Fairview Facts.

Dear Editor:—Not having seen anything from our community for some time I will endeavor to relate a few brief facts.

The farmers in this section are feeling happy and sorry too, on account of the recent rain. While the rain came entirely too late to help this year's crop it will put the ground in fine condition for winter plowing, but it has done considerable damage to the open cotton.

There were quite a number attended Sunday school last Sunday at Fairview. Think we did our part to help Bro. Webb.

"Dad" Jenkins and son, Ward, returned Saturday from El Paso county where they have been for some time. Their many friends are glad to welcome them back.

Mr. Bus and Cal McGaha returned home this week from Coleman county where they have been at work.

Mr. Coburn and family leave this week for Arkansas where they will make their future home. We sincerely hope they will find the country all they are expecting it.

Mr. J. M. Doak and family, accompanied by Miss Bertha Goodwin visited friends and relatives in Snyder last week.

Mr. George Goodwin was to start Monday morning on an extended trip probably to be gone all winter.

Our school is to begin the 1st of November. All are looking forward to a busy and profitable year.

The young people attended singing at Mr. Casey's Sunday night.

Mr. Will Berry is suffering from a badly bruised face caused by coming in too close contact with the gate post at about 3:30 a. m. Monday as he was returning from Mr. Percy's. We hope for the feminine world, that he will soon be fully recovered.

As this is my first attempt, will quit. "SUNSHINE."

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

Lard Is An Animal Product Cottolene Is a Vegetable Product

Many people believe with Moses, the great law-giver, that the source of lard is unclean. The source of Cottolene is absolutely clean and wholesome, and the product is as healthful as olive oil.

Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South; it is a product of Nature, refined by our exclusive process. The ancestry of lard is not so clean or inviting. Lard never has been, never can be, anything more or less than unwholesome hog fat.

Cottolene makes food that any stomach can digest, while lard is the cause of nine-tenths of all indigestion.

Cottolene is the best frying and shortening medium made to-day. Wherever exhibited in competition with any and all other cooking fats, it has always been granted Highest Awards.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Union Dots.

Everything in our section is moving along fairly well except the school. Prof. Hood being a good hearted gentleman stopped school for a few days to give his pupils a chance to pick a little cotton.

The general opinion is that our cotton crop will be just a little better than we expected. Well Mr. Editor, I am sorry after reading Citizen's proposition that it has fallen to my lot to start the ball rolling, but as I think the suggestion a good one I will do the best I can on the lines mentioned.

As for the modes and methods of farming I don't think that the country has developed sufficiently to establish any special modes yet. But I consider early and thorough preparation the leading thought for every farmer. If such is the case early planting will surely follow which is ordinarily the surest crop.

Next diversification should be well considered and practiced. We very well know that we can make our fed crop any ordinary year, enough to make home self-sustaining, both for hog and hominy, for this has proven to be a good hog country for there is so much that can be raised for hogs, such as corn, maize, cañon corn, a patch of sorghum cane for green pasture; then comes chufas peanuts, peas, potatoes, watermelons, pumpkins, kershaws and many other things.

With the above thoughts I close hoping soon to hear from Citizen and others on this important subject.

RANGERS AROUSE PEOPLE.

Break Into Private Residence and Enter Bedroom of Woman While Husband is Absent

Deputy County Tax Assessor Frank Miller, who has been spending five weeks at Amarillo and other places in the western portion of Texas, has returned home and this morning related some interesting incidents in connection with the appearance of the rangers at Amarillo.

"The tyrannical and brutal conduct of the state police," says Mr. Miller, "has caused the most intense excitement here, and the people, led by the mayor, are up in arms against what they term the insolence and thorough disregard of the rights of others on the part of the rangers."

While conversing with Mr. Miller today he recalled an event that he said occurred at Amarillo, where a most estimable lady was subjected to the grossest insults at the hands of the state police. At home one night with her 4-weeks-old baby and her sister, the rangers came to her house and knocked on the door. In response to an inquiry made by the lady, the invaders told her they wanted to search her home. She replied that her husband was absent and requested the rangers to call again. This they refused to do, and threatened to kick in the door unless it was opened. The lady endeavored to get the police station phone, but was unable to do so. She then phoned her next door neighbor, but the rangers, in the meantime, had made good their threats, and kicked in the door. When the neighbor reached the scene, he found several men in the room, and though the ladies requested the rangers to withdraw to another room, so they might dress, they refused to grant the favor and compelled the two ladies to dress in their presence. After searching the house, the rangers departed.

During the automobile races at Amarillo recently, Mr. Miller says some of the rangers went to the race track with officials of that place, and they were passed into the grounds free of charge. Later, another ranger came to the races by himself, and he paid his way. When informed by his companions that they had been admitted free of charge, the late arrival demanded his money back from the ticket taker. The latter replied that he was perfectly willing to do this, but would first have to secure the permission of the man who sold the ticket, as he held checks for all tickets that had been sold. After refusing to discuss the matter with any one else, the ranger pulled his six-shooter and struck the ticket taker over the head, while another ranger stood nearby to prevent any one rendering assistance to the man who had been attacked.

Mr. Miller also referred to another attack made on a citizen residing near Amarillo. The latter was in a pool hall one night, and made some remarks about the presence of the rangers at that place. It chanced that a ranger was in the same place, and he went on the war path immediately, hitting the man over the head with a gun. The chief of police went to the citizen's rescue. Mr. Miller said, and gave the ranger all he wanted, and a little bit more, judging by his appearance when the job had been completed.

Last Saturday the mayor of Amarillo, according to Mr. Miller, issued a proclamation, threatening to arm 200 citizens for the purpose of disarming the rangers, in the event further acts of violence were committed on the part of the state police. The tension in that city is very great, Mr. Miller remarked, and it will take the counsel of the most conservative citizens to prevent a conflict between the people and the rangers, as the former believe they have been persecuted to the extreme limit by men sent there for the express purpose of enforcing laws, but who, if reports are true, have themselves become the most flagrant violators.

While in Amarillo, Mr. Miller encountered a number of former Wacoans, who are now located there. They are prospering and inquired about their friends here. Mr. Miller stayed five weeks in that section of Texas, and his health has been immensely benefited by the trip.—Waco Times-Herald.

Walter King of Ft. Worth, who took about $6,000 from the Waggoner bank alleging that he was held up by robbers, plead guilty last week and was fined $100. As the money was recovered the man was given a chance to redeem himself, which he will attempt to do in some western state. Nobody believes King a thief, but misfortune and temptation meeting at a seemingly propitious time, the man fell.

The Hawley interests are now said to be behind the Orient railroad, which means much to the section of Texas through which it is projected to run. It will be finished without delay. The great importance of the road is being realized, as it is said by traffic-wise that it is the only railroad reaching Pacific tidewater that the completion of the Panama canal will not only hurt, but greatly benefit.

CURES REMOVE DOUBT ABOUT ECZEMA CURE.

Read What Your Druggist Says About Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

Druggist Doss submits the following to readers of the Record.

For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we had found a positive cure for eczema; a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen compounded with other ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have therefore, arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin, this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.

W. L. Doss, Druggist.

Gumption on the Farm.

The only man not deeply concerned in good roads in your county is the tramp who goes that way but once.

A good many folks will have cold fingers before they are through husking corn this fall. Don't let that somebody be you.

Keep a lot of bag strings hanging in the granary; and, many times, some in the barn come handy. A broken harness-snap is a good thing to hang them on.

The folks who do the most dawdling in the fine autumn weather are often the most surprised when the cold, wet season catches them with their outdoor work half done.

A horse will do more, and do it ten times more willingly, for the man who has a kindly ring in his voice and who says, "Get up!" as if he were going along, too.

Some farmers are surprised the first time their wives sell enough eggs and butter to furnish the table and the wardrobe, and after that they are surprised if she doesn't keep it up.

Save the beautiful things in nature. Don't cut down a shapely pine or poplar just to see if the axe is sharp; and when grubbing out fields, set the fine, straight hardwood shrubs in some forest tract for future use.

All rubbish about the place that would harbor insects and other pests should be cleaned up and burned. If it has not already been done, hotbeds and cold-frames should be cleaned up and soil prepared for bedding.

There are life insurance, fire insurance, storm insurance, and stock insurance, all of them good enough so far as they go, but none of them quite equal to the industry that insures against unhappiness and want in old age.

We can afford to buy a hand force-pump just for washing carriages and wagons. Pressing even the softest cloth on them will scratch the paint. By washing them thoroughly with the pump first, we may follow with the cloth with good results.

Now that the days are shorter you will be doing chores sometimes after dark. Make it a rule never to set the lantern down on the floor. Hang it up where it will not be knocked over. It is an awful thing to have the barn burn up. By the way, a harness snap suspended from the ceiling by a bit of old pump-chain is a good thing to hang the lantern on. Have it just above the reach of your head.—From November Farm Journal.

No More Credit.

To certain parties we have extended the privilege of 30-day accounts during the summer. On the 1st of October our books will be closed and every one must pay the cash for what is gotten from us. We do this simply because we are not able to carry such a burden. Those whose accounts are still unsettled, will please pay up at once. Maxfield & McKinney, October 1st, 1909.

Thursday at the home of Mrs. Burns the Daughters of the Confederacy enjoyed a very pleasant open meeting in honor of Hood's Day. The program being upon Gen. John B. Hood, good papers being given upon his life and his celebrated Brigade. The hostess for the occasion were Mesdames Annis Beal, Burns, Carter, Crockett, John Doss, Blendford, Allen and Miss Terrell. The guests were Mesdames Shaw, Nichols, Henson, Marshall, Henry Doss, Adams, Prude, Collier, Bell Harness, and Major, with almost all of the chapter present. After the main part of the program was finished Miss Dupree and Mrs. Bell both sang very sweetly. W. B. Crockett played very nicely indeed, then Mrs. Shaw gave several piano solos, also playing while Mrs. Bell and Whipkey sang Old Black Joe beautifully. The company were now invited into the dining room where ice cream with delicious white cake was served by the hostess. A feature of the table decorations was a beautifully decorated plate on which were the three flags of the Confederacy and a picture of the flags. After some time spent in pleasant conversation the chapter adjourned to meet in November with Mrs. Allen.
