

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

A Cottolene Home Is a Healthy Home

Food Purity is of great importance in every well-regulated home.

The woman who fries or shortens her family's food with lard is doing so because she is unaware of the ill effects which may come of it. Lard-cooked food never has been, never can be, as healthful as food cooked with Cottolene. The very sources of the products will teach you this.

Lard is made from hog fat, and what assurance have you that the animal is free from infection, or disease germs? On the other hand, Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South, and is made from the purest, refined cottonseed oil, which physicians to-day recommend as being fully as healthful as olive oil.

Cottolene is clean, pure, and makes digestible, nourishing food. It has been recommended by physicians generally for the building up of patients whose bodies contain tuberculosis germs. Can you imagine hog lard being recommended for such a purpose?

loss or damage to the hay. The method followed is to set up a stake about six feet high at intervals. This stake should be firmly imbedded in the soil so that it will not blow over. Near the bottom of the stake about six or eight inches from the ground nail two 4-foot cross pieces at right angles to one another and horizontal to the stake. These are to keep the peanuts on the ground as they are piled on top of the cross pieces with the nuts turned in. The loose nuts and the space between the stake and the nuts allows the air to circulate freely. The shock or stack should be made circular and the hay allowed to slope outward and down. The natural bunching of the nuts will make slope. Take care that the nuts are kept off the ground by building them up on the cross pieces and at the top of the shock when finished thatch with grass or hay so that the rain may be kept out and so the birds can not get in to eat the nuts. The nuts will cure right in this shock and the hay will dry a bright green color without loss of leaves. The shocks may be moved by poles being shoved under them and they may be stacked when convenient, 6 or 12 together. The method of curing by allowing the hay and nuts to lie on the ground exposed to the weather will not produce a good grade of merchantable nuts. The first rain that comes is liable to ruin a season's labor. The leaves also lose off badly if this method is followed, making the hay of less value.

After the nuts have cured from three to six weeks they may be picked or threshed at about 16 cents per bushel. Machines are generally available for this purpose and arrangements should be made before hand for the services of a thresher outfit. The nuts may be picked by hand but this is a slow and unprofitable process. The nuts should be sacked at once as they may heat or mold if kept in bulk. The hay may be baled for convenience. It is worth from $10 a ton up.

Application should be made to the agent whose name is subscribed for details as to marketing. Information as to the nearest buyer and other facts of interest will be promptly furnished.

The price of peanuts is generally very steady and it has practically never fallen below 60 cents a bushel of 30 pounds. At the present time they are worth 2 1/2 per pound and the prospects are bright for still higher prices. This company is now building a four-story plant in Denison and intends to handle the entire peanut crop of this part of the country. We are so situated that we can offer a premium price on your crop. Communicate with us and you will find that we can make it to your interest.

Be sure your peanuts are well cured. Please feel free to write to us for any information you may desire.

Yours truly,
THE TEXAS NUT COMPANY.

Abilene Merchant Killed.

A. J. Sims, an Abilene grocer was killed at his home in that city on South Second street Tuesday about noon by his son-in-law, Jim Neil. The shooting occurred while Mr. and Mrs. Sims, their daughter, Mrs. Neil and her husband, Jim Neil, were at dinner. The meal had not been long in progress when the trouble began. The grief stricken wife between her sobs, told a reporter what she knew of the immediate facts:

"I was afraid something like it would happen," she gasped between sobs, "and I went out not to see it. My husband and Jim Neil were quarreling. I think my husband had been drinking. They talked in loud tones and then began to scuffle. I heard the shot and running in saw my husband on the floor. I went to him and said 'honey, is there anything you wish to say to me?' He looked up to me and tried to say something but his mouth was full of blood and he could not talk. Then he died."

It is understood that Mrs. Jim Neil was an eye witness to the killing. Neil is a horse trader and had married Sims step-daughter but a few months previous.

According to the statement accredited to Mrs. Neil, Sims was shot with his own pistol, being fired while in his hands. It is alleged that the two men after quarreling engaged in a personal encounter and went to the floor and that in some way while scuffling Neil succeeded in twisting the hand in which Sims held his pistol around so that when it was fired the ball entered the body at a point heretofore mentioned.

The hats I have are the kind that, no matter what the price, husbands never kick at it. They are captivated at the fetching effect, and ask why you didn't get a better one. They are truly "Hobby Pacifiers." To be had only in this market at Mrs. B. F. Mills

JUDGMENT!

A good cook uses common sense in the buying of meats—you can't fool her if you try to. We won't make the attempt, because we want to please her in every respect. Ask the cooks in your neighborhood if our meats and poultry come up to her ideas of right things for pot, pan, oven or grill. If they say "no" pass us up; if they say "yes" we're entitled to your consideration.

Kansas City Stock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 18, 1909.—The cattle run her last week was heavy at 91,000 head, including 11,000 head of calves, one of the big weeks of the season. The market was active all week, as the run was evenly distributed through the week, and at the close of the week ranged from steady to 15 lower on the various classes of range cattle, as compared with close of previous week. The supply today is 23,000 head, made up largely of cattle from distant points, and the market is steady to a shade lower, the main bear influence today being an excessive supply of rangers at Chicago and Omaha. Panhandle Cows are plentiful here today, a train of the "fat iron" cows at $3.35, others at $3.45 and $3.55. A train of Matador cows arrived late and were expected to bring $3.50, at which price they sold last week. Shipments of XIT cows last week brought $3.50 and $3.60, and New Mexico cows $2.90 to $3.50. Panhandle beef steers have sold lately at $3.75 to $4.40, stockers and feeders $3.40 to $4.60, including some stockers on exhibition at the Show at the latter price. Colorado beef steers sold today at $4.30 to $4.60 cows $3.80; two trains of the Selber Cattle Company steers last week at $4.65, cows in this shipment $3.85. Some fancy Colorado feeders in the Show sold at $5.60 and $5.75, others on the open market at $4.35, stockers $3.85, Montana cows at $4.00. Indications point to cattle receipts smaller than usual balance of October, and the market should hold up good.

Sheep and lamb receipts last week 54,000 head, market 15 to 30 higher, with a small reaction at the close of the week. The run is 9,000 head today, market steady, some medium class lambs from Heber City Utah, today at $7.00, and choice lambs worth around $7.40. The top last week was $7.15, with fair to good lambs selling at $6.75 to $7.00, weathers and yearlings $4.50 to $5.00, ewes $4.10 to $4.25. Feeding lambs bring $5.75 to $6.25 with an outlet for them practically unlimited, feeding wethers and yearlings $4.25 to $4.75, almost on a parity with killing stock, breeding ewes at $4.50 to $5.00, stock ewes around $3.00. The run so far this month is above same period last October, and good runs are expected balance of the month.

How to Harvest Peanuts.

The following circular from the factory at Denison explains itself, and is in answer to numbers of inquiries on the subject.

Peanuts should be closely watched as the time for harvesting approaches as there is danger of sprouting if digging is delayed too long. A plow with the mould board taken off and a long heel sweep added or a buzzard sweep may be run under the rows to cut the tap root. Examination will show how deep the nuts lie and the plow should be set to run under them. After being loosened up a pitch fork may be used to remove the nuts or they may be pulled by hand, care being taken to shake them well. Throw the clusters into piles about three rows in one, with the nuts upward.

The proper way to cure peanuts is to shock them and run no risk on the weather. They may be shocked and the kernels cured thoroughly without

INK STAND A SOUTHERN RELIC.

First Piece of Property Ever Owned by Confederate States of America Still Preserved.

An old, rusty ink stand! Apparently such a one it is as might be bought in any junk shop for a dime, or less. Yet twenty times its weight in gold would not persuade Colonel Henry D. Capers to part with it. He holds it as his most cherished earthly possession. This little iron ink stand was the first piece of property ever owned by the Confederate States of America and with a pen dipped in the ink it once held were signed more than $1000,000,000 worth of Confederate bonds, many of which bore Colonel Capers' own signature.

How the commonplace piece of desk furniture became the first material object formally purchased in the name of the Confederacy, and how it remained in Colonel Capers' hands after the war, he recounted recently.

Colonel Capers, then a youth, went to Montgomery, Ala., in 1861, following the secession of South Carolina. A convention of delegates from the seceded states was to meet there and organize a provisional government.

"The whole world, it seemed to me," said Colonel Capers, had its eyes fixed on Montgomery. It was the vortex of this great revolution. It was here that the leading spirits of the south were gathered together to form a new constitution and declare the beginning of a new era. Who was to be president, we were all wondering. Would it be Toombs, or Stevens, or Barnwell? There was little talk of Jeff Davis at first, and Davis, after all, was only elected by one majority, though the states afterwards made it unanimous.

"I was in the prime of my young manhood then, and my blood was boiling. I wanted to do something for my country, but felt that I was too young to be of any service at Montgomery, so after the inauguration I decided to go home and await my chance to get to the front, but before leaving I happened to meet Mr. C. G. Memminger of South Carolina, who had held me on his knees when I was a child, and who, it happened, had been selected by President Davis to take charge of the treasury department. I said to Mr. Memminger, 'I have come to tell you good-by.'

"No, sir; you can't go," he replied, "we need you here. I want to talk with you right now, so come up to my room in the hotel."

"Well the upshot of that conference was that he made me his private secretary, and told me to rent a room somewhere in Montgomery suitable for establishing the treasury headquarters, and to have it ready for occupancy by next morning. I finally found a room for rent, but in it were nothing but bare walls and a dusty floor.

"With my own hands I got a broom and swept the office clean, after which I rushed out to buy a desk and a couple of chairs and the necessary stationery to begin work. The first thing I purchased and set in place was this old iron ink stand. It stood in the treasury office for many months, and history was being made every time a pen dipped in it.

"Later, when I resigned to go into active service, I asked permission to keep the ink stand as a souvenir, and have guarded it as a sacred relic until this very day."

When Colonel Capers left the treasury department he was chief clerk and disbursing officer. At a meeting of the officers and clerks of that department Colonel Capers, on his retirement was presented with a magnificent sword in token of the esteem in which he had been held by his companions. At the same time resolutions were passed paying him a beautiful tribute as an efficient officer and a splendid southern gentleman.

Bwana Tumbo.

Mr. Roosevelt tells a curious and blood-curdling lion story in his first article on his African experiences. An Englishman, a German, and an Italian went down in a special car on the Uganda Railroad to kill a man-eating lion. The car was run into a siding. The German went to sleep in a bunk, the Italian lay down on the floor, and the Englishman watched at the window. The Italian awoke to find the hind feet of the lion on his chest, while with his forefeet he killed the unfortunate Englishman. The German awoke and jumped out squarely on the lion's back, but the latter, occupied only with his prey, escaped through the window "and made his meal undisturbed but a couple of yards from the railway carriage." Where, pray, were the two other men and the guns they had brought with them? One is conscious here of a considerate reticence which our mighty hunter did not always exhibit before he went to Africa. Many might have taken Mr. Roosevelt's journey and never thought of speaking of a "railroad through the Pleistocene." How many readers of the Scribner's article covertly visited their dictionaries after sighting this word so casually used by the jungle's distinguished guest? Mr. Roosevelt's versatile and well-stored mind continues its missionary work. Several hundred thousand people are doubtless more acquainted with "paleolithic ancestors" today than they were a month ago.

GREAT CORN DISPLAY.

Forty-Two Counties to Exhibit at Coming State Fair.

CORN DAY A FEATURE.

Boys' Club Will Be Organized—Dairy and Bee Exhibit—Exposition Begins October 16.

Visitors to the twenty-fourth annual meeting of The State Fair of Texas, which opens at Dallas Saturday, October 16, and continues sixteen days, will find a marked improvement in the agricultural department. When it is taken into consideration that Texas has 127,865,000 acres of land uncultivated, it is plainly seen that the management of the Fair has the proper incentive to make this department a paramount feature of each exposition. Forty-two counties have secured space for the exhibition of their farm, orchard and garden products. This is the largest number in the history of the Fair, and will exemplify in a way as never before, the rich agricultural resources of the state. Although the $2,000 in individual and county exhibits create a good humored and spirited rivalry among the agriculturists of the state, the benefit that the exhibitors receive from a display of their products at the Fair is incalculable. Great railroad systems have arranged to give stopover privileges at Dallas during the Fair to all homeseekers, for the purpose of furnishing a rare opportunity of coming in direct contact with the people of various portions of the state and there see and inspect the diversified products.

Until last year the farm, orchard and garden displays were in tents scattered about the main plaza of the grounds. The erection of the agricultural building, which covers an acre in extent, brought the Fair last year thirty-two county exhibits, which for artistic arrangement and varied display, could not be equalled anywhere else in the United States. This year the display will be larger and superior in quality. West Texas, where thousands of immigrants are securing homes annually, will send every variety of grasses, corn, cotton, fruits, vegetables, sugar cane, etc. South Texas will send its rice, corn, cotton, citrus fruits, vegetables of ever kind. East Texas, where associations have been formed for the purpose, has promised a wonderful exhibition of the farm, orchard and garden products of that section of the state. Central Texas has promised an exhibit eclipsing that of last year.

Much interest centers around the corn show and the Boys' Corn Club Day at the Fair. Cash prizes totalling $400 will be awarded in the corn division. This money is divided into prizes ranging from $1 to $50. Every farmer in Texas is urged to send ten ears of corn to the Fair, as there are over fifty of these prizes to be contested for and the chances of winning should create an unusual contest. "Boys' Corn Club Day" will, it is declared, cause great interest among the farmers and the sons of farmers of the state in the raising of this crop. It is the intention to organize a state boys' corn club at the Fair on this day.

The sweepstakes in the farm and mill department follow: For the best and most complete individual exhibition of corn, cotton, small grain and other products from Texas, $25 first and $10 second; best farm exhibit from any county or association in Texas, $100 first, $75 second, $50 third and $25 fourth; best and most complete individual exhibit of corn, cotton, small grain and other farm products from Mexico, $25 first and $10 second; best farm exhibit from any state or association in Mexico, $25 first and $18 second.

Visitors to the coming exposition will find Professor Louis Scholl of New Braunfels in a "den of live bees," situated in the agricultural building. In this department prizes totalling $250 will be awarded for exhibits of bees, honey-products and beeswax. All the different phases of the industry will be demonstrated. Twelve different varieties of bees will be exhibited and compared. There will be displayed honey in combs, in liquids, in sugar, etc. And then the many table delicacies in which honey plays a large part. Mrs. Louis Scholl will be glad to impart to the women visitors some of the secrets connected with the art of cooking with honey.

In the dairy department will be found a splendid display of the dairy and creamery products of the state. Butter and cheese will be exhibited in a mammoth refrigerator, built especially for the purpose. All the latest devices in dairy and creamery machinery will be seen and butter for commercial purposes will be made each week day during the Fair. There will be plans of model dairy and farm houses open for the inspection and education of visitors.

A purse of $70 will be awarded in the students' judging contest open to students of the Agricultural and Mechanical college. The contest will consist of judging two classes of dairy cattle and two classes of dairy products. In the students' butter making contest, gold and silver medals and diplomas will be awarded.

Why He Liked the Song.

A man who knew nothing of music and prided himself on the strictly business views he took of men and things told Mr. Frederick E. Weatherby that what he liked most about his song, "Nancy Lee," was its sentiment. Mr. Weatherby was pleased, as he relates in London M. A. P., and asked the man what it was in the sentiment which specially appealed to him. "The refrain," he replied. I pressed him to tell me what it was in the refrain he liked so well. "Why," he said, "it is the common sense of the thing." On further pressure he said: "Don't you remember what you wrote?" "Not precisely," I answered. He was good enough to repeat the refrain to me. "The sailor's wife the sailor's star shall be." "Well?" I said. "Well," he replied, "if the sailor's wife is his star, she would always be able to keep her eye on him."

Sky Signs.

Whether clear or cloudy, a rosy sunset presages fine weather; a sickly looking, greenish hue, wind and rain; a dark or Indian red, rain; a red sky in the morning, bad weather or much wind, perhaps rain; a gray sky in the morning, fine weather; a high dawn, wind; a low dawn, fair weather. Remarkable clearness of atmosphere near the horizon, distant objects, such as hills, unusually visible or raised by refraction and what is called a good "hearing day," may be mentioned among signs of wet, if not wind.—London Tit-Bits.

The Jury's Verdict.

A south Missouri man recently was tried on a charge of assault. The state brought into court as the defendant's counsel exhibited as the other man's weapons a scythe blade, a pitchfork, a pistol and a hoe. The jury's verdict is said to have been:

Resolved, That we, the jury, would have given a dollar to have seen the fight.

But His Terms Didn't Suit the Watch.

TEXAS

A well known western detective was talking about football crowds. "They are usually," he said, "the most respectable of all crowds. I had, however, an odd experience at a game in Chicago.

"I started out at the end of the first half to get a glass of soda. There was a young man in front of me, a young man in a baggy suit and a soiled collar. He walked slowly. I was almost treading on his heels. Suddenly he stopped, and I nearly tripped over him.

"No, you don't!" he said, with a kind of sneering laugh, as he rose. "You seen it first maybe, but I was too quick for you, wasn't I?"

"He showed me a watch that he held in the palm of his hand. The ground was muddy, his knees were brown with mud where he had knelt, but the watch was unsoiled. A thick, solid looking affair it seemed to be.

"Hard luck, cully," he went on, and he walked on beside me, brushing his knees. "You saw it first, but I was the quickest and copped it out. Hard luck, old man. I guess it's worth twenty-five plunks, this here ticker. What do you think?"

"I examined the watch. 'It looks to me to be worth every cent of a hundred,' I said heartily.

"And I copped it!" he chuckled. "You saw it first. By gosh, you nearly upset me! I was too quick for you, though. Hard luck!"

"He paused and gave me a kindly look.

"Say," he exclaimed, "I don't want to be mean. I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll go halves. You saw it first."

"Oh," said I, "you are too generous. Halves would be too much."

"Well, then," said he, "I'll make it a third. You was the first to see it. Then a third of it's yours."

"Do you mean it?" I cried.

"Every word," said he. "I'm no shyster."

"All right," said I. "That makes your share, then, $33. Give me $15, and we'll call it square."

"He gave me a keen, frowning look. He thrust the watch into his pocket.

"Fresh!" he muttered and vanished in the crowd.—Exchange.

C. Wyatt, at Colorado, Mitchell County, Texas, with interest from date at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and containing stipulation for 10 per cent attorney's fees in case same be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, and secured by a chattel mortgage lien on one Commonwealth Buggy and single harness sold by said Wyatt to said R. F. and G. L. Bassinger that day, said note being endorsed C. C. Wyatt, and having been transferred to plaintiff before maturity for a valuable consideration. Plaintiff avers that he has been compelled to place said note in the hands of an attorney for collection and to institute this suit and has incurred a liability to pay the reasonable value of said attorney's services which he avers to be far in excess of ten per cent on the amount due. Plaintiff prays for the issuance of an attachment against the property of the said C. C. Wyatt for the reason that he is not a resident of this state and against the other defendants for the reason that they have secreted themselves so that the ordinary process of law can not be served upon them. Plaintiff prays for judgment for the amount of principal, interest and attorney's fees due on said note against the defendants Bassinger with a foreclosure of the chattel mortgage lien on said harness and buggy and the preservation of the attachment lien on the property of said Wyatt, and for general and special relief, both legal and equitable.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand and official signature at my office in Colorado, Texas, this 8th day of October, A. D. 1909.

FRED MEYER,
Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 1,

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Clara McFarland and David W. McFarland, her husband, and R. E. Fields and W. H. Fields by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Thirty-second Judicial District; to appear at the Court House thereof, in Colorado on the 1st Monday in January, A. D. 1910, the same being the 3rd day of January A. D. 1910, then and there to answer a first amended original petition filed in said court on the 14th day of September, A. D. 1909, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court, No. 1200, wherein C. M. Adams is Plaintiff and Clara McFarland and David W. McFarland, her husband, and R. E. Fields and W. H. Fields are Defendants; the nature of plaintiff's demand being as follows: Plaintiff sues the defendant, Clara McFarland and David W. McFarland, her husband, and R. E. Fields and W. H. Fields, who are all non-residents of the state, in trespass to try title and to remove cloud from title, etc., the property involved, being lot numbered 9 in Block numbered 4 in the City of Colorado in Mitchell County, Texas, according to plat thereof recorded in Deed Records of said County, Volume "C", pages 16-17; plaintiff alleging title in fee-simple in himself to said property, and that defendants are setting up some sort of claim or title to said property, to plaintiff unknown.

Plaintiff's title is common source with defendants, Clara McFarland and David W. McFarland and he relies upon a deed from Clara McFarland and David W. McFarland to R. E. Fields and W. H. Fields, and a deed from R. E. Fields and W. H. Fields to himself, the said plaintiff; both of which deeds have been lost or destroyed. Plaintiff also sets up title in himself under the five and ten year statutes of limitation.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand and official seal at my office in Colorado, Texas, this 17th day of September, A. D. 1909.

AIRSHIP AT STATE FAIR.

Strobel Will Demonstrate Aerial Navigation at Exposition.

PAIN'S FINE FIREWORKS.

Marvelous Amusement Features Secured for Twenty-Fourth Annual Meeting, Which Starts October 16.

In accordance with the wishes of its patrons the management of the State Fair of Texas strives each year to keep up with the progress of mankind in every field of effort. Accordingly at the twenty-fourth annual exposition, which begins Saturday, October 16, and continues sixteen days, aerial navigation will receive special attention. In all probability there will be two types—the aeroplane and the dirigible. The dirigible is a certainty, and should the Wright Brothers succeed in catching up with their orders, their famous aeroplanes will be seen flying over the State Fair Grounds each day.

Strobel's dirigible is the latest development in that type of airship. He has agreed with the management of the Fair to give two flights each day, in the morning and in the afternoon. Charles J. Strobel won the first and second prizes at the Jamestown Exposition in 1907; at the St. Louis International Exposition in 1907; first prize at the Florida Mid-Winter Exposition; and has won numerous prizes for aerial flights in various other places. He has made two flights over the City of Mexico during the last three years, made two flights over New York City this spring, and has made flights over Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, Erie, Baltimore and other towns too numerous to mention. His ships are the smallest and fastest in the world and have made flights of two hours or more. He is now at the Seattle Exposition, and Texans who have visited Seattle, declare that his exhibition will be well worth a trip to Dallas to see. He won first and second prizes at the International Airship races held at St. Louis.

In entertainment features the twenty-fourth annual exposition will be a record breaker. One of the most sensational and interesting will be Pain's Acrobatic Carnival from Manhattan Beach, New York City, which will include not only a gorgeous display of fireworks, but vaudeville features by wonderful European gymnasts and a grand military band. Pain has won worldwide fame for his pyrotechnic creations. His latest devices are motion pictures in fireworks, comedies and novelties. At his London and Paris offices Mr. Pain has a rare opportunity of securing the world's best athletes, and his entertainment at the Fair will be the greatest of the kind ever offered in Texas.

In the amusement line it is but necessary to state that the Herbert A. Kline shows, America's leading amusement organization, have been secured. Mr. Kline has arranged to spend $25,000 in transforming his portion of the grounds into a miniature Coney Island, where the world's wonders and freaks, strange people and stranger animals will be exhibited. His animal exhibition includes educated lions, leopards, tigers, dogs, monkey, etc. His tiger "Royal Bengal" is the only one in captivity that rides horseback and goes through the performance of a regular bareback rider. He has a strange collection of people, the last of the Mexican cliff dwellers, Aztec in extraction, and a source of study to the leading archeologists and ethnologists of America. His Oriental theater is the cleanest and most refined dancing girl show in America. The program includes dancers, gun spinners, magicians and acrobatic feats and Oriental wedding ceremonies. His circling wave, an amusement device, which has a circling and dipping motion both at the same time, promises to be an ideal merriment maker. Perhaps the most novel, unique, skillful, interesting and instructive exhibition of his entire show will be the glass blowers, and visitors to the coming Fair will see the blowing, spinning and weaving of glass. And then there is Elma, a big, fat, good-looking, jolly girl, who is nineteen years of age and weighs 731 pounds. Also the smallest man on earth, a human doll—twenty-five inches in height. This little man is not larger than a baby, weighs sixteen and a half pounds, speaks English, German and Russian, and for his cradle used a cigar box. Last but not least is Alice, the Wonder, who is acknowledged by the press and public to be the strangest girl in all the world.

In addition there will be hundreds of other shows as unique, interesting and new as can be found anywhere in the United States. Patrons of former years are acquainted with the wonderful permanent attractions on the grounds erected at a cost of $100,000. They include the scenic railway, laughing gallery, electrical theater, shoot-the-chutes, funny castle, and numerous other houses of fun, jollity and mirth.

Poultry breeders of the Southwest, winners of prizes at the State Fair of Texas, need to look to their laurels. At the coming exposition, which opens at Dallas Saturday, October 16, and continues sixteen days, there will be competitors from new sources. President E. J. Kiest of the association is authority for the reports that there will be 3,000 birds on display. The poultry building has been thoroughly overhauled and put in first-class shape. During the last twenty-five years the State Fair of Texas has been an important factor in the upbuilding of the agricultural, livestock and poultry industries of the state. These competitive exhibits serve to encourage the breeders to greater efforts each year. The Texas fowl is the aristocrat of American "Poultrydom," and, if northern fanciers desire to enter the field, they will have no easy sailing. At least we predict that the larger portion of the prizes will remain right here in Texas.

MAKES WORK EASIER.

Colorado People Are Pleased to Learn How It is Done.

It's pretty hard to attend to duties with a constantly aching back; with annoying urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier.

They cure backache. They cure kidney ills. L. Powell of Big Springs, Texas, says: "I did not have any serious kidney trouble but suffered severely from a lameness across my loins. Although I was not obliged to lay off from work, I was at times in no fit condition to be about. The kidney secretions were very irregular in passage and there was a scalding sensation when voided. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, these troubles have entirely disappeared and I believe this remedy to be a splendid one for kidney difficulties."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Read Only the Best.

If you want your children to cultivate a correct and elevating literary taste they must have access to the best literature. They will read; if not the good, then the vicious. Give them a fair chance. The Ladies Home Journal and Saturday Evening Post stand at the head of all journals of their different classes. They cover the tastes of the entire family. Once a reader, always one. Mrs. A. L. Whipkey is the duly accredited agent in Colorado, and will be glad to call upon you and take your subscription for one or both. A phone to the Record office will reach her.

THE ALARMING INCREASE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

"He died of Bright's Disease." Hardly a week passes that this statement is made in reference to some prominent citizen.

The increasing prevalence of this disease makes the present time seem most opportune for discussion in the hope that some who are unconsciously afflicted with this dreaded disease may receive timely warning.

A prominent citizen residing in a nearby town informs us that he suffered for nearly a year from Bright's Disease, but that he recently affected a complete cure.

"What seemed to be the first indications of the trouble," was asked. "They seemed hardly worth noticing. My digestion bothered me at times, my stomach seemed out of order, and I had occasional backaches, but I thought it was due to too much work."

"Did you take anything?" "I did not. Later, my strength failed me, I had severe pains in the back and noticed some irregularities of the urine, I couldn't sleep well at night. I then used some simple remedies, but without benefit."

"Did you realize that your trouble was Bright's Disease?" "I never thought of such a thing. Finally, my condition became serious. My back ached all the time, I had shooting pains in my joints and a weak tired feeling at the knees, a little work played me out completely. I then began doctoring for kidney trouble but did not improve very much."

"Did you have any trouble with your heart?" "Yes. I had spells of heart throbbing and a nervous faint feeling. I thought I had heart disease and treated awhile for that. Nothing seemed to help me. I had to give up trying to work."

"How did you affect a cure?" "A friend of mine persuaded me to try Prickly Ash Bitters. I bought a bottle of my druggist. After taking it a week I began to feel some better, my urine became more natural and there was a gradual lessening of my misery. I kept on taking Prickly Ash Bitters for several weeks and I could feel my strength returning—slowly at first—but increasing daily. I am now entirely cured of my trouble and able to do a full day's work without the least fatigue. I consider Prickly Ash Bitters the grandest kidney medicine in the world."

Thousands of people attest in like manner to the wonderful benefit derived from Prickly Ash Bitters. It is a time successful remedy for Bright's any disorder of the kidney.

Prickly Ash Bitters is in every sense a tonic and regulator. It possesses properties for curing ailments such as, liver and bowels in ad-

Its great power in the kidneys. Its able article to keep at home. One or two can be taken when needed. When used for any disorder of the kidneys, stomach, liver or it is the right medicine in the place.

Famous Georgia Minstrels.

Monday, Nov. 1, will be laughing night at the opera house for on that date those forty funny fellows comprising Richard & Pringle's Famous Minstrels will cut things loose. The big opening number, "The Palace of Revelry," will be a revelation. This beautiful production is a masterpiece of the scenic painter's art, and has been months in construction. The costumes and settings comprise several thousand yards of silk, satin and velvet. Twenty of the best singers ever carried by a minstrel organization and twelve of the funniest comedians will hold high revelry for an hour. This will be followed by another hour and half of the brightest and snappiest of odes, comprising two big spectacular Southern numbers, introducing songs and dances of the Southland as only the negro can execute them. Seven other big vaudeville acts and a one-act musical comedy that is one long scream of laughter. The company will arrive in their own special cars early on the above date and will give a big free street parade at 7:30. Another concert will be given by the band in front of the theater at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The attendance at the different Sunday schools in the county, as far as reports are received are as follows:

Table with columns for school names and attendance counts. Includes Colorado, Westbrook, Loraine, Buford, Plainview, and Mexicans.

Total.....1490

Considering that the day started out at 8 a. m. with a heavy sand storm, and blew hard all day, the air being filled with dust, we consider this a fairly good showing, though we had hoped for 2000. Next year, now that we know and understand, we will no doubt do better.

The Presiding Elder Preaches.

Rev. Simeon Shaw received an ovation at the Methodist church last Sunday. His sermon on "The Call to the West" was pronounced by many to have been the greatest ever delivered in Colorado. It was not only a masterpiece of eloquence, but contained brilliant originality of thought that held the marked attention of his large audience throughout the discourse.

Rev. Shaw said this was his best time at Colorado with its Annual Conference. We have heard of his great work as a Presiding Elder over the Colorado District and we have also heard that a Presiding Elder could not preach, but Mr. Shaw's great sermon in Colorado has proven to the contrary. The inspiration and hope of the sermon last Sunday will remain in the hearts of the hearers forever. These are strenuous times and as Mr. Shaw said, "We don't need kickers," but "the times" call forth all that is brave and true in men, and surely there is a good time just ahead.

Student Killed.

Tommy Cox, 18 years old, died at the Abilene hospital Monday, from a wound alleged to have been inflicted with the butt of a buggy whip. In the hands of Earl Browder, a schoolmate of his at Simmons College. In an altercation Saturday night previous, the Cox boy was struck by the Browder boy, which at the time seemed only to addle him a moment. He did not complain until Monday morning when he complained of a pain in his head. He grew rapidly worse and was taken to the hospital, where he died that day.

The Browder boy was placed under bond in the sum of $2,500 to await the action of the grand jury.
