. J. Cee and Ben S. Van Tassel, all of Colorado, stopped here Thursday to await the eastbound train which had on board the locating committee of the West Texas Normal; and honored us with a call.

Religious Notice.

A Holiness Meeting will begin at Coahoma, Howard county, Sept. 3rd., conducted by Evangelist J. S. Saunders of Louisiana.

All are invited to come and camp. Singers especially invited. B. F. LOGAN.

Stamford has granted a franchise for a street railway.

U. C. V. RE-UNION.

Central West Texas Independent Brigade, Sweetwater, Texas Wednesday, Sept. 8th.

In accordance with resolution adopted at Annual meeting of Central West Texas Independent Brigade, U. C. V. held at Sweetwater, October 17th, 1908, selecting Sweetwater as the place and authorizing the Commander to fix the date for the Annual Reunion of 1909, I hereby designate Wednesday, September 8th, 1909, the day for said Reunion at Sweetwater, Texas. All Confederate Veterans living in convenient or accessible territory, are cordially invited to meet with us.

W. T. HIGHTOWER,

Commander Central West Texas Independent Brigade United Confederate Veterans.

A New Music Conservatory.

Mr. Thomas Dawes, who is the conductor of the Colorado Choral Society, is strongly impressed with the fact that he ought to build a conservatory of music here, and has Colorado his headquarters. He has fifteen private pupils here, several in Sweetwater, besides his Big Springs class, and his time is taken up in going from place to place.

Should he build here, he could live here and his pupils could come to him. It seems to us that this is a good chance for the Commercial Club to secure a most excellent and much to be desired institution.

Mr. Dawes is a graduate of the highest musical college of London, England and wants to locate in America. We extend to Mr. Dawes a most royal welcome and are certain he will come to us in Colorado. His brother, Mr. Will Dawes, is professor of music in Big Springs, and Mrs. Will Dawes was Miss Sadie O'Hara, of Colorado.

If Mr. Thomas Dawes can not find the proper location for his conservatory, he will probably build here.

Printer and Merchant.

Talk about loyalty to your home city! There are only a few persons, if any, who can discount the country publisher in that respect.

He usually refuses to publish matter which will injure his home city and turns down advertising which has a tendency to drive trade away from the local merchant. Only last week we refused to accept a desirable offer—a liberal amount of space at almost any price we might name—simply because the advertising would take trade from certain local dealers. The average publisher is not asking for "bouquets" because he has at heart the welfare of his home city, but nevertheless he cannot avoid thinking some things when he presents a little bill to a home merchant for advertising and this same merchant pays with a sigh and an air that would tire even a collector for a foreign missionary society.

Advertising is needed in every business, and the sooner dealers come to the conclusion that publicity is as necessary as salespeople in order to sell goods the more agreeable will be the business relations between the merchant and the printer.—Sauk County (Wis.) Democrat.

HERBERT HINTS

It seems that this part of the old "paradise earth" is entirely forsaken and that the Creator intends to withhold his rain for good.

Quite a number of Herbert's most popular young people attended church at Plainview Sunday night and report a good meeting being in progress there through the enthusiastic workers of Plainview Christians.

Mrs. Welch and daughter, Miss Lizzie, and her son, were present at the Sunday morning services of the Westbrook protracted meeting, and we learn much interest is being taken in way of leading the lost to Christ.

Miss Adair is visiting the Misses Hood this week.

Mrs. Rosa Enyart and Miss Lizzie Welch made a flying trip to Colorado Monday to attend to some very important business in line of shopping.

Messrs. J. A. and E. A. Hood and S. Ward left last week on a prospecting trip, but we learn that Mr. Jeff Hood is not so much for prospecting further west, as he does at home, for he took the train and landed back some mile or more north of Herbert the first thing?

Mrs. A. M. Northcutt has returned from a very pleasant visit to her son's in Eastern Texas.

Mr. W. P. Browne is now adding a new room to his residence on the Colorado river, which will make his home look like a mansion.

Miss Knightham has returned to her home at Seven Wells after spending a week with friends at Herbert.

Miss Hood's cousin from Big Springs is here to see her.

Mr. Robert Northcutt seems to look very lonesome, but now his "weeping willows" have turned to "Southern Laurels."

Mrs. Welch spent Monday with Mrs. Enyart.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph May, have moved to town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones were visitors at Westbrook Sunday, also Mr. Berry Jones.

Miss Lizzie Welch spent a pleasant evening with Mrs. Enyart Sunday.

Sunday there will be services at the Baptist-church B.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barber and family left Monday for an extended trip to Southern Texas to visit relatives.

The Baptist protracted meeting begins here Friday night and we extend a cordial welcome to each and every one far and near who will come and be with us in this meeting. The pastor, Rev. Farris and Rev. Holmes Nichols of Colorado will do the preaching. We regret Bro. Nichols' absence till Monday. May God be with us and give us a precious meeting. "SWEET SIXTEEN"

A GOOD RECIPE

A subscriber to the Record who is experienced in the matter, sends the following for publication and vouchers for its value:

Mr. Editor:—I have a good recipe for pickling fresh meats, which I wish to give to the patrons of the Record:

"Recipe for Pickling Beef." To twenty-five lbs. of beef put two lbs. of salt; 1 lb. of sugar; 1 ounce of salt petre; 1 ounce of black pepper.

First, mix salt, sugar, salt petre, black pepper in the above proportions. Put down a layer of the mixture in a tub or barrel which will not leak. Then a layer of beef; again a layer of the mixture and one of beef and so on. After it is packed, lay a weight on it sufficiently heavy to keep the beef well pressed down. It makes its own brine, and in a few days it will be covered with brine. The beef must not be removed from the brine until it is taken out for use. Beef pickled after the foregoing recipe can be cut in pieces of any size and will keep well at any season of the year. It can be served in any way that fresh beef can. The steak is just as sweet and fresh two months after being packed as when first packed. If found to be too highly seasoned with salt, for steak the same may be extracted in the same manner as from salt fish, by soaking in water.

VISIT OF LOCATING BOARD.

Met By Committee and Shown Over the City—Its Advantages, Geographically, Climatic Social and Otherwise Pointed Out.

As a matter of course, every town visited by the locating board of the West Texas Normal College, is positive that the institution will be located at that particular place. Various subtle hints, casual words of ambiguous meanings are recalled after the committee has gone, that contain a word of indefinite meaning. And so it goes.

Like Sweetwater, Colorado waives its claim in favor of none, until the selection is finally made, believing that its claim to being the most advantageous location within the territory the institution is designed to serve.

On Thursday morning of last week, a committee consisting of A. J. Cee, C. H. Earnest, C. W. Simpson and Congressman W. R. Smith, met the locating board at Westbrook, Ed W. Smith having met them at Big Springs, and accompanied them to Colorado. At the depot the reception committee took them in charge and introduced them to the union tabernacle, where the major part of the town's population had assembled, and where several addresses of welcome were made by prominent citizens.

After the exercises at the tabernacle, Captain J. A. Buchanan, as marshal of the route, took them in charge and showed to best advantage, the sights, beauties and advantages of the city.

The proposed site for the college was visited and all the contemplated improvements enumerated and discussed in extenso. A visit to the salt and water works was made, after which they repaired to the St. James hotel, where an elegant repast was served with toasts, a feast of reason and flow of soul. While here most pressing invitations were received from the town of Snyder to visit that place. This invitation was accepted and the board left soon after dinner in autos.

Altogether, the citizenship of Colorado is satisfied with the impression made upon the board. They expressed themselves as astonished at the thrift and spirit of the country, and we have not the least doubt in the world but that the claims of Colorado will receive studios, and impartial consideration at the hands of the locating board.

REJECT $6 PER DAY.

Steel Mill Near St. Louis Finds Hard Time Getting Employees—Population Prefers Fishing.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 23.—While the big steel mills in the tri-cities are offering as high as $6 per day for men, the idle are turning deaf ears to the offers and spending the working hours on the river bank fishing.

Charles J. Mullen, employment agent for a steel mill, yesterday said he had been putting in eighteen hours a day for the last week trying to get men to go to work.

"The offers were rejected without consideration and without thanks," he said. "I have employment for 400 men at $3 to $6 a day, but the populace prefers fishing."

East St. Louis declared there are 300 or more idle men in the town and the employment agent says he has seen and offered work to practically all of them, but has not induced more than a score to accept.

Two men were killed in the auto races at Indianapolis, Ind., last Thursday. William A. Bourque, driver of the Knox car in the 250-mile race and Harry Holcomb, his mechanic, were killed in the frenzied carnival of speed.

Walter William's air ship in which he attempted to reach the north pole, was wrecked soon after a start had been made. All the crew were rescued.

THE TOWN IS BORN.

And Its Name Is Iatan.—The Opening Day—Good Crowd and Fair Prices Prevail.

Agreeably to the extensive advertising done for two or three months previously, on August 19th, the new town site of Iatan was opened and lots offered for sale. Owing to the fact that reduced rates were not put on soon, those living east of Cisco, could not get the benefit of the rates in time to be on hand on the opening day, and inasmuch as it rained during the entire second day, the crowd was naturally small. On Saturday, the crowd was strictly a business one, made up of people who came to buy.

On Thursday the crowd numbered about 1000 souls from only the near-by towns and the surrounding country. The services of the Sweetwater band had been secured by the management, and the day, though very hot, was made entertaining by a game of base ball and other diversions.

Mr. Wakefield of Fort Worth, a veteran auctioneer, was master of ceremonies and presided with the grace and ease of a French courier. Quite a number of lots were sold the first day, bringing good prices, business lots selling for $125 to $85 and the resident lots for $35 to $69. On the other days, of the sale, both business and residence lots sold for a better figure, the buying growing brisker as the sale drew to a close.

Taken altogether, the opening was a success, attended with none of the fictitious bidding and clap trap usually accompanying such sales. Mr. Lasseter knew, the auctioneer knew, and every one on the ground knew that it was a good proposition and did not require a waste of words in convincing the people who came to buy.

The first impression received by every one who first saw the town site, was that nature had done more than its part in fitting it for an ideal location for a thriving town. There was not a single knocker on the ground, and nothing but words of commendation and confidence were heard through out the entire three days of the sale. Those who had come from the greatest distance, could not say enough in praise and promise for the prospective new town. Many bought purely for speculative purposes, believing the town would justify their judgment, but others bought with the purpose of immediate improvement. The T. & P. railroad will soon put in a siding and station, when the real growth of the town will begin.

One gentleman on the ground, who purchased both of business and resident property, said that he purposed to organize a bank and have it ready for business by the 1st of January.

No town in west Texas has been started with brighter prospects of a successful future, or promise of more solid and permanent growth than the new town of Iatan. Mr. Lasseter has shown sound business acumen and superior judgment in his selection of a site for a good town. General Passenger and Ticket Agent Turner of the T. & P. was on the ground and took several views during the day to be used in the T. & P. Quarterly. He is a veteran in the town site business and his judgment aside from his official connection with and interest in, the railroad, is worth much to any proposition of this kind. He was as enthusiastic as a boy over the town's prospects and loud in his praise.

Mr. Lasseter, the promoter, has every reason to not only feel satisfied with the opening of the town but confident of its rapid growth and permanent development.

Thus are new and good towns born in the great empire of west Texas.

El Paso has erected a pl from which fifty thousand can witness the meeting of President Taft and the President of the inter over the Rio Gran.

COLORADO WINS.

In a three-game series of base ball between Sweetwater and Colorado, the latter took the best two out of three, first and third game.

Cooper, in the box for Colorado the first day, did excellent work, striking out quite a number, but the hitting of Colorado that day did not win the game, but for two errors on the part of Sweetwater, donated two scores making the final score, 1 to 2 in favor of Colorado. Tipton, in the box for Sweetwater, pitched a fine game, allowing only a few hits and very scattering were they.

In the second game, Whipkey, Colorado's south-paw pitcher, did some good stunts, but on account of errors and plenty of them, on the part of Colorado, lost the game 2 to 12 in favor of Sweetwater. Saunders, the slow ball artist, was in the box for Sweetwater and certainly had the horse shoes with him, and his support was excellent both in fielding and hitting. The game was slow and was hardly worth mentioning.

The third game, the prettiest of all, fast, snappy and exciting went to Colorado by a score of 7 to 4. Cooper, "The Iron Man" was in the box again and did excellent work, striking out in the one, two three order, and his support was excellent. Cooper, who pitched for Sweetwater, was batted out of the box in the fifth inning, pitched a ball of the "watermelon" kind, and delivered up five runs, one two-base, two three base hits and one home run. We were unable to learn the name of the gentleman who relieved Cooper in the fifth, but there was nothing extra to his credit and received the same treatment of Cooper.

The features of the game, were the pitching of Cooper, who never let up till the last man was out, and the hitting of Wulfjen and Pritchett, the latter a home-run, and the hitting and fielding of the home club.

Puzzle—"Who was it that haloes while Pritchett was at the bat and said: 'Hit the ball Bun.' Well he did, a home run at that, scoring three men.

There is a revival meeting in progress this week at the Church of Christ under the direction of Evangelist S. A. Ribble, a minister of much ability. Services have been held morning and night, with much interest manifested. This congregation is small, but it is a devoted band and have done much for the cause of the Master. A cordial welcome is assured all who attend and every child of God is urged to unite with them to the saving of souls of men and women.

There were no services at the Baptist and Methodist churches last Sabbath, both pastors being away holding meetings at other places.

Rev. E. V. Bond, will go from the Christian Endeavor convention at Sweetwater to New Castle, in Young county, where he will hold a meeting.

There has been in the last week a partial reunion of Rev. J. T. L. Annis' family, and that rather unexpectedly, too. Dr. Annis and family of Aspermont came in on Thursday's eastbound train; Mrs. E. C. Perry of Inkum, his only daughter, came in Saturday evening; J. B. Annis the saddle and harness man came down from Colorado Sunday morning, and the Rev. O. N. Annis came in Monday from Stamford. Owing to business matters they could not reach here at the same time.—Merkel Telegram.

The convention of the Christian Endeavor of the Christian church, which meets at Sweetwater, will be the largest and best ever held in west Texas. Prominent speaker and Christian worker will be there and the occasion will be notable on account of the scope of the work undertaken by the organization. Those who fail to attend will miss the opportunity for a great spiritual uplift.

A. L. Scott closed a deal last week whereby he acquires the C. C. Graves lumber yard and shed. The lumber will be disposed of to one of the local lumber firms. The spur will be extended across the street alongside the shed so that the grain can be loaded and unloaded directly from the elevator to the cars. This is a business that has been needed in Colorado for the past few years, and besides adding to the industries of the town will afford a permanent market for the corn, maize, kaffir corn and all manner of feed stuff the farmers of Mitchell county can raise. The Record hopes and believes that Mr. Scott will do a large and profitable business. A few more such enterprising public spirited men would help the town very much. Every such industry makes the getting of others the easier.

We are in receipt this week of a copy of the Tullia Standard, thru the civility of our old friend A. S. Bassett, who was with the West Texas News here for about a year. It is as handsome a paper as we ever saw, filled with evidence of ability both in the editorial and mechanical departments. But that's the way Bassett does everything he touches. Give us an ex-Brother Bassett.

Torrence painted both houses, one Devco 15-2 gallons the other with another paint sold at the same price; 25 gallons. Chautauqua at Big Springs.

The citizens of Big Springs have arranged for a regular Chautauqua course consisting of six entertainments, beginning September 16 and continuing until September 20th. The first number on the program will be W. J. Bryan, who will deliver two lectures on the 16th of September at 2:30 p. m., and at 8:00 p. m. The subjects of his lectures are to be "The Prince of Peace" and "The Price of a Soul." Dr. Stewart is to give one lecture. The Royal Hungarian orchestra, consisting of seven members, gives one entertainment. Nicola, a magician, with two helpers, will give one entertainment. Richmond P. Hobson of Merrimac fame is to give one lecture.

The rain on last Friday did incredible good to Mitchell and country to the west and south-east. It fell just right; and what relief from the intolerable heat of the previous week.

Mr. R. M. Burns returned last Friday night from the eastern markets, where he goes semi-annually to lay in the big stock of goods necessary to supply the enormous trade of the pioneer firm of Burns & Bell. Mr. Burns' good taste in everything pertaining to the dry goods business has waxed into a proverb in this section, and when he starts to market, he is loaded with special orders and divers other commissions of feminine importance in the realm of the best trade. The going of Mr. Burns to market, has become an important institution in the business life of Colorado.

Colorado needs at least four arc lights, three on Second street and one at the passenger depot.

Three arc lights on Second St., at the principal crossings would help things amazingly. If the railroad company will put one at the depot, (as it was understood they would some months ago). The town would not have the uninviting aspect it has at night.

It is said that every dog has its day. If the canines to which the days of the past two weeks belonged, will call at this office, they can have their own and no question asked. But speaking of dogs reminds us of tags. Last Saturday morning there was evidently a convention of some kind, for some purpose, in Colorado dogdom. A motley assemblage of all sorts, sizes, colors and pedigrees were caucusing on the corner of Second and Oak streets at an early hour, and there wasn't a tag among them. Colorado has no soap factory, but there is no finer fertilizer than translated dogs and recent cats.

A stranger passing Colorado on one of the night trains would think it a town of 10,000 population or more, from the number of people who go down to see the trains pass.

On last Friday morning a slow drizzling rain began to fall about 4:30, and continued far up into the day, accompanied by quite a drop in the temperature. A big rain fell the evening before at Big Springs and to the southwest of us doing an immense amount of good to the growing crops. With a late frost and open fall, much of the cotton planted even so late as July 10th, will make a very respectable crop. The feed crop, with seasons will make a fairly good crop planted 60 days before frost. Considering everything. All in all, Mitchell county can well afford to count its blessings.

WEST TEXAS FAIR OPENS SEPTEMBER 14TH.

Long and Liberal List of Premiums Offered—Splendid Attractions are Being Secured.

The 13th Annual Entertainment of the West Texas Fair will open in Abilene September 14 and continue 5 days including the 18th day of the month.

Efforts and expense are not being spared to make the coming meeting of the Fair a greater success than it has ever been. Splendid attractions are being secured, among which may be mentioned, a daily flight by a real air ship, one of the most expensive and interesting exhibitions that will be brought into the state this year. Prospects are bright for a magnificent fine stock show, splendid exhibits from numerous counties, and a racing program that will be well worth seeing.

The West Texas Fair is strictly a West Texas Institution and its main purpose is to collect and show the world what the fertile soil of this section of the state is capable of producing in livestock, poultry, grain, cotton, fruits, vegetables, etc. Every county in this part of the state will cheerfully be given space for an exhibit and will be allowed to compete for the liberal premiums offered.

One hundred dollars in cash will be given for the best agricultural, horticultural and vegetable county exhibit; $50.00 for second best. Taylor county will not be allowed to compete for either of these premiums.

Reduced rates will be given on all railroads.

For large catalogue and premium list, or any other information, address, Jesse Cannon, Secretary, Abilene, Texas.

STATE FAIR MAY SECURE BIG SHOW

American Poultry Association Officials Interested in Southwest.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 23.—Poultry fanciers of the Southwest will be gratified to learn that prospects are very favorable for the American Poultry Association holding its national show at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas, which opens in this city Saturday, October 16, and continues for sixteen days. C. P. Van Winkle left Sunday for Niagara, New York, to attend the annual meeting of the association. He goes as the representative of the State Fair of Texas of the poultry raisers of the Southwest. Mr. Van Winkle, while he did not care to talk much relative to this matter, believed that the chances of Dallas for securing this great show are very good. Should the national officers decide favorably, it will mean that in addition to the regular premiums and prizes offered by the Fair, owners of fine fowls will have an opportunity of competing for between $300 and $500 in trophies and cups.

Superintendent Van Winkle is a fancier well known to the raisers of poultry in the Southwest. He declares that Texas is now second to none in the United States in this industry and predicts that if the national association does decide to show at the Fair this fall, that the larger portion of the special trophies will be left in Texas and other portions of the Southwest. Mr. Van Winkle said:

"The importance of the Texas State Fair poultry show is recognized by the fanciers of the North and East. Last year nearly 3,000 birds of the very best were displayed and it was then declared that the American Poultry Association favored the placing of Dallas upon the national circuit. The State Fair management offers in the poultry department this year premiums totalling $2,200. With the $500 added by the American association, the awards offered to exhibitors will eclipse those of any Fair in the United States or Canada."

In the richness of its poultry prizes the Texas State Fair leads. The first premium pen prize will be $7.50 and the second $4. There will be special pen prizes as follows: Best pen of white birds $25 first and $12.50 second; best pen of black birds $25 first and $12.50 second; best pen of buff birds $25 first and $12.50 second; best pen of buff birds $25 first and $12.50 second; best pen of buff birds $25 first and $12.50 second; best pen of part colored birds $25 first and $12.50 second; largest and best display of poultry by an exhibitor $10 first and $5 second; largest and best display of any one Inconsistency of Socialists' Contentions.

The Rev. Percy Grant in the North American Review: Neither individualism nor Socialism, as a solitary principle, governs progress, but rather a combination of the two. Until a man has made something of himself—is a healthy, sane and energetic individual—he is a burden to society; until society is organic and protects the individual it is not discharging its function.

The point at issue between individualists and Socialists is capable of solution—a solution that does not demand the surrender of either side. The future is not to see a purely individualistic or a purely Socialistic order, but one in which both principles are realized.

In biology the individual life and individual efficiency appear first, then a collectivism for the sake of a higher individuality. The individual, as an individual, must be good for something before he can be good enough for collective use; but by his collective relationships becomes of still further importance.

In psychology we discover that there are other influences affecting personality besides that which originates in the mind and is self-directed; there are exterior influences—viz., heredity and environment. The Christian individualist holds that the will is the great instrument of regeneration; the atheistic Socialist holds that environment is the agent of improvement. But will, according to its most modern definition (cf. Prof. James), is a form of suggestion; it is a holding of an ideal before the mind until action follows. Environment also is a form of suggestion.

The depths of human consciousness are product of heredity, environment, education, will—not of one, but of all. If, then, nature works with all these agents, have we a right to demand that our fellows work with only one? Man will always continue to be the child of many parents. Cromwell did not know how much his iron will borrowed from his inheritance of environment and education.

Socialism is continually declaiming against the superior individual against genius and its masteries, but in the same breath begs the genius to arise and emancipate the wage slave. If Socialism ever wins it will be by the aid of what it despises—genius and religion. The first it needs to perfect the organization of industry; the second it needs to change the human heart and equip mankind with the virtues required by its new organization.

Governor Haskell says that when his present term of governor expires he would retire from public life.

THE FRAGMENTS GATHERED.

You can't down a newspaper man. That brother up at Clovis who got burned out, saved enough type cases to set up a page or two and he issued an extra in the streets, giving all the details of the conflagration. That's the spirit.

Del Rio, Tex., Aug. 21.—The inheritance tax amounting to $26,325, on the estate of Mark T. Cox, of New York, who died last March was paid to the county officials here yesterday. This is the largest inheritance tax ever paid in this state.

Last week W. W. White, member of the firm of Haley Hardware & Furniture Co., killed a good sized rattlesnake in the basement of their big store building. It was supposed that the reptile reached the place where it was found by falling through the iron grating in the pavement over the window. —Roscoe Times.

Another murder was enacted in Hell's Half Acre in Fort Worth. A man by name of Frank Reeves was shot in the back by a party unknown as he emerged from one of the brothels of that locality.

The heat last week was the hottest Texas has experienced in 20 years.

During the hot wave last week, a thermometer at Waco, was put into the sun and after going up to 135, exploded with a loud report.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Record will be gladly corrected upon it being brought to the attention of its publishers.

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUG. 27, 1909

When Senator Bailey spoke at McKinney last week, 15,000 people yelled themselves hoarse at sight of that great idol of potter's clay and brass.

E. H. Harriman has returned from Europe, after buying whatever looked promising to him.

The papers speak of J. P. Morgan paying $12,000 for a railroad with as airy tone as they would of John Bots buying a $1.50 pig.

Atheism and agnosticism can under all circumstances, answer and adduce argument to their own satisfaction, at least, and often to the confusion of a true, faithful believer. But they can not answer a godly life nor explain away the power of Christ that rests upon an humble believer.

Dr. Chas. B. Lewis of Ennis, Ellis county, is being urged by his friends to enter the race for Lieutenant-Governor, next year. This writer has known Dr. Lewis for several years, and bears cheerful testimony to his eminent fitness for the office as well as to his many accomplishments, virtues and social civilities. He would not only fill the position with honor but greatly magnify and adorn it.

The hill west of town is now well nigh impassable, and unless something is done soon, wagons and other vehicles can not traverse that road into Colorado, and the trade will likely be diverted to some other town to the west of us. The only solution to the road question in the county or district is a bond issue, and if Colorado expects to hold the trade it now has, something must be done now, to make the hauling to this market the easiest, cheapest and quickest. A bond issue is the only way in which the roads can be made better and maintained.

The Record regrets to announce that this week is the last that its Loraine correspondent, Miss Irene Garland, will brighten its columns. Miss Garland has been its faithful representative at that place for two years and more, and has shown herself possessed inherent instinct of "what is news." Without which no one however else well qualified, can hope to make success of newspaper writing. She, with her most excellent family have moved to Roscoe, where, the Record hopes they may be blessed with the highest success in all they may undertake. The Record will make arrangements to have the local news of Loraine from the hand of some other correspondent.

The Record rises to remark for fear it has not done so before, that a broom factory can be located in Colorado, without any bonus, concession or promise beyond a contract with so many farmers, to plant so much seed, which will be furnished the first year free by the factory, which in turn signs a contract to buy every pound of the brush raised at a stipulated price thus guaranteeing a market for all the brush brought to Colorado. This may seem a small proposition at first blush, but a factory costing four or five thousand dollars, would employ half a dozen people, furnish brooms for a large part of west Texas and afford a certain market for all the brush raised and at a fixed price. This is a good proposition for Colorado, the farmer and for the investors.

Live and learn. We were always taught that a "Caesarian accomplishment" was something wholly artificial and contrary to nature, deriving its name and features from the Caesarian operation, by which piece of abdominal surgery, the great Roman was Tommie's night into this vale of trouble.

The Day Is Coming.

The censored dispatches, from Spain during the recent trouble there, attempted to make it appear that the disturbance was purely a Carlist movement. When it was nothing but a revolution against the Roman church and its oppression. Churches, colleges and nunneries were burned and Priests and Nuns slaughtered before the altars, with crucifixes in their hands. It was the full fearful fruit of the Spanish inquisition, which killed freedom of thought and worship two centuries ago. The people are now rebelling against the oppression of Romanism which has held them in religious bondage and superstition. The masses are in revolt against religious tyranny. But there is an element of danger in the reaction that must result when the yoke of clericalism is thrown off. But socialism, with all its unsound and impractical vagaries, its anti-christianism, is more Christian, more akin to the Gospel, with its "enthusiasm for humanity," than the tigerish lust for place and power of cynical clericalism, against which it now contends in that sorely oppressed country. Only God in His mercy can save Spain from the evils of either extreme, and bring about a return to the simplicity of the Gospel of the Great Nazarene. For "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed."

A PINCH OF INCENSE.

Anon there comes the way of the newspaper man; a breath from Arcady. As a rule the mistakes of a newspaper are blared with trumpet and drum, but few indeed ever give a word of commendation. No matter which side of any issue a paper may take, many there are ready to impute selfish motives, if not to charge overt bribery. We are used to the brickbats, and have grown much like a gambler we once knew in his resignation to slights. He was "out of luck" as he expressed it, and his board bill had run up to something like $150 at a boarding house kept by a widow lady. When he first came she seated him next herself at the head of the table, and always asked him fir "what part of the chicken he would have." As his board grew delinquent he was moved further down the table until he reached the foot, where he stayed for five months. She had long since neglected to ask his preference as to the division of the chicken, and had given him the neck and feet. One night he made a "killing" to the amount of $800, and next morning asked the landlady how much he owed her, and on being told his bill was $150, he gave her three hundred dollar bills and said: "If it had not been for your kindness the past six months, I should have starved and I want to make some return for it—keep the money, you have earned it." That morning she invited him to a seat at her right hand and passing all the other boarders up, said in a loud tone: "Mr. Jones what part of the chicken will you take this morning?" "Just give me the neck and feet, I've grown to like them."

And so it is; we have grown used to being told the paper is full of mistakes and no good anyway. When, however, a subscriber in another state sends such greetings as follows. We may be pardoned for burning a pinch of incense to our own satisfaction.

"I am well pleased with the Record. I admire the spirit of its editorial policy; its readiness to foster any enterprise it thinks will benefit the town. I would be glad to see the town land every enterprise for which it works; for which it so freely gives its time, space and work. I am very much interested in your city and hope some time to make my home there."

No Class Consciousness.

E. H. Harriman's 18-year old son was given his choice of going to Europe with his father or going to work with a railroad surveying party. He chose the latter, and has been carrying a chain on a survey in the mountains all summer at a salary of $65 a month and receiving no better treatment than a day laborer. He aspires to be a railroad magnate like his father, and is willing to begin at the very bottom and win his way up, with no advantage over the poorest and most humble boy who works at his side. If young Harriman can not make good at every step in the advancement to the top, he'll fall out and be a failure. If the section foreman's son can make good, he can climb to the top over the son of the man who owns a dozen railroads. Isn't this fact worth much to every poor and struggling boy in America? To know he has just as good chance to go to the very top of responsibility and trust over the head of the son of the man who owns it. As long as individuality has such an opportunity in this country, the "helping and whining of socialism will never amount to more than an irritating and odorous ulcer on the industrial system of free American. If Harriman's son can not rise by his own individual efforts and ability, he must give place for Peter O'Toole's son who can.

All men are born free and equal, only so far as their rights and status are concerned before the law the differentiation is in their ability—the fittest and strongest surpass and survive. All horses have equal rights upon the race track, but there is an inherent spirit and mettle in some that make them worth thousands of dollars, while the worth of others is measured by their ability to ploddingly draw a plow or cart. And no legislation, no condition can ever curb the spirit and speed of the Barbary or make the cob a racer. This is the genius of our great system of government. All honor to Harriman's son. All honor to the son of Peter O'Toole!

Missions and President Taft.

The invitation to President Taft to speak at the great Layman's Missionary convention at Washington, next November, is meeting with vigorous and growing protest from ministers and laymen alike. The intentions of the leaders who arranged this special feature of the program, were doubtless of the best. The prominence and popularity of the speaker were considered as a drawing card, rather than his attitude to the subject to be discussed.

His estimate of the value of missions is from a civic view point rather than the obligation laid upon the church by the Master, whose divinity, Mr. Taft as an affiliate with the Unitarian church, must deny.

"The urgent reason for the layman's meeting is a realization that the churches need a new Baptism of power," and to ask one how we shall receive it, who denies the divinity, resurrection and ascension of Him who laid the obligation of missionary work upon us, would be not only a serious blunder, but a compromise of one of the fundamental and vital principles of evangelism.

IT'S HARDLY FAIR.

The local base ball boys have a just grievance, and have asked the Record to help redress it. As is well known by all, the local boys have guaranteed the expenses of the visiting team, which are by no means light, and it is as little as could be expected, that those who did not subscribe to the expense fund, would at least pay to witness the game. But there are those who not only will not contribute a quarter to witness the game, but set off at a distance and jeer the home team and chew the rag generally. The man or boy who pays his money to see the game, has a right to indulge in all the hurrahing and roaring, he may see fit, but the fellow who is getting "something for nothing," ought to keep quiet; otherwise he but advertises his shortness.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

It is a mean trick to tell tales out of school, but the temptation is far too great to resist. Among the other accomplishments of our friend, Oscar Majors, is the science of Astronomy. The other night, while viewing the star-studded sky in company with his Dulceana Telehoso, a bright particular star in the east arrested their attention, whereupon Oscar began an interesting dissertation upon the star of Bethlehem, which guided the Judean shepherds of old to the place where the "babe lay" assuring his fair companion that a good look at the star would not be amiss, inasmuch as it would not be visible again for 400 years, and possibly she might happen to be out when next the star appeared. As he waxed eloquent over its beauties and sacred associations, it began to swing to and fro, and a heartless and scienceless companion called his attention to the fact that the star was an electric light placed on top of the standpipe. Thus again learning is its own reward. "Sic transit gloria mundi."

Little Jimmie Greene—not he who threw poor Tabbie Cat in the well, but he of Stephens, Arkansas, erstwhile a promoter of Plateau, and now a substantial citizen of Colorado, and a candidate for the holy bonds of matrimony, is authority for the statement that when a man marries, the twin become one and the struggle over after is the proving "which one."

"Dr." Morris Terrell is a concrete example of the truth that "still waters run deep." No one on first acquaintance would suspect that he was the social lion that he is. He has the reputation among the ladies of being the "best dresser" in town—a kind of local Barry Wall.

Two ladies of Colorado, on dit, went into a grocery store last week to weigh. On mounting the scales, one was astounded to find that she had gained half a pound this summer and exclaimed, "I must do something to reduce my weight." "Perhaps" said her companion, "its the buttons on your dress that makes the difference."

The young man in town, who on learning that his girl was ill and wishing to cheer the tedious hours, sent her a lovely bouquet of artificial flowers, scented with perfume, has a heart truer than his judgment is good.

Baseom Broaddus has a grievance. He considers the fact that he had to be identified himself, when he went to identify some one else, as a reflection upon his prominence in the community.

The strikers at the Pressed Steel Car works at Schoenville, Pa., provoked a collision between themselves and the state troops and in the resulting riot, 14 men were killed and fatally injured. Many women, armed with guns, clubs and stones, took active part in the hostilities. These women, all foreigners, insane with rage were mainly responsible for inciting the men to extreme measures.

If the Santa Fe is going to build the road from San Angelo to Sterling City it more than ever stands Colorado in hand to be up and doing if it expects to be at the killing.

Teddy's Alright.

Nairobi, Africa, August 23.—Colonel Roosevelt, who has been hunting in Kenya, killed a bull elephant Saturday. Coolies who accompanied the doughty American from Mombasi on his memorable battle with nature into the heart of the Victoria Nyanza region tell a crimson story regarding the battle put up by the wounded elephant. After it had been shot through the head it charged the hunting party and would have torn up things generally had not a second shot from the Colonel's unerring Winchester brought it to earth.

Roosevelt also has to the credit of his arms a she elephant, tigress, African lion and three zousas, the latter very wild and very hard to kill. The coolies were brought in to use here and lugged the carcass back to camp where the taxidermists are busy stuffing the animals temporarily until they can be shipped to Great Britain.

Kermit, Roosevelt's photographer, has developed into something of a stuffer. He recently killed some rare specimens of macaw and tick birds which he stuffed in a satisfactory manner.

It is reported that Colonel Roosevelt left headquarters without his razor and shears and that an enormous beard now covers his face. He is said to be very proud of it, and smiles through it, showing his white teeth in a de-lightful smile.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

THE ALARM OF FIRE

is a dreadful thing for the man without insurance. Every time he sees the engines racing along his heart comes up in his throat if the fire is anywhere near his place. What folly, what mistaken economy.

The Cost of Insurance is so small that it need hardly be considered. The freedom from worry alone is worth it many times over. Have us insure you to-day.
