GOOD NEWS.

A letter from Mr. Hammock to parties here is to the effect that he will certainly be in Colorado, in a few days, and that the contracts will be closed up at once and soon after as practicable, work like building a railroad will begin in earnest. We from the outside have not been able to see all the difficulties in the way, and we are prone to become impatient. It is no easy matter to finance a private railroad proposition which runs counter to the big railroad systems already in the same territory. The Record hopes and believes that all the difficulties are being overcome and that Mr. Hammock will be able to begin the work of actual construction by June 1st.

Shoes to Last a Lifetime

Say, Mr. Shoemaker, would you rather have your customers speak of your shoes as wearing well, as not running down at the heel, as turning water, and taking a shine; or wag their heads and say nothing?

We'd rather have ours at long intervals, say: "We want some more paint, and we want Devoe." We know it isn't in human nature to paint very often; we don't expect them to come very often; don't want 'em to. All we want is to paint what they have to paint, whenever they paint it; the longer the time, the surer they are to come back. There's business enough in the world; there are houses enough to paint; let 'em take their time.

If we were a shoemaker, we'd make shoes to last a lifetime, and shoe that whole town.—W. L. Doss.

That's Colorado's Habit.

The Sweetwater Dramatic Company presented "Among the Breakers" to a large and appreciative audience at the Colorado opera house last Saturday night.

Those who went over to assist with the program are loud in their praise of the splendid welcome extended to them by the Colorado people. They declare they were never treated better.

They were under special obligations to the Colorado band for their splendid help in making the occasion a success. The band consists of 22 pieces and made some fine music.

The large audience seemed to appreciate the rendition of the program and each character was liberally applauded.

The young people who went over say that if the Colorado people should decide to come over on a like mission they will leave nothing undone to make their visit both pleasant and profitable.—Sweetwater Reporter.

The Socialists.

The Socialists of this county are very busy getting ready to put out a county ticket. Referendums are to be sent out this week. The Socialist nominate by a direct vote of all party members. No one is allowed to announce for office or to solicit votes for one. It is left to a vote of the majority and not to the individual desires of any one. County Secretary, Hardy, is busy formulating plans for financing and advertising the campaign, and in getting the party organization to conform with the new State Party Constitution, and the Terrell election law. The socialists are very optimistic over their prospects, and are confident that they will elect a part if not their entire county ticket. (The above was sent in by N. L. Hardy, the County Secretary, for publication).

Having Known Deferred Hope.

The Colorado Record and Robert Lee Observer have been looking for Mr. E. G. Hammock, the man who is promoting the Colorado & Concho railroad, back from New York for several weeks but he keeps delaying his return trip. But Mr. Hammock has until June to return and take up his contract so it's too early for Colorado and Robert Lee to get uneasy and restless. Sit steady in the boat, and wait.—Roscoe Times.

Be sure to get some of that tender meat the Palace Market is selling.

IN LITTLE BITS.

Speaker Cannon retains the chair, but has been shorn of his dictatorship. Grayson, Haskell and Garza counties voted dry last week.

Texas' share in the last cotton crop was 2,476,000 bales.

A garage and thirteen automobiles were consumed by fire at Big Springs last week.

Scurry county's handsome new court house has been turned over to the finishers. The town is contemplating a sewerage system.

A fine rain has fallen all over the peninsula, as far south as Lubbock.

Floydada is now on the railroad map. Train service began last week.

Reports from all sections confirm the opinion that the fruit crop of the south-west is safe as yet.

A $50,000 educated monkey died at Dallas last week. That's more than a majority of us folks are worth.

A bill to raise the Maine gets a favorable report in congress.

A deficit of more than $80,000 is facing the El Paso schools.

There seems to be no doubt that the Fort Worth messenger boy was murdered by boys.

Two men, two small children and a woman were found murdered in one room at Houston. An axe was used to do the deed.

A 50-foot whale was captured at Sabine Pass and pulled ashore.

El Paso furnishes an example of the fellow mean enough to steal a red-hot stove. He took the stove, fire pipe and all.

The Texas grand jury, I. O. O. F. will meet next year at Waco.

Haskell county gave prohibition a majority of 581.

Both senators Tillman and Daniels are reported as improving and hopes are entertained of their recovery.

Episcopal Services This Week.

The services at the Episcopal church, during this week have been peculiarly interesting and timely. Rev. Norman Marshall, the Rector, has been preaching a series of sermons relating to our Lord's last week on earth. On Palm (last) Sunday His entry into Jerusalem was the topic. On Monday he spoke of the Lord's ascension of His authority; Tuesday was the day of controversy when He showed Himself able to rout error in any guise; on Wednesday he spoke of the retirement to Bethany; Thursday the institution of the Sacrament was discussed—love and the scene in the garden of Gethsemane; on Friday he discussed the Atonement; Saturday he considered the crucifixion—expiation, and on Sunday, which is Easter, the resurrection of our Lord will be discussed. So far this has proven an exceedingly interesting series of sermons, as has been evinced by increasing congregations. Every one is cordially invited to attend these services.

CRIMP IN FULL RENDITION LAW.

Important Decision in 5th District Court on Unequal Assessments.

Dallas, Texas.—The Court of Civil Appeals in the Fifth Judicial District, on the 12th, handed down a decision of vast importance in the state, in the case of L. Langley vs. N. J. Smith et al. from Hill county.

The substance of the Court's decision is to hold that all property assessments for taxation must be equal and uniform.

Langley owned bank stock, and objected to Hill county officials assessing it at full value while at the same time other property in the community was not so assessed.

Langley was given the decision by the court in line with the judgment recently rendered in the suit in which the M. K. & T. railroad resisted the official assessment for taxation made in Dallas county, involving the same points of law.

The play "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be put on in this city on April 1st, under the direction of Miss Mary Lawson of Tennessee assisted by about forty of the best local talent. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of the Episcopal church, at the opera house. Admission 25 and 50 cents.

SPRING and EASTER MILLINERY

The millinery salons have left their wintry chrysalis and burst into an exquisite bloom—a brilliant pageantry of Spring idyls in millinery, thoroughly representative of the unique, creative ability of the most celebrated foreign and New York designers; also the inimitable grace and originality of Hats that our own expert milliners have contrived.

EASTER HATS

This great assemblage of fine headwear with its great varieties of all the latest models as well as colors and trimmings, many of which are exclusive and not to be found elsewhere, will more than repay you for your visit.

All the farmers of Mitchell county have their land in perfect shape for a good shower. And, although there is yet ample time for a general crop, we had a little rather be forehanded than go on so small a margin of time. On or about the vernal and autumnal equinoxes, there is usually some kind of change in the weather, tending generally to storms, rains, etc., and the weather wise predict a rain thereafter.

The family of Mr. O. D. Jones, the contractor of the Dulaney building, arrived in Colorado Friday last and will remain as long as Mr. Jones is engaged at this place. The Record welcomes them to the town.

OBJECTS TO LINCOLN'S PICTURE.

We of the South had much to say, and in no complimentary terms, of the protests of the Grand Army of the Republic, to the placing of the statue of General Robert E. Lee in the hall of fame. It may, therefore, do us no harm, at least, to learn in what light they view our protest against placing the picture of Abraham Lincoln in southern school rooms. The National Tribune has the following to say:

"The Southerners who insist that they are as loyal as the people of the North, and that the Confederate veterans vie with the Grand Army of the Republic in their enthusiastic devotion to the old flag, will receive a rude jolt in the action of the Sterling Price Camp, United Confederate Veterans, of Dallas, Texas. The feeling of these veterans have been stirred by the Board of Education authorizing the portrait of Abraham Lincoln to be hung in one of the public schools. The Camp proceeded to throw a fit, and unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas this Camp is reliably informed that the picture of Abraham Lincoln has, at the suggestion of the Mothers' Club of Colonial Hill School in this city, been placed on the wall of said school building, much to the mortification and chagrin of the majority of the patrons of the school; be it resolved:

"1. That the Historical Committee of this Camp call upon the School Board of the city of Dallas and ascertain if said picture was placed there by consent of said Board.

"2. That said School Board be requested to enact such regulations as will prevent the introduction, use or honoring of the picture of any person, living or dead, being placed on the walls of any public building where our children assemble, or the reading or recitation of any literary production which magnifies and honors those who sought our humiliation or ignores thinking Americans, but of the whole and abuses the virtue and honor of those who have made the Southland the synonym of patriotism and loyalty to constitutional liberty, and that the committee report at the next meeting.

"Now we cannot understand the language used in this. Why any American, no matter what his attitude during the war was, can view with 'mortification and chagrin' the picture of Lincoln in a public school building is beyond comprehension. No matter what one's politics may be, the unanimous sentiment not only of all right civilized world, is that Abraham Lincoln was the greatest man that our race has produced, in the thousand years it has been the center of the stage of history. Sterling Price Camp only condemns itself by hurling these words of abuse against the united opinion of all right-thinking men and which opinion everyone is only too glad to express. Further, when Sterling Price Camp says that this 'magnifies and honors those who sought our humiliation' it is absolutely untrue. No one wanted the humiliation of the South, and least of all Lincoln. From the very first to the last he endeavored to spare the feelings of the South even while waging determined war upon them, and no word or act of Abraham Lincoln can be cited by anyone which was dictated by unkindness to the people of the South. From first to last he was the embodiment of 'malice toward none and charity for all,' and to the day of his death he breathed gentle peace toward the men who were wickedly assailing the life of the Nation. Sterling Price Camp is injuring the South, inestimably by sending out this wanton stuff as indicative of the temper of that section of the country."

Sacred Concerts.

Beginning next Sunday, and every first and fourth Sunday thereafter, the Colorado band will give a sacred concert from 3 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the union tabernacle. Everybody is requested to come out and enjoy this music, as well as stay for the men's service which begins immediately after the concert is concluded. The band is progressing splendidly under the direction of Mr. Ed Jones and the boys are greatly to be commended for their willingness to give the public this sacred Sunday afternoon concert. As many as can, should go, in order to show the public's appreciation of the band's public spirit.

A creamery and broom factory, sufficient for the demands of the surrounding country could be established in Colorado for not more than $5,000 capital stock. The town is as well located for such industries as any, and the products could be manufactured as cheaply as in the cities.

Keep 'Er Straight Bro. Terrell.

"There are some men in West whose only mission in life, apparently, is to walk the streets from early morning till late at night, knocking, misrepresenting and deliberately lying on their neighbor, and strange to say, these men pose as 'pillars of the church.' Such hypocrite ought to be thrown out of the church bodily, for in the language of Dick Coke 'hell is so full of such men that their legs are hanging out of the windows.'—West News.

We haven't the least doubt that West, in common with every other town on the map, is infested with a fair proportion of that ilk who having no business of their own to look after, attend to the business of their neighbors; nor do we doubt that a per cent of them stand 'fair in the church.' But the News does 'old Dick Coke' credit overmuch in attributing to his fertile vocabulary and vivid imagination the assertion that 'Hell is so full of such men that their legs are hanging out of the windows.' To the Hon. Roger Q. Mills belongs the honor of that simile. He used this language in reference to Dr. B. H. Carroll, in a speech at Waco. The Record only reminds the News of the incident that the record might be kept straight.

A HUMAN ENGINE.

Without good fuel the 20th Century Limited would travel little faster than a common yard engine. It takes good fuel to develop power, endurance and speed. Every ambitious man is anxious to push forward, to get ahead, yet many are 'coaling up' on food prepared with lard, regardless of the fact that lard is indigestible and really clogs up the system, just as poor coal clogs the grates with clinkers. Don't eat lard-soaked food; eat food prepared with COTTOLINE, a vegetable-oil cooking fat, so pure, wholesome and easily digested that physicians recommend it even for invalids. 'COTTOLINE' shortens your food, lengthens your life' and you will travel farther, swifter and easier on it than on food prepared from the fat of the hog.

THE MONEY QUESTION

By Bishop Joines Atkins.
Mr. Wesley clearly foresaw that the divine blessing upon temperance economy and industry, along with the quickening influence of the gospel on the intellect, would in a short time make the Christian nations the richest on earth, and also result in a more general distribution of wealth. He saw with equal clearness that the greatest danger to spiritual life in the Christian world was to be from the side of worldly prosperity.

Both things have already come to pass. There is enough of worldly possessions either in the hand or in sight of almost every man of ordinary capacity and aspirations to endanger, in some degree, his spiritual interests. So intimately is money related to the highest personal ends, and so closely does the desire for it intertwine itself with the softest and noblest of the family sentiments, and the strongest of family obligations, that it grows almost unperceived into a dominant passion, and leads to a desolating idolatry.

On this account it comes to pass that we must occupy one or more of the positions so powerfully painted in the New Testament life. We must walk the temple aisles with the poor widow who gives two mites—her living or stand with the rich who cast their worthless abundance into the treasury of the Lord; we must arise with Matthew from the receipt of customs and turn with Andrew and Simon and James and John from the fishing tackle by the waters of Genesaret, to follow the Son of Man, who had not where to lay his head, or scramble with the money-changers and sellers of doves in the temple of God; we must stand with the rich young ruler at the forks of the road of destiny, or with Mary break the alabaster box despite the growls of Judas; we must stand with Zaccheus, ready to throw off ill gotten gains, or go with the Gadarenes against the Savior's presence because of the swine; we must come whole handed like the generous Joies, or listen for the feet of the young men who bore Ananias and Sapphira to burial; we must imitate in spiritual things the prudence of the wise steward and make unto ourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness, or lie down with the rich fool to complacent slumbers, from which the thunders of divine judgment shall wake us to perdition; we must forsake all as the eleven, or remember that in every man's nature there lurk the possibilities of a Judas Iscariot; we must have faith in God despite the setons and goads of poverty, and trustfully adjourn our hopes of emolument to a place in Abraham's bosom, along with Lazarus, or use the gifts of God for self-indulgence and worldly pleasure, and fall with Dives in the lake of fire, where one drop of cold water were worth all the gold of Ophir, where the memory of wasted resources is an unquenchable fire.—Colorado District Herald.

A Word for the Tabernacle.

No man who has kept in touch with the work being done in the town of Colorado by the United Brotherhood, will fail to realize that the organization has been a factor in the moral and religious life of the town. Through the organization we have one of the most comfortable and commodious auditoriums in west Texas. It is for the good of the people at large and the men of the community. In particular, in building and fitting up the tabernacle, a debt of about $100 has been incurred. This money must be paid, to which end a committee was appointed by the board of directors recently to solicit subscriptions to wipe out this debt. This committee will call upon all the men of the town. Give them something if you can. If the work and influence of the Brotherhood makes for the security of your peace, life and property, there is an obligation upon every person in the town of Colorado to support the tabernacle.—Help the committee when they call on you.

The Blue Bug.

Mr. G. L. Wallace has been greatly troubled in his chicken business by the "blue bugs" or blood suckers, as they are popularly known. They are the worst enemy young chickens have in west Texas, and it is well nigh impossible to get rid of the pests once they have infested a place. Mr. Wallace sent a number of the bugs to the state entomologist at the A. & M. College this week, asking his opinion of the bug and recommendation for its extermination.

Enclosed under separate cover is a few specimen of what is known here locally as "Blue Bugs."

They inhabit the roosts of chickens, staying in any kind of cracks or crevices during the day and coming out to get on the chickens at night time.

It is impossible to exterminate this pest after it once get started and chickens can not possibly be raised where the Blue Bug is.

Please tell us how this pest gets started, and if there is any way known of getting rid of it. The people of Mitchell County will more than appreciate the information.

Anything you may give us on this line that will benefit us in raising chickens where this pest is, will be printed in our county paper.

We might add that nine out of ten chicken houses in this county are infested with the Blue Bug.

Yours very truly,
WESTERN TRADE EXCHANGE,

We heard more than one man complaining of being lazy this week, and it wasn't five minutes until every one of them said something about going fishing.

Election Will Be Ordered.

The school board has decided to issue $7,500 bonds to build a school building, conditioned upon the sanction of the qualified voters of the Colorado Independent School District. The petition for the election has been circulated, signed by the requisite number of voters, and the election will be regular or called meeting.

If the bond issue carries, it will give the board between $17,000 and $19,000 cash with which to erect the new building. And this can be done without raising the special tax levy one cent.

It was never the intention of the board to abandon the South Side school, but for the sake of temporary economy, the South Side school was combined with the central school for one session; after which the school on the South Side would have been resumed. The board fully recognizes the claims of the people across the river, the danger and inconvenience of sending their little children so far to school, and after the present emergency was over, intended to continue the school.

The Record favors the bond issue, and believes that the amount should have been $10,000 instead of $7,500 which latter amount would not have been any additional burden upon the tax payers. The town cannot afford to have anything but the best facilities possible for the education of its boys and girls.

Why Salves Fail to Cure Eczema.

Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence a penetrating liquid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores.

We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in liquid form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription, at only 25 cents, will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommended this remedy for years, and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons. W. L. DOSS.

HERBERT HINTS.

Sunday school Sunday morning and evening was well attended.

There will be preaching next Saturday and Sunday at the Baptist church.

Mr. L. L. Welch left last Tuesday for Dallas to be treated by the physicians at that place. Mr. Welch has been in bad health for several years and we trust that he may find relief at Dallas.

The party at Mr. H. A. Brown's last Friday night was enjoyed by all who attended.

A. M. Northcut had a well drilled on his place at Herbert.

The good people of our community have had a well drilled at the Herbert school house. They got plenty of good water.

T. W. Ferris of Lorraine and Miss Etta Falkner of this place were married on the 9th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Falkner. Bro. May of Lorraine performed the ceremony. We wish for them much happiness as they journey through life together. We regret to see Miss Etta leave us, and hope she will gain many friends in her new home.

Mrs. Brown and son, Sam, of Colorado visited Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Enright Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday Misses Gladis Lahn and Pearl Falkner were the guests of Miss Rosa Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. John Browne were at H. A. Browne's.

BOTH FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

If It Was of Sufficient Importance You Will Find it Recorded Here.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Government's defense of the constitutionality of the corporation tax provision of the new tariff law was submitted Tuesday in printed form to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The committee on Naval Affairs has reported favorably the bill appropriating $500,000 for the purpose of raising the Battleship Maine now at the bottom of Havana harbor.

United States Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, stricken with paralysis at his hotel in Datona, Fla., one week ago has suffered a decided change for the worse and his condition has been considered serious.

Opposition to postal savings banks was voiced before the House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads by representatives of the American Bankers' Association Thursday. Not only did the speakers oppose the postal savings bank bill which recently passed the Senate, but they said they opposed the principle of the Government going into the banking business.

Just when it looked in the Senate as though the Rockefeller foundation bill had a clear track, it was sidetracked. Senator Heyburn of Idaho stopped its consideration when he reached upon the calendar by an objection which was unexplained. Senator Gallinger, who is sponsor for the bill, had left a few moments before it was reached. Not all of the Senate is satisfied as to the exact purpose of the foundation.

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN NEWS.

Mrs. George D. Hurdle was run over and instantly killed while crossing the Katy track by an engine in Wincboro.

John Mabry and nine others, convicted at Council Bluffs, Iowa, of the fraudulent use of mails in connection with fake racing schemes, were sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and a $10,000 fine each.

J. L. Bain of the Hall County Oil and Gas Company, which is prospecting for oil five miles southeast from Memphis, Texas, reports finding a strata of oil sand at a depth of 375 feet.

Tag Day has been observed in Crowell, Tex., under the auspices of the ladies composing the Centennial Club, and something over $150 was collected. The money will be placed in the hands of a committee to be used in cleaning up the town for the improvement of sanitary conditions.

President Franklin and A. U. McLeod of the Denver and Gulf Railroad are in Ryan, Okla., and signed the contract with the committee representing Ryan to run the Denver and Gulf Railroad, which is to be built from Denver to Dallas, through this place, and to place the shops there for a period of twenty-five years. A bonus of $125,000 is to be given. The entire bonus has been raised.

The thirty-fourth annual convention of the Cattlemen's Association of Texas was called to order at Ft. Worth Tuesday morning and the entire session, which lasted until noon, was devoted to the opening exercises, and the report of the executive committee, and the annual address of the president, James Callan will be re-elected president and E. B. Spiller secretary.

Further participation by railroads in the conservation movement through the ownership and protection of forests was advocated at the eleventh annual convention of the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association, while in session in Chicago.

The French aviation syndicate has brought suit for annulment of the Wright patents in France. Charges of trying to obtain a monopoly are made and forfeiture of certain patents under the three-year law, or on the ground that old patents had priority, are claimed.

El Paso has received her first automobile fire engine. It is equipped with both chemical and water apparatus, and with a turret nozzle. The price paid for it was $5,000.

Since March 1 the Secretary of State at Austin has received over $100,000 in payment of annual franchise tax by the corporations of the State. About half of the corporations have paid this tax, which they have until May 1 to pay. Owing to the rush of payments the books of the Secretary of State have not yet been posted to show exactly how much has been collected.

Danger of an imminent strike of 27,000 locomotive firemen, the throwing out of work of more than 125,000 other employees and the temporary suspension of business on practically every railroad system between Chicago and the Pacific Coast, has been averted through the acceptance of offers of mediation from the Federal authorities at Washington.

The contract for grading the San Antonio, Rio Grande and Tampico Railroad has been let. This is the road building from San Antonio south through Jourdanton to the Rio Grande.

United States Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, who two weeks ago was stricken with paralysis, and with the exception of brief intervals has been in a state of coma for the last four days, continues to linger between life and death at Datona, Fla.

The committee in charge of the Southern Baptist Convention which is to meet in Baltimore, in May, is fast getting its program in shape and from present outlook the coming convention will far exceed any that has ever been held.

The Panhandle-Stockmen's Association of Texas will hold its eleventh annual meeting at Amarillo April 5, 6 and 7, and the program for the occasion is being prepared.

Complete returns from the prohibition election in Pecos County show that the anti-prohibitionists have carried the county by 17 majority.

Chief of Police Creecy, of St. Louis was suspended by the Board of Police Commissioners of the charge of divulging secrets of the investigation into the alleged shortage of the police relief fund of John Healy, who was indicted last week on the charge of embezzlement.

The City Commission of Austin has ordered an election for April 5 that the people of Austin may ratify or disapprove the plans submitted by the DuMont Holmes Steel Concrete Company of Chicago, and approved by the City Commission and Austin Business League, for the rebuilding of the Austin dam across the Colorado.

"It is now estimated that there are in use in the United States a total of 200,000 automobiles and that in the present year, if the automobile plants are worked to their capacity, that number will be duplicated," says the New York Herald. "It is even claimed by forecasters that Detroit alone can produce 60 per cent of that number, or 120,000."

The road bond issue, which calls for $50,000 for roads and $10,000 for bridges and which will be voted upon April 2, is arousing a great deal of interest in Cottle county. Many are opposing the issue. The issue is an important one for Cottle county, at this time, and the campaign is receiving more attention than any election ever before called for in the county.

If Gov. Willson of Kentucky, by vetoing the joint resolution of his State Legislature ratifying the income tax amendment, has nullified the indorsement of the Legislature, then the last three amendments to the Federal Constitution are invalid, according to information secured by Representative Ollie James of Kentucky. Mr. James points out that Gov. Willson's veto has the effect of invalidating the legislative approval of 100,000 negroes in Kentucky and others all over the Union are disfranchised.

The growing of asparagus in East Texas is proving very profitable, and indications now point to a heavy movement of this crop this year. At Bullard, in Smith County, about forty-five miles Palestine, regular shipments have been made since March 7. The growers are receiving about $6 a crate for it, and reports from Bullard say the crop is one of the best that can be raised in this section, as it never fails to make, and the prices for same are good. The Palmer Fruit Company of Bullard has a field of over 100 acres of this valuable plant, while others are becoming convinced that it is a paying crop and have gone to raising asparagus on a smaller scale.

Members of the executive committee of the Oklahoma Good Roads Association and the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce have made tentative plans for the construction of a scheme of highways in Oklahoma, which, if carried out, will fill the gap between Kansas City and Dallas, by building to the Kansas line on the north and the Texas line on the south. Both Texas and Kansas are considering such highways. Arkansas is said also to have plans under consideration, and perhaps Colorado.

Five schools within the State of Texas have taken advantage of the appropriation of the Thirty-First Legislature for the establishment of a department of agriculture, manual training and domestic science in their high schools—Van Alstyne, Uvalde, Hamilton, Pilot Point and Brownwood.

At a meeting of the building committee it was definitely decided to make a new Southland Life Insurance Company building in Dallas twelve stories high. The maximum cost of the structure was fixed at $250,000. This amount does not include any of the fixtures.

Sam Langford, Boston's well-known negro fighter, did away with Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, in the last half of the eighth round of a fight that was scheduled to go forty-five rounds at the old Jeffries Arena in Los Angeles, Cal.

One of the largest oil deals in which Western, New York and Bradford field oil men are interested has been consummated by A. T. Fancher in Oklahoma, by which the Osage reservation properties become the property of Western oil men. The consideration was $2,000,000.

Nothing definite having been accomplished by the conferences toward a settlement of the street carmen's strike, in Philadelphia, the committee of ten announced that E. E. Grenawalt, president of the State Federation of Labor, would call the state-wide strike.

H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the board of directors of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, will leave St. Louis about the middle of next week for Texas. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Pierce. After visiting several Texas cities they will proceed to the City of Mexico, where they will remain three or four weeks.

CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY DESTROYED AT WACO

TOWNSEND HALL BURNED, BUT LADIES DORMITORY SAVED.

MANY THOUSANDS ARE LOST

Chief Structure Insured for $40,000. While Fire Rages Fund Starts for Rebuilding.

Waco, Tex., March 23.—The main building of the Texas Christian University burned last night with about half of its contents. Part of the building was used for the boys' dormitory and about half of the boys lost their personal effects. The building was valued at $150,000 and the insurance of the main building was $40,000.

Townsend Hall, used as a music and dining room, valued at $10,000, was damaged 50 per cent.

The total loss, above insurance, is about $120,000.

The young ladies' dormitory was saved by the firemen with only nominal damage.

The Texas Christian University is about one and one-half miles from the center of the city, on the highest hill in the city, and it took some time for the entire fire department to get to work, but the fire was practically confined to the main building and Townsend Hall.

It was the largest fire in Waco for years, and could be seen for miles in every direction. The street car service was crippled, and about a fourth of the population of the city gathered on the hill. It is an exceedingly popular institution, and subscriptions began toward rebuilding the college while the flames were roaring. The first subscriber was Dr. W. A. Howard, who handed $15 to Dr. Anderson, the business manager, and in a short time the fund had run up to $500 in cash and checks.

Dr. Lockhart, the president of the Texas Christian University, announced on the campus while the main building was still in flames that class recitations would go on in his residence and in the residences of Dr. Anderson and other members of the faculty, and that not a recitation would be lost.

MORE MONEY FOR THE TRINITY

Through Efforts of Culberson $284,000 May Be Expended.

Washington: The Trinity River, through the efforts of Senator Culberson, may get $284,000 in the coming rivers and harbors bill, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, at the request of Senator Culberson, having introduced an amendment to the bill to increase the House appropriations for the locks and dams at White Rock shoals and No. 7, from $25,000 to $50,000 each, and $50,000 more for an additional lock and dam at Pine Bluff. The amendment reads:

"For the construction of lock and dam numbered seven and lock and dam at or near Mile 264 (Pine Bluff) and lock and dam at or near White Rock shoals, $150,000, in all $284,000." The matter may come before the Senate committee on commerce this week.

THREE DEAD; TWELVE INJURED

Wreck On Kentucky Road at White Station.

Lexington, Ky.: Three persons were killed and twelve others injured in a head-on collision between two freight trains on the Kentucky Central division of the Louisville and Nashville Railway at White Station, near Boreas, Ky., Tuesday. Before the wreck occurred telegraph operators along the line knew some one had blundered and that two heavy freight trains were rushing toward each other at a thirty-mile an hour schedule with no hope of any human agency to save them. The northbound train should have stopped at Boreas, but was allowed to pass.

To Remain American Property.

El Paso: J. A. Happer, former secretary to the International Boundary Commission, who has been in Washington to appear before the State Department in the matter of the propositions of Mexico relative to the Chamizal zone, has returned. He says that the proposition to trade San Elizario Island originated with Americans, but was not approved by the State Department and that the island will remain American territory. He says that a plan for the settlement of the whole Chamizal matter has been approved and a satisfactory settlement will be made within six months.

President Taft for Peace.

New York: The President of the United States spoke in the cause of world peace at the Hotel Astor. He was the honor guest at a banquet of the Peace and Arbitration League, and the principal speaker. International peace was the keynote of every address, but no speaker advocated the immediate disarmament of nations. On the other hand, all agreed that armies and navies were necessary until a more Utopian universe shall have come about.

INSURGENTS SCORNE

BY JOSEPH CANNON

MEMBERS WHO SPARED HIM ARE ACCUSED OF LACK OF COURAGE.

STILL BOASTS OF HIS POWER

The Speaker Severely Criticizes Opposition at Banquet Saturday Night.

Washington, March 21.—Developments in the twenty-four hours following the partial victory of a majority of the House of Representatives over Speaker Cannon and the Rules Committee are of a character that tend to justify Representative Burleson's motion to remove Joseph Cannon also from the Speakership and to emphasize the fact that a full and effective defeat of Cannonism failed only because a sufficient number of insurgents in the supreme test lacked the courage to vote their convictions.

These developments also show the shallowness of the pretension that there is a wide distinction between "the man and the system," as was contended by the insurgents who joined the reactionaries in the vote against declaring the Speakership vacant. Mr. Cannon's great power is not derived from the fact that he absolutely controls the Committee on Rules, but he controls the Rules Committee so completely because of the great power which is vested in him in many other ways—notably, the power to stack committees for or against important legislation. With such a power lodged in the Speaker of a great legislative body, the criticism of Cannon is that by reason of his ideals and affiliations he is unfitted for the place, and the House cry against him has been based upon the character of this man so clothed with great responsibility. What has occurred since the House crippled him, so far as his complete domination of the Rules Committee is concerned, would indicate that the next logical step is to shear him of every vestige of the remaining power, by reason of which he still holds a majority of his colleagues in subjection, or remove him entirely, as the Democrats and nine insurgents sought to do Saturday afternoon.

Cannon Scorns Insurgents. Emboldened, by the vote of confidence which he received at the hands of his followers, with the aid of the insurgents who voted against removing him from the Speakership, Mr. Cannon at a banquet Saturday night let loose his wrath upon the insurgents who made it possible to curb his power, calling them the "slough of the Republican party," "populists," and what not. Upon those insurgents who did not vote for his removal he heaped additional scorn and contempt.

Washington, March 20.—Shorn of his imperial power, as a member of the Rules Committee; crushed in defeat by his decision being overruled, and humiliated by being forced to put to a vote the things which tore away, one by one, his signs of Caesar-like authority, Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House, was nevertheless retained in the presiding officer's seat against the proposal of Congressman Burleson of Texas, who offered the final resolution declaring the Speakership vacant. The votes:

Overruling the Speaker's decision against the Norris resolution to reform the Rules Committee, 182 to 160.

Ordering previous question to make Norris' substitute reducing Rules Committee membership from fifteen to ten members, 178 to 159.

Adopting Norris' substitute making Rules Committee consist of fifteen members, the Speaker eliminated, 193 to 153.

Refusing to accept Burleson resolution, vacating Speakership, 155 to 191.

Thus the Republican insurgents voted with the Democrats to rebuke the Speaker and shear him of some of his power, but when it was brought home to them that the actual office of Speaker was about to be vacated, they refused to "make a martyr" of him and the session ended, after one of the most memorable contests of the past twenty years, with members singing: "For he's a jolly good fellow."

TO RAISE WRECK OF THE MAINE

House Committee Reports Bill to Spend $500,000.

Washington: The House Committee on Naval Affairs favorably reported the bill appropriating $500,000 for raising the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

Serious Rioting in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio: One man was shot, several others were injured and a considerable property damage was incurred in a riot which broke out here Sunday between several hundred striking garment makers and their sympathizers and a party of strikebreakers. The trouble started in a fist fight between two of the strikers and a couple of the men who have taken their places. In a few moments a mob of more than 500 men had gathered, consisting mainly of the strikers and their friends.

NEWS FROM OVER TEXAS

At an early hour Wednesday morning four brick buildings were destroyed by fire in Grand Saline. The loss is $12,500.

L. B. Roach, one of the leading truck growers and fruit raisers of Titus county, says that he expected to make 1,000 bushels of peaches off five acres of ground this season.

One of the largest transfers of real estate ever recorded in Denton County was filed Wednesday. It recorded the transfer of 3,129 acres of land near Bolivar for a cash consideration of $93,000.

A rest room for the benefit of county patrons of Decatur will be provided at no distant date. The Cemetery Society will equip and use it for the semi-monthly meetings of the members.

Nora Belle Geisch of Victoria, aged 5, died at the Austin Pasteur Institute while undergoing treatment for a skunk bite. Pneumonia and complications caused the child's death.

The Texas State Automobile Association has been granted a charter by the State. The organization will be affiliated with the American Automobile Association. The business of the association will be transacted at Dallas.

The City Board of Commissioners of Waco made an order for paving Austin avenue for ten blocks west, beginning at Eighth street, with vitrified brick, at a total cost of between $60,000 and $70,000.

The case against Frank McCue, three times tried for the murder of Earl Mabrey at Dallas, was dismissed Thursday by Judge Tom Simmons of the Sixty-Seventh District Court, of Fort Worth, on motion of the County Attorneys of Dallas and Tarrant Counties.

The Court of Civil Appeals of the Second Supreme District of Texas handed down an important decision in respect to automobiles, deciding that an automobile is a carriage, and as such is exempt from execution under the law which gives to each head of a family a carriage, etc., which can not be levied on by Sheriffs to satisfy the claims of creditors.

A special train bearing over 100 Shriners and novices arrived in Galveston from Houston Saturday afternoon. The visitors were met at the station by Elmina Temple brass band and escorted through the principal street to the Scottish Rite Cathedral. After the parade a ceremonial session was held, in which fifty novices were made Shriners. The customary banquet at the cathedral followed the initiation.

The Texas Railroad Commission adopted an order directing the Attorney General to institute suit against the Chicago, Rock Island, and Gulf Railway Company for penalties for alleged violations of the commission's thirty-minute rule, which prohibits railroad companies from holding passenger trains more than thirty minutes for connection, and if the same is held longer than that time that the railroad shall run a stub train on the schedule of the regular train or as near thereto as possible.

Frank J. Blocker, of Ft. Worth, the railway mail clerk who suddenly and mysteriously lost his speech and hearing Feb. 1, was equally as much astonished Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock to find that he could both speak and hear. Blocker was struck deaf and dumb while walking along the streets in that city, not knowing that the misfortune had overtaken him until he attempted to speak to a friend he met. The case has puzzled the physicians and he was preparing to go to New York for treatment.

Marcia Caseras, aged 110 years, died in Brownsville after a protracted illness. She was the oldest inhabitant of that section and was a native of Mexico, although she had resided in Brownsville for many years.

Col. C. H. Sharman, chief engineer of the Texas Central, in conferring with the railroad committee of the Abilene 25,000 Club with reference to the extension of that line to this city. In company with a resident engineer and others, Col. Sharman made a trip over the proposed route and seems well pleased with his investigations along that line.

One hundred dollars per head was paid in Ft. Worth, Friday, for a herd of 450 Oklahoma fed beef cattle. This is said to be the highest price for this class of cattle ever paid in the United States.

A pretty good rain fell in Jones County, beginning Thursday morning and continuing throughout the day, a little at a time. This rain was welcomed by the farmers, most of whom are ready to plant crops.

W. J. Hicks, living in Dalton community, near Mt. Pleasant, had quite a peculiar egg experience this week. His wife boiled a large egg, which was supposed to have a double yolk, but when it was broken open it was found to be one egg within another, having two separate shells and two whites and only a yellow in the second shell.

FORTY-SEVEN KILLED FORTY ARE INJURED

ROCK ISLAND TRAIN COACH TELESCOPED AND PASSENGERS CRUSHED.

VICTIMS' BODIES MANGLED

Many Women and Children Among the Dead. Scores Unidentified.

Marshalltown, Iowa, March 22.—Forty-seven persons were killed and forty were injured, many of them fatally, in a wreck four and a half miles north of Green Mountain, Iowa, yesterday, on a Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train.

The train, which was a consolidation of No. 19 from Chicago and No. 21 from St. Louis, bound for Minneapolis, Minn., was being detoured over the tracks of the Chicago Great Western Road. Running at about thirty miles an hour in a cut north of Green Mountain it struck a spread rail, it is believed.

The pilot locomotive jumped the track and with terrific force was buried in an embankment of soft clay. A second locomotive, coupled behind the first, rolled over and the impact of the sudden stop hurled all the rear cars forward.

A coach, a smoker and a Pullman were smashed to splinters, almost all the occupants being killed or injured.

The superstructure of the Pullman was literally shaved off and was jammed like a ramrod through the smoker and day coach.

Many passengers were apparently killed outright. Heads were severed from bodies and arms and legs were cut off. The wreckage was almost crimson with blood, some of the bodies being crushed beyond recognition by the mass of twisted rails and splintered cars. A few of the passengers were found still living with a rod or a splinter impaling them in the wreckage. Decapitated bodies were picked up, and it was almost impossible to correctly assort the dismembered parts.

The wreck occurred at a point difficult to reach with relief. Such bodies as could be secured were stretched out in an adjoining pasture. But first attention was given to the wounded. The cries of these, coming in from beneath the cars and from places where they were walled in, were pitiful. Fortunately the wreckage did not take fire. The rescue party, being forced later on by trains of wrecked nurses and surgeons sent from nearest available points, worked day and night until long after dark.

The injured were taken to a hospital, several of them dying on the way. Two of the bodies were not taken out until last night.

Freight Wreck Caused Detour.

An explanation given by the railroad officials was that the train was being detoured on account of a blockage due to a freight wreck at Shellburg, Iowa. The section from St. Louis, which left St. Louis at 2:15 p. m. Sunday, and the section from Chicago, which left at 4:15 p. m. Sunday, had been consolidated at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Coroner E. W. Jay, himself a surgeon, was hastening in a Red Cross ambulance to the hospital when he was thrown to the pavement as the ambulance rounded a corner and was rendered unconscious. It is believed his back is broken and that he can not live.

OBJECTIONS TO GARNER BILL

Plan to Equalize Officers' Pay Meets Opposition.

Washington: The Garner bill to equalize the salaries of the United States Marshals and District Attorneys in Texas is booked for a hard struggle when it comes before the House on call of the committee. This was shown when the measure was called up for passage on the unanimous consent calendar. Representative Keifer of Ohio, a close friend of United States Marshal Houston of the Eastern District of Texas, whose salary it is proposed to cut $1,000, objected to unanimous consent, and the bill lost its place on the calendar. It is understood that United States District Attorney Ownby, whose salary would also be effected by the bill, was a friend in Representative Tawney who intends to fight the measure when it is called up by the judiciary committee.

Grayson County Remains Dry.

Sherman: Grayson County remains in the dry column by a majority of 473, the total vote being pro. 4,815, anti 4,341. The city of Sherman gave 57 anti majority.

Surveyors Near Hamilton.

Hamilton: The Temple and Northwestern surveying party broke camp Friday and moved to Energy, a half way between Hamilton and Commerce. They ran several lines into town and seemed very much pleased with the preliminary survey between Gatesville and this place. The grading will be comparatively light and they found a stretch of nearly eight miles just before reaching Hamilton which will be without a curve, running through fine farms almost the entire distance.

Grand Spring AND Easter Millinery

We will make a showing that will convince the most skeptical wearers of Millinery that they can secure for themselves patterns, Tailored or Semi-Dress Hats at prices that will please and enable them to BUY TWO FROM US at the price of one elsewhere. Every lady in Mitchell county that wears a hat or has daughters to buy for, or young ladies who make their own purchases from their own earnings, only know what a friend we are to them by a comparison of values. We have a large stock to select from, and retail and wholesale prices.

All that Dame Fashion has Decried is now on Display and Sale

EASTER, being three weeks earlier makes this an early season, and we shall lose no time in introducing all the novelties. The stock is complete in every way and we await your coming with a gathering of unusual splendor. The Hats this season are chic, picturesque and beautiful. Flowers play a conspicuous part in the trimming of every hat; while Leghorns, Hemp and Hair shapes are the ultra fashionable styles for early spring. Our stocks were selected with much care, by our well known experts, and we say without hesitation that every one viewing this display will acknowledge it to be the most pretentious ever seen in this part of the country. Pattern Hats, exclusive models; trimmed Hats from famous makers, and last but not least, our own productions, which will more than favorably compare with the imported Hats, will be strong features of the display. You are expected.

Home Course In Live Stock Farming

V.—Some Common Diseases.

By C. V. GREGORY,

Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture," "Making Money on the Farm," Etc.

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association

ONE of the most common diseases among horses is colic. This may be caused by moldy food, a sudden change of food or anything else that affects the digestive system unfavorably. Refusing to eat, pawing, groaning, looking around at flank, lying down and getting up again are some of the common symptoms of colic. A good remedy to have on hand for colic is turpentine, one ounce; cannabis indica, one-half ounce; alcohol, four ounces; water, one pint. This should be shaken well and given as a drench. In severe cases a veterinarian should be sent for.

Barbed Wire Cuts.

Wherever horses are allowed to run in pastures fenced with barbed wire there will be frequent need of treatment for wire cuts. In case the cut is deep, with considerable bleeding, the first thing to do is to stop the flow of blood. Alcohol, vinegar or alum water is good for this purpose. A solution of chloride of iron is still better. If the bleeding is from a large vessel, compression will have to be applied, toward the heart if an artery is cut or away from it in the case of a vein. Usually, however, barbed wire cuts do not bleed seriously. They should be cleaned thoroughly with warm water to which carbolic acid has been added at the rate of 1 to 100. If the wound "matters" an opening should be made at the lower part to allow the pus to escape freely. The wound should be washed daily with a solution of chloride of zinc, one dram to one pint of water, and a little powdered iodoform sifted on it. This iodoform aids healing, prevents the formation of "proud flesh" and keeps the flies away. A very bad cut should be dressed by a veterinarian, as proper treatment will reduce the size of the resulting scar.

Galls.

When horses are put to work in the spring, galls are very likely to form on their shoulders. This can be prevented by the use of collars and by accustoming the horses to work gradually. The use of pads is seldom advisable, as they become filled with sweat and are hard and irritating. A hard leather collar that fits snugly to the horse's neck is the best thing to use. The harness should fit the collar snugly. Washing the shoulders in warm water every night helps to keep them from galling. Sugar of lead, twenty grains to one ounce of water, or nitrate of silver, ten grains to one ounce of water, is a good remedy. The following salve is one of the best cures for galls after they have once formed. Pulverized alum, four ounces; pulverized bloodroot, four ounces; white lead, four ounces; calomel, two ounces. Mix with glycerin, sweet oil or lard to make an ointment.

Sweeny.

Sweeny, or a wasting away of the muscles of the shoulder, occasionally occurs in farm horses. It is caused by a strain by pulling with only one tug hooked or by pulling heavily on a machine with a great deal of side draft. A sweeny animal should be turned out in the pasture until the shoulder is filled up again. Injecting ten drops of turpentine under the skin at intervals not closer than one inch will greatly hasten the process.

Tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis affects cattle, swine and man. It has been clearly proved that tuberculosis can be transmitted to swine through the milk of affected cows, and it is very probable that it can be transmitted to human beings in the same way.

Tuberculosis can seldom be told by the appearance of the animal. Often the best looking cows in the herd will be the most affected. Tuberculosis is easily transmitted from one cow in a herd to another. The only safe way to do is to get the herd on a healthy basis and keep it there. The tuberculin test applied by a competent man is a sure means of detecting the disease. The diseased animals should be sold to a soapmaker at once. If the disease is present only in certain local parts of the body the rest may be all right for use. After the herd is once cleaned up no animals should be brought on the place that have not been subjected to the test. In this way only can a healthy herd be maintained.

Abortion.

Abortion is of two kinds, accidental and chronic. Accidental abortion may occur in almost any class of animals as a result of moldy feed, strains or injuries of any kind. Contagious abortion is seldom troublesome except in the case of cows. All cases of abortion in cows, unless positively known to be due to some other cause, should be treated as contagious. If once introduced into a herd this disease spreads rapidly, almost destroying the usefulness of the entire herd for breeding purposes.

As soon as a cow has aborted, the calf, if it is dead, should be burned, together with the afterbirth. The stall and the hind quarters of the cow should be disinfected thoroughly. A 2 per cent solution of some coal tar dip or a 1½ per cent solution of carbolic acid is all right for this purpose. The genital organs of the cow should be syringed out with this solution every three or four days as long as there is any discharge. Cows that have aborted should be kept well away from the rest of the herd. They should not be bred for at least ten weeks after aborting or until all discharge has ceased. The reproductive organs of the bull should be disinfected both before and after service. The bull is one of the most treacherous means of transmitting the disease from one cow to another. All litter in the stall where the affected cow is kept should be burned as soon as cleaned out.

For internal use the carbolic acid treatment has given the best results. One of the best ways to give this is in salt at the rate of 2 parts to 100 parts of barrel salt. Pure carbolic acid comes in crystals and will have to be liquefied by placing the bottle in hot water for a few moments. The acid should be poured over the salt and stirred in well. This makes an excellent preventive. It should be placed where the cows can get it at all times, beginning at least five months before calving with cows that have previously aborted and three months with those that have not.

All new cows should be kept separate from the rest of the herd until it is certain that they are free from infection. If there is any unusual discharge they should be returned to the seller or subjected to a strict course of preventive treatment.

Milk Fever.

Heavy milking cows are often affected with milk fever soon after calving. The first symptoms appear from ten to twenty hours after calving. The cow becomes uneasy, ceases to eat or to notice the calf and seems to be in considerable pain. The walk is unsteady, and the animal soon falls and is unable to rise. If not attended to, death is very likely to result.

The cause of milk fever is not definitely known. Since it occurs only in heavy milkers it may be due to part of the milk being reabsorbed again and acting as a poison to the nerves. Light feeding for a week before and after parturition is good preventive treatment. One to two pounds of epsom salt given a few days prior to calving will reduce the liability to the disease. When the udder is greatly enlarged previous to calving it is well to milk it out.

The most effective remedy for milk fever is what is known as the air treatment. This consists in pumping the udder full of air, one quarter at a time, and working it well to get the air into all parts. A common bicycle pump may be used if a regular milk fever outfit is not at hand. Both the udder and the instrument should be disinfected before the treatment is given.

Hog Cholera.

Hog cholera and the closely allied disease, swine plague, are the greatest sources of loss in the swine industry. The first symptom is a refusal to eat. There are red and purple blotches on the skin and a sticky discharge from the eyes. The walk is often unsteady, and there is more or less coughing.

There is no internal treatment that will cure hog cholera. The best means of handling it is by prevention. Dogs, crows and pigeons carry infection from one herd to another and should be kept away with a shotgun if necessary. Running streams also carry infection. When there is cholera in the neighborhood no one but the regular feeder should be allowed in the hog lot. The pens should be disinfected frequently with whitewash or coal tar dip. Having the hogs divided into small lots helps to keep the disease

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAR. 25, 1910

Between the two, Cannon and Champ Clark, devil take the difference.

When brought to the pinch by the Burleson resolution, to declare the office of speaker of the house of representatives vacant, the insurgent republicans weakened and proved their party fealty greater than their patriotism. They only wished to punish Mr. Cannon, not efface him.

The necessity for a railroad from Colorado down the valley to Robert Lee is so great, and the people who are interested in it are so determined on its building that if it were possible for the present promoters to fail, the road would be built by local subscriptions to stock. In the history of the development of West Texas, the building of the Colorado & Concho railroad is a foreordained factor. It must be built.

The New York Sun, which is very sparing of compliments to men in public life and ever ready with its vials of vitriol, says: "We can almost forgive the south Jeff Davis of Arkansas when we think of Jim Gordon, the gentleman from Mississippi."

Simultaneously with the announcement of Mr. Rockefeller's great benefactions, the papers are having much of his daily acts of kindness to a common herd. He recently introduced three strangers to share his $60,000 pew in a New York church.

The trees are beginning to put forth their green leaves, and the strata of oil are being washed out at a hurry.

Tag Day has been held in Dallas, Tex., and the ladies' committee and something of the money of a committee up the tower of the sanitary cot.

President Lead of the are in Ryan tract with Ryan to road, which place the twenty-five is to be the Cannon dis- to the country, b to Champ Clark would ha. swapping the devil for a witch. C. All the four-bushers and grand sta. players, Clark is facile princeps. Reticule is harder to outline than contempt and hatred, and that's what he would likely bring up on the party.

Lorraine could have the county seat moved up here if she wanted it, but we don't need it, and we don't want to hurt our neighbor's feelings, anyhow.—Lorraine News.

We've long known that such an idea was working, but it only remained for some one who owned not a dollar's worth of property or paid one cent of taxes to give it mouth. We'll wait for an expression from the property owners and tax payers. Who is it rushes in where others fear to go?

It looks like the whole North pole discovery will wind up in a mess. It were better that the claims of both Cook and Peary be repudiated than have distrust and discredit attach to the discovery.

Despite the fact that rain is needed to enable the farmers to plant their crops, everything else is flourishing like unto the proverbial green bay tree. Cattlemen say the grass is coming right along.

The little town of Konnhasset has raised a bonus of $40,000 for the Santa Fe to come to that place.

As an evidence of the healthfulness of this country the fact that our local tombstone man has just finished a monument for a person who recently died at the age of 114 years, is to the point.

The gubernatorial race is being livened a bit by the injection of red hot personalities. Judge Poindexter denounces Colquitt as the most dangerous man in state politics and a menace to the state.

Attracted by the greater shipping facilities and growing importance of the town, Mr. S. D. Johnson, the tombstone man has decided to move his business to Sweetwater. This is another argument that Colorado must have another railroad clinched.

Speaker Cannon confesses to slight disfigurement, but wants it known he is still in the fight.

Unless a law is enforced, it not only becomes a dead letter, but a matter of contempt; it also begets a carelessness for other laws. It were better a law be not passed than not enforced. Is the curfew law being enforced, the people are asking. Is it?

If West Texas realizes on the present crop prospects, the influx of people to this section next fall will break all records. Inquiries for lands, both in large bodies and small farms are coming from the east, to all realty agents.

The Record believes the time will come when the great bulk of the farming of the west and south-west will be done under irrigation; when rain will be an interference instead of a promoter of agriculture. The one great element of certainty is supplied by proper irrigation, and the intensive system of farming made possible. Until that time, however, we will continue to be thankful for the refreshing rains, one of which would be doubly acceptable just now.

That favored few of us who can always tell just when it is or isn't going to rain, got together Saturday afternoon and fixed up a program for old Jub. Pluvius. We agreed on the equinox (21st) as the center date from which to vary a few days, before and after. One set the date on the 22nd, and from that date to May 10th prognostications of rain were made with reckless disregard of conditions. March 29th was settled on as a fair average guess, so if any of you have anything out from under shelter you don't want to get wet, better get it in before that day. It might rain.

There are several persons not subscribers to the paper, who come in regularly every week after the paper is printed and inform us: "Say, I want to sorter look at one of your old last week's papers if you've got one you ain't got no use for." Thus they get the paper almost as regularly as a subscriber. Anyone not a subscriber is at all times welcome to a sample copy of the paper, but there are some who are liable to wear their welcome threadbare. Also if at any time a subscriber should fail to get his paper at the postoffice, we will take it as a favor, if you will call at the office and get your copy, or let us know so that we can supply you.

There is wealth within the reach of the poorest mechanic and day-laborer in the country that kings in olden times could not possess, and that is the wealth of a well-read, cultured mind. In the newspaper age, this age of cheap books and periodicals, there is no excuse for ignorance, for a coarse, untrained mind. Today no one is so handicapped, if he have health and the use of his faculties, that he cannot possess himself of wealth that will enrich his whole life, and enable him to converse and mingle with the most cultured people. No one is so poor but that it is possible for him to lay hold of that which will broaden his mind, which will inform and improve him, and lift him out of the brute stage of existence into the godlike realm of knowledge.

Resolutions of Respect.

Colorado, Texas, March 10, 1910. To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brothers of Mitchell Lodge, No. 563, A. F. and A. M.

Whereas, In the dispensation of His providence, it has pleased our Supreme Grand Master, to call from earthly labor to eternal refreshment in the Supreme Celestial Lodge, our beloved friend and brother, H. B. Smoot, and

Whereas, We bow in humble submission to His will, knowing that in His comprehensive plan, all is done for our good, we deem this expression of the sense of our loss in the death of Brother Smoot, to be due to his memory. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of our Brother, Mitchell Lodge has lost a faithful and exemplary member and a "mighty cedar has fallen in our Masonic Lebanon," and be it

Resolved, That the Lodge, in token of its loss and respect, wear the usual badge of mourning; that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this lodge and a copy be presented to the family and to the Colorado Record for publication.

Methodist Church.

The usual services will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday.

Preaching at 11 a. m. by Dr. Jerome Duncan. Dr. Duncan is one of the strong and forceful preachers of the North West Texas Conference.

Let all the church make a special effort to hear him.

At 8 p. m. the pastor will preach the third of a series of sermons to young people. We are anxious that the young people hear us through this series of sermons, and the older people as well.

The church will be decorated suitably for the day, and special music at the morning and evening services.

Sunday at Fairview.

It is generally known that whatever the people out at Fairview attempt, they do well. So, when it became known that an all day singing and eating on the ground was to be held there last Sunday, no other invitation was needed to assure a goodly crowd. In various singing contests in the county singing conventions, the Fairview class has for the past few years, borne off the banner oftener than any other; victory as a rule purchases on its standard.

By 10 o'clock there was a house full of people, when the exercises began. Mr. George Goodwin was, of course, the dominating spirit of the occasion, and saw that every one had a good time and plenty to eat. Nor was the candidate lacking. His expansive smile, cordial handshake and anxious concern for the health of the horny handed farmer and his most interesting family, was in evidence at every turn. They made the figurative hay while the metaphoric sun shone.

Fairview is one of the most prosperous communities in the county, possessing all the facilities of church and school advantages, while its citizenship is of the highest order.

Among the Colorado people who enjoyed the day were: H. F. Newman, Mrs. Webster, Obie Avery and wife, Miss Jessie Smith, Roxie Coughran, Maud Simpson, Knott and Zilpha Fox, Judge Coe, Buell Bradford, Jesse Bullock, Chester Thomas, J. B. Blandford, John Witten and The Record, which is the County's Prophet.

Mr. Zorn Withdraws.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. T. H. Zorn who announced last week for Tax Assessor, that it will be impossible for him to make the race, and therefore withdraws. He thanks his friends for their promises of support and encouragement.

LORRAINE LETTER

Don't forget the educational rally at the Methodist church Sunday night the 27th. Jerome Duncan, President of Stamford College and Presiding Elder Shaw will be present.

J. D. Norman made a business trip to Weatherford this week.

Samp Wallis of Big Springs and Jim Bird of Sweetwater were in Loraine Sunday on business.

Jesse White is assisting in the First State Bank.

Mr. Olinger and family are now occupying the residence lately vacated by Dr. Copeland.

J. A. Summers has returned from Houston and reports that section very dry and backward, good rains had fallen about Itasca and beyond Waco a short distance. Mr. Summers thinks we have as good or better country than he saw anywhere on his trip.

Mrs. Summers whose health has not been good for some time remained in Ft. Worth for treatment.

M. C. Adams of Spur City is visiting his step-father W. W. Coker this week.

Mr. Lehman Brown, County clerk of Coleman and wife are visiting their brothers, S. E. Willis and Eugene Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Blakeley have moved into the T. M. White residence on the Heights.

Dr. B. F. Chambers of Tyler is moving to our little city this week. He will be associated with Dr. Shook in the practice of medicine, he comes highly recommended as being a most excellent physician. He will occupy the neat little cottage just vacated by Malcom Blakeley. The Dr. has purchased lots and will build in the near future. We are pleased to have this family locate in our midst.

Mr. W. A. Adams is expecting Mrs. Adams and the little boys home Friday. Mrs. Adams has been spending some time with her mother in Fort Worth.

Considerable work is being done on our streets, which not only adds greatly to the comfort, but to the looks of the town. Let the good work go on.

Mrs. J. G. Holmes returned Sunday morning from Whitesboro where she was summoned several weeks ago to attend the bedside of her father who was very low. She reports his condition much improved and has hopes of his final recovery.

J. S. McCulloch of Snyder is here arranging for the organization of a masonic lodge at this place.

The health of our surrounding country is very much improved. Quite a number of families in the vicinity of Loraine have suffered severely this winter, many having died of pneumonia.

Mrs. Ben Hart, north of town who has been so seriously ill for the past week is reported much better. The little babe of Mr. Sid Hart, who has been very sick is also better.

Misses Beulah Padgett and Bessie Falkerson of Colorado came over Sunday evening to visit Mrs. I. W. Baker.

Mesdames Pridden and Dunnahoo drove to Colorado Saturday evening.

On Friday night a jolly crowd of young people took advantage of the lovely moonlight and enjoyed a hay-ride out to the residence of Mr. J. R. Porter where they were most pleasantly entertained by Miss Pearl, after enjoying themselves for some time the gay crowd wended their way homeward in the "moonlight".

On Saturday night Mrs. Frank Johnson entertained the "younger set." Mr. Joe Jackson, guest of honor. Mrs. Johnson is an excellent hostess and the young people enjoyed themselves as only this set can.

J. S. Fine of Loraine has the boss onion patch of the country they are the white pearl variety and were planted last fall, averaging now about ten or twelve inches high.

Mrs. Dell King visited Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Easterling at Big Springs Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Yates and daughter Mrs. Stewart are visiting Mrs. Dees and daughters.

C. M. Thompson, Willis Brown and Fletcher Porter attended the cattlemen's convention at Ft. Worth.

On Sunday morning immediately after the clos. of Sunday School at the Methodist Church the following Easter program will be rendered:

 Song—Mr. Edmondson's class.
 He is Risen—Nine Boys.
 Quartette—Mrs. McRae's class.
 Recitation—Myrtle Norman.
 Song—Mrs. King's class.
 Motion Song—Eight Girls.
 Quartette—Mrs. Blume's class.
 Solo—J. E. Stowe.

The ladies will hold their regular weekly prayer meeting with Mrs. H. R. Looby Thursday evening.

Rev. Bomer of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will preach at the Methodist church Monday night the 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Jackson and little daughter, Mary and Miss Virginia Craig were in Loraine Tuesday shopping.

Mr. Ike Emory of Lewisville, Denton county and his sister from Sweetwater are the guests of J. M. Baker this week. Mr. Emory is on a prospecting tour.

Mrs. George Christian of Colorado visited the family of Rev. Lawrence Sunday.

The poultry products shipped from Loraine last week amounted to about six hundred dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Baker, Mr. Stephens and family drove out to Lone Wolf mountain Sunday evening and enjoyed the picturesque beauty of this old land mark.

How a visit to this old mountain fires our imagination and sets our minds to wondering how came this great upheaval of conglomerated rocks which have lain here for ages, what vast treasurers may be hidden far beneath them will they ever be revealed? Then our thoughts revert to the time when this mountain was the abode of the redman, the scene of blood shed and the war whoop resounds far and wide. It is claimed that the remains of the old Indian Chief Lone Wolf, for whom the mountain is named reposes on its summit, from which then could be seen the buffalo in countless numbers grazing in the valleys below. But the scene is changed—civilization has come. The white man has turned the stubborn glee and her valleys yield a bountiful yield. How marvelous are the works of God and nature.

In every town or community are knackers or people who are indifferent to every enterprise for the upbuilding of town or country. They have no faith in any project that may be launched. They do not give their support in either word or money to any enterprise though it may benefit them as much as anyone. Whether this apparent apathy is due to a lack of enlightenment or a desire to reap the benefits without any cost to themselves, we cannot say.

Loraine is no exception to this rule, though she has a faithful few who have worked for her betterment without the aid of the pessimist.

It will require united effort to bring about results.

If we wish to develop this country, we must get people interested. Capital must be induced to come and take a part. How can we bring about these results? First, we must enlist every man and woman in this town, and organize a paying and working club. We must have means or the hands of the club are tied.

There is a great deal to be done. Printer's-ink must be used. The advantages of this favored land must be portrayed to the outside world.

Many of our lands can be made to pay a dividend of one hundred per cent., counting them at one hundred dollars per acre. These lands were once thought to be an irredeemable waste by no less personage than Daniel Webster.

If there is one thing more than another that sounds out of place in a pulpit, it is the continual recitation of how degraded and dissipated the revivalist once was. It ought to be a source of shame and mortification rather than a boast and making it part of his stock-in-trade. If God, in His infinite mercy and love is willing to forgive and forget the past, why, in the name of righteous decency not put it forever behind? Furthermore, it does a serious harm, in affording an excuse for the very people the revivalist is trying to reach, to say: "Why look at Reverend Smith; for thirty years he was a rouser, boozier and all around tough. But he's all right today. Why can't I do the same way? They do not know however, that the vessel which once contained a poison, can never be so thoroughly cleansed that it will not retain a tang of its former contents. They cannot see the scars upon the souls and dwarfing of the statue in those who have reformed after years of sinful indulgence. Spend the time in telling what God has done for you instead of how you insulted Him by giving to Him only the dregs of the days of your life.

Last Friday about noon a four-horse team was seen crawling its way into town from the west and as it came to a dead stop at Lasky's corner, the smilingly-familiar countenance of our eastwhile fellowcitizen, Henry C. King was recognized as overtopping the whole. It was truly, Henry himself in the flesh; him whom we had mourned as gone forever: After saluting him according to apostolic direction, we asked how he had managed to get along in his new home, and how was his crop. He thereupon launched into a panegyric of that country which threatened to consume the balance of the afternoon, and we went to dinner, promising to hear him of this matter another time.

"Way Down South in the Land of Cotton"

If you could see cotton growing in the field in all its purity—could see the processes by which the cotton seed oil is extracted and refined—could know the ingenuity involved in rendering the oil odorless and neutral in taste—could be made to realize that from Cottonfield to Kitchen human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made—you would appreciate why Cottolene is so much purer and more healthful than lard ever could be.

Cottolene is a cleanly, wholesome product—just as pure as olive oil—and makes food palatable, digestible and healthful. Lard-cooked food is bound to cause indigestion sooner or later, unless you have the stomach of an ostrich. For all shortening and frying purposes, Cottolene is without an equal.

Mr. Rockefeller's contemplated benefactions are so great and comprehensive that he asks congress to devise some equitable basis on which he can give away his wealth. Thus do such men seek by the very money they have wrung from the people, to buy respect and grateful remembrance. But he will find that all his wealth cannot buy such a place in the hearts and recollections of America. Men like Washington, Lincoln, Grant and Lee need no costly monument or red-letter page in history to keep green their names and achievements in the hearts of the people they so unselfishly served. And just there lies the difference—in service. They served their day and generation, while such men as Rockefeller, Carnegie, et al., first bleed the people and then seek to buy respect and memory with their unfairly gotten gains.

Norman E. Mack, chairman of the J. Democratic executive committee, says again, "Bryan will never be the president again. It is possible that he may seek the nomination, but I feel sure, if he does, the party will not give it to him." It is to be hoped Mr. Mack is correct. The issue of Mr. Mack is Bryan, is not his magnetism and brilliant leadership, but his personal not be democratic party should lead by the whims of Mr. Bryan or any other man.

At Isaac Walton's Feet.

Feeling that the sign was about right, and having our opinion corroborated by the almanac, we approached the grand cyclops of fisherdom, China Johnson, Saturday and asked his judgment about the opportunity of trying the finny tribe with a worm and chew of assafoetida. But he laughed our puny effort to look into the deep things of nature to scorn. Aiming at a fly on the adjacent wall from a crevice between his upper teeth, shot it dead with a squirt of tobacco juice, and with the oracular tone and look of the Delphi, handed us this bit of Isaac Walton philosophy: "No sir-ree; you wouldn't get 'er bite. First place, the moon ain't right, and again the sign is in the knee and goin' down. If you want to ketch fish, you must wait till the moon is on the increase and the sign is in the belly. Yes, sir, I remember once I went fishin' where the fish was so thick they couldn't swim without buttin' into oneanother, and you could'er stirred 'em with a stick, but I fished all day and didn't git a nibble sir, not 'er nibble. When I got home I looked in the almanac and the sign was in the neck. Just where I got it." "If they were so thick, why didn't you catch them with your hands?" we made bold to ask.

"There it is again. Any man who don't know no more about the sport of fishing than that, ain't fitten to go fishin'."

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Colorado Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Colorado readers.
W. E. Oglesby, contractor, Abilene, Texas, says: "About two years ago, while living in Fort Worth, I had a severe attack of kidney trouble. I could not lift or exert myself in any manner without my back feeling as if it would break. There was also considerable annoyance from the kidney secretions, the passages being irregular. I at length heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. The results of their use was better than I expected, for the contents of two boxes completely cured me. I advise anyone suffering from kidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Colorado has never appreciated its own resources. While other towns in West Texas are complaining of a scarcity of good water in abundance, Colorado has at its very door, practically, a supply not surpassed by any locality. Out at Seven Wells there runs to waste every day in the year and has so run for untold centuries, a supply and quality of water that would of itself build a city in a desert. It is no more difficult engineering scheme to convey water 100 miles than 1 mile; the difference being only one of cost of pipe. The Record believes that if the quantity of water at Seven Wells was proven, and its value brought to the attention of railroad and manufacturing companies, it would attract both to Colorado. The supply out at the Wells is mechanically just as if it were within the limits of the town. Some day the value of these wells will be recognized and put to both use and pleasure. The Texas & Pacific Railway would be more than glad to have such a source of supply near its line.

Saturday was Mr. Dick Carter's birthday and eight little boys were invited to play with him; and to make things more lively Jack had his base ball nine come over and a very fine game of ball was played, with the new bats, mits and balls. When all were tired they were invited in and delicious punch and cake served. All the guests enjoyed the party and the young hosts say it was the best ever.

A HEATHEN.

Blest in basket and in store,
In going out and coming in;
The more he got he gave the more—
He felt that all the world was kin.

He had more faith in loaves of bread
In answer to the human wall,
Than all the faithless, windy prayers
We daily wast to no avail.

He left a load of coal or wood
Beside some needy widow's door;
He felt the pinch of winter's chill
For all God's creatures here below.

He'd often stop a dirty child
To soothe its little broken heart,
O'er some misfortune to a toy—
He always took the weaker's part.

Religion—he did not profess;
He had no discipline or creed;
He did his alms through sympathy
For all his kind who were in need.

His idea of success in life
Was not of wealth, of place, or fame;
But that a man could fail and yet—
Keep sweet his spirit just the same.

—A. H. Weston.

CONSTIPATION.

Its Cause and How to Cure it.

Eat too much,
Stomach feels bloated,
All out of sorts,
Don't feel like work to-day. Guess I've another case of biliousness.

"Take anything?"
"Yes; some pills, but no results; suppose I'm getting ironclad. Sometimes I double the dose, then they physic me so hard I'm too weak to work. Think I'll have to try something new."
"Ever try Prickly Ash Bitters?"
"No; I've heard a good deal about it, but never tried it."
"Well, you'll be pleased with the results."

The purgative action of Prickly Ash Bitters not only removes hard impactions, gas and impurities, but it strengthens the muscular action of the bowels which causes them to move regularly.

Prickly Ash Bitters is a bowel tonic and regulator in the truest sense. It promotes daily evacuations, establishes healthy movements and is the best known remedy for disordered digestion, flatulence and a constipated habit.

D. M. Blackwelder, of Litchfield, Ill., says in the Litchfield News: "I am perfectly willing, in fact glad to testify to the value of Prickly Ash Bitters as a medicine for the kidneys, stomach and bowels. I have used it whenever I needed anything of the kind for the last fifteen years and it has always given satisfaction."

DON'T BE BALD.

Almost Any One May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment, if it is thinning, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the ends. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and examine the root. If the bulb is plump and rosy it is all right; if it is white and shrunken your hair is diseased and needs nourishment.

We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads if the scalp is not glazed and shiny. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test. We are so sure that Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic will completely eradicate dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair, and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic in every instance where it does not do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user. Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is perfumed with a pleasant odor, and does not grease or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00.

We urge you to try Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic on our recommendation and with our guarantee back of it. You certainly take no risk. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Colorado only at our store.—The Rexall Store. The Colorado Drug Co.

Under the direction of Mr. Harby, who was recently appointed by the council to look after the streets and alleys, the town has as neat and clean appearance as any one could wish to see. Had you noticed the improvement?

Catarrh of Stomach.

REV. J. T. PEELER, Hendersonville, N. C., writes:
"I desire to make known for the benefit of suffering humanity my experience with Peruna."
"I was afflicted with catarrh of the stomach, and though I tried many remedies and applied to several doctors, it was all in vain."
"Had it not been for Peruna I believe I would have been in my grave to-day."
"I have every reason to believe that Peruna is the greatest remedy for catarrh known to the world. Therefore I have been, and shall continue to recommend it to those who are unwell."

RURAL TELEPHONE IDEA GROWING IN THE SOUTH.

A remarkable feature of the development of the South in the past few years has been the growth of the rural telephone idea. Extensive systems of farm telephones are to be found today in all of the southern states, where but a comparatively short time ago telephone service was unknown.

On this subject the Georgia and Alabama Industrial Index recently had the following to say:

"The two states of Georgia and Alabama are being rapidly covered with a great network of wires, and before long the farmer's home that is not a hullo-house will be the exception to the rule. The rural telephone idea gained in popularity amazingly during the past year, and indications are that the construction record of 1910 will be even more gratifying."

"In almost every section of the two states the building of telephone wires out into the heart of the rural districts, right to the home of the farmer is proceeding steadily."

This is of course true not only of Alabama and Georgia, but of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and Virginia as well. Everywhere throughout the south the development of the telephone has been rapid. During 1909, according to the statement of the Western Electric Co., the largest telephone manufacturer in the world, over 30,000 of its rural telephones were sold in the south.

The part which the farmers themselves have taken in the telephone movement makes it one of considerable importance. It is a fact that for very small trouble and expense a group of neighboring farmers can buy, build and maintain a serviceable telephone system. The work of installation is not so very different from ordinary fence building operations about the farm. Equipment conforming with the best recognized standards is at the disposal of progressive rural citizens for their telephone building.

It is not an unusual sight to witness gangs of farmers at work on the roads of the south, erecting poles, stringing wires and installing the instruments in the farmhouses along the countryside. This work is usually done on a co-operative basis, and is of course of great benefit to any community.

Often some sort of an organization is formed. Sometimes six or eight neighboring farmers start the movement. In case there are as few as this, no switchboard is necessary.

REV. J. G. DUKES, Pastor of the Unitarian Church at Pinetown, N. C., writes:

"My wife has been in a very bad state of health for several years, and nothing seemed to do her any good until she began to use Peruna one month ago. Since then the color has returned to her face, and she is gaining in flesh every day, and I believe she is a well woman today."

"My little boy, ten years old, was pale and had but little life. He began to use Peruna the day his mother began. Today his face is rosy, and he is out in the yard running and jumping with the rest of the children."

Throat Trouble.

Rev. H. W. Tate, 929 Lincoln Ave., Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes that for several years he has been troubled with a peculiar spasmodic affection of the throat, which interfered with his vocation as a preacher. He took Peruna and his trouble disappeared.

Construction and maintenance are of the simplest nature. A single pair of wires will suffice, and the "party-line" system is found the most convenient and useful. As demands grow and the little rural companies branch out extensions are made, and lines with the rest of the world.

It is interesting to note that the adoption and development of the telephone in a rural locality is attended by a minimum of expense. Of all the agencies that help bring greater opportunities to the farms—the good roads movement, railroad extensions, the rural mail delivery and the farm telephone—the least costly, and because it reaches the largest number, the most important is the telephone. Its spread throughout the south is an outcome of the educating of farmers to its superior qualities.

A Great Secret.

There is in the heart of every man an earnest desire to know how he may be victorious in the time of temptation. Temptation is not sin, though yielding is sin, but there is one sure way of escaping from the overmastering power of the tempter and that is to keep busy. When David was idle he sinned, when Peter was not toiling he failed, and it was when you were drifting idly along in Christian experiences that you denied your Master. The secret of a victorious life is to keep busy. The old saying is quite true, "The idle brain is the devil's workshop."—Ex.

Readers of the Home Journal

To the Ladies of Colorado:—I have just made a contract with the Curtis Publishing Company for the exclusive wholesale selling agency of the Ladies Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. I will deliver either or both of these magazines to you at your residence or place of business. Promptly on day of issue. The Journal is a monthly magazine (the best and largest in the world), price 15c. The Post is a weekly publication with over a million and a quarter circulation and sells for 5 cents. Let me have your order for one or both these splendid publications, and I will guarantee that you will not miss a copy. I have gone into this as a business as I am under bond, and a contract for a year. I ask that everybody in Colorado who buy either of these magazines, to give a boy who means business, a chance.

Crowns of Gold

In rose and blue and violet,
Through stained windows tall,
Upon the crimson altar-steps
The Easter sunbeams fall.
A row of forms is kneeling there,
Sweet brows of angel mold,
White hands upraised in silent prayer,
Soft wings, and crowns of gold.

But lo! upon a nearer view,
Within the altar rail
The Easter lilies all alone
Are bending pure and pale.
Like slender waxen finger-tips
The creamy buds unfold,
And every fragrant blossom wears
A crown of virgin gold.

Easter Customs Long Celebrated In Many Lands

SHOULD your sweetheart seem to fix her mind rather upon her Easter hat than upon the Easter sermon, please do not show your ignorance by accusing her of vanity. She, no doubt, has delved deep in old-time lore and puts full faith in the ancient belief that one must wear some article of dress for the first time on Easter Sunday to insure good fortune in love affairs through the year. Also, young women with Easter hats have been known to weep because of rain on Easter Sunday. However, the cause of this phenomenon has absolutely nothing to do with the effect of rain upon ribbons and feathers. These maidens believe, no doubt, with the good folk of Sussex that the crops are sure to fail if it rains on Easter Sunday, for rain on that day portends rain for every day in the following year.

So you see there are good and sufficient reasons for the annual fuss and trouble over the Easter hat. As an outward and visible symbol of the inner joyousness it is almost as Christianity. Of course the connection between inner joyousness and a monstrosity that looks like an old wooden chopping bowl sprouting forth a small truck garden may not be apparent to all. We must leave that point to the owners of the hats who, Prof. Munsterberg tells us, are not so intellectual as men but are more subtle in reasoning powers. It is to be hoped that the professor knows what this means.

After the Easter bonnet, the most widely known Easter symbol is the colored egg. The presence of the egg in our Easter celebration has been accounted for in a variety of ways. With its wonderful dormant germ of life it is a truly marvelous thing. It is found in every oriental cosmogony and it is not at all surprising that the early Christians adopted it as a sacred symbol, for it is a perfect and apt emblem of the resurrection. At first the eggs were colored only red in allusion to the blood of the redemption.

This custom of coloring eggs is older than Christianity, for it is known to have been common among all ancient people. The Parsees distributed red eggs at their spring festival, and among the Egyptians, Persians and Gauls the egg was the emblem of universal life. We find an Aryan myth which typifies the spring season by an egg painted red or gold.

Jupiter and Leda, who came forth from an egg deposited by Leda while in the guise of a snow-white swan. Castor and Pollux had so distinguished themselves with Jason in search of the golden fleece and in the Calydonian hunt that they were made the deities of boxing, wrestling and all equestrian sports. One of these twins, Castor, was a mortal and was killed in combat with the sons of Asphareus. Pollux, who was immortal, implored Jupiter to allow him to die also that he might not be parted from his brother. Instead, Jupiter permitted Castor to return to earth on condition that Pollux would spend half his life in hades. When Jupiter saw that the affection of Pollux for his brother did not hesitate at this condition he translated them both to the skies where they form a bright constellation. The position of this constellation, which is known as the Gemini, determined the date of the Roman egg festival.

While some think that we may have derived our Easter egg custom from either Persia or Rome, others incline to the belief that it comes to us from the Jews, who in turn derived it from the Egyptians. Eggs were held by the ancient Egyptians as an emblem of the renovation of the world after the deluge. The Jews adopted this emblem to their own use as a type of their deliverance from the bondage in Egypt. It was because of this that we find an egg among the articles prescribed by law to be placed upon the table at the Pasch.

In some parts of Russia it was the custom for every person in the parish to give a colored egg to the pastor of the church on Easter morning. Some of the Russians wear a gold egg as an ornament during the entire Easter season, while the custom of making presents of eggs is common in all parts of the country. In Russia these eggs are given directly, while in Germany it is essential that they be not given from hand to hand; they must be hidden and found, else no good luck will follow.

Another very common egg game is that of rolling hard-boiled and colored eggs on the ground. This game is played with few variations in nearly all parts of Europe. In the United States the egg rolling on the White House lawn on Easter Monday is an annual festival to which hundreds of children look forward.

Another familiar Easter symbol is the rabbit or hare. The presence of the hare may be quite likely accounted for by the fact that the hare has long been the symbol of the moon, and, as every one knows, Easter derives its date from the moon, the Council of Nice having decreed in 325 that Easter should be celebrated upon the first Sunday following the full moon which comes next after the 21st of March. It is more than likely that it is from this fact of Easter following the moon that we find the hare mixed up with our Easter celebration.

The Cross In History, Art And Legend

AT THIS season when all the world over people of many races and tongues are meditating on the Cross of Christ; when long services are being held in memory of the greatest tragedy on Golgotha, and processions are solemnly marching to the stations of the Cross, bearing banners and crucifixes, and bowing reverently before altars and pictures commemorating the sorrowful walk to Calvary; when in the Holy Land thousands of pilgrims from every nation are treading the very "Via Dolorosa" on which he trod as he left the Holy City forever, carrying his cross to the "Accursed Hill" outside the walls; it may be of interest to consider the history and traditions of this wonderful symbol under which we live and in the name of which so much has been wrought of world-wide good to humanity, and, alas! of great harm through Christian fanaticism.

Perhaps there is no other object on earth about which there has been more controversy, more dissensions and more superstitions than about this one great object for reverence on the one side, and for derision on the other. Ever since the crucifixion it has left a strong impress on the history of the nations and has been revered in the religion of all the sects bearing the name of Christ. It has been surrounded by traditions and mysticism and endowed with supernatural and miraculous attributes. It has been taken as the emblem of a faith under the banner of which great deeds of heroism have been done, as in olden days when pioneer messengers of the Story of the Cross filled with religious zeal entered bravely into uncivilized and barbarian lands, fearlessly ignoring great dangers.

Heralded by Christian banners the procession of civilization has spread to all parts of the world. Romans carried it to the Britons and Saxons. The worship of the sun as observed by the Incas was brought to an end through the ascendancy of Spanish bearers of the cross.

In more recent times Spanish monks, with peace in their hearts, amid many hardships, wrested from the aborigines the western coast of our own country, where they erected many missions to spread the teachings of Christianity. The influence of the cross so entirely filled the minds of its followers that it became the center subject of the paintings of the old masters and in time permeated not only the spirit of this art, but also that of architecture, for we find throughout the great Christian architecture of the Middle Ages and in all forms of mediaeval decoration this sign of the cross standing out conspicuously. The very foundations of the edifices which were erected in commemoration of faith in this symbol followed the lines of a cross, so that the very walls from their foundations upward might carry with them as they rose the image of the sacred sign, to receive its crowning figure displayed in the ridge line of its roof. Crosses, in an endless variety of forms, still surmount the loftiest and finest parts of the architecture of the cathedrals and churches of Europe. Above the tombs of the departed or even in the pavements of the church above the monumental vaults in these cathedrals this same sign proclaims the faith of those who rest beneath.

Being the keynote and the "glory" of the Christian religion this emblem soon became prized in other directions besides those ecclesiastic. With the triumph of Christianity the cross at once was recognized as a universal symbol of highest nobility and honor. It was now considered to add dignity to the crowns and scepters of emperors and princes. It became the proudest ensign of knightly rank. The greatest warriors were proud to see the cross on the hilts of their swords as well as on the banners under which they fought. It also became a sign of merit for valor and bravery—a reward for deeds of honor, as the Iron Cross of Prussia established by William III. for patriotic bravery in war.

It was worn also as a protection in times of trouble. To denote the consecration of those devoted to the aid of the suffering and needy; the Red Cross was the confederation of societies in different countries for the betterment of conditions of the wounded soldiers in campaigns on land and sea. In Crusader days, beginning with Peter the Hermit, in 1094, starting out to deliver the Holy Land from the dominion of the infidel, the brave warriors were thus named because of the red cross they wore as badges on their right shoulders.

The archbishop's crozier—the ensign of his office—is the staff with a cross head, distinguishing it from the "pastoral" staff of bishops and abbots, which have a shepherd's crook.

There is hardly a handicraftsman also but uses the figure of it among the implements of his industry. It forms a part of man himself. Man has been created in this form as has been beautifully illustrated by Emily Collier in the painting depicting the Holy Child's expression of his love—"So wide is my love."

In the middle ages and in Crusader days the cross was the distinctive symbol of the Christian in contradistinction to the Crescent of the Mohammedan.

Easter Morning

"He is risen, is the Sun Floods the world with living light; Christ the victory hath won, He hath conquered in the fight!"

Many Ways In Which The World Observes Easter

WHETHER the sun shines forth in splendor or the skies be leaden, the spiritual and material seem to combine on Easter day, the festival of spring. The church has other sacred days, there are other whispings of renewed nature, but Easter Sunday stands forth unique from all other religious feasts.

Many and strange are the observances of Easter Sunday, whose very name has come down to us from the Goddess of the east, who in Saxon mythology was Ostara, or Easter. In the never-changing east and the mutable west there are strange customs connected with this day, and no matter how indifferent the Christian he cannot ignore it. Though it was not until the year 325, at the Council of Nice, that arrangements were inaugurated to determine what day in every year Easter should fall on, and it was decided that Easter day should be the first Sunday after the fourteenth day of the calendar moon, which happens on or after March 21, this did not alter the inner meaning of the day. As far back as the time of Pharaoh, when those Egyptians were saved who had shed the blood of the first paschal lamb, Easter Sunday was born, and it has lived through strife and church dissensions with all its purity and suggestion of new birth unimpaired.

In the same way its customs have lingered until even their origin has been lost in obscurity. For instance, many unique explanations have been made regarding Easter eggs, some authorities claiming that eggs were used long before the existence of Easter. Among Egyptians, Greeks and Romans, the egg was the sign of the universe, and for centuries the church itself has considered eggs the symbol of the resurrection, and at first they were dyed red as symbolical of the blood of Christ. Just why this is so, no one can tell authoritatively, though many contend that all spiritual significance was lost in the thought that after 40 days of fasting the early Christians were allowed to eat eggs, and hence valued them as Easter remembrances. But these are not the only countries where eggs have figured in a spring festival. The people of Peru believe that three eggs fell from heaven, thus bringing priest, king and common people on earth. The Japanese and Orientals look upon them as a type of the whole human soul, and Teutonic children are told the story of the turning of Ostara into a hare, who appeared as a messenger of spring and left eggs. Italy's children think that if they find an egg laid by a white hen in a new nest, good luck will attend them.

In one place in our country Easter is observed with peculiar ceremonies. This is in the quaint Moravian village of Bethlehem, which was founded in 1740. Here a Passion week anniversary is held that is unequalled for solemnity. Pilgrims flock to this little town, for from the eve of Palm Sunday through Easter there are many services each coincident with the life of Christ. Thus, Palm Sunday commemorates the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem; Monday tells of the healing in the temple; Tuesday suggests the giving of the parables, and Thursday brings its sad associations of the Lord's supper. When the sayings of Christ upon the cross are read and the bells toll on Good Friday the whole passion and death seem very real. It is a relief when Easter morning comes and the tuneful trombone choir awakens the people that they may arise and hasten to the little church, and from that to the cemetery nearby. Here the people stand in a hollow square, and as the dawn slowly reddens the sky, and the rising sun touches the tree tops, the birds begin their morning anthems and seem to join in the chants of praise which go up from the devout congregation.

There have been few such spectacles since the pope gave up blessing the world on Easter morn from the loggia of St. Peter's. To-day Rome lacks this ceremony, but the devout can go to the Church of the Passionates, where are the holy staircase and chapel of the Virgin of the Passion, among them the tit fixation, which no one allowed to see. In 1 bishop has for years diction on Easter in martire, and in London parishes where their of perfunctory aims people, relics of a th chial feast was celee grace and charity.

The American Ind to any observance v pression in forms an for this reason Eas week appeal forth have embraced Chr markable Passion p acted for years at Mexico City, which immergued in the ne after the Conquest sent 12 missionaries Aztecs. One of them, Fra Martin, was a kind man, who lived in a cave on a mountain near Tenochtitlan, or Mexico City. After his death his body was placed in a chapel built over the cave, and the mountain became a sacred spot. Thousands of pilgrims come here in Lent and on Ash Wednesday the body of the priest is placed in the village church. For 300 years this ceremony has been enacted, and has been followed by a Passion play on Good Friday, which is witnessed by people from all over the country. The performance, which is under the auspices of the priest, begins early in the morning and ends at midnight when the peasant who is selected to impersonate Jesus is taken from the cross and the peones who have been in attendance escort the body of Fra Martin back to the chapel over the grave. Thousands of Mexican peones attend these ceremonies, and it is this class of people who take the various parts.

These Passion play celebrations can, of course, be traced to the influence of Christianity, but it is a singular fact that just as the cross was found in Mexico, long before the advent of Cortez, when the country possessed the cultivation of ancient Thebes and Egypt, so the Indians in North America have always held dances and religious rites to commemorate the coming of spring. No one knows whether this was natural instinct that led them to rejoice over the awakening of earth or the survival of some religion that prevailed among them before the coming of Christianity. We can only guess at the past of our North American Indians and deduct conclusions from their ceremonies and occasional folklore. The fact remains that heathendom as well as Christianity rejoices when Easter comes, and all nature lifts up its voice at the glad acclaim that spring is here, bringing with it promises of eternal life.

We are in receipt of the Texas Almanac for the current year. Although it is almost worth its weight in gold to the man who wants information about Texas, yet, if possible, the present edition eclipses all previous ones. In addition to being a complete index to the resources and progress of the state and a reliable reference work as to the activities and achievements of its people, it is a complete political vade mecum, and will prove invaluable to the student of recent politics and the campaigner for office—in keeping the record straight. The Dallas News is to be congratulated in its successful efforts in furnishing an absolutely reliable reference book on the thousand and one facts about Texas and its history, concerning which discussions daily arise. Every man in Texas ought to have a Texas Almanac and refer to it constantly.

H. C. Langford has secured the job of carrying the mail on the star route from Colorado to Durham, the distance of forty nine miles. He intends to move to Colorado in June, and prepare to take charge of the route July 1st. We regret to lose Mr. Langford and family from our community, but will say that our loss is Uncle Sam's gain.

Mr. Joe Gill went to Taylor county first of this week to attend to some business. He returned home Friday.

The farmers continue to break sod. Some are preparing their land for planting—harrowing the land and laying off rows.

Mrs. Emma Powell spent Tuesday with Mrs. Eva Powell.

Mrs. Langford and children visited at W. R. Powell's Friday.

J. L. Masters and family spent Sabbath with H. C. Langford and family.

The Baptists had preaching at the school house Sunday and there was a large crowd present.

G. M. Mauldin residing at Malone, Texas, in Hill county, is prospecting in this part of the west at this writing. He is a brother-in-law of Mr. H. C. Langford of our community.

George Goodwin and wife are visiting relatives at Ft. Shadburn. They intend to spend several days there.

Bennie Edwards is suffering very much with paralysis; he has been ill for some time.

UNCLE ANDREW.

UNION UNITS.

Since nothing bobbed up from this section last week, I thought it would not be out of place for me to send in some dottings for this week's issue.

I hear occasionally, the road bond issue bell ringing again, of which I am sorry, for I believe the defeat will double what it was before, as the mass of the country people don't seem to be ready for such a dose.

Now I want to say that I claim to be no kicker, no knocker, nor no butter, but a promoter of any thing that is for the good and for the upbuilding of our country, provided the income overbalances the out go.

Rev. Mr. Smallwood of Coahoma came over and filled Bro. Ledger's appointment at Union, much to the delight of his hearers. Come again Bro. Smallwood.

We have preaching twice a month, Sunday school every Sunday, and a promise of a prayer meeting in the near future.

The public school is still progressing under the management of Miss Compe Pritchett.

Now, in conclusion I propose to Mr. Plunket and any other correspondent who will do so, that we write a series of sketches on the subject of a long time ago.

There was some complaint Saturday of the odor arising from the drain from the steam laundry where it empties into Lone Wolf creek. It should be said in justice to the laundry, that this arises from no fault of its own. The sewerage pipe was laid with permission of the council and it is due to the dry spell that the waste water from the laundry is not washed away. The creek has been dry for some time and the waste has accumulated in a rock bound pool.

Next Sunday will be Easter Sunday one of the most important celebrations of Christendom. It commemorates the resurrection of our Lord, the one fact on which He himself based his claims to Messiahship. If the event, which the celebration of Easter is not true, then was Christ a phrasemonger or ignorant fanatic. It has come, however, to be celebrated more as an occasion for the display of flowers and millinery than as the basal fact of our faith and ultimate hope.
