THE "OLE MAN'S" OUTING.

Impressions of the South Plains from an Automobile.

To be chained to one duty for five years, having an orbit no greater than one including church, hotel and railway depot; when one's Life becomes like those best beads That pale nuns tell upon a string; The round once finished, there but needs

Simply to recommence the thing, a spin of sixty-five miles over the south plains of west Texas, becomes an epoch in the life of such a grind. The man or woman whose blood will not tingle with the very sense of the joy of life, when splitting the atmosphere in a powerful machine with a safe and careful driver at the wheel, has more white than red corpuscles in his or her blood. There is a pleasure of expectancy, when the beaten roads that stretch to the distant horizon before the eyes, are abandoned and a course laid across the uncharted ocean of billowing green that covers the rolling prairies.

The pleasures of an unknown road are many and varied, like the pleasure of fishing, one never knows when he has spat upon the hook and cast into that mysterious world beneath the surface of the water, what he may pull out of it. The elements of the inscrutable give to the pastime half its delights. So with travelling an unknown road. What is over the next hill? What lies around the coming curve. How far and how long will you fare? You can look out over the green carpet, with rare patches of brown ploughed land, and suddenly see your tortuous way emerge from the wooded vale, a mile away, beckoning you up over the next slope.

To know where a road goes often accompanies a masterful desire to get there; not to know where it goes, and still to take it, means that blissful state of watchful wonder, so characteristic of a child.

I had longed to see the city that Mr. Post of cereal food fame and dollars had planted more than a hundred miles from the railroad, hauling every piece of material by wagon. I had desired to visit our neighbor to the north—Snyder, as well as the younger, Fluvanna, and infant Burnham, the future giant. It was therefore with as much readiness as pleasure, I accepted the invitation of Mr. L. E. Lasseter to be one of a party of ten who were going to visit all these places in connection with the promotion of the latter place, of which Mr. Lasseter is one of the owners. Provided with a camera, and fortified with chewing gum and smokes (only), a congenial company took passage from the St. James Hotel corner, in two Ramblers, under the personal conduct of Mr. Lasseter and our lives in the keeping of those two veterans of the steering wheel—Frank Miller and Joe Smoot.

(Just here, you have become so familiar with riding in an automobile that your feet go to sleep, will pardon a digression in the words of a bit of apostrophe.) One who has never set in an automobile, with a veritable Jehu for a driver, on a smooth road, straight as an arrow, has any idea of the demoralizing influence the combination works in the average citizen, who has been content to "foot it" for the best part of his life. Environment and the ordinary obligations of life loosen their strait hold; one's debts recur only as a half forgotten joke, while even the pangs of hunger gnaw with but pleasant violence. The spirit of impudent sassiness obsesses one, and like Oliver Twist he hankers only for more, more!

As he flits by his old acquaintances of the foot path, he gives them the ha-ha, while he pitches them a high ball to the rear. When the telephone poles begin to recur as close together as the teeth of a fine comb, and mile stones flit past as thick as tombstones in an East Texas cemetery, all decent regard for the common amenities and rights of others on the public road, become dead, and the rushing, grinding, wheezing, machine becomes a veritable Juggernaut to everything that falls to side jump quick enough.

These are the recognized symptoms of that incurable malady—automobilitis, vulgarly known as "speed mania," and upon the authority of Captain Bill Jones of Snyder, (the only acute case that ever was completely cured) nothing but the purchase of a machine can cure it. We've got it—and that bad. Two weeks ago, our cinderella was innocent of ever pressing the cast iron rubber rug in the front seat; had never spit at the ground and killed a fly two miles behind; but now we are in the convulsions of the acute stage—ordering catalogues and learning to talk the thing's most proper technique.

Dunn.
We arrived at Dunn before we were due at Buford, and as the cars stuttered up the hill, a man standing on the balcony of one of the stores waved a box of cigars to flag us down, and down we flagged. Coming out to the cars he pressed upon each a collection of cigars that carried an indorsement in their faces. I didn't smoke the O. P. brand of cigars and Judge Hooper also preferred one of his own buying. The others were delighted, and complimented Bro. Billingslee on his spirit of ingenious hospitality, but wondered at his impetuous generosity. The crowd lit up while Chauffeurs Miller and Smoot watered their panting steeds. But the entire population (it seemed) of Dunn, which had pressed up close, urged us to tarry just a minute or two longer, but before any of us could explain the time limit of our trip, the cigar J. A. Buchanan was trying to smoke erupted like a volcano and flew into a thousand pieces. Still George Root failed to take the hint and was hitting it up like a tarklin when the expected happened. At this the others tried to hide the snipes they had, and I loved they smelt a mouse when Billingslee got so generous.

Dunn is quite a prosperous village, a trifle more than half way from Colorado to Snyder, in Scurry county. A half dozen open stores, a gin, several churches, Masonic lodge and a public school building that would shame many a town of more than a thousand inhabitants. The most popular institution of this little city is the annual camp meeting the local Methodists promote each year.

Snyder.
When we left the earth at Dunn, the country became less rolling and either side of the road was flanked with well tilled, thrifty looking farms. Ere long the most prominent features of Snyder hove into view. The graceful county court house took on added beauties as we drew near and we held a memorial service over the corpse of our own, back in Colorado. Individually, I had taken all the reports about the growth and business of our sister town, with not only a grain, but a pinch of saving salt, but as we bowled along the well-kept and shady streets, front yards embowered with flowers and vines, beautiful homes, blocks of substantial and prosperous business houses, and came to a stop in the shadow of a bank building that would put to envious blush a city of fifty thousand inhabitants, I realized that Snyder had pulled on its seven-league boots, taken up another hole in its belt and hit the highroad for the distinction of "the best town in west Texas." I paid a deserved tribute in praise and admiration to every commendable visible feature of the town, but when my eyes wandered over the classic pile, marked its graceful lines, generous windows, imposing aspect, its suggestions of prosperity and of even-handed justice, I took off my hat to the capitol building of Scurry county, and offered a prayer to the gods of Prosperity to speed the day when Mitchell county should dispense justice and gather tribute in such a shrine. The north side of the public square was a working hive of constructive force, replacing with modern business houses the row of shacks destroyed by that great scavenger and reformer—Fire. But the town rises Phoenix-like from the ashes of its own destruction, younger and stronger than ever before.

A moment's visit to the office of the Western Light revealed our old-time Ennis friends, J. S. Hardy and Roland Bell, immersed in business, but each was taking on that springy look of youth and freshness of color that the salubrious climate and light work of west Texas alone can impart. I saw Coloradoans there also, who by their fugitive, apologetic air, as I accosted them, gave me the impression they were "spying out the land" with purpose of emigrating. But when I hinted this suspicion they hastened to explain they were up there for the sole (soul) purpose of attending "the meeting." After refreshing both the inner man and the machine, the Argonauts sallied out for Fluvanna, where, through the providence and generosity of their host, Mr. Lasseter, dinner awaited them. From Snyder to Fluvanna lies a country surpassed nowhere, in fertility of soil, ease of cultivation or varied productiveness. The soil is a black clay to black sandy loam, sufficiently undulating to insure perfect drainage and sanitary condition, under which runs a permanent and abundant supply of good water. That pastoral scenes in this section are ideal. The busy windmill, the white homestead, hedged with beautiful shade trees and flanked with orchards and vineyards, while the geometrical rows of alfalfa, with a green thread of young cotton, as in a dark brown stripe, run together in the distance. Practically every farmer has a surface tank kept filled with water by windmill power and irrigates a small orchard and garden crop. As this panorama of the promise of peace and plenty fled past us twenty miles per hour, my mind reverted to the scenes of Happy Hollow, on which the nasal and angular Ichabod Crane so often looked with envy in his heart and water in his mouth. Surely the farmers of this section are our country's pride.

"For them, light labor spreads her bounteous store; Just gives what they require, but gives no more." And if there were a time ere England's grief began When every rood of land maintained its man."

Fluvanna.
Although the name "Fluvanna" carries with it as much senseless joking in West Virginia as does Van Zandt in Texas and "Tallerdigger" in Alabama, the town and its surroundings, prove the libel. A neater, brisker or more progressive town of its size, is not put down on the map of Texas. Level as a floor, well platted, its substantial business houses and tasty homes make a pleasing and inviting appearance. Even now, the town has an aggressive commercial club, solid bank, water plant, a commodious railway depot, while the "Miller Hotel," spick and span as a new pin, needs apologize to no class of guests, however fastidious. Thirty hungry people had just been regaled at the table of this most excellent hotel, when the half famished horde of Argonauts hove in; but Capt. Miller and wife were equal to the appetites of all. Another meal was prepared de novo, the while we stood around sniffing the seductive odors that anon emanated from the regions of the kitchen. At last dinner was announced and we all fell to with appetites sharpened by anticipation as well as the demands of hunger. What we did for that repast was a plenty; and it was the unanimous vote of the crowd that it was all to the right.

The Cap Rock.
The run from Fluvanna to the rim of the cap rock was made in four miles. For years I had read and heard of this singular feature of the plains country, and had heard it described and seen portions of it depicted by the camera, but when we reached the abrupt declivity, and the wondrous scene burst upon the vision, I confess I had entertained no conception of its grandeur and sublimity. This precipitous bluff, ranging in height from 300 to 750 feet, begins in the northern part of Deaf Smith county and continues eastward and southward, three miles to the west of Post City, and then turns to the southwest, thus forming a semicircle with its convexity to the east and south, defining the general outline of the Llano Encantado. Promontories jut out into the lower plateau, and its numerous convolutions extend some distance from this general definition. The name "cap rock" is singularly applicable to this phenomenon. Around the entire rim, crowning the top like a frieze, is a stratum of solid rock, which is literally a cap for the whole. From a distance the general aspect of the bluff is most pleasing. The various colors of mineral earth wherein bright red and yellow predominate, make, with the dark green of the dwarf mountain, cedar an effect not unlike a patchwork quilt with a stone-colored border. As the glancing rays of the setting sun shone upon it, the fancy, with the purple haze and rarified atmosphere played tricks on the eye, which were not unlike the sunshine among the stained windows and clustering columns of some Gothic cathedral.

The cap rock four miles north of Fluvanna, is not that which marks the boundaries of the Plains, but is a convolution of it which skirts the rim of the plateau south of the Brazos river, and limits the depression of the valley to that stream. It is hardly possible, however, that at any point along all its ramifications, the cap rock presents a more imposing appearance, than delights the eye and stirs the senses, where the roadway de-ascends into the valley by a series of reverse curves, and strikes boldly out across the table land between the double forks of the Brazos.

Burnham.
An easy run of about ten miles, most of which was over a road made especially for automobiles, brought us in sight of the new town of Burnham, the future center from which will radiate roads in all directions, bringing the fruits of this fertile country, to its gates. This proposition, with about six sections of magnificent farming land, is the property of Messrs. John Person and L. E. Lasseter. Already the town is assuming the promise of a prosperous future. An attractive and commodious hotel is nearing completion, one store is doing a thriving business, while others are under contract. The townsite is situated upon the first bench on the north bank of the Brazos river, where the Santa Fe railway strikes grade level, after crossing the stream. It is high above the flood water record, thus insuring safety to life, property and perfect drainage. The proprietors of this lusty infant are sanguine of the location of the railway depot and post office. There is now no post office nearer than Fluvanna. The country adjacent, is one vast sweep of undulating tillable land, scarcely yet touched by plowshare, but capable of the greatest agricultural potentialities. The Brazos Valley Townsite company is fully prepared to meet the requirements of the man seeking a location, whether it be for investment, business or farm tract. This valley possesses three inestimable assets of land, water and climate, which are the basal elements of prosperity and happiness. But I am not selling town lots in Burnham.

After noting the natural advantages of this new town, the Argonauts decided to spend the coming night in the capital of Garza county, the unique municipality of Post City, eighteen miles to the northwest. Could we make that distance in time for supper? A wish to our steersman, was good as a bribe. Could they make it? Just hold your breath and cling fast. The distance from Burnham to Post City is approximately twenty con-skin-and-tail miles, the route following the grade of the Santa Fe railroad. After we had cleared the second rise, the city appeared like a mirage, as the setting sun, refracted through the deep purple haze, gilded its walls of stone and vari-hued roofs. As the panting, throbbing machines shot through the intermittent cope of mesquite, the rocky and weathered red buttes, which stood singly and in groups, like sentinels, along the plain, seemed to be spinning around and then rushed forward to meet us. In the most opportune time for supper, the machines slid through the sand of dry creek, climbed the first bench of the main cap rock, and the town burst upon us with the suddenness and pleasant surprise of a transformation scene in Arabian Nights.

Post City.
Who that eats and drinks has not helped acclaim the name of Post? "There's a reason." It is related that C. W. Post came to Texas to regain his lost health by an active life in the open, and attached himself to a zen of what is now Garza county, the capacity of cow puncher. T between whiles instead of disappati his energy in the strenuous hilar of the native bronco buster, he given to dreaming dreams and seen. Like children who "mac inanimate things can converse w them and whose fancy can transm pebbles into diamonds and trees in cities; so this Post-dreams, catchi the spirit of the matchless atmosph which lures and bewitches like those phantom lakes in a desert, saw the mighty domain more than twenty miles square, bulged with cities, teeming with population and humming with hu-man industry. He heard peace sing with the reapers and tinkle with the shepherd's bell. These visions he saw then, and today he can gaze upon the concrete children of his fertile brain. Hauling every piece of material over land more than a hundred miles, he planted a city, the basal idea of whi that "individual owners can- as far as practical results, wealth, ce fort, peace and content, are conc ed, 'rope and hog-tie' any outf, through our socialists and rainbow chasers, ing ever existed. To this end he la 200,000 acres of the best land, could find in such bodies as sulter Mr. and Mrs. H. purpose, for which he paid the and Mrs. L. L. The first permanent building ere Miss Epie Faulk-was a store house 160 feet square, material being raised from his own quarry. This store now houses the largest and best selected general stock of goods to be found in all Texas—and that's some. Completing the store he built a number of bungalow residence 100 W. O. W., ranging from the modest three-room cottages to the handsome cut-stone residences, costing $10,000. Then he rubbed his wonderful lamp agai- signed the magic name to a worthi bit of paper, and an elegant two-story cut-stone hotel sprang from the womb of this man's enterprise. Going on top of the cap rock less than four miles from the townsite, he smote the earth with diamond drill, and the waters gushed forth in abundance. From a huge reservoir more than 100 feet above the town the water is piped in ample mains at a pressure of 90 pounds to the square inch, supplying all domestic and manufacturing needs, the while giving life, beauty and fructification in the fields, orchards and flowers.

Post, In Proper Person.
In order that every farmer, merchant, professional man and laborer may be induced to own his own home, Mr. Post charges a higher rent per month than the monthly payment on actual purchase would be. He tries out every purchaser of farm land or city property, that none but desirable citizns may become permanent ones. Among the many things Mr. Post purposes to do when the railroad reaches his domain, is the erection of a sanitarium which will crown the cap rock and overlook the growing town. He is indeed, a marvelous man, in personality as well as performance. His eye is of the eagle type and seems to "look quite through the thoughts of men," while his presence is at once commanding, convincing and exceedingly pleasant. He is an (Continued on Fifth Page)

What might have been a serious fire occurred at the Dozier barber shop Friday morning, but the flames were extinguished before more damage was done than the scorching of the wall paper and a chair. In filling the gasoline tank above the water heater, the porter overflowed it and left off the screw top. When a match was applied, the flames enveloped the heater and caught the oil in the tank. The most serious feature of the accident, was that in extinguishing the fire, Sterling Dozier had both of his hands badly burned half way to the elbows, which will incapacitate him for work for some time. The shop had just been overhauled and freshly painted, presenting a neat and inviting appearance. Only last year this shop was almost destroyed by fire.

Never hesitate about giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to children. It contains no opium or other narcotics and can be given with implicit confidence. As a quick cure for coughs and colds to which children are susceptible, it is unsurpassed. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. Guy McGee, of Snyder, was here this week in the interest of his patented process of tanning leather. He is seeking to promote a stock company to establish a tannery using his process in Colorado. He says $5,000 will equip a tannery with a capacity to handle all the hides produced in Mitchell county. Here is a manufacturing industry specially adapted to the raw material of west Texas. The demand for leather will ever be as staple as that for cotton. With a broom factory and tanning plant, both of which would not necessarily exceed $7,500, the town of Colorado would have, with the industries already established, the lead of any town in this section, excepting the packery at Sweetwater. This proposition, and the broom factory too, is well worth consideration.

In the last few days the Roberts Business College has had four calls for office help, one of these was placed in Big Springs at $100 per month and two at Sweetwater at $60, and one at Hamlin at $75 per month. Young people hadn't you better prepare yourself for one of these positions? There are plenty of them waiting for you.

A touch of rheumatism, or a twinge of neuralgia, whatever the trouble is, Chamberlain's Liniment drives away the pain at once and cures the complaint quickly. First application gives relief. Sold by all druggists.

As an evidence that the Roberts Business College is doing some good work and that there is ample ability in Colorado, it may be interesting to note that one young lady who has not been taking short hand lessons over three weeks wrote seventy words from dictation one day last week.

Our stock is still large, our lines varied, and at less than ever before in the season. The Vogue is the Place of Fashion.

Manager Wallace is getting his committees to work in the various departments of activity, for the carnival picnic. Mr. Wallace has taken all the worry and responsibility from the town and will give the people a first class blowout. Invitations have been extended a dozen speakers of reputation and drawing power, whose names will be announced just as soon as they signify their purpose to be with us on those dates. Keep the dates steadily in mind, paste them in your hat and tie your hat on your head—June 30, July 1 and 2.

The splendid work of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets is daily coming to light. No such grand remedy for liver and bowel troubles was ever known before. Thousands bless them for curing constipation, sick headache, biliousness, jaundice and indigestion. Sold by all druggists.

Something Doing.

The Union Brotherhood decided on Sunday afternoon to erect a rest room for men on the picnic grounds, during the commercial carnival, where every man will be invited to come, rest and refresh himself. The ladies' organizations of the town will see to it that a similar room is provided for the convenience of the lady visitors.

Mr. Bookkeeper If you desire an increase in your salary why not attend the night session of Roberts Business College.

New pupils are being enrolled each night in the night session of Roberts Business College.

Some Magnificent Specimens.

Mr. L. E. Lasseter showed the Record party this week a specimen of copper ore from the deposits near Burnham. It needs no expert to determine what it is. We have seen many specimens of copper ore, but this seems to be the richest on our list so far. This is no advertisement; the land on which the deposit occurs, does not belong to the townsite company. Ask him to show it to you and draw your own conclusions.

The Methodist Meeting Closes.

After two weeks' continuance, the meeting conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. W. E. Lyon, was closed Sunday night. There were a number of conversions, most of which joined that church. There have been revivals in Colorado productive of greater visible results, but so far as we are able to judge, none that had so great a reflexive result upon the pastor of the church. Brother Lyon seems to have gotten out of the meeting as he himself says, "all of what each one put into it." His preaching has been of the kind illuminated, with the holy fire itself, while his very presence in the pulpit radiated his spiritual exaltation. Such an earnest effort cannot be barren of the most potential results. His broad catholic spirit of love and tolerance begets that self-effacement that gives visions of the Master's spirit of sacrifice and service. He sees clear-eyed, the sinfulness of sin and uses the knife with no uncertain hand. He sanctifies no sin, however small or much approved by society, but believes in its absolute extirpation.

Mag Graves' Home Burns.

The alarm of fire about 8 o'clock Friday night developed the fact that the home of Mag Graves, near the west bridge was fiercely burning. The fire boys and wagon were early on the scene, and making connection at the hydrant on Lasky's corner soon had a 70-pound stream playing on the burning house. The flames had made rapid headway and though they were extinguished soon, the house was a practical loss. We learn that her loss was fully covered by insurance.

Follow this advice.

Quaker Scotch Oats is the best of all foods; it is also the cheapest. When such men as Prof. Fisher of Yale University and Sir James Crichton Browne, LL.D.-F.R.S. of London spend the best parts of their lives in studying the great question of the nourishing and strengthening qualities of different foods, it is certain that their advice is absolutely safe to follow.

Professor Fisher found in his experiments for testing the strength and endurance of athletes that the meat eaters were exhausted long before the men who were fed on such food as Quaker Scotch Oats. The powers of endurance of the non-meat eaters were about eight times those of the meat eaters.

Sir James Crichton Browne says—eat more oatmeal, eat plenty of it and eat it frequently.

Buy it in the regular package, or in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates.

LORAIN LETTER

The closing exercises of the primary grades of the Loraine school were held at the opera house Thursday afternoon, an exceedingly pretty and interesting program being rendered by the little folks, which was much enjoyed by the large crowd present. Many nice compliments were paid both teachers and pupils. At night Mrs. King's music and choral classes assisted by the pupils of Mrs. Perry's room entertained a large audience with music, readings, drills, etc., each number showed the care with which these pupils had been trained and reflected credit on themselves and to their teachers. Medals were awarded Miss Rhuey Altman in the advanced grade and Mattie Thompson in primary grade—these two having made the highest grades in music since Christmas. Others were very close followers. We not only congratulate ourselves on the literary but also the musical department of our school.

On Friday night the Baptist church was filled to its utmost capacity with the large crowd assembled to be present at the exercises of the graduating class of 1910. The stage was artistically decorated with trailing vines of green foliage twined with white roses, pots of ferns and geraniums adorned front of stage, which was also tastefully draped with the class colors—black and orange. The watchword, "Success," in large letters encircling the monogram, "L. H. S." in class colors, made a pretty background. The class, twelve in number, were seated near the front. The following program was rendered:

Invocation—Rev. Farris.
Chorus.
Sweet Girl Graduate—Myrtle Norman.

"Should the United States Prohibit Foreign Immigration,"—Affirmative, Robert Henthorne; Negative, Harry Mune.

Double quartette—"Waiting Allue."
The Woman of Today—Amie Gregg.
"The New South"—Allen Goodgame.
Double Quartette—Mixed voices.
Class Prophecy—Bettie Erwin.
"Life"—Wirt Blume.
Duet—"When the Dew Is On the Lilies."
Presentation of Diplomas—Rev. Lawrence.

Double Quartette—"Goodnight."
As a token of the respect and esteem in which he is held the graduating class presented Mr. Helm with an elegant chair.

On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Helm invited the school faculty and graduates of 1909 and 1910 to their pleasant home and with a few other special friends a most enjoyable time was spent. Music, "42" and other games were enjoyed. Then a contest, "Fairy Wishes." Many lovely and amusing wishes were made, but the judges awarded prize to Wirt Blume. After partaking of dainty refreshments, served by their gracious hostess, some time was spent in pleasant social converse, and then farewells were spoken.

"Farewell! a word that must be, and hath been:
A sound which makes us linger;—yet—farewell."
"To know, to esteem, to love—and then to part Makes up life's tale to many a feeling heart!"

Miss Georgia Menshaw accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. L. Edmondson and children, left for her home at Huntsville, Saturday morning. Mrs. Edmondson will visit her parents at Huntsville and will also visit at Grape-land and other points before returning home. Miss Menshaw will not return to Loraine as she expects to attend school next year. She will be missed in our town as she has taught in the school here for the past two years and by her pleasant and amiable disposition has endeared herself to many. We wish for her success and that her brightest hopes may be realized.

Mrs. H. M. Perry and children will leave Friday morning for an extended visit to her mother at Tyler and other places.

Walter Petty and family are now comfortably domiciled in the J. Lindsey Long residence. Mr. Petty has extensive business interests at Hico, his former home, but on account of the healthfulness of the west has decided to become a citizen of our town, and will probably engage in business here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Phillips visited in Roscoe Sunday, Mrs. Hopper and children, sister of Mrs. Phillips, returned with them for a few days' visit.

A. A. Hensler of Comanche, a noted Baptist preacher, delivered a discourse at the Baptist church Monday night to an appreciative audience, the theme being, "What Shall I do to Be Saved?"

W. F. Altman was in Hermleigh Wednesday on business.

Miss Zilpha Fox, Mitchell county's first lady candidate for office, was in Loraine Saturday mingling with the people.

M. J. Nash of Texarkana, chief dispatcher for the T. & P. Ry., was in Loraine last week, the guest of H. C. Looby. He and Mr. Looby worked together when boys in the employment of the railway company.

Mrs. I. J. Wallis and son Samp, Mrs. T. N. Duncan and Miss Mary Gregg went to Fort Worth Thursday to attend the commencement at Polytechnic College. Mrs. Wallis' daughter, Miss Annie Mae, will graduate with honors. Charlie Duncan will also graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. Elkins of Trent visited the family of C. P. Gary Sunday.

An outing party composed of Mrs. Hiram Toler, Mrs. Jim Johnson, Mrs. Jesse Pratt and Mrs. S. W. Altman spent an enjoyable day on Champion creek Tuesday.

Miss Claudia Langley, who has been an assistant in the school here, and her sister Mrs. M. D. Cranfill, are visiting in Snyder and Roscoe this week. Miss Claudia will return to her home in Hamilton county next Sunday.

Mrs. Bob Anderson of San Angelo is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Erwin.

A fifth Sunday meeting will be held at Valley View next Sunday. We are invited out to hear the preaching and to partake of the good things to eat.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Helm attended the commencement exercises at Roscoe Monday night.

Quite a large number from the Loraine school will attend the normal at Snyder.

O. C. Wellburn and Harry Hall went to Snyder Tuesday.

On account of the inclemency of the weather Miss Grace Arrington, teacher of Union Chapel school, postponed her concert till Saturday night. A large crowd went from Loraine and report the concert as being a decided success.

Mrs. Simeon Shaw and children of Colorado visited in Loraine Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prude, Mrs. Looby and daughter, Miss Iola Bess, and Miss McComas, all of Colorado, attended the graduating exercises of the Loraine high school Friday night. A large number of Lorainites attended the Street Fair and carnival at Colorado Tuesday night.

Mrs. Joe Johnson and sister, Miss Beulah Hagler, visited at Mr. J. H. T. Johnson's Tuesday.

Several of our citizens are appearing in court at Colorado this week. T. J. Davis reports having a huge thirty inches spread from tip ends of the leaves, at this writing.

List of Committees for Carnival

The committee that has the Midsummer Carnival celebration in hand, has been working steadily since the last issue of our paper. They have secured the ground from Judge Hamner laying west of town, commonly known as West Colorado. About one hundred acres or all the tract laying north of the public road after you cross the bridge going west and will be entirely fenced. This will exclude all wagons and horseback riders and make it perfectly safe for ladies and children on these grounds during our celebration. All the ground lying south of the road over to the railroad track will be used as a camp ground, which will be large enough to accommodate thousands of campers.

Mr. Van Tuyl has taken the light proposition in hand and promises that the entire place will be illuminated with electric lights each night.

The committee has arranged with Mr. Graves to lay a two-inch pipe line from the city water mains across the bridge to four large water tanks, which will be furnished by Mr. Crawford, and we can say that there will be abundance of water for all the public well used.

This celebration is being well advertised and already 50 per cent of the different privileges have been sold, mostly to people of Colorado, although parties as far as Dallas have purchased privileges for these dates.

Prof. M. H. Phillips of Waco, Texas, a professional balloonist has already contracted with the celebration committee to make one balloon ascension each day. Prof. Phillips has followed this business for the past twenty-three years and has made nearly two thousand successful ascensions, and we are sure that we can promise you three successful balloon ascensions on these dates.

The Brotherhood have taken upon themselves to arrange for a gentleman's rest room on the ground and general bureau of information. This will be one of the main features of the occasion and will assure us to make friends with all strangers who may come. As the Brotherhood will give them the "glad hand" and make them feel entirely at home while they are with us.

The Ladies' Aid societies of Colorado will have charge of a like feature and they will maintain a ladies' rest room which will be furnished and taken care of in a way befitting the ladies of our town.

The committee still has five weeks to complete this work, which they feel is ample time, still this celebration cannot be carried out successfully without the co-operation of every man, woman and child in Colorado. Many committees are yet to be appointed and many favors are still to be asked for. Let every citizen of this town consider themselves a committee of one to help make our Midsummer Celebration the very highest degree of success.

MR. WILLIAM F. STEESE.
Mr. William F. Steese, 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, writes:

"I have been troubled for several years with catarrh of the stomach. Have used different patent medicines to no effect whatever, and have doctor'd considerably with family doctor. Sometimes his treatment would relieve me for a few weeks, but would eventually have to go back to him, and that had kept up for several years.

"I was advised to use Peruna, and have taken three bottles. Never felt so good in my life. Am going to continue using it. Wouldn't be without it in the house. I will gladly recommend it to any one afflicted with catarrh of stomach, or stomach trouble of any kind."

The above is an oft-repeated story. Troubled for years with chronic catarrh. Tried different remedies and doctors to no avail. Peruna was advised by friends. Instant relief experienced. Great gratitude to Peruna expressed. This, in brief, is a story that is repeated to us a great many times every year.

No one could be in touch with our vast correspondence for one month without being impressed with the sincerity and truthfulness of these kind testimonials.

Peruna promptly produces an appetite, corrects digestion and relieves stomach difficulties that have resisted other treatment.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
 Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Record will be gladly corrected upon it being brought to the attention of its publishers.

"Great is Mitchell County, and The Record is its Prophet!"
 COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1910

There may be a better country than Mitchell county—there are many just as good—but there is none better.

Steel has been laid on the Sterling City branch of the Santa Fe as far as Carlsbad, and trains are now running to that health resort.

Texas is now fifth in the populous states of this great union, Missouri ranking sixth. And how about two more congressmen.

West Texas is taking little part in a political snarl now on in the state. Its energies and time are absorbed in the development and progress of a section.

It might be well to keep in mind a crop-growing weather the wisdom of Sidney Lanier: "There's more in the man, then there is in the land."

How many times have you been "tried?" "Three times, but—Excuse me, madam, I'm taking the census, not proposing marriage," said a heartless enumerator.

Since the recent rains, vegetation all kinds has taken on renewed life and freshness. Several gardens we have noticed, are simply humping themselves, and their owners are showing alleged callouses on their hands and bragging about their vegetables. But we've heard of these "wife made" gardens before.

We are not apologizing for the paper this week, but explaining that for lack of room and an avalanche of work, much of the more local matter and correspondence, had to be omitted. Don't take offense, ye country correspondents, as the question is one similar to pressing upon a guest more than he can eat; would you take offense at his refusal? Hardly.

The Record had application last week for 10,000 inches of advertising space from a leading whiskey house of Texas. As the Record's present rate per inch, this would mean $1,500. As long as the present management has control of this paper, all the money the entire booze ring could muster could not buy a line of advertising space for the purpose of putting their liquid damnation into the hands of the people of Mitchell county.

As to the Railroad.
 Answering the now stock question, "what about the railroad," the Record takes the liberty of spending its own opinion in the premises.

You recall the fable of the lark whose nest was in the wheat field? So long as the farmer relied on his hired hands and other outsiders cutting his wheat, the mother lark said to her apprehensive young, "no need to fear my dears; the wheat will not be cut."

But when it fell that the farmer himself came out and looking over the crop, said to himself, "The time has come to cut the grain. I will get my cradle and get at it," the lark said to her young brood, "hurry up my children, the wheat's going to be cut today."

Do you get the point, neighbors? About June the first, the farmer will begin to whet his cradle. The building of the Colorado & Concho railroad is nearer an accomplished fact today than it has yet been.

"He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."

Colorado and Robert Lee were much in the same fix as the fellow who thought he just had to marry. He asked the first woman he met to marry him, and she promptly said, "YES." In returning home he met a crowd of pretty girls, each of whom he asked to have him, and they all said "yes." You can imagine his feelings and apply the moral.

Doan's Kidney Pills—Guaranteed.

A Typographical Error.

An East Texas paper says it has incurred the wrath of all the society ladies in town by a mistake of a single letter in a word, which made it look like it was loaded with dynamite. The item read: "The meeting of the Home Missionary Society was held at our residence last Tuesday evening."—Tulsa Herald.

The company that was to have played "The End" in the opera house here this week, was notified by Manager Wallace that they could count the crosses toward the Golden Gate, when they arrived. The Stamford papers, where they had made an assault to entertain, gave the rotten, traveling brothe! a touch of high life that will carry them far beyond the circulation of those papers. This is as it should be. If the papers would warn other towns of an approaching saturnalia, like this is branded to be, it would soon put all such out of Texas. Pass 'em along, brethren.

The Record party has made it a point to ask every farmer he met in town this week, what he thought of the effects of the rain. About 80 per cent said it was all right and did a vast amount of good. About 10 per cent said it would help some, but wasn't near enough. The remaining could see no real benefit in it, "as we are not going to make anything this year, any way." So, there we are. If the last named class were to find a twenty-dollar gold piece in the road not one of them would pick it up because it was not $40; but would bel-lancho and bewail their hard luck. "For of such is the K. of H.—no, not heaven.

If all those stormy petrels, of the scientific sea and the general small fry of fooldom, who predicted such calamitous disturbances to this old earth by the "tail of the comet," don't feel like they had made a snake show of themselves, they ought to take "Pazaza, its great," for such ailments. What do they know of a thing that wears its tail, first in front and then behind some; whether its of fire or ice; of green cheese or limburger. The celestial visitor has been completing its journeys around its fixed orbit since the day God said, "let there be light." If there had been the slightest danger of its doing any damage to any other creations of His it had not been created. God is in His heaven, and all is well."

Though the state of New Jersey has enjoyed the odious notoriety of being the hatching ground for most of the iniquitous trusts, by reason of its accommodating legislatures, it seems to have had an interval of lucidity and common sense. The legislature recently passed a law which will forever stop ill-advised and sentimental couples from rushing into wedlock without reckoning the cost and responsibilities. Heretofore nonresidents have only been required to secure license in New Jersey, while citizens of the state could get married on the spur of the moment with scarcely any ceremony at all. Licenses and returns from the officiating clergyman or official are required; heavy penalties being attached.

The new editor of the Lorraine News tells his readers that hitherto they have not had a "newspaper man" in charge of their paper. This writer edited the News for a time, and believes that nothing is too good for the people of Lorraine. Therefore he rejoices that, in Brother Porter, they have at last secured a "newspaper man" of experience, ability and energy, and one, above all, whose professional courtesy is self-evident—Coahoma Courier.

Aside from the tang of irony in the above, we see where Easterling has a say coming. The Record party has been acquainted with his work for some time, and if he isn't a "newspaper man," up to all the traditions and franchises that attach.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

owing to a mistake, in no wise our own, the cover stock for the West Texas Magazine was shipped by water freight via Galveston instead of by express, as ordered.  Notice to Advertisers and Correspondents.

The business of this office has now grown to that stage when systemized routine becomes a question of self preservation. In order to turn out the business we must do certain things at fixed times, or disappoint our customers. To this end, copy for advertisements will not be accepted for the paper later than Wednesday noon.

Correspondence must be in the office by Tuesday morning, or it will not be used, and we reserve the right to "bottle" out all but the news—and then some. We want the news, but not rhetoric and compliments. We have an 80-horse power mill for these commodities in the cellar.

We will again repeat (as we have done from time to time) that all cards of thanks, obituaries and lodge resolutions, are paid matter, and will be charged to the lodge or individual sending them in.

Please do not regard this notice as an idle statement; the rules will be strictly adhered to. Of course news of an important local nature will find room as long as the columns are open (Thursday noon). There is enough copy every week to fill three issues of the paper; besides we keep on tap enough good matter to meet any emergency. When you send in anything, bottle it down, then read it over and bite again. It will help the copy.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none can out of ten are cured by Calcher, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by nature that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure, sent for free, by Dr. J. C. HENLEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Nor in dreaming days past. With his present experience, accomplishments and great wealth, cast into the crucible of his imagination, how much greater, grander and better will be those dreams and visions, and how much easier of realization than when he dozed beneath the mesquite, without the alchemy and power of fabulous wealth.

On the occasion of our visit to Post City, Mr. Post and family were occupying their own modest bungalow. They were just returning from a quail hunt under the care and guidance of Mr. Tom Stephens, once a citizen of Colorado. In the days of Mr. Post's reverses, Mr. Stephens came to his assistance, and as a reward of this friendship, as well as an expression of his confidence, Mr. Post has retained him as his "land man." Every realty transaction is done through Mr. Stephens, and besides, he enjoys with another quondam Coloradoan, the prestige of being the town's "mascot" and privileged citizen, generally. I refer latterly to Mr. Sam C. Wilks. The fidelity of C. W. Post to his friends has long since waxed into a proverb.

Few men appreciate the money value of honest publicity as Mr. Post. His annual appropriation for printers' publicity approximates, if not exceeds, $1,000,000. One of the finest buildings in his Michigan collection is devoted exclusively to his advertising department. His money making ability is as much an instinct as a matter of reason and judgment.

But the "piece de resistance" of the menu of delights and surprises of this city, is the hotel. Picture to your fancy a hotel building of cut-stone, more than a hundred miles from a railroad, finished in varnished hard pine, possessing every appointment of comfort and accessory of convenience offered by the most pretentious hostelry in cities of 40,000 souls and transportation facilities—all are here save the electric lights which are not missed. There is a "classy" look to every furnishing, a soft, rich feel to every chair and while the shuffle-and-slap of the 42 tables emphasize the waltz and two-step tunes of the big phonograph, the Corydons and Phylises anon gather in the carpeted hall and tread the graceful measures of the same.

(Old and decrepit as I am, the spirit of the "kid" obsessed me, and as the rhythmic measures and perfect cadences of the "Beautiful Blue Danube" pulsed through the lobby; as the shuffle of gliding feet and soft swish and fru-fru of swirling skirts lulled the sentinel upon the ramparts of Circumsppection, my feet just naturally would beat time and my senses thrill to the spirited strains.)

But enough. Did I but give loose rein to Pegasus, the bit would soon be between his teeth, while Fenny and Ra collection would ride like Banshees. At some future time when the incidents of the trip shall have gained broader perspective, I may presume upon the patience of the Record family again. I have too deeply encroached already, upon the space and labor that should have been given to business, or more weighty substance than the idle vaporings of "the old man."

A. H. WESTON.

The Store in the Lead.

No store in the business circles of Colorado has made more improvement and greater advancement in the confidence of the buying public than that of Jas. Greene. He has not only kept abreast of the demand for his line of goods, but up to the minute with the supply. If there is any new thing that the most fastidious might want, go to Jas. Greene's; you'll find it and at a most reasonable price.

Not only has his stock been greatly enlarged, but new lines have been added. He now carries the largest assortment of rugs, art squares and matings, to be found in west Texas. This is a bold statement, but such is the consensus of the statements of the men who sell these lines.

Pianos and organs have been added also. No need to pay the extra expense of traveling agents, who only seek to put an instrument in your house without any regard for future payments—come where all this expense is saved. His line of refrigerators, sewing machines and elegant furniture, in individual pieces and suits is full and varied.

Even the arrangement of the store room is but a reflection of the prosperous condition of Mr. Greene's business.

WANTED AT ONCE.

Six good men with wagons and teams to haul sand and gravel. T. C. HENDERSON, Colorado, Texas.

Mrs. E. M. McClellan of the Union community, who has been quite ill and on whom it was thought an operation would have to be performed, was reported so much better this week that the operation was abandoned.

Mitchell county is all to the good. If the present birth rate keeps up five years it will be the most densely populated county west of the 99th meridian. Dr. Ratliff is only one of twenty doctors in the county, and since Saturday he has presided in the following homes: J. W. McCullough, a boy; Allen Fitzgerald, a girl; Alex Free, a boy; W. B. Swann, a boy. As we have said once before, "Great is Mitchell county, and the Record is its Prophet!"

Mr. C. C. Graves has sold 75 lbs. of big white onions from a ten-foot square piece of ground, all of which shows that they can be raised here and more attention to such as onions and small fruits would be more profitable than so much cotton.

Why Experiment

When Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey has been tried with satisfaction for over sixteen years in millions of homes for coughs, colds, croup and all throat bronchial troubles. You can get it anywhere. Look for the bell on the bottle.

Mrs. J. M. Hall of Cisco, who has been visiting the Misses Dry, returned home Sunday night.

Shoehing Stock.

W. H. Cooper, the expert Farrier, has installed a shoehing stock with all the appurtenances for shoehing anything. Bring in your outlaws and have them shod with neatness and dispatch. He's onto his job ten hours a day.

Miss Jessie May Clark, who has been teaching in the public schools of Midland, spent a few days with the family of her uncle, J. W. Nunn, after which she returned to her home in Dallas.

Miss Elizabeth Garrett.

Who has not heard of Pat Garrett? No name in the annals of the civilizing of the west stands out more prominently and commands greater respect as a man of courage and as a faithful friend, than his. His recent death therefore, but stimulates interest in the laudable efforts of his blind daughter, Miss Elizabeth, to secure a finished musical education. She has decided talent as a singer, and is giving a series of entertainments, assisted by Miss Adella Morgan, pianist. Their work is spoken of by the press as of the highest merit. She will give an entertainment in Colorado City at the opera house tonight, and the Record bespeaks for her a generous patronage.

District Court Convenes.

The second term of the Honorable District Court for the 32nd judicial district, convened Monday morning, Judge James L. Shepherd on the desk and Sheriff G. B. Goughran in the wool sack, Clerk Jesse Bullock at the desk and Sheriff G. B. Goughran in charge of the dock.

Monday morning the grand jury was empaneled, sworn in and the charge delivered. Following is the personnel: W. W. Watson, foreman; D. C. McRae, T. J. Coffee, S. H. Hart, Buell Bradford, J. D. Wultjen, W. P. Ruddick, C. H. Laskey, J. M. Dorn, Sr., R. H. Crump, E. S. Hudson, J. W. Hamilton. Sam Jordan was chosen bailiff, Bounds riding bailiff and L. B. Paschall walking bailiff.

The first case called was F. E. E. Thompson vs. Kansas City Life Insurance company; suit to collect $2,500 life insurance on the death of Arthur Thompson.

A Mr. Fletcher and Arthur Thompson got into a difficulty at Coahoma, when Fletcher drew his gun and shot Thompson. The defense proved that Thompson drew his gun first; and therefore was the direct cause of his own death and upon this ground refused to pay. The verdict was for the defendant. Judge Ed. J. Hamner and Judge Scarborough of Abilene represented the plaintiff, while Attorneys Royall and Ed. W. Smith represented the defendants.

The next case called was Lee Good vs. T. & P. Ry. Co., suit for damages in shipping cattle, now on trial. The attorneys are Thurmond and Robinson for the plaintiff, Ed. W. Smith and Douthit of Big Springs for the railway company. Following is a list of jurors for next week:

C. P. Caraway, J. A. Avant, R. N. Gary, Van King, A. J. Smith, Flem Anderson, W. H. Summers, J. S. McKinney, E. E. Everts, A. D. Powell, Wm. Brownfield, M. L. Horn, J. H. T. Johnson, Jr., M. L. Taylor, E. F. Baker, J. A. Hale, D. F. Glisson, W. A. Pritchett, F. E. McKenzie, J. F. Stovall, L. R. Pond, W. R. Burris, W. C. Morrow, A. J. Payne, A. T. Donelson, J. L. Stripling, Lee Kidd, Jno. Lewis, O. E. Avery, E. G. Haggerton, O. D. Hall, H. L. Baker, L. P. Feaster, J. H. Craig, W. L. Roscoe, H. B. Berry.

A New Game Law.

Book agents may be killed from October 1 to September 1; spring poets from March 1 to June 1; scandal mongers from April 1 to February 1; umbrella borrowers, August 1 to November 1, and from February 1 to May, while every man who accepts a paper two years but when the bill is presented says: "I never ordered it," may be killed on sight without reserve or relief from valuation or appraisal law, and buried face downward, without benefits of clergy.—Exchange.

Religious Discussion.

We are authorized to announce a religious discussion between S. McIver and J. Ker, at Hermleigh, on the night of May 29th and following eight days. There will be propositions to discuss. Rev. McIver will represent the Methodist position on these propositions and Rev. Ker the Baptist. The public is invited to attend, with the assurance that the discussions will be conducted upon a plane of strict parliamentary, ethical and christian tolerance.

Order for an Election.

Pursuant to an order of the City Council of the City of Colorado, Texas, an election is hereby ordered of the property tax-paying voters of said city, to be held in said city, at the county court house, on the 24th day of June, A. D. 1910, within legal hours prescribed by law, to determine whether said city shall adopt the provisions of Chapter IV of the Acts of the Second Called Session of the 31st Legislature of 1909, relating to imposing the whole cost of sidewalk improvement on the owners of abutting property, etc.

Resident property tax-paying voters within said city, only are eligible to vote at said election.

C. M. ADAMS, Mayor
ERNEST KEATHLEY, Clerk.

Now that the public schools are closing, quite a number are taking out their scholarships in the Roberts Business College with a view of preparing themselves for the commercial world.

RTY GOES FROM WEST TEXAS TO ENCAMPMENT AT PALACIOS

Join a fishin' this summer? That is a pleasure that but few Texas people have, owing to the fact that it is so far to any very good Sweeting grounds, but a party this summer will combine two trips in one. Go to the coast in special cars, if you spend ten days camping, fishing, boating, bathing, etc. A special railroad rate of one fare plus $1 will be given on account of the Texas B. Y. P. U. convention and encampment at Palacios, June 29-30. The party, which is being worked up by W. T. Curtis of Abilene, will start June 19 on the trip and return July 2.

This encampment is an annual affair and during the past few years has become very popular, especially among the Baptists of the state. The camp grounds consist of several acres along the bay front in the edge of the town of Palacios. The property, with its pavilions, auditorium, rooming houses, large bath house, landing wharfs, boats, restaurant building, etc. is valued at $40,000, and owned by the Baptists of Texas. The grounds are open the year around for campers, the main winter sport being duck hunting, and the summer sport fishing, boating and bathing.

The convention program takes up part of each morning and an hour at night, leaving the remainder of the time for fishing, boating, bathing, or recreation in other ways. You can rarely ever have the privilege of hearing, all on one occasion, such an array of strong, instructive and attractive speakers as you will hear at this encampment. They are the leading speakers in the Baptist denomination.

The west Texas party that is being worked up by Mr. Curtis is already large enough to secure one special car, but he hopes enough others will go to fill at least one more car.

Those who would like to have information about joining the party that goes to Palacios June 19, will please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience. W. T. Curtis, Box 738, Abilene, Texas.

The Snyder Broom Factory

When at Snyder last week, we fell in with Mr. Strayhorn, formerly of Big Springs, but now merchandising at Snyder, and is proprietor of the little broom factory there. He said he had customers in every town within a radius of 75 miles except Colorado, and wanted to know what the matter was with us getting him a trial order. His factory did not cost over $1,500 and it has already consumed all the brush raised in that county and has close down for lack of more material. It could sell all the brooms it could turn out, and can deliver them to any merchant in west Texas, quality considered, for the same price in five dozen lots, as any factory in the country. Now, Mr. Colorado merchant, when you order the next lot of brooms, why not send it to the 'Snyder Broom Factory?' We may have some kind of factory or mill in the future, and by patronizing our neighbors will be sowing seed by waters that will nourish our own enterprises. Don't forget this.

Westbrook News.

T. A. Morrison went out to his ranch yesterday to assist in starting 1,000 two-year-old steers to Lubbock for delivery to a recent purchaser.

Some of our farmers report corn knee high, cotton ready to chop and feed as good as could be expected. With the recent rains, Mitchell county will raise enough and to spare this year.

The Woodmen are surveying the lots and making improvements on the cemetery grounds.

Our farmer friend, D. A. Neal, is growing almost everything on his land this year and cotton is his smallest crop. He is a diversificationist right, and the recent rains will be the making of his various crops.

The ice cream social given by the ladies of the Home Mission society at the school building Tuesday night was a decided success, considering the rainy evening. The sum of $10.75 was realized.

Rev. and Mrs. Simeon Shaw and children (part of them) of Colorado, were here Monday attending quarterly conference. Bro. Shaw seems as proud of their pretty young baby as a mule is over a young colt—and he ought to be—it's a beauty.

Sealed bids will be opened and considered by the Board of Trustees of Westbrook Independent school district Saturday, May 28, 1910, at 2 o'clock p. m., for removing the two-story frame school building from its present site two and one-half blocks. Same to be on new site by June 18, 1910. Certified check of $25 must accompany each bid. If bid is accepted, a bond of $150 will be required. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.—Mitchell County News.

CRYING FOR HELP.

Lots of it in Colorado, But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys are crying for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

G. E. Ward, photographer, Opera House Building, Abilene, Texas, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of a pain in the small of my back which had caused me considerable suffering. As I used no other remedy at the time, I gave Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit for bringing this relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

For All Bowel Troubles

Use Dr. Bell's Anti-Pain Relief is almost instantaneous. Is also good especially for all kinds of pains found everywhere.

In bed

"I had a mishap at the age of 41, fix," writes Mrs. Georgia Usher, of Cony, "I was unconscious for three days, and would have fainting spells, dizziness, nervous headache, heart palpitation and many strange feelings. I suffered greatly with ailments due to the change of life and had 3 doctors, but they did no good, so I concluded to try Cardui.

"Since taking Cardui, I am so much better and can do all my housework."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Do not allow yourself to get into a bad fix. You might get in so bad you would find it hard to get out.

Better take Cardui while there is time, while you are still in moderately good health, just to conserve your strength and keep you in tip top condition.

In this way your troubles, whatever they are, will gradually grow smaller instead of larger—you will be on the up-grade instead of the down—and by and bye you will arrive at the north pole of perfect health.

Doss' Kidney Pills--Guaranteed.

R. G. Anderson of the Colorado Oil and Cotton Company sends us a loaf of bread made from cottonseed meal which demonstrates beyond a doubt that palatable bread, which is the staff of life, can be made from the products of cotton. We have shown the sample to several friends and after trying it they have all pronounced it first class. The bread is served at the hotels and restaurants in Colorado City on special order and is quite popular. The proportions are 1-3 flour and 2-3 cottonseed meal. Our friends are invited to call around and sample the bread.--Ablene Reporter.

Manager Wallace is moving out in the matter of getting every detail in hand; hundreds of letters have been written, and in a few days the entire features of the program will be given publicity. The plot of ground just west of the west bridge has been secured, fenced and will be put in order for the festivities. If you are asked to do anything to contribute to the success of the occasion, do all you possibly can; every man, woman and child in the town should get behind Manager Wallace and help make this one of the most successful blowouts West Texas ever pulled off. We can do it, if everyone will work in harmony and feel like the success of the thing depends on him or her alone, so let's boost it.

Prof. Hart.
Prof. Hart from Goldthwait, who has been elected superintendent of the city public schools, arrived in Colorado this week and paid the Record office a very agreeable call. His grasp of the school question is both broad and deep, and we are glad to learn that his idea of education is that thoroughly grounded preparation is better equipment than years of superficial advancement. A great and popular difficulty is, that more young people seek a term or terms at college, more with the hope of turning the fact into money, than for the satisfaction of a trained mind and higher ideals. The prime end of education is not to increase one's money earning capacity, but to enable one to entertain one's self--to enable one to live and enjoy life, outside the herding instincts of humanity; to be and feel independent of a crowd. It's a separation from the hot polloi, if you please.

Refrigerator Free.
By buying one of my refrigerators you save enough ice to pay for an inferior one, therefore it's free, if bought from me.
J. H. GREENE.

The Carnival.
The carnival given by the Young Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church Tuesday night at the court house park, was a success from every point of view. It was a veritable street fair in miniature, with the spirit and plenty of confetti. We are glad to know that the gross receipts were about $100. To know that Mrs. W. V. Allen is the guiding spirit of this organization, is to know that its aims, purposes and means, are noble, helpful and refined.

Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve
Is guaranteed for tetter, ringworm, eczema, chapped hands and lips, running sores, ulcers and in fact all skin diseases. Good to use after shaving 25c a box.

Died.
Mrs. W. J. Salyer, aged 83 years, died Monday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Whipkey. The remains were shipped Tuesday morning to Geary, Oklahoma, and were accompanied by Mrs. Whipkey. Two of her sons, J. B. and H. Salyer, from Williamson county, present at her death. The relatives are grateful to friends for help and sympathy extended.

The "Ole Man's" got it. Since his trip to the plains recently he has been suffering with "automobile sore-foot," and in order to get gradually broken to the speed habit, he has made a trade with Brother L. H. Weatherly, for a burst of speed daily in his "Maud S. and skeleton" rig. So, if when the shades of evening are falling, you should feel rather than see, a swift passing, it's us, behind Bucephalus, with a touch of high-life.

If you have a son or daughter, don't send them off to some commercial school. Right here in Colorado is as good business college as can be found in the state. Its guarantee is not so strong on getting the student a job, as in qualifying him to hold it--to make good.
